

ROBINSON — WHITING

There were Christmas greens and white snapdragons on the altar at the Second Congregational Church on Dec. 27th for the marriage of Miss Wanda Whiting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walbridge Whiting of Winchester, to Mr. James V. Robinson of Concord. The Reverend John W. Cook performed the four-thirty candlelight ceremony, and a reception followed at the Music Hall, where the bride party received before a large Christmas tree.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Skinner satin and Chantilly lace had a long train, and a Queen Anne collar embroidered with tiny seed pearls. Her chapel-length illusion-net veil was attached to a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace and seed pearls, and she carried a prayerbook with a single white orchid and stephanotis attached to satin streamers.

Miss Carolyn Whiting, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of crimson velvet and carried a white velvet muff trimmed with green and white holly. Her headpiece was a wreath of matching holly. The bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Clark of Concord, Miss Sally Jackson of Winchester, Mrs. John M. Robinson of Milford, and Mrs. John D. Cronin of Newport, Rhode Island. They wore ballerina gowns of forest-green velvet and carried white muffs trimmed with green holly. They were wreaths of holly in their hair. Miss Sally Jackson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Jackson of this town and one of the bride party, sang a beautiful solo, "The Prayer Perfect."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Whiting wore a dress of royal blue velvet with pearl girdle accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Robinson, mother of the groom, was crowned in pale blue silk tulle with deep blue accessories and a corsage of pink camellias.

Mr. John M. Robinson was his brother's best man and the ushers included Mr. Robert Bumford of Winchester, Mr. Arkin of West City, Mr. Robert Caterson of Bridgeport, Connecticut, and Mr. John Marshall of Billerica.

The bride attended Skidmore College and was graduated from Boston University this year. The bridegroom is a graduate of Dartmouth College, where he was a member of Theta Chi Fraternity. After a trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will make their home in Newburyport.

MISS HICKEY ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hickey of Winchester and Harwichport, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Martha Anne Hickey, to Mr. Charles Whittier Calkins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whittier Calkins of Lincoln.

Miss Hickey graduated from Dana Hall School, attended Connecticut College and is now studying at the Boston School of Occupational Therapy.

Mr. Calkins graduated from Belmont Hill School and Harvard College. He is now attending Tufts College Dental School.

MISS ZINN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. B. Edward Zinn of 7 Yale street announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Eleanor, to Bruce MacDonald, son of Mrs. Elizabeth A. MacDonald of Brookline.

Miss Zinn graduated from Winchester High School in 1951 and is a sophomore at the University of New Hampshire.

Mr. MacDonald graduated from Brookline High School in 1948, served in the United States Navy, and is now employed by the New England Power Service Company.

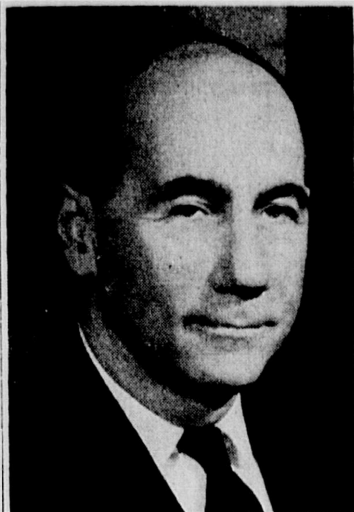

ENGAGED TO MEDFORD GIRL

At an open house on Christmas Day, Mr. and Mrs. Warren W. Penn of Medford announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edith Geraldine Penn, to John Sterling Eaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Eaton of 2 Ridgeway.

Miss Penn is a graduate of the Forsyth School for Dental Hygienists. Mr. Eaton graduated from Tabor Academy and from Boston University College of Business Administration. He is a member of Lambda Chi Fraternity and served overseas in the United States Navy during World War II.

NEW PARKING REGULATIONS

Parking has been prohibited on the easterly side of Woodside road for the entire length of Winter Pond. The automobiles of skaters parked on both sides of the street have created a dangerous condition there which the police are trying to correct. At times last week-end it would have been impossible to get fire apparatus through the parked cars in the event of a fire, and repeated complaints from residents of the district have resulted in the new parking regulations in an effort to obviate what could be a serious situation.

NEW CONGREGATIONAL MINISTER PREACHES SUNDAY

Rev. Dwight L. Cart, D.D., new Minister of the First Congregational Church, will preach his first sermon from his new pulpit on Sunday morning. The former pastor and now "Pastor Emeritus," Dr. Howard J. Chidley, preached his last sermon as head of the church on Sunday, December 28, and officially terminated his 37-year pastorate on January 2.

Following is a biographical sketch of Dr. Cart and his family, sent out to members of the First Congregational Church by the Church Committee:

"Dwight L. Cart was born and spent his boyhood days in the State of Iowa. He attended Simpson College in Indianola, Iowa, where he was graduated in 1923 with an AB degree. He then came East and attended Boston University School of Theology, from which he was graduated in 1929 with the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology. During his third year at Boston University, while doing full senior work at the Seminary, he commuted between Boston and Haverhill where he carried out a busy church schedule at the West Congregational Church. To help in financing his education, Dr. Cart acted as Monitor at Suffolk Law School, taught classes and worked with the Social Welfare Department of the Morgan Memorial Church of All Nations. He also took a year's graduate work in the Social Ethics Department of Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Cart received honorary degrees of Doctor of Divinity from the American International College in Springfield, Massachusetts, and Doctor of Theology from Northland College, Ashland, Wisconsin, and this year his Alma Mater, Simpson College, conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

SALTALAMACCHIA — BRIGHAM

Miss Lois Brigham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hubbard Brigham of Woodside road and Annisquam, became the bride of Anthony J. Saltalamacchia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anthony Saltalamacchia of Quincy, at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, December 27, at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Frederick H. Brigham of St. James Church, Wellesley, brother of the bride, performed the marriage ceremony and also celebrated the nuptial mass which followed. Poinsettias and white pompons decorated the altar for the marriage and the bridal music was played by the church organist, Miss Mary Callahan. John Costello of Boston was soloist.

The bride wore a princess-style gown of light ivory acetate and silk tulle, trimmed at the neckline and wrists with re-embroidered Alencon lace, and having long tight sleeves and a bouffant skirt extending into a chapel-length train. Her fingertip-length veil of nylon was caught to a Juliet cap of matching Alencon lace and she carried a small round bouquet of stephanotis and gardenias.

Miss Mary Jane Brigham was her sister's maid of honor, and another sister, Miss Martha Brigham, was junior bridesmaid.

The honor maid wore a dress of larkspur-blue iridescent acetate and silk tulle with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She carried a small round bouquet of stephanotis and roses in her hair.

Peter Provinzano of Winchester was best man for his brother, and ushers were Dominick and Frank Provinzano, both of Winchester, and also brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Columbus Hall, with the parents of the bridegroom and the bride attending. Mrs. Mary McGovern of Woburn, and her uncle, Mr. James Flannigan of Reading, Mrs. Provinzano, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy gown with a lace train and matching accessories, and an orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip to New York and New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Saltalamacchia will make their home on Farrow street.

JOSSIN — EASTON

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place in Christ Episcopal Church, Shaker Heights, Cleveland, Ohio, on Tuesday evening, December 27 when Miss Virginia Easton, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Walter J. Easton became the bride of Ralph Davis Jossin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Jossin of 9 Lewis road, Winchester. Bishop Nelson M. Burroughs and Dr. Maxfield Dowell both of Cleveland officiated. BOY SCOUTS HELP DIMES MARCH Winchester Boy Scouts are assisting in the March of Dimes campaign by distributing the well-known coin cards at each home in town during the coming week. This service is greatly appreciated by the local March of Dimes Committee and is an index of the Scouts' earnest desire to assist in any worthy cause.

PROVINZANO — FLANNIGAN

On Sunday afternoon, December 21, Miss Marjorie Flannigan, daughter of Mrs. Anna Vidito of Salem street, Woburn, was married at St. Mary's Church to Samuel Peter Provinzano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Provinzano of Florence street. Rev. Fr. Joseph McCall read the service at 4:30 o'clock, and the bridal music was played by the church organist, Miss Mary Callahan. Miss Mabel Coty, soprano, was soloist.

Miss Flannigan was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Thomas McGovern of Woburn. She wore a gown of white nylon with a bodice of Italian maline and matching maline inserts in the skirt. Her fingertip-length veil of French illusion was caught to a headpiece of seed pearls, and she carried a white prayerbook topped with an orchid.

Mrs. Mario Buzzotta of Winchester, niece of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and two small nieces of the bridegroom, Miss Teresa Dattilo and Miss Marion Pizzo, both of Winchester, were flower girls.

Mrs. Buzzotta wore a blue acetate dress with a headpiece of fresh yellow chrysanthemums and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The flower girls wore identical frocks of blue acetate, fashioned like that of the honor attendant. They carried baskets of rose petals and wore roses in their hair.

Peter Provinzano of Winchester was best man for his brother, and ushers were Dominick and Frank Provinzano, both of Winchester, and also brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Columbus Hall, with the parents of the bridegroom and the bride attending. Mrs. Mary McGovern of Woburn, and her uncle, Mr. James Flannigan of Reading, Mrs. Provinzano, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy gown with a lace train and matching accessories, and an orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip to New York and New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Provinzano will make their home on Farrow street.

ADOLPH F. FORSBERG

Mr. Forsberg joined the bank in 1928 upon graduation from Woburn High School. He rose to the position of Teller in 1941, when he left the Bank to become an Assistant National Bank Examiner. He rejoined the Bank in 1942 when he was appointed Assistant Cashier, and served in that capacity until his election as Cashier in 1945. He enrolled in the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University in 1949 and graduated with the class of 1952. He is active in banking circles, being a member of the Bank Management Commission of the Massachusetts Bankers Association.

FATHER CASSIDY HOME

Rev. Henry Cassidy of Holy Cross Seminary, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, arrived home last Friday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cassidy of Water street, making the trip east by plane.

Father Cassidy, a Winchester boy, who sang his first mass at St. Mary's June 8, celebrated the 8:30 o'clock mass at the immaculate Conception Church last Sunday morning, many boyhood friends of the young priest and friends of the family attending.

He will remain with his parents until January 4, when he will return to his teaching duties at the seminary.

DISCARDED CHRISTMAS TREES

Do not give your discarded Christmas trees to the boy next door, or the children from around the corner! This is the advice of Fire Chief James E. Callahan, who told the Star in connection with requesting this warning, that a number of bad fires have resulted from youngsters stacking old Christmas trees and setting them afire. It is a temptation to get rid of your old tree by giving it to the youngster who asks for it at the door. Your Fire Chief asks you not to let him have it, but to take or send the tree to the proper place for rubbish, the town dump.

WILLIAM D. SULLIVAN

SULLIVAN NEW CASHIER

William D. Sullivan, Assistant Cashier of the Winchester National Bank was elected Cashier at the last meeting of the Board of Directors on December 16, 1952. Mr. Sullivan will take the position vacated by Adolph F. Forsberg, who resigned as Cashier to become Assistant Treasurer of the Melrose Savings Bank.

Mr. Sullivan entered the employ of the Bank upon graduation from Winchester High School in 1932. He played center field on the school baseball team in 1931 and '32, captaining the nine in his senior year. He graduated from the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in 1942 and serving until 1946. Mr. Sullivan is a member of Post No. 97, the American Legion, Winchester Lodge of Elks, St. Mary's Holy Name Society and is Financial Secretary of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus.

The resignation of Dr. Chidley as pastor of the First Congregational Church becomes effective on Friday, January 2nd, coincidental with his 75th birthday. His sermon of last Sunday was thus his final one as pastor. The service was one of unusual interest, as evidenced by the large attendance. At this time Dr. Chidley received his final group of new members into the church. The subject of his sermon was "The God of the Vanguard," embracing, as indicated in his foreword, his personal philosophy of life. We understand that permanent recordings of this final service, and the Christmas one preceding, have been made.

At the conclusion of the morning service, the congregation was invited to visit the Social Hall of the parish house (to be known henceforth as Howard J. Chidley Hall) where a painting of Dr. Chidley, done in oils by artist Vivian Milner Akers of Norway, Maine, was unveiled. It shows Dr. Chidley in his pulpit in characteristic pose, and is a remarkably lifelike and natural piece of work. An engraved plate beneath the picture reads: Howard J. Chidley, D.D. Pastor 1915-1953 Presented by Frances Elder Chidley

The new pastor, Rev. Dwight L. Cart, will occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning for the first time.

FLEW TO ENGLAND FOR CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Rony Snyder of Highland avenue, a widely known resident of the Highlands District, flew to England, leaving December 17, to spend Christmas with her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Wright, at Mr. Wright's family, who live near London.

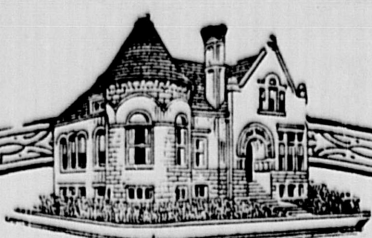

Her mother's visit was a complete surprise to Mrs. Wright, who went to the airport to meet one whom she had been told was a business associate of her husband. Mrs. Snyder plans to remain with her daughter for two months.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Penta of 336 Washington street announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Claire, to Mr. John Francis Noonan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Noonan of Boston.

Miss Penta graduated from Winchester High School. Mr. Noonan graduated from Boston English High School and is a member of the Boston Fire Department.

LOCAL RESIDENTS ATTEND BANQUET

On December 20th the Second Annual Company-Union Banquet of the Massachusetts Gear & Tool Company of Woburn and the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, Local Union 3829, was held at the Andover Country Club. Beautiful Christmas decorations arranged by the banquet committee and the club management heightened the festive atmosphere that prevailed. A fellowship hour was followed by dinner, a brief head table program, entertainment and dancing.

The spirit of the occasion can best be expressed by the following "Welcoming Message" extended jointly by John H. Lyman, President of Mass. Gear, and Robert M. Cail, President of Local 3829:

"In the spirit of Christmas we gather once again to enjoy ourselves at the Second Annual Company-Union Banquet. We heartily welcome all of the employees — particularly those who are with us for the first time. We welcome our guests and hope that they will enjoy themselves in the spirit of good fellowship. No shop talk tonight — let's just relax and enjoy ourselves."

Mr. Lyman, acting as master of ceremonies, announced that the banquet was also in the nature of a 30th anniversary celebration, the company having begun its operations on April 14, 1922. Other speakers on the program were Mr. Joseph Cavicchi, Chairman of the Board and Treasurer of Mass. Gear; Mr. Martin J. Walsh, Regional Director of the United Steelworkers of America, and Mr. John J. Horan, District Representative of the United Steelworkers of America.

In recognition of their efforts in the company's behalf, ten, fifteen, twenty and twenty-five year service pins were again presented to those employees who have been with the company for those periods of time. Among those who received service pins for 15 years' service was Anthony Ciruso of Winchester.

The last portion of the head table program was capably handled by the well-known Dr. Guy Sweeney of Medford. Dancing until midnight to the strains of music by Roland Russell and his orchestra was enjoyed by all.

Other employees from Winchester present at the banquet were: Herbert P. Clark, Charles M. Pietrantonio, Arthur L. Rondina, Karl H. Tibbitts, Benjamin F. Todesca.

Also present from Winchester were Mrs. Harrison F. Lyman, wife of one of the company founders and former president; Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., clerk of the corporation and a director; Mrs. Harrison F. Lyman, Jr.; and Mrs. John H. Lyman.

EXHIBIT ARTS AND CRAFTS

Among the Winchester residents whose work will be on exhibit at the Winter Open House at the Cambridge Center for Adult Education, 42 Brattle street, on Monday, January 5, from 7:00-9:00 p.m., will be Mrs. Marshall E. Pihl, 30 Mystic Valley Parkway, who will show a group of portraits, Mrs. Dorothy Tryon Carr, 2 Gardner place, and Mrs. K. S. Hall, 12 Winslow road, both of whom will display experimental problems in color and design.

The public is invited to browse through historic Brattle House, home of the Center, and to visit its airy shops, well-lighted studios, and informal living rooms. Open to all men and women, the Center is a non-profit educational organization, operated as a community service.

WINCHESTER MAN'S FIRM COMPLETES GIANT WOOD CARVING

Mr. Wendell D. Irving of 290 High street is connected with the Cambridge firm of Irving & Casson. A. H. Davenport Company, which has just completed a mammoth copy of Leonardo da Vinci's painting, "The Last Supper", carved in wood by some of the finest wood craftsmen in New England.

The December 22 copy of the Christian Science Monitor shows Mr. Irving standing beside the beautiful carving which was done for the Upper Room Chapel of the Methodist Board of Evangelism Building at Nashville, Tenn. The carving, measuring 18 1/2 feet wide by 8 1/2 feet high, is only approximately 12 inches thick, but so cleverly is it crafted that even from only a few feet away it gives the illusion of having a depth of several feet.

The carving was begun last December and was produced from a model prepared by Ernest Pelligrini, the company's well known sculptor.

Two Types of Wood Used
Two types of special wood — limewood and walnut — were used in producing this delicate project, where one slip of the hand could wipe out hours, if not days or even weeks, of intricate work. Despite these great risks, about 50 different craftsmen in four of Irving & Casson's departments worked on the job. Complete co-operation and teamwork by the skilled workmen in the wood-working, modeling, carving, and wood finishing departments have resulted in its successful completion.

The long table and almost life-like figures depicting Jesus and his disciples were carved out of limewood. The frame and unique paneling in the background are made of walnut, according to Mr. Irving, one of the members of the Irving & Casson organization. Mr. Irving represents the third generation in his family with the 90-year-old furniture and wood carving company.

Various types of special tints and polychrome paint were used to give the garments the proper coloring. Mr. Irving said. Special wax applied to faces produced an almost fleshlike coloring.

Perhaps one of the most striking parts of the entire carving is the unique tapestrylike effect blending into the paneling to form the background of the beautiful picture.

Mr. Irving said that this exquisite wood carving will be recessed into the wall in the back of the chancel at the chapel in Nashville. "The paneling in the background will be carried along the sidewalls of the chapel," he explained. "The communion table will be placed under the picture."

Hundreds of persons from all over Greater Boston have stopped at the Cambridge plant to admire the wood carving during the past week, and thousands more would probably be on hand this week but for the fact that it is being shipped sometime today to Nashville where the building in which it will be placed is even now nearing completion.

This was not the first ecclesiastical wood carving attempted by the specialists at the wood-working and furniture plant. The Lawyers Bay, at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City, the interior paneling at the Princeton University Chapel, at Princeton, N. J., and the Heinz Memorial Chapel at Pittsburgh are other examples of the expert craftsmanship of this company.

RED CROSS NEEDS TYPISTS

In preparation for the 1953 Red Cross Fund Campaign an appeal is being made by the Winchester Chapter for volunteer typists who can give any amount of time from an hour up for a period of two weeks. The work will be done in the local headquarters and will begin near the end of January.

If you can type and can spare even an hour, please call the Red Cross office, W1 6-2300. Your help is needed.

Vacationing from their studies at the Boston School of Occupational Therapy are Miss Jean Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Brown of 24 Arlington street; Miss Charlotte Noel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Noel of 244 Washington street; and Miss Mildred True, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. True of 83 Walnut street. Miss Brown and Miss Noel are members of the sophomore class, and Miss True is a junior at the Boston School.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

At five-thirty Christmas Eve, after many years of anticipation and planning, the large hemlock tree at the junction of Madison avenue west and Winslow road was dedicated amid the glow of hundreds of colored lights "a true symbol of Yuletide Glory."

The neighbors of the immediate vicinity, both the young and old, gathered around the tree and Christmas Carols were sung under the leadership of Mrs. Harold Jones and Mrs. Joseph Bond. Appropriate carol song books were given out as suitable souvenirs of the joyous occasion.

At six-o'clock the entire gathering was feasted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherford where both John and his charming wife "Chubbie", whose birthday it happened to be, and Kenneth Hall the originators of the party were given toasts of appreciation for their fine idea.

FIRE INTERRUPTED DINNER AT COONS

Last Saturday evening Park Commissioner and Mrs. James H. Coon of Brooks street gave a dinner party in honor of their son, Robert, and his fiancée, Miss Mary Kuchan, both now of Syracuse, N. Y. Their engagement was announced only a short time ago.

Besides "Bob" and Mary the guests included Jim Coon, Jr., and his wife, the former "Wee-G" Underwood; Lt. Paul Coon, USA, of Indian town Gap, and his wife, Gail; the Coon daughters, Roberta and "Mickey"; "Pete" Coon and his friend, "Bob" Forrester; "Ted" and "Marge" Bartlett and "Hennie" and Ella Knowlton.

The piece de resistance of the dinner was a 22-pound roast of that delicious beef that one instinctively associates with a dinner at the Coons; though there were to be sure, other culinary items of gastronomic importance such as delicious hot rolls.

It was, however, to the roast

DARTMOUTH ALUMNI HOSTS TO SCHOOLBOYS

Several Winchester schoolboys, and their fathers, were guests of Dartmouth alumni members at the annual mid-winter meeting of the Dartmouth Club for this area last Sunday at the Bellevue Country Club in Melrose.

The meeting was primarily for schoolboys interested in Dartmouth, and the principal speaker was Arthur H. Kiendl, Jr., assistant Dean of the college, who was introduced by Club President William E. Main. Two motion picture films in color, one with sound, were shown, the sound picture describing an entering freshman's first two weeks at Dartmouth. The other film, "Dartmouth Outdoors", followed a short humorous yarn of early-day Hanovertown life by Frank E. Rowe of Vine street, former Selectman and Planning Board member, who graduated from Dartmouth in 1891. Classes represented by those present covered a span of 66 years.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT LITTLE FOLKS PLAYSCHOOL

On Wednesday morning, December 24, the children of the Little Folks Playschool at 2 Hollywood road had their Christmas party. The singing of Christmas songs and hymns followed a coffee party for the guests and refreshments for the children. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Edgell, Jr., Mrs. Eugene Keller, Mrs. Ernest Phillips, Jr., Mrs. Anthony Tambone, and Mrs. Frank Thorp were the interested parents present.

The children taking part in the lively and happy proceedings were: Stephen Edgell, Larry Keller, Craig Phillips, Drew Phillips, Anthony Tambone, and Peter Thorp. Mrs. John H. Burt, Director of the School, was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Muir, who played for the singing, as she has done for all the school parties, and by Mrs. Thorp, who poured at the coffee hour. The party ended with gifts from the tree and the singing of "Silent Night".

STONEHAM HERE FOR MIDDLESEX OPENER

Winchester High opens defense of its Middlesex League crown at the high school gym tonight when the Indians meet Stoneham High. The Indians and the Bluejackets are in the same situation this year with each boasting of only one returning letterman and a complete rebuilding job in process in both camps.

The Indians have not been impressive in their past two victories over Dedham and Wellesley and are hoping for a better performance tonight. Coach Bartlett has worked his charges hard in the past two weeks in an effort to improve their coordination and timing. Tighter defensive play and control of the ball has been stressed by the veteran mentor who has been disturbed by the careless play of some of his performers. An alert, hustling ball player is the one that catches the Bartlett eye and there is no place on his teams for those who do not give 100% effort every minute of play.

Scrimmages have been held this past week with Milton High and Malden High to sharpen up the Indians for their League opener tonight. Just who will answer the opening whistle is still a question as a different combination has started each of the three preliminary games. After the intensive practice of the past two weeks, the team should be ready to jell and start playing the brand of basketball of which they are capable.

Two more Middlesex League games are on the Indian's schedule for next week. On Tuesday they will entertain a visiting Wakefield quintet at the high school gym. Next Friday night the Red and Black will play away from home again as they travel to Melrose to meet the Red Raiders.

THIRD STRAIGHT FOR INDIANS

WELLESLEY VICTIM, 71 — 62

Winchester High won its third game of the season by defeating Wellesley High, 71-62, in a free-scoring game at Wellesley last Tuesday night. The Indians were extended for the first time this season and had to go all out to down the hustling Wellesley quintet who threw quite a scare into the Red and Black followers.

The Indians led by a 15-14 margin at the end of the first period but Wellesley tied the score at 32-32 at the intermission. In the third quarter the Indians played good ball to outscore their opponents 21-12 in that period. The scoring was all even in the final period so that the locals won by the nine point lead they had accumulated in the third quarter. Thus, Wellesley played the locals evenly over three quarters of the game and it was only a good third quarter that enabled the Indians to bring home a victory.

It is a good thing that the Indians were in a high scoring mood for their defensive work left considerable room for error. Lack of alertness and considerable unnecessary fouling kept the locals in trouble all during the game. They were able to move the ball well offensively, however, and it was their offense that kept them in the game. John Atkinson, playing all the way for the locals, was the key performer in the Indian offense and shared honors with co-captain Stu Thomson in setting up teammates with good passes for easy baskets. Nick Fitzgerald provided the spark to give the Indians a lift when he entered the game late in the third quarter and scored 10 big points, chiefly on fast breaks.

The Winchester Seconds kept pace with the varsity by winning their third straight, 54-32, over the Wellesley Seconds. The Red and Black Seconds did not experience the troubles of their varsity brothers, however, and were in charge all the way. Al Lindsey with 12 points and Jim Wright with 11 points were the game's leading scorers.

When Dr. Howard J. Chidley preached his final sermon as pastor of the First Congregational Church last Sunday, and moved up to the honorary post of Pastor Emeritus after a ministry of 37 years, the occasion marked the end of an era. Whether or not it is so designated in the official records, the history of the First Congregational Church will now have to fall into two parts, "before Chidley" and "after Chidley". During his long ministry the Doctor has so woven himself into the fabric of his church that it has been impossible to think of one without the other. The beautifully remodelled interior of the church and the imposing parish house stand as monuments to his administrative skill while the flourishing condition of the church and church school pay tribute to the vital quality of his ministry. He has been an arresting preacher. Undoubtedly the overflow congregation last Sunday heard him in his final pastoral sermon with real regret, yet none would deny him the relief from the responsibilities of a ministry like that he has created at the First Church. The Doctor will keep busy, he will have to, to keep happy! May he find the thing he wishes to do most to engage his unflagging energy.

A WARNING!

Police Chief Harold has asked the Star to pass along a warning from him to all parents of the town about the dangers of premature skating. Last Saturday three skaters broke through the ice at Winter Pond, and Monday a police cruiser was sent there to warn people to keep off dangerously thin ice. The warning was ignored, alike by the kids and adults who were skating on the pond. The police are not trying to prevent anyone from skating if it is safe for them to skate. They are, however, concerned with saving life, and with preventing drowning accidents if possible. People who ignore the warning of the police that they should not skate on this or that pond would be the first to condemn the authorities if some child or adult broke through the ice and lost his life by drowning. Another thing to be considered in connection with skating on thin ice is the threat to the safety of the person who may go to the assistance of a skater struggling in icy water. Many such a would-be rescuer has lost his life along with the person he tries to save. Skating on dangerous ice isn't smart. It is the height of stupidity, insofar as it concerns the person who risks his life in this way. It becomes criminal when it exposes another person to the dangers of attempting a rescue. The Chief is right in warning parents not to permit their youngsters to try out their Christmas skates until it is absolutely safe for them to do so. The Park Department has gone to the trouble and expense of installing a skating bulletin in the center of the approach to Winchester Station at the junction of Common and Church streets. On it skaters will find listed where skating is safe in town. If the bulletin says "no skating anywhere," none of the ice in town is safe in the opinion of the Park Department, whose judgment is probably much better than that of most individual parents. It would be a good idea to check the bulletin daily. Impress upon the kids that if the bulletin says "no skating," then there just is no skating for them. And don't call the police department for skating information. The police are not out testing ice and are in no position to advise exactly. They go to town ponds when requested to do so by persons who believe people are in danger there! Above all, do not let your youngster go skating by himself. Make sure several are in the party, with preferably an adult or two. Skating is fun and great exercise. Let us all enjoy it in the right way.

CORRECTION

Editor of the Star:
Will you please print the following in the next issue of the Star:
The report of the fire in last week's Star stating that said fire took place in an apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Erhard of 27 Eaton street was evidently erroneously reported to the Star.
The fact of the matter is that actually the fire started in, and was confined to a room retained by Mr. Bert Stevens, the owner of the house which was attributed by firemen to an overheated pad.
The room is on the same floor as the Erhard's apartment but separated from them. The damage to bedclothes, mattress and flooring as reported in the Star was entirely to the Stevens' property.
Sincerely,
Vincent F. Erhard
194 Washington street

APPEAL TO PARENTS

Editor of the Star:
It would be helpful if the parents of the young person or persons who willfully break after week shake the letters on the Unitarian sign board down, thereby causing much work for our sexton, would take some action.

CHRISTMAS AT MYSTIC SCHOOL

Christmas at Mystic School began Monday, December 8th, and continued daily, gaining in spirit and activity until its climax December 22nd.
Each morning for the first 15 minutes, pupils of one class from Grade 6 down to the little people in Grade 1, sang Christmas carols as they passed through the halls. They were most enjoyable to hear.
Small table trees in each room, which had been previously treated at the fire station, were gaily decorated. The children drew a name of a classmate and brought a gift for that person and put it under the little tree.
On Saturday, December 20th, the Mystic staff together with bus-boys and friends, had dinner at the Winchester Country Club. This was both the December "fun together" as well as a Christmas Party.

On Monday, the 22nd, 400 copies of the Christmas Edition of the "Mystic News", edited and published by Mrs. McLean's and Miss Wood's 6th grades, were distributed.
Miss Millican and her fifth grade pupils had the Christmas assembly. The program followed a different than usual pattern of a Christmas play. It was very entertaining as well as thought provoking. The title of the play was "Christmas Eve on the Trolley Car." It showed last minute shoppers on their way home, very tired and disgruntled even to the motorman. However, after an old, blind gentleman and his grandson boarded the car, their true spirit and kindly manner soon spread through the car and each one was finally happy and full of the real Christmas spirit. Each member of the class took part and the entire group recited together as a finale, "The Night Before Christmas."

Cast of Characters:
Announcer: James Towle
Motorman: John Hosmer
Conductor: George Tisdale
Five Girls: Sandra Wolsey, Audrey Caputo, Acha Clark, Joan Caldwell, Patricia O'Leary
Mrs. Mahoney: Roberta Mulford

Six Carolers: Nancy Morrison, Charles Corey, George Bolweg, Susan Martenson, Mary Alla, Suzanne Fisher

As it is impossible to seat the entire school at one time, the kindergarten, grades 1, 2, and 3 attended the dress rehearsal in the morning. Grades 4, 5, and 6, parents, Dr. and Mrs. Norris and other guests came to the final performance in the afternoon.
The last part of the day, children enjoyed their gifts, hoodies, and cookies from many a busy Mystic Mother's oven.
On the bulletin board were very interesting cutout pictures of the skyline of Jerusalem made by Mrs. O'Rourke's second grade pupils.
The glass case which offers an excellent place for displays, was first used by Miss Doeherty's kindergarten to show various small toys which little folks would like Santa to bring. Later, fourth graders from Miss Jurgenson's room brought in their various manger scenes. These were arranged beautifully. Both the younger and older children admired them each day as they passed by.

On Tuesday, Mr. Forte and some teachers took a large red stocking filled with gifts from teachers and friends to Miss Whittemore. She has been out recovering from an operation. We miss her very much and hope she will be back with us in the not too far future.

WON SHIPYARD AWARD

Francis B. McCabe of 45 Myrtle terrace was among the employees of the Boston Naval Shipyards to receive awards during the past year for suggestions leading to savings in time or labor in the everyday operation of the yard.
A savings of $32,070 to the Federal Government has resulted from labor and time-saving devices accepted from employees through the Navy's Beneficial Suggestion Program during the month of December alone.

Ninety-two employees, submitting 84 suggestions, were the recipients of $1,603.50, in awards ranging from $5 to $125.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

With all the excitement of a holiday we still find the Girl Scouts ready and eager to participate in any event planned. However, even the planners were surprised and delighted when 192 Intermediate and Senior Scouts met on Monday to enjoy a roller skating party at Bal-a-ran.

The Brownies also came in for a giant share of the fun this vacation. They met, 148 strong at the Baptist Church and were delighted with the Magic Show presented just for them.
We all enjoy a pat on the back, the Girl Scout is no exception. It is with a feeling of honest pleasure that we share this letter with all of our interested friends.

December 15, 1952
Mrs. Maxwell McCreery
Commissioner of Girl Scouts
Winchester, Massachusetts.
Dear Mrs. McCreery:

The Winchester Red Cross has a Blood Donor day approximately every three months in our town and we wish to tell you how much help the Girl Scouts have given us for the past two years on these Blood Days.

Since September 1950 we have had seven such days and twenty-three Girl Scout Hospital Aides have given service. Nancy Dowling and Catherine Goss head the list by being with us five of the seven times. Anita Mullen and Phyllis Rizzo have volunteered three times. Donna Macauley, Florence Herman, Joan Flaherty and Joan Barnard have each been with us for one of the Blood Days.

This is a splendid record of service to Red Cross. Mrs. Mauger, Chairman of Canteen, asked for Nancy Dowling and Catherine Goss on December 2nd, saying they were equal to a trained adult.

Nancy and Catherine deserve special mention, not only for constant service but for the quality of their work. They help in the donor room which is very important. They are very popular with the Bloodmobile staff and with the Red Cross workers because of their ability to do the job well and with a very happy and willing manner. They epitomize the best in Girl Scouts.

The younger Girl Scout Aides like Anita and Phyllis tend to donors by giving them water and being of assistance at the coffee table.

We have gone into detail because you should know how much aid they give to us on these important days. We need the Girl Scouts and we depend upon them and they have never failed us.

The Winchester Chapter thanks the Girl Scouts for the privilege of calling you at these and other times. You are doing a fine job in training these girls to be of service to others and to do it willingly. We deeply appreciate it all.

Very sincerely,
Gladys F. Dutton
Mrs. George A. Dutton
Executive Director

FIREMEN BUSY

In addition to the big fire at the Woburn Four-Corners early Saturday morning the Fire Department was kept busy over the past weekend.

Saturday evening at 7:15 there was a chimney fire and overheated stove at the residence of Park Commissioner James H. Coon on Brooks street, and Sunday evening at 8:43 there was another chimney fire at the home of the Willem Lemmens at 48 Fletcher street.

Monday at 1:35 p.m. the Department was called to a home on Bellevue road where a flooded oil burner was causing trouble. At 6:25 Monday evening, in response to a telephone call the Department went to Berge & Cobb tannery where a fire had been reported in a dust bin. Men at the plant had the fire dead before the arrival of the apparatus.

Box 542 at 5:05 Monday afternoon was a fire in the west side well field. A squad call, 7-7-542 was put on later for more help in fighting this fire.

Box 64 at 11:05 Monday night was a fire in an automobile owned by David Welch of Billerica and parked at his mother's home at 28 Lebanon street. The fire resulted from a broken radiator hose permitting alcohol to pour onto the hot motor. The resulting fire was a hot one.

The alarm from Box 61 at 12:25 Tuesday afternoon was for an overheated motor in a Bendix washing machine in the apartment at 13 Winthrop street occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnston. The damage was chiefly confined to the motor.

BOOK REVIEW IN SERMON AT METHODIST CHURCH

This Sunday morning at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will present the first part of two sermons based on Norman Vincent Peale's, "The Power of Positive Thinking." The messages will deal with such aspects of life as developing self confidence, creating our own happiness, reaching for the best, overcoming worry habits, power for personal problems and positive living.
Beginning January 18th, the pastor will begin a series of sermons again on the history of the church from the very first century and continuing through to the various branches and denominations of our present day and revealing the main differences in some of our major denominations.

ALIEN ADDRESS REPORT-NOTICE

WHO?

The law requires that every alien who is in the United States on January 1, of each year shall report his address during the month of January. Any alien who is temporarily absent on January 1, shall report his address within ten (10) days after his return to the United States.

HOW?

1. In January, go to any United States Post Office or any Immigration and Naturalization Office to obtain the Alien Address Report Card, Form 1-53.
2. Read the instructions on the back of the card before you fill in the answers on the front, and sign the card. If you do not understand the instructions, ask the postal clerk or an employee of the Immigration and Naturalization Service for help in completing the card.
3. When you have completed the card hand it to a clerk in any Post Office, or Immigration and Naturalization Office.

WHEN?

You must hand in your Alien Address Report, Form 1-53, during January. You will assist the Immigration and Naturalization Service if you do so as early as possible in January.

PENALTIES

An alien or his parent or legal guardian in the United States who willfully or inexcusably fails to report is liable to be taken into custody and deported. Furthermore, imprisonment or fine may be levied before deportation.

TO UNITED STATES CITIZENS

IF YOU ARE A CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES this notice does NOT apply to you. However, you will be assisting your Government, and any of your friends or acquaintances who are not United States citizens, if you will remind them of their responsibilities concerning the Address Report.

INTER-CLUB ROTARY MEETING

The Rotary Clubs of Winchester, Woburn and Lexington met Monday at noon for a joint luncheon-meeting at the Old Belfrey Club in Lexington. About 250 were present.

Primarily the meeting was called to see what action the three clubs can take to promote the comfort and welfare of the youngsters who are at the Winning Farm Home, a charitable enterprise, with its property located in Winchester, Woburn and Lexington.

It was voted during the brief business meeting to have each club president appoint two of his members to serve on a committee of six Rotarians who will meet with the directors of the Home to receive suggestions as how best Rotary can help.

As president of the host club, Gail Smith of Lexington welcomed the Rotarians and acted as the presiding officer, assisted by John J. Black of the Woburn Club and W. Allan Wilde, Winchester president. President Black introduced the officers of the Woburn Club with President Wilde doing the honors for the Winchester Rotary.

President Wilde also introduced District Governor Forbes Norris, whose home club is, of course, Winchester, and the Doctor responded by taking a bow.

The Lexington Club had as guests 15 G. I.s from Fort Devens, all of whom had escaped from countries behind the Iron Curtain and had made their way to this country, volunteering for service in the United States Army. All the boys, a clean-cut looking lot of youngsters, are taking a concentrated course of instruction in English at Fort Devens and were delighted to attend the Rotary party as a means of trying out the instruction they have received.

Winchester had provided the speaker for the meeting, Rev. John P. Fitzsimmons, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church of Belmont, who was introduced by President Wilde.

Mr. Fitzsimmons proved a delightfully humorous and interesting speaker spinning and intriguing yarn of his adventures while serving as an Army Chaplain and trying to locate the outfit to which he had been assigned.

In the company of a Catholic Army Chaplain Rev. Fitzsimmons travelled all over the Middle East in search of his billet and he had his Rotary audience in stitches as he recounted the experiences of the two AWOL Chaplains had on their travels.

Captain Nancy Robinson spent the Christmas holidays with her mother Mrs. H. B. Robinson of Wildwood street.

Spaghetti, a wheat product, is not made from flour, as is bread, but from a medium-coarse grind of wheat called semolina, which we ground from such high gluten-content wheat as the durum of the North Central States.

Although Western clothes have been adopted since World War II by many lands, the islanders of Yap in the Western Pacific continue to wear loincloths and grass skirts as did their ancestors, says the National Geographic Society.

The Mason-Dixon line, traditional separation between North and South in the Civil War, was marked by two English surveyors who laid it out in 1766 to settle a border dispute between Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Only place in the world where willmetite, a zinc silicate, is found in large enough quantity for zinc smelting is Franklin, New Jersey, says the National Geographic Society.

One of the world's largest volcanic chains (a 1,600-mile stretch) is spaced along the strategic Alaska Peninsula and Aleutian Islands, notes the National Geographic Society. During World War II, volcanic eruptions occurring in this region near U. S. military bases brought about emergency geological surveys to determine potential dangers. One volcanic outburst resulted in the death of a soldier and the abandonment of an outpost.

ZOO GETS FIRST GIBRALTAR APES

Two Gibraltar apes, first ever to come to America from Britain's Mediterranean fortress, have taken up residence in the Washington Zoo.

It may be the only time in history that England's most famous island even a single member of the Rock's simian garrison to leave.

The powerful, tailless beasts have rarely been plentiful in the Colony. They are the only uncaged apes left in Europe.

Dr. Thomas W. McKnew, secretary of the National Geographic Society, arranged the transaction, which took the form of a gift from Lt. Gen. Sir Gordon H. A. MacMillan, G. C. B., to the National Zoological Park. The United States Navy brought the apes — scientifically speaking not apes, but a species of monkey known as macaques — across the Atlantic in the warship Diamond Head.

On the Rocks

Visiting the Mediterranean this fall, Dr. and Mrs. McKnew stopped off at Gibraltar, where they called upon an old friend, Brigadier G. F. H. Stayner, commander of troops guarding the strategic base.

Brigadier Stayner took the McKnews on a tour which included the three monkey colonies far up on the rocky 1,350-foot heights.

The tour resulted in the disclosure that Gibraltar was over-strength in apes, carried by individual names on official military rosters and given regular rations by the Her Majesty's Government.

Brigadier Stayner proposed that the McKnews take a pair of the surplus back to the United States with them.

Dr. Mann Agrees

"The last thing we needed," Dr. McKnew recalled, "was two apes for our very own. But we got in touch with Dr. William M. Mann, director of the Zoo in Washington, and he said he would like very much to have them."

Once he had received his new monkeys, Dr. Mann had no time in proposing that they be named Tom and Virginia for the McKnews.

After careful thought and some hesitation, the McKnews expressed gratitude to Dr. Mann for the honor.

Messages from the Bible will include the Master's sending out of the disciples "to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick," as related in Luke (9:1, 2).

One of the quotations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be: "The physical healing of Christian Science results now, as in Jesus' time, from the operation of divine Principle, before which sin and disease lose their reality in human consciousness and finally disappear, as necessarily as darkness gives place to light and sin to reformation."

BALINESE DANCING COMES TO THE UNITED STATES

Balinese music and dancing is being presented in America this winter for the first time as 45 performers from the village of "Platan on Indonesia's island of Bali engage in a three-month tour of the United States.

In its native setting of dusty, scented village square or temple court surrounded in "theater-in-the-round" fashion by sarong-clad audience, Balinese dancing rarely fails to impress the Western traveler, says the National Geographic Society.

Costumes, Blazed by Colors

Costumes, blazed by ornate head dresses in turn crowned with fresh tropical flowers, are an Oriental blaze of gold, blue, green and red. Only a few of the dancers, usually handsome people are selected for training as dancers.

In few forms of the dance is more emphasis placed upon facial expression and movements of the arms and hands than in Balinese dancing, in mood it can vary from quiet, stylized love duet to wild monodrama.

Although the Balinese scale lacks the "la" of the familiar "do-re-mi," the music of the native orchestra, called "gamelan," does not affront the Western ear as other Eastern music so often does. Melody as the West knows it is present, tempo is syncopated as swing. Xylophone-like percussion instruments of the "gamelan" are mellow. Flutes, including bells, gongs, and drums, and throbbing drums make for no American auditory shock.

Inspiration for the best of the island's music, dancing and drama — the three are inseparable — is the ancient Hindu religion of India, whence came the Balinese themselves. Originally all singing and dancing must have been temple rites, but so powerfully does his religion permeate his everyday life that the Balinese sees no sacrilege in performing in a secular setting, whether it be in the garden of a neighbor holding a private feast, or on an American stage.

There are few professional dancers, singers and actors in Bali. Villages have their own "gamelans" and troupes of performers. They may be famous as artists, yet earn their living as farmers, rice farmers and blacksmiths.

WELL DRESSING

A PERISHABLE ART

Derbyshire dressers of water wells might be astonished to learn that when it comes to perishability of artistic product, they have much in common with American college students in New Hampshire and Buddhist lamas of Choni, China.

The well dressers, perpetuating a craft of which few people outside England have even heard, create elaborate masterpieces in flowers and greenery that wither in a few days, says the National Geographic Society.

Dartmouth college students, sculpturing sometimes quite creditably in ice and snow, see their work melt on the first warm day. Choni's lamas lavish a month's work on gorgeously colored butter sculptures that are destroyed after one day on public view.

Origin A Mystery

The beginning of well dressing in such Derbyshire towns as Tissington, Wirksworth, Buxton, Stoney Middleton, and Barlow is shrouded in mystery. One explanation is that it descends from rites performed by Roman legionnaires, who decorated wells with flowers to venerate Fontus, pagan water god.

Whatever the origin, men of Derbyshire for many generations have dressed their town wells in honor of Christian saints. They did so originally to express gratitude for clear drinking water. In an age when good water is taken for granted, they perpetuate a colorful and pleasing religious ceremony.

Well dressing is a community enterprise. One artist may draw the design for a scene, usually taken from the Bible, but everyone in the village gathers flowers and other materials. The dressers, often heirs to an art passed down through their families for decades, start with wooden frames covered with carefully kneaded damp clay.

Flowers Used Last

Set into the clay frame are such comparatively lasting materials as moss and larch cones. So that the finished picture may last as long as possible, delicate flowers, ferns and leaves are attached at the last possible minute. Groups of dressers may labor an entire night to finish on time.

At dawn, the finished panels are erected around wells, or nowadays even at public taps replacing ancient town wells. Churches hold special services. Processions go from the houses of worship, with choirs in the van, to each decorated well, where the fragrant pictures are unveiled.

Holiday then prevails in the village. Visitors throng from afar. One town once abandoned well dressing because vacationists with no feeling for tradition turned the proceedings into a Mardi Gras benefiting the pubi keepers.

Well dressers work not for material reward, but for glory of their villages, public acclaim, and a desire to create beauty. Workers in materials that are fading even before their masterpieces are completed, they live on in the memory of the community.

Colors through the invention of color photography.

BATS CATCH FISH ON AMAZON ISLE

At the mouth of the Amazon River is an island the size of Massachusetts where bats catch fish and fish eat cattle.

Marajo Island's cattle-eating fish, common to the entire Amazon Basin, are piranhas, says the National Geographic Society. A 10-cent piranha is a big one, but they travel in flocks of schools of hundreds that can strip a wounded animal or man to bare bones in a matter of minutes.

Both in Brazilian Marajo's lakes and in the Amazon itself lives the common, important pirarucu, largest strictly freshwater fish in the world. Individuals may be 15 feet long and weight 40 pounds.

Houses on Stilts

Low Marajo, so thoroughly flooded in the rainy season that houses are built on stilts, lies between the mouths of the Amazon and Para Rivers. It has only one town, the little port of Soule. A dozen or so families, living in Belem, own and operate the ranches which give the island its importance.

When Marajo is flooded — from January to July — horses cannot travel. Cowboys then use dugout canoes or oxen, whose cleft hooves do not sink too deeply into the mud, for riding herd on their part-lion, part-buffalo herds.

A favorite cowboy sport is hunting the crocodilelike jacaras or caymans with the half-jungle, half-savanna island is infested. Killers of thousands of cattle, jacaras are rounded up, lassoed, destroyed and tossed to the piranhas. Despite intensive hunting, saymans appear undiminished in numbers.

Vampires Reported

Fishing bats, with long claws that snatch their prey from the water, make up only a part of Marajo's bat population. Millions of rustling wings fill the skies at dusk. Vampires are present, some travelers report, but authorities say vampires are not a menace to people on the island.

Other strange inhabitants of Marajo are gentle box constrictors 12 feet long, tree-swalling anteaters, delicate spider monkeys, flying frogs — actually gliders, like so-called flying squirrels — and capybaras. The latter, largest living rodents, may grow to 4½ feet long.

Marajo is the home of jaguars, sloths, armadillos, exotic lizards and uncountable numbers of birds. There is a giant toad that eats birds.

Despite its damp, tropical setting, Marajo's is cooled by sea breezes in hot weather and warm winds from the Brazilian mainland. Communication with the mainland is by radio, and by small steamers or sailboats which frequently find heavy going in fierce Amazon Delta storms.

"MOST BEAUTIFUL STRUCTURE"

GETS EXTENSIVE REPAIR JOB

India's Taj Mahal is universally conceded to be one of the most breathtakingly beautiful structures in the world, but the roof leaks. Unfortunately that matter cannot be corrected by a mere application of new shingles or another coat of tar and gravel. The leaks are worst in the magnificent white marble dome surmounting the mausoleum, and the roofers must be stonemasons as well.

The damage presently under repair, says the National Geographic Society, was discovered in 1936. A thorough survey was made and upon the recommendation of an advisory committee of experts, rehabilitation of the entire building was begun several years ago. Work will not be finished until 1954, and already it has cost $712,740.

Early Troubles

Roof leaks are not new in the Taj Mahal. In fact they plagued the builders almost before the mortar was dry. Built at Agra by the Emperor Shah Jahan as a memorial tomb for his wife, Mumtaz Mahal, the Taj was started A. D. 1631 and completed in 1648.

Four years later, even before the surrounding buildings were finished, Prince Aurangzeb reported to the Shah, his father, that "the dome of the holy tomb leaks in two places . . . and so also do the fair semidomed arches, many of the galleries on the second story, the four smaller domes, the four northern compartments and the seven underground chambers, which have developed cracks."

Repairs have been going on ever since, although actual work reports prior to the British rule in India are hard to find. The English themselves did at least three major rehabilitation jobs in the 19th century.

Romantic History

The Taj Mahal has a romantic history. Shah Jahan promised Mumtaz Mahal that he would build her the most beautiful tomb in the world and that he would never marry again after her death. He kept both promises, and his tomb lies near hers in the magnificent structure dedicated to her memory.

Even the name is hers, Taj Mahal, meaning "Crown of the Palace," being one of her court titles.

The building is pure white marble, on a vast marble terrace. An imposing dome rises in the center, surrounded by four smaller domes. Four minarets stand at the corners of the terrace, and the whole is set off in formal, tree-lined gardens with reflecting pools to mirror its beauty.

Light enters the tomb through a double screen of carved marble, weighing tons but so skillfully carved as to resemble lace. The interior is set off by inlays of precious stones and brown and violet marble carving.

Travelers from all parts of the world who cross India's hot, dusty central plain to reach the Taj Mahal agree that it is beautiful in any light, but the enchantment grows in the soft whiteness of moonlight.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Although never taken by storm, the ancient fort of Castillo de San Marcos, at St. Augustine, Florida, has flown four different flags—Spanish, British, United States, and Confederate.

DR. CHIDLEY AS HIS FISHERMEN FRIENDS KNOW HIM

RETIRING PASTOR ARDENT FISHERMAN

Dr. Howard J. Chidley, who terminated his 37-year pastorate at the First Congregational Church on January 2, is and has been through the years an ardent fisherman. He has always advocated fishing as a mental, physical and even spiritual refresher and stimulant, and though he has had many other activities aside from his pastoral duties, it has been to fishing, at least openly, that he has paid his richest tribute.

We imagine the Doctor has stolen away to convenient spots not too far afield to try his luck as opportunity has presented, but once a year he has gone regularly to Moosehead Lake in Maine, where, with a party of congenial disciples of the renowned Isaac, he has really made a job of fishing the days through, with the nights spent in heart-warming small talk around the camp-fire as the fishermen lapsed into somnolence that took them early to their bunks or sleeping-bags for the deep sleep that only long days in the open doing what you like do to best can produce.

Some years ago, during the middle thirties, at the instigation of the late "Charlie" Lane, for many years a fishing devotee and conferee of Dr. Chidley in his treks to the Maine Woods, a Fisherman's Sunday was established at the First Congregational Church primarily for those who had shared with the First Church pastor the joys of fishing at Moosehead.

Dr. Chidley was enthusiastic over the project and each year produced a special sermon for his fishermen-friends, which they took to their hearts, and which the remainder of his congregation found equally delightful.

The service soon outgrew its original outline, with fishermen coming from far and near to hear Dr. Chidley extol his favorite sport.

"Carpe Diem," said the Doctor, "seize the day! Don't wait until you have retired and made your pile to go fishing, or enjoy that hobby you are waiting for! Do it now, before you die, or lose your health, or are otherwise prevented from doing it."

Each year the spacious Congregational Church was filled for Fisherman's Sunday. Sportsmen greeted each other before and after the service, and "Charlie" Lane was everywhere, slapping the one on the back, introducing these two, shouting a greeting to another across a sea of heads.

It was Mr. Lane who did the immense amount of paper work necessary to get the fishermen together, and with his death in 1932 the event lacked its old enthusiasm.

Other fishermen died, and soon it was impractical to continue the service regularly because the old Mar's Moosehead crowd was pretty well gone.

The service was revived in this final year of Dr. Chidley's pastorate, on Sunday, May 4, the sermon topic being a "Fisherman's Philosophy." At that time many who had attended each Fisherman's Sunday spoke of the thinning ranks of the "regulars" whom Dr. Chidley and "Charlie" Lane had known in the old days.

Dr. Chidley concluded his last characteristic fisherman's sermon by saying "I come out of the woods each year with a clearer faith and a quieter acceptance of this turbulent world; convinced somehow, that there is a wisdom above human wisdom back of it all, and has even the unruly, stupid, stubborn children of men, likewise, under its care."

Mrs. Sumner R. Andrews of Wildwood street, widow of a matron of honor, and Mr. Andrews was one of the usher corps at the marriage of Mrs. Andrews's sister, Marcia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah William Cunningham of Newtonville, to Mr. George Seymour Bissell of Shaker Heights, Ohio, on Saturday afternoon at Trinity Episcopal Church in Newton Center.

"Dr. Cart served successful pastorates at the Old North Church in Marblehead, Massachusetts, and The Trinity Church in Gloucester. In 1938, he accepted a call to Faith Congregational Church in Springfield, Massachusetts, where he remained for eight years. During his pastorate, Faith Church grew in membership and prospered, and his fine work was recognized throughout the denomination. In 1947, Dr. Cart was called to Plymouth Congregational Church, Scituate, Washington, which was a large downtown church, involving the unusual problems of maintaining a vigorous church in such a location. The average attendance at Plymouth Church during Dr. Cart's pastorate was 700. This varied experience gives Dr. Cart a rich background upon which to draw, as he assumes the leadership of our fine church in Winchester.

"Dr. Cart has in all his pastorates concerned himself with community and denominational affairs having had active assignments in Ministers' Associations, the International Congregational Council of Churches, the American Council of Foreign Missions, the United Nations and the Y.M.C.A. "Mrs. Cart also attended Simpson College in Iowa, and then came East to acquire a Master's degree at Boston University and later a graduate work at Columbia University. Her early activities included high school teaching. Mrs. Cart has always been active in the work of the churches in which she has served and has also identified herself in the work of the community. She has been active in the Y.W.C.A. in Girl Scouts and, at present, is a member of the executive board of the American Association of the University Women.

"The Carts have a son, Roman, who was graduated from the University of Washington. It is interesting to note that he too is going into the Christian Ministry and is now in his second year at Yale Divinity School.

The Carts will live in the new parsonage located at 28 Lakeview road."

LIBRARY NOTES

"GREAT BOOKS" AVAILABLE SOON AT WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

We are pleased to announce that the "Great Books of the Western World," one of the greatest scholarly projects of modern times, will soon be available for use at the Library.

The set took nine years to prepare and cost almost $2,000,000 to produce. It represents the choice of a group of prominent educators, philosophers, novelists, scientists, and poets. Its fifty-four volumes present systematically the great works in mathematics, natural science, law, philosophy, theology, social science, history, and fiction. The editor is Robert M. Hutchins and the Encyclopaedia Britannica is the publisher. The Britannica also produced it in collaboration with the University of Chicago.

One great feature of this set is the "Syntopicon," a two volume idea index, "an intellectual machine that collects the data of thought from all the great books of western man, included in the set." The "Syntopicon" is most useful, by serving as a reading guide among the four-hundred and forty-three works in the set and as a tool for research. It contains 163,000 references, classified under 2,987 topics which are subdivisions of the 102 "great ideas." This dictionary of ideas permits the reader to select one topic and to locate immediately every reference to that topic included in this set of works by seventy-two authors from Homer to Freud. This feature is unique in the field of scholarship.

Volume 1 is dedicated to an essay by Dr. Hutchins, "The Great Conversation," the substance of liberal education. Volumes two and three contain the "Syntopicon." Volumes four to fifty-four contain the "Great Books," including the Complete Works of Sophocles, Plato, Virgil, Montaigne, and Shakespeare.

Certain works included are unavailable anywhere and certain books by Ptolemy, Copernicus, Kepler, and Pascal appear in English for the first time.

We urge you to come and examine this interesting and worthwhile set, soon to be displayed at the Winchester Public Library.

SWIFT NEW PARTNER

The firm of Edwin L. Pride and Co., well-known Boston accountants and auditors, announced today that they had admitted to partnership John S. Swift, certified public accountant who has been associated with the firm for several years.

Mr. Swift is a graduate of the University of Vermont and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration and received his certificate as a certified public accountant in Massachusetts in 1950. Following several years with the State of Vermont Banking Department and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Mr. Swift served with the United States Navy as a lieutenant (j. g.) for the duration of the war. Upon his discharge he reentered the banking field briefly, prior to his association with the Pride concern, where he has specialized on bank work. Mr. Swift makes his home at 41 Fells road and is Chairman of the Finance Committee of the town. He is also a member of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants and the American Institute of Accountants.

WALSH GOING SOUTH WITH WHITE SOX

Charlie Walsh, a fine football and baseball player while at Winchester High School, and captain of the Harvard varsity nine last spring, is going south on January 15 for three weeks of preliminary training with the Chicago White Sox at Fort Pierce, Florida.

"Sarto," who captained and was blocking back on the high school football team of 1944, still believed by many to be the best eleven produced by Coach Henry Knowlton and one of the best in the history of the school, played both second base and catcher while at Winchester High.

He went on to Choate School in Wallingford, Conn., after high school, to prepare for Yale, and there played both baseball and football. The year interrupted by education and "Sarto" served with the Army in the Asiatic Theatre before entering college.

Instead of going to Yale, "Sarto" entered Harvard, playing on the freshman football and basketball teams and being marked as potential varsity material in both sports.

In football as a sophomore "Sarto" was hampered by injuries, and he dropped football for baseball after his second year.

He was a regular on the nine for three years, playing the outfield and finally winning the regular catcher's berth. He captained the varsity softball team in 1947, together with his size and strong arm, attracted the attention of several big league scouts.

The Winchester boy finally signed with the White Sox and spent last summer with two of their farm teams, Waterloo, Iowa, in the Three-I League, and Superior, Wisconsin. "Sarto" had a good year behind the bat until he sustained a broken hand toward the end of August, which sidelined him for the season. His hitting was fair, but with catching at such a premium the White Sox evidently wanted a closer peek at the youngest catcher in their system, hence the invitation to go south on January 15.

"Charlie" has been living this winter in Reading with his sister, Mrs. Allan H. Teel, and spending his time with the Connecticut Mutual. He is eager to get south and start baseball, especially to see how his injured hand will respond to regular work behind the bat.

CHRISTMAS ACTIVITIES OF THE RED CROSS

The Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross was very busy during the holiday season for the various committees of the Red Cross.

Gift boxes prepared many weeks ago were mailed to various embarkation points to be put on ships and to be distributed to men on the high seas Christmas morning. The Red Cross was assisted in the preparation of these boxes by the Winchester Girl Scouts, Women's League of the First Baptist Church, the Church Service League of the Church of the Epiphany, and the Winchester Grange.

The Junior Red Cross of the Winchester Schools made and filled cups and Christmas favors which were sent to the Veterans' Hospital at Bedford. The same group also made calendars for the Home for the Aged.

The Gray Ladies gave a Christmas party for the veterans at Bedford on December 20 and took homemade cookies and candy for the servicemen. Norma Farrar entertained the boys with selections on her accordion and led the group singing.

Gifts were wrapped and delivered to Winchester servicemen who were to be hospitalized over Christmas. Red Cross also entertained the ladies of the sewing group at a Christmas party at the chapter headquarters.

All in all, Red Cross has been busy and Christmas has been merrier because of this activity.

ASSISTED AT BIG FOUR-CORNERS FIRE

Winchester sent apparatus and men to the big fire that destroyed the restaurant formerly known as "Topsy's" at the Woburn Four Corners early Saturday morning.

Box 451 was put on for the fire at 4:30 o'clock and Engine 3 went to the fire with a crew of Mechanic Robert Haggerty and Firefighters Joseph Donahue, Warren Osborne, Erskine Kelley and James Nolan, in charge of Captain Frank Amico.

The Winchester piece went into action at once and pumped for more than two hours, its crew assisting in fighting the flames for three hours before returning to town.

The restaurant recently renovated, closed at 1 o'clock and was wrapped in flames about three hours later. It was at first thought a chef, Thomas Williams, had perished in the flames, but fears for his safety vanished as he reported for work just as firemen were preparing to search the ruins for his body.

The restaurant was practically destroyed by the fire, damage being estimated unofficially as in the vicinity of $50,000.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Eustis of Church street spent Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Seidle, in Bethlehem, Pa. While there they attended a notable Christmas Eve Service at the Moravian Church, in which the congregation of 1200 participated in a most impressive candle-light ceremony.

Christmas Eve Mr. J. Joseph Malone of 6 Lincolnshire Way discovered that about 50 bulbs had been stolen from his outdoor Christmas tree between the hours of 7 and 8:45. He reported the loss to the police. Twenty bulbs were stolen from the town tree on the Common some time Christmas night.

Thomas E. Kneeland, Junior, Brown Freshman, is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Kneeland of 99 Wildwood street.

Prof. and Mrs. Newell C. Page of Maxwell road spent Christmas with the Frank Paines in Hudson.

REV. PETER Y. F. SHIH

THE SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will hold their first service of the New Year on this Sunday at 9:30 in Ripley Chapel, at which time they will be addressed by Dr. Peter Y. F. Shih. Chaplain at this service will be Curtis Ryan, assisted by Richard Gaffney. Ushers will be Richard Emerson and Robert Kneeland.

Dr. Shih, who is pastor of the Chinese Christian Church in Boston and Director of the Chinese Mission of New England, is no stranger to Forum, having been the speaker at an International Week-end Service two years ago. Dr. Shih graduated from Nanking Theological Seminary and was pastor of the largest church in Hangchow, Capital of East China, preaching to over one thousand people every Sunday morning. He was for eight years Dean and Professor in West China Union Theological Seminary in Chengtu. He is well known to American people, having spoken in thirty-seven states and having appeared before many churches of all denominations, schools and colleges. A profound student of Chinese history and philosophy and the writings of great men, Dr. Shih challenges us to love our enemies for he believes that love alone is the sure foundation of world peace. In America Dr. Shih is well known as a great speaker and an even greater scholar, his subject, "Chinese Christians U. S. A."

JAMES THOMAS MOBBIS

James Thomas Mobbs of 57 Lake street, widely known in and around Winchester as an expert cabinet maker and refinisher of furniture, died Sunday night, December 28, at his home following a six-weeks illness.

Mr. Mobbs was the son of Thomas, and Catherine (MacKenzie) Mobbs. He was born June 6, 1865, on Prince Edward's Island, coming to this country as a young man, and living in Woburn and Malden before coming to Winchester in 1891. In that year on May 5, he married Anna Elizabeth Wells, who died in 1925.

On September 1, 1928, he married Mrs. Bessie Boardman Weidner of Natick, who survives, with a daughter, Mrs. Earle Mortimore of Fairfield, Conn.; a son, Stanley W. Mobbs of San Francisco; two grandchildren, Betty Ann Mortimore and Stanley W. Mobbs, Jr.; and a brother, Frederick Mobbs, of Methuen.

Mr. Mobbs spent his entire adult life as a woodworker, and became an expert at his trade. For many years he was a member of the woodworking firm of A. Dickey on Bristol street, in Boston. He was known in the trade as a stair-expert and he installed stairs in Jamaica, at Dartmouth and Wellesley Colleges and at the State Capitol in Providence. He also installed all the railings in the Boston subway when it was built.

Upon the dissolution of the firm of A. Dickey in 1940 Mr. Mobbs opened his own shop at the corner of Main and Lake streets, doing the finest cabinet making and expert refinishing of old furniture.

Many in Winchester entrusted their most cherished heirloom pieces to Mr. Mobbs for restoration and he won an enviable reputation as a craftsman.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the late residence with the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Church, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Miss Dorothy Brandt will sing on WBZ community audition TV show Sunday, January 4, at 1 p. m. Miss Brandt is a sophomore at B. U. College of Music and is active in Alpha Phi and Mu Phi Epsilon sororities.

MRS. GRACE MILTON HAMILTON

Mrs. Grace Milton Hamilton, wife of George H. Hamilton, retired carpenter and builder, died suddenly Friday morning, December 26, at the Winchester Hospital, following a brief illness. She and her husband, widely known residents of Winchester for more than half a century entered the Home for Aged People on Mt. Vernon street three years ago.

Mrs. Hamilton was the daughter of William, and Martha (Shaw) Milton. She was born January 18, 1870, in Hillsboro, N. B., and lived her early life there, she and Mr. Hamilton being married in Hillsboro May 24, 1889. They came to Winchester in 1903 and with the exception of a short residence in Wilton, N. H., lived in this town since that year, making their home on Vine street and Lincoln street.

Mrs. Hamilton was for 60 years a member of the First Congregational Church, taking an active part in the Women's work of the church. She was also for many years particularly prominent in the work of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, heading the local Union for many years, and the Middlesex County Union, for 35 years. She was especially well known in State W. C. T. U. circles, having been president of both the Massachusetts State and the New Hampshire State Unions.

Mrs. Hamilton was past noble grand of Victoria Rebekah Lodge of Winchester and a member of the Rebekah Lodge in Wilton, N. H. She had formerly held membership in Winchester Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star; Women's Republican Club of Winchester and the Fortnightly Women's Club. She had taken an active interest in the various organizations, of which she had been a member, and had kept in close touch with them up to the day before her death.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Hamilton leaves a son, Col. Robert M. Hamilton, USA, retired of Boston; three daughters, Mrs. Walter Tibbets of Concord, N. H., Mrs. Elmer Huber of Wilton, N. H., and Mrs. Elton Winters of Akron, Ohio; also eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chidley, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET COSTELLO

Mrs. Margaret Costello of 43 Water street, wife of William Costello, died suddenly Christmas eve, December 24, while on her way home from a shopping trip. She collapsed on Richardson street not far from her home and was pronounced dead upon arrival at the Winchester Hospital. She had not been ill, and had appeared in her usual good health when she left her home, her sudden passing coming as a severe shock to her family and her many friends.

Mrs. Costello was the daughter of Thomas, and Bridget (Folan) Dirrane. She was born November 8, 1891, in the Aran Islands, County Galway, Ireland, but came to this country as a girl of 17 years.

She married here and spent all of her married life in Winchester, being a member of the Catholic Daughters of America and the Ladies Sodality of the Immaculate Conception Church.

Mrs. Costello leaves, besides her husband, two daughters, Miss Margaret and Miss Anne Costello, both of Winchester; a son, Robert, who is studying for the Roman Catholic Priesthood at St. John's Seminary, Brighton; and two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Sullivan of Melrose and Mrs. Mary Faherty of County Galway, Ireland.

The funeral was held Saturday morning from the late residence with solemn religious high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. The pastor, Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, was celebrant, Rev. Fr. Harry Cassidy of Holy Cross Seminary, La Crosse, Wis., was deacon; and Rev. Fr. Charles A. Anadore of St. Mary's Church, subdeacon.

Bearers were three nephews of the deceased, John and Thomas Sullivan of Melrose and Michael Faherty of Dorchester; a cousin, Michael Folan of Somerville; and two neighbors, Robert Conlon and Officer John Elliott of the Winchester Police Department. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Miss Ruth E. Nelson, a member of the Freshman class at Bouverton School, which is affiliated with Tufts College, Medford, is enjoying the Christmas recess from her studies. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Nelson of 102 Pond street.

Eisenhower Urges Nation Support March of Dimes

President-elect Eisenhower meets 1953 March of Dimes Poster Girls Pamela (left) and Patricia O'Neil, of Raleigh, N. C.

NEW YORK CITY—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower called on the American public to support the 1953 March of Dimes being conducted throughout the nation during all of January.

He joined in the annual appeal after meeting the two Raleigh, N.C., sisters who are pictured on the 1953 March of Dimes poster. They are Patricia, 6, and five-year-old Pamela O'Neil, both of whom were stricken at the beginning of 1953, there were 58,000 polio victims of former years still undergoing treatment, with financial help from local March of Dimes chapters.

they're completely recovered from polio, thanks to the generosity of the American people."

He urged all Americans "to help the others like them by joining the March of Dimes."

Later, he joined the poster girls in making a short film which is being shown by television stations throughout the nation.

This year's March of Dimes follows the all-time record polio epidemic of 1952 in which more than 55,000 were stricken. At the beginning of 1953, there were 58,000 polio victims of former years still undergoing treatment, with financial help from local March of Dimes chapters.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

John Nicol Mark, of Arlington, will speak at the College Club dinner meeting at the Epiphany Church on Monday, January 12. "Bobbie Burns—The Man and His Message," is the title Mr. Mark gives his talk. This promises to be an amusing as well as informative sketch. Dinner will be served promptly at 7 and it is hoped that many newcomers will attend, for it is a meeting open to all in Winchester whether they are College Club members or not.

Since it is imperative to know how many are to be served, those who are not members are asked to contact Mrs. William Spaulding, 379 Main street, telephone Winchester 6-0025. Any member who has not sent in her reservation card for the dinner should also call Mrs. Spaulding.

New plans—New hopes—but it remains for us to make good use of these gifts. The College Club intends to use the knowledge and abilities of its members and fellow townsmen in the Study Groups this year. The detailed program will be discussed at the close of the meeting on January 12. There are six courses to be offered this winter, meeting on alternate Monday evenings at members' homes. The courses are:

I. Music Group: Music Since 1900
Dr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde, Co-Chairmen.

II. The United Nations Charter: Does It Need Revision?
Dr. and Mrs. John L. Lobingier, Chairmen.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Cummings.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Lowry.

III. Keeping Up to Date with Contemporary Books.
Mr. and Mrs. James B. Willing, Chairmen.

Coloring books, crayons and paints at Wilson the Stationer, Star Building.

town, new cement-block buildings are replacing mud houses beside widened, asphalt streets. A new 1,200,000-gallon-a-day distillation plant will suck water from the Gulf, providing the city as well with its first major source of electric power. Big new State hospitals, plus a gleaming trailer-dispensary that patrols outlying desert areas, are raising the Sheikhdom's standards of health. All service is free. So is better schooling fast being expanded for both girls and boys, a revolutionary step in the Near Eastern desert countries.

As all these projects take shape under the magic wand of oil, Sheikh Abdullah Salim has kept rigidly to his traditional unpretentious habits — no fancy trappings, no royal robes, no racing stables.

Occasionally, however, one of his ministers reveals the strange position in which Kuwait has been plunged. The Minister of Defense (of which Kuwait boasts little or none) went on record recently with a rare complaint: although Kuwait has more money than it ever saw before, no one so far has asked for a loan!

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Just to the east of Bethlehem in Judea, says the National Geographic Society, there still stands an ancient cistern where, legend has it, the Three Wise Men stopped to water their camels. Weary and troubled, they were cheered when they looked into the crystal clear water and saw reflected there the star that was to lead them to the Manger.

Prehistory's Pueblo Indians, like today's Navajos, prized turquoise above all other gem stones.

The jaguar, great cat of South American jungles, forgets the usual feline dislike of water in times of drought and will plunge into a water hole to play like a child, says the National Geographic Society.

Largest barracuda on record taken with rod and reel weighed 103½ pounds, says the new Book of Fishes of the National Geographic Society. Average for this savage fish in tropical and semi-tropical Atlantic waters is about 15 pounds.

In 1929 Dr. Joseph F. Rock, leading a National Geographic Society expedition into the wild border country between western China and Tibet, had explored and photographed with telephoto lenses magnificent Minya Konka, 24,900 feet high. Dr. Rock's pictures and publication of this great peak, published in October, 1939, by the National Geographic Magazine, were seen by Terris Moore one year after he graduated from Williams College.

The young mountaineer had already climbed Ecuador's 20,577-foot Chimborazo. In 1930 and 1931 he made the first ascents of Alaska's Mt. Bona (16,420 feet) and Mt. Fairweather (15,300 feet). The following summer, with three companions, Richard L. Burdall, Arthur B. Emmons, 3rd, and Jack Theodore Young, he was deep in Sikang Province of western China. By October 23, 1932, Moore's party stood atop Minya Konka. It was late in the year for any such venturing on a mountain more than four miles high. One member of the party lost his toes from frostbite. But the four youths had climbed higher than any Americans had ever reached before on any mountain in the world.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS SPRANG FROM CABBAGES, BUT NOT VERY FAR

Brussels sprouts, the cabbages that never grow up, reach market each fall about the time golf ball sales strike their winter slump.

Those who dislike the little green nuggets insist there is some connection in this timing. Just as vehemently, sprout-lovers rise to their defense. Of all the world's vegetables, the brussels sprout possesses an almost unique ability to make fast friends or firm foes.

One reason may be that as vegetables go, brussels sprouts are relative newcomers. They have been known for only about 400 years, the National Geographic Society says. Many people have yet to get used to them.

Belgian Birth and British Adaptation

There are records which indicate some such vegetable was sold in Belgium as early as 1213, but first scientific description of the brussels sprout did not appear until 1587. As late as the 17th century, famous botanists referred to the plant as something they had heard about but never seen.

A descendant of wild cabbages brought from warm Mediterranean lands, the sprout ranks as one of the few vegetables to originate in northern Europe. The only others are kohlrabi — German for "cabbage turnip" — and possibly rutabaga.

Liked cool and moist weather for best growth, the sprout has thrived in the British Isles. Englishmen have eaten them with seeming enjoyment and in great quantity since before 1850. Introduced into the United States about 1880, the tightly formed nidget cabbages failed to find equal popularity here.

There are signs, however, that its favor is growing. Across some 4,500 acres of flatlands bordering the Pacific Ocean near Santa Cruz, Calif., a crop of 38,000,000 pounds of sprouts is being harvested this autumn. This represents a 65 per cent jump in production in the past three years. About 22,000,000 pounds will be frozen, making the vegetable available in any season of the year.

Picked in the Rain
Brussels sprouts are particularly about when they will grow, requiring temperatures between 50 and 60 degrees for about four or five months and abundant moisture. They are sensitive to a host of diseases and insect pests, and must be picked by hand—the best time being in a cold rain. The only other significant growing area lies on Long Island, near the New York distributing markets.

The brussels sprout plant is really a tall-stemmed cabbage in which many tiny heads, the "sprouts," form at the bases of the leaves. The result looks somewhat like a green ornamental vase with a cluster of larger leaves at the top.

Cousin of kale, cauliflower, broccoli and collards as well as of cabbage, the sprout will cross-pollinate freely with these vegetables. An unvarying farmer is thus sometimes discomfited to find a strange and mixed crop growing in his vegetable fields.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

In most world areas goats are raised for milk and meat, but in certain sections of the Himalaya Mountains, large, sturdy animals are specially raised to serve as pack animals. These pack goats can carry 24-pound loads.

The polar bear is virtually an animal of the sea, the National Geographic Society observes. It is at home on Arctic ice floes. For food it depends upon seals and fish, with an occasional bird or carcass of a whale.

Bull racing is a big sport on Madura, island off the northeast coast of Java, says the National Geographic Society. Drivers frequently are hurt in falls from the sledges in which they ride between two charging yoked bulls.

In Dutch Guiana there is a road made of aluminum and solid mahogany, notes the National Geographic Society. The road is based on a corduroy of mahogany logs, common in the area, and is surfaced with bauxite, the ore from which aluminum is extracted.

Commercial fishermen catching menhaden along the Atlantic coast can tell the "mostest" if not the biggest fish story, says the National Geographic Society. Drawing a 1,200-foot-long purse seine around a school of menhaden, they often catch 100,000 fish at one time, and catches of half a million menhaden have frequently been made. A "set" of six to seven million is on record, but the net broke and all were lost. Menhaden average three-fourths of a pound in weight and one foot in length. They are not used as food, but provide commercial fertilizer.

Case No. 23791 Reg.
THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
To JAMES J. RUSSO, ELEANOR T. RUSSO, HENRY A. DAVOLI, ANN C. DAVOLI, ARTHUR J. HAGERTY, MARGARET B. HAGERTY, RONALD M. CHISHOLM, MARY E. CHISHOLM, of Winchester, the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, EARL KEOUGH, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by ERNEST J. LUONGO and FRED J. CAUSE, co-partners, d/b/a IDEAL HOMES & CO., of said Winchester, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Winchester, bounded and described as follows:

Northwesterly by Adams Road 70 feet; Southeastly by land now or formerly of HENRY A. DAVOLI at 120 feet; Southwesterly, Northwesterly and Southwesterly by land now or formerly of RONALD M. CHISHOLM at 30 feet, 20 feet and 40 feet respectively; and Northwesterly by land now or formerly of ARTHUR J. HAGERTY at 100 feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections and defenses to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the nineteenth day of January next.

If you fail to do so as so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, and said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon. Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-two.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

CURLERS HAVE CLOSE MATCHES

The fourth round of the Curling Championship matches still show Dick Neiley with a perfect score. John Joy took on Dick on Tuesday night and came within an ace of tying him on the last stone. John made his usual perfect last shot, but still lost to Dick by 12-11. This makes four straight wins for Dick Neiley.

Bill Davis won from Frank Lane, skipping Fitz Craven's rink, by 17-14. Frank had the counter, after a tie eleventh end, but Bill's last shot knocked out Frank's for a 3-end. This gives Bill Davis three wins to one loss.

All Litchfield took an 11-6 win over Geoff Neiley for a 3-1 record and Dan Morse won 17-15 over Shorty Carr for a similar record. Now everyone is gunning to take Dick Neiley off his high horse and make a contest for the last three matches in the series.

Next Friday is a "Junior Skip" contest with Arthur Bullard, Larry Fessenden, Tom Aldrich vs. Joe Dolben and George King vs. Mike Hunt. The eight regular skips cannot be on these rinks and will have a dog-eat-dog match of their own.

Next week Shorty Carr, Dan Morse and John Fulton, with another still to be chosen, will go to the Detroit Bonspiel, where 24 American rinks will compete with 24 Canadian rinks.

KENNETT BOYS SCRIMMAGED WINCHESTER

The Kennett High School basketball squad, accompanied by their coach, Karl Seidenstuecker, and their principal, George T. Davidson, Jr., former Winchester boy and son of ex-Park Commissioner George T. Davidson, arrived in town Monday afternoon to scrimmage the Winchester High School squad at the high school gymnasium.

After the scrimmage session the Kennett boys were entertained at homes of the Winchester squad while Coach Seidenstuecker was the overnight guest of Coach and Mrs. Ted Bartlett. A second scrimmage session took place Tuesday morning, with the Kennett boys returning home Tuesday afternoon. Winchester athletic authorities were glad to extend their hospitality to the Kennett High team because for the past five years Winchester has been royally entertained by Kennett when its basketball team played at Conway as one of the features of the town's winter carnival.

A very friendly rivalry has been built up between the two schools and the local boys were glad to have the New Hampshire players as their guests this week.

HOME CARE OF THE SICK

MOTHER AND BABY CARE

More than half of the people in the United States are sick at least once a year. Of these only 10% were hospitalized; 90% of ill persons must receive care at home.

The Winchester Red Cross Chapter is pleased to announce that the Arlington Red Cross Chapter is offering the residents of Winchester the opportunity of enrolling in a class on "Home Care Of The Sick" which starts on January 12 at 2 p. m. for six sessions, once a week.

A second class on "Mother and Baby Care" for expectant parents, both men and women, begins on January 13 at 7:30 and meets once a week for six weeks. These classes will be held in the Robbings Memorial Library in Arlington and there is no charge for this instruction.

For registration and further information call Mrs. Donald Fritch the Home Service Chairman of the Arlington Chapter, Arlington 5-8226-J.

TROOP NINE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Under the able direction of Jack Wakefield the twenty-two members of Troop Nine were given a gala Christmas Party on their regular meeting night Tuesday before Christmas. Fun for all was the order of the night, while all serious Scouting activities went by the board.

This new Troop had gotten under way so well and the boys had done such a fine job that the committee wanted them to have a night of fun. Louis Bravacos and Robert Simpson gave Jack the necessary assistance. The controls, Panther, Fox and Flaming Arrow, competed in all the games, and Panther won out by the very narrow margin of one point. Mrs. Bravacos, Mrs. Mello, and Mrs. Simpson put together very excellent refreshments of hot dogs, brownies, soda pop and ice cream.

The feature of the night was the presentation of a big food basket to Mr. Cook of the Second Congregational church for a needy Winchester family. Each boy had to earn 25 to 50 cents and purchase with it an article of food for the basket. As the boys came forward with their gifts they told how they had earned the money for the food. It was very interesting to hear the many different ways the boys had earned money for this worthwhile project. The committee then presented a turkey to go with the food basket.

It was announced that the Troop had earned $71.00 by selling 95 wreaths. This is considered a very good performance as they had only two weeks to accomplish this. Normally a Troop has four weeks to sell wreaths at Christmas.

SAW HUGE EAGLE IN WINCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Goddu of Cliff street, accompanied by Mrs. Goddu's uncle, Mr. Albert Hord, and by Paul Goddu, Jr., and "Chippie" Swett of Wolcott terrace, got a real thrill Tuesday forenoon as they were driving along the Parkway on their way to Boston.

As they approached a point midway between Sandy Beach and the Medford Boat Club they saw a huge bird with a white head perched on a tree with three crows, dwarfing into insignificance these sizeable birds.

The Goddus stopped for a better view to the bird and he quickly formed opinion that the bird was a great American Eagle, not so often seen outside zoos.

It was an eagle all right, and a magnificent specimen, as the entire Goddu party will attest. For several minutes they stood gazing and watching the big fellow. Finally he rose from his perch in the tree and displaying a truly magnificent wing-spread, soared back to the northward over Winchester.

CHILD RELEASED BY FIREMEN

Members of the Fire Department had to go to the home of Mr. Dana Kelly on Mystic avenue Wednesday morning to release Lawrence Kelly, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, who had wedged his right foot into the space between the base and overhang of a kitchen cabinet.

The little boy was found lying on the floor with his foot fast caught. He was very courageous while the firemen worked with hacksaws to release his foot and was comforted by the officer in charge, Captain Frank Amico, who told Lawrence he would make a good fireman when he got a little older.

Those near a brilliant star are charged with light and electricity and shine brightly, while those with no nearby bright body appear as faint spots in the heavens.

MANKIND HAS CHERISHED DOLLS THROUGH THE AGES

Millions of little girls will be playing with new dolls this Christmas, talking to them in scores of languages, lavishing affection in strangling hugs or fastidious care. Dolls, the best loved toys in the world; it is hard to think of a child without one. Yet the history of dolls as playthings is comparatively recent, says the National Geographic Society.

Anthropologists now believe that the Stone Age ancestors of today's walking and talking dolls were never touched by children. The miniature images of people and animals found in 20,000-year-old prehistoric caves were carved as charms and fetishes or ritual objects, not to be handled by the uninitiated, and especially not by children.

Fetish to Toy
In the gradual development from potent fetish to familiar toy, historians see a reflection of man's cultural and spiritual progress away from superstition and idolatry. In ancient Egypt the doll-like figures now found in children's toms represented not toys but servants - substitutes for real servants formerly buried alive with their late masters. In tombs of ancient Greeks and Romans, dolls, made of ivory or terra cotta with jointed limbs and elaborate dress.

A later Roman tradition was giving wax candles and dolls to children on December 17, the festival of Saturnalia and a forerunner of Christmas. The exchanging of presents. Custom also decreed that a Roman girl, on reaching maturity, present on the altar of Diana all her dolls with other symbols of her childhood.

But centuries passed before dolls became the exclusive property of children. In the Middle Ages a magician's chief source of revenue might be sticking pins in wax images to bring illness or death to a customer's enemy. In ancient and world-wide form of sorcery still practiced by some primitive peoples.

Fashion Show
Then adults took up dolls as fashion models for dress making, and hair styling. In 1391, the king of France sent the queen of England a sumptuous group dressed to show the latest Parisian styles. Costume dolls representing famous people were collected as curios and treasures.

Jointed cardboard puppets became a fashionable throughout France in the 18th century. Men, women and children on the street and at home were wearing strings to make the silly toys dance. For the rich, there were puppets designed by court painters which sold for as much as $7,500 each.

About 1800, doll making began to develop as an industry, and children were generally recognized as rightful doll owners. The fashion idea died hard. Most dolls still represented grown ladies. It took 20th century realism to produce the crying, drinking, infantlike dolls of today.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Iceland's flag bears a dragon, vulture, bull, and giant, guardian spirits mentioned in the Heimskingla ("Lives of the Kings").

The Bermuda cedar is misnamed, says the National Geographic Society. It is actually a juniper of a type found nowhere else in the world. Scale infestation all but wiped it out following World War II, and the Bermudians are now engaged in a reforestation program, using seed from the few surviving healthy specimens.

India's Dhauti Gorge, winding through the central Himalayas, gains 10,000 feet in elevation in 35 miles. It forms a link in a much-traveled trade route to Tibet, says the National Geographic Society.

The level of the Gulf of Mexico is roughly half a foot higher than the Atlantic Ocean off the east coast of Florida, says the National Geographic Society.

Whaling was a big Spitsbergen industry in the days of Henry Hudson, says the National Geographic Society, but hunting was so intense that by 1635 most of the great mammals had been killed off or driven far out into Arctic waters.

wall and more than a score of towers, known collectively as the Tower of London, is to the British the ultimate symbol of their Empire's might and dignity. Only Westminster Abbey, England's spiritual symbol, is more universally revered.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

The city of Jerusalem has seen more than 20 sieges; its streets have echoed to countless battles, its people have been driven into exile. Assyrians, Persians, Macedonians, Arabs, Turks, Crusaders and the British (1917) have beaten against its walls. Conquering Babylonians and Romans left utter desolation; Mongols burned the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. But after every disaster Jerusalem has risen from its ruins, says the National Geographic Society.

Over the centuries the Netherlands has reclaimed from sea, lake and marsh about 30 percent of its total land area. More than half its people live below sea level; they are protected by 1,800 miles of dikes and 2,000 pumping units, says the National Geographic Society.

Spanish explorers Cortes and De Soto brought the first horses to the western hemisphere since before the Ice Age. Escaping or abandoned on the new continent, these Spanish steeds migrated into the great plains west of the Mississippi, and there eventually sired great herds of "wild" horses.

Colombium, also known as niobium, is a metal that when alloyed with steel, gives steel the heat resistance necessary in jet engine parts. The Western World, says the National Geographic Society, obtains most of its supply from British Nigeria in Africa, where it is mined in conjunction with tin.

WINTON CLUB CABARET

One of the gayest and most entertaining events early in the New Year is the annual Winton Club Cabaret, scheduled to take place on January 29, 30, and 31 at the Winchester Town Hall. With holidays behind us, and children back in school, life returns to a normal routine for all but those who will find January a month of rehearsals, costume fittings, photographers and the mad whirl of a million details in putting on this always delightful amateur show.

Mrs. Albert S. Crockett is the able chairman under whose wise supervision the Winton Club members will be working. Her committee include Mrs. Charles W. Butler, Mrs. Carriek Kennedy, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Robert M. Smith and Mrs. Harold N. Stevens.

Newcomers to Winchester often ask "What is the Winton Club?" What does it do? The Winton Club was founded in 1911 by a small group of women who were interested in aiding the new hospital. They attended to the linen supply and in order to furnish adequate and proper linen they gave dances and other entertainments to raise money. The first Cabaret, with Winton Club members and their husbands providing the entertainment, was given in 1920, and it has since become an established and well-known charity event all around Greater Boston. A professional director, a cast of almost 100 persons, and professional costumes, lighting and music combine to make this an evening of gala proportions. The proceeds from the sale of tickets and the advertising in the large program, and from the sale of soft drinks, flowers and cigarettes, are used wholly to finance the club's purchase of the entire linen supply of our own Winchester Hospital.

Mrs. George A. Marks is president of the club, which, in addition to regular monthly meetings, has monthly sewing meetings in small groups. These members cut, baste and stitch many hospital articles, such as treatment sheets, binders, covers, pads, X-ray gowns, scrub gowns, towels, glove cases and baby dresses. The saving in money over purchased articles amounts to several hundred dollars a year.

The Carlgill Company of New York will produce the show, with Mr. Robert Campbell as director. Mr. Campbell will be new to Winchester, and as is always the case with a new director, will have new ideas and new dance steps to delight the audience.

Mrs. John R. Ghirardini and Mrs. Elliott K. Blaisdell, whose flying fingers at the piano provide such provocative music for the dance rehearsals, will be in charge of musical arrangements. Marsh's Orchestra of ten pieces will play for the entertainment and the dancing to follow, with Mr. Lewis Bonick as conductor.

Mrs. Alexander P. Aitken and Mrs. Frank C. d'Elseaux are co-chairmen of the Costume Committee, who fit and alter and press the show costumes into perky freshness. The committee includes Mrs. Malcolm D. Bennett, Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Allen O. Eaton, Mrs. E. Craig Greiner, Mrs. Harry P. Hood, Jr., Mrs. Frederick M. Ives, Jr., Mrs. W. Campbell Ross, Mrs. Ben R. Schneider, Mrs. Robert G. Thomason and Mrs. John C. Willis.

Mrs. Dudley H. Bradlee, II, and Mrs. John Page head a large program committee who have been soliciting ads for several months to make an attractive and profitable program.

The theme of the show is a dark secret at present but it is hinted that it will be gay and colorful with plenty of pretty girls and stalwart men, lots of humor and nary a spoken word!

JOHNSON — ANDERSON

In a setting of white flowers and candles at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon, December 28, Miss Marguerite May Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rudolph Anderson of Loring avenue, became the bride of Max Olaf Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Fir avenue, Waltham. The Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the church, performed the 3 o'clock ceremony, and the bridal music was played by the church organist, Charles Potter. Robert MacAuley was soloist.

Miss Anderson was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Skinner bridal satin fashioned with a train and trimmed with white roses and pearls. Her hair was styled in a crown of the valley arranged in an old-fashioned bouquet.

Miss Marjorie Anderson of Winchester, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Suzanne Mawson of Mattapan, another niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Evelyn Lloyd of Wilmington, sister of the bride; and Miss June Johnson of Waltham, sister of the bridegroom. The honor matrons were Mrs. E. Craig Greiner, Mrs. Harry P. Hood, Jr., Mrs. Frederick M. Ives, Jr., Mrs. W. Campbell Ross, Mrs. Ben R. Schneider, Mrs. Robert G. Thomason and Mrs. John C. Willis.

The bride wore a dress of deep pink tulle, having a lace bodice and jacket, and a skirt formed of tiers of pink net. Her headpiece was a crown of pink jewels and lace and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of vari-colored pink roses.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of chartreuse net with lace bodices and jackets. Their crowns were of chartreuse jewels and lace, and they carried bouquets of yellow, and tulle and roses.

The flower girl wore a frock of deep pink tulle and net with matching hat and carried a miniature old-fashioned bouquet.

Joseph Johnson, Jr., of Waltham was best man for his brother and Arthur Lloyd, Jr., of Wilmington, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer. Ushers were Frederick Anderson of Winchester, brother of the bride; and Frederick Lawson, Jr., of Brighton, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Town Line in Woburn with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Anderson, mother of the bride, wore royal-blue silk crepe trimmed with rhinestones and a corsage of red and white roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Johnson, wore pink and white roses with her fuchsia silk crepe gown.

After the reception the bride and bridegroom left on a honeymoon to be spent motoring through New England. Mr. Johnson is serving with the Sea Bees of the United States Navy and is leaving for Korea in the near future.

VINCENT P. CLARKE

Newly Appointed District Deputy Grand Master of Arlington Sixth Masonic District

WINCHESTER MASONS HONORED

At the recent meeting of the Massachusetts Grand Lodge of Masons held on Monday, December 29, 1952, the occasion of the Feast of Saint John, Vincent P. Clarke, a Past Master of William Parkman Lodge, who served as Master during 1931 to 1933 was honored by being appointed District Deputy Grand Master of the Arlington Sixth Masonic District, which includes Masonic lodges in Arlington, Woburn, Somerville and Medford, in addition to William Parkman Lodge of Winchester.

In his capacity as District Deputy Grand Master he will have jurisdiction over these lodges during the next year, and will make frequent visits to these lodges.

Vincent P. Clarke is a practicing Attorney with offices at 27 State street, Boston and resides at 93 Bacon street, Winchester; he is a Past Commander of Winchester Post No. 97 American Legion; a former member and chairman of the Board of Selectmen of the Town of Winchester and is at present Town Council of Winchester. Mr. Clarke is a member of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church of Winchester and served both in World War I in the Navy, and in World War II in the Army, during which he rose from Private to being commissioned as a Captain.

It is the responsibility of a newly appointed District Deputy Grand Master to appoint a District Deputy Grand Marshal and a District Deputy Grand Secretary to assist him in his responsibilities, and to accompany him on his various official visits to the lodges under his jurisdiction. Mr. Clarke appointed W. Allan Wilde who served as Master of William Parkman Lodge from 1938 to 1940 as his District Deputy Grand Marshal and Dr. John D. McLean who served as Master of William Parkman Lodge during 1950-1951 as his District Deputy Grand Secretary.

MARCH OF DIMES

The March of Dimes is entering the second week of its month-long 1953 campaign, pointing toward its climax in the Mothers March on January 29th. Your Winchester committee has already distributed the familiar iron lung banks and posters in stores and other public places. Organization of special assignments is nearing completion; next week we hope to offer you the names of many of your fine neighbors who have volunteered to serve under Mrs. Charles Jellison, Chairman of the Mothers March, and Mr. Dean Carleton, Committee Chairman.

For now your committee asks you to consider this basic fact: the chief purpose of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is to put itself out of business. When research has discovered and proven a sure, inexpensive and universally available preventative for polio, its work will be done and it will cease to exist.

Gamma globulin does not fill the bill. Its effect is temporary—and our men in Korea need that blood first. So research must go on. But money for that vital research must come second: second to caring for today's sick, to cancelling the $7,000,000 deficit caused by last year's record total of almost 60,000 new polio victims plus those still suffering from earlier epidemics.

Winchester was comparatively lucky last year and in 1950 and 1951. The real epidemic missed us. It can miss us forever. Your gift will lead, surely and soon, to placing polio in the same limbo as diphtheria, a shadowy hobgoblin to be forever scared away from your infant in your own doctor's office. Will you give—generously?

WINS B. C. HONOR

Aidan B. Underwood of Oxford street, a senior in the College of Business Administration at Boston College, was accepted into the National Jesuit Honor Society, Alpha Sigma Nu, at a formal initiation ceremony January 8, at University Heights.

Alpha Sigma Nu has member chapters in more than twenty-five colleges and universities throughout the country. The Boston College chapter was installed in 1939 when the Very Rev. Joseph R. Maxwell, S. J., B. C. President, was Dean of the College. To be eligible for membership, a student must rank in the upper twenty-five per cent of his class. Selection for membership in this Society is probably the greatest single honor that can be bestowed on a student during his four years on the campus.

Underwood is a graduate of Winchester High School.

PFC. ANTHONY GAGLIORMELLA, USMC

WINCHESTER MARINE'S BODY ARRIVED WEDNESDAY

Another of Winchester's heroic service dead returned home Wednesday afternoon when the body of Marine Pfc. Anthony Henry Gagliormella arrived in town on the Boston and Maine train that reached Winchester Station at 4:09.

Representing the town at the Station were two members of the Board of Selectmen, Chairman Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., and Harry E. Chelaro, also Veterans Officer Charles D. Roche. Military honors were accorded by Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion; and Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Flags on the Common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff.

As the flag-draped casket was lifted from the train to a baggage truck the veterans lined up at salute with their colors and color guard, escorting the body along the station platform to the waiting hearse of Undertaker John Lane. Men on the platform uncovered as the body and its escort rolled by in silence broken only by the sound of the wheels and the footsteps of the Veterans marching behind the truck was a Marine regular, acting as official escort to the body. He entered the hearse as it left the station bound for the Gagliormella home at 18 Florence street.

Heading the Veterans' escort, the members of which marched with the colors and a question of Commanders, Charles W. Meek, Jr., of the Legion and Warren Bolivar of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The cortege proceeded from the station along Waterfield road and the Parkway to Washington street, thence to Florence street. Members of the Gagliormella family were driven to and from the station by Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, chairman of the Winchester Military Manpower Committee.

At the Gagliormella home the body of the young Marine lay in state Wednesday and Thursday nights, and will lie in state tonight. Full military honors will be accorded Saturday morning when a funeral mass will be sung at St. Mary's Church at 9. Official representatives of the Army, Airforce and Marine Corps will attend the service and interment, which will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Pfc. Gagliormella was killed in action in Korea on October 31, 1952, at what is known as "Triangle Hill". The only son of Joseph Anthony, and Marie (Lucia) Gagliormella, he was born in Winchester June 7, 1929, and was graduated from Winchester High School in the Class of 1947, playing on the varsity football team. He also attended Fisher Business College, and before entering the service he was employed in his father's business, the Gold Top Bakery in the South End of Woburn.

Pfc. Gagliormella enlisted in the Marines February 5, 1951, and underwent boot training at Parris Island, S. C. He had been overseas 15 months at the time of his death, being first at a Marine Training Center in Japan. He went into action October 25, 1952, and was lost in action six days later, October 31.

Besides his parents, Pfc. Gagliormella leaves two sisters, Roselyn and Linda Gagliormella.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Zaramby of 407 Marlboro street, Boston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jeanne Louise, to Mr. Robert Francis Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Reynolds of 55 Brookside avenue.

Miss Zaramby graduated from Ursuline Academy and from Laredo Junior College in Laredo, Texas. Mr. Reynolds is a graduate of Winchester High School.

ASSESSORS' CHAIRMAN RESIGNS

Ernest B. Dade of 104 Hillcrest Parkway has resigned from the Assessors' Board, of which he was the chairman. His resignation takes place immediately, both the Assessors and Board of Selectmen having been notified of his decision to resign.

Mr. Dade reached this decision upon the advice of his physician to materially lighten his program of activities. As president of the old line J. H. Winn's Sons firm of dial hand manufacturers his business duties are exacting, and for more than 20 years, in addition to business, he has been active in many civic and social enterprises. Before being elected to the Board of Assessors he had served the town, both as Selectman and as a member of the Finance Committee. At the time of his resignation he was serving the final year of a three-year term as Assessor and prior to the action of his physician, had planned to run for re-election.

In addition to resigning from the Board of Assessors Mr. Dade has lightened his program in other ways, having resigned as a director of the Winchester Hospital and having stepped down from president to vice-president of the J. O. Whitten Company. He is continuing as director of the Winchester Trust Company, a post he has held since the spring of 1940.

What action Mr. Dade's decision to leave the Board of Assessors will prompt on the part of the remaining members of the Board and the Board of Selectmen is a question. This is the busy time of year for the Assessors, and as in many respects a three-man Board is desirable it is probable that the vacancy caused by Mr. Dade's resignation will be filled at a joint meeting of the Assessors and Selectmen, possibly on Monday evening.

TOWN COMMITTEE NAMED

Moderator Philip P. Wadsworth has named the following committee, provided for at the March town meeting to study the subject matter of Article 37 of the warrant relative to municipal planning and Board of Survey activity.

William H. Buracker, 12 Stratford road.
Charles W. Butler, 28 Glen Green.
Richard C. Cunningham, 31 Fells road.
Joseph Dolben, 15 Lakeview road.
Walter A. Redding, 28 Ledyard road.

MASONS HELD GET-TOGETHER

The Masonic Bodies of Winchester, William Parkman Lodge, Mystic Valley Lodge and Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, held their 33rd annual Get-Together on New Year's Day in the Town Hall from 11 to 1 o'clock with an attendance of about 350.

Edward Dean Duncan, presiding master of William Parkman Lodge, greeted the Masons and their guests, and introduced the junior warden of William Parkman, George W. Gowdy, who was in charge of the entertainment program.

Four acts of vaudeville were presented by professional entertainers, and interspersing the acts Mr. Duncan introduced Paul Shiverick, master of Mystic Valley Lodge, who in turn introduced District Deputy E. Stanley Beck of Somerville Sixth Masonic District.

In the absence of the presiding high priest of the Winchester Royal Arch Chapter Kingman P. Cass, past high priest, introduced Harry N. Squires, District Deputy Grand High Priest, who represented the Chapter.

The big moment of the gathering came when Mr. Duncan introduced Vincent P. Clarke, past master of William Parkman Lodge and the newly elected District Deputy Grand Master of the Arlington Sixth Masonic District. Mr. Clarke in turn introduced his newly appointed marshal, Past Master W. Allan Wilde; and his secretary, Past Master John D. McLean, both members of William Parkman Lodge.

The new District Deputy, Mr. Clarke, proposed the usual toast to the Grand Master at high noon. Crackers, cheese and cider were served.

ON MUSEUM BOARD

Mrs. George Marks of Foxcroft road and Mrs. Jost Michelson of Fairview Terrace are Winchester board members of the DeCordova and Dana Museum and Park in Lincoln, where the winter term of the Art School opened with the new year.

The school offers instruction to children and adults in painting, sculpture, and metal work, as well as dancing, with young people from surrounding towns enrolling in the many art courses open to them for a nominal materials fee.

Adults are offered instruction in oil and watercolor painting, sketching, drawing, sculpture, ceramics, silversmithing and jewelry-making, music appreciation and block print and design. A small tuition fee is all that is necessary for enrollment.

The DeCordova and Dana Museum, both a school and exhibition galleries, was made possible through Julian deCordova, who left his magnificent estate, which now houses the school and museum, to the townpeople of Lincoln with a trust fund for its upkeep and expansion.

All those people, anywhere, who are interested in the progress of art in America, are welcome to participate in the activities of the DeCordova and Dana Museum and School.

REVIEW OF PEALE'S BOOK

This coming Sunday morning Reverend John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Church, will continue his review on Norman Vincent Peale's book, "The Power of Positive Thinking."

The book gives a general reaction in mental attitudes coming out of the varied difficulties we have to face out of the fast pace of human living.

How to meet the problems of fret, fear, anxiety, worry, failure and other crises is the task the pastor will set for himself this coming Sabbath.

Time of the service is 10:45. Members and friends are welcome to this Christian Family Fellowship.

SWITZER-SHEPARDSON ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Shepardson of Wellesley Hills announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Polly Shepardson, to Mr. Allan A. Switzer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan A. Switzer of Winchester.

Miss Shepardson was graduated from Centenary Junior College in Hackettstown, N. J., and is now in her senior year at the University of New Hampshire, where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. Mr. Switzer, a graduate of Harvard College and a member of the Pi Eta Club, is now stationed at Fort Dix, New Jersey.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. John Evangelista of 14 Winton street announces the engagement of his daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Mr. Thomas Joseph Flaherty, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joseph Flaherty of 25 Cleveland avenue, Woburn.

No date for the wedding has been set.

BOYLE STATE DRUM CHAMP

Bernard Boyle, son of Police Officer and Mrs. John H. Boyle of 9 Russell road, is the individual snare-drum champion of Massachusetts, having won his title in the individual and quartet drumming competition sponsored by the Eastern Massachusetts Junior Drum Corps Association and held on Sunday, December 14, in Hyde Park, at the home field of the Most Precious Blood Corps.

At the time of the competition Imandi of the Kings Men in Providence was adjudged the winner of the individual drumming with a point score of 98.70. Boyle, who is a member of the Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corps, was placed second with a total of 98.05.

After the competition the score sheets were reviewed and it was found that errors had been made in computing the score totals of both Imandi and Boyle, and that the Winchester entrant had been the actual winner of the individual drumming with a corrected point total of 98.45. Imandi's corrected score proved to be 98.20, placing him second.

Certified copies of both boys' score sheets have been mailed to all interested parties and arrangements have been made to present the winner and runner-up with suitable certificates.

Boyle's State drumming championship makes him also automatically New England champion in his classification. He is 18 years old, and for the past five years has appeared with the Immaculate Conception Corps in every parade and competition. He is presently the Corps teacher of drums for younger boys of the parish.

Boyle graduated from Winchester High School in 1952 and is now employed by the Caldyne Company of this town. His State and New England drumming championship reflects much honor both upon the young musician and the Immaculate Conception Drum and Bugle Corps, which in its own right won more contests in 1952 than any other corps.

The Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, Immaculate Conception pastor, is the director of the corps and accompanies the young musicians wherever they appear.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Gallagher of 87 Cross street announce the engagement of their daughter, Ann Patricia, to Mr. George Donald Cady, son of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Cady of 4 North Park street, Camden, N. Y.

Miss Gallagher, who is in the employ of the J. H. Winn's Sons of Winchester, graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1949. Mr. Cady was also of the class of 1949 at Winchester High School, and is now in the employ of the Webb Lumber Company of Barnard's Bay, N. Y.

No date has been set for the marriage.

CONVALESCING

Mrs. Joseph J. Derro, wife of Police Lieutenant Derro of 433 Washington street is recuperating at home after a major operation performed at the Winchester Hospital the first of December.

MAIL TRUCK TIPPED OVER

A big International truck towing a G. M. C. trailer loaded with U. S. Mail tipped over at Symmes Corner about 11 o'clock last Saturday night not far from the spot where another trailer Mail truck crashed into a private car on December 23.

According to the police the truck was owned by Lawrence Carr of Wilmington, and was being driven by William R. Martel of 91 Adams street, Lowell. Martel told the police he was driving toward Boston and was just swinging left around the traffic circle when a car attempted to pass his truck on the right.

To avoid colliding with the machine Martel said he swung his truck sharply to the left and the big vehicle toppled over on its right side on the sidewalk near Sanborn street.

Residents of the district heard the crash and hastened out. Dr. Arthur Jackson assisting the driver of the truck out of the machine. Others notified the police and fire departments, units from both going to the scene.

A wrecker from the truck company righted the overturned trailer-truck and the mail was removed and sent to Boston in another truck. Meanwhile the damaged truck and trailer left the scene under its own power though the trailer body had a bad list to the side. Firemen hosed down and sanded the street to remove the danger caused by spilled gasoline from the truck.

Martel was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance by Officers John Boyle and Alfred Poole. He was treated by Dr. Charles Rooney.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan A. Story of Laconia, New Hampshire, announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances, of Chestnut Hill and Laconia, New Hampshire, to Mr. Richard P. Nyquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Nyquist of Winchester.

Miss Story attended Boston University and the New England Conservatory of Music, and is a well-known singer. At present she is the soprano soloist at the Park Street Church in Boston.

Mr. Nyquist attended Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, and served as an Air Force Photographer in the Pacific Theatre during World War II.

HON. RICHARD I. FURBUSH

WINCHESTER WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Winchester Women's Republican Club will meet on Wednesday evening, January 14th at the Church of the Epiphany to hear the Honorable Richard I. Furbush, President of the Massachusetts Senate. A coffee and social hour will precede the meeting to begin at half past eight.

Senator Furbush is a native of Waltham and after serving as a member of the City Council in his city, he was elected in 1938 to the House of Representatives, serving from 1939 to 1942. He was elected to the Senate from the Fifth Middlesex District in 1942 and has been reelected five consecutive times. He was assistant Republican floor leader of the Senate in the 1949 session and was Republican floor leader of that body in 1950. On January 3, 1951 he was unanimously elected by his colleagues as President of the Senate, becoming the day before his 47th birthday the highest ranking Republican office-holder in the State Government at that time. He is the 80th person to be President of the Senate and was reelected President of the Senate this year.

Senator Furbush has served on most of the important committees of the Legislature, holding several chairmanships, including chairmanship of the influential Ways and Means Committee. He also has been chairman of several special legislative commissions of the legislature, established to study difficult State problems.

Mrs. Robert Wood Reynolds extends a cordial welcome to all members of the club, their husbands, friends to attend this open meeting and hear this distinguished Republican leader. Mrs. Horace Ford and her committee stand ready to provide transportation for those who request it. Please call Winchester 6-2323-M.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL
TICKET SITUATION

Because of the limited seating capacity in the high school gymnasium, a difficult ticket situation exists. Those who have attended one or both of the two home games thus far this season are aware of this fact. Few will deny that an improvement over the present situation is necessary. Permitting dozens of spectators to stand in the corners and to crowd onto the playing surface is highly undesirable.

In an effort to make attendance at evening games attractive to adult supporters of the team, reserved seats have been made available this season. Also season tickets may be purchased in advance for all home evening games, insuring the purchaser of the same reserved seat at all games he attends. Out of a total of 380 seats in the hall, 114 have been made reserved seats. Of the 266 seats remaining, 48 are reserved for the players, coaches, and cheer leaders, leaving 218 general admission seats for high school students, visiting students and adult general admission. Obviously there are not enough seats available for all those who would like to see the games.

In order to make it possible for those who attend these games to enjoy them, it seems necessary to limit the admissions to the number of actual seats available and to allow no spectators to stand in the corner nearest the entrance of the gymnasium and to restrict the number permitted to stand in the other corners. Therefore it will be wise for all who wish to attend home evening games to secure their tickets well in advance.

Of the 114 reserved seats, 47 have already been disposed of through the purchase of season tickets, leaving only 67 reserved seats available at the present moment for the next home game on January 23rd with Lexington High School. Season tickets may still be purchased for the last four home games by phoning the school or Faculty Manager, Ray Hayward, (Winchester 6-0235-R) and making arrangements to pick up the tickets at the next home game. Also reserved seats for any individual game may be reserved in advance by phone as long as they last. The first game starts at 7:30. Seats reserved by phone for individual games will be held at the door until 8 p.m. Those not called for by then will be put on sale.

The management regrets that at the game with Stoneham two or three instances occurred where holders of season tickets found that their seats had been occupied before they arrived. Steps will be taken to prevent the re-occurrence of this situation in the future.

WINCHESTER TOOK

STONEHAM VICTIM, 72-39

Winchester High opened successfully the defense of their Middlesex League crown by defeating Stoneham High 72-39 at the high school gym last Friday night. The Indians put on their most impressive performance of the season in routing the Bluejackets as they showed tremendous improvement as the result of the past two weeks of intensive practice. Even Coach Bartlett, perfectionist that he is, could find no fault with the play of his charges over the two middle quarters.

The Indians jumped away to a 13-6 lead at the end of the first quarter. With Norm Howard pacing the scoring in the first half, the Red and Black increased their lead to 27-10 at the intermission. The third quarter saw the Indians clicking at their best as they outscored Stoneham 27-6 in that period to run up an embarrassing 54-16 lead. With Neil Muncester and Stu Thomson blazing the way with 17 points between them, the Indians made good on 11 baskets in 17 shots and made only four errors while controlling the ball beautifully in that period. Stoneham found the range in the last period to outscore a watered-down Indian five 23-18 to make the score look more respectable.

The outstanding performer for the Indians was John Atkinson who was the key to the Winchester attack, making plays all over the court as he chalked up seven assists. Top rebounder for the Red and Black was Norm Howard with twelve while Max McCreery and Neil Muncester looked good in hitting for double figures. All in all, it was a definitely improved exhibition by the locals who now give promise of developing into a potential Middlesex League champion.

The Winchester Seconds made it a clean sweep for the evening with a 46-40 victory over the Stoneham Seconds. This was the first time the locals have been extended this season but they were in the lead all the way to earn a well-deserved victory. Jim Wright with 13 points and Joe Dilorio with 11 points were the top Winchester scorers with John Riordan doing an effective job off both boards for the Red and Black.

DONKEY BASKETBALL
AT HIGH SCHOOL JANUARY 17

Those who laughed themselves sore at the Donkey Basketball game at the high school gym two or three years ago will be delighted to learn that there will be another exhibition of this trickiest and funniest game at the high school Saturday evening, January 17, commencing at 8 o'clock.

The High School Varsity Club is sponsoring the next visit of the donkeys to Winchester and members of the Club, such well known athletes as "Jockey" Sericka and "Jimmy" Griffin make up one of the teams that will participate in games on January 17.

The teams are four-men affairs with each of the four players mounted on a donkey, the last-named being far from the junior member of the man-beast combination. And if you don't believe us, just ask Ray Hayward!

Opposing the varsity club athletes will be a team of high school coaches and faculty members, headed by Head Coach Henry Knowlton and including those football stalwarts, Frank Finnigan, Ed Burns and "Frankie the Ref" Provinzano. "Tommy" Morse, cross country mentor, and "Micky" Meurling, junior high school athletic head, are definitely to be in the coaches lineup, but Edward "Beverly" Bartlett has regrettably declined to participate in the game, due to the rigors of the current basketball schedule just getting under way. A spavin or hock at this stage of things would be of absolutely no use to "Bart".

It is also doubtful whether Arthur E. Butters, known in horseshoe circles as the "State of Maine Champ", will enter the lists; and definite negative announcements have already been made by both Ray Hayward and "Ote" Leary. Nothing at all has been heard from G. Hartley Curtis, and at last reports H. King Fitts was in the doubtful camp. F. Meredith Cooper feels his job as publicity director will preclude any active participation in the contests, if they can be called contests, while "Bill" Branley seems to hold the view that his duties as instructor in the high school student-driver course subject him to sufficient hazards without incurring those attendant upon wrestling with a refractory donkey!

There is just a possibility that the Winchester Rotary may enter a team in the lists on the 17th. If so, by all means get your tickets now! The capacity of the gym is limited, even though extra seats are being installed for the feature, and with the possibility of seeing such horsemen in action as Charley Koch, Dick Hakanson, Hi Moody, "Chub" Murphy, Miln Blanchard and Ed Cullen the SRO sign will be out but early!

There's just one thing! Don't expect Price Wilson, editor of the Star, to referee the games. "T.P." says "Football? yes! Baseball? I was going to! Water Polo? Certainly! Hockey? Perhaps! But Donkey Basketball! Not by a dam-site! I never heard of it, let alone know anything about that game!"

The Star received this week a card from Roger McTigue of Orient street, who is at Virginia Beach, relaxing and getting in a little early golf practice against those egg money matches that will be coming up with Leo Garvey in the spring. We ran into Leo in Chite's last week and the junior member of the erstwhile "long-knockers" was buying, of all things, winter sports equipment, claiming he has now gone in for hockey!

Winchester High won its fifth straight game of the season by defeating Wakefield High 76-51 at the high school gym on Tuesday afternoon. Wakefield made a contest of it for a half but the Indians pulled away steadily in the second half to win easily. The locals continued to score well as they went over the 70-point mark for the fourth time in five games.

Paced by Stu Thomson and Norman Howard, the Indians raced away to an 18-10 lead at the end of the first quarter. Winchester was able to gain only one point in the second period to take a 35-26 lead at the half. John Atkinson went on a scoring spree in the second half as the Red and Black moved ahead 53-34 at the three-quarter mark to coast to an easy victory.

At times Winchester looked very impressive in this contest as they continued to show improvement. Big Stu Thomson was the leading light of this Winchester victory as he dominated the defensive backboard with 10 rebounds. He was also driving beautifully as most of his points came on layups after breaking free of his opponent. John Atkinson continued to play good ball in the role of playmaker with eight assists while scoring 16 points. Norman Howard continued to score well as he hit for double figures for the fourth time in five games.

The Winchester Seconds kept pace with their varsity brothers by winning 63-37 for their fifth straight victory. This game was close for a half with the locals holding a 27-17 lead but they ran away from Wakefield in the second half. No less than 13 Indian performers entered the scoring column with Jim Wright and Bucky Morgan showing the way with 10 points apiece.

WINCHESTER FROSH
TRIPPED READING

The Winchester High Freshmen basketball team opened its season with an easy 65-27 victory over the Reading Freshmen at Reading last Friday afternoon. The Red and Black papooses had too much all around class for their opponents and dominated the game from the opening whistle. The rear court pair of Bert Kneeland and Joe Bellino starred for Winchester as they collected 16 and 11 points apiece.

The Winchester Junior High team swamped the Reading Junior High under an almost unbelievable score of 85-16. It is amazing that a junior high school team can score that many points and indicates the caliber of Coach Mickey Meurling's present quintet which may well surpass the records of his previous excellent teams. John Chin was high man for the locals with 18 points.

On Sunday, January 11th, St. Mary's Holy Name Society will hold their Annual Family Communion Breakfast at the Town Hall immediately following the eight o'clock mass.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Paul F. Barry, S. J., Professor of Religion and Public Speaking at Holy Cross College in Worcester. Father Barry is well known in speaking circles throughout the East, having conducted numerous retreats in Catholic colleges and high schools with numerous appearances, such as that of this Sunday. He has studied at Weston College, Boston College and Holy Cross; taught at Boston College, in Jamaica, B.W.I., and at Holy Cross, where he has been for the past 6 years. Father Barry's capabilities have been recognized by the fact that he was selected by the Holy Cross graduating class of 1952 to conduct their Senior Retreat prior to graduation, the third consecutive year he has been chosen for this honor.

His subject will be "The Influence of the Catholic Family on the American Way of Life." All families are invited to attend. Henry F. Barry is in charge of reservations.

NEW YEAR PROPOSAL

Editor of the Star:
At the door of the 1953 year for local politics I wish to offer an idea that should interest Winchester voters, especially the hundreds joining us recently.

Local custom restricts length of service in many of our public offices, as for example that of a selectman to three years, and a member of the School Committee to six. Many thoughtful citizens believe that there should be limits also to service on other committees and boards in the interest of bringing fresh viewpoints and enthusiasms to the public work.

As regards Town Meeting Members, the present idea seems to be to get elected and then hang onto the job until death, or an especially indignant electorate, do us part! But while it is patent that many of these Members with long service are the best brains, feminine and masculine, of the town, it is also clear that many are regularly returned to office by the "Candidate for Re-election" designation after their names on the ballot.

The average voter faced with the caption "Vote for eleven" finds no more than half a dozen names he knows among the twenty-odd offered and seriously completes his quota by voting for "candidates for re-election." That voter should attend Town Meeting and watch some of his designees in action. They are particularly comical—if not so tragic—as they struggle up for standing votes with anxious glances to right and left to make sure that they are in the "right" crowd. The moral is: Never vote for a Town Meeting Member without knowing him by association or by his public actions, even if you make only one or two crosses on the ballot!

I propose to Winchester citizens that we undertake together an unwritten understanding: the Town Meeting Members should serve only six years (two terms) continuously and that after being out of office one year they may serve another six and so on, if elected. The point is that after their sabbatical year outside the charmed circle they will run again strictly on their own merits. No good citizen should refuse such a challenge nor should his usefulness to the community in any way be impaired. The Town Meeting will still enjoy the benefits of his sage advice; he has but to come forward to the microphone and "speak his piece" on any issue before the Meeting.

My own term as a Town Meeting Member expires this March and, in line with my proposal, I will not be a candidate for re-election but will await 1954 before again offering my name as a Member to the voters of the fifth precinct.

I respectfully suggest to all Members completing this year at least two successive terms that they join in similar action. Such a policy continued in years ahead will, I venture to predict, result in a revitalization in our Town Meetings and in lasting benefits to Winchester.

A SINCERE "THANK YOU"

Editor of the Star:
The Winchester Community Relief Committee wishes through the Star to express its heart-felt thanks to all who assisted in its effort to provide cheer for the town's less fortunate residents during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Through your generosity we were able to gladden many hearts with gifts of food, including canned goods and vegetables, fuel and clothing and other necessary items. The Committee particularly appreciates the action of private persons who took the responsibility of caring for individual families, the assistance rendered by the town's churches, both at Thanksgiving and Christmas, and the help extended by the Winchester Branch of the Salvation Army.

Finally an especially hearty "Thank You" to the Girl Scouts of Winchester for their gifts of toys and clothing and for wrapping them for distribution.

A Happy New Year to you all, and may the knowledge that you helped bring happiness to your less fortunate friends during the holidays increase your own happiness ten fold.

SAFER SKATING AT WINTER

Editor of the Star:
I have an idea that might make ice skating safer at Winter Pond without too much expense.

This is to lay a metal or rope netting on the ice of Winter Pond soon after it freezes up. Then, after a rain or snow, additional ice would form to cover up the netting making skating possible. Then when a thaw comes and there are spots that people would ordinarily fall through, the netting would save them.

The netting would be frozen in the middle of the ice and when Spring comes the net can be retrieved.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Ray C. Ellis

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Editor of the Star:
Happy New Year to you all. Every day is a Christmas or a New Year's Day.

All the good that is, or has been, is here and everywhere for all to enjoy. If this were not true we could never make our dear ones happy by expressing happiness on certain days of the year. Let us be happy every day by making others happy.

WINCHESTER HOMEFRONTERS

The response to our Christmas packages has been so surprising and gratifying that there must be volunteer letter writers. Will any Star reader who would be willing to answer a few of these letters from the boys and girls in the service telephone Mrs. William Cusack, Winchester 6-1706, any evening after 6:30 p.m.

The sentiments expressed in the two following letters are typical of those received:
December 11
Dear Winchester Homefronters,
I received the package you sent me last Tuesday, and I was certainly happy to get it. It really made me stop and realize what a wonderful little town we have lived in for so many years. I've always told everyone about Winchester, but it really makes me feel wonderful to know that the people back home are thinking about us.

I've been taking the Winchester Star to keep up on the news at home. I see Winchester had another good football team this year.

Thank you again very much for the package and a very Merry Christmas to you all.
Sincerely yours,
Roger Swanson
P.S. Thank you also for the map of Winchester, which I put on my wall in my room.

Dear Ladies
The packages you are sending the men in the service have inspired me to write these few words of deep appreciation, not only for myself, but for others who may not be in the position to do so, particularly the young men serving overseas. To them the packages not only offer the luxury of the contents, but also the thoughtfulness that has stemmed from your hearts.

Respectfully,
Edward Ayer TM2 U.S.N.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

On Friday night, from 7:30 to 10:30, the Junior High Fellowship are holding a Juke Box Dance in Childley Hall.

Those attending the details of the dance are Barbara Horn, Edith Swisher, Bill and Peter Schmink, Linda Branneman, Phil Pollard, Andrea Swan, Dan Scott, and Carol Eaton, Chairman.

TO BE HONORED

JOHN A. VOLPE

John A. Volpe, newly elected president of the Society of American Military Engineers, will be guest of honor at reception and dinner to be held Thursday night, January 15, at M.I.T. Faculty Club in Cambridge.

The Society of American Military Engineers, an organization comprised of the nation's leading military and civilian figures concerned with the building industry, will pay tribute to its newly elected president, John A. Volpe of Winchester, at a reception and dinner to be held Thursday evening, January 15, at the Faculty Club of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge.

Mr. Volpe, a World War II Navy Veteran, who heads the John A. Volpe Construction Co. of Malden and Rome, Italy, is believed to be the youngest ever to be elected to the leadership of the Society. He is also the second Bay State man to hold the presidency of the organization which was at one time headed by Vice President Charles C. Dawes. Prominent army and navy figures, representatives of educational institutions, and delegates from various groups of the construction industry, will be on hand to pay tribute to the popular Malden industrialist. Among them will be: Rear Admiral Joseph F. Jelley, USN, Chief of Bureau of Yards and Docks, Washington, D.C.; Capt. W. H. Randig, USN, President, Boston chapter, same; Rear Admiral John F. McCrea, USN, Commandant, First Naval District; Major General Roderick R. Allen, USA, Commander N. E. Sub-Area; Major General James F. Phillips, USAF, Commander, Cambridge Research Center.

Also, Marshall N. Arlin, acting head of Wentworth Institute; Stanley D. Porter, president, Associated General Contractors; and Col. F. H. Kohlloss, Washington, D. C. Lawrence S. Burke will be toastmaster.

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

Interesting classes in hospital supply will commence at the Winchester Hospital's centre supply room January 19, at 7:30 p. m. These classes will consist of three evening meetings. The second and third meeting to be scheduled later.

Among the Winchester women who assisted hospital supply officials last year were:

Women who will serve during the following year include:
Mesdames Richmond Page, Kennell Spencer, Scott Parrott, Vincent Ambrose, Paul Roberts, Leslie Scott.

Now that the Winchester Hospital is larger, more women are needed. If you'd like to join in this helpful, interesting work please contact Mrs. R. A. Lewis, Winchester 6-8263.

GUIDE OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

METHODIST ANNUAL MEETING

The Crawford Memorial Methodist Church is in the midst of its plans for the Annual Meeting and Fourth Quarterly Conference a week from next Tuesday.

Reports from all church organizations and officers will be given in presenting the accomplishments and growth of the church during this past year.

The meeting will be open to all members and friends associated with the church.

NEW TEST FOR DRUNKENNESS

A new test machine for drunkenness, "The Alcometer", has been developed by the Department of Applied Physiology School of Alcohol Studies at Yale University and manufactured by Alfred Bicknell Associates, makers of scientific instruments, in Cambridge. The manufacturers have Winchester interest through the fact that the president of the firm, Robert B. Fish of Cambridge, is well known here, being a member of the Winchester Country Club, where he and his wife are active in golf and bowling.

The new "Alcometer" is a complete automatic laboratory, which scientifically measures and records the alcoholic content of the blood through analysis of a suspect's breath. It is the result of 11 years of technological research and development, providing an accurate precise determination in eight minutes at a cost of 35 cents. Operation is as simple as tuning a radio.

The primary purpose of the "Alcometer" is to protect the innocent and to provide irrefutable evidence of intoxication by measuring the residue of alcohol in the blood at the time of the test, not the amount that has been consumed.

When it registers .05 or less it is evidence of sobriety. If the scale reads between .05 percent and .15 percent, the subject's control of faculties is questionable. When a percentage of .15 or more is registered, the subject is drunk.

The principles employed by the "Alcometer" are three in number:
1. Collection of a sample of the subject's expired air without loss of alcohol through condensation of water.
2. Reaction of the alcohol with iodine pentoxide yielding a quantitative production of free iodine.
3. Photo-electric measurements of the intensity of color produced by the liberated iodine in a fixed volume of starch and potassium iodide solution.

When the procedure is accomplished all human error is eliminated and the sum total of results is incontestably accurate and precise. The person suspected of being intoxicated blows into a tube which automatically samples 30cc of the expired air. This sample of air is then held in the tube at a constant temperature in order to avoid condensation of moisture. The proper sequence and duration of each of the succeeding operations until the final test result is registered on the "Alcometer" scale is accurately controlled by an automatic timing mechanism.

The importance of having a truly accurate measurement of drunkenness cannot be overemphasized. It convicts the guilty, protects the innocent, helps spot alcoholics, reduces accidents and is portable and quick and easy to operate. It can be of great value in hospital emergency wards, armed forces installations and in medical clinics and industrial plants.

The January issue of U. S. A.—Journal of American Affairs—is featuring a story about the "Alcometer" written by Mrs. Allan Mowatt of 4 Winslow road. The fact that it is written by a Winchester woman, about a product made by a firm headed by a well known in town makes the article doubly interesting.

INDIAN FROSH SCALPED CONCORD

The Winchester High Freshmen won their second game of the season by drubbing the Concord Freshmen at Concord on Wednesday afternoon by a score of 77-42. The papooses had a terrific first period in which they scored 32 points to remove all doubt about the final outcome. The rear court pair of Joe Bellino and Bert Kneeland flashed again as they tallied 22 points apiece.

The Winchester Junior High team defeated the Concord Junior High 32-22 in the preliminary game. The locals were definitely superior to their opposition but Coach Meurling used 18 players which kept the score from mounting too high. Big "Moe" Russo was the top scorer for Winchester with 12 points while playing an aggressive floor game.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Ottman of Glens Falls, N.Y., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia K. of Scotia, to Mr. Robert Tilton Abbe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic E. Abbe of 189 Mystic Valley Parkway. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Ottman graduated from Nott Terrace High School in Schenectady, N. Y., and Katharine Gibb School in Boston. She is a member of Delta Gamma Delta sorority and is employed in the engineering department at American Locomotive Co.

Mr. Abbe is an alumnus of Union College, Schenectady, and a member of Delta Phi fraternity. He was in the Submarine Service during World War I, and is at present located at Fort Wayne, Ind., with the Large Motor and Generator Department of the General Electric Company.

Michael J. Foley, well known auctioneer and furniture dealer, who has been seriously ill at the Winchester Hospital, continues to show general improvement. He will have to remain in the hospital for some time, but his condition is very satisfactory.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Fowle (Mary Haskell) of Waltham are the parents of a third child, second son, William Haskell Fowle, born December 29 at Richardson House. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Fowle of Woburn and Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Haskell of Winchester. Mrs. John M. Wallace of Brookline is the great-grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Efronson of 249 Mystic Valley Parkway are the parents of a son, Alan Charles, born January 4th.

BETHANY SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

The officers elected are as follows:
President — Mrs. Ronald Richburg, Sr.
Vice-President — Mrs. Clarence Eddy
Secretary — Mrs. Rony Snyder
Treasurer — Mrs. Fred Saunders
The following committees were appointed:
Finance — Mrs. Ronald Richburg, Jr., Mrs. George Carlson, Mrs. John W. Cook, Miss Laura Tolman, Mrs. Rony Snyder, Mrs. George Morrow
Aprons — Mrs. Amy Twombly, Mrs. Bessie MacDonald, Mrs. Josie Meigs, Mrs. Alveda Johnson, Mrs. George Morrow
Press — Mrs. John W. Cook
Flowers — Mrs. Fred Saunders
Visiting — Mrs. George Lochman, Mrs. John W. Cook, Mrs. John Webber.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

A reception and dinner in honor of two distinguished visitors to Boston, Monsgr. John Patrick Carroll, Abbing, founder of Boys Town in Italy, and Salvatore Aldisio, minister of public works in Italy, will be held in Sheraton Plaza Hotel on Sunday evening, January 25, at 6:30 p. m.

Proceeds of the dinner will be for the benefit of Boys Town in Italy. Mrs. Lucia Vellano of Newton is chairman of the Massachusetts Committee for Boys Town in Italy which is bringing these two outstanding guests to the Hub.

John Volpe of Everett avenue, well known contractor and civic leader, heads the committee as general chairman for the reception and dinner.

This will be the first visit to Boston by the Minister of Public Works. However, Monsignor Carroll-Abbing has visited the city several times in past years.

A drive is conducted annually for the benefit of the state by the Massachusetts Committee for Boys Town in Italy. More than 50,000 orphans have been given shelter, rehabilitation and vocational training at these centers.

THE SENIOR FORUM

This Sunday, at 9:30 in Ripley Chapel, the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will welcome as their speaker their new pastor, Dr. Dwight L. Cart. The chaplain at this service will be Richard Woodward, assisted by Niles Nelson. The deacons will be Charlie Stevens and Richard Emerson, and serving as ushers will be Sid Bixler and Richard Johnson. The young people of the Forum are looking forward to this opportunity to hear Dr. Cart and will find most interesting his message on "If I Were a Young Person Today."

On Saturday night, the Forum are holding a skating party at the Winchester Country Club. They will be there at 7:30 and will enjoy skating until 9:00 o'clock when they will go to an open house at the home of Jenny Meigs for food and fun. This event has been arranged by the Social Committee under the direction of Dan Blanchard and Jenny Meigs.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The monthly meeting of the Auxiliary was held at the Legion Home last Monday night. There are many interesting activities planned for the coming month.

Thursday, January 15, a Ward Party will be held for the Disabled Veterans at the Bedford Hospital. These parties are fun and the boys look forward to your visits. Transportation will be furnished if you are at the Legion Home at 6:30 p. m. on the 15th.

The Auxiliary has been asked to aid in obtaining sweaters for the Korean children, sizes 3 years to 16 years. Donations may be sent to Child Welfare Chairman, 24 Grant street, Medford, Mass.

SKI WEEK-END

The Chamois Ski Club will hold its first big Ski week-end this week from Friday night through Sunday afternoon at Mt. Pero Lodge, Plymouth. N. H., with skiing at Wendell's in Plymouth and at Cannon Mountain.

An attractive club rate is offered all who may be interested even at this late hour. For complete details contact the Winchester Sport Shop.

CHAMOIS SKI CLUB

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of The Fortnightly will be held January 12th in the First Baptist Church at 2:00 p. m., with the president, Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, presiding. The speaker of the afternoon is Dr. Thomas E. Caulfield. His subject will be "Psychiatry in the Community."

The Winchester High School Octette, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Anfantis, will bring us a group of musical selections. Tea will be served at the close of the afternoon.

Literature Committee
At a meeting of the Literature Committee on Monday afternoon, January 5th, in the public library, Mrs. Blanche S. Barnard conducted us on a delightful "Literary Ramble" along the Thames. Picturesque places associated with famous English literature of the past were visited, among them the haunts of Dickens, Pevens, Shelley, and many others. Special attention was paid to Pope's villa at Twickenham and Horace Walpole's Strawberry Hill. Many interesting personal facts about the writers were mentioned, and quotations given from poetry and prose describing the course of the river from Windsor to London.

Miss Eva Sherman opened the meeting by sharing with us a list of last year's books which she had read, commenting briefly on each and recommending several for satisfying reading.

Music Committee
The next rehearsal of the Fortnightly Choral Group will be held in the First Baptist Church on January 12th at 12:30 p. m., preceding the regular meeting.

Foreign Service Committee
Members, let us not forget to bring any used clothing, discarded household articles (particularly kitchen utensils), and yard goods, thread and needles you may have to the January 12th meeting for our adopted Greek family in dire need.

Mrs. William E. Priest, chairman of this committee, will gladly accept them, or notify her if you would like to have them picked up.

DRESSER BANK V. P.
At the annual meeting of the Warren Institution for Savings, Boston, held on January 5, 1953, Archibald Dresser of 83 Cambridge street was elected vice president of the bank and re-elected a trustee. He will continue as treasurer.

The Warren Institution for Savings is one of the oldest savings banks in the United States, it being 124 years old. At the time it was incorporated savings banks were known as Institutions for Savings and many of them still retain that designation.

The present assets of the bank are nearly $45,000,000. Mr. Dresser joined the staff of the bank after serving as an infantry officer in World War I. He is a member of Post No. 97 American Legion, Winchester, and is the present chairman of the Prudential Committee of the First Congregational Church.

With Mr. Dresser on the board of trustees of the bank is another Winchester man, John P. Carr, of 2 Gardner place, a Boston attorney and former member of the Board of Selectmen.

LEAVING SERVICE

Lt. Clark W. Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Collins of Hutchinson road, formerly of Lloyd street, has returned from Okinawa, where he had been stationed with the United States Air Force.

Lt. Collins is now at Otis Field on Cape Cod going through separation routine, after which he will visit his parents who are at their winter home in Sarasota, Fla.

SCOUT HONORS IN TROOP 3

At a recent Parents' Night held by Troop 3 of Winchester Boy Scouts, Dan Chidley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John P. McCarthy of 16 Ard-ley road had the great pleasure of seeing their son, Jon Paul McCarthy, receive the rank of Eagle Scout — the highest award in Scouting.

Jon Paul is 14 years old, a freshman in Winchester High School, and the proud possessor of 23 Scout awards, although but 12 were required for the Eagle Scout rank which came to him after 3 years of intensive study in preparation for it.

During this same Parents' Night program the second-highest award was conferred upon George Denton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F.
Denton of 71 Woodside road. They may well be proud of the 2 years work which resulted in George earning the ten merit badges which made him a Life Scout.

It is boys like Jon and George who will be the strong, stalwart citizens of the future.

HOBBY NIGHT

AT COUPLES' CLUB

A most pleasant evening was enjoyed by the Couples' Club of the Winchester Methodist Church last Tuesday when upwards of thirty couples were served a delicious hot pot roast dinner. Afterwards some of the members, under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hutt, displayed their various hobbies.

Included among the hobbies were bee-keeping, etchings on Lucite and shell jewelry by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Erikson; an exhibition of hooked rugs by Mrs. J. W. Armstrong; Mrs. William Costello and Mrs. George Needham; hand-painted trays, also by Mrs. Needham; and photographic equipment and colored slides by Mr. Ralph Hatch,
Mr. Don Maxwell and Mr. J. W.
Armstrong. A movie and projected camera slides completed the evening.

VITO VOLPE

Vito Volpe, of Wakefield, father of the internationally noted builder John A. Volpe of 10 Everett avenue, died Wednesday, January 7 following brief illness, at the New England Sanatorium. A Solemn High Mass will be sung at the Most Blessed Sacrament Church, Main street, Wakefield on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Well known in Italo-American and community civic and fraternal organizations, Mr. Volpe was active in the Order of Sons of Italy in America and for a number of years was the Venerable of the Malden Lodge of the order.

Mr. Volpe was born in 1879 in the little town of Poesanonsoneco in the province of Abruzzi, Italy.
He first came to the United States in 1903 but returned to his native land in 1905 to marry Philomena Benedetto. He came back shortly thereafter and settled in Wakefield, birthplace of his children.

Through personal perseverance he became a successful plastering contractor and trained each of his sons in various phases of the construction industry. He moved to Malden in 1916 entering the plastering contracting business at 54
Eastern avenue, which is now the home of the internationally known
John A. Volpe Construction Co.

Mr. Volpe retired from the plastering business in 1933 to become attached with his son in the construction industry. When his four sons entered the Navy, in 1942, Mr.
Volpe, despite his age became an armed guard at the Army Base.

Mr. Volpe is survived by his widow, Mrs. Philomena Volpe; a daughter, Mrs. Grace Gonnella, Malden; and four sons, John A.
Volpe, of Winchester, and Patrick,
Richard and S. Peter Volpe, all of Wakefield. He also leaves 15 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren.

Friends may visit at the Casasso
Funeral Home, 620 Main street,
Wakefield, between 2-5 and 7 and 10 p. m. Thursday and Friday.

MISS MABEL E. HERRICK

Miss Mabel E. Herrick, a longtime resident of Andover, who had been making her home in Winchester with her sister, Mrs. Walter H.
Baker of 12 Wilson street, died Tuesday night, January 6, after a brief illness.

Miss Herrick was the daughter of Charles E. and Maria (Ferrin)
Herrick. She was born October 3, 1872, in Andover, and resided in that town until 10 years ago when she came to make her home with her sister in Winchester.

Besides Mrs. Balke, Miss Herrick leaves two sisters, Mrs. Chandler Litchfield of Allston and Mrs.
Dorothy Haman of Malden.

Services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Congregational Church in Andover, of which the deceased had been for many years a member. Interment will be in Spring Grove Cemetery, Andover.

ACTIVITIES AT THE LIBRARY

High school students spend many leisure hours in the Students' Room at the public library. One may find them reading Model Railroad Magazine or Seventeen, or browsing through the shelves for a "good book."

Many students ask the advice of the librarians when choosing a book, while others go directly to a paper-covered volume entitled "Books For You, a Reading List for Teen-agers." This is a list for leisure reading, for use by students in senior high school, and published by the National Council of Teachers of English.

The contents are divided into ten sections, such as "Our United States," "The Well-being of Others," and "Personal Growth." Each section is subdivided into fiction, biography, plays, and poems.

To aid the student in choosing a book from this list, each book on the shelves of the Students' Room, found in "Books For You," is marked with a small red "H. S."

The library continuously increases its collection of books on this list as well as new fiction and non-fiction so that teen-agers have a varied and acceptable library from which to choose.

More about the "Great Books" that are now available at the library.

There are 54 volumes under the general title, "Great Books of the Western World." Last week's Star carried a descriptive article about this new set of books. They were purchased from the bequest left to the library some years ago by Albion K. P. Joy, a long-time resident of Winchester. Miss Minnie Joy and Miss Alice Joy, daughters of the late Mr. Albion K. P. Joy, still live in Winchester. Their home stood on the land now occupied by the public library.

SEVERS HONOR GUESTS AT MEDICAL CONFERENCE

Dr. and Mrs. James Warren Sever, of Lewis road will be Massachusetts guests of honor at the First Western Hemisphere Conference of the World Medical Association, to be held in Richmond April 23 to 25, 1953, in observance of the lengthening of life and the constant improvement of human health.

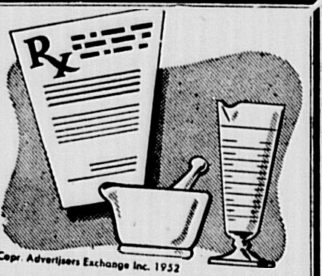

Governor Paul A. Dever of Massachusetts, in a message, has notified Governor John S. Battle of Virginia of the selection, adding that Dr. and Mrs. Sever have accepted the invitation. Recently Governor Battle asked each of his 47 fellow-Governors to appoint a physician who will reach the age of 75 during 1953 to visit Virginia and tell of medical advances that have taken place during his lifetime. The invitation included the physician's wife.

Dr. Sever, an orthopedic surgeon, was born in 1878, the year when pioneering Robert Koch published a history-making treatise on causes of infection, opening the way to rapid progress in surgery and other fields of medicine. Dr. Sever was graduated in 1901 from the Harvard Medical School. He is a member of the American Orthopedic Association, the New England Surgical Society, and the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons. He is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a diplomat of the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery.

At the Richmond conference, guests will be greeted by Dr. Louis H. Bauer, president of the American Medical Association, and by leaders of local American medical societies. Besides scientific sessions, there will be opportunities for visiting historic sites in Virginia, including the 18th century Williamsburg restoration.

LOCAL MAN AT MEETING

William M. Selberg, 14 Robinson Park, Winchester, was among eastern regional representatives of Elgin National Watch Company at a two-day conference outlining that company's 1953 merchandising program at the Beverly Hotel, New York, January 2 and 3.

CUB PACK NINE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Last Friday evening in the George Washington School Auditorium, Cub Pack Nine, with an excellent attendance of parents, enjoyed their annual Christmas Party. Each Den made its own decorations and in turn placed them on the tree. The fully decorated tree was then put in the Children's Ward of the Winchester Hospital.

A Den representative then displayed the gifts each boy in each den had made for his parents, and some unique presents were shown. At the end of the evening, refreshments were served to parents and boys, and carols were sung by the entire group. During the regular meeting the following Cubs received awards:

MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church will begin its activities Tuesday, January 13th by having its regular sewing meeting at 10 a. m. under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Grimes and Miss Mabel Ward. Luncheon will be served in Chidley Hall at 1 p. m. by the chairmen, Mrs. Herbert Ross and Mrs. Meredith Cooper and their committee.

A business meeting following the luncheon will be conducted by Mrs. James Allen, director of the Guild will preside over the 2 p. m. meeting and Mrs. Frank Gunby will lead the Devotions.

Our new minister, the Rev. Dwight L. Carr, D. D. and Mrs. Carr have been invited to attend.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Miss Ione Catton of New York City, Research Associate of the Missions Council of Congregational Christian Churches, who will speak on "The Problem of the American Indians (Including those of Fort Berthold)".

Miss Catton has special responsibility for interpreting the work of the Board of Home Missions. An inspiring speaker, much in demand because of the timeliness and helpfulness of her message, Miss Catton's Parish is indeed the world, even though her administrative duties are in the home mission field.

With a rich and varied background of experience as a high school teacher, settlement house director, state director of religious education, minister of religious education in the local church and Editor, Miss Ione Catton brings to the post of Research Associate a variety of talents and a contagious enthusiasm about the work of Home Missions.

Born in Michigan and educated at the University of Wisconsin, Boston University (M. A.) and Columbia University, Miss Catton served for two years as Head Resident and Club House Director of the Frances Willard Settlement in Boston.

Later she was Executive Secretary of the Michigan Council of Churches.

IN LEAGUE MOCK TRIAL

Mrs. Ganson Taggart of Lloyd street will act as a witness, and Mrs. Rodney Long of Everett avenue will be on the jury at a mock trial to be held at City Hall, Medford, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, January 14, under the auspices of the League of Women Voters of Medford as well as the Eastern Middlesex Bar Association.

Mrs. Torbert MacDonald of the Malden League of Women Voters will enact the role of the defendant. Mrs. MacDonald is the former Phyllis Brooks, star of stage and screen, and more recently in television as the star of "Suspense."

All the rest of the roles, both in jury and as defendants, will be enacted by League members of Medford, and the prosecuting attorney will be M. Edward Viola, governor-council-elect of Arlington. J. Newton Esdaile, attorney, of Medford, will be judge.

The League hopes to provide prospective women jurors with a working knowledge of judicial procedure and at the same time entertain and amuse the audience with unrehearsed stage "business."

The public is invited.

The State is laying a branch sewer along Horn Pond Brook to take care of the many new homes and factories that have been built in Woburn in recent years. Much of the sewer will extend through what used to be known as Cutter's Pond which in years long past supplied water to run a mill located on the site of Browning Laboratories. The new sewer will provide relief from a condition that has been bothering Woburn of late.

SENTENCED FOR BREAK

Two Winchester boys, aged 12 and 14, appeared in District Court at Woburn Thursday morning, charged with breaking and entering the Winchester News Company store on Thompson street in the night time, and with larceny.

The break occurred December 31 and both boys were picked up later in the Square by Officer John Reardon.

One of the boys, in addition to lesser offenses, had a previous record of a break at Palmer Beach bath-house. He was placed in the custody of the Youth Service Board for one year. The other boy's case was continued indefinitely.

LEGION CHANGES MEETING NIGHT

Due to the necessity of postponing Social Night from New Year's Day to the second Thursday, January 8, Charles Meek, Legion Commander, has announced that the regular business meeting, for this month only will be held on the fourth Thursday, January 22. The Legionnaire and the call to the meeting will therefore be received one week later than usual.

On January 9th, Sunday MacKenzie has scheduled another fun-packed meeting of the Friday Night Club. Those who have not as yet taken advantage of these most enjoyable social events should be sure to be in attendance. It is again called to everyone's attention that guests are more than welcome at these parties. Sandy announces that he has again been able to secure Johnny McAnan to entertain at this meeting.

Your Legion reporter was a little confused after the busy holiday schedule, and neglected to record in the earlier editions that both the children's Christmas party and the New Year's celebration lived up to the plans, and exceeded in both size and enjoyment any of the previous annual affairs—and that is very high praise. The popularity of these well-organized events has risen to the point that it will be necessary to limit the attendance in future years.

Perhaps the most satisfying event of the season was the party provided for the patients at the Bedford Veterans Hospital. Jointly sponsored by Winchester Post and our good neighbors, Woburn and Arlington, this event brought up a warm hour of enjoyment to those who were shut in during the Christmas holidays. A wealth of excellent entertainment was provided in two separate recreation halls in the earlier editions that both the children's Christmas party and the New Year's celebration lived up to the plans, and exceeded in both size and enjoyment any of the previous annual affairs—and that is very high praise. The popularity of these well-organized events has risen to the point that it will be necessary to limit the attendance in future years.

WINCHESTER BOY UNINJURED IN NEW YORK CRASH

James Daschbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Daschbach of 21 Crescent road, escaped injury early last Sunday morning when his automobile in which he was riding was in collision with another car in Lafayette, N.Y. The driver of the other car was killed.

Young Daschbach, a graduate of Winchester High School, is a junior at Notre Dame. He and a college mate, Bob Ward of Brockton, were driving back to college in Ward's car after spending the Christmas holidays at home. As they were heading west through Lafayette, N.Y., Sunday morning at 1:30, and were crossing the crest of a hill, their car, which Daschbach was driving at the time, was struck on the left rear fender by another machine, the driver of which was apparently trying to pass them.

The force of the impact spun the car in which Daschbach and Ward were riding completely around, but aside from a bent rear fender, the car, however, zigzagged across the road and finally overturned in a ditch. The driver, a young man whose name is not yet known here, was thrown through the windshield and instantly killed.

After the police investigation of the accident Daschbach and Ward were permitted to continue their trip to South Bend. A telephone call received by Mr. and Mrs. Daschbach reported that Jimmy and Bob arrived at college safely at 5:30 Monday morning.

WILLIAM JEWELL SPEAKS TO ART ASSOCIATION

It is always a joy and privilege to attend Tuesday evening events well rewarded with his fine comments on the current exhibit at the Winchester Public Library.

In paying tribute to the "Boston School" of painters represented, he spoke of their fine qualities brought together in a "happy" way. Theirs was an era of peace that is reflected in their painting. They were sensitive men with fine training whose work showed their joy of living.

Mr. Jewell paid fine tribute to his former teacher H. Dudley Murphy whom he greatly admired. In his paintings, Mr. Jewell sighted the perfection of his drawing—the quality of gentleness—his love of people and the out-of-doors. He felt his work depicted the deep emotion of a well balanced man.

Several watercolors by Dodge MacKnight showed great gusto and breadth. Using a full intensity palette with a quickness and sureness of touch, MacKnight accomplished much with a few sure strokes. With quivering light he depicts the joy of the moment.

Of George Hallowell, Mr. Jewell spoke of his fine draftsmanship and careful composition supported by his architectural training.

Mr. Jewell felt the powerful paintings of Charles Curtis Allen reflected his intensity, moodiness and melancholy aspects. The power of mountains is felt in his low key colors and lack of hard lines. Against this muted background his Fall colors sing.

Frank Benson is abundantly represented with etchings, oils and water colors. A master designer, his etchings have a quality of surprise, and amazing understanding of bird life and out-of-doors. Benson though greatly influenced by Winslow Homer, retains his own individuality. His bird paintings show his completely personal style and his joy of the elements. In his portraits Mr. Benson has an apparently effortless simplicity and reverence.

Such were the comments of Mr. Jewell. Under his guidance, we explored a saner, happier, more peaceful era and found ourselves refreshed by it.

This Exhibit is open to the public for the month of January.

Mr. Lamson announced that applications for registration for the 2nd Semester of the Art Association Classes in Painting should be made by Valdo Hodge, WI 6-0664, immediately. Classes for the 1st Semester were filled rapidly and it is suggested you register early.

The Art Association is greatly indebted to Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff for her tireless efforts in organizing the painting classes and in presenting the current exhibit.

The hostess Mrs. George Marks was assisted by Miss Suzanne Gleason and Mrs. Milton L. Brown in serving refreshments following the meeting.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT OPERATIONS RETURN $100,000 TO TOWN

The Town of Winchester received $100,628.59 as the result of school department operations during 1952, according to a report issued this week by Superintendent of Schools Forbes L. Norris.

The report, entitled "Money Received by Town Treasurer as Result of School Department Operations," lists the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as the principal source of income, with a total contribution of $94,683.05. Of this sum, $85,645.25 was reimbursement on account of the employment of teachers in the Winchester schools.

VOL. LXXII NO. 22

THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1953

PRICE TEN CENTS

MILITARY HONORS FOR MARINE HERO

Military honors were accorded Pfc. Anthony Gagliormella at the funeral of the young Marine hero last Saturday morning.

Pfc. Gagliormella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Gagliormella of 18 Florence street, was killed in action in Korea, October 31, 1952, after six days in the front lines. His body arrived in Winchester last week, Wednesday afternoon, escorted by members of the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, was taken to the Gagliormella home where it lay in state for three nights, large crowds visiting the home each night to honor the young Marine. Accompanying the body to Winchester was Staff Sergeant George A. Battaglia, official escort of the Marine Corps.

Saturday morning, in the hail and rain, the cortege formed at the Gagliormella home, detachments of both Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion; and Aberjona Post, 3719, acting as military escort, with their Colors and color guard. Commander Charles W. Meek, Jr., of the Legion and Commander Warren Bolivar of the Veterans headed the detachment.

Moving steadily through the storm, the cortege proceeded to St. Mary's Church where a solemn requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. John J. Grant. Rev. Fr. Joseph McCall was deacon and Rev. Fr. Stephen Burke, subdeacon. The flags of the Legion and Veterans were massed in the church and among the mourners. The mass were representatives of the Armed Forces, who sat with Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, chairman of the Winchester Military Manpower Committee. They were Pfc. James V. Dysart, USMC, Sgt. Patrick Farino, USA, of Woburn; and Sgt. Robert Mutch, USAF.

Legionnaires and Veterans of Foreign Wars acted as bearers, and as the flag draped casket left the church it was borne between lines of veterans in uniform.

From the church the cortege proceeded along Washington street to Calvary Cemetery where a Marine firing squad under Sgt. Lester J. Codair fired a volley of shots at the grave. Rev. McCall read the committal prayers and three volleys were fired by the Marines, with taps being blown by a Marine bugler.

MRS. MARY M. LABAN

Mrs. Mary M. Laban, widow of Anthony Laban, and mother of Peter Laban of 5 Winslow road, died suddenly Friday night, January 9, at the Winchester Hospital.

Mrs. Laban was the daughter of Edward J. and Mary (McQuinn) Sharkey. She was born 74 years ago on Prince Edward Island, and had lived in Winchester with her son only for the past six months. Previously she had been for 35 years a resident of Woburn, where her husband died 10 years ago.

Besides her son she leaves a daughter, Mrs. H. H. Talbot of Norwell; seven grandchildren; a sister, Sister Mary Wilfred of the Order of St. Joseph, stationed at the Boston School of the Deaf in Randolph; and a brother, Edward Sharkey of West Roxbury.

The funeral was held Monday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock at the home with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Charles A. Anadore. Burial was in Linwood Cemetery, Weston.

RALPH H. BONNELL
NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN

Ralph H. Bonnell, former Selectman and member of the town Planning Board, was rewarded for outstanding work on the Republican State Committee during last fall's presidential and gubernatorial campaign by being nominated for the post of Massachusetts member of the National Committee of the Republican Party.

Mr. Bonnell's nomination took place last week Thursday and technically he will not be elected until formal approval of his nomination is voiced at the National Committee meeting on January 17. This approval, however, is only a formality, and Mr. Bonnell actually became a member of the National Committee when his nomination was made unanimous on January 8. He announced at that time he would commence his Committee work the next day.

Mr. Bonnell, himself, nominated Frederick H. Dearborn of Wenham for the state position on the National Committee vacated by Sinclair Weeks. Elmer Nelson of Milford placed Mr. Bonnell's name in nomination. The vote was 79-14 for Mr. Bonnell, and after the figures were announced it was decided to make the nomination unanimous.

During the campaign last fall Mr. Bonnell supervised the State Committee campaign publicity, directed the activities of the state candidates in the early stages and, from September 29 until election day, was assistant to State Chairman Daniel Tyler with the title of co-chairman. Active in his support of Taft for the GOP presidential nomination, he was a delegate to the national convention pledged to the Ohio senator.

Mr. Bonnell returned from the convention disappointed over Taft's defeat, but enthused over the choice of General Eisenhower and Nixon. In the subsequent campaign he did outstanding work in support of both candidates and in the interests of the entire state ticket. His enthusiasm and hard work won him widespread acclaim in Republican circles and speculation had been rife as to just what role he would fill in the new post-election alignment of the party in the state and nation.

Mr. Bonnell is president of Bonnell Motors, Winchester distributor of Fords; and of Bonnell & Stokes in Arlington, distributors of Mercury and Lincoln.

In town he has been especially active civically, having served the town as chairman of the Selectmen and as a member of the Finance Committee as well as presently being a member of the Planning Board and the chairman of the committee seeking a solution of the town's secondary school problem.

He has been president of Winthrop Farm, a charitable enterprise of the underprivileged children; president of the Winchester Rotary; director of the Red Cross and chairman of the Winchester Hospital Building Fund campaign, a director of the Winchester National Bank and president of the local Country Club. He is also vice president and treasurer of the Massachusetts Automobile Dealers Association.

An ardent sports enthusiast, he plays golf, when time permits, at the Winchester Country Club and has played a prominent part in the club's establishment of a college scholarship fund for its caddies.

Miss Russo is a graduate of Mary Brooks Junior College. Mr. Arnold attended Boston College and served with the army in the European Theatre during World War II.

An early spring wedding is planned.

DR. CHARLES H. RUST

Dr. Charles Herbert Rust, a native of Winchester and retired Baptist clergyman died January 2, in Rochester, N. Y., where from 1906 to 1919 he was pastor of the Second Baptist Church and its successor, the Baptist Temple, of which he was the first minister. He was 83 years old.

Dr. Rust was born in Winchester, December 18, 1869, the son of Charles M. and Mary L. (Wood) Rust. The family home was for many years on Elm street in Winchester, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hall.

Dr. Rust was educated in the Winchester schools, at Gordon Bible School of Boston and the Rochester Theological School, where he was ordained a Baptist minister in 1898.

For two years he was an assistant pastor in a Boston church; then, for 13 years he traveled throughout the United States as a preacher. Although most travel evangelists rode horses at the time, he used what came to be known as his "chapel car". For a year he was a New York representative of the Missionary Department of the Baptist Church and was a member of the American Baptist Society before going to Rochester in 1906 to become pastor of the Second Baptist Church there.

He remained in Rochester as pastor of the Second Church and its successor, the Baptist Temple, until 1919, after which he served pastorates in Scranton, Pa., and Worcester. He retired in 1939 following a six-year pastorate at the Community Presbyterian Church in Old Greenwich, Conn.

Dr. Rust was the author of many books and booklets, among them "Personal Religion", "The Church a Field of Service" and "The Educated Layman". He could trace his ancestry to Henry Rust who left Hingham, England, and settled in Hingham, Massachusetts, in 1635.

After his retirement Dr. and Mrs. Rust lived in Stamford, Conn., wintering in Florida, before going to Rochester to make their home there. They had three children: Morrison at 21 Arnold Park in that city.

Besides Mrs. Morrison he leaves his wife, the former Bertha Stuart; another daughter, Mrs. Wayne D. Bradlee, a graduate of the University of California; and a granddaughter, Mrs. Robert L. Bauer of North Hollywood, California. A sister, Nettie Rust, now deceased, was the first wife of the Rev. Arthur L. Winn, for many years a resident of Winchester.

Memorial services for Dr. Rust were held in Rochester, N. Y.

BRADLEE BANK V. P.

The Board of Directors of the Cambridge Trust Company on January 12, elected Mr. H. Gardner Bradlee of 2 Goddard avenue, a Vice-President of the Bank. Mr. Bradlee joined the Cambridge Trust as an Assistant Treasurer in October of 1950. A year ago he was elected Secretary of the Board of Directors.

Mr. Bradlee, a graduate of Belmont Hill School and Harvard College, Class of 1940, is presently attending The Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers, sponsored by the American Bankers Association, as a member of the Class of 1953.

He was connected with the National Shawmut Bank of Boston in credit work for ten years prior to his joining the Cambridge Trust Company.

Mr. Bradlee has resided in Winchester for more than twenty years and has been active in various charitable and social service organizations.

60th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Newcomb of 23 Stevens street observed their 60th wedding anniversary on Monday, January 12.

The anniversary celebration was held on Sunday at the Newcomb home when 20 relatives gathered to extend congratulations and best wishes.

The Newcombs were married in Boston, January 12, 1893. During Mr. Newcomb's many years in the Congregational ministry he held pastorates in Framingham Center, at the First Church in Lowell, at the First Congregational Church in Keene, N. H., and at Kittery Point, Me., retiring after 16 years in the pastorate last named.

He and Mrs. Newcomb have been making their home in Winchester since their daughter, Mrs. T. William Harris, they have three daughters, nine grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

TO NAME ASSESSOR MONDAY

The Board of Selectmen and the remaining members of the Board of Assessors, Marshall R. Pihl and Alfred D. Elliott, will meet Monday evening to elect an Assessor to fill the vacancy caused on the Board by the recent resignation of Ernest H. Dade, who has serving as chairman at the time he resigned.

There has been much talk about town as to the advisability of permitting the vacancy to continue until a regular election. Under the statute, however, the Selectmen and remaining Assessors are required to fill the vacancy after a week's notice. A ruling by the Town Council was obtained by the Selectmen before they acted in the matter.

JOHN C. CASLER

John C. Casler of 164 Forest street, a widely known resident of the Highlands, died suddenly Wednesday night, January 14, collapsing as he was driving his car into his garage.

Mr. Casler was the son of Jacob, and Mary (Wood) Casler. He was born in Eaton Rapids, Michigan, October 11, 1879, and for 50 years he was a stationary engineer, working in this capacity for Beggs & Cobb tannery, where he was in his retirement three years ago.

Mr. Casler came to Winchester from Dorchester more than 25 years ago, and during his residence here he was actively identified with the First Baptist Church and with Scouting, serving as a Councillor and Scoutmaster.

He was a member of Rabonni Lodge of Masons and the Eastern Star Chapter in Dorchester, of the Royal Arch Chapter in Chicopee Falls and of the Engineers Blue Room, a state-wide Masonic organization with headquarters in Boston.

On May 19, 1901, Mr. Casler married Wealthy Willis of Block Island, R. I., who survives, with two sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Long of Mason, Michigan, and Mrs. Mabel Boyle of Lansing, Michigan.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist chapel with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Island Cemetery, Block Island, R. I.

KIWANIS INSTALLED

Newly elected officers of Winchester Kiwanis were installed Wednesday evening in Masonic Apartments by Lt. Gov. Joseph Callahan of the Sixth Division of the New England Kiwanis District in the presence of a large number of Kiwanians and guests.

Officers installed included: President, Bill Cantwell; First Vice-President, John Lane; Second Vice-President, John Mercurio; Treasurer, Bill Murray.

Directors: Jim Volante, Joe Peol, Al Di Pietro, Al Korn, Bill W. Peol.

Thibault, Past President, announced a program for the benefit of the under privileged children and the milk fund for school children will benefit by Kiwanis contributions for 1953.

COMMITTEEMAN RESIGNS

Charles W. Butler, who was named last week to the town committee to study Article 37 of the last town meeting warrant relative to town planning and Board of Survey activity, has resigned. His place has been filled by the appointment of Everett P. Stone of 10 Warren street.

This particular committee, appointed by the Moderator, was provided for at the last March meeting. Mr. Butler gave as his reason for resigning the feeling that his duties as assistant treasurer of the Trust Committee make it unwise for him to serve.

MISS CROWLEY ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. William Crowley of 103 Canal street announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Ann, to Raymond Elliott Dunbar of 241 Williams street, Stoneham.

Miss Crowley graduated from Winchester High School, class of 1951, and is now with the United States Navy.

Mr. Dunbar graduated from Stoneham High School, class of 1950, and is now with the United States Navy.

ERNEST STEPHEN BARRON

Ernest Stephen Barron of 206 Washington street, a veteran of World War II, died suddenly of an acute heart attack Monday evening, January 12, at his home. He had done his day's work as usual at Beggs & Cobb tannery and had gone with Mrs. Barron to the Winchester Theatre after supper. He had not complained of feeling ill during the evening and arrived home apparently all right, being stricken as he was hanging up his hat and coat after entering the house. His father, the late Ernest C. Barron, died of a similar attack of heart disease on January 15, 1949.

Mr. Barron was the son of Ernest C. and Lily (Hamilton) Barron. He was born in Lynn, March 14, 1917, living for a time in Wilmington before coming to Winchester as a boy of junior high school age.

He attended junior high and high school in Winchester, then learned the welder's trade from his father and was employed as a maintenance welder at Beggs & Cobb tannery before entering the service in 1941.

He served with the Army Military Police during World War II in the European Theatre, both in Italy and North Africa. Upon his discharge from the service he and his father operated a garage for a time on Cross street, after which he returned to his old position at Beggs & Cobb. He was a member and sergeant-at-arms of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion. Flags on the Common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

On October 22, 1948, Mr. Barron married Mary Conolly of Winchester, who survives, with Mr. Barron's mother, living in Winchester; four sisters, Mrs. Thomas F. Grace of Whitsett, Calif.; Mrs. G. Raymond Bancroft, Jr., of Kennelburg, Pa.; Mrs. Charles D. Cason of Monroe, La.; and Miss Marie Barron of Winchester; also a brother, Robert J. Barron of this town.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the late residence with the Rev. Henry E. Edenberg of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Burial was in Waldwood Cemetery.

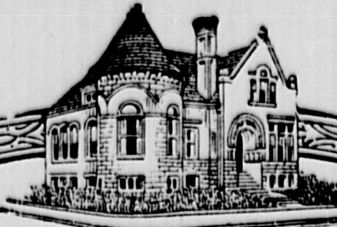

PATRICK ALLEN

Patrick Allen of 63 Loring avenue, a widely known resident of the North End, died Sunday, January 11, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Allen was a native of County Leitrim, Ireland. He came to this country as a youth and settled in Woburn, where he learned the leather worker's trade, being employed in the Cummings tannery and by Thayer & Fox in that city. For the past 30 years he had been employed at Beggs & Cobb tannery on Swanton street.

Mr. Allen came to Winchester 26 years ago, and had since made his home here, having many friends in the North End. He and Mrs. Allen, the former Bridget Devitt of Somerville, observed their 50th wedding anniversary in April last year.

On Allen survives, with two daughters, Mrs. Mac Lombardi of Brookline and Mrs. Abbie Loughlin of Brighton; five sons, Charles J., James, Robert F.,

WINTON CLUB CABARET IN REHEARSAL

Last Sunday night was a date eagerly awaited by many Winchester young people, for it was the date for the first rehearsal "try-outs" for the Cabaret cast. If the amount of enthusiasm in the air at Masonic Hall that night was an indication of a good show, then it will be one of the very best, for it was an excited and eager group who met the director for the first time, renewed acquaintances with friends from past shows and showed newcomers the ropes. The general committee, headed by Mrs. Albert S. Crockett, was delighted at the large turnout of attractive young men and girls to try out for the various dance, chorus and comedy numbers.

This year's entertainment is called "Show Business" and will be a fast-moving revue with plenty of glamour, color and humor. The familiar and popular Winton Club drill will be presented with the smart precision for which it is famous, and the costumes for this are said to be more striking than ever. Music for the numbers will be familiar tunes from many well-known Broadway shows.

There are still available tables for Friday, January 30, when the dance music continues until one o'clock. The seats for Theatre Night, Thursday, January 29, will be all reserved, and the show will be presented in its entirety that night. Coffee will be served before the performance.

W. D. N. ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association, to be held Friday afternoon, January 16, will have as its speaker Dr. Sanford H. Moses, Jr., on "Changes in Obstetrical Practice". The meeting will be at 2 o'clock, preceded by a coffee hour at 1 o'clock, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Moses, 8 Prospect street.

Mrs. Theodore C. Browne will preside, and a report on new officers to be elected for 1953-54 will be presented by the nominating chairman, Mrs. William N. Beggs. Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig, secretary, will read the secretary's annual report, which incorporates reports of the activities of the finance, nursing, education, public relations committees.

Dr. Moses, whose subject is one of the most challenging in medical fields, will tell of the progress to date in reducing maternal mortality. Dr. Moses is Chief of Obstetrics at the Winchester Hospital, Vice-President of the Winchester Hospital, President-elect of the Middlesex Eastern Medical Society and a Councilor of the Massachusetts Medical Association. To his audience, he is a personal friend and greatly respected physician, and his talk will be a highlight in the annals of the Winchester District Nursing Association. This meeting is open to the public.

JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON WINTER MEETING

The Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton held its winter meeting on Tuesday, January 13th, at the home of Mrs. David Walton. The President, Mrs. Robert Ingraham, Jr., presided and reports of officers and committee chairmen were presented.

In the absence of a speaker, there was time for much lively discussion of plans and projects. Following the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. George Blair and her committee. Pourers were Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Roswell Boutwell.

RAINBOW MOTHERS' CLUB

The monthly meeting of the Rainbow Mothers' Club which was to be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Airey, 114 Washington street, Woburn, Monday night, January 12th, has been postponed until Monday night, January 19th, because of bad weather.

UNITARIAN YOUTH GROUPS

The Junior Fellowship of the Winchester Unitarian Church will hold a discussion of school problems at its meeting Sunday afternoon at five o'clock at the church. Featured will be a panel of junior high school teachers and High School Principal Wade Grindle.

This panel discussion will give junior high schoolers a chance to ask questions, outside of school and in a group, about the school program and their adjustment to it. It follows a period of discussion among the students at a previous meeting.

Teachers invited to participate in addition to Mr. Grindle, who will give the high school point of view, are: Miss Edna Hatch, Miss Charlotte LeClaire, Miss Eleanor Antifantis, Mr. Gardner Handy and Mr. Everett Bolster.

The Junior High Fellowship of the Belmont Unitarian Church will be guests of the Winchester group for the program.

Metcalf Union, the senior high school group at the church, will hold a rehearsal at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in preparation for Youth Sunday, January 25, when the young people will conduct the Sunday church service.

Time of meetings of Junior Fellowship has been changed to start a half hour earlier during the cold weather. Meetings now start at 5 o'clock.

THE LINCOLN GROUP

Next week, Thursday, January 22, at 8:00 p. m. the regular monthly meeting of the Winchester Lincoln Group will be held in the Edgar J. Rich Room at the Public Library. Dr. Sanford H. Moses is the Chairman of the Group. At this meeting there will be a continuation of the discussion of Lincoln's War Cabinet. At the last meeting the men had a lively time on the same subject.

All Winchester men interested in the Civil War Period of History are cordially invited to join the Group. It is very informal, and intended to provide an evening of relaxation and enjoyment of the Edgar J. Rich Collection of Books on Lincoln and Lee.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Where? At the Library!

Girl Scout Annual Meeting

Winchester's Girl Scout Organization has only about three large meetings during the entire year. This is your real opportunity to learn about the size of the organization, how many Scouts and Brownie Scouts the town has, and to find out how many adults, all of them usually very busy and well-known women, take their valuable time to contribute much to something they think to be of real value to the community, and to something which gives them much pleasure and interest. There is also urgent business to be voted on, as this is a time at which several important over-all policies are established, and we want and need the vote of the entire organization on such matters. Remember, Girl Scouting is primarily the art of many working together!

The roster of past Commissioners working on the Program for this very important meeting is as follows:
Mrs. Louis K. Snyder
Mrs. Joseph Ryan
Mrs. Clifton Hall
Mrs. James Willing
Mrs. Jan Fries
Mrs. Donald Heath
Mrs. Harold Farnsworth
Mrs. Clarence Roberts
Mrs. William L. Davis, and Mrs. Paul Howard, a former Captain.

The third meeting of the Basic Training Course for all new leaders will be held promptly at 9:30 a. m. at the Girl Scout Office on January 20th.

ROCKING-CHAIR GOLF

Apparently Rocking-Chair Golf is the equivalent of the Hot-Stove League in baseball, a glorified bull-session with golf instead of baseball as the topic.

The Winchester Country Club is sponsoring a Rocking-Chair Golf session for its members and guests, the feature to be held in the club lounge Wednesday evening, January 21, commencing at 6 o'clock. Briefly, this Rocking-Chair Golf business provides Country Club golfers with the opportunity of telling about their super shots and near misses of past seasons in comfortable surroundings in the company of congenial spirits. Incidentally, there has been by now plenty of opportunity for competitors to work out details so that their stories will hold water. A minimum of "Wait a minute!" is expected from the listeners!

The evening will open with a "sumptuous" buffet, and afterward there will be some really exceptional golf movies of "Slingin' Sammy" Sneed, "Babe" Didrikson and other favorite golfers.

HAD ICE FOLLIES TRYOUT

Miss Barbara "Buttons" Burbank, talented and versatile daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boudin G. Burbank of Wolcott road, recently had a successful tryout for the Shipsteads and Johnson Ice Follies show at the Arena in Philadelphia.

Miss Burbank is teaching Physical Education at the Shipley School in Bryn Mawr, Pa., and her contract prevents her joining the show at once. She hopes, however, to become a member of the internationally famous group of precision skaters, the Ice Follies, at the conclusion of her teaching duties in June.

Miss Burbank is a graduate of Winchester High School and of the Bouve Boston School of Physical Education at Tufts.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Career Meetings

The Guidance Department sponsored a group of three career meetings yesterday morning. Speaking on the subject, "Opportunities for Young Men in Industry," Mr. Franklin Linton of the Wentworth Institute discussed various phases of technical work below college level. Miss Martha Hallett of the Chamberlain School of Retailing described the training of young women for merchandising and related fields. Dr. Reginald LaCount, chairman of the physics department in the college of liberal arts at Northeastern University, reviewed the opportunities in the fields of physics and chemistry.

Student Delegate

The election of a student to represent Winchester High School at Student Government Day exercises at the State House in March is being held this morning. Last week the senior class held a preliminary election and nominated Ted Elliott, Phil Ives, and Steve Yale.

Principals' Association

Principal Wade L. Grindle is attending the annual meeting of the Massachusetts High School Principals' Association in Boston tomorrow. As chairman of the nominating committee Mr. Grindle will deliver its report.

Mid-Year Exams

Regular classes will be suspended on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday next week in order that pupils may take their mid-year examinations.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

The Dartmouth Women's Club will meet January 21 at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. Dessert and coffee hour is at 1:15 p. m., followed by a business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Wesley A. McSorley, Jr. The program "Adventures in Reading" will be given by Mrs. Marion Rudkin.

WINCHESTER OVER READING

INDIANS IN OVERTIME

A courageous Winchester High quartet won a thrilling overtime game from Reading High at Reading on Tuesday afternoon by a score of 46-42. It was a tremendous come-from-behind victory for the locals who trailed all the way until they tied the score with less than a minute to play. Excessive fouling cost Reading the game as the Indians built up their winning margin on free throws and Reading lost the services of three regulars late in the game.

Reading jumped away to a 16-9 lead at the end of the first quarter as the locals were not handling the ball well and were not setting up their offense. The Indians slowed down the Reading scoring in the second quarter but were not clicking offensively as Reading recorded a 26-15 half-time lead. The Red and Black began to chop down the Reading lead in the third quarter as they held Reading to five points only and gained six points to trail 31-26 at the three-quarter mark.

With less than a minute to play Reading was leading 40-37 when Norman Howard was awarded two foul shots. He made good on the first to make the score 40-38, missed the second, but Neil Muncaster tipped the rebound to tie the score and send the game into overtime. In the overtime period, John Atkinson dropped in a basket to give Winchester the lead for the first time in the game. Ron Ellis evened the score at 42-42 a moment later with two free throws. Norm Howard made good on a foul shot to make it 43-42 and followed with a crucial basket to run the score to 45-42. Neil Muncaster completed the scoring with a successful free throw.

It was a crucial win for the Red and Black for Reading is tough to beat on their home court. The entire team must be praised for their fighting spirit when all of the breaks seemed to go against them for they battled every minute and such spirit finally paid off. Norman Howard must receive the lion's share of the praise, however, as he was the top performer for the locals in all three departments of scoring, rebounds, and assists. No less than 12 of his points came in the fourth and overtime periods when the pressure was on and the going was toughest.

The Winchester Seconds won their sixth straight game by defeating the Reading Seconds 54-35. The going was tough for a half with the locals trailing 12-10 at the quarter and 22-21 at the half. The Seconds began to click in the third period, however, to outscore Reading 21-7 in that quarter and then coast to an easy victory. Jim Wright with 17 points and Joe Diorio with 10 points were the leading scorers for Winchester.

THIRD STRAIGHT FOR FROSH WOBBURN CUBS VICTIMS,
78-60

The Winchester High Freshmen won their third straight game of the season by defeating the Woburn Freshmen 78-60 at Woburn on Monday afternoon. It was a free scoring contest all the way but the papooses would have won by a larger margin if they had not fouled out four of their regulars. Rich Rimbach and Frank Dattilo played good ball for the locals while scoring in double figures.

The Winchester Junior High team posted a 45-14 romp in winning their third straight game over the Woburn Junior High in the preliminary game. John Chapin was top scorer for Winchester with 17 points while George Wheaton turned in a steady floor game.

Cadillac

A NEW INSPIRATION FOR THE AUTOMOTIVE WORLD

BY THE PREMIER BUILDER
OF THE V-8 ENGINE!

IMPROVEMENT HIGHLIGHTS

DYNAMIC NEW 210 H.P. ENGINE
VASTLY IMPROVED HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE ADVANCED POWER STEERING*
BREATH-TAKING NEW INTERIORS
NEW CADILLAC AIR CONDITIONER*
MORE BEAUTIFUL EXTERIOR STYLING
EVEN GREATER OPERATING ECONOMY

*Optional at extra cost.

A great new inspiration for the automotive world is now on display in our showroom. It's the 1953 Cadillac—the latest triumph of Cadillac's engineering and styling genius. Its beauty alone would place this new motoring creation among Cadillac's all-time "greats"—for its innumerable exterior changes have made it simply breath-taking to behold. Its interiors, too, are dramatically new—offering the most beautiful fabrics and appointments ever available in a motor car. And for those who desire the ultimate in comfort, a wonderful new Cadillac Air Conditioner* is now available. But the heart of this new Cadillac's greatness lies in its performance—so extraordinary that it transcends any previous concept of how a motor car should act and handle. This magnificent performance comes from many sources. It comes from Cadillac's improved Hydra-Matic Drive. It comes from Cadillac's advanced Power Steering*—so marvelous that turning and parking and steering become almost a response to your wish. And it comes—in even greater measure—from Cadillac's great new 210 h.p. engine... the dramatic climax of almost 40 years of unduplicated experience in the design and construction of V-8 engines. We sincerely urge you to see and drive this great motor car. It is offered in three new series—the beautiful "Sixty-Two," the luxurious "Sixty Special" and the distinguished "Seventy-Five." There is also Cadillac's new sports convertible, the Eldorado—the most glamorous and exciting creation in the whole of Cadillac history. Why not come in today?

The Wakefield "Daily Item" in its lead editorial on January 14 urges that candidates for Selectmen come forward immediately so that the Board in that town will not go into the coming annual election unopposed. The "Item" seems critical of the present Selectmen of the town and feels that opposition must be provided this year to prevent the town from functioning as it says "by default." The "voters", says the "Item", "must be given a choice, so they will be able actually to state a preference for the persons who will become town fathers." None can quarrel with the "Item's" point of view. In Winchester, increasingly in recent years, there have been candidates elected or re-elected without opposition. This is not a healthy situation! Time is getting short for filing of nomination papers, yet there are in the field but three candidates for two positions on the Board of Selectmen and only two candidates for the two existing vacancies on the School Committee. The Board of Selectmen is of course the top governing body of the town. The importance of the School Committee is easily apparent in the size of the budget it administers and the effect its policies can have on our children. There should be enough candidates for both bodies each year. Vacancies occur so that the voters can determine which of the group they believe promises best for the important job he seeks. The "Item" is right! Government by default is bad!

CRITICAL OF SNOW REMOVAL

Editor of the Star:
Again I find it necessary to write a letter, through your paper, to the citizens of Winchester.

I have been contacted by many people today, who feel the same as I do about the disgraceful condition the streets of Winchester are in today, four days since the snow began to fall.

I left my place of employment in Woburn, Friday at 2:00 a. m. The streets of Woburn were being plowed; as a matter of fact I followed a plow-truck to the Winchester line on Washington street. From this point, to my home, I had a tough time as no streets in Winchester, including the main streets, were plowed.

While Parker Holbrook was Superintendent of the Highway Department Winchester rated high in snow removal, but now . . . I think it is time that the Superintendent of Highways and other town officials wake up! How much longer do they think the citizens of Winchester will stand for this abuse?

The people of Winchester have always approved the snow and ice removal budget submitted by responsible town officials to the town meeting members. The taxpayers are willing and do spend the money to have this snow and ice situation taken care of. Why isn't this job done promptly and properly? I for one will question this budget at the next town meeting. (Mr. Wakefield be prepared to answer questions!)

The railroads, etc., advertise for snow help, offering good pay. If it is salary that slows up the progress of snow removal, I say pay decent wages and you will get all the help needed! As for money, if it runs above the funds appropriated for this work, you will find plenty in the E and D fund. Yes, let the taxpayers know that all money saved from the money given to the proper officials for service is put in this fund. How does this money accumulate? By responsible officials not giving the service the taxpayers are paying for!

I say if the man or men responsible can't do the job, he or they should resign! Let's face the facts! Thanking You Very Much
I remain

SOUND ADVICE FROM N. H. GOVERNOR!

Editor of the Star:
It is reported that Governor Hugh Gregg of New Hampshire in his inaugural address said in part: "Remember this; no government, federal or state, can give you anything which it has not first taken from you."

This statement might well apply in the case of the proposed grade crossing elimination here in Winchester, even though the proponents of this scheme said that the state would pay the entire cost — in order to get people to vote for the project. They know full well that we and other taxpayers will have to pay in the end; in fact, they fooled the people into believing they would get something for nothing!

It is hoped that the new administration at the State House will take action against this expensive project and allow the townspeople to reconsider this scheme, so that a sane and less expensive solution to the problem can be undertaken. It is hoped, also, that some action may be taken in the March Town Meeting to correct the mistake already made.

ASSESSORS REWARDED

Editor of the Star:
The Board of Assessors feels well rewarded when it receives this sort of response to its efforts to be fair to the Town of Winchester and fair to the taxpayers.

"Winchester, Mass.
December 16, 1952.
Board of Assessors,
Winchester, Mass.
Dear Sirs:

For your prompt attention and for the reassessment on my house and land I thank you. I do indeed consider it fair and just.

Believe me I do understand your position and it is one, I assure you, I do not envy. How you can remain so sincerely friendly and pleasant to each complainant is amazing. It was indeed a pleasure to meet the "Board" and I left with a satisfied feeling, no doubt, because you did make me see your side of the problem where before I had only considered my side.

My thanks to you again and to each one of you my sincere wish for a very Merry Christmas and also a very Happy New Year.
Sincerely yours"

ENJOYS CROSSING DISCUSSION!

January 6, 1953
Editor of the Star:
Greetings from the land of cattle, oil wells and tall stories.
Extend my best to "Bart" and "Henrie" on their fine jobs with the local teams. Am enjoying the Star as usual, even the "Railroad Crossing" discussion.

WINCHESTER SALES $9,000,000

The most recent complete Census of Business taken in Winchester, for the year 1948, disclosed that the town's 110 retail stores did a sales volume of over 9 million, while at the same time paying out nearly 1 million dollars in salaries, according to the U. S. Bureau of the Census.

For every retail store in the town, there were about 140 residents, the Bureau said, and pointed out, in comparison, that for the State, there were 87 persons per store, and for Middlesex County, 109 residents per retail store.

The next complete Census of Business to be taken in Winchester will be for the year 1953.

THE COLLECTORS SHOP, ANTIQUES

Esther B. Lewis and Eve Faden are pleased to announce that Katharine and Mildred Fonda and Madeline Gerrish are now associated with them at The Collectors Shop, Antiques, 371 Franklin street, Melrose Highlands. The shop will be open 10-5, Mondays through Fridays.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

To the naked eye, Venus is the most beautiful of all the planets, says the National Geographic Society. Periodically it appears as both the morning and evening star, so brilliant that it can be seen in daylight. Several reports of flying saucers have been traced to such appearances of Venus.

Main ingredient of the celebrated French chowder called bouillabaisse is one of the Mediterranean's ugliest fishes, a spiny monstrosity called scorpionfish which has the ability to change color to match its background.

"Corn" generally refers to the important cereal crop of a given region. In England, corn means wheat; in Scotland and Ireland, oats; in Australia and the United States, corn-on-the-cob, or maize.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS FROM FORMER RESIDENTS

RABBI JOSEPH KLEIN

THE SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will meet again this Sunday at 9:30 in Ripley Chapel for their weekly worship service, at which time they will have as their speaker Rabbi Joseph Klein of the Temple Emanuel in Worcester, Mass. The chaplain at this service will be Erskine Kelley. The ushers will be Steve Dunn and Jack Beggs.

Rabbi Klein received his early education in the public and Hebrew schools of Cleveland, Ohio, and was graduated from the Ohio State University, after which he was ordained as a rabbi at the Hebrew Union College. In addition to serving as a rabbi in Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts, he has been very active in the field of Jewish religious education in those communities. He has also been influential in civic affairs, and at his present location is serving on the boards of the Worcester Community Council, Community Chest, Red Cross, Jewish Welfare Fund, Citizens Council on Public Schools, and other community agencies.

Rabbi Klein's appeal to young people is evidenced by the popular demand made upon him for summer conference work. Members of the Forum are looking forward to his "Message from Judaism."

The Board of Adult Forum Advisers will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Ayer, Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, to consider particularly plans for International Week-end, which will be February 7 and 8.

HOMEFRONTERS

We want you servicemen who read the Star to know how happy we are to receive so many fine letters in response to our Christmas packages, birthday cards, and letters. Your letters are most welcome at any time and we will try to answer them as soon as possible.

We would also like to share with you homefolk two more of the letters which have been received that show how much it means to the boys to hear from home:

Germany
Dear Homefronters:
I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and the people of Winchester for the fine work you are doing in the old home town. I received your most generous Christmas gift in time for the holiday and must say it was very much appreciated. It's good to know the town hasn't forgotten you. I was especially glad to receive a copy of the map of Winchester with its clearly marked streets and buildings. I am sure all the boys and girls in the service who received your gifts will join me in saying "thanks" for bringing home a little closer to us at Christmas.
A Son of Winchester

Japan
Dear Homefronters,
Your Christmas box arrived here this morning and was very much appreciated. It is difficult to put into words the feeling it gives a man to know that the folks at home are willing to go to the time and trouble of preparing a box like this for him. Christmas away from home is at best a rather depressing time, and your thoughtfulness has done much to lift my spirits.

My very best wishes to all members of the Home of the Homefronters for a very Happy New Year. I hope I will have a chance to meet all of you in person when I return home of you in person when I return home.

Sincerely

good for export to other nations. There are so many fine things within the culture out here they should retain and export to us. This is all part and parcel of that basic problem of people in various nations understanding each other. It sounds very idealistic, but eventually it is something that must be done in order to bring some semblance of security throughout the world.

As for my job, I am entirely happy in this type of work. For those of you who do not know what the United States Information Service is doing throughout the world I will try to give you a brief explanation. In each country outside the Iron Curtain there are USIS offices. These offices have libraries that contain anywhere from five to twenty thousand volumes. They are pretty complete libraries as far as Americana goes. An attempt is made to specialize each library along the lines needed for that particular area. The one in Mindanao, although it is not as good as it should be, tries to emphasize agricultural material.

Besides the library we have what is called the Mass Media Section. In this section we have a film department, filmstrip department, press and publications department, and photo displays department. All these various sections are devoted to spreading information in regard to the truth about the Soviet Union and Communism; and at the same time, we have a section devoted to building stronger democracies. In the latter case, it may involve anything from developing good government to building a stronger economy. Of particular interest is the movie program. In my area of Mindanao, where we have a main office at Davao and three branch offices at Zamboanga City, Cagayande Oro City, and Cotabato, these mobile units have a crew of two men who travel throughout the area approximately twenty days a month per unit. During these trips they show movies every night at a different place. Meanwhile they are distributing all sorts of educational and propaganda literature. During the course of three or four months these five mobile unit teams can pretty well cover all of Mindanao.

Besides having these mobile units we also have five portable generators. These are used for movie showings in areas where there are no roads and travel must be done by boat or on foot. Sometimes the trips take on the appearance of an African safari. During the year I have been here we have shown movies to well over 1,100,000 and have distributed about a million pieces of literature. Of course you may well ask just what does this prove? Is this material effective and what changes are being made as a result of it? This is a question that cannot be answered by us working with the program. In other words, we have to justify our existence. Probably the best example of what USIS has been able to do in the Philippines is the fact that the treasonous movements in peace and order and also in the free and clean elections held in 1951. While we who are working here can see many other things that are a result of our work, it is not easy to pin anything down in a written and graphic report which will convince congressmen that—six communists have become good democrats because they read a USIS pamphlet.

I am afraid that I am giving you a very inadequate picture of USIS work, but it is the best I can do in limited space. When we come home next year you will probably have a hard time shutting me up. I am thoroughly convinced that we could use something of the same nature in the United States to let Americans know what goes on in other countries. Every country in the world knows what goes on in the U. S., but very few Americans know what goes on in the rest of the world.

Before I sign off I would like to tell you what a gorgeous country this is and how hospitable and friendly the Filipinos are. I travel throughout my area of Mindanao once a month and I never cease to marvel at the beautiful mountains, roaring waterfalls, deep canyons, and high plateaus. This is an area very much underdeveloped, but enormously wealthy in natural resources. I have seen trees here that can be compared with the redwoods of California and there are thousands and thousands of them. For the benefit of the women I must tell you something that Virg forgot—you will never see any more beautiful flowers growing wild and uncultivated than here. In our own yard we have a gardenia hedge and the bougainvillea and sampaguita are everywhere. Orchids, believe it or not, are plentiful and cheap. The rarest in the world are not so rare in these parts—the wal-

BOYS HELD IN LOCAL BREAK

Five boys who worked according to a carefully laid plan were picked up early Wednesday morning by the Winchester Police and are being held in connection with the break made at the Winchester Provision Company's market on Main street in the center sometime between closing time Saturday night at 6:30 and 8:30 Sunday morning when the break was discovered.

Access to the store was gained by cutting away a circle of wood in the panel of the rear door opening on an alley behind the store. The boys found no money in the store and took little aside from cigarettes.

Sgt. John Dolan and Officer William Haggerty worked all day Monday and Monday night investigating the case, making a trip to Chelsea where information was received that led to the arrest of the boys, one a resident of Winchester, one living in Reading and the other three being sons of service people who attend school in Winchester.

The two oldest of the quintet, aged 17 and 16 years old, appeared in District Court Wednesday morning when Justice William Henchey found probable cause on the breaking and entering in the night time count and ordered both youths held in $2,500 each for appearance before the Grand Jury.

The other three boys, all juveniles, were booked as delinquents and will appear at a session of juvenile court in the near future. Meanwhile Chief Charles J. Harold was much pleased at the investigation and prompt action of Sgt. Dolan and Officer Haggerty both of whom spent a "day off" in working on the case.

SEVEN ASSOCIATED COLLEGES MEETING

The Alumnae Clubs of the Seven Associated Colleges will hold their 27th annual meeting on Saturday, January 24, at 2:30, in John Hancock Hall. Many Winchester alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, at Mt. Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley will hear Miss Jean Palmer, assistant to the president of Barnard College, speak on "What is the Role of the Independent Women's Colleges today?"

Miss Palmer has been on the Barnard staff since 1946. Previously she was for fourteen years business manager of the Association of the Junior League of America. She was a captain in the Navy in World War II, and in 1946 she succeeded Mrs. Mildred McAfee Horton as Director of the WAVES.

Mrs. Langley C. Keyes of Copley street, as Vassar representative on the general committee for the day, will attend a small luncheon at the Junior League preceding the meeting to which the presidents of the Seven Colleges, the presidents of the Boston Alumnae Clubs, and the members of the organizing committee have been invited.

Man in his true selfhood reflects only good, God, for God is the source of his eternal being. This is the theme to be stressed in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life," which will be heard at Christian Science services on Sunday.
That man's light and life are derived from God is brought out in Bible passages to be read, including this one from Psalms (36:1): "For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light."
A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy includes: "God is divine Life, and Life is no more confined to the body which reflect it than substance is to its shadow. . . . Life is Mind, the creator reflected in His creations." (331:1-3, 5 only).
The Golden Text is from Psalms (16:5, 11): "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. . . . Thou wilt shew me the path of life."

BASKETBALL GAMES

The Winchester High basketball team plays at Concord tonight when it tackles a greatly improved Patriot quintet. The seating capacity at Concord is sufficient to handle the Winchester fans that would like to see their favorites in action. After their narrow squeak at Reading on Tuesday, Coach Bartlett is hopeful that his charges will bounce back with a good performance at Concord tonight.

Next Tuesday afternoon the Indians will travel to Belmont for one of the key games on the Winchester schedule. It is no secret that Belmont is the team the Indians must beat on their march to a third straight Middlesex League title. Both teams are undefeated, having won six straight games, and the winner of this one will take over the favorite's role for the League crown. Both teams had narrow escapes last Tuesday when the locals edged Reading in an overtime period and Belmont nosed out Lexington by one point. Thus, both tested successfully under pressure, they are ready to battle for the League leadership.

Next Friday night the Indians will be at home again, with Lexington High as the opposition. This should be one of the best games on the home schedule, as Lexington is very strong, as indicated by their overtime victory over Reading and their one-point loss to Belmont. Meeting Belmont and Lexington in the same week is a rugged assignment for the locals, but that is the way that champions are made.

CARNIVAL CO-CHAIRMAN

Miss Margaret Mahoney, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Charles B. Mahoney of 228 Cambridge street has recently been appointed co-chairman of arrangements for the Annual Winter Carnival at Mount Saint Mary College, Hocksett, New Hampshire.

Miss Mahoney is a member of the Book, Dramatic and Political Science Clubs, and a past member of the International Relations Club. She is also Class Historian, Student Council Representative and Clerk of the Student Court, the student disciplinary branch of student government. A Latin major, she has maintained Dean's List status throughout the past three years.

Miss Mahoney has been chairman of various committees for Guild Sunday, Freshman - Sophomore Weekend, Fall Festival, and Sophomore Hop. She is also on the staff of The Charter News, the official college newspaper.

The Winter Carnival, January 30 to February 1 will include a sock dance, sleigh ride, catered breakfast, and will be highlighted by the "Coronation Cotillion," featuring Ted Herbert and his orchestra, at the Hotel Carpenter Ballroom in Manchester, New Hampshire.

JAPAN BOUND

Pvt. Frank J. Carroll, Jr., of 26 Swanton street, is on his way to Japan, having sailed from Camp Stoneman, Pittsburg, Calif., January 6.

Pvt. Carroll, who graduated from Leadership School at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., on December 4, drove north to Winchester to spend a 24 day leave over Christmas with his parents. He flew from Logan Air Port to Camp Stoneman, January 1, and following his arrival in Japan will go on to service in Korea.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

It's hard to know whether it was the thirst for knowledge or the prospect of hearing John Nicol Mark that brought out the crowd on Monday night. Whatever it was, 121 members and guests of the College Club launched the study group program with enthusiasm. Still another 20 persons will join this group to begin the series of studies, meeting every other Monday evening starting January 26. Heartfelt thanks are extended to all who helped with this initial meeting, including the Winchester Conservatories. Those working on the committee were:

Mrs. William E. Spaulding
Mrs. Isaiah Bullard
Mrs. Richard Wyman
Mrs. Robert D. Lowry
Mrs. Waldo Lyon
Mrs. Rodney Long
Mrs. Walter P. Keyes
Mrs. J. Willing, Chairman

JR. MRS. GUILD

On Tuesday evening, January 20th, at 7:45 p. m., members of the Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church will have an opportunity to "be done in charcoal." A lively evening is in store for everyone when Helen Wilson Sherman sits at the easel and works her wonders in charcoal portraits. Mrs. Sherman, a prominent yachtswoman from T. Wharf, Boston, is widely known as an outstanding artist in the field of charcoal portraits. Her specialty is animal portraiture and her works are famous from Florida to Massachusetts. During World War II she did Red Cross work at the local veterans' hospitals, spending many hours entertaining servicemen with her artistry. Mrs. Sherman has had exhibits in Boston, including the renowned showing at Jordan Marsh Company. Come and enjoy an evening of distinctly different entertainment!

SCHOOL OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

A stellar list of speakers including two assistant secretaries-general of the United Nations, a state department official, two members of the faculty of Harvard Law School, and an executive of the California Texas Oil Company will focus attention on "Cooperation and Conflict in the World Today," the general subject of the 31st School of International Relations of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts in Cooperation with Radcliffe College.

The school will be held at the Hotel Continental, Garden Street, Cambridge, on Wednesday, January 21, and Thursday, January 22. The daytime sessions begin at 10:30 and 2:30 and the Wednesday evening session at Agassiz House starts at 8:00. For further information or for transportation to any of the sessions, call Mrs. Powell of the Winchester League, Winchester 6-3487.

Particularly interesting in view of the current reappraisal of United States foreign policy under a new administration is the program for Wednesday afternoon, when John M. Leddy of the state department, Oleg Hoffding, an economist and specialist on Russian economy, and Francis McIntyre of the CalTex organization will discuss aspects of "Trade, not Aid."

On Wednesday eve Dexter Perkins, professor of history at the University of Rochester and well-known writer on American foreign policy will speak on the probable directions of our foreign policy under the new administration. The Thursday afternoon session will be devoted to Africa.

The Winchester League has been preparing for a study of international relations with its United Nations Workshop in September and its unit meetings in October on the United Nations and its unit meetings on January 8 on international trade.

REMEMBER THE BIRDS

Dr. Eric E. Hanson, President of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston, yesterday appealed to bird lovers everywhere to help their feathered friends survive the extreme cold weather by putting out food for them. During the bitter cold days, particularly when the ground is covered with snow and ice, it is highly desirable that grain, bread crumbs, corn meal, etc., be spread where birds can reach them, thus eliminating the possibility of suffering which might result through lack of their natural diet.

"The most satisfactory method of putting out food for them," stated the Society head, "is to place it on a large board with a molding around the edge. In this way it is not scattered or lost."

"We cannot urge too strongly," concluded Dr. Hansen, "that everyone remember the birds, so that when spring arrives, these attractive creatures will be with us once again with their beauty and song."

PARENT-FACULTY CARD PARTY

The annual benefit card party given by the High School Parent-Faculty Association has been set for Wednesday evening, February 4th from 8 to 11 o'clock at the High School gymnasium.

This is the only major project undertaken by the Association in the course of the year principally for the assistance of the Scholarship Fund. High School parents are cordially invited, and will be notified as to further details by their room mothers.

Bridge and Canasta players should remember to bring their own cards and other table accessories. Light refreshments will be available.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR VISITED ROTARY

District Governor Forbes H. Norris of the 28th Rotary District paid his annual visitation yesterday to Winchester Rotary, the club of which he is a member and the only member to hold this high office since its inception of the club.

It was the regular weekly meeting of Winchester Rotary held in the Masonic Apartments and 91 percent of the membership was present.

Seated at the head table with President W. Allan Wilde and District Governor Norris were the Rotary Annals, Mr. Norris and Mrs. Norris; Treasurer Dean Duncan, Vice President John Blundy, Secretary Lynn Sanford, Secretary Don. Walter Lee Bailey, Secretary Don. Heath and Sgt.-Arms Roy Horn. The flowers decorating the head table were presented to Mrs. Wilde and Mrs. Norris by the club.

An impressive list of invited guests was present, including President Winslow W. Kingman of Arlington, President E. Wayne Donaldson of Belmont, President Aaron Marshall Jones of Boston, President Arthur C. Hyden of Cambridge, President Robert W. Smith of Everett, Vice-President Paul Drole of Haverhill, President Gail Smith of Lexington, Vice-President Oscar Latorre of Lynn, President Donald A. Welch of Malden, President Leo C. Donahue of Somerville, Past President Fred Lawson of Stoneham, President John J. Black of Woburn, President Joseph O. Rockey of Medford, President Samuel F. Gordon of Ipswich, President Adrian Durkee of Wilmington, President Vernon Clement of Danvers, President Joseph F. O'Hern, Jr., of Winthrop, President Philip Welch of Reading, President Geoffrey Glendinning of Lawrence, President William Coley of Salem and President Thomas H. Bott of Beverly.

This was an impressive showing of visiting Rotarians, properly commensurate with the reputation of Dr. Norris as a speaker, many of the guest officials in fact stating they had made special efforts to be present to hear him.

President Wilde introduced in turn the visiting officers and also those seated at the head table. Incidentally Dr. Norris was quite surprised to see his wife among the head table guests.

Dr. Norris gave one of his typically brilliant and witty addresses on the intriguing topic, "Rotary, an Adventure in Life". Throughout his address he had the closest attention of his entire audience, the applause that greeted him at the conclusion of his remarks being both spontaneous and particularly enthusiastic.

Dr. Churchill J. Hines, in his own inimitable way, led the group singing, with the one and only Jim McGrath at the piano. After a couple of numbers, "Dud" and "Jim" gave out with the club favorite "Alouette", to which the rafters sang.

Glen Browning made a tape recording of the meeting which will prove an interesting treat to all who were present as well as to those who for one reason or another couldn't make this inspiring session.

LEGION INTRODUCES NEW FORM OF SOCIAL EVENT

Post 97, American Legion, will introduce a new type of social event on Friday night, January 23, at 8:30 on that evening "Dud" Briggs, famous square dance caller, will start off the evening with old-fashioned barn dance music and instruction in this popular style of dancing. At 10:30 an old-fashioned country auction will be held.

This affair will be unique in that no money will be accepted for admission, but all are required to bring some useful household article to be sold at the auction. In order that the auction will be a success, the committee chairman, Sandy Mackenzie, has made sure in advance that many fine and useful gifts will be on hand.

To give the event that old-fashioned country flavor those attending are urged to don their most comfortable hay-pitching regalia. There will be laughs galore and fun for all who want to let down their hair and forget their income-tax troubles.

Local Names on the committee include those of Dr. Arthur W. Collins, 106 Wendell street, Past Commander of Winchester Post No. 97; Charles W. Meek, Jr., Commander of Winchester Post No. 97; Alexander W. McKenzie, Washington street, Joseph McKee, John McCarthy of 220 Cambridge street; Albert Horne, Thompson street and Ralph Scott of Nelson street.

A sumptuous steak dinner was served and was followed by colorful motion pictures of Harvard's successful crew race in Washington, Seattle, in 1947, shown by the then crew coach and present athletic director of Harvard, Tom Bolles.

Among the invited guests were Winchester's athletic director, Henry Knowlton, Coach Tony Detesio of Stoneham High, Coach Paul Dorington of Woburn High, Coach Tom O'Donnell of Wakefield High and Coach Joe Crowley of Reading High.

GRINDLE PRESIDED

Wade L. Grindle, principal of the high school, presided as vice president at the meeting of the Eastern Middlesex Harvard Club Tuesday evening at the Bear Hill Country Club.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Interest and enthusiasm is running high since Rev. Walter L. Bailey has taken over the teaching of the Girl's High School Class at First Baptist Church. Last Sunday in spite of the storm the attendance was excellent. The class adopted the following rules:

Regular Attendance
Punctuality
Reverential attention during classes
Preparation of Lessons
Get other girls to attend
The projects they will undertake for the remainder of the year include: redecorate their room; placing of appropriate pictures; a browsing party; a Tea for their mothers and other interested women of the Church; straighten up and list garments in the costume closet; raise money to secure additional costumes; have charge of the Jewelry Table at the Fair next fall; read the beautiful book "Ann of Aya" and many other instructive things.

TWO FIRES TUESDAY

Tuesday afternoon's alarm from Box 542 at 3:55 was for a defective oil burner at the home of Mr. J. C. Forte, principal of the Mystic School, who lives at 74 Woodside road. The smoke was especially heavy in the basement and on the first floor, smoke ejectors being used for half an hour to clear the house. Extensive damage resulted from the smoke, but there was little or no fire.

At 8:29 Wednesday evening Gunner Abrahamson notified the Central Station that the lights had gone out during a meeting being held at the First Baptist Church. Ladder 1 and the Chief's car went to the church with floodlights and generators, providing emergency lighting until Firefighter Everett Kimball located the trouble, a blown-out fuse, and corrected it.

METHODIST ANNUAL MEETING TUESDAY

All members of the Crawford Memorial Methodist are expected to express their interest in attending its Annual Meeting at 8 p.m. this coming Tuesday at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. The District Superintendent will preside while reports of the years work are presented from officers, committees, organizations and the pastor.

It is the highlight meeting of the year from an administrative standpoint and in about an hour's time, one may get the highlights of the accomplishments of the total church program.

Members are urged to be present because of the combined duty and pleasure involved and also to gain a first hand knowledge of the progress of the church.

FORMER RESIDENTS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Strong, formerly well known residents of Winchester, have returned to town and are making their home at 326 Highland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Strong left Winchester some years ago to make their home in Andover where their sons, Frank and Carlton, Jr., were attending Phillips Academy in that town. They then lived on Chestnut street in Boston before returning to Winchester. Incidentally, their parents home in town was at 7 Highland avenue, but not at their present address.

The Strong's son, Frank, and his wife are presently living with his parents here, and Carlton, Jr., will join the family as soon as he is released from the Navy, which will be in the near future.

SERVING WITH ATLANTIC FLEET

Serving aboard the USS LST 533 of the Atlantic Fleet Service Force is Daniel C. Pearson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Pearson of 755 Main street.

Commissioned in 1944, this ship participated in the famed Normandy landing of World War II and also the subsequent buildup of that beach-head.

When the Channel Islands were occupied, and the German forces of Norway thrown over, the 533 was again on the job.

After V-E Day she returned to the United States and was assigned duty with the logistics services.

Since that time the ship has supported the Naval Air Station, Port Lyautey, French Morocco, and the Naval Operating Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of three calls for the Fire Department were for a fire week-end was at 8:21 Friday evening, for a flooded oil burner in the kitchen range at the home of Park Commissioner James H. Coon, 12 Brooks street.

Saturday afternoon at 4:25 there was a flooded oil space burner at the home of Mr. Thomas Sola, 11 Pleasant street.

The Fire Department received a telephone call at 8:50 Saturday evening when driver William E. McDonald, Jr., discovered that the linings were afire on the Park Department truck. He was using in snow-removal work on Nelson street. There was little actual damage done.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherford of Candlerbrook, Pa., are the parents of a daughter, born January 12. Mrs. Rutherford is the former Jane Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Anderson of Arlington. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rutherford of Winslow road. John and Jane's daughter arrived on the first night her parents were spending in their new home in Candlerbrook, materially altering the original plans that had been made for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman M. Clarke of Claremont, N. H., are the parents of a third child, 2nd son, Douglas Parker Clarke, born January 13, at the Claremont General Hospital. Grandparent honors are shared by Mr. and Mrs. Leon A. Sparkhawk of Harwichport and Mr. and Mrs. T. Parker Clarke of 123 Mt. Vernon street.

Mr. and Mrs. David D. Connors of 6 Birch lane are the parents of a second daughter, Dianne Grace, born December 30, at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carruthers of 1 Birch lane and Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Connors of 49 Salisbury street.

Mr. and Mrs. Remington A. Clark (Suzanne Wolff) of Marblehead announce the birth of their second son, Winsor Curtis Clark, on January 10th at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Wolff of Stowell road and Mrs. Marion R. Clark of Lewis road.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

In spite of inclement weather, the regular meeting of The Fortnightly last Monday was well attended. Mrs. Forbes H. Norris, First Vice-President, presided over a short business meeting.

The speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Thomas E. Caulfield, whose subject was "Psychiatry in the Community" brought us an interesting and informative message. Dr. Caulfield said that he was always glad of the opportunity to speak before a group such as ours in order to form a better understanding between the Psychiatrist and the Community. The main points brought out were first, that there is nothing shameful about mental illness, it is actually a medical illness involving a community and that after treatment by a Psychiatrist, an acceptance of the patient into a happy stable community life will hasten their recovery. Second, Public opinion can be a great aid or detriment to a patient as they are very sensitive and need to feel confident of their place in a family and a community. A question period followed.

A Winchester High School Octette, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Anfantis, presented a delightful musical program which included such familiar songs, "Dearie", "Summertime", "Surrey With The Fringe On The Top" and others. Also two vocal solos by Louise Orgettas, and a piano solo by Judith Fowler. The Octette members were: Barbara Hickey, Nancy Rose, Constance Shelling, Elizabeth Curtis, Carol Orgettas, Nancy Ayer, Carol Damon and Janet Archibald. Accompanist at the piano was Charlotte Nutter, and Announcer, Janet Archibald.

At the close of the afternoon, a table beautifully decorated with a centerpiece of pastel flowers and white candles, tea was served. Mrs. Ragnar T. Brant and Mrs. Hiram Moody poured assisted by the following hostesses: Mrs. Edward Bartlett, Mrs. Marion Clarke, Mrs. Leonard Griffiths and Mrs. Ralph Meigs.

Education Committee

Mrs. Stewart Chaffe, chairman, announces a meeting at her home, 7 Warren street, Thursday, January 22, at 10:00 a.m. Coffee will be served. The speaker will be Mr. John A. McCarthy of the Red Cross, whose subject will be "The Blood Program Is Yours". A film will be shown and there will be a question period. Members are cordially welcome.

Music Committee

The Fortnightly Choral Group will meet at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hiscoe, 1 Lagrange street, at 1:30 p.m. Monday, January 19th for rehearsal.

Next Regular Meeting

The next regular meeting will be held upstairs in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church. The date is January 26th and the program "Adventures in Reading", by Marion T. Rudkin.

FRESHMEN WIN FOURTH STRAIGHT

The Winchester Freshmen made it four straight victories for the season by defeating the Wakefield Freshmen 75-43 at the high school gym on Tuesday afternoon. The papooses racked up a big 25-6 lead in the first quarter and were in complete charge the rest of the way. Bert Kneeland continued his high scoring with 18 points while Frank Dattilo shone off the boards while collecting 13 points.

The Winchester Junior High team was extended to the limit to sum a well deserved 24-14 victory over the Wakefield Junior High. This is the first time in four games that the locals have been pressed but they came through nicely with John Chapin and Mike Callahan playing leading roles.

JUNIOR SKIPS LEAD AGAIN

This week the Curlers had more Junior Skip matches. Russ Symmes and his rink took Howard Eteson 10-6, while Carroll Knowlton won from Bill Ferguson 11-7. The third match, between Craig Greiner and Jim Scott resulted in a 17-3 win for Craig. The regular skips had a match of their own and Dick Neiley won 9-7 from John Joy.

Two Winchester rinks are at St. Andrews this week, two more are curling in the Worcester Cup at Brookline, Thursday, and one will go to Utica next week. Winchester rinks will also be at Nashua, Quebec, Schenectady and Montreal in the following weeks, and in between there will be the Dykes and Stockton Bonspiels at Brookline.

Starting next week the matches will continue for our own Young and White Cups.

BREAK AT WEST SIDE HOME

Last week Thursday night at 11 o'clock police headquarters was notified of a break at the home of Mr. Allen W. Bryson, 48 Salisbury street.

Officers Irving Reardon and William Haggerty were sent to investigate and were told by the Brysons that as they returned home after being out for the evening they saw two men jump from a lower window of the house and run away.

The police followed their tracks as far as they were visible but it was snowing at the time and they soon lost the trail, which headed in the direction of Woburn. Meanwhile other police reported at the home and found that the house had been ransacked, but that so far as could be immediately learned only two articles of jewelry were missing.

Access was gained to the house by jumping a rear window, leading into the kitchen. The thieves left by an open living-room window, heading in the direction of Cambridge street.

WRECKAGE OF CAR IN WHICH BELMONT MINISTER'S WIFE LOST LIFE
FATAL ACCIDENT LAST SATURDAY

Mrs. Minnie J. Read, 67, wife of Rev. Otis B. Read, 69, retired Belmont clergyman, was killed and her husband critically injured at 8:46 last Saturday morning when the Chevrolet sedan in which they were riding was in a collision at the intersection of the Parkway and Main street with an Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Bus.

According to the police the automobile, which was being driven by Mr. Read, was headed easterly on the Parkway and was crossing Main street, while the bus, being operated by Charles Sheeran of 5 Myrtle street, Woburn was headed north on Main street in the direction of the center.

The collision took place in the intersection and the force of the impact spun the automobile completely around so that it finally stopped after knocking down the standard of the flashing beacon at the northeast corner of the intersection of the two streets near the Mill Pond.

The car was badly wrecked and both Mr. Read and his wife were pinned in the wreckage. The police ambulance was sent to the scene with Officers John Murray and Clarence Dunbury, Engine 4 of the Fire Department also reporting with Captain Frank Amico and Firefighters Henry Heitz and Joseph Donahue.

Mr. Read was removed from the car through the door on the driver's side, and rushed to the hospital in the police ambulance by Officers Murray and Dunbury assisted by Firefighter Donahue. His name was placed on the danger list and his injuries described as a broken pelvis, six broken ribs, multiple cuts and abrasions about the head and face and possible internal injuries.

While the firefighters were working to remove Mrs. Read from the car, Metropolitan Officers Clarke and DiNatale summoned an MDC ambulance by radio. It was necessary to rip off the door on the right side of the car with bars and axes to free Mrs. Read, who was not conscious and apparently badly injured. She was taken in the MDC ambulance to the Winchester Hospital where she was pronounced dead upon arrival. Medical Examiner John D. Wilcox of Woburn attributed her death to a fractured neck.

One of the six passengers riding in the bus, Guy Cambria of 7 Cornhill street, Roxbury, complained of cuts and bruises after the accident, it being reported that he was standing in the bus at the time of the collision waiting to alight at the bus stop in the center.

Both the car and bus were disabled, the former being towed to Haggerty's Garage on upper Main street with the bus being towed away by an Eastern Massachusetts wrecker.

A hearing will be held at the District Court in Woburn today upon the issuance of a complaint in connection with the accident, which was covered by Registry of Motor Vehicles Personnel and officials of the Bus Company, as well as by the local police.

The accident was the second in which a death occurred as the result of a motor vehicle collision in Winchester within a year, the previous one having occurred on July 4 at the junction of Cambridge and Wildwood streets. A Malden man was killed in that collision.

Besides her husband Mrs. Read leaves three daughters, Mrs. David W. Russell of Taunton, Mrs. Winston C. Clark of Amesbury and Miss Florence Reed of Belmont; a son, Rev. Otis B. Read, Jr., pastor of the Open Bible Tabernacle in Baltimore, Md., a sister, Mrs. James Foot, and a brother, James MacGillivray, both of Sidney, N. S.

Services were held Tuesday at the Eastman Funeral Home in Boston with burial at Union Cemetery, Amesbury.

Rev. Mr. Read is a retired pastor of the Waterbury Tabernacle and an elder of the Open Bible Church of Boston. Though in critical condition, he was reported as making a gallant fight for recovery on Monday.

DANIEL EDMUND HURLEY

Daniel Edmund Hurley, retired postal employee and widely known taxi operator, died early Monday afternoon, January 19, at the Madford Orthopedic Nursing Home in West Medford. He had been in poor health since late last October when he suffered a shock, and before entering the nursing home in December he had been for months a patient at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Brighton. His home was at 71 Holland street.

Mr. Hurley was the son of John, and Mary (Sullivan) Hurley. He was born August 3, 1880, in Winchester, and spent his entire life in the Winchester schools and at Winchester High School.

As a young man he worked in the McKay factory of the United Shoe Machinery Company, then located on Swanton street, and later, in the Whitney Machine Shop, located for many years at the corner of the Parkway and Main street and later on upper Main street at the site now occupied by the Winchester Theatre. He was also employed for a time at the Blake Pump Works in Cambridge.

In 1915, Mr. Hurley entered the postal service as a clerk at the North Postal Station. Five years later he came to Winchester office as a carrier of rural mail, continuing in this capacity until 1945 when he reached the mandatory retirement age.

During all of his years at the local postoffice Mr. Hurley operated a taxi on a part-time basis as his postal duties permitted, and he continued in this business until forced to retire because of poor health. He was a member of the Winchester Postoffice Employees Association, a former member of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus, and the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Parish.

Mr. Hurley's years of service at the Postoffice and as a taxi operator brought him into contact with many of the town's residents, and he was held in esteem by all who knew him, a friendly disposition and pleasant manner winning him many friends.

He had many charities in which he was interested, and for many years at Christmas he remembered the children of his neighborhood with greetings and presents. His kindness in this respect was returned during his days in the Postoffice by the many thoughtful beneficiaries of his kindness, many now grown up, contributed to some really beautiful flowers which were sent to Mr. Hurley.

Mr. Hurley was unmarried. He leaves a sister, Miss Hannah F. Hurley of Winchester; three nieces, Misses Mary and Anna MacPartlin, and Mrs. Joseph McDonough; and two nephews, Thomas and John MacPartlin, all of Winchester.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the Lane funeral home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. A first cousin of Mr. Hurley, Rev. Fr. O'Connell, of St. John's of Boston College, was celebrant. Rev. Fr. Joseph McNeill was deacon and Rev. Fr. John J. Grant, subdeacon.

Postmaster Thomas Gilgun headed the following employees of the Winchester Postoffice who served as honorary bearers, Edward Martin, Dennis Collins, William Dunn, Bernard Callahan, Clarence Chamberland and John McGurn. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

JANET GERTRUDE ROONEY

Janet Gertrude Rooney, infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rooney (Gertrude McNally) of 214 Washington street, died very suddenly Friday morning, January 16, at her home. She was two months old and previous to her sudden passing had not been ill at all.

Besides her parents, Janet Gertrude leaves three sisters, Joan, 5, Martha, 2, and Marilyn, 18 months. Also surviving is the grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude McNally of this town.

Funeral services were conducted at the Rooney home Saturday afternoon by Rev. Fr. Charles A. Andover of St. John's Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MINISTERS' ASSOCIATION

The Ministers' Association of Winchester sponsored a fellowship occasion at the First Baptist Church Monday evening, January 19, honoring the Rev. Dr. J. C. Cartwright, installed pastor of First Congregational Church, Resident Protestant Ministers of Winchester were also present at this happy occasion.

This gathering was purposely kept simple and informal, each minister introducing himself by giving a brief sketch of his life, including his education, churches served and something about his present affiliations of First Baptist Church served refreshments and the evening closed on a high level of friendship and good fellowship.

NEW HONOR FOR MRS. POND

Mrs. Shepard Pond of 2 Salisbury street is the recipient of the Farran Zerbe Memorial Award in Numismatics for 1952, given by the American Numismatic Association, which has a membership of over 8,000.

This award is presented annually to a member for distinguished service in the advancement of the science of numismatics. It is given in memory and honor of the late Mr. Zerbe, an outstanding scholar and the dean of American numismatists. He formed the famous Moneys of the World Collection now owned by the Chase National Bank, and it is considered one of the points of interest in New York's financial district. With over 100,000 educational exhibits and an associated library, it is now open to the public.

BOY BROKE THROUGH ICE

Scout training helped John McDonough, 9, of 26 Shepard street, extricate himself from Wedge Pond Wednesday afternoon when he broke through the ice of Lake street at the newly-dredged section of the pond some 15 feet from shore.

John had gotten out onto the ice and started to walk ashore when he broke through into the water again. Joseph Camara, 14, of 85 Woodside street, a Boy Scout of Troop 3, remembered his Scout training and shouted to the struggling boy, telling him to crawl, not walk over the ice. Young McDonough did so and was just getting ashore when members of the first department arrived with Engine 4, Ladder 1 and the life-saving boat, the detachment being in charge of Captain J. Edward Noonan.

The accident was reported to the first department by Mrs. Margaret Nauffts of Wedge Pond road, who saw the boy in the water. Dan Gannon, 12, of 6 Ardley road, who was with Camara on shore, was getting the life-saving ladder to assist young McDonough when the firefighters arrived.

The soaked youngster was bundled into the closed car of Park Superintendent Stanley Mullen and taken home by Supt. Mullen and William E. McDonald Jr.

DOG SAVED FROM LAKE

Captain J. Edward Noonan and Firefighter John O'Melia rescued an Irish setter owned by Dunbar Shanklin of Everett avenue from drowning yesterday morning in the channel of the Lake near the bridge where the river enters the lake at the Parkway.

Mrs. Margaret Colony of 6 Mystic Valley Parkway called the Central Station shortly before 10 o'clock reporting that her dog, a setter, had been in the lake nearby.

Captain J. Edward Noonan led a detachment of firefighters to the lake with the department's life-saving boat, he and Firefighter O'Melia rowing out about 300 feet to the dog. The Irish setter animal was delighted to be hauled into the boat and members of the Shanklin family were equally pleased when their dog arrived home in the car of Fire Chief Callahan.

When the firefighters arrived at the Lake there were two dogs on the ice, and the Shanklin dog, in the water. The whereabouts of the other dogs isn't known.

WEST SIDE HOUSEBREAK SOLVED

Parolee from Murder Sentence Caught by Police

Officers John Boyle and James H. Noonan, while patrolling the west side of town last Saturday evening, picked up a man in the Blossom Hill section who police say broke into the home of Mr. Allen W. Bryson at 48 Salisbury street Thursday night, January 8.

Officers Boyle and Noonan first noticed a Studebaker sedan parked on Blossom Hill shortly before 9:30. No one was with the car and no one was in the immediate vicinity.

During a systematic search of the neighborhood the police found a man who said he was the owner of the Studebaker, but who, in response to questioning, was unable to give any good reason, either as to why he was in the neighborhood or why he had left his car on Blossom Hill.

The man gave his name as Paul H. Smith, living in Malden. He was taken to headquarters and questioned further by Chief Charles J. Harold, Sgt. Edward F. Bowler and by Officers Boyle and Noonan.

The questioning brought out the fact that Smith had been convicted of murder in 1930 when a teenager, and had received a life sentence for his crime, being paroled about four years ago. In his car were found tools such as those used by house-breakers, and after more questioning Smith was booked on a charge of being in possession of burglars' tools.

Sunday morning Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy in company with a Malden police inspector visited Smith's rooming house, where a search of his room revealed jewelry and effects stolen from the Bryson home on January 8.

This evidence, proving conclusive, Smith was arraigned in the District Court at Woburn Monday morning. He entered a plea of guilty to burglary and was bound over for appearance before the Grand Jury at the February sitting. In lieu of bail he was committed to jail at East Cambridge to await trial.

EDWARD E. HAWKES

Funeral services for Edward E. Hawkes of 47 Henry street, retired New York roofing contractor and Navy Yard worker, were held last Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Saville Chapel in Arlington. The Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Middleboro.

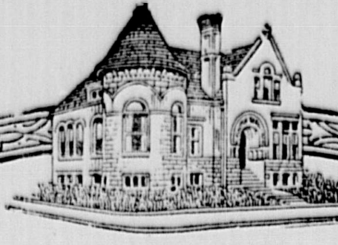

Mr. Hawkes died Wednesday, January 14, at his home. Born May 12, 1882 in New York City, he was the son of Amos, and Fanny (Ellis) Hawkes. He had lived in Winchester for the past 14 years, coming to this town from New York.

Mr. Hawkes leaves his wife, four sons, Robert, of Brooklyn, Conn.; Stanley, of Whittier, Calif.; Lloyd, of Winchester; and Wilfred, of Winchester; five daughters, Mrs. Marion Higgins of Altadena, Calif.; Mrs. Blanche McDonald of Sunnyside, Long Island, N. Y.; Mrs. Hazel Casey, of the Bronx, N. Y.; Miss Frances Hawkes of New York City and Mrs. Isabel Engelhart of Scranton, Pa.; also a brother and a sister.

HEADS HARVARD SOCIETY

It was announced in Boston last Thursday that Dr. William L. Wilcox of 8 Onondaga road is President-elect of the Harvard Odontological Society. Dr. Wilcox is a graduate of Harvard University Dental School and before coming to Winchester was an instructor of orthodontics at Harvard for several years. More recently, he has been associated with Phillips Andover Academy and is a visiting lecturer in orthodontics at the Tufts Dental School.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Troop 44 reports: "A successful winter overnight was held at Cedar Hill Friday, January 16th, with Mrs. Stanley Cairncross, our leader, Miss Norma Farrar as guest, and 14 happy girls. Our cabin, 'Top-lofty', with pot-bellied stove, oil lamps, and no running water was indeed a contrast to our Winchester Girl Scout Cabin. The troop was divided into three committees, each one planning a complete meal, buying the food, preparing and serving it, and cleaning up afterwards. After supper we played hostesses to a Senior Troop from Billerica and one from Brookline. We played games and sang, while Norma played the uke. In the morning, although the crust on the snow made skiing impossible, sliding on toboggans, boards, sleds or just plain feet, was great fun. Norma, with her 2 1/2 vision, enjoyed tobogganing and all the fun of camping as much as any of us, going gaily down the slides with perfect confidence." Signed: Ellen Glowacki, Scribe.

If you wonder just what Barbara McDonald does with her time, here are some of the few meetings she has to arrange and schedule for our very active organization:

Monday, January 26th, Staff and Office Committee Meeting at the Office at 10 a. m. sharp.

Monday, January 26th, Capping of the Hospital Aides, at the Nurses Home, at 7:30 p. m. The speaker, Miss Elsie Cross will discuss "Nursing as a Career for You".

Tuesday, January 27th, Third Session of the Basic Training Class. This will be a very special meeting, to be held at the Baptist Church from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. It is open to all Brownie and Intermediate Leaders, and also to Den Mothers of the Boy Scouts. Mr. Richard Foley of the Somerville Recreation Board will be the man in charge, and he will definitely settle many problems such as what to do with coffee grounds, to make them really useful, and what you do with the ham bone, after you have used it for soup. He doesn't throw it away! Bring your sandwiches. Stay all day. Coffee will be served.

Wednesday, January 28. Camp Committee Meeting at the Office at 9:30 a. m. promptly.

Thursday, January 29. Organization Committee Meeting at the Girl Scout Office, at 10 a. m.

Thursday, January 29. Program Committee Meeting, also at the Office, at 1:30 p. m.

Then Barbara says "Be sure to save February 3rd, and the morning of February 4th. It will be good! Look in the Star for more information next week."

SERIES AT METHODIST CHURCH

Beginning this Sunday, Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist will preach on the history of the Christian Church from the 1st century through the present time. His subject for this Sunday will be, "I Am a Catholic."

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly will be held in the Sanctuary of the First Baptist Church on Monday, January 26th, at 2:00 p. m., with the president, Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, presiding.

The speaker of the afternoon, Marion T. Rudkin, one of the best literary speakers of today, will present, "Adventures in Reading." Come early, as this has proved to be one of the most popular programs of the year.

Tickets of Federated Clubs will not be honored today. However, this meeting is open to guests and the public. See Coming Events for details.

Music Committee
The next rehearsal of the Fortnightly Choral Group will be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hiscoc, 1 Lagrange street, at 10:00 a. m., Monday, January 26th.

Foreign Service Committee
Mrs. William E. Priest, chairman of this committee, has received some articles for our adopted Greek family and will be glad to accept more at the January 26th meeting so that they may be on their way. Warm used clothing is particularly needed right now as well as cooking utensils, needles and thread. Notify Mrs. Priest if you would like to have anything picked up.

Mrs. Henry K. Pitts, chairman, will have a container at the January 26th meeting to receive pencils (any over four inches) to be sent to the "Save the Children Foundation," which in turn sends them to war-torn countries.

UNITARIAN LADIES NIGHT

Under the chairmanship of Robert Westwater, the Men's Club of the Unitarian Church will hold a Ladies Night tonight in Metcalf Hall. A lobster stew supper prepared by the parson will be served at six-thirty. The program will include a showing of favorite colored slides by the members.

Members of the committee assisting Mr. Westwater are Earle Littleton, Earl Osgood, Wade Grindle, Don Kroell, John Chandler Hill, Jack Babakian, and Ted Robinson.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Winchester Women's Republican Club met on Wednesday evening, January 14, 1953 at the Church of the Epiphany. The speaker was the Honorable Richard L. Furbush of Waltham, President of the Massachusetts Senate.

Speaking of the legislature, Senator Furbush stated that if the objectives of the administration are to be achieved, the legislators must give the governor their wholehearted support. As Governor Herter stated in his Inaugural, the state government has been returned to the people. We citizens can be of immeasurable help in letting our representatives know of our suggestions and our criticisms. "Thus my fundamental message is this," said Senator Furbush, "There is nothing more helpful to the serious legislator than the opinions of his constituents. Write to him your suggestions, your ideas, your plans, your criticisms. Thus by a coalition of ideas you will aid in writing the laws and getting a better government. You need democracy but democracy needs you."

Speaking of the recent victory of the Republican Party, Senator Furbush said that getting to the top is only half the battle; the rest is to stay there. Two years from now people must say that they are satisfied. They will be if the members of this new Republican Legislature will act forthrightly, make prompt and good decisions, and be business-like and efficient.

Also attending the meeting were Senator Robert P. Campbell and Ralph H. Bonnell, National Committee member from Massachusetts. At the coffee hour which preceded the meeting, Mrs. Robert Campbell and Mrs. Ralph Bonnell poured.

WON HARVARD NUMERALS

Two Winchester boys, Jost Michelson of 8 Fairview Terrace and Joshua Whatmough of 17 Central street, were awarded freshman numerals at Harvard this week. Michelson, quarterback on Winchester High School's unbeaten championship football team last year, won major numerals for football. Whatmough won minor numerals for cross country.

High School boy who lost a leg as the result of a football injury last fall and who was hospitalized for several weeks at the Winchester Hospital, was presented with $150 recently by the members of last season's Winchester High School football team who raised the money at a dance given December 6 at the Music Hall.

Mr. William C. Cusack, owner of the Music Hall, gave the football team the use of the building for the dance, and music was furnished by talented members of the squad. At intermission Nancy Samaro, a sophomore at Winchester High, sang several favorite songs.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the dance included Jack Beggs, "Jockey" Serieka, "Stu" Thomson, "Moose" Bellino and Jim Cusack.

WINCHESTER JUST EDGED CONCORD

A highly favored Winchester High quintet had to stave off a fighting Concord High team to eke out a 55-53 victory at Concord last Friday night. Concord really threw a scare into the Red and Black as the Patriots rallied strongly in the second half to take the lead twice in the third quarter. The upset-minded Concord five refused to quit as they almost caught the locals in a last minute rally that fell just short of success.

Winchester opened fast to run up a 17-10 lead at the end of the first quarter. The teams played evenly in the second quarter so that the locals held a 32-25 lead at the intermission. With the opening of the third quarter, Concord spurted with eight straight points to take a 33-32 lead for the first time in the game. The Indians bounced back to lead 44-39 at the three-quarter mark and seemed to be in command once again. Concord refused to be counted out, however, and rallied again in the closing minutes as the Indians did not control the ball well to give Concord several scoring opportunities as they almost caught the fading Indians.

Actually the Red and Black won the game with their first quarter bulge of seven points. The teams were all even in the second quarter, Concord gained two points in the third period, and three more in the final canto to outscore the Indians over the final three periods. For the second consecutive game, accuracy from the foul line provided Winchester with their winning margin in these two close victories. Lack of poise has hurt the Indians in both of these contests when all they need to do is to loosen up and run their offense to win handsily.

The Winchester Seconds won their seventh straight game by defeating the Concord Seconds 45-33 in the preliminary contest. The scoring was well distributed for Winchester with no player hitting double figures but with ten performers entering the scoring column. Joe DiIorio, Lou Farrell, and Bill Ross played outstanding ball in the winning Indian cause.

SWIMMING FOR COLGATE

Bob Walsh of Yale street is one of the members of this year's Colgate University varsity swimming team.

Walsh made the transformation from the basketball court to the swimming pool this winter. Last winter he won freshman nationals as a basketballer, but shifted to the pool activities after being cut from the varsity hoop team. In the team's win over N. Y. U. Walsh was a member of the 400 yard relay team.

BELMONT SNAPPED
INDIANS' STRING, 43-40

The Winchester High 32-game consecutive win streak was shattered at Belmont High on Tuesday afternoon when Belmont defeated the Indians 43-40. It was a hard defeat to take for Winchester could easily have won the game by playing their normal brand of ball. It is hard to believe that the locals scored only one basket in the entire first half which indicates how little they were working the ball and how little driving and cutting they were doing.

Both teams opened the game very cautiously and the tightness of both teams was reflected in the first period score of 7-2 in favor of Belmont. The second quarter was a little better basketball as Belmont outscored the locals 12-10 to take a 19-12 lead at the intermission. Winchester surged in the third period to outscore Belmont by six points to trail only 28-27 entering the final period. The Indians continued their rally into the early part of the last period to take the lead at 33-32 but tired as Belmont pulled away to win.

It was a tough game for the Indians to lose but they went down fighting and could have pulled out a victory with their spirited second half rally with a little more reserve strength. As poorly as the Red and Black played, they actually outscored Belmont over the last three quarters but that first half was their ruin. Belmont has to come to Winchester for a return game, however, and the locals to a man are confident of beating them here. Encouraging to Coach Bartlett was improved performances by Neil Munter, Mike McCreary, Bob Faherty, and Joe DiIorio.

The Winchester Seconds provided some consolation for local fans by taking an easy 60-33 decision from the Belmont Seconds. The locals got off to a great start by running up a 22-3 first quarter on some excellent play by Dave Pratt, Joe DiIorio, and Buddy McKinley. Jim Wright with 11 points and Joe DiIorio and Pete Gove with 10 points were the high scorers for Winchester.

A FORUM ON THE FUTURE

A "Forum on the Future" to be staged at the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, 3 Joy street, Boston on Tuesday evening, January 27th has Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes of Winchester as a member of the Planning Committee. Problems facing this country and the Republican Party will be thrashed out in spontaneous and informal fashion by a panel of distinguished newspaper men.

Winchester Co. Chairmen are Mrs. Muriel S. Barnes and Mrs. Walter W. Winship.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The Junior High Fellowship of the First Congregational Church will hold their dance, which was postponed early in the month on account of a sleet storm, on Saturday, January 31, at 7:30. Chaperones for the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Hill Jr. and Mrs. Paul B. Eaton, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Thomas.

The newly elected secretary of the Junior High Fellowship is Carol Swett, and chairman of the social committee is Linda Branneman.

VARSITY CLUB BEAT FACULTY

The High School Varsity Club beat the Faculty 16-12 in a donkey basketball game last Saturday evening at the high school gym. A capacity crowd crammed every inch of available space and went home weak from laughing at the efforts of schoolboys and faculty members to play basketball while seated on donkeys ranging in temperament from docile to ornery.

The donkeys came from Crescent, Oklahoma, all the way in a specially constructed bus, in which they and the owners of the show sleep. The donkeys, weighing 600 to 650 pounds, looked innocent enough as they entered the hall for the game, but once the whistle blew some of the "little beasts" were just that and the resulting competition between them and their would-be riders far overshadowed any attempt to play basketball, such as it was.

John O'Neal, sandy complexioned and with a western twang to his speech, explained the rules of donkey basketball, which briefly seemed to be that you can't shoot or pass the ball unless you are on your mount, and you can not interfere with an opposing player unless you are riding. Mr. O'Neal also pleasantly warned everyone that his outfit took no responsibility for any injuries that occurred during the game, but stated that very few real injuries actually take place. Undoubtedly the participants in the game wondered who was kidding whom in this connection after a minute or two of action.

Ted Bartlett, varsity basketball coach, displaying a commendable prudence which seems to be increasing with the years, absented himself this time from the faculty lineup to act as announcer for the evening, thereby disappointing a large segment of the audience who still recall "Bart's" spectacular full gainer with twist from his donkey in the game four years ago.

The faculty first team, minus the redoubtable Bartlett, lined up with Coach Henry Knowlton at inside left, Frank Finnigan at rover, George Burns at defense and "Mickey" Meurling at center. These positions changed from time to time with the substitution of new players.

Opposing the Profs was the Varsity Club first wave, comprising "Jockey" Serieka, Jimmy Griffin, "Moose" Bellino and Joe Donlon.

The schoolboys had the better of the first half which ended 6-2 in their favor, on goals by Serieka, Bellino and Donlon. The Faculty was severely handicapped during the opening period by being short-handed, due to the fact that Mr. Meurling was assiduously playing "musical chairs" nearly all the time with his particularly refractory donkey, a knowing beast that was especially difficult to fork.

For all that Alfred scored the lone basket for the Profs during the first half, in between spills, tumbles, dives and slides, displaying a commendable mobility and complete disregard for personal safety, only exceeded by the exhibition of Fearless Finnigan, who was literally all over the floor, and by far the most active and durable of the faculty players.

Mr. Knowlton was noted during the assignment of steeds standing with his arm around the neck of an especially amiable looking donkey, and once hostilities commenced it was easy to see why. His mount seemed totally lacking in competitive spirit, merely turning in rather slow circles in one spot on the floor until by some trick of fortune Mr. Knowlton came into possession of the ball. Then the donkey would immediately go to the furthest possible spot from the basket at which his rider wished to shoot, effectively cutting down the Knowlton scoring potential.

The second quarter the gladiators changed mounts and also team personnel, the faculty sending Frankie Provizano, H. King Fitts, Tommy Morse and Dick Ulin into the lists.

with the Varsity club mounting (?) Bob Nelson, "Moose" Mahoney, Bob Derro and Jim Cusack, with Tom Cahill and Mike Murphy as spares.

The change of steeds gave the faculty a chance to recoup their losses, since the schoolboys were now strictly a three-man team as Mr. Derro struggled manfully with the donkey Mr. Meurling had in the opening quarter. As we watched the battle develop from time to time we would say that it turned out to be a draw, with Mr. Derro giving an amazing exhibition of durability.

Changing donkeys again to start the third period, the Faculty returned to three-handed poker, with Mr. Meurling again engaging in mortal combat with the same critter he had the first period, and Mr. Finnigan again having difficulty in getting both himself and the ball on his donkey at one and the same time!

Meanwhile Mr. Derro was going great guns on a most cooperative beast, which he worked up the floor in jerky, but effective fashion to score several times. Mr. Serieka, closely resembling the devil in a costume of flaming red, was every where at once, and Mr. Donlon also did his bit under the basket, his head brushing the rim when he was on his donkey.

The Varsity Club built up a commanding lead in the third chucker, but came the final change of mounts, and once again the Profs began to come. Tom Morse with his specs neatly wired to his temples gave a great exhibition of horsemanship, galloping up and down the lists and throwing in the game's most spectacular basket from way beyond middle court.

Unfortunately Thomas attempted to acknowledge the applause that greeted his supreme effort by doffing his hat just as his donkey decided to stop for a minute. The result was a spill and a frustrated Mr. Morse stuck strictly to basketball.

Mr. Fitts tossed in a close one to help bridge the gap and "Frankie-the-ref" looped in a carom shot from the side that was strictly high grade, immediately thereafter going heels-over-kernlumox on the hard pine.

Mention should be made of Mr. Ulin's strategem of shoving the ball under his identifying tunic, thereby having both hands free to urge his nag toward the varsity basket, the flaw in his reasoning becoming apparent when, while immediately under the hoop, he was unable to extricate the ball, and the leather hitting the deck together.

At the beginning of the third quarter one of the older donkeys was led from the floor and a fresh animal substituted. Tom Cahill attempted to fork this beast and after manfully trying for half the period, finally got on, only to be pitched violently to the floor and partially knocked out, he being carried from the gym in absolutely dead silence and ministered to by Thomas, Lou Goddu and Dr. William Barone. He was not badly hurt and was carried from the floor as a precautionary measure only.

Mr. Serieka took up the white man's burden with the departure of Mr. Cahill, but had little better success, getting one particularly tough spill that would have incapacitated a less rugged boy. Finally Mr. Donlon, with a gleaming eye and set jaw came to grips with the bad donkey and giving his entire attention to his mount, while completely eschewing the game, he managed to stay aboard much of the time, a short firm grip on the reins and a clutching paw full of the donkey's withers keeping him upright most of the time.

For the schoolboys Mr. Cusack proved a most fascinating equestrian, getting around all right and scoring a bit at that. The best bit of team-work showed by either side was a Ulin-to-Morse-to-Provizano-to-Meurling passing effort which was unfortunately nullified by "Mickey's" missing not only his first lay-up shot, but also the rebound.

Between the halves Mr. O'Neal put one of his donkeys through some balancing tricks that were popular, and the evening started with an hilarious donkey derby, in which the high school cheer-leaders rode mechanical donkeys in competitive races.

The mechanical steeds proved no less difficult to manage than their flesh and blood brothers with the consequence that all the sore derriers resulting from the evening were not of masculine persuasion.

Judy Nanry won the first heat of the derby, with Connie Snelling distancing the field in the second. Joan Sweetser won a hair-line decision over Stephanie Yale in the third, and the final winner was Judy Nanry. Ann Marks surely deserves some sort of accolade for being unable to leave the starting line in her heat, but struggling gamely until the race was over.

Another touch we should not forget is Dan O'Donnell's following the donkeys in their opening march around the gym with a barrel on wheels, bearing the label "health department" and complete with broom and shovel.

As the final whistle blew Mrs. Clark Hottel sort of summed it all up by announcing to no one in particular, "That's the most I ever got anywhere for 75 cents."

LITCHFIELD-BRED GREAT DANE TOP DOG

A new honor has come to Foray Kennel, owned by Al and Audrey Litchfield of Niles Lane, and already well known in dog show circles for the success of its Great Danes.

Latest Foray honor is that of having bred Champion Foray's Antoinette the female Great Dane winning the greatest number of "best-of-breed" awards in the country.

Foray's Antoinette is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lester T. Sawyer of Leominster, who will go on to New York with the Litchfields in the near future for a dinner at the Hotel Statler, where a silver trophy will be awarded the champion dog by the Great Dane Club of America.

Well, it had to come sometime, and it did Tuesday when our high school basketball team was finally beaten by Belmont after 32 straight victories, an almost unbelievable winning streak. Undoubtedly the anxiety that always accompanies a prolonged string of victories in any sport contributed in large measure to the "tightness" which has been so apparent in the local boys during their past three games. That tightness should be gone now and the Indians can pick up the pieces and start a new streak tonight. They are a much better team than they appeared in their last three games.

In cleaning up the recent break at the home of the Brysons on Salisbury street the police successfully made a haul of three most recent breaks in Winchester, getting besides the paroled murderer responsible for the Bryson break, the boys who broke into the Winchester News Company and the older boys who made the carefully planned break at the Winchester Provision Company's Market on Main street. This is an excellent showing, and especially because in each case the arrests followed closely upon the breaks. Burglars have found little in such police action to recommend Winchester as a place for further activity, and this too is all to the good. The Star congratulates Chief Harrold and his Department for their zeal, both in the solution of the cases arising out of the breaks and for the speed with which those responsible were brought to justice. The town has every reason to be proud of its police in this latest demonstration of effort in the public interest.

ATTENTION HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Editor of the Star:
May I again use The Star to point out some relevant facts to our young men in High School, inasmuch as there has been an increase of inquiries regarding the Armed Forces from the students.
1. While it is possible for a young man under 18 years of age to take a physical and mental test, it is well to remember that such a test is only good for 3 months, and, as the average parents have no intention of signing consent papers, you are not only wasting your time but the much more valuable time of the Army Base personnel.
2. I will be only too glad to talk with you at any time you wish to come down to the house but, fellows, let's keep our shirts on and see what the new Administration is going to do. Your first job is to get that High School diploma.
3. When you want to buy an automobile you don't go to a milliner do you? O. K. When you want to know the scoop on military things, do not accept hearsay — the only authentic information is that which comes down through directives from the Department of Defense and from Selective Service headquarters and it is under these ever changing directives we must work.
4. As one who has been handling hundreds of young men, it has been most gratifying to note that very few men from Winchester have police records or minor records which require a waiver for enlistment. Let's keep it that way. Please remember that conviction for reckless driving may smack you right in the face later on.
5. Will you please extend to your parents an invitation to get in touch with me if they are confused about the military picture? So often problems which seem so large fade away when there is complete understanding.
The latest string is always out for you at 91 Mystic Valley Parkway and your conversations are confidential.
Cordially yours,
Mr. K. B. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

PARSONAGE AT SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH PAID FOR

PARSONAGE PAID FOR
At the annual meeting and dinner held Wednesday at the Second Congregational Church, a program was presented celebrating the fact that the parsonage is entirely paid for. The project was unique in this day but followed an old New England tradition of building the parsonage by members of the parish. Nearly all trades were represented in the church, and very little outside help was required. Money for the project came from members and friends of the church and from business establishments in this town. It was really a community project.

A history of the building of the house was related at the celebration program. Several clippings were read from back issues of the Star in connection with the story. Mr. W. O. Whiting, 3 Orient street, Mr. Henry Clark, 16 Hillcrest Parkway, Mrs. David Smith, 4 Orient street, and the Rev. and

Mrs. John W. Cook, now living in social parlance at 473 Washington street, presented the program. It was not necessary to take a mortgage for the building; so none could be burned at the celebration. The project attracted much attention here and elsewhere. In addition to the publicity in the Star, the Boston Traveler, newspapers

APPRECIATES POLICE

Editor of the Star:
May I have space in your paper to express my own, and my husband's sincere thanks to the police for their efforts in our behalf at the time of the break at our home. The promptness with which the officers responded, amazed and delighted us. The cruiser was at our home within two minutes of our phone call, and four officers were on the premises within five minutes.
Their investigation of the break was thorough, and their arrest of the man responsible for the break was promptly made.
My husband and I want publicly to acknowledge our appreciation. It is gratifying to realize we have a police department that is so efficient.

AN OVERSEAS APPEAL

Heidelberg, Germany
January 10, 1953
Citizens of Winchester:
Tonight, as I sit in the library at the hospital here on post in Heidelberg, my thoughts wander and so many scenes are cast in the panorama of my mind. First, I think of how far away I am from my beloved family; of my little brother, whose Christmas card is before me, written in the uncertain lines of a first grader: "I wish you could come home for Christmas."
Then my thoughts change a bit and I now see the buddies I left at Ft. Sam Houston in Texas who are now fighting in Korea. I see once more the face of my fallen brother Tony Gagliardi, who was killed in action. We were in the same high school to change classes; I see also my other brothers now fighting for their lives in Korea to preserve liberty and freedom for all of us—freedom to live, to speak, to worship and praise God as we will with so much love as abounds in my heart this very night.
As my thoughts are projected onto this imaginary screen I see now the four hundred and eighty children at the local orphanage here, where I have spent most of my off-duty hours these past few weeks. I see the sweet gentleness, the helplessness of the infants with their outstretched hands, their eyes, like pools of heaven, reflecting their hunger for affection—affection which is not forthcoming, since most of them have been abandoned by their procurators. The two and three-year-old ones rush to me calling me Uncle Josef, each clamoring about me, struggling fervently to get closest for what affection I or anyone else will give them.
Then there are the older ones who are shy, and yet, as they come to shake hands with me, I sense in their pitiful eyes their feeling of not belonging. I sense that they too are trying to grow the branches and eat of the fruit of affection. But, being older, and unlike the younger ones, they hesitate to be outward in their feelings.
My brothers are fighting in Korea for what we hold dear. We here in Europe are also prepared to sacrifice our lives at any time for those same ideals. While we are here, we are attempting to sell these people democracy and our way of life. The best way is to start with the children, to help them see democracy in action and how our system works. We are doing our best to accomplish this mission, and you folks back home can help us.

I appeal to all of you, especially to you students in the high school, to take up the initiative for a drive for these children. We would love to have baseball, basketball, ping pong and any sports equipment whatsoever, so that we can teach them and play with them, to inculcate into their absorbent minds fair play and regard for the rights of others. Any old sports equipment can be mended. You students can come up with some new ideas, I know.

And to the organizations and churches of Winchester—these children could use clothes. Any old clothes whatsoever, no matter how large or small, can be altered and mended. They do not want you to send them new clothes, but those old clothes that went out of style this year and which are lying around the house cluttering up the closets. The nuns in charge of the children have nimble hands and can do marvelous work with those old clothes.

In the orphanage are children from eight weeks to sixteen years old—boys and girls of all faiths, of all nationalities including American—they are all children of Christ. I am to you in their behalf to extend the Christmas spirit just a little longer. Will somebody take the initiative for these children?

The director of this Red Feather Service believes that there are at least three things that all parents can do:
1. Assure yourself of your own children's behavior.
2. A natural tendency on the part of many parents, hearing of anti-social action on the part of other youngsters in the community, is to "crack down" on their own youngsters through more rigid discipline. Children want and need firm but kindly guidance from their parents, but simply cracking down on discipline is seldom a good deterrent.
3. Parents might feel less impelled to resort to sheer discipline, rather than added quantities of praise and affection, if they had some clearer gauge of the developing habits and personality patterns of their children.

Again thank you very much for your gift.

Dear Homefronters:
This will acknowledge receipt of your Christmas package, and will, I hope, partially convey my appreciation. Winchester doesn't seem quite so far away during the holidays thanks to efforts of people like yourselves.
This is the first time I have heard of your organization and I think it is a wonderful idea. We here in Korea are all afflicted with the fear that the people back home are not too interested in affairs here. If nothing else, your work should help to dispel this fear.
Thanking you very much for your kind consideration and wishing you continued success in your work, I remain

FAMILY SOCIETY OFFERS AID TO WORRIED PARENTS

Commenting on the recent outbreaks of teen-age vandalism reported in the news, Malcolm S. Nichols of Wildwood street, Executive Director of the Family Society of Greater Boston, said today, "These youthful offenses are generally the product of inner family tensions plus the pressure of outside forces."

Such outer pressures affecting youth in these times may include: family living costs, the draft and uncertainties as to education and future, movement of families into communities where wages are high but housing bad, or increased employment of mothers without adequate child care.

"Parents who react with alarm to accounts of youthful stealing or the destruction of 'teen-age' gangs ask themselves what they can do to protect their own children from being similarly involved at a future date."

The director of this Red Feather Service believes that there are at least three things that all parents can do:

1. Assure yourself of your own children's behavior.
 2. A natural tendency on the part of many parents, hearing of anti-social action on the part of other youngsters in the community, is to "crack down" on their own youngsters through more rigid discipline. Children want and need firm but kindly guidance from their parents, but simply cracking down on discipline is seldom a good deterrent.
 3. Parents might feel less impelled to resort to sheer discipline, rather than added quantities of praise and affection, if they had some clearer gauge of the developing habits and personality patterns of their children.
- g. Is your child able to manage for himself within the choices you give him?
"If you can answer 'yes' to all seven questions, your youngster would seem to be developing ideally into patterns of good behavior," Mr. Nichols declared. "Few children grow perfectly, however, either in personality or physical form. Most parents will answer 'no' to one or more of the questions and will have no cause for undue alarm. If your answers are mostly negative, however, you may be wise to seek competent outside help."
2. If constantly worried by your children's behavior, ask for professional help while there is still time.
"Most parents today recognize the importance of health checkups and seeing their doctor when their children show first symptoms of illness," Mr. Nichols said. "Many of the same parents, however, carry along the old-fashioned idea that there is an element of blame or shame in seeking consultation on the emotional health of their offspring. Young personalities, like young bodies, heal readily under good treatment. Modern parents are finding that the best 'cure' for delinquency is to find ways of modifying worrisome personality traits before they become fixed patterns."
- The Family Society of Greater Boston is a community resource which parents can use when their children's behavior is a cause of worry. Of all the problems brought to this agency last year, approximately half involved child behavior difficulties. The family counselors on its staff are trained, experienced social caseworkers with a knowledge of both mental health and the facilities in the community which can best be utilized in solving a personal or family problem.

3. Give interested and active support of community activities and efforts which can help to reduce counter delinquency by giving fresh support to strengthening existing preventive programs in their communities. Programs which provide wholesome recreation, measures which better housing and living conditions, agencies which provide ready and skilled help for worried families—all are implements in meeting the delinquency problem.

"In taking steps to prevent delinquency," Mr. Nichols finished, "the need is for a negative, disciplinary program. Prevention of delinquency starts with the creation of a healthful atmosphere in every home. It spreads across the community in united efforts to give every child the conditions and opportunities for normal development."

Family Society provides a confidential counseling service to residents of Winchester through its Fellowship Office at 5 High street, Medford Square.

PARKING ON PARKWAY

The recent action of the Metropolitan Police in tagging automobiles parked along the highway beside the stone wall opposite the high school and in the angle parking space at the entrance to Waterfield road came in for sharp criticism on the part of local motorists and those from out of town who had been parking in those places habitually.

Inability to do a suitable job of snow-removal caused the MDC action, and police say there is an MDC regulation forbidding parking anywhere on MDC property. This regulation would seem to give the MDC authority for their action in tagging the offending cars, though motorists point to signs at the angle parking space permitting one-hour parking. Neither Metropolitan Captain McCarthy nor Police Chief Harrold knows who placed these signs there, but apparently Winchester has been parking at the above-mentioned spots on sufferance.

In an effort to straighten out the parking tangle, Chief Harrold talked with Captain McCarthy Monday, and found the Metropolitan officer most cooperative. Captain McCarthy, recently returned from a vacation, knew nothing of the tagging, and told Chief Harrold that so long as cars did not interfere with snow removal, he would have no objection to their being parked along the wall on the parkway at the Mill Pond and in the angle parking space at the entrance to Waterfield road.

This would seem to put it squarely up to the motorists, Winchester and visiting. If it's snowing and looks like snow-plowing would be necessary, do not leave your car at either of the spots mentioned above. The MDC will tag your car if it interferes with what it considers the proper removal of snow from the Parkway.

INJURED IN FALL FROM BIKE

Edward Goodwin, 8, of 59 Mystic Valley Parkway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner W. Goodwin, was severely injured Wednesday afternoon when he fell from his bicycle on Mystic avenue in front of the Doyle house at No. 9.

Police Headquarters was notified and Sgt. Edward Bowler went to the scene with Officers John Murray and James Flaherty and the police.

They found the youngster on the piazza of the Doyle house, being ministered to by Mrs. Crampton of 9 Mystic avenue. Edward was in a dazed condition and was bleeding profusely from the nose and mouth and from cuts about the face. He was unable to tell how he fell from his bike, but police believe the machine may have skidded on the sand that covered the road.

Edward was taken to the hospital by the police and treated by Dr. Nelson Fontaine for a broken left arm, possible broken nose, a concussion and abrasions and contusions. He also had a front tooth knocked out.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

In the closing months of World War II, an American soldier wandered late one night into a shell-smashed house in Bonn, Germany, found a piano and began idly playing "Moonlight Sonata" in the darkness. Not until next day did he learn he had been in the birthplace of Ludwig van Beethoven, playing Beethoven's great work on the composer's own piano.

Today's Great Lakes were born with the melting of the last huge ice sheet over North America, the National Geographic Society says. As the sun's warmth pushed the boundary northward, the glacial waters were trapped between the ice front and highlands which now hold the headwaters of the Mississippi, Ohio, Susquehanna and Hudson Rivers.

Mount Fuji, Japan's sacred volcano, has not erupted in nearly 250 years. Its last explosion was in 1707-8, Tokyo (then called Edo), though 60 miles away, was covered with six inches of ash.

During the Civil War some of the first volunteer Union troops sent to Washington were housed in the Senate and House Chambers of the Capitol, says the National Geographic Society.

In an early application of television in 1938, public telephone booths in which the users saw as well as spoke with each other were installed in several German cities, says the National Geographic Society.

How an understanding of God, as given in the Scriptures, enables the individual to experience progressively the dominion taught and demonstrated by Jesus will be set forth in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" which will be read at Christian Science services on Sunday.

One of the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this: "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained." (447:23-25).

Among the Bible passages is Paul's admonition: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." (II Timothy 2:15).

The Golden Text: "Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee? Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face." (Psalms 89:14).

He used gunpowder for the fuel.

ANNUAL MEETING, GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL

The Annual Meeting of the Winchester Girl Scout Council was held January 20th, at the Public Library. The occasion was particularly important in that it is the 35th Birthday of Girl Scouting in Winchester. Being in the Library, we were able to sing the song "Happy Birthday," but celebrated with a delicious "dessert," the privilege of hearing from many of the past Scout Commissioners, each giving some highlights of her years in office.

Mr. Maxwell McCreery, our President, presided, calling for the Secretary's Report, and the very detailed and informative report of the Treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Delay. We then had reports from each Chairman of the 11 standing Committees of the organization, outlining their year's work. Each has done a fine job, and each is vitally necessary to the work of all other committees and Scouts.

Miss Constance Lane, Registrar, reports that there are 302 Adult Scout members, and 705 girls, registered in 52 Troops. With all this help, unfortunately there is still one troop without a leader, but the girls live in hopes! Compare these numbers to the 16 girls who first formed the Girl Scout organization back in 1917, under the Commission of Mrs. Addison Pike.

Particular mention should be made of Mrs. Rose Marchant's Service Committee. It showed the stepped-up participation of Girl Scouts in community service, as the girls have had some project for every month in the year. These projects include baskets for the poor, the Home for the Aged, and the Massachusetts General Hospital. Participation in March of Dimes and Cerebral Palsy Drives, Air Raid Drill and Blood Donor Day, Election Day, Nurses Aid and Hospital work, and a Christmas Gift project which supplied adequate clothing and toys for 38 underprivileged children, instead of the usual Christmas Party. The Scouts have co-operated with the Visiting Nurse, the Public Health and the Welfare Departments.

Mrs. Roosevelt Harding, Vice-President, in charge of Program, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Louis K. Snyder, Commissioner from 1925 to 1929, who brought Scouting memories back to many of us in a very personal way. Did you ever try to pass Scout inspection back in 1926-27, rolled up your black cotton stockings, rolled? I did, and it didn't work either! Mrs. Snyder compared the 107,000 Girl Scouts, and 8,000 Officers in the National Registration in 1925 to the tremendous numbers listed today. She mentioned a Mounted Troop, all fine horse-women, in 1925, and the Drum and Bugle Corps of that time. She personally made the decision to purchase a log cabin at the Sportsman Show (for half-price, and well-backed by her committee after two hours of phone-booth calls) which was put up on the Winchester Lot at Cedar Hill.

Mrs. James B. Willing, the latest former Commissioner, summed it all up by saying: "We are building on the best in the past. We are indeed supremely fortunate in having so much Best in our past."

The slate of new officers for the year 1953 is as follows:

President — Mrs. Maxwell McCreery.
Vice-President, Mrs. Roosevelt Harding.
Secretary, Mrs. Ralph Delay.
Treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Delay.
Registrar, Miss Constance Lane.
Camp Committee, Mrs. Francis Parsons.

ART CLASSES AT LIBRARY

The Winchester Art Association will complete this Thursday a very successful semester of adult and children's Art Classes at the Library. The Adult Classes were under the instruction of Mr. Tristram Coffin of the Boston Museum School. Mrs. Stephen Edgell, Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff, and Mrs. George Marks instructed the children. The second semester will begin Thursday, January 29, with adult classes morning and evening and children's classes in the afternoon. If there is enough interest in fabric stenciling and linoleum block print, there will be craft classes on Mondays for a full semester. Mrs. Alexander Muller, a native of Switzerland, will be the instructor.

The interest in the children's classes extended to neighboring towns and a number of out-of-town students were enrolled, and there will be an Exhibition of both adult and children's work on Monday, January 26, at the Library.

Anyone interested in enrolling for the second semester in any of the classes should call Mrs. Walter Hodges, Winchester 6-0664.

YOUTH SUNDAY AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

This Sunday will be Youth Sunday in the Winchester Unitarian Church, and high school students, members of Metcalf Union, will conduct the entire 11 o'clock church service.

Sermons will be given by Virginia Wadsworth and Edward Johnston. Their subject is "Unitarianism—Foundations and Horizons." These young people will give an appraisal of Unitarianism, past and present, and discuss its prospects for the future.

Others taking part will be: Marcia Symmes, president of Metcalf Union, who will conduct the service; Joseph Canty, who will read the Scripture; and Martha Hall, who will offer prayer. Ushers are to be: John McLean, Tyler Black, John Trump, Dale Townley-Tilson, Richard Clark and Robert Smith.

Sunday evening Metcalf Union will have an especially interesting guest speaker at its 7 o'clock meeting. He is Stephen Juhaz, a graduate student at M.I.T., who will speak on the subject, "Emigrating from Europe to America." Mr. Juhaz will discuss life in his native Hungary and his experiences in Sweden, Canada and in the United States.

Pupils in the high school class will conduct the worship service in Meyer Chapel at 9:30 a. m. Those taking part are Terrell Newell, Warren Goodnow, Jack McLean, Judy Walker and Linda Thomson.

Mr. Storor will talk to the young people of the Primary Department at the 11:00 a. m. service.

ANDREW MCKINLEY

TO SING FOR COMMUNITY CONCERT

Andrew McKinley, who will be presented as the second artist in the current Community Concert series on Tuesday evening, January 27th, will be remembered for his role of King Casper in the television opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors" at Christmastime. He is considered one of the world's most versatile tenors, singing with success in opera, oratorio and concert; combining the roles of skilled dramatic actor with that of superb musician. He has sung at La Scala in Milan, at the Edinburgh Festival, at the Glyndebourne Opera in England; he has appeared with the NBC Symphony under Toscanini with the San Francisco Symphony under Monteux and with the Boston Symphony under Munch and Koussevitzky. Recently, he appeared with the Philadelphia Orchestra in Philadelphia and New York, singing Verdi's Requiem, and last summer, he added to his reputation in Berlin's Requiem at the Berkshire Festival at Tanglewood.

Mr. McKinley's program on Tuesday evening will include selections from his starring role in the "Con-sun" in which as the Magician, he will pull rabbits out of his hat, doves, strings of kerchiefs, flowers, vases from his sleeves, anything, that is, but the necessary visa.

The concert will begin promptly at 8:30 p. m. and late comers are kindly requested to wait until the end of the first number before taking their seats.

CAROL BRICE TO SING JANUARY 26

Carol Brice, the great Negro contralto, who sings in recital on Monday, January 26, in the Stoneham Town Hall, under the auspices of Stoneham Community Concert Association, is often credited with restoring the alto voice to the glory it enjoyed in the days of Schumann-Heink, Matzenauer and Louise Homer.

Doors open at 7:30, with the curtain rising at 8:15.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY

Sue Fiore, chairman of the Gift Table at the Encampment in June, is sponsoring a card party at the Post Home on Saturday, January 24, at 8:30 p. m. Refreshments and dancing will follow.

The public is cordially invited.

HEADS DISTRICT NURSING

Mrs. Theodore C. Browne was re-elected President of the Winchester District Nursing Association at the annual meeting held last Friday afternoon, January 16, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford H. Moses, Jr., 8 Prospect street.

After the annual reports and business meeting, an excellent talk by Dr. Moses on "Changes in Obstetrical Practice" in which he traced the story of obstetrics for the past thirty years, with its decrease in maternal death rate, and its increasing high record of fewer and fewer mortalities among mothers and babies.

In the Winchester Hospital from 1928 the chart line showing maternal mortality was on a sharp dropping pace with the national picture. In over 5,000 births, there had been but two deaths — which gave the local hospital a fine record.

Dr. Moses began his talk with a brief backward glance into obstetrics for the last one hundred years, back to the days when the Chamberlains of England ruled this field for five generations, and were the inventors of forceps. He told of the incredible risk run by women who had a baby in the early days. Childbirth took a heavy toll of women in American pioneer days — as witnessed by the number of wives some of our forefathers had. "At the present time, our national mortality is the lowest in the world," Dr. Moses pointed out. By 1951 out of 3,900,000 births, 2,730 mothers died — where less than 20 years ago 25,740 of that number would have died. With such progress in the saving of women's lives, who can dare sigh for the "good old days"?

In accounting for this amazing saving of mother's lives today, Dr. Moses credited many things — many cooperative efforts, and especially the modern concept of hospital delivery — in today's sterilized, clean, immaculate and safe hospitals with the best staffs standing by. In England today, most of the deliveries are accomplished by midwives — with the doctor called in only for complications. They have a low mortality rate — but not as low as that of the U. S. with its almost 100% hospital deliveries.

Dr. Moses touched skillfully on the three threats to delivery — hemorrhage, toxemia, sepsis, and spoke of advantage of the use of penicillin in obstetrics. He reminded his audience that it was not too long ago when the use of chloroform in such cases was viewed with great hue and cry — whereas now the use of analgesia is permitted, to conserve the patient's strength, and to help in the difficult cases. "While childbirth is a natural function, it depends on special and trained skills today — and it keeps our mortality rate down."

Dr. Moses paid warm tribute to the Winchester District nurses for their skill, and hoped that more patients leaving the hospital might use such services; he paid equal tribute to the Association of which the present fine Winchester Hospital is the child. "Obstetrics," he stated, "is a surgical specialty — but every patient is an individual, and worthy of the very best."

Buena Meeting and Election

The Association expressed with regret the resignation of Miss Folan of the staff, but wished her well in her new post as School Nurse in Woburn. Mrs. Arthur Hertig, secretary, presented a comprehensive outline of the work of the Association in the past year, with incorporated reports from all the committees, and with appreciation to the many organizations and individuals, En Ka, the Winslow Press, the Winchester Star, and all who helped make the work of the WDNA one of continuous service to the community.

Mrs. Doris Wiklund, Executive Director, reported 4,610 visits made to 471 patients during 1952 and told of the many instances where organizations had helped, where patients were given lifted morale as well as medication.

Mrs. Browne presented her brief but timely annual report and explained "our nurses are nurses, counselors, and friends — and are the best public relations WDNA has. This nursing organization started as a service to the poor — but now it is a vital service for everyone in the community. Those who cannot pay may still have its services — those who can pay, do so to keep the work going."

A coffee hour, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Guy Livingstone, preceded the meeting and a vote of thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Moses for their hospitality was voted by all present.

Mrs. William N. Beggs, nominating chairman, presented the 1953 slate of officers, which was voted as follows:

DROP BY DROP

The painstaking professional care with which we measure, mix and dispense the prescribed ingredients in your assurance that every drop of your medicine is exactly as your doctor intended it to be. An analysis of a drop or a dose will prove that the ingredients are present in the exact same proportion specified by the physician. This high level of professional skill is the reason why doctors so often say — "Have this filled at PURTLE'S."

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN ORGANIZED

Mr. Oleott L. Hooper, chairman of the 1953 fund campaign, held a meeting at his home, 228 Highland avenue, on January 20, to set into motion the wheels which will operate the fund campaign for the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Many plans have been made and much of the ground work has already been done to assure a successful campaign. Winchester's goal for 1953 is $22,500, the same as last year's. For two years in succession the Winchester Chapter has been the first in Massachusetts to reach its goal. This year's chairman and his committee have plans to make it three years in succession.

Mr. William E. Davies and Mrs. Rodney W. Long as chairmen of the residential part of the campaign are busy enrolling the precinct captains. Because of the ground work done by the local Red Cross office in breaking down the various precincts into streets and even the number of calls per street, the work of the precinct captains has been considerably simplified.

Mr. Daniel F. Barnard will be chairman of the special gifts committee. Mr. Henry Dellinger is the chapter chairman of the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The dates for the local drive are March 1-8.

O'BRIEN NAMED TO NEW POST

Mr. Richard D. O'Brien of 28 Tufts road has received the appointment of vice president in charge of sales for the Bowers Battery Company of Reading, Pa. He had been Eastern sales manager for the Dayton Rubber Company until about a year ago, when he went with the company with which he is now associated.

The O'Briens came to Winchester with their two children, Mary Catherine and Sheila, about two years ago, being formerly residents of Hopkinton.

O'Brien will be remembered by many as a star football player at Holy Cross, a teammate of Bill Osmanski. During his college days he played both in the line and in the backfield. He also played for the East in the 1939 Shrine's East-West game at San Francisco. He is a member of the National Collegiate Basketball Association of Referees and has officiated at many of the big college basketball games in the East during the past several years.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE NOTE

At a meeting of the school committee on Monday the resignation of Mrs. Jane O'Rourke, teacher of Grade II at the Mystic School, was accepted. Mrs. Joyce Tyler was appointed as her successor.

MOTHERS' MARCH OF DIMES

Heralded by the ringing of church bells and the fire siren, the Mothers' March will climax Winchester's 1953 March of Dimes campaign next Thursday, January 29. On that night, from 7 to 8 o'clock, wherever a glowing porchlight bids them welcome, a selfless force of some 800 Winchester mothers will call to receive your contributions to the fight to wipe polio forever from the list of the nation's most dread diseases.

Mrs. Charles E. Johnson, Chairman of the March, has organized the following staff of precinct captains to see that each house and apartment whose occupants open their hearts to this valiant cause will be visited:

Precinct 1
Mrs. Mark Doolin, Captain
Mrs. Donald Abbott
Mrs. Thomas Gibb, Jr.
Mrs. Paul LaMarche

Precinct 2
Mrs. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Captain
Mrs. Harold Quigley
Mrs. Aracely Ambrose
Mrs. Howard Ambrose

Precinct 3
Mrs. Earl Littleton, Captain
Mrs. Dean Carleton
Mrs. Thomas Gibb, Jr.
Mrs. John Gibb, Captain
Mrs. Richard Bateman
Mrs. Raymond Dillon
Mrs. Robert Devaney
Mrs. Thomas Hoare
Mrs. Arthur Schmidt

Precinct 4
Mrs. Oscar T. Larsen, Captain
Mrs. Robert Scott
Mrs. Michael Donlon
Mrs. Richard Smith

Precinct 5
Mrs. John Kinton, Captain
Mrs. Salter W. W. W. W.
Mrs. Michael Connolly

In the name of her captains Mrs. Johnson asks that all women who will volunteer for this short hour of their time next Thursday to call only on neighbors glad to receive them communicate with any of their precinct captains. The roll of mothers who have already agreed to serve is too long to print and they can cover the town; but the more the hands the lighter the work — and the hearts of the workers.

Residents of apartments and of houses without porches who do wish to give on that night are asked to tie a piece of white cloth or other identifying signal to their outer doors so that they will not be overlooked. Also, if because of Winton Club or other plans, you expect to leave home early, please call your precinct captain, who will arrange to have your contribution picked up before you leave home.

As speaker at the Greater Boston Campaign Bump Hadley is once more spotlighting the polio fight on his TV sports show. Bill Carleton, a 1949 Winchester victim, is still confined to the hospital, attending to his duties.

For experienced service or repairs on all makes of sewing machines or vacuum cleaners, call E. W. Clark, Winchester 6-0140.

WINCHESTER GIRLS ROUT MELORE

The Sachemettes won their second basketball game of the year, defeating Melrose, 41-7, on Winchester's home court, Tuesday, January 20. While Melrose's squad was not up to its usual standard, Winchester's varsity proved once again that they have what appeared to be a strong offensive and defensive team for the 1953 season.

Winchester's forwards demonstrated top floor work with consistently fast and accurate passing. Winchester's guards were constantly intercepting Melrose's passing and getting the ball back to the forwards with resulting scores.

The J. V.'s were equally successful in sending Melrose home defeated. Florence Newton was high scorer with 9 points.

THE SENIOR FORUM

On this Sunday the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will appropriately open National Youth Week by attending the regular church service at 10:45, with members of their group taking an active part in the service. The Forum chaplain will be Steve Yale, and acting as deacons will be Richard Fernandez, Theodore Ellis, Philip Ives, Richard Lowry, David MacKenzie and Robert Wiklund. This is also a special Sunday for Forum members, as it will be their first Sunday in church with their new pastor, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, whose message to them will be on the subject, "Those Daily Choices."

At 5:30 in the afternoon Forum will meet again in Chidley Hall for a half hour of fellowship, after which they will enjoy a supper at 6 o'clock prepared by Mrs. Herbert E. Ross and Mrs. Robert D. Lowry and their committee consisting of Mrs. James Addison, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Dana Sawyer, Mrs. Leon Sargent and Mrs. Ben Gowing. Following the supper Forum will hear a talk by Mr. Henry N. Lamar, assistant pastor at Harvard, and concluding the program will be a brief worship service conducted by Joan and Diane McNeill as chaplains.

Mr. Lamar, who was national A.A.U. boxing champion in 1925-26 while at the University of Virginia, first came to Harvard in 1931 when he became boxing coach. Since then his activities have been directed to the coaching of football, in which field he served as freshman football trainer and assistant coach from 1946 to 1951. Since then he has been an assistant with the varsity staff, and is also recreation director at Camp Wabasha during the summers. Members of Forum are looking forward to the opportunity to hear Mr. Lamar, whose popularity as a speaker is widespread.

Forum's activities for the next two weeks are concentrated on plans for their Fifth International Week-end, which will be held February 7 and 8. There will be at that time between 50 and 60 students from other countries entertained in the homes of Forum members from Saturday afternoon until Sunday evening. A dinner and square dance for members of Forum and their guests will be the entertainment for Saturday night. On Sunday morning the guests will attend church with their hosts, and the week-end will come to a close on Sunday afternoon with a tea to which all of the parish are invited to meet the guests.

SACHEMETTES WIN OPENER

The Winchester High School girls basketball team won its first game of the 1953 season by beating Lexington on Thursday, January 15, at Lexington, 29-21.

The squad showed unusual promise with their fine team work, excellent passing and accurate shooting. Winchester's guards showed that the Sachemettes should have a strong defense by holding Lexington to a minimum of baskets.

The Winchester's J. V.'s, made up entirely of Juniors, beat the Lexington Seconds 18-8. "Ally" Hervey was the high scorer with 9 points.

B & M LISTS EXCURSIONS

The Boston and Maine Railroad will run two low-rate winter excursions to New Hampshire for camera fans and winter-sport enthusiasts. The first will be a complete package trip to the "Franconia Follies" for a week-end at Franconia, N. H., leaving Boston at 4:30 p.m. on either Friday, January 23, or Friday, January 30. The second will be the famous "Round-the-Mountain" one-day trip on Sunday, February 1.

The "Franconia Follies" trip will be a complete week-end winter-sport package trip including round-trip transportation fare from Boston to Franconia, N. H., lodging, meals, dancing, and skiing. The trip price includes even ski lessons and a trip on the aerial tramway to the top of Cannon Mountain.

The "Round the Mountains" trip is a one-day trip through the White Mountains to view the mountains under full snow conditions. The train leaves Boston at 9:00 a.m. and goes via Winchester, Lowell, Nashua, N. H., Manchester, Concord, Weirs (Lake Winnepesaukee), Plymouth, Woodsville, Littleton, Brown Woods and then through the famous Crawford Notch to Bartlett, Intervale, North Conway, Dover, Lawrence, Reading, and Boston, arriving in Boston at 7:00 p.m.

Last winter, this popular "Round the Mountains" excursion carried over a thousand passengers through the mountains.

ESTEE REASSIGNED

The Coast Guard today announced the reassignment of Lieutenant Commander Roland H. Estey, Jr., from the Coast Guard Cutter "Castle Rock", which operates from Boston, to the Cutter "Spencer", a station vessel based in New York.

Lieut. Commander Estey, 35, is the son of Mr. Roland Estey, School teacher, Somerville, Massachusetts. He graduated in 1935 from Reading (Mass.) High School, for two years attended the Massachusetts Maritime Academy, then worked as Marine Engineer and Test Engineer for United Fruit and General Electric, respectively.

In December, 1940, Lieut. Commander Estey entered the Coast Guard as a Lieutenant, junior grade. His first assignment was as maintenance officer of the Captain of the Post Office, Cape Cod (Carnal) in 1943, he was promoted to full lieutenant and transferred aboard the USS Cepheus, beginning a five-year tour of sea duty, successfully aboard the USS Breckinridge, the Coast Guard Cutter "Mendota", "Spencer", and "Eastwind." In 1949 he went to the Boston Coast Guard Base as Operations Officer, and in 1951 he was promoted to present rank and assigned to the "Spencer".

For his wartime service, Lieut. Commander Estey is entitled to wear decorations for the American, the former Helen Lindsay of Arlington, Mass., reside at 4 North Gateway, Winchester. They have two children: Roland H., III, who is 9, and Andrea H., 15 months.

REV. WALTER L. BAILEY
FORTY YEARS AS A MINISTER

In a recent Sunday morning service at the First Baptist Church, appropriate recognition was given to the pastor's having completed forty years in the Christian Ministry. At that time, Mr. Bailey told his congregation that he was planning to give a statement of his faith after forty years as a minister.

The following series of sermons, to be delivered during February and March, will reflect that faith: Sunday, February 1 — "Awareness of God is Our Greatest Modern Need"; Sunday, February 8 — "You, as an Individual, are of Supreme Worth"; Sunday, February 15 — "Prayer is the Greatest Achievement of the Human Soul"; Sunday, February 22 — "Liberty is Man's Greatest Blessing and His Gravest Responsibility"; Sunday, March 1 — "For Our World, It is Either Christianity at Its Best or Catastrophe at Its Worst"; Sunday, March 8 — "The Bible Speaks to our Deepest Needs"; Sunday, March 15 — "Righteousness Exalteth a Nation"; Sunday, March 22 — "Love is Still the Greatest"; Sunday, March 29 — "We Can Have Peace When We Pay the Price of Peace"; Sunday, April 5, Easter — "Eternal Life Begins Now".

The First Baptist Church invites the public to share in these sermons.

TO CRUISE ON NAVY CARRIER
Mr. Franklin J. Lane of Drexel avenue is one of three business men who have been selected for the First Naval District who will go on an extended cruise on a Navy vessel under the new Navy program of public relations.

Mr. Lane, who is associated with the Boston Varnish Company and prominent in town affairs, will go to Quonset, R. I., where he and the other business men selected by the Commandant of the First Naval District to make their trip aboard the USS Wright, sailing from Quonset Feb. 2.

The Wright will head directly for the Mediterranean, where she will first take part in Navy maneuvers. Afterward she will visit ports in Northern Africa and in Italy and Southern France.

Mr. Lane and his business associates will be put ashore at one of the Naval bases in Southern France, from which they will leave by Navy plane on Feb. 26 for the return trip to the United States.

For Mr. Lane the cruise will bring back memories of World War I days when he served aboard the USS New York with the rank of ensign. He and his business associates will eat at the officers' mess and will be given every opportunity to see how things are done nowadays on a Navy carrier. Meanwhile all three are busy taking all sorts of "shots" and getting passports and other papers needed before shipping out next week.

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL ENGAGED
Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brimer of Andover, formerly of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ruth Holland Brimer, to William Black McCredie, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McCredie of Elgin, Ill.

Miss Brimer prepared at Abbot Academy and the Brimmer and May School for Mt. Vernon Junior College, from which she was graduated with the class of 1950.

Mr. McCredie was graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy with the class of 1944, after which he served for two years with the Navy. In 1950 he was graduated from Williams College, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta and Phi Beta Kappa.

CRAWFORD MEMORIAL METHODIST CHURCH

GEANNARIS — O'CONNELL

White gladioli and purple pom-poms decorated St. Mary's Church on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 17, for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Catherine O'Connell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. O'Connell of Mt. Pleasant street, to Ernest George Geannaris, son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Geannaris of Walnut street, Woburn. Rev. Fr. John M. Manion pastor of the church, officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony and the bridegroom was played by the church organist, Miss Mary Callahan. Martin McCauley sang the "Ave Maria".

Miss O'Connell was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of slipper satin styled with a full train and having inserts of Chantilly lace on the bodice and skirt. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of calla lilies.

Miss Mary O'Connell of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor, and two small nieces of the bride, Miss Jean, and Miss Donna Peterson of Winchester, were flower girls. Bridesmaids were Miss Lorraine Nelson of Woburn, Miss Mary Carroll Barrett of Concord, Miss Mary McCarthy of Arlington and Miss Marjorie Carson of Medford.

The honor maid wore a full-length dress of lavender taffeta with a purple velvet bolero and matching velvet headpiece. Her cascade bouquet combined yellow gladioli and jonquils.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of Heaven-blue taffeta with boleros and headpieces of deep blue velvet. Their bouquets were like those of the honor maid.

The flower girls wore full-length frocks of lavender taffeta with purple headpieces and carried old-fashioned bouquets.

John Scavallis of Woburn was best man, and ushering were Edward W. O'Connell, Jr., of Arlington, brother of the bride; Charles Douvris of Roslindale and Ernest Baras and Nicholas Baras, both of Woburn. Robert Peterson of Winchester, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the main ballroom of the Hotel Cambridge in Cambridge. Assisting in receiving were the parents of both the bride and bridegroom and members of the bridal party.

Mr. O'Connell, mother of the bride, was wearing a silver-gown and wore pink accessories and matching camellias. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Geannaris, wore a navy blue gown with matching accessories and white camellias.

After the honeymoon in Cape Cod, Mr. and Mrs. Geannaris and his bride drove on to Chicago, and Indiana, where they will live in Bloomington while the bridegroom completes his senior year at University of Indiana.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of the Carney Hospital School of Nursing. Before her marriage she was a nurse at the Winchester Hospital.

Mr. Geannaris is a graduate of Woburn High School and served two years in the United States Navy.

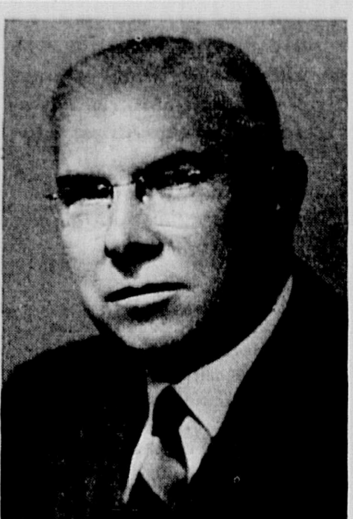

Phil and Teddie O'Rourke of Symmes road were members of the first musical variety show sponsored by the Archdiocese of Boston. They appeared in the show on Jan. 19 and 20 at New England Mutual in Boston. Talent was drawn from the 12 districts of the Holy Name Society, extending from Bedford to the North and South Shores and from Lawrence to Middleboro.

The O'Rourkes, long widely known in and around Winchester for their ability as entertainers, appeared in one of their imitable song and dance acts that was very popular with the deep blue velvet. Included in the talent appearing with the popular local boys were such well known attractions as the Old Gold Cigarette and Matchbox Girls, and vocalists Cindy Lord and Frances Lina.

John Kiley, organist, of WMEX, directed the show which benefited the Holy Name Society's current budget.

BALDACCIO-COSSARI WEDDING FEBRUARY 15
Miss Theresa A. Cossari, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Cossari of 100 Governor's avenue, has chosen Sunday, February 15, as the date for her marriage to Giustino Baldacci, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Giustino Baldacci of 28 Harvard street.

The ceremony will take place in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, and will be followed by an automobile trip which will take the newlyweds to Washington, D. C. They are planning to live in Winchester.

JOHN H. McMANUS

John H. McManus of 21 Harrison street, former general manager of Swift Companies Associated Plants in New England, John P. Squire Company in Cambridge, H. L. Hart Company in Springfield, and Sperry & Barnes Co. in New Haven, Conn., died Tuesday, January 27, of a heart ailment.

Mr. McManus was the son of William H. and Mary (Birmingham) McManus. He was born May 19, 1890, in New Haven, Conn., and lived in that city until 1932, attending the New Haven schools and being graduated from St. Thomas Seminary in Hartford. Before entering the Swift Company employ he attended Georgetown University, and later, commencing in 1928, he studied law for three years at Hartford Law School.

Mr. McManus started with Swift in 1912 in New Haven, remaining at the plant there until 1932, when he was transferred to Cambridge. At that time he settled in Arlington but after two years residence there he came to Winchester and had made his home here for the past 14 years.

Mr. McManus was a former New England chairman of the American Meat Institute, an incorporator and director of the Somerville Chamber of Commerce, a former member of the Somerville Rotary Club, a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the New England Council and the Associated Industries of Massachusetts. He was active in civic and charitable affairs in Boston, Cambridge and Somerville.

On September 24, 1932, Mr. McManus married Grace Colburn Lessey of New Haven, Conn., who survives him with three daughters, Mrs. Elvira Duttelle and Miss Grace McManus, both of Winchester, and Richard Dealy, Jr., of Milwaukee, Wis.; two granddaughters, Joanne Duttelle and Sandra Dealy; a sister, Mrs. Frank J. Murphy of New Haven, Conn.; and a brother, Joseph McManus of Meriden, Conn.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

BUS DRIVER TO FACE COURT
Charles Sheeran of 5 Myrtle street, Woburn, driver of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Bus that figured in the fatal accident at the intersection of the Parkway and Main street on Saturday, January 17, will appear in court sometime in February to answer the charge of operating so as to endanger preferred by the Winchester Police.

Clerk of Court Charles Loring issued a complaint against Sheeran last Friday morning after a hearing in his office at the courthouse in Woburn.

Sheeran was operating the bus that collided with an automobile driven by Rev. Otis B. Read, riding with his husband and making her home in the town for 75 years. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Frank Armstrong of Somerville.

The funeral was held Thursday morning, January 22, at the Sacred Chapel in Arlington with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Joseph McCall. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NOTES
The Winchester Hospital announced a course starting March 1 for the training of hospital aides. The purpose of the course is to permit girls and women with two or more years of high school education to learn the basic skills necessary in the care of patients. Because of the shortage of graduate nurses there is a great need and great opportunity for hospital aides to assist in the care of the ill.

The course will consist of two weeks of class work, plus four weeks of supervised training on the floors. Students will be paid while attending school and upon graduation it is expected the aides will continue in the employ of the hospital at an increase in salary.

Girls wishing further information concerning this opportunity should consult the Director of Nursing at the Winchester Hospital.

ENTERTAINED BEFORE INAUGURAL BALL
Among those who gave supper parties before the Inaugural Ball last week in Washington was Lt. William F. Thompson, USNR, who is on active duty in Washington in the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations. Among his guests was Miss JoAnne Robinson, formerly of this town.

Lt. Thompson, whose Winchester home is at 26 Cabot street, is presently residing in Georgetown. He was active in the Citizens for Eisenhower movement during the Presidential campaign last Fall.

Thompson's roommates, Lts. John C. Evans of Glen Ridge, N. J., and Donald F. White of New Bedford, were special aides to the President of the United States at the Inaugural Ball.

C. D. OPEN HOUSE

Who: All of you.
What: History by Hilton, pictures by Connelly, prints by Wadsworth.
Where: Civil Defense Office, Town Hall, West Entrance.
When: Monday, February 9; from 7:30 to 9:00 p. m.

Why: To make up your Identification Cards.
There is no charge; it takes only a few minutes; and later on, you get a copy, reduced to wallet size. Already there have been over a hundred of these cards mailed out, in their plastic jackets; but there are many more of you yet to have your cards made up. Mrs. Hilton, Jim Connelly and Herb Wadsworth are voluntarily giving up their whole evening to do this for you, so please show up that night, so they will think it has been worth while.

A meeting of Staff members, Division Directors and Section Heads was held in the Art Room at the Library last week, when a film was shown through the courtesy of Mr. Harvey of the Telephone Company, which narrated the vital importance of Communications in Civil Defense operations during emergencies.

Before the showing of the picture, Director Gustin announced that a local test alert will take place in the near future, and that it will probably be based upon a theoretical "regular" bombing attack, not an A-bomb. The interesting feature of this coming alert is that the nature of the "incidents" and "problems" with which our C. D. personnel will have to cope, will be a complete surprise to all, and will not be made known to anyone here until the whistles and sirens begin to sound.

The entire plan will be radioed in from an out-of-town headquarters, and will have to be processed and handled as received, without advance notice. Because of the fact that this is exactly what would take place, should such a bombing attack occur, this reality, this alert should provide excellent practice for all Divisions concerned.

Division Note: Sgt. Bowler is to give another series of his very interesting lectures on police work, for the Auxiliary Police, starting Thursday evening, February 5, at the Rifle Range.

MISS GRETCHEN BLANK
Miss Gretchen Elise Blank, a lifelong resident of Winchester, died Monday morning, Jan. 26, at the Winchester Hospital. She had been ill since last July.

Miss Blank was the daughter of Benjamin E. and Grace (Manning) Blank. She was born June 12, 1896, in Winchester in the house at 263 Highland avenue in which she lived her entire lifetime. She was educated in the Winchester schools and at Miss Emerson School.

Miss Blank leaves two sisters, Mrs. Willard Hudson and Mrs. W. Haven Sherburne, both of Winchester.

Private funeral services were conducted Wednesday at the Kimball Chapel by the Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

MISS MARY E. BARTSTOW
Miss Mary E. Bartstow of 26 Pond street, a long time resident of Winchester, died Monday, January 19, in Malden after a year's illness at the age of 78.

Miss Bartstow was the daughter of Norman G. and Ellen (Flaherty) Bartstow. She was born in Arlington but came with her parents to Winchester as a young child, attending the Winchester schools and making her home in the town for 75 years. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Frank Armstrong of Somerville.

The funeral was held Thursday morning, January 22, at the Sacred Chapel in Arlington with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Joseph McCall. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

WINCHESTER BOY NAMED
Roger H. Rotondi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rotondi of 224 Forest street, has been named by Congresswoman Edith Rogers as an alternate for appointment, both to the Military Academy at West Point and to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Rotondi was named third alternate to Principal Robert Comeau of Belmont for West Point, and third alternate to Principal Robert M. Dever of Woburn for Annapolis. The nominations were made as the result of competitive examinations taken last July, and the nominees will enter the respective academies in July of this year.

OLD MASTERS AT LIBRARY
A rare opportunity for Winchester residents to glimpse in their own public library gallery a small group of distinguished old masters has been arranged for the February exhibition through the cooperation of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Fog Art Museum, and the generous loan of Mrs. Jost Michelson. Included are the 17th and 18th century Dutch, German, Italian and American paintings.

CHANGE IN MEETING OF ST. MARY'S SODALITY
Until further notice all Sodality meetings will be held at 7:45 p. m. on the 1st and 3rd Monday evenings. February meetings, 2nd and 16th.

BREED — YOUNG

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Purse Breed, who were married recently at the bride's home, are residing in Woburn after a skiing trip in New Hampshire. The bride, the former Joanne Charlotte Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Edward Young of Woburn, was given in marriage by her father at a 4 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Robert M. Gray of the Congregational Church of Woburn. The wedding march was played by the bride's brother, J. Edward Young. The reception that followed was held at the Music Hall, Winchester, with music by the Edison Kimball Trio.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice and underskirt of satin, was worn with a matching helmet and shoulder length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white camellias, stephanotis and ivy. Mrs. Allan C. Wagner, matron of honor for her sister, wore a moss green velvet gown with matching headband and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Young chose a gown of dusty rose with hat and shoes to match. Mrs. Breed, mother of the groom, was dressed in royal blue with a hat trimmed with French lilies.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Webb Breed of 763 Main street, had Richard Glendon of Cambridge as his best man. Miss Lydia N. Breed of Swampscott, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Breed is a graduate of the Choate Memorial School of Nursing, has practised nursing at the Visby Hospital, Sweden, and is on the staff of the Winchester Hospital. Mr. Breed is a graduate of Worcester University, a veteran of World War I, president of the Champlain Ski Club, and is employed at the General Electric in Lynn.

FORMER WINCHESTERITES ENGAGED
An engagement of Winchester interest was made public last week-end by Mr. and Mrs. Edward William Butler of Montreal, Canada, who announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Jane, to Mr. Benjamin Blaisted Coe, son of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Benjamin Coe of Los Angeles, Cal.

Both families formerly lived in Winchester, the Butlers at 62 Emerson road, and the Coes at 5 Lagrange street. Rear Admiral Coe served on Admiral Halsey's staff during World War II and was also assistant chief of staff, Administration, First Naval District, Boston.

Miss Butler graduated from Mt. Holyoke College in the class of 1952 and is now on the neurosurgical staff at the Massachusetts General Hospital, doing cancer research.

Mr. Coe graduated from Winchester High School and attended Bowdoin College, from which he graduated in 1943. He is now a member of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, majoring in chemical engineering under the five year plan in which MIT and Bowdoin are cooperating. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity and Tau Beta Phi.

GREAT BOOKS DISCUSSION GROUP
There has been a Great Books Discussion Group formed in Winchester with Mr. Robert A. Sands and Mr. Robert T. Pritchard as co-leaders. The first meeting will be held at the Winchester Library on Wednesday, January 28, at 8 p. m. All those who might be interested are cordially invited to attend.

Today there are tens of thousands of Americans reading and discussing the great books. A typical group usually consists of about thirty adults, men and women, who meet once every two weeks for two hours to read and discuss a selection from the basic ideas by which man has advanced; they deal with basic problems in terms common to all men; and they have had a wide influence on the thought of men throughout the ages. Reading these books is not only a means of gaining any other experience, a means of understanding human aims, motives and shortcomings.

No special educational qualifications are necessary for participation in the program. Willingness to read, express your views, and to face new ideas are the only requirements.

MISS MARGARET SHAUGHNESSY
Miss Margaret Shaughnessy, formerly of 50 Richardson street, and for many years a resident of Winchester, died in Woburn Tuesday, January 27, after a long illness.

Miss Shaughnessy was the daughter of John and Mary (Kearney) Shaughnessy. A native of Galway, Ireland, she came to this country as a young girl, first living in Woburn before coming to Winchester many years ago. During her long residence here she was active in the parish affairs of St. Mary's Church. A brother, James Shaughnessy of this town, is her only immediate survivor.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the P. J. Cox Funeral Home in Woburn, with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Charles Church in that city. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. SARAH FRANCES COTTON

Mrs. Sarah Frances Cotton, widow of Jacob Henry Cotton and mother of Dana M. Cotton of 5 Oneida road, died at her son's home, suddenly, in her sleep, early Tuesday morning, January 27, after three years of failing health. Her death had not been expected and her son was in California when the news of his mother's passing reached him. His returned east immediately by plane.

Mrs. Cotton was born in Ossipee, N. H., November 1, 1872, the daughter of Albert and Frances (Hasty) Meserve. She grew up in Ossipee and was educated in the public and private schools of New Hampshire, teaching for 15 years after her graduation in the schools of Wolfeboro and Intervale.

Mrs. Cotton was married June 29, 1903, and spent most of her married life in Gorham, Me., where her husband was active as a builder. Mr. Cotton died in 1948.

Mrs. Cotton founded the Gorham, Me., Women's Club in 1925, was past president of the Maine Writers Research Club, held various offices in the Maine State Federation of Women's Clubs and was a member of the Gorham Chapter of the Eastern Star.

At the time of the three hundredth anniversary of Congregationalism in Maine Mrs. Cotton was chosen to write a pageant dealing with this event which was produced in Portland in 1921. She also, at the request of the then Governor Ralph Brewster, wrote a play, "The Awakening of Maine," which has been much used by clubs and civic organizations to arouse and intensify interest in Maine and its institutions among residents of the state.

Mrs. Cotton came to make her home in Winchester four years ago. She was a member of the First Baptist Church in this town.

Besides her son, who is Director of Placement at the Harvard Graduate School of Education, Mrs. Cotton leaves two grandchildren, John P. Cotton, a student at Phillips Exeter Academy, and Rebecca Cotton of Winchester, also a sister, Miss Adelaide Meserve of Belmont.

Funeral services are being held this Friday forenoon at 11 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Wolfeboro, N.H.

MRS. IDA BARNSTAD SOWDEN
Mrs. Ida May Barnstad Sowden, mother of James C. B. Sowden and widow of Mr. J. Stanley Barnes of Canterbury road, died early Wednesday morning, January 28, at the Medford Orthopedic Nursing Home in Medford following many months of failing health.

Mrs. Sowden was the daughter of Robert and Nellie (Cunningham) Barnstad. She was born December 1, 1875, in Boston, attended the Boston schools and was graduated from Girls High School in Dorchester. She was for some years a student of languages, specializing in German, of which she had a good command.

Mrs. Sowden was married March 1, 1895, living most of her married life in Norton and South Weymouth. She was a charter member of the South Weymouth Women's Club and Eastern Star Chapter, and for many years a member of the South Weymouth Episcopal Church. Her husband, who was New England distributor for the Dayton Display Fixture Company of Dayton, Ohio, died July 28, 1931.

Mrs. Sowden, following the death of her husband, lived at her home with her daughter, coming to Winchester with Mrs. Barnes 21 years ago from South Weymouth.

Besides her daughter, she leaves a son, Dr. Frederick B. Sowden of Gardiner, Me.; three grandchildren, Mrs. Charles W. Blanchard of Winchester, Cpl. J. Stanley Barnes, Jr., stationed at Fort Devens, and Robert Sowden of Gardiner, Me.; also a great-grandson, Charles Wentworth Blanchard, Jr.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Henry E. Edenberg of the Church of the Epiphany officiating. Private committal services will be held at Cedar Grove Cemetery in Ashmont.

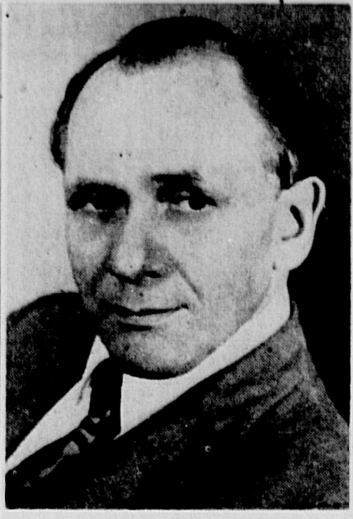

MRS. BERTHA BARTHOLOMEW
Mrs. Bertha Bartholomew, widow of Fred Bartholomew, a former resident of Winchester, died Wednesday, January 28, suddenly at the Doolittle Universalist Home in Foxboro at the age of 76.

Born in Franklin, Mrs. Bartholomew lived in Franklin and Milton before coming to Winchester in 1935. At that time she was making her home with her son, Frederick D. Bartholomew, on Fairmount street, and she left town with him and his family in 1943, going to Reading. In recent years she had been making her home in Foxboro.

Besides her son in Reading, Mrs. Bartholomew leaves a son, John A. Bartholomew of Milton; four grandchildren, Mrs. Paul Butterworth of Winchester, David Bartholomew of Reading, Mrs. Morris Newton and John A. Bartholomew, Jr., both living in New Jersey; and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Doolittle Universalist Home in Foxboro. Interment will be in Franklin.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS
Eugene Groden, Jr., 144 Highland avenue, and Marilyn Day Strahan, 12 Woodside road, are planning to be married on Feb. 28. Groden, 28, is a graduate of the Foxboro High School, and Day, 25, is a graduate of the Foxboro High School. They are both employed at the Foxboro Plant of the General Electric Co. The ceremony will be held at the Foxboro Plant, with Rev. Dr. W. D. Barone, who administered first aid and summoned the boy's mother, who took her son to the Winchester Hospital. X-rays there disclosed a fracture of the fibula bone, but no other serious difficulty, and after having his leg put in a cast by Dr. Alexander T. Aitken and Dr. Harry L. Mueller, David was taken home.

TO SPEAK HERE
Maxim Karolik, a distinguished figure of Boston's Art World, is to be the Guest Speaker at the February 3rd meeting of the Winchester Art Association in the Winchester Public Library Gallery. Mr. Karolik, a tall, dark Russian, whose career as a concert tenor set hearts aflutter long before he became one of Boston's patrons of Art, is the donor of the new and expansive American Wing at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. His collections of American Art are well known, and he himself has poured his energy and his wealth with enthusiasm into the creating of this project. Mr. Karolik will speak on "The Meaning of the Karolik Collections." Members are urged to come early, as the openings of the Exhibition begin promptly at 8 o'clock and a capacity audience is expected.

The Current Exhibition will include two Copley portraits and several other 18th and 19th Century American Examples, among a distinguished group of 17th Century Dutch and German Masters, Italian and French, loaned from the Fine Arts and Fogg Art Museums. The hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood and Mrs. Gretchen West, who will take care of the refreshments and table decorations, assisted by Mrs. George Marks, Mrs. Harold Blanchard, Mrs. Peter Money, Mrs. Robert Abbott, Mrs. Helen Edgell, and Mrs. Albert Crockett.

Arrangements for the Exhibition and Talk are made by Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff, Exhibition chairman.

ON BAND TOUR

Scott M. Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Cunningham of 22 Jefferson road, accompanied the Ohio Wesleyan University Concert Band to Navarre, Toronto, and Salem, Ohio, on January 28, 29, and 30.

On the tour, the band, which is under the direction of Charles Thompson, performed Handel's Concerto Grosso, Fauchet's Symphony in B-flat, Grieg's Piano Concerto in A minor, and works of Gould, Morrisey, Shostakovich, and Sousa.

Cunningham, who plays the baritone saxophone, is an engineering major. He has been active in the rifle club, and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Former Town Engineer and Mrs. Parker Holbrook left the first of the week for a winter vacation in Florida, making their headquarters for a part of the time, at least, in St. Petersburg.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

At the charming home of Mrs. William G. Ross the Winchester Garden Club held a most delightful meeting on Thursday, January 22. Assisted by Mrs. Percy Hugbee as her co-hostess, dessert was served, with Mrs. William W. Goodhue pouring the coffee. After a short business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, the program was presented by a former president, Mrs. Norman M. Mitchell, whose subject was "Dining Table Arrangements."

Mrs. Mitchell, who is well known for her skill in flower arrangements, and greatly in demand for talks on the subject, stressed the necessity of creating interest in all four sides of an arrangement for the dining table, and keeping the arrangement fairly low—not more than fourteen inches in height—except for a formal dinner party, when greater heights may be desirable. Pinks and reds, she explained, are more satisfactory for evening use, as blues and purples tend to become dull under artificial light.

Her first arrangement, in an old-fashioned silver cake basket, consisted of soft pink snapdragons for height and silhouettes, or general form of the arrangement, pale pink and deepest pink carnations on one side of the arrangement, with deep red roses on the other side, and for a focal point the leaves of coleus adding an even deeper note of color and interest. This was a formal arrangement, with the following examples for more informal settings: the cheerful yellow of jonquills against the lively green of the Japanese yew, with its graceful branches for height and added interest, in a low pewter container on a teak wood base; white gardenias laid with apparent but artistic carelessness at the base of an upright piece of white coral in a flat modern type of container, a white china bird completing the picture of cool, informal charm; another low arrangement of peach gladioli cut very short, in a white china container, with the peach of the gladioli echoed in the exotic leaves of coleus, and last of all, for a very informal setting, a low wicker basket with short-stemmed red carnations arranged in a mass with Mrs. Mitchell's own skill, their delicate foliage supplying the height required. Massachusetts, Mrs. Mitchell said, grows more carnations than any other state, and these extremely decorative blooms with their spicy fragrance may be used with great success if the arranger will cut the stems to the shorter length needed for an artistic arrangement.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The next monthly meeting Monday, February 2, at the Legion Home will prove to be one of the most outstanding meetings of the season. We are most fortunate to have two interesting speakers. Mrs. Mary C. Dean, district director, well known for her work, will speak on Americanism. Our next guest is our 1952 delegate to Girls' State, Miss Gloria Mucera, will relate her own wonderful experience at Girls' State. If you lack transportation and want to attend this meeting, call Lillian Roy, WI 6-3748-M. Arrangements will be made to have you at the Legion Home. The meeting will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

Saturday, January 31, you have a date to attend a very good home-made baked bean supper. Chair-lady Lillian Roy has set the time for serving to begin at 6:30, until 8:00. After the supper entertainment will follow. We are looking forward to seeing many familiar faces at your Legion Home.

Keep these dates open in your engagement book:

Thursday, February 12, a joint ward party at Bedford Hospital. The Legion is helping us on this one.

Saturday, February 14, the Auxiliary is planning one of their most popular dances.

SQUARE DANCING
AT WYMAN SCHOOL

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils and their parents gathered in the Wyman Auditorium on Friday, January 23, for an evening of fun with square dancing.

Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, Jr., welcomed the assembled guests and introduced Dr. Forbes Norris, Superintendent of Schools in Winchester. Dr. Norris described in brief some aspects of the physical education program in the school system.

Mr. Alfred Meuring, Assistant Supervisor of Physical Education in the Winchester Public Schools, was then introduced by Mrs. Ingraham. Under his direction, each grade presented a "specialty number."

WINS NEW HOCKEY HONOR

Wellington "Wimpy" Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Burnett of 36 Wildwood street, and captain of the Boston College hockey team, was last week chosen as the college hockey star of the week by Boston hockey writers at their weekly luncheon at the Amalfi.

"Snooks" Kelley, who as coach of the Eagles team knows Burnett's capabilities better than any one, rates the Winchester boy one of the best players he has ever coached and probably the best right wing in college hockey today. This is high praise for the veteran B. C. mentor has had some fine hockey players at University Heights.

Coach Herb Gallagher of Northeastern also sings Burnett's praises, saying "He's as fine a right wing as I've seen in a long long time. I like him because he's a great competitor."

"Wimpy", don't call him Wellington, he's a big guy now, graduated from Winchester High in 1949, after playing football, hockey and tennis, as well as swimming the 200 meter event for Helen Carroll's Winchester Swimming Club.

He starred in hockey, and undoubtedly the fact that Boston College invariably has outstanding hockey teams, influenced his decision to matriculate at University Heights.

He was accompanied to Newton by a Winchester High School hockey teammate, "Whip" Saltmarsh, who also ran a good mile for the Winchester Indians, and the two have played freshman and varsity hockey for B. C. for the past three years.

Burnett, who has played both defense and forward, was elected captain at the close of last year, and has been having his greatest season this year. His many friends in Winchester will be glad to learn of his latest athletic honor.

WINCHESTER OVER LEXINGTON

Winchester High bounced back from their Belmont defeat to take a pleasing 61-52 victory from a good Lexington High team at the high school gym last Friday night. Lexington presented a well-drilled quintet that outscraped the locals in the first half to present an interesting game to the spectators. The Indians dominated the boards in the third quarter, however, as they played their best ball in recent outings to cool off the Minutemen.

The first quarter was a nightmare to local fans as Lexington ran up a 17-9 lead in that period. The Indians could do nothing right, while Lexington was hitting an extremely high percentage of their set shots. The Red and Black played good ball in the second quarter to gain eight points on the scrappy Minutemen and leave the floor at the intermission all even at 28-28. The Indians continued their good play through the third quarter to take a 45-38 lead into the final period. Lexington spurred early in the fourth quarter to cut the lead to three points but the Indians drew slowly away to win by a comfortable margin of nine points.

Coach Bartlett was pleased with the way his players bounced back from their discouraging Belmont defeat to put on their best performance of recent games. The way they refused to become rattled in that bad first quarter indicates that the boys are shaking the jitters that has handicapped their play. The Indians really controlled the boards in the second half with Stu Thomson standing out as he swept the defensive backboard to start the Winchester offense down the floor. Joe Dilorio played very aggressive ball for the Indians as he looked good in his first starting assignment of the season. The scoring was well distributed, with four of the five starters all hitting for double figures. Accuracy from the foul line provided the Indians margin of victory, with Norm Howard sinking 12 out of 15 free throws and John Atkinson 6 out of 7 to star in that vital department.

The Winchester Seconds made it nine straight for the season with a 61-50 victory over the Lexington Seconds. The locals went into the lead at the six-minute mark of the first period to stay in front all the way, but never had a comfortable margin until the closing minutes. Jim Wright with 13 points, Buddy McKinley with 11, and Pete Gove with 10 were the Winchester high scorers.

INDIANS SNAPPED STONEHAM'S STRING

Winchester High cooled off a hot Stoneham High quintet by defeating the Bluejackets at Stoneham on Tuesday afternoon by a score of 63-44. Stoneham had won five consecutive games and was expected to be tough on their tricky home court but the Indians played good ball all the way to register an easy triumph. The locals completely dominated the boards as they used their height to good advantage to rebound strongly.

Only the first quarter was close as Winchester posted a 12-8 lead at the end of that canto. The Indians did a great job defensively in the second period to limit Stoneham to just three points while scoring 13 to move into a 25-11 halftime lead. Stoneham changed to a man-to-man defense in the third quarter but Thomson and Muncaster were driving well to pace the Indians to a 46-28 third quarter margin. Winchester matched the Stoneham output in the final period to win by a comfortable margin.

The Indians continued to play good ball in this game as they did against Lexington last Friday night to raise the hopes of local fans for the second half of the

MOMS AND DADS ON TRIAL

There are many reasons why the family needs to strengthen its relationships. That is why the Baptist Youth Fellowship is holding a family pot luck supper at First Baptist Church on February 15. Come and bring the young people and let's have a good friendly get-together.

Physical separation of our family means greater need for spiritual unity. The family also finds itself with as many interests as there are members. If you feel plagued by this type of separation, this family supper is planned to be of help to you.

METHODIST YOUTH ACTIVITIES

By way of slide pictures, the Junior Youth Fellowship of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church took a trip to Mexico at its meeting last Sunday evening. Mrs. Jo-Ellen McMannis talked about her trip to this beautiful country. The devotional period was conducted by Miss Kathryn Eden.

The Senior Youth Fellowship set up a program to take care of their services for the next two months. The subject for discussion this coming Sunday will be on the present prison conditions and problems of delinquency. Miss Shirley Kinney will lead the discussion. Mr. George Roghaar, Jr., will lead devotions.

LONG GOING WELL FOR TABOR

Rodney Long of Everett avenue, who was a member of last season's unbeaten State Championship basketball team at Winchester High School, is continuing his success on the court this year.

The sky-scraping "Rod" is currently centering the unbeaten Tabor Academy quintet, which last Saturday gave Milton Academy its first defeat of the season, 53-45. Long was Tabor's high scorer with 19 points, and in the game before the Milton victory he ran up a total of 18.

CITIZENS SHOULD ACT!

Editor of the Star:

I have just been talking with a citizen of this town who evidently knows much about what is now going on in town relative to the proposed lifting of the railroad, and what previously was done by certain people to force this plan upon the town's citizens.

It seems to me that the time has come, and before it is too late, for the citizens to demand that the Planning Board and the School Building Committee have retained recommend that Main street be closed from the junction of Main street at the Parkway to the junction of Washington and Main streets, thus diverting the now through traffic to Washington street, and following perhaps in a modified form the "Kellaway" or "Foster Plan," either of which could be carried to completion for probably less than one-third of the cost of the proposed crossing elimination, with a saving both to the town and to the state.

If these two experts agree that the highway traffic should be diverted so that the proposed school plan can be carried out, to solve the school problem, then why is not our traffic problem solved at the Center, which will not have been solved, but made worse, by the lifting of the railroad tracks. While the railroad is now located does delay highway traffic, but only for short periods, it does not compare with delays caused by the growing volume of trucks and other motor-driven equipment at this junction point.

Neither the Board of Selectmen, Planning Board, nor the School Building Committee has seen fit to advise its citizens, via the local paper, of their plans or of the advice given them, so that the people of the town can know and give some thought to so important and expensive a project. The town's business is everyone's business, not that of just a few insiders or pressure groups, with a pet scheme!

It is hoped that the March town meeting will reconsider this whole project of traffic diversion in a sane and sensible manner before it is too late. If there are any people left in town who use the railroad trains, and who can visualize climbing up the twenty or more feet of ramp to take a train on a morning of a heavy snow storm, it is hoped that they assert themselves and demand that the railroad remain where it now is, and that the highway traffic be diverted.

I hope the citizens of this town will wake up to the fact that the raising of the railroad is an ill-conceived solution of their traffic problem.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

There was a large attendance at the Fortnightly meeting held in the First Baptist Church last Monday, January 26th, at 2:00 p. m. The president, Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, presided over a short business meeting, after which she introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Marion T. Rudkin.

Mrs. Rudkin, one of the best literary speakers of today, in her delightful manner shared with us the following current books which she had read and recommended:

"Desiree," by Annamaria Selinko. An historical novel of Napoleon's first love, to whom he was engaged and who later followed her heart to the throne of Sweden.

"The Sojourner," by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings. A story of farm life in the Middle Atlantic States. Shows that a deep abiding joy may be found through simple tasks.

"The Medicine Whip," by Margaret and John Harris. The story of an oxcart driver.

"The Gentle Kingdom of Giamomo," by Evelyn Wells. About a flower grower. If you love flowers, this book will delight you.

"Apricot Sky," by Ruby Ferguson. A gay, uncomplicated family story that takes place in Scotland.

"Always the Young Strangers," by Carl Sandburg. An autobiography. Entertaining and excellent reading.

"Proud Kate," by Ishbel Ross. Historical novel.

"Whaling Wives," by Emma Mayhew Whiting and Henry Beeble Hough. Takes place in Martha's Vineyard. About the wives of men who went on whaling vessels.

"The Best Years of Your Lives," by Marie Beyon Rey. Tells how to deal with age.

"Just For Today," by James Keller. A religious theme, beautifully done.

"The Last Resort," by Cleveland Armory. A clever comedy of a Boston lady.

"This I Believe," by Edward Murrow. A philosophy of life by 100 people in different walks of life.

Literature Committee
The Literature Committee will meet in the Edgar Rich Room of the public library, Monday, February 2, at 2:00 p. m. Miss Gertrude A. Kimball will present "The Avon," along whose shores lived William Shakespeare. There will also be a 10-minute review of a current book. Members are cordially invited.

Music Committee
Rehearsal of the Fortnightly Choral Group will be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hiscoc at 10:00 a. m. Monday, February 2.

Education Committee
Members of the Education Committee and guests met January 22 in the home of Mrs. Stewart Chaffee and enjoyed a fine program which was followed by morning coffee.

Mr. John A. McCarthy, Assistant Center Administrator of Massachusetts Regional Blood Program of the Red Cross, was the speaker and stressed the following facts: That a doctor is in attendance at all times and a complete physical examination is given free to determine whether the donor is able to give; that there is no need to fear the needle, as an anesthetic is applied first. Mr. McCarthy stressed the need in Korea and also at home and invited anyone interested to visit the unit in operation at any time.

A sound film, "There Is No Substitute," was shown which showed the whole process of giving blood.

MYSTIC MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Mystic School Mothers' Association sponsored a parents' night at the school on Tuesday evening, January 27th, at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee, President of the Association, introduced Miss Virginia French, supervisor of art in the Winchester schools, who gave a brief explanation of the different theories of teaching art, and who then showed colored slides showing the work done by pupils in the Winchester schools.

Mr. Fred Felmet, supervisor of music, introduced the 33 piece band of the Mystic School. As two-thirds of the band are beginners, the selections played were of necessity simple. Some of the more advanced band members were soloists.

Members participating in the evening's concert were:

Soloists were Kathryn Swisher and Martha Dyer, Clarinet; Stephen Blair, cornet; Oliver Peterson, trombone; Leonard Mead, Saxophone; Betty Swisher, flute; Dennis Baker, French horn.

On Friday, February 6, in the new George Washington School Auditorium, the Dads' Club will hold their annual Winter Sports Dance. This year, by popular request, it is to be a combination "Square Dance" and "Modern Record Hop."

Mr. Meurling, of local teaching fame, has been engaged as the "Caller" of the evening, and Chairman Joseph Cussack and his committee have arranged an excellent program of modern dances.

Proceeds will be used for the children of the George Washington School.

WINCHESTER HOMEFRONTERS

We know you readers will enjoy the following letters:

Uijongbu, Korea
January 18, 1953
Dear Homefronters:
Your Christmas package arrived here this afternoon, and although the huge mails that came this way during the holiday season must have held it up, I want to assure you all that it was received with much appreciation. I feel that I have been more than fortunate during this season, for not only have I received a gift box from your organization, but also one from the En Ka Society. I certainly wish to thank you for your kindness.

Since Christmas is now over, and because we here in the UN Forces are so well fed and taken care of, I hope that you will not mind too much what I am going to do with your gift. I plan to give it to some one of the extremely needy families here in South Korea. I believe that if you all could see them as we do, you would do exactly the same thing. I just want to assure you all that I am most appreciative of your thoughtfulness, but I also know that you all would approve of my making this "present" to the Korean children.

From the looks of things at this moment, I will be heading back to the States and my wife in June. At that time I will be in Winchester during a few of my 30 days leave before heading for my next duty station. Therefore, I hope that I will have the opportunity to thank you all personally for your kindness to me and the Korean children. Good luck and best wishes to you all from the Land of the Morning Calm.

Respectfully,
John A. Albrece

Dear Homefronters:
I feel very much ashamed of myself for not writing you sooner to thank you for the swell package that you sent me. It sure made me stop and think when the package did arrive about the swell people back in the place called home.

I am now stationed in a basic training command where we train recruits from all over the country except Winchester. I am doing office work here, which as you all know is very interesting.

I expect to be home in the next month, and not having been home since the first of June I expect to see many changes in the old home town.

I must close now thanking you again, and congratulating you all on the swell job that you have done.

Sincerely,
Pvt. Peter H. Flagg

SQUARE DANCING AT JUNIOR HIGH

Between one hundred and one hundred sixty pupils of the junior high school are enjoying instruction in square dancing at meetings held monthly under the guidance of Alfred Meurling, physical education instructor.

These seventh and eighth grade boys and girls, most of whom have had similar experiences in our elementary schools, covet through fifteen types of squares with enviable skill and contagious abandon.

The square dances are as much fun for the shy person as for the aggressive type. At an age when many youngsters become self-conscious and awkward, this group activity develops better social adjustment as well as graceful bearing.

As good "mixers," the dances encourage further social orientation by helping pupils from all parts of the community to get acquainted. If the students' enthusiasm is any indication, square dancing in our schools will be with us for a long time.

ADMISSIONS OFFICERS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Following its usual practice, the Guidance Office is scheduling meetings between school and college admissions officers and interested students. Already the representatives of many leading colleges have visited the school and others are yet to come. Students are kept informed of these visits through notices in the daily homeroom bulletin.

On January 27, Mrs. Mabel W. Kelley, director of admissions at Centenary Junior College, Hackettstown, New Jersey, talked with students in the Guidance Office.

On February 10, Mrs. Robert Dole of the Katherine Gibbs School, will meet with any girls who might be interested in secretarial training. One the same day, Miss Lorna Mickle, a representative of the Admissions Office of Goucher College, will talk to girls interested in continuing their education in a liberal arts college.

The associate dean of Yale University will be in the Boston area on February 12, 13, and 14, and the Guidance Office will arrange interviews for any student who wishes to meet with him.

DeMOLAY NEWS

Winchester Chapter, Order of DeMolay, replaced its regularly scheduled meeting of January 28th with its annual Father and Sons Banquet. It was held at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Winchester. A chicken pie dinner was prepared and served by the mothers, after which a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation presented an interesting talk on the work of the F. B. I.

The DeMolay Degree will be exemplified for Mount Horeb Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Woburn on Wednesday evening, February 4th, at the invitation of Mr. Lane Wheaton, Master.

A public installation of officers will be held Saturday evening, February 7th at Masonic Apartments, 1 Mt. Vernon street, with the State Suite installing. Refreshments and dancing will follow the installation.

The public is cordially invited. The next regular meeting of the chapter will be held on Wednesday evening, February 11th at which time "Dad" Herbert K. Miller, District Deputy, will make his official visitation.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Massachusetts State Winter Meeting will be held at New England Mutual Hall on Tuesday, February 3rd, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Community relations between Girl Scouts and other organizations are the subject matter of the meeting, being presented under the title "We are not Alone." Of particular interest to Winchester people is the panel discussion to be held in the afternoon. The theme of the panel is to be the inter-relationship between Schools, Churches, Men's Clubs and Women's Clubs and the Girl Scouts, and is entitled "Friends of the Town." Mrs. Roswell Harding, our Vice-President will represent schools, and Mr. Charlie Koch, of the Sport Shop, will represent the Men's Clubs. It will be most interesting to learn of the mutual benefits received from the work and contacts between all these community organizations.

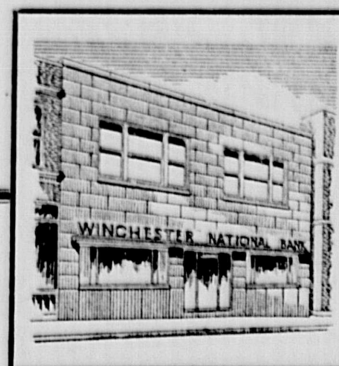

On Wednesday, February 4, there will be a Leaders Meeting at the Congregational Church, at 10 a. m. Blanche McGowan will be on hand to instruct all in her famous and useful singing games and songs. Be sure to notify your assistants, and your Troop Committee members. Check one very necessary item: Wear Flat Shoes!

The American Campers Association Meeting will be held at the Hotel Statler on Friday, February 6th, and Saturday, February 7th. The following rather brief account gives little indication of the amount of work which went into preparing the meeting, nor of the most enjoyable and successful results enjoyed by all.

The Girl Scouts of Troop 14, under the leadership of Mrs. Dora Grimes, Mrs. Lucy Caruso, and Miss Eleanor Pettenger, gave a most successful Informal Tea, held at St. Mary's School Hall on Tuesday, January 27th. Pourers were Ellen Craven and Martha McGregg, and Mistress of Ceremonies was Louella Caruso.

The meeting was opened in traditional Girl Scout style, with a march, salute to the Flag, singing and the renewal of their Promise. Invited guests were the mothers, Troop Committee, Sisters of St. Joseph and Father Anadore. The girls were awarded their badges and service pins. Entertainment was furnished by the Girl Scouts, along with a specialty tap dance by Brenda DePanfilo; skits by Mary Morgan, Kathy Bryer, and Ruth DeLay. Billy and Francis

To Borrow ... or not to Borrow ...

It isn't really difficult to decide whether or not you should borrow money. Here's a simple test: Just ask yourself if the loan will help you accomplish a sound purpose. The competent businessman who needs credit to make more money ... the individual who wants to consolidate his bills into one obligation which he can pay off systematically, and the person who needs extra funds for doctor bills, emergencies, or to finance home repairs or equipment, or to buy a new car — all can make good use of a bank loan, provided they see their way clear to repay the loan as agreed. A bank loan is economical. It can be obtained promptly and without red tape. And you establish a bank relationship for the future which can be useful to you in many other ways. If you need credit, come see us.

DRY CLOTHES ANYTIME IN ANY WEATHER WITH AN AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER

COSTS HERE PENNIES A DAY ... SAVES HOURS OF BACK-BREAKING WORK!

Today's electric dryer lets you dry clothes any time — regardless of weather. Not only that, but many come out ready to put away — saving ironing time. You save money, too, because with electric drying conveniences you need fewer linens and clothing. No more lugging heavy baskets ... no more wrestling with frozen clothes lines. Just toss clothes from the washer into the dryer. In minutes they dry fluffy-fresh and sweet-smelling. They'll look better — and so will you, once you switch to easy-does-it matchless Electric Drying.

See the new 1953 FRIGIDAIRE AUTOMATIC CLOTHES DRYER!

- AMAZING NEW DEVICE traps moisture and lint, ends wet walls, foggy windows.
- TIMER lets you put in or take out clothes without re-setting of dial.
- OZONE LAMP in drying compartment gives clothes that "sunshine smell".
- BASKET-HIGH OPENING makes loading and unloading almost effortless.
- PORCELAIN-FINISHED CABINET AND DRUM ... another Frigidaire exclusive with lifetime protection against chipping and rust.

Wednesday testimonial meeting 8 p. m.
Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The spiritual basis of man's brotherhood, as children of one Father, divine love, will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" which will be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday.

The healing power of divine love in the overcoming of fear is emphasized in this Bible passage, which will be among those read during the service: "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear;
for fear hath torment." (1 John 4:18)

Passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will indicate that "It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Mind, one God and Father, one Life and Truth, and one Kingdom will become perfect in proportion as this fact becomes apparent, war will cease and the true brotherhood of man will be established." (467:9-13)

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah (24:24): "Let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord, which exercise loving kindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth."

SACHEMETTES IN BIG WIN

DEFEAT ARLINGTON IN EXCITING GAME

The Winchester High School Basketball team, playing on their home court, defeated their top rivals, Arlington, 59-57 on Friday,
January 23.

At half time Arlington led 26-25 through their ability to make spectacular floor shots outside the normal guarding zone. In addition they proved a dangerous team in that they made 6 out of 8 free throws.

SALOM RIZK

TO ADDRESS MEN'S CLUB

The Men's Club of the First Congregational Church takes pleasure in welcoming Dr. Cart to their midst, and he will be the guest of honor at their first supper meeting of the season on Tuesday, February 3rd, at 6:30 p. m. in the Parish Hall.

The featured speaker will be Salom Rizk, whose message, "America is More than a Country," has been hailed by Lowell Thomas, the New York Times, as well as a host of others. A Syrian orphan who suddenly discovers he is an American citizen, relates his troubles in reaching America, and his reactions upon discovering this country.

Don't fail to attend this outstanding meeting for men only and their invited guests. Tickets are only 99c and may be reserved by calling Raymond J. Carter at Winchester 6-1265-M.

WINCHESTER WOMAN
DISCUSSES "ALCOMETER"

Mrs. Marion Mowatt of 4 Winslow road is the author of "Drunk Trap", appearing in the January 25 issue of USA, the Magazine of American Affairs, describing the "Alcometer" a new laboratory testing device which scientifically decides by the amount of alcohol in the blood stream whether a suspected driver is guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor, or while drunk.

The "Alcometer", already described in a previous article in the Star, was developed by the Alfred Bicknell Associates in collaboration with the Department of Applied Physiology at Yale University. It is practically fool-proof, costs $845.00, and the individual tests cost 35c. It has been endorsed by the FBI and other leading safety, medical and law enforcing agencies.

Robert S. Fish, president of the Alfred Bicknell Associates, located at 243 Broadway in Cambridge, is widely known in Winchester through his membership and activity in the Winchester Country Club.

Mrs. Mowatt, whose article in USA is of great interest, is a former teacher of psychology, who now lectures for club groups.

SERIES BY
REV. JOHN SNOOK JR.

This coming Sunday, the pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will continue his series on the history of the Church. His subject will be on what it means to be a Protestant. He will continue the history through to various branches of the Protestant Faith and their contributions to the over-all Christian church. The series will also take into consideration the weaknesses and strength of the various faiths.

WYMAN SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

On Wednesday, January 21, the board of the Wyman Mothers' Association met at the home of its secretary, Mrs. Eber T. LeGates, to enjoy a short coffee hour and a discussion of forthcoming plans for the association.

Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, Jr., conducted the meeting at which plans for a discussion on February 18 of art and music in the schools by Miss French and Mr. Felmet were crystallized.

With much enthusiasm, some of the plans for a much-demanded informal dance, to be held on March 14, were discussed. Mrs. Howard Ulfelder and her committee are energetically at work planning the details of this affair which promises to be a high spot in the activity program of the year.

Valentine assortments 10 and 25 cents per package at Wilson the Stationer, 3 Church street.

PLAYERS TO PRESENT
"THE WINSLOW BOY"

"The Winslow Boy" by Terence Rattigan will be presented by the Parish Players on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, February 12, 13 and 14 in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church. Curtain is at 8:30.

Mr. John Woodruff of 8 Sheffield road, a member of the Drama Department at Tufts College will direct "The Winslow Boy". Mr. Harlan F. Grant, who was directing the play, is hospitalized and unable to continue his work on the winter production, and Mr. Woodruff has been kind enough to help the Players in the emergency. His skill and background are already proving a boon to the players in the cast!

Robert Becker is playing Ronnie, the boy in the Winslow case (which is based on an actual event); George E. Connor portrays his father, and Mrs. Hall Gamage the mother. Mrs. Ormond M. Hessler and George S. Hebb, Jr., are the brother and sister; John A. Ricker, Jr., the fiancé; Robert P. Blake is Desmond; and Mrs. John Harrison is the newspaper woman, with Mrs. Robert P. Blake the photographer.

Mr. L. William Barnard, a newcomer to the Players, has the role of the suave Sir Robert, and another newcomer, Mrs. Alma Diviny, is "Violet", the maid.

Miss Marjorie L. McGaw is producing the play. George E. Connor, prompter; George H. Gowdy, Raymond J. Carter, Charles Brown, Philip Cabot, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Millican, stage crew; Kenneth H. Spencer, lighting; Mrs. Bradford M. Bentley, Mrs. John A. Ricker, Jr., Mrs. Henry G. Fernald, stage setting; Mrs. John B. Willis, Miss Dorothy M. Osborne, Miss Frances Peirce, properties; Miss Margaret Hodgson, Mrs. Philip Cabot, Mrs. L. William Barnard, costumes; Mrs. Florence Grant, make-up; Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ashley Lewis are in charge of coffee during intermission, and Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. George H. Gowdy and Miss Almida Vickery have charge of hostesses, pourers and ushers for the three nights.

This play has been suggested for winter production by ANTA, American National Theatre Association, as a play of international merit, and after its performances here, pictures, stories and review will be sent to ANTA for publication in the bulletin.

DR. POLLARD TO DISCUSS "ELIJAH"

"The Magnificent Elijah" the superb story in music by Felix Mendelssohn will be played and explained by Dr. Eugene M. Pollard at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Guild on Wednesday evening, February 4, at 7:45 P. M. in the Ladies' Parlor, First Congregational Church. This meeting is one of the highlights of the Guild's program, and Miss Helen Monroe, director, extends a warm invitation to all women to hear this music of inspiration.

Dr. Pollard, among whose hobbies is music and the collecting of fine recordings, will bring his own long recording of the oratorio "Elijah" that evening, and will present two, possibly three, sides for the listeners. The oratorio is in English, and each guest will be given a libretto with which to follow the story and the background of "Elijah", sharing with his listeners his own deep appreciation of this world-famous oratorio. The program will be given "living room style", informally, with opportunity for questions or comments. Coffee will be served by Mrs. Elizabeth McWha and her committee. Those who enjoy good music will be welcomed at this meeting, and members are urged to bring guests.

EDNA LEWIS MARSHALL

Returning to Winchester by popular demand, the second annual free television cooking school, "Fun With Food," featuring the popular television star, Edna Lewis Marshall, will be presented at the Town Hall starting Monday.

Homemakers of Winchester and nearby sections who attended the first presentation of the "Fun With Food" cooking school last year in Winchester will derive pleasure and profitable experience from Mrs. Marshall's demonstrations in her return engagement.

Presented by First National Stores, Mrs. Marshall will be seen here complete with model kitchen, recipes, and in addition, over 150 free prizes. The "Fun With Food" Free Cooking School will play for four days, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, February 2, 3, 4, 5, from 1:30 - 3:30 p. m. There is no admission charge, and nothing to buy.

Co-operating locally on this event is Noko Company, well-known West Medford appliance dealer, who is donating the grand prize of a brand new 1953 Gibson Refrigerator valued at $299.95. Other daily prizes will include 15 bags of food, as well as the food items prepared on the stage by Mrs. Marshall.

First National Stores are proud to bring this outstanding food authority to Winchester. With a record of food experience longer than your arm, Mrs. Marshall has an international background of home economics in general and cooking in particular. Besides obtaining major degrees in colleges in the United States, she took special courses at the famous Cordon Bleu in Paris. In addition to this, she studied in Germany under the direction of two high-ranking chefs who were formerly attached to Hitler's crack kitchen.

Women of Winchester and vicinity are urged to attend these outstanding cooking school sessions. Capacity seating will be provided. Mrs. Marshall on her previous lectures throughout New England, and it is expected that the Town Hall will be packed for each of the four sessions of "Fun With Food."

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL IN ART SHOW IN BARRINGTON

Mrs. Barton F. Curitt of 251 Rumbuck Point, Barrington, R. I., is giving a "one-woman" show in the Barrington Public Library this month. Especially lovely are her period costume designs, done in delicate watercolors. The colors and intricate details of costume are handled with a deft hand.

Not confining herself to watercolor Mrs. Curitt is exhibiting oils and charcoals as well. Her oil paintings are rich in color and technique. Local scenes are Volpe's Pond, Barrington, Stanley's Boat Yard, Barrington, and Outfitting the "Modern Times."

Mrs. Curitt is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art, Boston, and has also studied at the Traphagan School in New York City. She is a former teacher of costume design and illustration at the R. I. School of Design, and is a member of the Providence Art Club, and the Barrington Sketch Group.

Ed. Note—Mrs. Curitt is the former Marjorie Sands Likins, daughter of Mrs. Bessie D. Likins of 22 Pond Road, and the late Horace Likins. Mrs. Curitt lived in Winchester before her marriage while attending Massachusetts School of Art. She and Mr. Curitt were married here June 21, 1930, by Dr. Howard J. Chidley.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The Women's League of the First Baptist Church will hold their regular meeting on Thursday, February 5, at the church. There will be sewing at 10 a. m., followed by a luncheon at noon served by Mrs. Forbes H. Norris and her committee.

The program will begin at 1 p. m. Devotions will be in charge of Mrs. Eleanor R. Davis. "The Rivers Still Flow," a film depicting the story of an American Indian at Bacone College, will be shown, followed by a short talk on the American Indian, given by Mrs. William J. Eklund.

BOARD OF SURVEY
Notice is hereby given that the Board of Survey of the Town of Winchester, Mass., will give a public hearing in the Selectmen's Room in the Town Hall building on Monday, the ninth day of February, 1953, at 8:30 o'clock p. m., to consider the petition of FITZGERALD FUEL COMPANY, 36 Church street, for approval of a plan filed with said petition for a way, as yet unnamed, from the end of MEADOWCROFT ROAD, southeasterly about 228 feet, which it proposes to open for public use.

After which hearing the Board may alter said plan and may determine where said way shall be located and the width and grade thereof.

Prior to the hearing the plan may be examined at the office of the Town Engineer.

By Order of the Board of Survey, this 26th day of January, 1953.

EAGLE SCOUT SUMMONS
FIRE DEPARTMENT

A bad fire was averted on Saturday evening Jan. 24th when a huge fire broke way on a tall tree located near Lynch's Market on Washington street and landed on Edison wires, severing them in half. Immediately flames ignited the branches and the severed ends of the wires acted like huge sparklers at Fourth of July time.

Eagle Scout Tony Doyle of Troop 12, St. Mary's parish, accompanied by Larry Erhard of Life Scout rank, passing by in Tony's car on their way to a bowling session, noticed the sparking wires and stopped the car. Tony raced to the nearest box 321 and pulled the alarm. Lights were put over an hour and a half while Firemen and Edison men worked to restore service. Prompt action of the scouts saved much possible damage.

Tony is employed by John Cullen and Company of Woburn. Electrical Contractors while Larry attends Cathedral High in Boston.

CLAIMED BOYS SHOT AT HIM

The father of an 11 year old Cross street youngster reported to the Police last week Thursday evening that while his son had been in the vicinity of the General Crushed Stone plant off Cross street that afternoon two older boys had shot at him with what appeared to be a .22 rifle.

Officers Winthrop Palmer and Archie O'Connell went to the homes of the boys named and later that evening the parents of the boy owning the rifle came to Headquarters with their son. The boy admitted firing the rifle but denied he had fired it at anyone.

He was given a severe lecture about firearms by Lt. Joseph Dorro, and at the suggestion of his father, the rifle was retained by the Police.

REV. RAYMOND A. DUDLEY

SENIOR FORUM

At 9:30 this Sunday the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will meet in Ripley Chapel for their weekly worship service. Their speaker for this service will be Rev. Raymond A. Dudley, Secretary to India from the American Board. The chaplain will be Norman Howard, assisted by Richard Dudley and Roger Gullotti, and acting as deacons will be Richard Gaffney and Bob Becker.

After having received his education at Yale University and Hartford Seminary, Mr. Dudley spent twenty-four years as a Congregational missionary in India. He was then made India Secretary by the American Board which supervises a vast amount of work throughout India and Ceylon in religious, educational and health programs. Mr. Dudley's interest is not limited to the Congregational field, as he is also a member of many interdenominational committees. When a missionary in the field Mr. Dudley worked closely with Indian pastors, headed up important church councils and committees, supervised schools, promoted adult literacy, and did much village touring. He served as a mobile pastor-at-large for the churches that had no Indian ministers and in one year conducted over seventy communion services. From such a wide experience among the people of India, Mr. Dudley is well qualified to give the young people of Forum an authentic picture of "The Youth of India." It is interesting to note that Mr. Dudley is rushing back to India by plane the very day after his meeting with the Forum this Sunday.

Forum is now looking forward to the week-end of February 7 and 8, which is the annual International Week-end. Plans are nearly complete for the entertainment of a large group of foreign students who will be made welcome in the homes of Forum members.

On January 27th the Guild had the pleasure of having Olive Hanna, graphologist, present "You and Your Handwriting."

Graphology was used in the 17th century by famous poets, such as Shakespeare, and in the 18th century by scientists, and doctors found it to be valuable in their work.

The judge in the Lindbergh case stated it played an important part in solving the case. It was also used in the Mills murder case.

Olive Hanna gave a superb lecture on the different types of handwriting. The highlight of the afternoon was her reading of the specimens of the members' handwriting. She has charm, wit and personality, and the members were delighted with her performance.

Mrs. Joseph Burgatti had for her hostesses Mrs. Frank Carleton, Mrs. James Daschbach, Mrs. Charles Craven, Mrs. Arthur Hall, Mrs. Richard Hegarty, Mrs. Lester Killian, Mrs. W. S. Lippman, Mrs. Carroll Mortimer, Mrs. Francis Nolan, and Mrs. Herbert Tracy.

NEW ENGLAND—ITS STAKE IN WORLD TRADE

This caption is the title of an interesting series of articles contained in the January 1953 issue of the "Exporters' Digest", on the business table at the Winchester Public Library.

These articles stress the importance of imports and exports to New England industries and to the consumer. Even though manufacturing in the New England area has reached its present highly developed state, it has never become independent of raw materials from overseas. The economic welfare of New England is dependent upon the international field.

The introductory article in this series was written by Ralph M. Binney, Vice-president, the First National Bank of Boston, Wallace Dickson, Director of Public Relations, the New England Council, has an article entitled "New England Industry Undergoing Changes." "Port of Boston Report" by John M. Bresnahan, Director of Port of Boston Authority, is an important part of the series. Following that is another article on the port of Boston entitled "Brighter Future Envisioned for Port of Boston" by John B. Hyman.

Your attention is called to this special issue of the "Exporters' Digest", but it is suggested that you will find much of interest in each issue. The Library is grateful to Mr. S. Walter Taber of Winchester for his generosity in continuing his gift subscription to the "Exporters' Digest".

Books Reviewed By Mrs. Rudkin

BAY STATE HISTORICAL LEAGUE

The Winter Meeting of the Bay State Historical League was held at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Morse Hall in Walker Memorial on Saturday, January 24 at 2 p. m.

Earlier, groups visited the various interesting exhibits, such as the Nautical Museum with models of ships of the earliest times to the most modern warship. In the beautiful Hayden Library was an Art Gallery with paintings, silver plate, bric-a-brac, textiles, etc. In the Card Museum just below was the finest collection in the world of handmade papers from all countries. In the Map Room was a large electric Globe with mountains, etc., in comparative relief, as well as maps of every description.

The President, Mr. Stacy Southworth, gave Citations to the following men connected with M.I.T. and all but one were on the platform: Professors James Tryon, Carlisle H. Hays, and George A. Wilson, Roger Greeley, and Mr. Ellis W. Brewster.

Colonel Hibbard, head of the Massachusetts S. A. R., gave an interesting talk on holidays and urged support of House Bill No. 176 concerning Constitution Day.

Mrs. Paul Hanna told of the plans being made for the 50th Anniversary of the League to be held on April 18 in Quincy.

A Vote of Thanks was given Prof. John Bunker and Albert Bridges for making arrangements for the use of the hall and the tours.

John Ely Burchard, Professor of Humanities, in his address "Humanities in Engineering Education" recommended the study of the histories of the world, with special emphasis on Ancient Greek History and a thorough study of American History.

The members of the Winchester Historical Society present were: President Clara Russell, Mrs. T. T. Greenwood, Mrs. P. J. Glendon, Mrs. H. B. Cleworth and the Misses Violet Williamson and Eleanor and Louise Bancroft.

EN KA MID-WINTER MEETING

About one hundred members of the En Ka Society attended the mid-winter meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin on Tuesday, January 27th.

Mrs. Percy Bugbee and her committee gave Christmas baskets, after which Mrs. Richard Harlow, president of the society, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. George Connor, secretary, gave an entertaining report of the fifteenth anniversary dinner and meeting in October, which was much enjoyed by the members.

Mrs. Leslie A. Tucker, finance chairman, reported the following gifts:

$208 to the Winchester District Nursing Association
$175 for a new bookcase for the Winchester Hospital
$1030 for equipment for the nursery for the Winchester Home for the Aged Building Fund

Mrs. Robert MacArthur reported as chairman of the civic committee that the society had given Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to Winchester families; that En Ka has given a supper every month since last July at the Home for the Aged and sent Christmas stockings to the family at the Home. The committee also sent 22 boxes to Winchester boys in Korea. Several letters from the boys were read and greatly appreciated by the members.

And last but not least, Mrs. Lyndon Burnham, chairman of the 1953 Street Fair, and her sub-chairmen told of the interesting plans underway already, and announced that May 22 and 23 were the dates for this much anticipated event.

The meeting was then adjourned and En Ka was started on its next fifty years full of enthusiasm to make them even better than the last.

WINTON CLUB SHOW

There's no business like show business, nor is there any show like a Winton Club show. The proof lay in the pudding last week-end at the town hall, when the club presented its thirty-second annual cabaret, "Show Business." For four nights running near-capacity audiences rocked the staid old building with gales of laughter and appreciative applause. Measuring up to the finest in a long tradition of Winton Club shows, this one opened with a bang, then maintained a swift but cleverly varied pace until its climax, a rousing, colorful finale, which had the audience on its feet clamoring for more.

An accolade should go to the huge cast, who performed not only with obvious and contagious enthusiasm, but with precision and style. They were responding visibly and delightedly to direction of the highest calibre. Director Robert Campbell, who represented Cargill Productions of New York, showed a sure, steady hand as well as a keen sense of timing.

Arriving in Winchester only two and a half weeks before the opening, Mr. Campbell had whipped the cast of 90, all amateurs, into professional shape, and did so, according to the performers, with a combination of know-how and good humor that made rehearsals a rare pleasure.

ENGAGED TO WINCHESTER MAN

Mr. and Mrs. Karl O. Kristenson of Somerville announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marilyn A. Kristenson, to William T. Kelly of 126 Church street, formerly of Somerville.

Miss Kristenson is a graduate of Simmons College School of Nursing, and Mr. Kelly is attending Northeastern University after serving with the Coast Guard during World War II. An April wedding is planned.

BOY SCOUT SUNDAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of Winchester will be the guests of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church this Sunday morning at the 10:45 a. m. service.

Scoutmaster Emmons Ellis will lead in the Boy Scout Litany and John Watkins will read the Scripture. The pastor will bring an appropriate message entitled, "Where Are You Going?"

OBSERVED 35th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Firefighter and Mrs. James L. Nowell of 15 Eaton street were pleasantly surprised last Sunday evening when they were given a dinner at the Town Line House in Lynnfield by members of their family in honor of their 35th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Nowell went to the Town Line House with their daughter, Miss Anne Nowell, under the impression that they were merely going out to dinner with her. Upon arrival, however, they found themselves being toasted by 35 members of their family who had gathered to do them honor. A social hour was enjoyed after the delicious dinner and the Nowells were presented with a purse of silver. Mrs. Nowell also received a handsome corsage. The presentation was made for the family by Miss Anne Nowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Nowell, the former Jessie MacKinnon of Cape Breton, N. S., were married January 14, 1918, in Winchester, by the Rev. Fr. John W. H. Corbin, then a curate at St. Mary's church.

They have three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, Mrs. James Callahan and Miss Anne T. Nowell; and three sons, John Francis, James L., Jr., and Alfred Nowell, all of Winchester.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSESSOR

Voters of Winchester: I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of Assessor at the coming March election.

I feel that life-long residence and experience qualify me to render competent service in the office of Assessor, and I will state my qualifications for your consideration in succeeding issues of the Star.

CHIDLEY SERMON INCLUDED

Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church, is among those contributing to "The Funeral Encyclopedia," published today by Harper and Brothers.

The book, edited by Rev. Charles L. Wallis of Keuka College, Keuka Park, N. Y., contains brief sermons, prayers, poems and other selections for funeral services. Dr. Chidley's contribution is a sermon.

DONNELLY — HERLIHY

The marriage of Miss Dorothea Ann Herlihy, daughter of Mrs. Leo James Herlihy of 3A Winchester terrace and the late Mr. Herlihy, to James Aloysius Donnelly, son of Mrs. James Aloysius Donnelly of 83 Webster street, Arlington, took place on Sunday afternoon, February 1, at St. Mary's church. Snadragons and carnations decorated the altar for the ceremony which was performed at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Paul Facey, S. J., of Holy Cross College, a cousin of the bride.

Miss Herlihy was given in marriage by her brother, Leo J. Herlihy of Brooklyn, N. Y. She wore a gown of ivory velvet with matching three-quarter length veil caught to a crown of orange blossoms and carried a prayer-book. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword.

Mrs. William H. Mills of Pawtucket, R. I., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank Herlihy of Fort Riley, Kansas, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Ruth Donnelly of Arlington, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Judy O'Brien of Melrose, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Mrs. Mills wore a dress of raspberry taffeta with a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of talisman roses. The bridesmaid wore spruce-green taffeta dresses with matching headpieces, the bridesmaids carrying yellow roses and the junior bridesmaid carrying an old fashioned bouquet of the same flowers.

Mrs. Herlihy, mother of the bride, was gowned in gray lace and wore an orchid hat and a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Donnelly, mother of the bridegroom, also wore orchids with her gown of blue and pink and matching pink hat.

Walter Donnelly of Arlington was his brother's best man, and a cousin of the bridegroom, Joseph Donnelly of Rosindale, ushered, with John McFadden of Arlington.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Hotel Commander in Cambridge, and at its conclusion Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly left on a wedding journey to Washington. They will make their home in Somerville.

The bride is a graduate of Donchester High School. Mr. Donnelly, who is an auditor, graduated from Arlington High School and from Boston College.

FREDERICK H. PRINCE

WELL-KNOWN BANKER
NATIVE OF WINCHESTER

Frederick H. Prince, widely known financier and sportsman who died February 2 in Biarritz, France, was born in Winchester, November 24, 1859, son of Frederick O., and Helen (Hodges) Prince. His father, mayor of Boston from 1880 to 1884, and also Massachusetts State senator and representative, was prominent in Winchester during his residence, being active among those who proposed the name Winchester for the town. The Prince School, which served as the high school until the construction of the present building, later housing the 6th grade, was named in his honor. It stood until torn down on Church street at the corner of School street, just above the present home of Dr. William D. Barone.

The Prince estate was located on Wedge Pond, substantially in the location of the present Wedge Pond road. It extended from about the spot where Wedge Pond road leaves Vine street down to the old railroad station at the rear of Pike's Garage and westerly to Wedge Pond. The old station was moved by former Mayor Prince and turned into a stable for his horses.

Frederick H. Prince was one of five children. He attended Harvard University in the class of 1882, and two years later married Abigail Kinsley Norman of Newport, R. I., who died in 1949.

They had two sons, Frederick H., Jr., and Norman Prince, and in 1944 adopted William Wood Prince. Their son, Norman, was a founder of the famous Lafayette Escadrille during World War I and died in action in France in 1916.

To perpetuate his son's memory Mr. Prince left to the Town of Winchester a bond, the income to be used as a prize fund for the pupils of the Prince School who have shown the best example of the highest ideal among boys, or to be used on a day to be set by the School authorities to defray the cost of exercises in the school, at which there shall be speeches by men best qualified to present to the school the ideals which should guide the boys in their lives.

GRODEN — STRAGHAN

Miss Marilyn Day Straghan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney H. G. Straghan of 12 Woodside road, was married on Wednesday evening, February 4, at the Music Hall on Bacon street to Eugene Groden, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Groden of 144 Highland avenue. Ferns and mixed spring flowers made an attractive setting for the 8 o'clock ceremony which was performed by the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist church.

Miss Straghan was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white velvet trimmed with small pearls and a three-quarter-length veil caught to a coronation crown also trimmed with small pearls. Her flowers were small calla lilies combined with ivy.

Miss Sylvia K. Straghan of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Irene Lundin and Miss Sally Vincent, both of Winchester.

The honor maid wore a coronation purple satin dress and carried pink roses. Miss Lundin wore a dress of blue satin and carried a spray of pink roses. Miss Vincent's dress was of gold satin and her roses were dark red.

Robert Swanson of Winchester was best man for Mr. Groden, and ushering were Gerald Groden of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom; Sidney Straghan of Winchester and Eben W. Roberts of Hyannis, both brothers of the bride.

At the reception which followed immediately after the ceremony the bride and bridegroom were assisted in receiving by their parents and by the members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Straghan, mother of the bride, wore a gown of pink lace and net and wore a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Groden, wore white roses with her gown of royal blue crepe.

After a wedding journey to New York, Mr. Groden and his bride will live in Belmont where they will be at home after March 1.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and studied music at the Duncanson School of Music in Boston. Mr. Groden prepared at Williston Seminary and graduated from Tufts College last June.

MISS DeCAMP ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. George M. DeCamp of Winchester announce the engagement of their daughter Joan, to Pfc. Robert Layton MacDonald, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. MacDonald of Stoneham.

Miss DeCamp graduated from House in the Pines in 1949 and attended the Whidden School of Nursing.

Mr. MacDonald was 2 1/2 years overseas with the Air Force and is now stationed at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

DEMONSTRATED AEROBATICS

The Four Johnsons, acrobatic dancers, were among many well-known performers recently attending the National Association of Circus and Allied Artists, Inc., at the Hotel Trianon. They were used by their teacher in the constructive ways in teaching advanced acrobatics to the assembled group of dancing teachers.

The Four Johnsons are the children of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of 6 Park road.

EDWARD W. BERRY

Edward Whitman Berry of 5 Stratford road died February 2nd at the Somerville Hospital. He was in his 81st year. He had been in failing health for the past two years, but his death was sudden. He was the former owner of the firm of Berry & Ferguson, building contractor supplies, but had retired a few years ago.

He was born in Charlestown on December 31, 1872, the son of Eunice (Hay), and Henry Augustus Berry. In 1904 he married Flora Waldmyer Blank, a native of this town. She passed away in 1940. Since 1916 he had lived in town affairs serving as a Selectman and also on the town Rationing Board during World War II. Flags on the Common and public buildings were flown at half-staff in his honor.

He was a member of the Charlestown Boys' Club and the old Calumet Club in Winchester. For a good many years he had been active in Masonic work and was a member of the Henry Price Lodge of Charlestown, the William Parkman Lodge of Winchester and the Signet Royal Arch Chapter of Boston. In 1949 he was awarded a veteran's medal symbolizing fifty years in Masonry.

Mr. Berry was well known by many along the North Shore, having maintained a summer home at Little Neck, Ipswich, for more than thirty years.

Surviving are two sons, Edward W., Jr., of Holden and Leonard of Wenhams, and three daughters, Eleanor and Mrs. Warren C. Hitchborn, both of Winchester, and Mrs. Charles F. Beggs of Port Washington, N. Y. He also leaves six grandchildren.

Services were held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at his home with the Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church officiating.

The honorary pall bearers were Mr. Rex T. Crandall of Winchester, Mr. James J. Kennedy of Lawrence, Mr. John T. LePore of Everett, Mr. Thomas J. LePore of Medford, Mr. Addison R. Pike of Boston, formerly of Winchester, and Mr. Orvil W. Smith of Wakefield. Favorite selections were played on the piano by Mary Ranton Witham.

Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WILLIAM D. GROTE

William D. Grote, prominent Cincinnati industrialist, father of Mrs. Henry M. Gahan of Grove street, died at his home in Cincinnati on January 16, 1953. Funeral services were held at St. Andrew's church, Avondale, Cincinnati, on Tuesday, January 20.

Mr. Grote was a lifelong resident of Cincinnati. A widely-known chemist at an early age, Mr. Grote introduced the injection plastic molding process into the United States in 1921. The process, which is used in 60 per cent of all plastics manufacturing firms in this country, was developed in Germany, where Mr. Grote found it and bought the patent for use here.

While president of the American Chemical Co. which he founded about 1908, Mr. Grote developed the first automatic injection molding machine to be used in the United States. The chemical company was founded in 1908.

He was chairman of the boards of the Grotelle Co., a plastics manufacturing concern which he founded in 1922, and of the Grote Manufacturing Co., a metal-product company which he bought in 1927 and incorporated in 1928.

Mr. Grote was a member of the Cincinnati Club and a former director of the Cincinnati Athletic Club. He maintained a winter home at Palm Beach, where he was a member of the winter colony for the past thirty years.

Mr. Grote is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary M. Grote, and in addition to Mrs. Gahan, by three other daughters, four sons and ten grandchildren.

JOHN J. O'DONNELL

John J. O'Donnell of 46 Swanton street, a long time and well-known resident of Winchester, died Friday, January 30, at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital after a three months illness.

Mr. O'Donnell was the son of Neil, and Bridget (Doherty) O'Donnell. He was born in County Donegal, Ireland, 81 years ago, but came to this country as a boy, and for the past 70 years had been a resident of Winchester.

Mr. O'Donnell learned the leather worker's trade, and as a young man worked in the old F. Waldmyer tannery that stood opposite the present postoffice on what later became old Manchester Field. When the Waldmyer shop was torn down he went to work for Beggs & Cobb at their Swanton street tannery, remaining with this firm until his retirement.

Mr. O'Donnell's wife, the late Catherine Keenan O'Donnell, died in 1942. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Albert Lynch and Mrs. George P. Govostes, both of Winchester; two sons, Col. Clarence J. O'Donnell, USMC, stationed in St. Louis, Mo., and Charles P. O'Donnell of New Rochelle, N. Y.; two sisters, Mrs. William Bond of Winchester and Mrs. Nellie Wolloughby of Plymouth, N. H.; also two grandchildren.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Charles A. Anadore. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Father Anadore.

OPponents OF OVERPASS HEARD

On Wednesday morning a group of citizens who are in strong opposition to the railroad overpass in the Square voiced their objection at a hearing in the State House, Division of Transportation, with Senator Lundgren presiding, when House Bill 2149, sponsored by Mrs. Lorence Woodside, was heard.

The bill reads, "The petition of Lorence Woodside to prohibit the expenditure of any sum of money from any source for the elimination of the grade crossing in Winchester Center by the proposed overhead railroad or overpass until the final plan with costs has been approved by the Town." Mrs. Woodside asked that the state withhold the five or six million dollars for the project until the taxpayers and voters had had an opportunity to vote on the final plans or to study the alternate plan, and until the taxpayers knew just how much the project would cost them in land damages.

Amid much pertinent discussion the commission was given to understand that the citizens who oppose the overpass and support house bill 2149 have not yet been given the complete and final plans on the overhead, nor have they any idea of its cost. The state will pay for the overpass, but the townspeople may be paying for land damages, according to the proponents. Much discussion also centered around a statement that Commissioner of Public Works Callahan had said he was willing to allocate his department's time and the funds involved for this overhead pass only if it was "this plan or nothing."

WINCHESTER SEMINARIAN ORDAINED

Rev. Robert Bertrand Costello of 43 Water street, son of Mr. William Costello, and a veteran of World War II, was among the Seminarians from St. John's, Brighton, ordained to the Roman Catholic priesthood Monday, February 2, at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

The new priest will celebrate his first solemn mass in his home parish, at the Immaculate Conception Church on Sunday at 10 o'clock. A reception will be held Sunday afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock at the 1790 House in North Woburn, with Father Costello imparting his priestly blessing to each caller. He will be assigned to a parish by the Archbishop next week.

Father Costello was born in Winchester and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools and graduating from Winchester High School. He received his A.B. from Boston College and during World War II served three years in the army, two years being spent in the European Theatre. His brother, William Costello, lost his life in the Battle of the Bulge.

Father Costello's mother, the former Margaret Dirranne, died suddenly Christmas Eve while on her way home from a shopping trip. He has two sisters, Miss Margaret and Miss Anne Costello.

Assisting the new priest in the celebration of solemn mass on Sunday will be the pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, Rev. Fr. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, who will serve as assistant priest, Rev. Fr. Edward T. Connor will be deacon, Rev. Fr. Charles A. Anadore of St. Mary's church, subdeacon, and the preacher will be the Rev. Fr. Richard D. Sullivan, S. J., of Boston College.

Father Costello's first mass will be the first of its kind to be celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church by a parishioner since the inception of the parish.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSESSOR

Voters of Winchester: In announcing my candidacy for the office of Assessor I would like to acquaint you, the voters, with a few facts about myself and my qualifications for office.

I am a native of Winchester and have spent most of my 35 years in this town. I am a veteran of 3 1/2 years service during World War II. I am a married man with three children and I am a tax payer in Winchester.

I submit that I am qualified for the office of Assessor for the following reasons: (1) I am experienced in the handling of Winchester homes by reason of having worked with my father in the construction of many fine homes in town. (2) I am in the real estate and insurance business in town with offices on Church Street. In this business I am constantly confronted with problems of appraisal and values.

If elected, I would go into office with an open mind and a determination to treat the problem of the office in the most efficient and fair way possible.

Walter Y. Josephson
10 Winslow Road.

NANCY KITTELL ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. William Cogswell of Pelham Manor, New York, announce the engagement of Mrs. Cogswell's daughter, Nancy Jean Kittell, formerly of Winchester, to Mr. James Tewksbury Martin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Martin of Marblehead, Mass.

Miss Kittell, a graduate of Dean Academy, is now a senior at Lasell Junior College. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. John O. Ellison and the late Mr. Ellison of Bradford, Mass.

Mr. Martin is a graduate of Marblehead high school and is now attending Lowell Institute. He is an apprentice with the General Electric Company at Everett, Mass.

A summer wedding is planned.

CIVIL DEFENSE

NOTICE TO ALL VOLUNTEERS

OPEN HOUSE

The Civil Defense office, which is at the west entrance to the Town Hall, will be open next Monday evening, February 9, from 7:30 to 9:00, so that you may come in to have your official identification card made up. This consists of having a brief description typed up, then getting your picture taken and your thumb print recorded.

The whole procedure takes only a few minutes, and there is no cost to you except for that few minutes. Later on, you will receive a photostated copy of this card, reduced down and enclosed in a plastic sleeve, for your wallet.

So far, the response to these "C. D. Open House" evenings has been wonderful, and let's have a good turnout again this time, so that the volunteers who are doing the work, Mrs. Hilton, Herb Wadsworth and Jim Connelly can feel they have put in a worth while evening.

In cooperation with the local chapter of the American Red Cross, the Department of Civil Defense is planning another class in First Aid, at the Town Hall, to begin the second or third Monday in March. Each class is for two hours, and this standard eleven-week course will provide knowledge which everyone should have regardless of their Civil Defense status, but which is especially valuable to those who are volunteers for this public service. Inasmuch as it is impossible to contact personally everyone who may be interested in this course, if you would like to be enrolled, please call the Civil Defense office at Winchester 6-3257, right away.

Test Alert

On Sunday, March 1, at 2:00 p. m. the Civil Defense alarm system will be sounded to announce the commencement of a test alert based on a hypothetical air raid, but the signal used will be the all-clear, in order to avoid any possible confusion. This alert promises to be unusually effective for Civil Defense personnel, because there will be no briefing prior to the test, and the problems and incidents will be "fed in" from a headquarters outside Winchester, and taken care of with no previous planning. This will provide excellent proof of the efficiency of Civil Defense training by volunteers in all Divisions.

CELEBRATES 80th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Emily Dyson of 7 Park avenue celebrated her 80th birthday last Sunday, February 1, at a dinner party given at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mrs. and Mrs. Chester F. Dyson of 17 Lebanon street.

Among those attending were Miss Mary Dyson of this town, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Emerald, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Frazier of Squantum, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dyson of Derry, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dyson of Arlington, Master Stander, Frasier and Master Kenneth Emerald.

After the dinner photos were taken showing the four generations.

MISS VACCARO ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vaccaro of Wedgemere avenue and Buzzards Bay announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alberta Vaccaro, to Lt. F. Robert Forte, USAF, son of Judge and Mrs. Felix Forte of Somerville, and also of Buzzards Bay.

Miss Vaccaro, who attended the Revere Country Day School and the Garland School, made her debut at a tea dance at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston during the 1950-51 season. Lt. Forte, now stationed at North Truro, graduated from Belmont High School and from Trinity College.

"THE WINSLOW BOY"

Dr. John R. Woodruff of 8 Sheffield road, Fletcher Associate Professor of Rhetoric and Debate at Tufts College, and co-director of Tufts Theatre, will direct the Parish Players in their winter production of "The Winslow Boy", to be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, February 12, 13 and 14 in Howard J. Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church, with the curtain at 8:30 promptly.

Dr. Woodruff, who obtained his Ph. D. from Cornell in 1949, has been with the Cleveland Play House, the Winona Lake Theatre, Montgomery (Ala.) Little Theatre, and was guest director at Wells College for four years. His work at the Tufts Theatre is well known to many people here who enjoy the plays in the Arena there.

Miss Marjorie L. McGaw is chairman of production, with the following crew: stage workers, George H. Gowdy, chairman, Raymond J. Carter, Charles Brown, Philip Cabot; lighting, Kendall H. Spencer; stage setting, Mrs. Bradford M. Bentley, chairman, Mrs. John W. Ricker, Jr., Mrs. Henry G. Fernald; properties, Miss Frances Peirce, Mrs. John B. Wells, Miss Dorothy M. Osborne; costumes, Miss Margaret Hodgson, chairman, Mrs. Philip Cabot, Mrs. L. William Barnard, Miss Ruth Nelson, program and publicity, Mrs. George E. Connor; make-up, Mrs. Florence Grant; tickets, Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, Tel. Winchester 6-0856. Thursday tickets, Miss Kate Goss, Miss Tina Tonon, of the Forum.

"The Winslow Boy" is high on the list of plays recommended by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) for presentation during International Theatre Month, and for that reason was selected by the Parish Players.

W. S. C. S. MEETING

Thursday, February 12, will be Morgan Memorial Day for the members of the W. S. C. S. Lunch-son will be served at 12:30 p. m. at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church by the ladies of the Win-wood Group.

After the business meeting we will hear Mrs. Ralph Kinney from the Morgan Memorial Foundation. Each member of the W. S. C. S. is asked to bring either an apron or a new article for the Morgan Memorial Fair.

The board meeting will be held at 10:30 a. m. on that day.

SERVICE PROJECT

Mrs. E. M. Wright, the Girl Scout representative on the Board of the Friends of Winchester Hospital, reports that the hospital needs old sheets, pillowcases and small vases.

This is to be the February service project for the Girl Scouts of Winchester and each troop is asked to play a part in it. The articles may be left in the garage of Mrs. J. B. Harlow, 17 Cabot street, any time during February. Let's start collecting now so that by February 28 we shall have made a good showing for, after all, Winchester Hospital is our hospital.

UNITARIAN CHURCH HIGH SCHOOL FELLOWSHIP

The South Middlesex Federation of Unitarian Church high school fellowships will meet Sunday afternoon and evening at the Winchester Unitarian Church, with Metcalf Union as the host group.

Registration will begin at 4 o'clock, with Joseph Canty and Virginia Wadsworth in charge. Members of Metcalf Union will greet the visitors.

A business meeting of the Federation will be held from 4:30 to 5:00 o'clock, and a recreation period from 5:00 to 5:45. The recreation committee is headed by Clarke Hot- tel, with Victor Jonas, Ted Johnston, Terel Newell and Page Platt on the committee.

A worship service will be held from 5:45 to 6 o'clock, with Marcia Symmes and Joseph Canty conducting the service.

Supper will be served at 6 o'clock. The supper committee is Barbara Hottel, Judy Walker, Polly Kroell, Dick Clark and Ted Freeman. Mothers helping with the supper are Mrs. Chandler Symmes, Mrs. D. W. Townley-Til- son, Mrs. Alvin Litchfield, Mrs. Eugene Nelson, Mrs. Sears Walker and Mrs. Herbert Black.

Featured for the evening program at seven o'clock is presentation by Dr. Raymond A. Dillon of his pictures, "Around the World in a Sailing Ship."

TO ATTEND SIMMONS WORKSHOP

Mrs. George H. Gowdy of 4 Lan- ten Lane, class president and mod- erator of the class agents' work- shop, will attend the 70th meet- ing of the Simmons College Alumnae Council in Boston on February 7.

Some hundred and fifty members from all over the country are ex- pected to attend the all-day ses- sion which will include workshops for class and club officers and class agents. Guest at the luncheon will be Colonel Miriam E. Perry, '30, head of the Women's Medical Spe- cialty Corps of the United States Air Force, who will speak on "Wo- men's Place in Professional Car- eers."

The council is made up of class presidents, Simmons Club pres- idents, chairmen of standing com- mittees, past presidents of the Alumnae Association and alumnae members of the Corporation and Alumnae Executive Board.

WINCHESTER AND HAWAIIAN ROTARIANS CLASP HANDS

When Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherford of Winslow road were in Honolulu recently, Mr. Rutherford was a guest of the Honolulu Rotary Club at their weekly meeting. It was an unexpected pleasure meeting Duke Kahamoku, former world-renowned swimmer, who is so well known in this country through his appearances on Arthur Godfrey's program. Many may wonder if Duke actually has all this outstanding ability at his age in surf-board riding, swimming, fish spearing, etc., but after one look, and a handshake with this giant, Mr. Rutherford, at least, had no doubts. One of the highlights of the meeting for Mr. Rutherford was his receiving the genuine culabash bowl which represents the friendship bowl of the Islands, presented each week to the visiting Rotarian from the farthest distance. The cordial welcome enjoyed at the Rotary meeting was typical of the reception accorded Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford throughout their stay in Honolulu. They both agree that one of the outstanding memories of the Islands will be the genuine welcome and kindness extended to all visitors. This memory plus the one of the ease and pleasure of the flight on United Air Lines from Boston to Honolulu result in just one desire — that is to return again as soon as possible for a longer stay on Waikiki.

TROOP 3 NEWS

At the Wyman School on Monday night, January 26th, the Boy Scouts of Troop No. 3 of the First Congregational Church and their parents enjoyed an exciting and informative talk and demonstration on camping equipment and its uses by Dr. Bradford Washburn, Jr., director of the Boston Museum of Science.

Dr. Washburn shared his experiences while explaining the finer points of pitching camp. He actually put up a tent and showed what equipment was most used and most needed on an outdoor camping trip. Dr. Washburn is widely known as an expert on mountaineering and has been on many daring scientific explorations. Among the many highest peaks which he has climbed are the Matterhorn in the Alps, and Alaska's Mount Lucania and Mount McKinley. During the war he contributed greatly to the work done by our government on winter equipment.

This week-end, February 7th and 8th, sixteen of the Scouts are going on an overnight camping trip to Camp Felland. The winterized cabin recently completed makes such mid-winter trips possible.

NURSING SHORTAGE AT HOSPITAL

According to a recent statement by Mr. Harlan L. Paine, Jr., Administrator of the Winchester Hospital, the nursing shortage, which has been handicapping nearly every hospital in the State for several years, has finally caught up with the Winchester Hospital. The Hospital is sending out appeals to retired nurses, former nurses' aides and practical nurses to apply for part-time work. Mr. Paine states that hours can generally be arranged to suit the convenience of the nurse. Nurses who have been out of the field for some years may find it a pleasant surprise in returning to their profession in the new Winchester Hospital. Most of the equipment, like the Hospital, is brand-new and working conditions, generally are much improved.

R. NEILEY AND CARR CURLING WINNERS

The finals of the Young and White Cups were held this week. Young Cup winners were Dick Neiley's rink, with Eteson, Greiner and K. Fulton over Bill Davis, with Butters, Dolben and Siders. The score was 13-11, a good match. This competition is considered the top honor with Winchester curlers, and the additional honor is to be one of our two rinks at Nashua this week-end. Another rink will be skipped by John Joy, who will take Al Litchfield, Shorty Carr and Rex MacMinn.

The White Cup finals resulted in a win for Shorty Carr, who had Righter, Neill and Scott to help him win, while Geoff Neiley had Symmes, Gendron and Fish. Carr's rink goes to Schenectady February 12-15. There will also be a second rink from Winchester for the Schenectady Bouspiel.

Our rink in the Dykes Cup Bouspiel at Brookline this last week-end did especially well, winning their first three matches from Nashua, 12-9, New York Caledonia, 11-9, and the Country Club, 13-12, and only losing 6-9 to Detroit in the semi-finals. Charley Waghomer skipped, with Larry Fessenden, Jay Willing and Ed Garrity all doing noble curling. The competitive spirit and fine curling of this rink are a distinct credit to Winchester curling. During the latter part of the Country Club game, our rink went through with a beautiful 5-end to carry them on to win.

The District Medal first round is to be held at Brookline this year within the next two weeks. We will have two rinks in this important bouspiel.

NANNY ON YALE BASKETBALL BOARD

Austin E. Nanny of 230 Mystic Valley Parkway has been elected a member of the board of directors of the newly-formed Yale Alumni Basketball Association.

Nanny, who captained the Elis in 1930, attended the organizational meeting of the association at Ray Tompkins House, New Haven, on Saturday, January 31. Bob Hall, director of athletics, and Coach Howard Hobson congratulated the formation of the association which will take its place with similar groups which have previously been active in other sports.

A large group of alumni was present representing Yale basketball teams from the Eastern Intercollegiate Championships of 1915 through Tony Lavelli and the latest E. L. L. champions of 1949. After the business of the afternoon was concluded, a social hour and buffet supper was enjoyed by the group before the Yale-Fordham game.

A victory would have been a perfect ending to the day's activity, but Yale, though playing a strong game, was nosed out by the Rams, currently the seventh ranking team in the country, by a 48-44 score.

BOYS' SPORTS PROGRAM AT JUNIOR HIGH

Over 150 seventh and eighth grade boys are participating in the winter program of after-school athletics under the direction of Coach Alfred R. Meurling. Two intra-mural basketball leagues are in operation, and a varsity basketball team is meeting junior high school teams from surrounding towns.

In the seventh grade league 80 boys, divided into 10 teams, are playing a schedule of 45 games. The 64 eighth grade boys, making up 8 teams, have 25 games scheduled. At the conclusion of the regular games, a series of 6 playoffs will be required to determine the respective league champions.

The varsity basketball squad composed of 15 eighth graders and 6 from the seventh grade, is playing a 12-game schedule with junior high teams from neighboring towns. Coach Meurling reports that, during the five years in which the interscholastic program has been in effect, his boys have won 47 out of 52 games. For three years they went undefeated. There is little doubt that this training will continue to be a factor in the success of the high school basketball teams, but just as important are the experiences received by the non-varsity players.

NEWS OF HOSPITAL AIDE COURSE

Miss Laura Rogers, Director of Nursing at the Winchester Hospital has announced that Mrs. Arthur R. Donaghy, 153 Pine Ridge road, Medford, will be the instructor in charge of training the first class of paid hospital aides at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. Donaghy is a graduate of Winchester Hospital and has had extensive nursing experience.

Miss Rogers reports that there is considerable interest in this program. Many of the applicants apparently have been under the impression that this is for part-time work. Miss Rogers has emphasized that this is a full-time job for those accepted into the course. She also reports that the committee is busy designing the new uniform, and although their final selection has not yet been made, she does report that it will be a most attractive one.

WINCHESTER, 57; WAKEFIELD, 47

Winchester High defeated Wakefield High 57-47 at Wakefield last Friday night in a game marred by excessive fouling. The Indians were awarded a total of 53 free throws on which they made good on 35 to outscore Wakefield by 20 points from the foul line. Apparently Wakefield felt that their only chance to win was to foul frequently and every time that a Red and Black performer approached the basket, he was fouled by a Wakefield player. Their strategy backfired, however, as the locals were making good on their foul shots and Wakefield lost the services of four players via the personal foul route.

Wakefield played good ball in the first quarter to emerge with a slight 15-14 lead at the end of that period. The Indians tightened their defense in the second quarter to take a 25-21 lead at the intermission. The third quarter was nip and tuck but Winchester gained three points to make a 33-32 lead at the three-quarter mark. The Indians failed to score a basket in the final period but tallied 18 points, all on free throws, for their highest scoring quarter of the game. In that final period Stu Thomson and Neil Muncaster sank six consecutive foul shots each to capitalize on the excessive Wakefield fouling — a nice exhibition of foul shooting under pressure.

At times the Indians played good ball in this contest to continue their improved performances of the past three games. They made more mistakes, however, than in the past two games as they were guilty of many careless passes and unnecessary loss of the ball. Neil Muncaster and Stu Thomson did a good job of defensive rebounding as they came up with 25 defensive rebounds to dominate the defensive backboard. Norm Howard led the way in offensive rebounds with seven but was shooting carelessly which cost him several baskets. Stu Thomson made good on 11 out of 13 free throws, 9 of them in consecutive order, and Neil Muncaster collected on 9 out of 11 for a splendid exhibition of foul shooting.

The Winchester Seconds continued to roll along as they took an easy 77-43 contest from the Wakefield Third. The scoring for the locals was well distributed with Jim Wright getting 14 points, Pete Gove and Bucky Morgan with 13, and Dave Pratt and Charlie Stevens with 11 points apiece.

WINCHESTER OUTCLASSED MELROSE

Winchester High captured an easy 85-36 victory from Melrose High at the high school gym on Tuesday afternoon. The Melrose Red Raiders were no match for the Indians who scored at will through the various Melrose zone defenses.

The locals used their superior height to excellent advantage as they completely dominated both backboards. Paced by Neil Muncaster and Norman Howard, the Indians ran wild from Melrose in the first quarter to post a 23-4 lead at the end of that period. The second quarter, with Max McCreery doing the bulk of the scoring, was pretty much the same as the first. At the end of the third quarter the Indians had an embarrassing 74-19 lead to coast home with their easiest victory of the season.

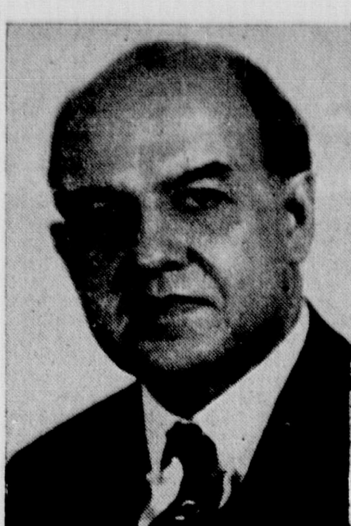

The team of 22 men, consisting of Neil Muncaster, Norm Howard, and Max McCreery, were too much for Melrose to handle as they scored a total of 56 points. Muncaster was tremendous off the offensive backboard with nine rebounds while co-captain Stu Thomson practically owned the defensive backboard with 10 rebounds to his credit, both men playing less than three-fourths of the game. It was strictly no contest until the final quarter when Capt. Bartlett had all three of his tall men out of the game.

The Winchester Seconds also had a field day at the expense of the Melrose Seconds as they went on to post a 60-17 halftime lead. At the end of the third quarter the Indians had an embarrassing 74-19 lead to coast home with their easiest victory of the season.

DR. OSBERT WARMINGHAM

THE SENIOR FORUM

The members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church have been looking forward with special interest to this Saturday and Sunday, February 7 and 8, when they are holding their Fifth Annual International Week-end. The Worship Committee for this week-end, consisting of Robert Coon, Nancy Ross and Jack Beggs, have planned the worship service which will be attended at 9:30 in Ripley Chapel by Forum members and their guests, at which time they will have the pleasure of hearing an old friend, Dr. Osbert Warmingham. Chaplain at this service will be Forum President Bill Johnston, who will be assisted by Dave Pratt. Acting as deacons will be Dick Fernandez and Ted Elliott, and the ushers will be Bob Crockett and Jack Merritt.

Dr. Warmingham, affectionately known among Forum members as "Daddy Warmingham," has endeavored himself to Forum through his participation in their program for the past two years, when he has spoken at Chapel, spent the week with them at the Lake Mohonk Conference as one of the resource leaders, and officiated at their communion service a year ago. Formerly Professor of English Bible at the Boston University School of Religious Education, Dr. Warmingham is at present lecturer for the American Youth Foundation. Dr. Warmingham has been chosen as his topic, "Not Uniformity but Harmony."

Following the service in Ripley Chapel, Forum members and their guests will again attend church at the regular 10:45 service, when Dr. Dwight L. Cart will preach on "What Can Be Depended Upon in This World?"

An invitation is extended to all those interested to come to Chidley Hall at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon to meet the guests. Tea will be served at which Mrs. Dwight L. Cart and Mrs. Robert D. Lowry will pour.

URGENT CALL FOR NURSES AIDES

The local chapter of the American Red Cross is eager to answer the call from the Winchester Hospital for volunteers for a new nurses aides class which is being formed now and will begin March 9. The class will be taught by a trained nurse, and it is an 80 hour course. Applicants must be high school graduates and between the ages of 18 and 59. At the completion of the course the graduates are expected to serve 150 hours a year at the hospital.

The need for nurses aides is critical at this time with so many trained nurses going into the service. Winchester Hospital's need for trained workers is increased also because of the new wings that have been opened. If you have extra time, you couldn't give it to a more worthwhile cause. You could be doing a service both on a local and national scale as you helped relieve the shortage caused by nurses leaving for military duty. This is another chance for those at home to help without great personal sacrifice.

Think it over! Do you meet the requirements and do you have the time? If so, call the Red Cross Office, Winchester 6-2300.

NEWELL VICE PRESIDENT

At the annual Board meeting of the Woolen Company held in Stafford Springs, Conn., recently, Mr. Roger D. Newell was elected a vice-president. Mr. Newell has served as a director of the Woolen Company since 1951 and is President of the Newell Textile Sales Co., Inc., selling agents for the mill. He is also a director of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers.

Before being associated with the Woolen Company, Mr. Newell was assistant to the Treasurer of Pacific Mills in Boston, having started with this firm as an apprentice in 1932, and remaining with Pacific until enlisting in the U. S. Marine Corps in 1943, being discharged in 1946, at which time he joined Cyril Johnson in New York.

Mr. Newell is a former resident of Winchester, Mass., and is the son of Mrs. Charles F. Newell of Lewis Road and the late Charles F. Newell.

DARTMOUTH DORM LEADER

Kevin I. Sullivan of Winchester has been elected vice chairman of the Interdormitory Council at Dartmouth College. As an executive leader of this group Sullivan helps to formulate and execute the policies affecting the living conditions and the social activities of the 2700 students who use the dormitories. Sullivan also serves as chairman of the Undergraduate Council Committee on Interdormitory Policy.

He is the son of Mrs. Kathryn P. Sullivan of 105 Cambridge street.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The Fortnightly will hold its regular meeting and "Art Day" Monday, February 9th, in the First Baptist Church at 2:00 p.m. with the President, Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, presiding.

Mrs. Frederick W. Cole, Art Chairman, and her committee feel fortunate in having procured the following excellent and worthwhile program for the afternoon: Mr. Richard B. K. McLanathan, Assistant Curator of the Department of Decorative Arts of Europe and America at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, will show slides from the Karolik Collection of American Paintings. A pleasing and able speaker, Mr. McLanathan has an interesting story to tell of each painting.

A "Valentine Tea" will be served at the close of the afternoon. Music Committee

The next rehearsal of the Fortnightly Choral Group will be held February 9th, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hiscote at 10:00 a.m.

Literature Committee

Members of the Literature Committee and guests met Monday afternoon, February second, in the Public Library and enjoyed Miss Gertrude Kimball's delightful account of "Stratford-on-Avon during William Shakespeare's time." Many interesting and little known facts about his childhood and young manhood were mentioned. His father, John Shakespeare, was a business man as well as a political figure in the town. He made leather gloves; the leather and the tools used to fascinate William and it is supposed a good deal of his early life was spent here in his father's shop. William entered grammar school in Stratford as soon as he was old enough, all pupils were required to learn to read and write Latin and school hours were from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. His home was in the center of the town, with stores, and church etc., all around and not far away, a stone bridge built by Crompton which led to London. Many fairs and plays came to Stratford which in all probability contributed to young William's interest in the stage. When Anne Hathaway was 25 and William 18 they were married. Later he went to London to be on the stage and in 1593 appeared at the Swan in Elizabeth. Of his genius and his education there is no question.

Miss Caroline Everett opened the meeting by recommending two books for reading "Amiable Autobiography" by Eltona Tilton, about the life of Oliver Wendell Holmes, and "Life of Poe" by Dr. Chivers and gave an excellent review of "Point of Wild Enchantment" by Laura Benet, a biography of Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS SERVICE CLUB

The Past Noble Grands Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge met on Wednesday evening, January 28th at the home of Mrs. Mabel Laver Wendell Holmes. The meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. Ethel Horn. Plans were discussed for the "Good Time" coming in February.

The Mystery was won by Mrs. Henry Roberts. A Penny Sale was enjoyed after the meeting. Following this the Hostess served delicious refreshments. Thanks Mabel for a very nice evening!

Audrey Smith was home from Lasell Junior College for four days after mid-year exams, having as her guest Rita Keenens of Hamden, Conn.

ORCHESTRAS PLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

The long-awaited concert by the combined orchestras of the Arlington and Winchester high schools was played at the assembly last Friday morning. The program, which ranged from solid classical numbers to amusing novelty selections, was enthusiastically received by the student body. Comparisons are difficult to make, but to several listeners it seemed that the orchestra has gained steadily in confidence and proficiency over the years.

Arlington's music director, L. Hassler Einzig, shared the podium with Fred L. Felmet, Winchester's supervisor of music. In his introductory remarks, Mr. Felmet noted the steady growth of interest in instrumental music in our schools, and he remarked that if the trend continues, the stage of the high school auditorium will soon be too small for the combined Winchester-Arlington orchestras.

The program follows:

Valiant Knight—March—Woodhouse

Tres Jolie—Waltz—Waldteufel

Petite Suite de Ballet—Gluck

Plink, Plank, Plunk—Anderson

Violin Solo, played by Bernadine Cosman, Arlington High

Sullivan's Operatic Gems—Sullivan

Selections, played by Jug and Bottle Band

Sosi Fan Tutti — Overture — Mozart

Just For Fun—March—Simpkins

Members of the Winchester High School orchestra this year include the following pupils:

Natalie Anderson

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER IN UNITARIAN CHURCH

"Walk as Children of Light" is the theme of this year's Call to Prayer for the annual service on the first Friday of Lent. On this World Day of Prayer, Christians, as individuals, witness to their belief that prayer is a world power for good. In one hundred and fourteen countries throughout the world a similar ceremony will be observed on February 20. In 1952 over 17,000 communities in the United States alone held services.

The program in which Winchester church women will participate is prepared each year by the national World Day of Prayer Committee of United Church Women. They invite one or more women from a chosen country to write the service. The 1953 program comes from women of Africa. The offering is divided between the Division of Foreign Missions and Division of Home Missions.

This year the Winchester Unitarian Church will be the meeting place at 2:30 p.m. Friday, February 20. The committee consisting of representatives from the various women's organizations in Winchester churches hereby invite you and your neighbor to answer the call to prayer.

The Winchester Hospital has announced a program designed to teach girls and women who have completed two or more years of high school the basic skills required in the care of the sick. We have been hearing for several years of the nurse shortage, and the beds lying empty in many hospitals because there were not sufficient nurses to staff them. We are pleased to see the Winchester Hospital take an action that will help relieve this problem. We all know that many of the bedside duties performed by graduate nurses do not require what is nearly the equivalent of a college degree. There is every reason to believe that intelligent girls with a short and intensive training period can learn to perform many of these duties and thereby increase the total supply of available nurses. In addition to performing a vital public service, these girls and women will be learning a skill which could be of great value in their own personal lives. We commend this program to all women over eighteen who are looking for a useful and satisfying career.

ART ASSOCIATION REVITALIZED

Editor of the Star:

With Maxim Karolik, noted art connoisseur and donor of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts famous Karolik Collection of Nineteenth Century American Painting, the speaker, the Winchester Art Association had a most stimulating meeting in the library gallery on Tuesday evening, February 3rd. Several former members were reinstated, lured by the fine art show of old masters currently on exhibition at the gallery and by Mr. Karolik's presence.

As one of these former members, I should like to express my appreciation to the board for the very unusual opportunity offered through the efforts of the art association and the constant cooperation of the library to see fine paintings and hear fine speakers here in our own community.

On Tuesday evening it was as if we were gathered informally in Mr. Karolik's own library, listening to him give the reason for assembling his unique collection of American art. Simply and without ostentation he gave the reasons for his interest in the so-called "barren period." A lively question and answer period followed his address and a refreshment hour gave members and their friends a further opportunity to become acquainted with the exotic personality of Mr. Karolik.

Entertaining here before the lecture at a Russian dinner of caviar, borsch, sour cream and kasha were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff at their home on Highland avenue, and afterwards Mrs. Peter Monie entertained Mr. Karolik.

DON'T WANT RAISED TRACKS

MINEOLA, L. I., Feb. 2.—More than a hundred residents of the Hewlett Gibson area stormed into a public hearing here today to protest the acquisition of property needed to raise the Long Island Rail Road tracks over Peninsular Blvd., between their two towns on the Rockaway Branch.

A half dozen of the spokesmen told the Nassau County Board of Supervisors the proposed plan would turn their towns into slum areas and would put the tracks "right in the backyards of at least 60 homes." In some cases the embankment would be within two feet of the back doors.

Last Thursday night a committee from the two towns conferred with the county's public works commissioner and with the county engineer. They put in an alternate plan calling for the depressing of the tracks, but it was rejected. Then today's hearing was set.

At today's session the representatives from the protesting groups said that elevated tracks are obsolete and that most communities are tearing such structures down. They also said that many of the home owners are veterans with GI mortgages but that they can't sell their places under the law because there isn't total condemnation.

The commissioners reserved decision.

ROTARY NOTES

Miss Corinne Mead, town librarian, was the luncheon speaker at yesterday's meeting of Rotary in Masonic Apartments, taking as her subject, "The Library and the Community," and telling her audience of the many little known things our library is doing as a vital force in town.

Already Chairman "Al" Elliott is working on plans for the Club's Annual Auction, the date for which will be announced soon. "Al" is going to start in on his brother Rotarians right away to make this year's auction even bigger and better than last year's red letter event.

Two new Junior Rotarians, Bob Derro and Fred Wheaton of Winchester High School were welcomed at the luncheon yesterday.

This Rotary "I've Got A Secret" program which is coming up as soon as plans are a little further along seems to be taking hold among club members. Local Rotarians are urged to see the TV Show, "I've Got A Secret" and then tell their secret to Dr. Sanford Moses who is heading the committee for the local program.

FORMER SPEAKER IN INDIA

Rev. Raymond A. Dudley of Auburndale, Massachusetts, Secretary for India and Ceylon of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions whose headquarters are in Boston, flew Monday, February 2, by T. W. A. from Logan International Airport en route to India and Ceylon. The Winchester angle in this is that Mr. Dudley was the speaker at the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church only the day before he took off on his long flight.

Mr. Dudley will be accompanied by Mrs. Dudley and will be gone on an administrative visit for two months in the Madras and Marathi areas of India and in Ceylon. They arrived in Paris Tuesday and left the next day on the inaugural flight of Trans World Airlines to Bombay-Ceylon, arriving in India Wednesday night. Their flight dramatizes the closeness of Winchester to far-away places in these air-age days.

A Connecticut Yankee by birth and training (Yale University and Hartford Theological Seminary), Mr. Dudley worked as an American Board missionary in India for 24 years before being called to his present post as India and Ceylon Secretary in 1944. He has made two administrative trips since 1945, one of them including a visit to the Near East.

DeMOLAY INSTALLATION SATURDAY EVENING

Winchester Chapter, Order of DeMolay will hold a public installation of Officers tomorrow evening, February 7th at 8:00 o'clock at Masonic Apartments, 1 Mt. Vernon street, Winchester. George Stephens, State Master Councillor, and his suite of officers will do the installing. Harry Diamantas will be installed as Master Councillor.

"Dad" Willard P. Lombard, Representative of the Grand Council, Order of DeMolay, for the state of Massachusetts will present Winchester Chapter with its Charter following the installation. Honorary "Dad" Herbert K. Miller, Deputy for the 13th District, will serve as his adjutant.

Merit awards will be awarded at the installation to boys who have earned them during the year.

"Dad" Willard P. Lombard will present Pano Jefferson with his Past Master Councillor's Jewel, and will also confer the title of "Representative DeMolay" upon Sherman R. Josephson, Treasurer of Winchester Chapter.

Following the installation of officers refreshments will be served. There will be dancing also in the banquet hall.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

WINCHESTER MAN TREASURER

The Directors of the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company at the annual election on February 3rd elected Richard E. Bennink of 58 Grove street, Winchester, as Treasurer of the Company.

Mr. Bennink graduated from Harvard College in 1938 and joined the bank in the same year. In June 1941 he was ordered to active duty with the Navy and served in the amphibious forces, aircraft carriers, and cruisers in both the Atlantic and Pacific, and currently holds the rank of Commander in the Naval Reserve.

Upon release from the Navy in 1946 he rejoined the bank and was appointed Assistant Treasurer in 1947. He is presently a member of the 1953 Class at the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University.

Pvt. Chester F. Wolfe, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Wolfe of 19 Jefferson road, recently completed basic training at the Medical Replacement Training Center at Camp Pickett, Virginia, receiving eight weeks of basic infantry training and eight weeks of medical training.

Mrs. Woodside presented the case for the proponents of the petition, explaining that her group wished to know exactly who would pay for any land-taking involved in the overpass, the state or the town, just what it would cost, and that she felt the taxpayers here should know the facts, to be allowed to vote on the land-taking. She stated that it was a known fact that the railroad crossing was a hazard, and an inconvenience, but that there had actually been three fatalities in the last half century, and not 40 or 50. "Land taking will be higher than estimated," she warned, "and there will always be the extras which the taxpayers must pay!" She grimly pictured Winchester with its wall of railroad cutting the town in two, its disruption during the construction, and when it is all over, still leaving the town with its problem of traffic through the center of town. She spoke of the Department of Public Works being willing to provide money "only for the overpass, no other plan."

"We have a good plan," Mrs. Woodside said, laying it before the committee. "And with it we have a solution for the traffic pouring in from the six roads, the highway through traffic on route 38." She didn't call it by name, but the plan she pointed to was the Foster Plan, which would divert traffic from Main street to the new highway, and by the library over the Skilling lot and up by the Blanchard Lumber Co.

"There is no hurry to build any overpass, to spend state money hastily, in these times, there is another way now, as Winchester parents know only too well. This is no time to jam through any spending of millions of dollars—on something which once erected, is with us forever." In these times, she said, the committee that "at no time have we had a chance to bring before the town the alternate plan, and let the town vote on it."

Speaking in behalf of the petition was Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wightman, who have made their home here for 32 years; Arthur J. Lewis, Jr., of Swanton street, town meeting member, who was the lone vote against the overpass plan when it was presented at the town meeting; John J. Murphy, former Mayor of Somerville, who told of his life long crusade to abolish dangerous grade crossings and overhead railroad crossings; Lorenzo Currier of Canterbury road, who reminded the chairman that the town should have time to look over the plan which would put the highway over the railroad, and not the railroad over the highway; Mrs. Charles E. Crede, Mrs. George E. Connor, Miss Helen M. Monroe; Mr. Harrison Wagner, who told of consulting the I.T.T. engineers, who assured him the modern way was not to build overpasses, but to place the roads over the railroads.

Speaking against the petition, and in favor of the overpass was Rep. Hark, who explained how the town had voted to put the selectmen in charge of plans for the grade crossing, and how the town had then voted for the plans submitted by the selectmen at a later date. He also said Senator Richardson also favored the overpass.

Chairman of the Board of Selectmen Harrison Lyman, Jr., spoke eloquently for the overpass and upheld the stand of the selectmen (former and present board) in trying to obtain for the town some definite solution to the problem of railroad crossing in Winchester Center. He stated that Commissioner Callahan had been somewhat misrepresented at the hearing, that he had stated that the current project was the only feasible one, the only one he would consider from the economic standpoint, and the only one the Department of Public Works would support. He spoke of the delay of fire apparatus because of trains going through, and of the inconvenience caused to motorists when 20,500 cars crossed the tracks daily, waiting for 87 through trains.

Senator Lundgren made one strong point he asked Mr. Lyman if the Winchester voters had an opportunity to pass on the final form of the plans for the overpass. Mr. Lyman said no, "but the people will be given these plans at a future town meeting."

The chairman asked if the voters had been told of the costs, and had voted on that part, and was told no, they had not.

Speaking after Mr. Chadwick in opposition to the petition was Frederick S. Hatch, chairman of the Planning Board, Vincent Farnsworth, former selectman, Howard Ambrose, Frank E. Rowe, Charles T. Main, II, Don S. Greer, and Harry E. Chaffin. Mr. Campbell could not be present, but sent a letter of opposition.

Mr. John McCloskey from the DPW spoke on behalf of the overpass as "the most feasible plan," and said that bids would be opened this summer, with work starting shortly thereafter. He estimated the construction cost of the overpass at about 5 million dollars.

NETHERLANDS FLOOD RELIEF

Mr. William C. Cusack of Lakeview road notified the Star yesterday that he had been informed by the Netherlands Consul in Boston that contributions of money are urgently needed in the flood crises in Holland. Clothing is not needed, at least at present.

Persons in Winchester who may care to send money to help should send their contributions to Allen H. Forbes at the State Street Trust Company in Boston. They may request, if they wish, that their contributions be earmarked "Winchester" so that the town may have credit for any assistance given in this way.

Mr. Prince and his brothers were active in all sorts of sports, and played prominent parts in the old July 4th celebrations held beside Wedge Pond. On the Prince estate was laid out one of the first tennis courts in the United States, and the family was also active in boating on Wedge.

The Prince brothers were instrumental in forming a baseball team, on which they and other congenial spirits played with many of the games taking place on the old Bacon's Field off what is now Bacon street.

In casting about for a name for the nine, Myopias was laughingly suggested since several of the players were quite near sighted. Myopias the team became, and later the Myopia Hunt Club was formed with headquarters on the west side hill, which took its name from the club and is now known as Myopia Hill. The Myopia Hunt Club in Winchester was the forerunner of the present well known Myopia Hunt Club in Hamilton.

Mr. Prince quit Harvard in his sophomore year to join a brokerage firm, and in five years he had his own business. In 1899 he headed a syndicate that gained control of the Chicago Stockyards for $23,000,000, strengthening his grip by taking over railroads and finally by getting control of Armour & Co.

His brokerage firm, founded in 1885, had offices in Newport, R. I. At the time of his death he was the oldest member of the New York, Boston and Midwest Stock Exchanges. He was president of the Chicago Stockyard Company, director of other Chicago railroad and stockyard interests and a member of the executive committee of Armour & Company.

Mr. Prince was long known as the richest man in New England and probably one of the wealthiest in the world. His fortune was estimated as high as $250,000,000 and he earned as much as three to four million yearly. Forseeing the Wall Street crash in 1929, he sold out his stock in government bonds. He was always daring, daring in finance, in polo or in riding to hounds. At 75 he played a hard polo, acted as master of the hunt and took his trips to the wheel on his yacht Westmore.

Mr. Prince lived lavishly. His 1,000-acre estate, "Princemere" in Wenham, was valued at $2,000,000, with an estimated $250,000 spent on polo fields alone. He offered the estate to the United States as headquarters, and when it was refused he turned it over to the Gordon College of Theology and Missions for $1.

In 1932 he purchased for an estimated $6,000,000 the famous Marble Palace in Newport built by the late William K. Vanderbilt, and made it his home, admitting he wished to escape high Massachusetts taxes.

He spent his winters in Paris where he owned estates in Pau and Biarritz, as well as a town house in Paris. He was master of the Pau Hunt, founded by the Duke of Wellington and one of the most aristocratic in Europe.

Mr. Prince had no use for the professors of the New Deal brain trust, and is quoted as calling professors "one of the chief curses of the country." In 1932 he offered to President Roosevelt a plan for reorganizing the U. S. railroads into seven regional systems at a saving he claimed would total $743,000,000 a year. The plan was rejected because of the numbers of employees who would have had to be discharged.

Mr. Prince was a member of the Country Club, the Essex Country Club, Myopia Hunt Club and the Somerset Club. He was also a member of many other clubs and organizations in Chicago, New York and Washington, D. C., including the Society of the Cincinnati.

He leaves a son, Frederick H. Prince, Jr., and an adopted son, William H. Prince, Jr., who was held in Washington, D. C. Cathedral.

FAMED GREEK ORACLE WAS NEVER MISTAKEN

The world has seen thousands of soothsayers, fortune tellers, prognosticators and pundits but few can equal the ancient Greek Oracle of Delphi, whose prophecies laid down a prediction pattern that is still used.

The Delphic Oracle in its palmiest days was housed in a rich temple, expensively decorated with gifts from hopeful seekers of prophecy, says the National Geographic Society.

Chief secret of the Oracle's success was the ambiguity of its predictions. Like the solemn pronouncements of some present day pollsters and politicians, they could be taken either way, according to the hope of the suppliant. And in the end the Oracle could always say, "I told you so."

Croesus, Lydian king of the legendary wealth, for instance, interpreted Delphic doubletalk to mean that he would be successful in a war with the Persians. His belief led him, alive, to the top of a funeral pyre Croesus provided after he defeated Croesus.

But Apollo, god of the Oracle, sent a providential rain just as the torch was applied to the pyre, and the fire was extinguished. Somewhat annoyed by his warm experience, Croesus inquired of the Oracle just how it could have been so wrong. He learned that the prediction was completely correct. Croesus had just interpreted it the wrong way.

The temple of Apollo at Delphi, home of the Oracle, was situated in the impressive natural surroundings of a valley at the southwest side of Mount Parnassus in southern Greece, about 70 miles northwest of Athens. The country has the natural beauty of the rugged, rocky Greek mountains.

The oracle was located in a small stone chamber of the temple. Herodotus described the temple as a tripod, adjacent to the omphalos, or center of the world as Greek mythology knew it. The priestess, or Pythia, sat on the tripod and inhaled fumes issuing from a hole in the omphalos, a cleverly contrived gadget that gave forth smoke at appropriate times.

Whether the fumes came from narcotics burned in a chamber beneath the tripod, or were natural sulphurous vapors from the earth is not definitely known.

Once she inhaled the fumes the Pythia would go into a frenzy and give forth her prophecy in incoherent ravings. These would be taken down and translated into predictions by attendant priests.

The predictions always fitted the occasion. Their moral tone was exemplary, and religious pronouncements mixed proper piety with recommendations that the gods be duly honored by prayer and donation.

Politically the Oracle was a bit less positive, and ambiguity aided the believer to believe what he wanted. Conquerors such as Cyrus and Philip of Macedonia were handled carefully, and predictions that did not favor them could always be re-examined for the correct viewpoint.

BIG TANKS MAY RUMBLE IN ROBIN HOOD'S REALM

The merrie men of England's Sherwood Forest now wear olive drab instead of Lincoln green, and a rumor again heard clanking through Robin Hood's greenwood glades it will be worn not by mail-clad knights but by mighty tanks.

Ever since World War II days, notes the National Geographic Society, the storied Nottinghamshire forest has been used for military purposes, first as a depot for war supplies and more recently for quieter military activities.

Now British War Office plans indicate that the rumble of tanks on maneuvers may soon be heard in forest areas that once knew only the soft whirr of arrows aimed at the King's deer.

One of a number of forests retained by the King in medieval times for wood and for sport, Sherwood once covered most of the rolling western part of Nottinghamshire and stretched even into Derbyshire.

To Borrow ... or not to Borrow ...

It isn't really difficult to decide whether or not you should borrow money. Here's a simple test: Just ask yourself if the loan will help you accomplish a sound purpose. The competent businessman who needs credit to make more money ... the individual who wants to consolidate his bills into one obligation which he can pay off systematically, and the person who needs extra funds for doctor bills, emergencies, or to finance home repairs or equipment, or to buy a new car — all can make good use of a bank loan, provided they see their way clear to repay the loan as agreed. A bank loan is economical. It can be obtained promptly and without red tape. And you establish a bank relationship for the future which can be useful to you in many other ways. If you need credit, come see us.

CLIMBERS SEEK MOUNTAIN FRONTIER OF THE ANDES

Mountain climbers from all parts of the world are moving on South America's Andes, one of the few remaining frontiers challenging the hardy adventurers who thrive on the thin air of high altitudes.

Only the Himalayas of Asia are higher, says the National Geographic Society, and no other mountain system can equal the length of the Andes. The massive range overlooks the warm Caribbean Sea in the north and stretches some 4,500 miles to the frigid Antarctic wastes off Chilean Patagonia in the south.

Political considerations make the approach to many of the Himalayas difficult if not impossible at present. On the other hand the South American nations welcome travelers of all sorts, and transportation to any section of the long mountain system is constantly being improved. A Swiss guide could leave the Alps by plane Tuesday night and be preparing for an Andean climb in Chile Thursday afternoon.

Obstacles Remain

Once in South America, however, the climber might find formidable physical obstacles in his way. Over their great length the Andes present almost every kind of approach, from easy slopes in temperate climates to long, difficult ascents through rain-soaked tropical jungles, across desert-dry docks and sand, or up glacier-filled valleys.

Another occasional drawback to Andean climbing is the hostility of some of the Indian tribes inhabiting the slopes. In Ecuador an expedition seeking the summit of El Sangay, most active of South American volcanoes, planned its route to avoid the home of the Jivaro people, who tip their blow-guns with deadly curare, as well as the even more savage Awashira, three of whom once routed an oil construction gang of nearly 100.

Many Top 20,000 Feet

There are more than 40 peaks in the Andes that top 20,000 feet. The greatest of these is Aconcagua in Argentina, near the Chilean line. Aconcagua, whose snow-capped summit reaches 23,811 feet toward the blue Andean sky, is east of the coastal city of Valparaiso, Chile, overlooking the famous Christ of the Andes stands guard over travelers.

Mattias Zurbriggen, a Swiss guide, first climbed Aconcagua in 1897. But other, lower Andes continue to defy man. There are still many tall unclimbed peaks. Two of the most recent conquests were Yerupaja, the famous "Butcher" of the Huayhuash range in Peru, and ice-crowned Fitz Roy mountain, 20,000 miles to the south, in the glacier country along the southern Chile-Argentina border.

Yerupaja, 21,758 feet high was scaled by the Harvard Andes Expedition of 1950. A French group topped Fitz Roy's ice early in 1952. Other expeditions are planning further assaults on the Andean heights, but so great is the number of unclimbed mountains that climbers will be able for years to move into new territory and claim peaks in their own names.

A woman's place may be in the kitchen, but it is that of a Winton clubwoman's husband is obviously backstage. Collecting properties and constructing sets as well as assuming responsibility for curtain manipulation and backstage maneuvers during the shows, Mr. Charles Butlers' crew of long-suffering husbands did much to make the revue the smooth one it was.

Primary credit, however, of course goes to the Winton clubwomen themselves, who conceived, promoted and managed the entire production. Proceeds from the annual shows have kept the Winchester Hospital supplied with its linen and blankets. Final figures are not in, but judging from the size of the four audiences and the proportions of the handsome, 52-page, ad-filled program, it would seem that once again the club will be able to make its generous donation.

All the show's surroundings contributed to making it a whopping artistic as well as financial success. Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood and her committee did wonders. Working against real odds, they transformed the auditorium into a reasonable facsimile of "The Gay White Way." A glittering "Show Business" sign, set against a jet black cambric background, arched over the stage, while the stately balconies, propped by candy-striped pillars, looked down on walls festooned with huge posters advertising other equally successful musicals, "South Pacific," "Oklahoma," and "The Rainbow." It was a setting particularly appropriate for Friday and Saturday nights' cabaret performances.

Mr. John Blanchard again donated his time and his sound apparatus to compensate for the hall's acoustical deficiencies and put the show at its audible best. Again, too, door prizes provided an added fillip to the evening. The Winchester Appliance Co. supplied a Junior Mixer, which Mr. Paul Avery won Thursday night. Friday night Mr. Ben Schneider went home with a handsome leather television lamp donated by The Lemons gift shop. The Saturday night holder of the lucky ticket was Miss Martha Shaffer, who left with a lovely, modernistic clock from Stowell's of Boston.

Music for the occasion was furnished once again by Marshall's Orchestra under the direction of Lewis Bonick. A twelve-piece outfit, the band provided excellent dance music, and also accompanied that was both sensitive and spirited.

Seldom has a Winton Club show opened with a more resounding bang. Its first number, a rousing, eye-filling spectacle called "Show Business on Parade," introduced a large part of the cast and set the theme for the entire production. Next, Nancy and Thomas Worthen, recent prize winners at the Winton Night, danced an exhibition waltz that held their appreciative audience hushed.

Changing the tempo swiftly, Marguerite Derro flashed on stage, pursued by eight adoring males. To the tune of "It's Delightful," she danced from man to man, first captivated and then herself being captivated by them. It was a "delovely" number, setting a tone that was, alas, not long maintained.

Moving from the near sublime to the really ridiculous, "Dainty Dora and Her Horse" trotted on next. Featured were a harassed animal trainer, Jean Neiley, and her slightly schizophrenic horse. Once unmasked for its unbecoming behavior, the poor old nag broke down completely and revealed its dual personality. Warren Pryor served as the front end and Dick Carens performed flawlessly in the rear echelons.

Next, a skit entitled "Ballet Invades the Drama," starring in this bit of farce, the size 14 ballet brogans. Other feature performances were given by Bill Croston's whistle and a lethal dose of arsenic. As the curtains closed on this bit of farce, it was felt that both theater and ballet had been struck a mortal blow from which they would never recover.

Hardly was the feeling expressed, when it was belied. The next number, "An Indian Fantasy," proved to be a gorgeously costumed, ingeniously conceived, and splendidly executed ballet, one of the pulsating rhythms of "Totem Tom-Tom," it was a highly impressive affair. Principals were lovely Indian maidens, Gloria Swanson, and her brave brave, Edward Pride.

Another who delighted the audience was ex-W.H.S. vaudeville star Joan Salmon. She showed to real advantage in a rhythm tap number, a tricky buck and wing. The stage was then set for Eddie (Rosallind Lynch), like Minnie the Mocher. Eddie, too, was a lady of the purple variety who oozed a kind of fatal fascination. Highlighting the sketch were the voice of Phyllis O'Neill, Eddie's swish, and the sudden case of rigor mortis that seized members of the male chorus.

After the intermission, Act II opened with a number than which "Nothing could be finer." Storing and dancing to "The State of Carolina" was a large ensemble, the men in dungarees and the girls in colorful plaid skirts and peasant blouses. There was a ray, polished primrose, one that set the tone for the show's concluding numbers.

Following it came a highly dramatic bit of ballet, one in which a "slightly used," though still beautiful prima donna (Betina Harrison) finds her place with the Stage Door Johnnies taken over by a Cinderella girl (Phyllis O'Neill).

The wait suddenly discovers her own rag-bag-in-glamor, then hides it neither under a barrel nor much else. She is an immediate success. This was a number whose swift pace concealed the fact that Bob Campbell, the show's director, had himself joined the chorus.

With the ensuing "Hunt Ballet" came another rude awakening. In this bit of equestrian nonsense, eight young horsemen made their appearance, from the hips up smartly attired in scarlet hunting coats, black caps and riding whips, and from the hips down in G. I.

field shoes and pastel colored "Long Johns." Never in the long history of hunting has there been such a steeplechase, with or without benefit of horses.

In rapid succession followed that perennial favorite, the all-girl marching drill, "Strike Up the Band," and the grand finale. For polish, precision, color and showmanship, few marching numbers have equaled this year's toy soldier review. It was a splendidly executed performance. So, too, was the final extravaganza number featuring the rich voices of Ginny Crovo and Phil O'Rourke and replete with a gorgeous display of multi-colored costumes.

No review would be complete without mention of Rosallind Lynch, an old trouper. Her solo appearances provided valuable time for the show's frequent but hasty changes of scenery. So adroit was she, her purpose went unnoticed. So provocative was she that her sultry requests for playmates occasioned an unrehearsed bit of audience participation.

Rehearsals for "Stardust," a three-act comedy by Walter Kerr, are well under way at the high school, and director Thomas Morse is hopeful that his cast of 18 young actors will offer the public another successful show when the curtain rises on the evening of February 21.

Among the principals in this year's production are several veterans of previous class plays, including Janet Archibald, Beverly Browne, Sam Roray, John Swazey, and Steve Yale. Also prominent in the cast is Rebecca Smith, whose return to Winchester has been welcomed by students and faculty alike.

Members of the supporting cast are: Anne Robertson, Shirley Chapman, Helen Hertig, John Becker, Debbie Fier, Damon Mezzacappa, Marilyn Dyer, Sandra Witt, Terry Tallman, Gal Stratton, Margery Sanger, and Patty Page.

The play committee believes that its selection of "Stardust" will prove to be a popular choice. The comedy, which has been described as a "burlesque on the Stanislavsky method of acting," has been hailed by one reviewer as "the most consistently hilarious, excellently contrived bit of backstage folderol we've ever come across." Heading the ticket committee are David Pratt and Fred Wheaton, presidents of the junior and senior classes.

This should be a very interesting discussion and members are urged to come.

UNITARIAN WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The February meeting of the Unitarian Women's Alliance will be held on Tuesday, February 10th, at 2:00 p.m.

Mrs. George B. Redding, president of the organization, will conduct the business meeting and the devotional service will be led by Miss Grace B. Walls.

Our speaker of the afternoon will be the Rev. Russell Loesch, pastor of the Melrose Highlands Congregational Church, and his subject, "Brotherhood in Action." Mr. Loesch is a graduate of Oberlin College and Andover-Newton Theological Seminary. He was an air force chaplain in World War II.

Mr. Loesch was sent as a speaker from the "National Conference of Christians and Jews," an organization which began in 1928 as a direct answer to the anti-Catholic hatred that besmirched the presidential campaign of Al Smith. Such distinguished Americans as Charles Evans Hughes, Newton D. Baker, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Roger W. Straus and Carlton J. H. Hayes founded this National Conference after carefully studying the four-year exploratory venture made by the Federal Council of Churches.

This is a timely topic on which Mr. Loesch is to speak, since Brotherhood Week is February 15-22 and will be celebrated as the highlight of the 25th anniversary of the conference.

There will be a baby sitter at the church to take care of small children during the meeting.

Tea will be served.

TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

Elimination in the speech contest will highlight the program of the Winchester Toastmistress Club's meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Beulah Thompson, 45 College avenue, Medford, on Tuesday evening, February 10th. Speakers selected for the club are:

Mrs. Lillian Last of Medford, Mrs. Beulah Thompson of Medford, Miss Hilda Hope of Winchester.

The highest scoring speaker in the evening's contest will represent the Winchester Club as a contestant with representatives of other Toastmistress clubs in Northeast Council No. 5 at a joint meeting to be held in April.

Mrs. Olive Anderson of Winchester will be Toastmistress for the evening and Miss Mae McDonough, Topic Mistress. Tellers will be Miss Edna Brownell of Belmont, Mrs. Florence Thurston of Medford and Mrs. Eve Harrigan of Winchester. Timers—Mrs. Alice Caldwell of Brookline and Mrs. Frances Murphy of Medford.

HOOKED RUG ENTHUSIASTS

On Thursday, April 16th, at the First Baptist Church, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., all veteran, beginner and prospective rug hookers will have an opportunity to view an exceptional exhibit of hand-hooked rugs made by many of our townspeople and friends from surrounding towns.

Mrs. Marjorie S. Thompson, well-known authority and teacher of hooking, will again be on hand with information, swatches, patterns, etc.

A snack bar will be maintained for the convenience of out-of-town visitors or those who find it most convenient to attend the exhibit during the lunch or supper hour.

Everyone who hooks will want to have a part in this exhibition—so if you have made a rug, chair seat or other hooked article, and are willing to share its beauty with others, won't you please contact Mrs. Walter L. Bailey, chairman, Winchester 6-0427.

CAPPING CEREMONY

The capping ceremony of the Senior Girl Scout Hospital Aides was held on the evening of Monday, January 26th at the Nurses' Home on Fairmount street.

Mrs. Frank C. d'Eliaux, the leader of the girls, began the evening's program by introducing Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, the president of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts, who spoke to the girls and parents.

Next the girls were congratulated by Miss Laura Rogers, superintendent of nurses at Winchester Hospital, who in turn presented the girls with their caps, which signify that each girl has done thirty hours of helping at the hospital. The girls receiving their caps were:

Cynthia Ayer, Nancy Bradley, Mary Jane Lutes, Jan Hilgedick, Jane Godwin, Sandra Curtis, Dianne Curtis, Gail Cullen, Terel Newell, Ann Monro, Margie McCreery, Carol Massaro.

WESLEYAN GROUP MEETING

Tonight (Friday) at 8 p.m. the Wesleyan Group of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will hold their monthly meeting at the parsonage. Hostesses are Mrs. Doris Emmons, Miss Natalie Fitch and Lois Thompson.

After the presentation, the girls were addressed by Mrs. Elsie Cross, a graduate nurse of Massachusetts General Hospital, who spoke on "Nursing as a Career for You." The evening's program was highly enjoyed by both the parents and the girls.

Written by Ann Monro and Frances Noel. Other girls who are working as Hospital Aides but have been capped last year or before are: Joan Bernard, Betty Cumming, Dianne d'Eliaux, Catherine Goss, Sheila Scanlon, Nancy Dowling, Marcia Harris, Anita Mullen, Mary Murray, Phyllis Rizzo.

FRESHMEN OVER WOBURN,

The Winchester Freshmen hit a new high scoring total for the season when they defeated the Woburn Freshmen 91-61 at the high school gym last Friday afternoon. The win marked the ninth straight victory for the papooses who are breaking all scoring totals of previous Freshmen quintets. Joe Bellino was high scorer again with 31 points while Frank Dattilo with 16 points and Rich Rimbach with 12 points turned in starry performances for the locals.

The Winchester Junior High team also made it nine straight for the season with a 52-28 victory over the Woburn Junior High in the preliminary game. John Chapin was high scorer again with 23 points while the Roberts twins teamed up nicely at forward for the Red and Black.

WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY DANCE

Members of the Junior High School Fellowship of the Unitarian Church are busy planning a Washington Birthday dance, which will be held in Metcalf Hall Saturday evening, February 21.

The Social committee in charge of the dance is headed by John Preston, with Roger Symmes, Judy Deliker and Norma Crockett as committee members.

Elizabeth Hottel is in charge of decorations for the dance, with Margo Winslip, Suzanne Goodwin and Sarah Woodward on the Committee.

The refreshment committee for the dance is headed by Joseph Gray, with Carolyn Hutchings and Carley Clark as members. Margaret Thomas is in charge of tickets.

New officers elected for the second half year are: Carol Eaton, president; Mary Weiden, vice-president; Margaret Thomas, treasurer and Richard Lowe, secretary.

Miss Norma Farrar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Farrar of Myrtle street leaves tomorrow for Morristown, N. J., where she will get one of the famous "Seeing-Eye" dogs. Miss Farrar will train for three weeks or a month with the dog before returning with him to Winchester.

DRAFTING POPULAR WITH HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

One hundred nineteen boys and three girls are studying drafting at the high school, according to a recent report of drafting instructor William F. Branley. The classes, which are conducted in the drafting room at the Wadleigh building, attract pupils from each of the four high school grades with enrollment divided as follows: 30 freshmen, 32 sophomores, 33 juniors, and 27 seniors. Further evidence of the popularity of this elective course is seen in the fact that the room is used to 95 per cent of its capacity.

The remainder of Mr. Branley's report, the third in a series on the industrial arts program in the Winchester schools, is concerned with a description of the course itself, its objectives, and principal areas of study. Regarding its title, Mr. Branley notes that the term Drafting was substituted for Mechanical Drawing two years ago in the belief that it was more descriptive and better understood by the general public.

The special objectives of the course vary with the level of work being studied, but certain general objectives apply throughout. Among these are the following:

1. An appreciation of good workmanship at all times.

2. An attitude of pride in the ability to execute a drawing.

3. Self reliance and confidence.

4. The habit of using an orderly method of procedure.

5. The habit of careful and thoughtful work.

6. A co-operative attitude.

7. The power of visualization.

There are so many fields of drafting that it would not be practical to have all types in a high school industrial arts course. However, an attempt is made to offer as many different kinds of drafting as possible in order to provide a maximum amount of exploration in the drafting area.

Machine drafting is the best medium for acquiring the fundamental principles, techniques, skill and knowledge that a beginner must have to become a successful workman. After the orientation course, first year students study units on orthographic projection, geometric, and pictorial drawing. When these basic fundamentals are mastered, they may study drafting as it is applied in statistics, map making, electrical work, architecture, drafting, sheet metal work, aircraft design, and cabinet making.

Architectural drafting is one of the most popular of these study areas. Nearly all high school pupils hope to be home owners some day. Consequently, they need no motivation for the study of plot plans, zoning laws, building codes, room locations, room sizes, house construction, bank loans, and styles of homes. Many excellent houses have been designed and modeled in cardboard. To make the study of house construction even more realistic, a model wooden frame house was made last year.

Other interesting features of the course include instruction in the operation of the drafting machine, a device widely used in industry, and training in blue printing, both sunlight and machine. Although the facilities for the making of blue prints are not adequate for the best work, the experience gained by the student and the understanding of blue printing and its place in society are quite worthwhile. It should be noted that the equipment for instruction in Drafting at the Winchester High School is equal to any in greater Boston.

"ENJOYING YOUR TEEN-AGER"

TOPIC FOR JUNIOR HIGH PARENTS MEETING

Are you having fun with your child? Do you feel there is room for improvement in your relationship? Or do you just not see any connection between enjoyment and a teen-age child?

Save February 17, 8:15 p. m. You'll enjoy the speaker, at any rate. Guaranteed.

Miss Mae T. Mooney is first of all an exciting person, with tremendous capacity for living, personality plus experience. Secondly, she is a prominent figure in the field of Social Work.

An alumna of Wellesley, with graduate work at the Smith College School for Social Work, Miss Mooney has long been active in the American Association of Social Work, recently serving as chairman for the Boston chapter.

All Junior High parents will be invited to a series of four talks, the first of which will be given by Miss Mooney on Saturday and Sunday, February 7 and 8, when 52 foreign students from colleges in the greater Boston area, representing 23 countries, will be entertained in the homes of 31 Forum families.

The student guests will be picked up on Saturday afternoon at the International Student Center in Cambridge and driven to the homes of their host and hostesses. After a brief period of getting acquainted in the homes, Forum members and their guests will meet at the Church to enjoy an evening of good fellowship. To greet them at the door will be Margery Sanger, Dan Blanchard, Audrey Clark and Kate Goss. After an informal reception in charge of Betsy Lathrop, Judy Roberts, Dorothy Pratt, Ann Peter, Sally Cunningham and Ann Cunningham, assisted by Mrs. Harold McKinley as adviser, a delicious dinner will be served by a committee of mothers which includes Mrs. Hazen H. Ayer, Mrs. Ross Cunningham, Mrs. Everett W. Goss, Mrs. Allen O. Eaton, Mrs. John Lathrop, Mrs. Arthur W. Pratt, Mrs. Richard Gould, Mrs. Robert Tonn, Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald and Mrs. Isaiah A. Bullard. Waitresses at the dinner, selected by Tina Tonn as chairman, will be Nancy Barnard, Phyllis Chapman, Natalie Dodge, Diane Harris, Martha Lincoln, Jenny Meigs, Sue Mitchell, Ann Monro, Judy Nason, Cynthia Peterson, Nancy Switzer, Jackie Sturtevant, Ann Titilah, Joyce Nelson and Joan Morrison. Presiding at the head table will be Forum President Bill H. Johnston who will extend a welcome to the guests and introduce as speakers Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the church, and Mr. Robert D. Lowry, Forum adult superintendent. A varied program of entertainment has been planned by co-chairmen Barbara Eaton and Elizabeth Ann Hood, assisted by Cynthia Ayer, Audrey Clark and Sue Woodruff. Included in the entertainment will be two selections by the Forum Glee Club, under the chairmanship of Nancy Ross, Brad Johnson and Betty Rowlingson; and some participation by the student guests under the leadership of Mr. Hans Spiegel, resident host of the International Student Center, and Fauzi Saba, foreign student representative. Rev. William of the Wakefield Methodist Church, will conduct group singing, and a happy conclusion to the evening will be a period of square dancing, with Dudley Briggs the ever-popular caller.

FIRE CHIEF TO SPEAK

The public is cordially invited to attend the lecture at 8:15, Tuesday evening, February 17, Winchester High School Auditorium.

Chief James E. Callahan will be the speaker on Thursday evening, February 12, at the regular monthly meeting of Mystic Valley Lodge of Masons in Masonic Apartments.

Chief Callahan will take as his topic, "The White Card", which is a card which he has to be filled out by local fire chiefs and sent to the State Fire Marshal's office after each fire in the territory under their jurisdiction in which there is a loss of life or property. The card is very comprehensive, listing causes of the fire, extent of damage, negligence, and especially suspicious origin in connection with a fire. It's effect is far-reaching, and the Masons will find Chief Callahan's remarks of much interest.

COUNCIL No. 5
MEETS AT "THE HOLLOW"

At 7:15 p. m. on Tuesday, February 3rd at "The Hollow" in Quincy, the International Toastmistress Club, Council No. 5 will meet. An informal Panel on Evaluation will be the theme of the meeting with Panelists from Boston, Winchester, Wellesley, Waltham, South Shore and Quincy Toastmistress Clubs.

Mrs. Bion Francis, Council President, will preside and Mrs. Myra McKnight, Treasurer of the Boston Club, will be the Toastmistress for the evening.

Fernandez, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold A. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Goss, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Erskine H. Kelley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Padelford, Mr. and Mrs. Roger H. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth G. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Peter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wiklund, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Wittet.

The success of the week-end will be attributed to many weeks of planning by the Race Relations Committee, consisting of Joan McNeill and Bob Wiklund, co-chairmen, Mary Lou Armstrong, Carol Ashenden, Cynthia Ayer, Audrey Clark, Marcia Cunningham, Sally Cunningham, Marilyn Dyer, Barbara Eaton, Jane Godwin, Catherine Goss, Florence Hermann, Elizabeth Ann Hood, Diane McNeill, Marjorie Morse, Florence Newton, Ann Peter, Betty Rowlingson, Margery Sanger, Betsy Sargent, Jackie Sturtevant, Nancy Switzer, Tina Tonn, Sandy Wittet, Sue Woodruff.

Bob Wiklund is in charge of the Saturday transportation from the International Student Center and assisting him in driving will be Mr. W. Henry Johnston, Mr. Clifton McNeill, Mrs. Stanley Cairncross, Mrs. Robert D. Lowry, Mr. Ralph Meigs, Mrs. Harold N. Stevens, Mrs. John Monro, Margery Sanger and Dick Fernandez. Mrs. Herbert E. Clark gave valuable assistance in the placement of students in the homes. The Poster Committee, under the chairmanship of Sandra Wittet, made attractive posters; a special issue of Forum Flashes will be produced by co-chairmen Kendall Cleaves and Dorothy Pratt; Jackie Sturtevant is planning the supper decorations; and the photography covering the week-end events will be in the hands of Connie Gowdy. The placement of name-tags will be the responsibility of Sue Woodruff, Connie Gowdy and Gail Bainbridge, and the all important set-up and clean-up squad will be headed by Dave Pratt and Bill Dyer.

And so will come to a close another International Week-end which Forum earnestly hopes will be long remembered by its guests for its pleasant associations and will contribute even a little toward international friendship and understanding.

Miss Ellen Hight of 21 Ledyard road will be one of the hostesses for the old fashioned "Social" to be held by the Boston Chapter of the Middlebury College Alumnae Association Thursday, February 12, at 7:45 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Main, 181 Upland road, Newtonville. The chapter's scholarship fund will benefit from proceeds of a food sale during the evening.

Tread Lightly—Proud Foot!

That's a mighty proud foot you see there. It's resting on the accelerator of a gorgeous 1953 Cadillac.

But we have a serious and timely warning for that proud and happy foot: Tread lightly!

Down under that accelerator is a dynamic 210-horsepower engine—coupled with the smoothest, quickest-acting Hydra-Matic Drive in history.

That great power was put there for the driver's safety in an emergency—and to provide that smooth, effortless, steady ride which is the essence of luxurious motoring.

It was not put there to enable a Cadillac to dominate the highway—or to dash out into the lead when the traffic light turns green—or to out-manuever the other motor cars on the road.

So don't ever exhaust that accelerator—unless you're in an emergency, and must do so for reasons of safety.

If other drivers covet the honors at the stop light—just let them go. They are first away by your courtesy—and that should be satisfaction enough for anybody.

Just be happy and satisfied with the great luxury this powerful engine brings you—the infinitely smooth, quiet performance . . . the quick "lift" that comes when you nudge the accelerator . . . the great reserve for a burst ahead in case of necessity

And be happy, as you can't help being, with the scores of other wonderful things about this magnificent car—its easy, relaxing ride, for instance . . . its distinguished and inspiring beauty . . . its rich, luxurious interiors . . . its honored and respected name . . . and its truly amazing economy.

Yes—there is so much about a Cadillac to inspire and delight its owner that he doesn't need the additional thrill of unleashing its spectacular performance when it isn't necessary.

That's why we know he'll "Tread lightly!" He isn't in competition with anyone.

WINCHESTER FAMILY IN LONDON

By James Wright
(Wright Agency, London)

A charming eighteenth-century house near the statue of Franklin D. Roosevelt in London is the new home of Commander and Mrs. Kenneth G. Cady of 42 Fells road, Winchester, Mass. Commander Cady is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Cady of Waban, and Mrs. Cady the daughter of Mrs. Robert W. Armstrong and the late Mr. Armstrong of Winchester.

The Cads rent their lovely Mayfair home from Princess Callimach of Roumania, who is now living in England. Says Mrs. Cady: "The architecture of Mayfair compares with that of Beacon Hill, Boston."

Commander Cady is on the staff of the Commander-in-Chief, U. S. Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, stationed in London. His home is just around the corner from his office in Grosvenor Square — London's "Little America."

With them are 15-year-old Priscilla and 9-year-old Sammy. Priscilla goes to High School for American Servicemen at Bushy Park, a London suburb. Studying to go to College when she returns to America, she travels each day on the school bus. But Sammy follows in his father's footsteps — to Grosvenor Square.

He goes to the American School founded by an American teacher and ex-B. C. man, Stephen Eckard. Mr. Eckard's idea was to have an education sanctuary for American children in London. Their parents are at the American Embassy, in commerce, or like Sammy's, in the armed forces. Many will be back in America in a year or so, which is why they have an American syllabus. On the other hand, the children play British as well as American games. Sammy is captain of his football team. British type! — and they sing "God Save the Queen" as well as the "Star Spangled Banner," before school each morning. Once a week they visit London's historic buildings. Sammy sat in the Lord Mayor of London's chair at the Mansion House and has sung Christmas Carols in a British children's choir at the Royal Festival Hall, London's newest concert hall.

Mrs. Cady finds it cheaper running a home in London. Food and clothes cost less, though gas and electricity are high. Her one criticism of British life is the lack of central heating. "But we don't suffer," she said, "because our rooms are small and we have coal and electric fires."

The Cads like London, especially the parks and open spaces. They praise the Underground system and the buses. "And the people are so friendly," says Mrs. Cady. "Why, one woman got off a bus two stops early to show me the way." And they're helpful in stores too.

Like most Americans in Britain, the Cads like to get out of London and see the country-side, so each week-end they motor out of town. They have toured the beautiful Shakespeare country round Stratford-on-Avon and have seen the famous places round London, like Windsor Castle. They went to Devon and Cornwall and spent a night at the charming village of Lynmouth before the flood tragedy. Priscilla has stayed with friends in Wales and was for a long time at a British girls' school in Switzerland, where she made many British friends. Last summer Sammy spent his vacation at an American-French camp in Savoy, France.

Many of the Cads' British friends have been brought home by Sammy, who is a friendly child. When the family return to America, they will bring with them a souvenir of London—a grandmother clock.

Beautiful though the Cads home is, it has its drawbacks. It's a five-storey house with a room on each floor, kitchen in the basement. Hatch to the kitchen is in the dining-room and Mrs. Cady laughs when she remembers the workman who put his tools down only to find them vanishing below ground!

Their other son, 18-year-old Thomas, who is studying engineering at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, was in London for a vacation last summer.

Constance Ewell of 18 Grayson road was one of the Winchester young people listed among the first campers at Boston University's 600-acre Sargent Camp in Peterborough, N. H., which opened its winter season January 16-18. The camp is one of the few in the country open all year.

TAX COMMISSION DIRECTOR TO SPEAK

Compared to neighboring towns, does Winchester get a fair share of the tax money its citizens have paid to the state? Do we get too much? These and other aspects of the state-local fiscal relationship will be discussed by one of the best qualified commentators on tax matters, Mr. Joseph P. Healey, executive director of the commonwealth's Special Commission on Taxation, at the Wyman School on Tuesday, February 10, at 8:00 p.m. Candidates for the town offices to be voted on in March will be introduced at this meeting, which is sponsored by the Winchester League of Women Voters. Mr. Healey's talk on "How Many State Tax Dollars Return to Winchester?" will be followed by a question period, during which one subject is almost certain to be the discretionary powers of the state commissioner. Mr. Healey is an entertaining and informative speaker, works full-time with the group of legislators and researchers who are engaged in constant study of Massachusetts taxes. The state-town relationship is of special importance, because almost one-half of state-collected taxes are returned to municipalities and one-quarter of all public funds spent by towns comes from the state and federal governments.

As the voice of the commission, which serves as an advisory board to the legislature and the governor, Mr. Healey brings definite recommendations for changes in the tax structure of the commonwealth. The League of Women Voters urges every tax-conscious citizen (and who isn't, this time of year?) to hear Mr. Healey and to take advantage of the question period following his talk.

In order to meet the candidates who seek town offices in March, plan to attend the open meeting at Wyman School on February 10.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR VALENTINE BRIDGE

Mrs. Leo Manoli and Mrs. Joseph Burgatti are co-chairmen for the Valentine Dessert Bridge to be held February 10th in Masonic Hall, Winchester, at 1:00 p.m. There will be an unusual selection of prizes.

The committee working with the co-chairmen are: Mrs. Leonard Barbo, Mrs. Robert Barbo, Mrs. Henry Barry, Mrs. Arthur Center, Mrs. Henry Center, Mrs. Henry Garcia, Mrs. Leo Garcia, Mrs. Maurice Connor, Mrs. Nicholas Delloro, Mrs. John Donovan, Mrs. Katherine Doyle, Mrs. Alfred Erti, Mrs. Charles Flynn, Mrs. John Gorman, Mrs. Richard Hagarty, Mrs. Eric Johnson, Mrs. Eugene Lane, Mrs. Edmund Lanigan, Mrs. Edward McElhinney, Mrs. Charles McGee, Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. John Scanlon, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. L. Tuleau, Mrs. C. Douglas Wheeler.

MRS. STACY, IN U.N. INSTITUTE

Mrs. Ella M. Stacy of Winchester High School is among the educators of the United States and Canada who will participate in the Sixth Annual United Nations Institute February 12, 13, and 14 in New York City. Dr. Frederick L. Reder of New York University's School of Education, organizing chairman of the Institute, has announced.

Sponsored jointly by the United Nations' Department of Information and NYU's School of Education, the Institute will be held at United Nations Headquarters and at New York University's La Guardia Hall.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will be among the Institute's major speakers. Other speakers and discussion leaders will include Stringfellow Barr, president of the Foundation for World Government; Benjamin Cohen, assistant secretary general of the United Nations; and Dr. David D. Henry, vice chancellor of NYU.

Highlight of the Institute will be a Lincoln's Birthday dinner in the Delegates Dining Room of the United Nations building, which will follow sessions and conferences on February 12.

WINCHESTER O. E. S.

The Annual Guest Night, of Winchester Chapter No. 175, Order of the Eastern Star was held Monday evening, February 2, in the Masonic Apartments, 1 Mt. Vernon street.

The business meeting conducted by Mrs. Leslie M. Stewart, Worthy Matron and Mr. Robert R. Phillips, Worthy Patron was held at 5:30 p.m.

A delicious supper was served at 6:30 p.m. to invited guests who were Grand Officers' Deputies, Matrons and Patrons of different Chapters in the jurisdiction, and associates of the line officers, and to the members. After the dinner, a cordial welcome was extended by the Worthy Matron to the guests and members, followed by an entertainment furnished by the Winchester High School Octette. Dancing in the banquet hall concluded the evening's activities.

Films at the Library

In our imaginary trip around the world by means of moving pictures, we will visit the Philippine Islands this week, Friday night and Saturday morning. The film to be shown will be "The Philippine Republic," which is a March of "Time" film. Next week, Friday night and Saturday morning, the places to be visited in our around-the-world trip will be Bali, and Australia.

In addition to the "round-the-world" film, three others will be shown this week: Camouflage in Nature, Story of Old Glory (in color), One to Grow On, and a cartoon. February 12 is Abraham Lincoln's birthday, so on February 13 and 14 the movie program will include a film on the life of Abraham Lincoln. Included also on those dates will be the films "Southern Crossways," "Bali Today," and "Australia."

All interested adults are cordially invited to see the film programs held at the library every Friday night at 7:30. This is an excellent opportunity for families to spend the evening at the library. Children are not admitted to the Friday night program unless accompanied by an adult. The Saturday morning film programs shown at 10:15 are for boys and girls of elementary school age and are free, but tickets must be obtained in advance of Saturday morning. The art gallery at the library has seats for only 120, so the supply of tickets is exhausted early in the week.

HILLSIDE PAINT & WALLPAPER INTRODUCE FIRST LATEX ENAMEL

First latex base interior enamel ever developed will be introduced here tomorrow by Harry and Clay, Glidden paint dealer at Hillside Paint and Wallpaper.

Called Spred Gloss, the revolutionary new paint was termed by Harry and Clay as the most important development in the paint industry since The Glidden Company introduced the first latex base wall finish, Spred Satin, late in 1948. Spred Gloss is designated as "the matched Color Twin to Spred Satin."

He said that Spred Gloss was developed to answer consumer requests for a glossier finish than Spred Satin, incorporating all the ease-of-use features of the latex-base paint. Spred Gloss is described as a "rich luster or subdued gloss enamel." It represents the first step in extending latex base finishes into broader coverage of the paint field.

Like the satin finish paint, Spred Gloss is easily and quickly applied, and dries in a short time to become a tough, washable, rubberlike film. Latex base paints, pioneered by The Glidden Company, leave no irritating odor and can be applied in a closed room with no discomfort or ill effects.

The new latex base enamel is available in a full range of colors from deep tones to pale pastels to match those of Glidden's Spred Satin Dramatone System. The Dramatone System was developed by the company more than a year ago to enable the homeowner to mix easily, and exactly, any of 180 colors of Spred Satin.

Harry and Clay said latex base paints have revolutionized interior decorating. Their extreme ease of application, fast drying, lack of odor and high washability have greatly stimulated home interior painting. The same features have effected important economies in the maintenance of hotels, hospitals and all types of institutional and commercial buildings.

Many times we've seen these four good telephone habits save money, trouble, time and friends

This one SAVED friends — Johnny spaced his party line calls, giving the neighbors a chance to call, too. Remember — courtesy pays on party lines.

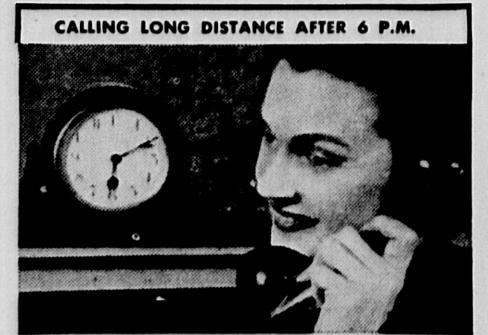

This one SAVED time — Sally's long distance call went through twice as fast because she called by number. Remember — keep a list of the out-of-town numbers you frequently call.

Remember these four good telephone habits. They help telephone people provide you with the very best service possible.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH COMPANY

This one SAVED trouble — Father's important message was received because he gave the party he called time to answer. Remember, 10 rings take only 60 seconds.

This one SAVED money — Mother telephoned long distance in the evening. Remember — rates are lower all day Sunday, too.

Here it is!

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

Travel Talk
Seventh grade pupils in Mrs. Nolan's social studies class, who have been studying England and Scotland, enjoyed a travel talk and slide presentation by Althea Hersey, high school senior, on Tuesday of this week. Althea was one of the Winchester Girl Scouts who visited Britain in the summer of 1950, and her colored slides form a splendid picture-story of that never-to-be-forgotten trip.
Among the many scenes which held the attention of the youngsters until the last slide was shown were those of Stratford on Avon, Westminster Abbey, Windsor Castle, and the Changing of the Guard. Althea's charming manner and complete familiarity with her subject matter added much to the success of her presentation.

Reading Conference
Principal Raymond J. Dickman was one of the four speakers at a conference on reading techniques in the secondary school, held at Boston University recently. His speech was entitled "Using Test Results for Remedial Instruction." On January 28, Mr. Dickman addressed the North Shore Principals' Club on the subject "Reporting Pupils Progress to School Patrons."

SEVERELY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Charles Mirak, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mirak of 131 Cambridge street, was seriously injured last Saturday night when the automobile in which he and Beverly Heath, 16, of 291 West Foster street, Melrose, were riding left the road in Lynnfield and rolled over four times.

The accident occurred as the automobile was turning after going down a ramp from Route 28 to Route 128. What caused it has not been determined, though police have said that the car in turning may have struck a curb.
Mirak, who graduated from Winchester High School in June and is a student at Colgate University, was taken to the Lynn Hospital, where he was described as dangerously injured with a possible broken back. Miss Heath was apparently not badly injured, being treated at the hospital and sent home.

Mirak's condition was described on Wednesday as serious but improved, but still not good. He did not sustain a broken back but did receive severe back injuries and is reported as still in critical condition.

McCORMACKS HONORED

Fred McCormack of McCormack's Apothecary and Mrs. McCormack were guests of the employees of the apothecary at dinner last Friday evening at Suntaug Inn in Lynnfield. The occasion was the McCormack's ninth wedding anniversary.
Preceding the dinner there was a cocktail hour in Stoneham at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Butler, Mr. Butler being a member of McCormack's staff.

At Suntaug Mr. Justin Horie served as toastmaster and master of ceremonies. Present besides the honor guests were Miss Betty Gardden and Mr. Robert Hall, Mr. Justin Horie and Miss Evelyn Teale, Mr. Jerome Underwood and Miss Cynthia Atwell, Mr. Harry Brown and Miss Diane Raleigh and Mr. and Mrs. George Butler.

TELEPHONE TAX SERVICE

Thomas E. Scanlon, Director of Internal Revenue, announces the establishment of a special telephone service for the convenience of taxpayers seeking information and assistance relative to their tax filing.

The service will start on the evening of February 2nd and continue through March 13th. Greater Boston taxpayers may call the following Internal Revenue Offices, Monday through Friday evenings between 6:00 and 9:00 p. m., where a tax specialist will render every assistance: Copley 7-5700 Ext. 190, 191, 192, 193; Lafayette 3-8600, EXTS. 781, 783, 784, 785, 787, in Cambridge; TRObridge 6-0750, in Malden; Malden 2-0841.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL COUPLES CLUB

The Couples' Club of the Second Congregational Church met recently at the church. Dinner was served at seven o'clock. A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Robert L. Kent. The speaker for the evening was the Rev. Russell Loesch minister of the Melrose Highlands Congregational Church. Mr. Loesch showed colored slides and told of a trip to the west coast that he made with his family last summer.
The committee in charge of the supper was made up of Mrs. Robert L. Kent, Mrs. Richard Brownell, and Mr. John W. Cook. The next meeting will be held February 26.

WINCHESTER HOMEFRONTERS

Mrs. William Cusack, our Executive Chairman, attended the send-off ceremony at Woburn for the boys who were called to serve in the armed services in January. Francis Ferra was the only boy from Winchester to leave and was the recipient of the usual kit from the Town Selectmen. Mrs. Cusack brought the best wishes of the hometown to our boy.

Following are two letters for you readers to enjoy, the one from Ernest Cerra has been received since the last printing and we are glad to welcome him back to Winchester:

Wednesday, January 28, 1953
Dear Homefronters:
Just a few lines thanking you for the Christmas package and friendly card you sent me.
It made me feel good to know the people in my home town were thinking of me and other Winchester boys in service.
I wish to inform you that I am now back home and living at 64 Dunster lane, Winchester.
Yours truly,
Ernie Cerra

Dear Homefronters:

I want to take this opportunity to thank you very much for your Christmas box which I received today.

It is pleasing to servicemen to know that the Town is thinking of them, and every G. I. appreciates a snack to munch on, since he can't raid his own icebox.
Thanks again for your timely package.
Yours sincerely,
David Merrow

TUFTS ALUMNAE MET

The officers of the Association of Tufts Alumnae held a shower for Miss Sarah DeWolfe at the home of the president, Mrs. Clarence A. Roberts. Miss DeWolfe, who is to be married shortly, was presented with six Wedgwood Tufts plates and a plaque of the college.

Mrs. Earl Littleton, president of the Tufts College Women's Club, announced that a dessert bridge would be held Saturday, February 14, in Jackson Hall, for the purchase of coffee services to be used by the girls in the dormitories.
Dean Katharine Jeffers urged alumnae to search attics for their caps and gowns and give them to the student council. A gift was made to the "Dean's Fund" by the Alumnae Association for scholarship aid. It is hoped that ground will be broken shortly for Alumnae Hall.

Alumnae from Winchester included:
Mrs. Ralph Bonnell
Mrs. Lester Armstrong
Mrs. Ralph Manning
Mrs. Frederick Cardin
Mrs. Nelson Fontneau
Mrs. Victor Lawson
Mrs. Theodore Robinson

MORNING COFFEE

Mrs. Gladys Starrett Romeyn is to speak at the morning coffee at the First Baptist Church, Thursday, February 12th, at 10 a. m. Proceeds are to pay the pledge to the Winchester Scholarship Fund.
For reservations please call Mrs. Hazel Maguire at Winchester 6-0398.

SNOW TRAINS

The annual Around the Mountains snow train of thirteen cars made a stop at Winchester last Sunday morning to pick up some 35 passengers. This train had several hundred passengers and made a complete circuit of the White Mountains.

The two special trains of the John Hancock winter outing passed through Winchester Sunday morning running non stop to Warner, N. H. This was one of the largest snow trains ever passing over this line, having in all about 1,500 passengers.

SENTENCED IN STORE BREAK

The Winchester and Reading youths, who police say broke into the Winchester Provision Company's store in the center last month appeared before the Grand Jury in Superior Court this week. They were found guilty of being delinquents and of breaking and entering in the night time, being placed on probation for two years. The other three younger boys involved in the break had their cases continued when they appeared at a session of the juvenile court in Woburn following the break.

SMITH — ORTH

White snapdragons, white gladiolus and candelabra decorated St. Mary's Church on Saturday afternoon, February 7, for the marriage of Miss Nancy Jeanne Orth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Orth of Calumet road, to Robert Douglas Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin T. Smith of Watertown. Rev. Charles A. Anadore performed the 4 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the Princess Ballroom of the Hotel Somerset in Boston. Miss Mary Callahan, St. Mary's organist, played the bridal music and the soloist was Arnold Callahan, lyric tenor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an exquisite bluish pink gown of imported Chantilly lace and tulle over bluish satin, the fitted bodice having an off-the-shoulder neckline, appliqued with cascade petals, and long pointed sleeves, and the bouffant skirt, which extended into a cathedral train, being decorated with panels of lace. Her fingertip veil of pink silk illusion was caught to a Queen Anne crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, shower hyacinths and ivy.

Miss Miriam Clarke Orth was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Claire Dacey of West Roxbury, Miss Ann Cahill of Chestnut Hill, Miss Laurie M. Christie of Jamaica Plain and Miss Lorraine R. Seaver of Medford.

All the bridal attendants wore ballerina-length dresses of ombre shirmp tulle over taffeta, with halter necklines, matching boleros and helmets. The honor maid carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and ivy, and the bridesmaids' bouquets combined ivy with Picardy gladiolus.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Orth wore a gown of blue blue pure silk tulle, having impressed shirring on the covered bodice and in the godets of the flaring skirt. Her satin hat matched her gown. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in mauve silk and wore a flowered hat.

Donald O. Smith of Watertown was best man for his brother and the usher corps comprised Donald J. Rappoli of Medford, William B. Genovese of Winthrop, Stewart A. Smith of Euclid, Ohio, and James F. Harty of Johnstown, Pa.

After a wedding journey to Bermuda Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Chicago, Illinois.

They were married at the home of Binghamton, N. Y., and was graduated from Regis College with the class of 1951. Mr. Smith prepared at Mt. Hermon School and was graduated from Amherst College in the class of 1949. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity and served with the army air force overseas in World War II.

ROTARY NOTES

Winchester Rotary officially observed National Boy Scout Week, February 7-14, at its regular luncheon meeting yesterday in Masonic Apartments. Rotarian Francis MacFeeley was in charge of the program and showed motion pictures of Philmont Ranch, the National Boy Scout Camp at Cimmaron, New Mexico, presented by Oil Magnate W. H. Phillips.

Winchester Rotary is holding another evening meeting on February 19, at which time the club will be host to all Rotarians living in Winchester who are not members of the local organization. There are known to be between 50 and 60 such Rotarians in town.

President Wilde has secured a ten-strike in securing a speaker Winchester's own Captain Oliver A. Peterson of the United States Coast Guard.

HOSPITAL BUILDING COMPLETED

The Winchester Hospital Building Program, begun in March of 1950, has been completed. This project, which cost a little under one million dollars, included the building of a new wing of the hospital, and extensive alterations and remodeling of the old building. Those who have seen the new plant have all been impressed with its attractiveness. The Board of Directors have decided to hold an open house on April 12th, during which time the public will be taken on tour through the hospital.

RESCUED FROM MYSTIC

Charles Carlson, 13-year-old son, of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Carlson of 36 Hillcrest Parkway, was rescued by firefighters from Mystic Lake Monday afternoon when he broke through the ice at a point behind the home of Mr. Harold F. Meyer, 16 Everett avenue, more than fifty feet from the shore.

Young Carlson and two friends, Norman Farrar of 15 Westland avenue, and Joseph Cussen of 88 Highland avenue, were going around the shore line of the lake when Carlson decided to try the firmness of the ice. He broke through and was unable to get out on the ice. The ice was judged too thin to support a ladder and while the men were carrying the boat from the street to the shore of the lake Chief Callahan had a 100 foot rope, newly purchased for Engine 4, thrown out to the boy.

Careful not to hit the youngster, the men threw the rope twice before getting it within the reach of the young Carlson clinging to the rope. The firefighters carefully pulled him ashore, the ice breaking under the boy's weight all the way.

Once ashore, Charles was wrapped in a blanket and taken to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance by Officer Clarence Dunbury, accompanied by Fire Captain Noonan. The boy was very tired and cold.

At the hospital young Carlson was treated for immersion by Dr. Charles Rooney. He was held at the hospital overnight, returning to his home Tuesday. He was still confined to the house Wednesday but was reported as getting along nicely.

PINNED BETWEEN CARS

Gloria H. Savard of 20 Monarch street, Lowell, was painfully injured shortly after 8:15 yesterday morning when she was pinned between her own car and a passing machine which had skidded.

The accident took place on Cambridge street near Robinson Park where Miss Savard had stopped her car to pick up a package. The driver of the other car, a 1952 Buick, E. Porter of 11 Olive street, Lowell, told the police he was going slowly south in a line of traffic, his car skidding into Miss Savard when he applied the brakes.

Miss Savard was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance by Officers James Flaherty and John Murray. She was treated by Dr. Paul Kelleher of Woburn for multiple contusions and abrasions to the knees, legs, hips and hands. Neither car was damaged.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

The Board of Selectmen has appointed William J. Croughwell, 22 Ravine road, Harrison Rainie, 41 Calumet road, and F. L. Foster, 4 Lakeview road, a committee to investigate the possibilities of saving the town from an expanded industrial agent or centralized system of purchasing, and report to the Board with recommendations.

The Committee on town manager systems suggested at the last March meeting that the possible advantages of a central purchasing agent be explored but because of changeovers in the accountant's office and the consequential pile up of routine work there the necessary figures for such an investigation have not until recently been available.

SELECTMEN CHECK OUTSIDE WORK FOR POLICE AND FIREMEN

A group of some 30 police and firemen appeared Monday evening before the Board of Selectmen in connection with the Board's investigation of outside work being done for pay by members of both departments.

There has been for some time a town statute forbidding members of the Fire and Police Departments to work for pay outside their departmental duties. Chairman Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., told the Star that in checking Selectmen's records he found this statute had not been enforced during the recent war because of the shortage of manpower, and since the war, no move had been made to put the law back in effect.

The Selectmen, in discussing the law, felt that an investigation of outside work by police and firemen would be helpful in determining whether the statute should be enforced or wiped from the statute book. It was the Selectmen's feeling that if the law is a good one, it should be enforced, and if it works a substantial hardship, and because of this fact should not be enforced, it should be repealed.

SUNG FIRST MASS

Rev. Robert Bertrand Costello of 43 Water street sang his first solemn mass as a priest of the Roman Catholic Church last Sunday morning at the Immaculate Conception Church. He was ordained Monday, February 2, by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston.

Assisting Father Costello were Rev. Fr. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, who was assistant priest; Rev. Fr. Edward T. O'Connor, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church in Worcester, deacon; and Rev. Fr. Charles A. Anadore of St. Mary's Church, subdeacon. All three officers of the mass had war records and Fr. O'Connor was chaplain of the unit in which Fr. Costello's brother, William, was serving when he lost his life in the Battle of the Bulge.

Rev. Fr. James D. Sullivan, S. J., of Boston College, was the preacher, describing the priest as a mediator between the people and their God, and enumerating the various sacraments the priests administer from birth throughout life to death.

The church was taxed to its capacity for the mass, with many standing. During the afternoon Father Costello was given a reception at the 1790 House in North Woburn. At that time he administered his priestly blessing to all those who attended the affair.

They then turned wholly to plans which assumed Main street remaining open, and finally adopted a plan which in its basic concept is admittedly the same as that presented by the prior committee two years ago, involving adding to the present junior high school to make it large enough for a four year high school of 925 students, and renovating the present high school for a two year junior high. Mr. Louis W. Ross is the architect presenting plans for adding to the present junior high and Mr. Jerome Bailey Foster the architect for renovating the present high school.

An auditorium for 1200 will be built parallel to Main street toward the Unitarian Church, and behind it a gymnasium, with showers and lockers underneath, and by taking advantage of the hill, a field for the play field level for home and visiting teams. The gymnasium will seat an audience of 1200 for games. A wing on the other side to balance the auditorium will house a cafeteria and a canteen. The present gym will be used for shops and industrial arts.

At town meeting there will be full explanations and preliminary drawings. Only an appropriation for detailed architect's plans will be asked and a vote of approval by the town. The appropriation to build will be sought at a special town meeting later. The present high school will be thoroughly renovated. The present room which is redecorated is an experiment to help determine what to do to floors, walls, and ceilings, and shops for industrial arts will be added. The school committee has already introduced an expanded industrial arts program and has plans for further expansion in this program as there is space for it.

In response to a question as to what will be done with Wadleigh, Mr. Speers said it will be discontinued as a school and may well be turned into an office building to house the school administrative offices and those town departments now housed in rented space on Mt. Vernon street, becoming in effect a town hall annex.

State aid will be available for the additions to the junior high. No state aid will be forthcoming for the renovating of the high school. If the town meeting approves these plans, it is hoped that by September the detailed plans will be ready to let for bids, and a special town meeting will be called to vote appropriation of the money for construction, against the low bid.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS HEARS SCHOOL BUILDING PLANS

The February meeting of the League of Women Voters, at the home of Mrs. Henry Harris, Curtis Circle, had a most interesting afternoon listening to Mr. William J. Speers, Jr., present the plans of the Secondary School Building Committee. The committee members were appointed nearly two years ago and have spent a great deal of time reconciling the various opinions in the town and finding a satisfactory basis of compromise. There are endless details on which people have varying strong opinions, and outside professional advice has been needed to check on projected needs and desires. The committee have been fortunate in securing the help of Dr. William K. Wilson, who has been head of an important division in the New York State Department of Education. That department has to pass on every school building in towns of population under 70,000, so he has had tremendous experience in an extremely practical way. He is now retired and acting as a consultant. Several members of the committee were favorably disposed toward the Foster plan. They realized that it hinged on closing Main street and re-routing traffic through Washington street. So a sub-committee was appointed to see state and county officials about how it could be done. All were finally convinced that neither state nor county would give any money for that purpose within the time by which the school housing problem must be solved, and that Winchester would have to pay the entire amount, estimated at from $550,000 to $750,000. It is a good future plan but it seemed doubtful that the town would vote that much money with a big school appropriation, too. The committee encouraged official town boards to meet with traffic engineers, individuals who had expressed enthusiasm for the Foster plan, to call a special town meeting to see whether the town would, at its own expense, go ahead with the providing of an alternate route so that Main street could be closed. No action was forthcoming. The committee decided they could not wait for the school until the highway was changed.

They then turned wholly to plans which assumed Main street remaining open, and finally adopted a plan which in its basic concept is admittedly the same as that presented by the prior committee two years ago, involving adding to the present junior high school to make it large enough for a four year high school of 925 students, and renovating the present high school for a two year junior high. Mr. Louis W. Ross is the architect presenting plans for adding to the present junior high and Mr. Jerome Bailey Foster the architect for renovating the present high school.

The gymnasium will seat an audience of 1200 for games. A wing on the other side to balance the auditorium will house a cafeteria and a canteen. The present gym will be used for shops and industrial arts.

At town meeting there will be full explanations and preliminary drawings. Only an appropriation for detailed architect's plans will be asked and a vote of approval by the town. CANDIDATE FOR THE OFFICE OF ASSESSOR CHARLES E. HOWE

To the Voters of Winchester:

Many of my friends who are interested in my candidacy have offered their names endorsing me as a candidate for the Office of Assessor. I wish to express my sincere appreciation to them for the support that they have so willingly offered.

In presenting my name to the voters, I have not sought the endorsement of any special groups or organizations. I am a candidate only on the basis of my qualifications for the duties of an assessor. I ask for your valued support at the polls on Monday, March the second.

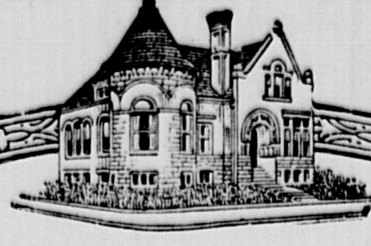

I have had a great deal of experience in the real estate field, as has my brother, lecturer at Boston University on suburban real estate, past chairman of Boston Board of Brokers' Board of Real Estate Exchange, and have done appraising and court work as a real estate expert on land-damage cases.

Those of you who know me can vouch for my sincerity in anything I undertake, and it is my hope that my qualifications will merit the careful consideration of all the voters in Winchester.

Cordially,
Charles E. Howe

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The winter meeting of the Winchester Historical Society was held in the Art Gallery at the Library last Saturday afternoon, with the president, Miss Clara R. Russell presiding.

During the business meeting Miss Russell read a communication from Colonel Richter, President of the Massachusetts Sons of the American Revolution, enclosing House Bill No. 176. This is an "Act to require to be annually issued by the Governor a proclamation in commemoration of the adoption of the Federal Constitution and that the day be officially designated as 'Constitution Day'." Although there are 18 days set by special laws calling for the Governor to make official proclamation on the anniversary of a particular event, no statute has ever been enacted calling for the proclamation of September 17 as Constitution Day. All historical societies are urged to support this bill and to register approval at a hearing before the committee on Constitutional Law, State House at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, February 18, Room 489.

Our speaker, Mr. Stacy B. Southworth, of South Braintree, was late in arriving on account of being caught in a traffic jam in Boston, and during the interval awaiting his arrival, Miss Mead very graciously filled in by giving us a short history of the Library from its beginning in 1848 with a few books kept in one of the small stores in the centre through its many wanderings until its present home in 1930.

Mr. Southworth has been headmaster of Thayer Academy for 28 years, and among his many activities is now president of the Bay State Historical League, made up of 120 historical societies throughout the state, to which our Winchester society belongs. His subject was "An Appreciation of Abigail Adams" and at the beginning of his talk he emphasized the fact that this was not a biography, but the story of a remarkable woman.

Born Abigail Smith, the frail daughter of a minister, with no schooling, and educated almost entirely by her grandmother, she became a most proficient letter-writer. As the wife of John Adams, our 2nd President, she wrote many letters giving a remarkable insight into the events of those times, and Mr. Southworth read extracts from several of her letters.

This was an outstanding talk, and our society was greatly honored by having Mr. Southworth take time from his busy life to speak before us.

The February meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will be held at the Congregational Church on Monday, February 16, at 2:30 p. m.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Harry D. Locke and Mrs. Paul F. Stoneman.

An interesting program has been arranged with Dr. Dwight L. Cart as guest speaker. His subject: "Being At Your Best." The D. A. R. Pilgrim will be introduced and Delegates are to be selected for the State Conference to be held March 19th and 20th, at the Sheraton Plaza, Boston.

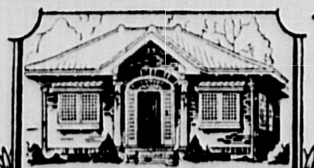

Tea will be served during which there will be a short meeting of the Dance committee. Since the dance is to be March 7th, it is hoped that these committee members will be present.

TO HEAR POLICE CHIEF

Members of the Junior High Fellowship of the Winchester Unitarian Church are looking forward with great interest to their meeting Sunday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, when they will hear a talk by Chief of Police Charles J. Harrold.

The Junior High Fellowship, which has fifty members, is carrying out a series of discussions this year on home, school, community and church activities. They have held panel discussion with teachers and parents.

In their new series on community activities, which will start Sunday with Chief Harrold as the speaker, the young people will be building citizenship by getting acquainted with town officials, and learning their side of the story.

Chief Harrold has been asked to discuss youth activities and youth problems in Winchester from the police point of view. He will be asked questions from the floor by the young people about the police department, how it works, and its relations with youth.

Metcalfe Union, the high school group, which entertained 125 young people from Southern Middlesex county last Sunday, at a Federation meeting, is planning a splash party at the Melrose Y on February 28.

NOONAN SCHOOL NEWS

The regular meeting of the Junior Red Cross was held in the school auditorium on January 27, with the entire student body in attendance. President Danny Serieka conducted the meeting with the assistance of Secretary Arthur Collins and Treasurer Joyce Walden. The room representatives reported on the success of the various activities for the month of January.

At the conclusion of the meeting an assembly program on the theme "Building Good Civic Attitudes" was presented by groups of students representing the various classes in school.

For the kindergarten Stevie Poole, Guy DeFilippo, Frank Doherty and John McGinn presented the topic of helping by doing errands. First graders Janet Tauro, Thomas Drake, James Callahan, Lynne Martell, Anne Donovan, Donald Lombardi, and Mary Ann Caputo illustrated "Taking Care of School Property and Keeping Our Building Neat." Another group of first graders, including Janice Rae, Gail Bond, Robert Rae, and Betty Cheever offered rules for "Courtesy In and Out of School."

"A Story of Our Flag" and "A Good American" were the recitations presented by Claire Hebert and Lorraine Doherty of the second grade. For Grade III, Katherine McLeod and Joseph Shea spoke on "Plans for Every Day."

Continuing the theme was the "Code of a Good Citizen," with James Flanagan, Doherty, Donald Nadeau, Jean Lonigro, Patricia Abbott, Mary Donovan, and Judy Crowley, all of the fourth grade. To complete the program, sixth grader Carole Shute spoke to her classmates on "How To Be a Good Citizen." Arthur Collins was the announcer for the program.

RED FEATHER HAS THE ANSWER

(What's your problem? . . . family, marriage, health, recreation? The chances are that one of your community's Red Feather services can help you.)

If you have a question, send it to the Red Feather Information Service, 14 Somerset street, Boston. It will be answered in this column or by letter. Your name will be kept strictly confidential.

What could a person do who has a bad inferiority complex?

When the problem of getting along with other people becomes a serious threat to one's happiness, it is time to seek expert advice. Such a person could apply to the district office of the Family Society at Fellsway, 5 High street, Medford, MYatic 8-0026 or at 10 Dorne street, Boston. The Family Society or the Boston Provident Association at 14 Somerset street have skilled sympathetic psychiatric case workers who are ready to help anybody with his personal problems.

Is watching television bad for the eyes?

Dr. Edwin B. Dunphy, Chief of the Eye Service at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, expressing the opinion of the eye specialists at this Red Feather Hospital, states:

"Looking at television does not hurt the eyes, and will not cause headache or what the laymen often call 'eye strain' if you watch your TV under good conditions and not too long at any one time.

"Look at your television set in a moderately lighted room so that your eyes are not constantly called on to adjust between looking at the bright screen one minute and your friends in the darkened room the next. And when you find you have looked until you begin to feel 'sandy' in the eyes, then give yourself and your concentration a rest."

"It is this effort of the central nervous system to concentrate and to overcome visual handicaps that makes your head ache when you use your eyes too continuously and under poor conditions. Using the eyes, even under difficult circumstances, does not cause any organic disease of the eye—any more than listening to confusing or harsh sounds brings on an ear ailment or smelling unpleasant smells injures the nose.

"However, one word of caution. Anyone who is under a doctor's care for an organic eye disease or any eye condition should consult his own doctor before using his eyes for television—or for reading or the movies for that matter."

HANDLING LIGHTING FOR TUFTS PLAYERS

A Winchester girl, Miss Nancy Nutter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow A. Nutter of 3 Black Horse Terrace, is handling the important lighting assignment for the Tufts Community Players production of "Summer and Smoke," Tennessee Williams' dramatic and compelling play which will have its first amateur production in New England at the Tufts Arena Theatre on the Tufts College campus commencing tonight and running tomorrow night and Friday and Saturday, February 20 and 21.

Miss Nutter, who graduated from Tufts last year, majoring in dramatics, is living in Boston this winter and taking an active part in the productions of the Peabody Players as well as in those of the Tufts Community Players.

Though primarily interested in the production end of theatricals, Miss Nutter is a capable actress and has a leading role in the Peabody Players coming production "Skin of Their Teeth." She has been seen in Winchester in Parish Players shows, playing, among others, the romantic lead in that strange play, "Thunder Rock."

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The second meeting of the Winchester College Club morning study group on thrifty time-saving tactics will be held on Wednesday, February 18, at 9:45 a.m. at the home of Mrs. George Whitten, 47 Samoset road. Mrs. John Lennon is in charge of the arrangements for the coffee which will precede the meeting. The discussion leader for the day will be Mrs. Charles Whitten, and the topic to be presented by an outside guest speaker will be economical ways to use meats and fish.

The morning study group had a most enjoyable meeting on Wednesday, February 4, at the home of Mrs. John Carruthers, when Mr. Wendell Irving of the well-known firm of Irving and Casson A. H. Davenport Co., gave an interesting and informal talk on the care and selection of fine furniture.

WINS GOLD AWARD

The Stowe Standard Gold Award is given to men for running the 4,600 foot course on Mt. Mansfield in times of 1:25 or better and to women with times of 1:40 or better. In the season's first race over this course Alison Hersey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey of Woodside road, placed fourth with a time of 1:19. The first place went to Mrs. Ann Jones, former Middlebury coach with a time of 1:10, Betsy Strong of Hanover, N. H., second with 1:12, Nancy Grant of North Conway third with 1:13. In the men's group Willis Barrows of the Mt. Mansfield Ski Club won with the time of 1:11.

This year Alison is representing the Dartmouth Outing Club, of which she is a special member. Do you like children? Volunteer to work with teenagers or tiny tots. Call Volunteer Service, Richmond 2-2000.

RETIREES FROM AMERICAN EXPORT LINES

Herbert N. Taylor of New York, employment manager ship personnel of American Export Lines at Pier B, Jersey City, N. J., and an old Winchester boy, has retired, L. S. Andrews, vice-president-operations, announces.

One of the best known men in his field of the steamship industry, Mr. Taylor has been with American Export Lines for more than twenty-one years. He was tendered a farewell party in Jersey City which was attended by many shipping and company executives. At the reception he was given a solid gold watch by his friends honoring his long and valued service to the company.

Mr. Taylor came to American Export Lines from the New York office of United States Shipping Board, where he was associated with Merchant Fleet Corp. in steward's section as assistant purchasing agent for many years. He began in the employment section of Operations Department and within a few months was appointed employment manager, a position he held until he recently retired.

During World War I he received citations from the late President Woodrow Wilson and the then Federal Food Administrator and former President, Herbert Hoover, for excellent work done under Mr. Hoover.

Mr. Taylor, who was born in Somerville, Mass., and educated in Winchester and Boston, lives with his wife at 610 West 110th street, New York City.

FAMILY BREAKFAST AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

STATE FEDERATION WORKSHOP

Miss Mae T. Mooney will speak at the High School Auditorium at 8:00 p. m. on that date. Subject: "Enjoying Your Teen-Ager". The teen-ager seems to be of concern to everyone in Winchester just now, judging by the number of lectures, panels and discussions that have been held in recent weeks.

Approaches to the problem are as varied as the people involved. A solution that fits one situation may be all wrong for another. There is almost no 100% right way to do anything. It depends. And you can depend on Miss Mooney to illustrate theory with plenty of concrete examples drawn from 34 years of practical experience with the Family Society of Greater Boston.

Questions may be submitted in writing or from the floor. Due to sickness, the weather and other factors, the list of hostesses was too incomplete to be included. Don't wait for an invitation, give one. Or just come on down, both of you.

COMPLETED OBSERVERS COURSE

Aviation Cadet Philip S. Burr was among the 36 members of Observer Training Class 53-02C to graduate from the 28-week course of training at the Harlingen Air Force Base in Texas on February 5. He has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas for 14 weeks of advanced training.

Upon completion of the advanced course, Cadet Burr will receive a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve and the rating of an Aircraft Observer.

Cadet Burr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burr, 314 Highland avenue. He entered the Air Force in June 1952, after completing his studies at Princeton University, where he majored in French. He is also a graduate of Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.

A workshop meeting of the State Federation of Women's Republican Organizations was held Wednesday, February 4th, at 10:30 a.m. The group was in the Dome Room of the Hotel Touraine and had as their speakers Gov. Christian A. Herter, Ralph A. Bonnell, national committeeman for Mass., Richard J. Furush, president of the Senate, and Charles Gibbons, speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mrs. Muriel S. Barnes of Winchester is director of the Workshop and introduced the speakers. A buffet lunch was served at noon. During the afternoon State Senator Philip G. Bowker of Brookline gave an hour's showing of his beautiful colored pictures taken on his trip through the Scandinavian countries last August with Mrs. Bowker.

Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler, President of the State Federation presided.

MUCH INTEREST IN HOSPITAL AIDE COURSE

Miss Laura Rogers, Director of Nursing at the Winchester Hospital, reports that progress on enrolling students for the Hospital Aide class starting March 2nd at the Hospital is most gratifying. Already sufficient students have signed up for the course to guarantee its success. There are still a few vacancies left and she urges anyone contemplating entering this field to make immediate application.

YOUTH FELLOWSHIP SOCIAL

The Senior High Fellowships of the Melrose and Winchester First Baptist Churches will get together at First Baptist Church, Winchester for a Friday, the 13th, Social, at seven o'clock in the evening.

Amid black cats and spoons, the young people from the two communities will enjoy a short play, games and the ever popular square dancing. The program planned promises a happy and memorable time for all.

A year ago Winchester High School's undefeated championship basketball team, on the vote of the league players themselves, won the Middlesex League Good Sportsmanship Award. Many in town felt this an honor equal to the State and New England championships won by the team. Last Friday night at the Reading game in the local gymnasium the Winchester team and its supporters, both at fever pitch after a nip and tuck contest, gave another outstanding exhibition of sportsmanship in which the whole town can take pride. As the horn blew to end the game Winchester was leading 46-44, but just as play ended the referee called a foul on a Winchester player. Not hearing the whistle, the crowd surged onto the floor believing the game had ended with Winchester the winner. When it was learned that the foul had been called there was no confusion, no threatening the official, no boos, catcalls or demonstration of any kind. The crowd returned to its places and gave Captain Jack Hardy of Reading a quiet, orderly gymnasium in which to try for the two points that would tie the score and send the all-important game for Winchester into overtime. Hardy, a lad with icewater in his veins, sank the two baskets and the game went into overtime. With Winchester finally winning by a single basket after leading and having the score tied again! Throughout the overtime Winchester's conduct was exemplary, as it was the Reading captain was shooting his wits with baskets. There are few towns under similar conditions where the reaction of both crowd and players would have been as sportsmanlike. Congratulations, you high school youngsters, you were real sportsmen last Friday!

POLITICS ANONYMOUS

Editor of the Star:
When a public issue is being debated, it is customary for those who wish to state their views to make known their identities as well. In fact, at a legislative hearing, as in a court of law, identification is a required preliminary to any expression whatsoever, while at less formal forums the speaker merely stands to be recognized. With few exceptions, the people of Winchester have long recognized and abided by this procedure. But it seems, unfortunately, that we have among us at present one or more ardent political workers who like to indulge in activities with which they do not care to be identified.

I am moved to write this letter because of myself having been approached late last week by one of those politicians anonymous, who went to the trouble of going outside the town to use a dial telephone so that the call could not be traced. My repeated requests for the caller's identity were as often denied, nor would he divulge the nature of his business until he had asked and received answers to several quite personal questions, such as how long have I lived in Winchester, and how much tax do I pay. At this point my caller launched his main attack, finally revealing himself as one of the proponents of the elevated railroad currently proposed as a solution to the Winchester Square traffic problem.

It seems that the Star of February 6 had listed my name among those present at the State House hearing on, and recorded in favor of, the Woodside petition, House Bill 2149. I was informed that all of us so recorded were being called. After more questions calculated to reveal my lack of "background," I was roundly denounced, with profanity for emphasis, for the temerity which would allow a newcomer like me to attempt to interfere in town affairs. In the finale, I was assured that I would see the railroad go through in spite of any or all opposition.

Twenty-five years have passed since I was a newcomer to Winchester. During this time I have always been happy to leave town or anyone else who might aspire to civic authority, so long as they prove themselves worthy and capable. My criterion of worthiness and capability for town officials is that their acts should always be in the best interests of the town as a whole. I believe it to be my civic right and my civic duty to speak out as emphatically as possible when I feel that this criterion is not being satisfied.

In fairness to the prominent Winchester citizens, on behalf of whom my attacker was ostensibly speaking, I omit the names quoted, feeling that it is unlikely that any of them had foreknowledge of the incident, or would have permitted the use of such tactics had they had such foreknowledge.

Still unanswered is the question "Just who does this maker of vicious anonymous attacks hope to accomplish by them?" If the hope is to silence opposition by browbeating, it is a vain hope indeed. For my part, the attack has only served to crystallize my position and make the issue involved my own personal fight. If the hope is to intimidate all Winchester "newcomers" of the past twenty-five years and more, I believe that the effect will be to consolidate all these citizens into a solid bloc which, with the help of those many Winchester natives who recognize that change is not necessarily progress and all not gold that glitters, will be strong enough to demand, and get, the sensible solution to our traffic problem which is available at a fraction of the cost of the proposed diskway that solves the railroad's problem so well and leaves our town holding the bag.

TO THE PEOPLE OF WINCHESTER

February 9, 1953
The "Building Committee for Additional Facilities for Senior and Junior High Schools", wish to make the following report of progress. Dr. W. K. Wilson, recent Superintendent of the New York State planning department, was employed to work with Dr. Forbes Norris, Superintendent of our schools, your school board and your building committee.

Through our group efforts we have completed a solution for your school building program. We were unable to take advantage of the "Campus Plan" because of the time required to co-ordinate the "By Pass" of Main street and your present building requirements. After making a study of past and present solutions, we found we were confined to remodeling the present Senior High School into a two year Junior High School. For this work we have employed the architectural services of Jerome Bailey Foster of Winchester.

The present Junior High School with new additions will become the new four year Senior High School. This new building addition will require taking three of the present houses on Warwick terrace. For this work we have employed the architectural services of the firm of Louis Ross & Associates, State street, Boston.

Preliminary plans of both buildings will be ready soon. Previous to the next March town meeting, we plan to hold a public meeting to present our report and a preview of the preliminary Junior and Senior School plans.

One room of the present High School has been remodeled and redecorated, so you may inspect the type of work we plan to do. This room will soon be open for your inspection and approval.

We propose to keep all the people of Winchester, who are interested in the solution of this important school building program, properly informed of our progress.

Sincerely yours,
William J. Speers, Jr., Chrm.

Also, another note from Dave Merrow in Ga., for a birthday card follows:
February 1, 1953

Dear Homefronters:
Once again you have remembered, and once again your kindness is greatly appreciated.

Each little remembrance on this birthday helps to make it happy and successful.
My address has not changed, but my rank has, as I am now Pfc. Merrow.

Many thanks again for your kind gesture and thoughtfulness.
Yours truly,
David Merrow

PRECINCT CHAIRMEN FOR 1953 RED CROSS FUND CAMPAIGN*

Standing (left to right): Mrs. Mabelle M. Long, Mrs. Robert A. Drake, Mrs. Gustav G. Kaufmann, Mrs. Robert T. Pritchard, Mrs. Richard Fisher. Seated: Mrs. F. W. Horne, Mrs. R. W. P. King, Mrs. Ganson P. Taggart, Mrs. John W. Page.

*Other chairmen not pictured are Mrs. J. W. Robertson, Mrs. S. K. Tully, Mrs. Joseph Tansey, Mrs. Charles F. Wilson.

RED CROSS PRECINCT CHAIRMEN

Twelve precinct chairmen have been named by residential co-chairmen William Davies and Mrs. Rod Long for the 1953 Red Cross campaign.

Telephones are ringing in all six precincts as these chairmen enroll their volunteer helpers who will serve as precinct captains and door-to-door solicitors during the campaign week, March 1-8.

All of the ground work and organization necessary for the town-wide solicitation has been done by the local Red Cross office and the residential co-chairmen. Winchester's goal this year is $22,500. Although the national goal is larger than last year's, Winchester's part of this is just the same.

With wars raging in various parts of the world and disasters touching others, the need to support the Red Cross Fund is greater than ever.

OPEN YOUR HOME TO FOREIGN STUDENTS

The Experiment in International Living would like to bring a group of foreign young people to Winchester to stay with families here. The Experiment is an organization which tries to promote friendship and understanding between young people of different countries. From twenty years of experience they have learned that the best way to do this is to have the young people live, play, and travel together. In past years most of their activity has been in sending American groups to countries in Europe and Latin American countries to live with families there, but it is now becoming possible for groups from European countries to come to America, thereby increasing the value of the Experiment.

The Experiment would like to know if there are enough families in Winchester who are interested in this program to support a group, before they plan to send one here. There will be about ten foreigners with their own leader. They will all live with different families, preferably those with a young person of about their own age, taking part in the usual family life and getting acquainted with American ways during the month of July. Usually the visitors are high school seniors, various activities, trips, and parties together and really get to know each other very well. The second month affords an opportunity for the foreign guests to see more of this country.

If you are at all interested in this program or would like to know more about the plans for the summer or the Experiment organization, please contact Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, 49 Lawson road, Winchester 6-2434, or Linda Fielding, 12 Lawrence street, Winchester 6-3181.

The experience of having a young person from another country live in one's family for a month is mutually rewarding and enjoyable, and for an American young person, participating in this "experiment in international living" is a very worthwhile way to spend the summer. It is very enlightening to see one's own city and country through the eyes of a foreign person and to enjoy his new experiences with him. To the foreign person it is of estimable value to have a home, friendship, and companionship in this foreign country, and the impressions of American people and ways which he receives from his family will be his truest and happiest, as Experimenters who have been to Europe will enthusiastically testify. It is hoped that many people in Winchester will want to welcome a foreign young person into their homes next summer.

COFFEE SHOP OPENS

The Winton Club is proud to announce that they will open a Coffee and Gift Shop in the Winchester Hospital on Monday, February 16th.

This shop will be open Monday through Friday from 10:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. and everybody is welcome.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of Contagious Diseases was reported for week ending Thursday, February 12:

Agent, Board of Health.

ELISHA GOODWIN

Elisha Goodwin of 5 Winthrop street, proprietor of Goodwin, Henry & Co., Inc., Boston cotton brokers, died Tuesday night, February 10, in the Winchester Hospital. He entered the hospital January 25 after breaking his hip in a fall at his home.

Mr. Goodwin was the son of Joseph W. and Ellen A. (Furber) Goodwin. He was born August 22, 1868, in Wolfboro, N. H., coming to Boston as a young man and entering the employ of the Boston & Maine Railroad as a storekeeper. Later he was promoted to the purchasing department of the Railroad where he remained until 1911, when he became associated with the Railway Supply & Manufacturing Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, serving as head of the company's Boston office.

In 1922, Mr. Goodwin and John Henry formed the wool brokerage firm of Goodwin, Henry & Co., Inc., with offices at 200 Summer street in Boston. Upon the retirement of Mr. Henry several years ago Mr. Goodwin took over the business, in which he was actively engaged at the time of his accident. He made his home in Winchester since 1918.

On November 27, 1909, Mr. Goodwin married Clara Daniell, who survives, with two daughters, Barbara, who is the wife of Dr. Charles W. Ordman of Washington, D. C., and Elizabeth Goodwin of Winchester, and a grandson, John Ordman. Also surviving are three brothers, Arthur R., of Bethel, Vermont, Martin F., of Wolfboro, New Hampshire, and Joseph Goodwin of Wolfboro and Bradenton, Florida, and a sister, Mrs. Herbert P. Hayward, also of Wolfboro and Bradenton.

The funeral will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Bigelow Chapel in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. The Rev. George O. Ekwall of Christ (Episcopal) Church in Waltham will read the service. Burial will be in the Newton Cemetery, Newton.

MRS. HELEN JOY FOX

Mrs. Helen Joy Fox of Princeton, N. J., widow of Irving P. Fox and sister of Miss Minnie and Miss Alice Joy of Lawson road, died Tuesday at the Winchester Hospital after a long illness. She was in her 92nd year and previous to entering the hospital, she had been confined to a nursing home in Woburn for more than three years.

Mrs. Fox was the daughter of Albion K. P., and Clara (Brown) Joy. She was born in Winchester October 11, 1861, her family having been among the prominent old line families of the town. The late Fred Joy, formerly well known in Winchester, was her brother.

Mrs. Fox grew up in Winchester, attending the Winchester schools and Boston University, from which she was graduated in the class of 1882. She was at the time of her death one of the oldest graduates of B. U.

In 1890 she and Mr. Fox were married and for 40 years made their home in Lexington, Mr. Fox being publisher of "The Church Militant", official organ of the Episcopal Church, and also of "The Spatula", a druggists' trade journal no longer published.

After her husband's death in 1927 Mrs. Fox moved to Princeton, N. J., spending her summers on Cape Cod. She was a member of the Women's College Club of Boston, and during her residence in Lexington was active in the work of the Church of Our Redeemer.

Besides her sisters, here she leaves a son, Fred Joy of Lexington; a daughter, Mrs. Archibald M. Crossley of Princeton, N. J., five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Church of Our Redeemer (Episcopal) in Lexington with the pastor, Rev. Harold Handley, officiating. Burial was in Westview Cemetery, Lexington.

FORREST G. BRACKETT

Forrest Grant Brackett of 7 Kendall street, Winchester, died after a short illness on Tuesday, February 10, 1953. Mr. Brackett was the son of the late William Davis Brackett and Sarah Ann Brackett and lived formerly in Stoneham. He was born in Swampscott on November 3, 1868.

For many years before his retirement he was associated with his father in the leather and shoe business, under the firm name of W. D. Brackett Co.

Mr. Brackett was married to Maude Harlow (Cordrey) Brackett, whom he survived by about four months and with whom he lived quietly at his home at 7 Kendall street up to the time of her decease. At his home he enjoyed his flowers and meeting with his many close and devoted friends both young and old. He always had a jovial smile, a bit of dry wit and philosophy for everyone he met and for those who sought after his advice. His calm and quiet way of life remained with him until the end.

His only close relative who survives him is his sister, Mrs. Blanche B. Hildreth of Cambridge. Private services are being held this afternoon at the Bigelow Chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Music Convention
The annual conference and all-state music festival of the Massachusetts Music Educators Association is being held this week, February 12, 13, and 14 at Springfield, Massachusetts. Winchester is represented by Fred M. Feltz, who is serving his second year as president of the state association, Eleanor Anifantis, Natalie Fitch, and Theodore Janner.

An outstanding feature of the three day program will be the concert on February 14, presented by public school students from Massachusetts high schools. The program will include numbers by a 150 piece band, an orchestra of 150, and a chorus of 300.

Winchester students who have been selected to participate in the program are Raymond Simpson and Steve Dunn, for the band; Harlow Russell, Mary Lou Armstrong, and Mary Burton, for the orchestra; Donald MacFeeley and Roy Lawson, for the chorus. The youngsters will be guests in the homes of Springfield high school students.

United Nations Meeting
Two seniors who are studying for the United Nations essay contest are accompanying their teacher, Mrs. Ella M. Stacy, to the Sixth Annual United Nations Institute, held in New York on February 12, 13, and 14. With Mrs. Stacy, Deborah French, and Barbara Clark will study the workings of the U. N. "on the spot," and they will listen to reports from several of the United Nations' leaders.

Mr. and Miss Aberjona
In a recent schoolwide election conducted by the staff of the Aberjona, the school yearbook, Kit Carleton and Sonia Smith were elected Mr. and Miss Aberjona respectively. The winners were chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, and service to the school.

Recent Births

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wakefield of 176 Forest street announce the birth of a fifth child and second daughter, Gwyn Alice, born Saturday, February 7, at the Winchester Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Daniels of Cleveland announce the birth of a son, Stephen Hall Daniels, born January 25 at the Huron Road Hospital in East Cleveland. Mrs. Daniels is the former Suzanne Neley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Neley, formerly of Lloyd street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Hathaway, Jr., (Ruth Carrier) of Pittsburgh, Pa., are the parents of a second child, first daughter, Pamela Sue, born January 30 in Pittsburgh. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Carrier of Lloyd street.

RETIRED AFTER 51 YEARS

On the first of the year a veteran manufacturer of tannery machinery retired from active business. Robert F. Whitney of 77 Walnut street, concluded fifty-one years by retiring from the Turner Tanning Machinery Co., of Peabody with whom he had been associated for the past twenty-three years.

Mr. Whitney attended M. I. T. in the Class of 1902, leaving the Institute in 1901 to assist his father, the late Arthur E. Whitney, in his rapidly growing Whitney Machine Co. His father had invented the first successful all-roller machine, and they were so successful that they quickly replaced older types of machines and much hand work. From these first simple foot-treadle machines Robert Whitney developed a line of greatly improved machines of greater capacity and efficiency and covering a wider field. Ever watchful for possible improvement he was the first to make use of anti-friction bearings in beam-house machines (1914) and improved methods of lubrication. Whitney machines became leaders in their fields and were largely used around the world. Unharming, beaming, fleshing, putting-out and setting machines were invented and developed by Mr. Whitney.

On the death of his father in 1918 he succeeded him as head of the Company. In 1929 upon the sale of the Whitney Machine Co., to the Turner Tanning Machinery Co., Mr. Whitney became associated with Turner as an inventor and development engineer. The Turner Co., added the Whitney machines to their extensive line of leather-working machinery and they are also made by their associated companies in Europe and Australia.

Mr. Whitney says that in retirement he misses the aroma of the tannery, but if the lack becomes too keen he can visit Begra & Cobb, only a mile from his home!

Upon retirement Mr. Whitney was tendered a lunch by his former associates and presented with a television set to keep him out of mischief in his declining years!

STREET PALS
by BEN KEANE

We have a crowd that hangs together although they're as unlike as can be. They occasionally have their differences, but just let one newcomer stick his nose in, and they converge on him. He doesn't stay long.

First there's Pat, with his generosity and good looks. Yet coat of arms and all, he isn't necessarily the brightest of them. His pal is George, a good natured sort of ho-bo. Where Pat has a crew cut, George's shaggy hair hangs over his eyes like the "before" picture of a hair dressing ad. Though rough and ready, he's a pushover for babies. If he isn't with the gang, he's usually found peering into somebody's baby carriage.

George's sidekick is Buff—the outdoor type. Big and rangy, with red hair and rugged countenance, he loves hunting and swimming and racing. He plunges through life unmindful of the consequences.

The girls in the crowd have a charm all their own. Judy is the shy type, till she gets an idea in her head that she can't shake out. Then she harangues and nags and scolds until the whole street hears about it.

Sooty is the popular girl in the crowd. She is loved, not for her blue blood but for her affectionate personality. Dark and sleek, she has enough tricks at her command to be amusing and always welcome.

Then there's Trixie—poor Trixie. She has a hard time keeping up with the others. She's lost her figure with age but clings desperately to the last vestiges of youth. Once fleet of foot, she now takes short, mincing steps accompanied by shuffling pants, all giving her the illusion that she's the racer of old. Her tricks have gone, but through her name, the memory lingers on.

Nancy is the neat lady-like type who isn't allowed out alone. But under that demure exterior is plenty of pup, I mean pep.

Now you've guessed it. These are the dogs down our street.

Pat Jury, the pedigreed Welsh terrier; George Marvel, the dog with the fatherly instincts; Buff Sibley, the red Irish setter which swims daily in the Aberjona; Judy Murphy, the shy cocker long on lunge; Trixie McLaughlin, the black and white fox terrier turning gray with age; Sooty Harvey, everybody's pal, and Nancy Trot, she's the lady.

(Sunday Boston Globe, Feb. 8)

Ed. Note: Anyone living within earshot of their variously pitched voices knows that the above canine character sketch is written about the dogs in the Lloyd street-Maxwell road-Mystic avenue triangle. The writer would be Bernice Keane, wife of Globe Sports writer Cliff Keane and mother of "Dim" Keane, star first baseman of the Braves Little League baseball team.

ART AUTHORITY TO SPEAK AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

An extra lecture, offered by the Winchester Art Association in connection with its Old Masters Exhibit now hanging in the Winchester Public Library will be given on Wednesday, February 18 at 7:30 p. m. by Miss Eleanor Randall of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Interested persons in Winchester and nearby towns are welcome to come for this Gallery Talk, and Miss Corinne Mead has invited as special guests members of other Library Boards who also have Art Associations housed in their libraries.

Miss Randall, well versed in the periods which the current Art Show represents, will interpret the works of the Dutch Masters, Turberv; Nicholas Maes; Brueghel; Philip Van Dyck and speak also on the painting of the Italian School represented by Guardi. An interesting note on the French marine painter, Vernet, one of whose works is in the exhibition is that he has many of his paintings of French seaports hanging in the Louvre in Paris.

Two large Copleys, Mrs. Joseph Warren and Mrs. Joseph Galph are causing interest as people browse through this lovely show which will continue through the month of February.

The winter session of the Art classes is in full swing, with the course in Fabric Stenciling and Block Print offered by Mrs. Frank Carlson of Kansas at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C., sponsored by the International Christian Leadership Movement on February 5th.

ATTENDED PRAYER BREAKFAST

Mr. and Mrs. William Hodge of 32 Grove street were among those attending a Prayer Breakfast at the invitation of Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C., sponsored by the International Christian Leadership Movement on February 5th.

Senator Carlson, Chairman of the International Christian Leadership Movement, presided at the breakfast meeting at which President Eisenhower was a guest. The President addressed the group which was composed largely of the President's cabinet and staff members of the House and Senate, and the Vice President. These weekly prayer breakfasts are usually held at the Senate Building each Wednesday, but in order to enable business leaders throughout the country who are interested in this Christian Leadership Movement to attend, Mr. Conrad Hilton offered the use of the Mayflower Hotel.

Church Services

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1953

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services at 11 a. m. Sunday School is held at the same hour as the church service.
 Wednesday testimonial meeting 8 p. m. Reading room, 2 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

That there is a divine law of harmony applicable through prayer to the solution of daily problems will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul," which will be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday.

Bible passages will include the admonition of Christ Jesus with regard to prayer. But those who have prayed enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly." (Matthew 6:6)

Continuing the explanation of prayer, a correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy states: "What we must need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds. To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done." (4:3-9)

The Golden Text is from Psalms (130:6): "My soul waiteth for the Lord, more than they that watch for the morning."

HIGH SCHOOL
PARENT-FACULTY PARTY

The Winchester High School Parent Faculty Association held a most successful Bridge, Canasta and Whist Party in the gymnasium on Wednesday, February 10th.
 Mr. and Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald served as the very capable co-chairmen for the occasion and assisting them on the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Fish, Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Thompson, Mrs. Clifton W. McNeill as chairman of Home Room Mothers was in charge of the sale of tickets. Mr. Edward Bartlett co-chairman of the program committee for the Parent Faculty Association, greatly assisted the committee at the gymnasium.

A group of efficient and co-operative boys, namely James Wright, Peter Gove, Bill Coleman, Seth Weston, Ben Foster, Charles Stevens, Dick Spaulding, John Everett, Jackson Wilcox and Gardner Smith assisted Mrs. Thompson with the decorations that transformed the gym into a colorful panorama of travel. The Association is grateful to Mr. James deRevere of Fells road for donating the beautiful posters.

There were attractive table prizes and a snack bar at the end of the gymnasium, coke, ginger ale, donated by Renton's Market, nuts and candy for those who wished them. Chances were sold on a Birthday Cake from Christie McDonald's, a gallon of ice cream from Brigham's and a travel alarm clock donated by C. C. Peter. Mrs. William Spaulding won the Birthday Cake, Mrs. Lewis Stow the ice cream and Joseph Moron the alarm clock.

The profits from this party provided the High School donation to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation as well as some gifts to the school each year.

The Committee wishes to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped to make the party so successful.

PACK 9

RAINBOW MOTHERS' CLUB

On Monday night of this week the Rainbow Mothers' Club held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Stratton, 44 Hillcrest Parkway.

A business meeting was held, after which a lovely collation was served by the hostesses and their co-hostesses, Mrs. Helen Ward of Winchester, and Mrs. Dobbins of Woburn. The beautifully decorated table and refreshments were in keeping with Valentine's Day.

Next month's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harvey of Woburn.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The Fortnightly regular meeting was held Monday afternoon, February 9th, in the First Baptist Church with the president, Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, presiding.

The many members who attended "Art Day" were indeed privileged to hear Dr. Richard B. K. McLanathan, secretary of Boston Museum of Fine Arts, assistant curator of decorative arts and editor of the museum's publications, talk on the M. and M. Karolik collection of American paintings.

Dr. McLanathan, a fluent and thoroughly delightful speaker, also showed colored slides of many of the pictures in this interesting collection which covers the so-called "forgotten" period of American painting from 1815 to 1865. For many years it was thought that there was a dearth of painting of interest or merit in America from the time of Gilbert Stuart until the period of Winslow Homer. Mr. Maxim Karolik, however, has amassed evidence to the contrary by bringing to light paintings which depict not only the beautiful scenery of America, but also the story of America's westward expansion and her political and family life as well. This collection which Mr. Karolik has presented to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, will be displayed at the museum in its entirety for five years. It may then be loaned for exhibition in other parts of the country.

Following the lecture Dr. McLanathan answered questions and talked with individual members. Many expressed their appreciation of this richly rewarding afternoon.

At the close of the program, at a beautifully decorated with a centerpiece of red and white carnations and red candles, a "Valentine Tea" was enjoyed. Mrs. T. Parker Clarke and Miss Laura B. Tolman poured, assisted by the hostesses for the day, Mrs. Gerald Smith, Mrs. John Billings, Mrs. David Eden, Mrs. Arthur Haines, and Mrs. Ralph Meigs.

Music Committee
 The next rehearsal of the Fortnightly Choral Group will be held Monday, February 16th, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hiseoe at 1:30 p. m.

"STARDUST" IN REHEARSAL

The feverish activity in the high school auditorium on Wednesday afternoon was eloquent proof that senior-junior class play time has arrived again. This year's vehicle is the three act farce comedy, "Stardust."

A visit to the auditorium recently revealed a large cast that seemed to be almost constantly on stage. A steady stream of orders, suggestions, comments and wails of despair belabored the actors. One sympathizes with the pupils as they untangle from the "falling ladder scene," nursing bumps and bruises, and again as they recover from the "psychological attack" on the script of Anthony and Cleopatra.

The bystander chuckles as he watches Steve Yale rub a sore cheek caused by an enthusiastic conversation as Becky Smith and Andy Robertson discuss the relative merits of their stage kias; he dodges viciously as he watches John Becker and Damon Mezzacappa work to perfect their fencing ability without wounding each other.

From somewhere comes the cry, "Snatch from its socket the embedded incisor, lacerate the lip, and gutter the gums," and one wonders what it's all about. A moment later, the observer is transfixed as he watches Marilyn Dyer hang away at an imaginary piano and Debbie Fish attempt to arrange flowers in a tall silk hat. The voice of the Dean of Women (Shirley Chapman) indicates that at least one other person is being shocked by what is going on in this school of drama!

All this activity comes to a halt about 5:15 p. m. every afternoon, as the cast gathers in the front row to hear the results of the rehearsal. Sometimes the report is good, other times the opposite; but each night the players leave determined to make it better. By curtime time on the evening of February 21, they hope that the audience will discover a full evening of fun that will equal the many fine performances of the past.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The Junior High Fellowship of the First Congregational Church will meet on Sunday evening, February 15, at 4:30 in the Old Vestry. The discussion will center around the topic, "Do You Know Your Own Strength," and will be led by Susan Hamblin.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY PANEL AT LEAGUE

It takes time and it takes money. Still, it is cheaper to prevent a child from falling into juvenile delinquency than it is to maintain him in a correctional institution. With this fact in mind, the Social Welfare League of the Winchester League of Women Voters invited three experts to discuss "The Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency" on February 5th at the home of Mrs. Roger Burton, 30 Oxford street.

Winchester's Police Chief Charles J. Harrold, Joseph Foley, probation officer attached to the Woburn court, and John D. Coughlan, new director of the Youth Service Board were the speakers. Besides League members, Mrs. Thomas Hill, 57 Yale street, chairman of the committee, had invited Dr. Forbes Norris, superintendent of schools, Mr. R. J. Dickman, principal of the Junior High school, Mr. W. L. Grindle of the High School, the guidance people from the schools, representatives of each church and members of the school committee.

Chief Harrold outlined his method of finding out as much as possible about a child who has run afoul of the law. He checks into church affiliations, school and other responsible contacts of the child in question, talks to the parents in their home, and tries to get a complete picture of his way of life and find out what influences, other than natural mischief, have created the problem. Every possible precaution is taken to keep a youngster from having a court record and every possible effort is made to secure proper corrective help for him.

Mr. Foley stressed the importance of investigation into causes of delinquency. Citing the Glueck report on what factors of background, environment and personality produce a delinquent, Mr. Foley described his use of all available resources for study of the delinquent child before he is sent to the judge. Such resources, for example, are the Home for Little Wanderers, the Baker Guidance Center and the Reception Center of the Detention Homes.

Mr. Coughlan finds his new work handicapped by lack of funds for study and prevention of juvenile delinquency. He also cited lack of funds to maintain in foster homes those children who should not go to one of the training schools nor back to a bad home. One of the urgent needs of the Youth Service Board is for two reception centers separate from the Lyman or Lancaster school facilities. He spoke of the great value of the growing Big Brother and Big Sister movements in which, through the friendship of a devoted adult, a child is guided into a better development.

All three speakers agreed that there was need for some real authority for reaching the home and making the parents share the responsibility for delinquency. Winchester will concur with Mr. Coughlan's opinion that we are unusually fortunate in our Police Chief and our parole officer.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

There will be a meeting of the Organization Committee, Mrs. Thomas Hill, chairman, at the Girl Scout office, Tuesday, February 17, at 10 a. m.

The following letter is in response to Christmas parcels sent by Troop Three, the A. R. C. to the service men on the high seas.

USNS General A. W. Brewster (T-AP-155)

Winchester, Mass.

Dear Friends:
The members of the USNS General A. W. Brewster's Crew, Military Department, and passenger Troops, wish to thank you and your organization for the beautiful useful packages you sent us. They made our trip from Korea to the United States more pleasant and in some way compensated for our being away from our homes on Christmas and New Year's.

Sincerely in Christ,

JR. MRS. GUILD

The Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church will hold its February meeting on Tuesday evening, the 17th, at 7:45 p. m. Following the business meeting, a short film will be shown, entitled "New England Calling," which will depict in color the beauties of the local countryside.

After the film there will be a social sewing hour and everyone is reminded to bring a large needle and thread in order to participate in a project to aid the Social Service Guild.

The social chairman, Mrs. Roger L. Carpenter, will be assisted by the following committee: Mrs. Clifford M. Hammel, Mrs. Lawrence H. Pexton and Mrs. Frederick J. Schiffmacher.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

On February 18, the Dartmouth Women's Club will meet at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. The dessert and coffee hour is at 1:15 p. m. The speakers will be Mrs. Carroll Dwight of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Seymour C. Carpenter of Melrose. Following this hour Mrs. Wesley A. McSorley, President, will conduct the business meeting.

The program "Humorous Monologues" will be given by Ada Dewson. A food sale to help increase the scholarship fund will be conducted by Mrs. Peter F. McCarthy and Mrs. Percy E. Gleason, co-chairmen.

CORRECTION

In reporting the death of John H. McManus of 21 Harrison street, the Star's obituary gave his marriage date as September 24, 1932. This is an error. Mr. McManus married Grace Colburn Lessey of New Haven, Connecticut, on September 24, 1911. We regret the mistake and are happy to make this correction.

COUNTY COMDR. ROBERT F. "SAM" MURPHY

TO FETE "SAM" MURPHY

Middlesex County Council, The American Legion will hold a testimonial Reception and Dinner in Winchester Town Hall on Saturday, April 11 from 6 to 12 midnight, in honor of Robert F. "Sam" Murphy, of Medford, formerly of Winchester, who is Commander of the Council.

There will be a social hour from 6 to 7 o'clock, followed by dinner which will be served at 7:30 p. m. After dinner dancing will be enjoyed.

Dress for this affair is optional but it is hoped that many of the Legionnaires will be in full Legion uniform. Patrick T. Foley of Winchester is chairman with George K. Walker, of Watertown, County Adjutant serving as Secretary and C. Norman Noonan of Winchester, Treasurer of the Committee.

Local names on the committee include: Dr. Arthur W. Collins, Past Commander of Winchester Post No. 97 and presently Sub-District Commander; Charles W. Meek, Commander of Post No. 97; Alexander MacKenzie, Joseph McKee, John H. McCarthy, Albert Horn and Ralph Scott.

SCOUT NEWS

On February 19th the Winchester District of the Fellsland Council is sponsoring a winter Rally with Troop 3 acting as host. It is being held for the purpose of encouraging advancement in scouting and to stimulate the interest of younger boys and their parents.

Among the troop awards to be given are the Robinson Whitten Trophy for the best score in the competitive events and the Kenneth Hall Award for the best advancement made in the past three months. These awards have been named for Mr. Whitten and Mr. Hall in recognition of their contribution to scouting.

"NEW ERA IN PRINTING AND PUBLISHING INDUSTRY"

Mrs. Sidney Burr, a resident of Winchester, has recently donated to the Library a new book entitled "The Wonderful World of Insects," by Albro Gaul. This book represents the beginning of a new era in the printing and publishing industry by being the first to be composed by a new method of typesetting call "Photon."

This new process of composing type by photography and thereby eliminating metal type was developed by the Graphic Arts Research Foundation, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass. The non-profit foundation started the first research program to develop new and less costly printing methods. With a flick of a finger on the electronic typesetter, a page of type can be made by a typist with no previous experience in composition.

In addition to its physical aspect, "This Wonderful World of Insects" is noteworthy for being a natural history at its best — compact, informative, and well-written. It is authoritative but not technical and contains all there is to know about insects as parasites, friends, and foes.

You will be rewarded for your effort in coming in to see this unusual book which was made by "Photon."

Recorded Music Program

The music program for Wednesday, February 18, in the Jere A. Downs Memorial Room at 3:00 p. m. and again at 7:30 p. m. will be:

OUT OF BONDAGE

Just as Abraham Lincoln led the crusade against the tyranny of slavery, courageous scientists and men of medicine have led the crusade that is freeing mankind from the bondage and tyranny of disease. These brave men and women — many of whom made the supreme sacrifice — are the Great Emancipators of today and deserve the homage of all mankind. We pay tribute to them and pledge our professional participation in the crusade for freedom.

Workmen from the State spent two days in the center of the week making soundings in connection with the raising of the tracks for the elimination of the Grade Crossing. It is reported that they went down 60 ft. at one spot before striking solid bottom.

The alarm from Box 281 at 12:10 p. m. Wednesday was for a fire at the home of Donald Howes, 24 Grove street. The fire which originated in a wastebasket and was small boy playing with matches, ate its way into a partition between a kitchen cabinet and the refrigerator, making it necessary for the firefighters to rip out some of the wall to get at the blaze. It was fortunate, according to the men, that a much more serious fire didn't take place.

Past Commander John T. Horn of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has been appointed by the Selectmen as caretaker of veterans graves, succeeding Harry C. Goodwin, who has resigned after years of faithful service.

LITTLE LEAGUE

The first Little League Director's Meeting of the 1953 Season was held Monday night at the home of Edward Cullen with twelve of the directors attending. The main purpose of this meeting was to organize for the 1953 Season and discuss overall policy. The following officers were re-elected and agreed to serve during this season:

President, Edward Bartlett
Vice-President, Edward Cullen
Secretary, James Haley
Treasurer, Charles Koch
Player's Agent, Kenneth Hall
The following Committee Chairmen were appointed at this meeting:

Supervision of Game Details — Richard DeCanto.
Finance — Charles A. Murphy, Sr.

Procurement and Maintenance of Equipment — Lewis Wasky.
Publicity — Henry Clark.

Low Wasky reported that the uniforms and equipment had all been turned in and were in very good condition. He gave high praise to last seasons players for the fine way they followed instructions in caring for the uniforms and equipment.

The next Directors Meeting has been scheduled for 7:00 p. m. Sunday night March 1st, at the home of Edward Bartlett, 20 Hillside avenue.

At the last meeting of Cub Scout Pack 1, held at the Parkhurst School, Arthur Schmidt, Den 4, was awarded the Gold and Silver Arrow and Ty Peabody, Den 4, was awarded the Bear Badge and Gold Arrow.

The meeting was led by Pack Leader Larry Burke and the awards were given out by Mr. Butters, chairman of the Award Committee.

A well received skit entitled "Out of the Life of Abe Lincoln" was put on by Den 4 under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schmidt with the following cast:

Ty Peabody — Abe
David Burke — Billy and Dave
Dick Siders — Pete
Bert Comins — Jimmie
Arthur Schmidt — Master Swaney
John Tutty — Widow Slocum

INDIANS BEAT READING IN OVERTIME

An overflow crowd at the high school gym last Friday night saw Winchester High defeat Reading High 48-46 in a thrilling overtime contest. It was the most exciting game of the home come in recent years as thrill after thrill piled up until the climax was reached just eight seconds before the final whistle when John Atkinson sank a one-handed push shot from eight feet out to give the Indians a cherished victory. The most dramatic moment of the game was provided by Captain Jack Hardy of Reading who sank two free throws after the regulation time had expired to tie the score and send the game into overtime.

The Indians started out as though they were going to run away from their Reading rivals as they raced away to an 18-5 lead at the end of the first quarter. The locals played their best basketball of the season in this canto as they were cracking off their plays with precision on the offense and covering the defense. The second quarter was a complete reversal of the first period as Reading suddenly caught fire with four quick baskets and the Indians lost their poise and stopped winning their offense. The half ended with Winchester ahead by a 23-22 margin.

The third quarter was bitterly fought as Winchester gained a six-point advantage only to lose five of those six points in the last 30 seconds of the period to lead 34-33 at the end of that period. The gym was alive with excitement as the teams battled evenly through the tense final quarter. With 1:15 to go Reading took a 41-40 lead on a set shot by Al Runge. Co-captain Stu Thomson drove in for a layup to put the locals ahead 42-41 and seconds later spotted John Atkinson clear under the basket to set him up for the basket that gave the Indians a 44-41 lead.

With 14 seconds to play Mathews of Reading sank the second of a pair of foul shots to close the gap to 44-42. The Indians went into a freeze and momentarily had the game won as the final horn sounded with Winchester in possession of the ball but a foul had been called on the Indians just before the horn sounded. The crowd had surged on to the floor thinking that the game was over, but was quickly checked as Hardy stepped up to the foul line for two free throws. A miss on either foul shot and the victory was Winchester's but he calmly dropped in both shots to send the game into overtime.

Winchester dominated the play in the overtime period but the Indians were so tense that they missed easy baskets and free throws. The first scoring came when John Atkinson sank a pair of charity tosses. Al Runge tied it for Reading with a set shot and the score remained at 46-46 until the eight-second mark. At that point a jump ball was called at the Winchester foul circle with Norman Howard jumping for the Indians. He tapped the ball back to Atkinson who took a one handed push shot that gave the locals a hard fought victory.

The Winchester Seconds had trouble for a half with the Reading Seconds but began to roll in the second half to take an easy 71-42 victory in the preliminary game. Pete Gove was the high scorer for the Indians with 18 points while Jim Wright had 12 and Dave Pratt collected 10.

LEAGUE LEAD RIDING ON GAME

The leadership of the Middlesex League will be at stake tonight when the Indians meet Belmont High at the high school gym. Both teams have lost only one game this season, with the Indians' sole defeat coming at Belmont by a 43-40 margin. Since that time the Indians have played much better ball and are confident that the home court will give them enough of an edge to reverse that earlier decision. The winner of tonight's game will be the league title, as each team will have only two league games to play.

Next week the Red and Black will conclude their Middlesex League schedule with two games away from home. On Tuesday afternoon the Indians will play at Melrose, and will be at Lexington next Friday night. The Lexington game promises to be a real battle, for the Minutemen are capable of upsetting any of the leaders on any given night.

DILLINGHAM DIVE WINNER

Pete Dillingham, former Winchester High football and track star, won the high board diving event for the Harvard Swimming Team last Saturday in the Crimson's winning dual meet against Navy at Cambridge.

Your Star reporter and his wife went over to Cambridge with Athletic Director Henry Knowlton of Winchester High School and Mrs. Knowlton, two of the high school's promising freshman athletes, Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo. Across the pool during the meet we glimpsed School Superintendent Forbes Norris sitting with his son, Ted, a former Harvard distance swimmer star.

Naturally the local party's chief point of interest was the dive, and "Dill" gave them a real thrill as he piled up 105.88 points to defeat Navy's Davies, one of the few intercollegiate swimmers to defeat the Harvard star in dual meet competition.

Davies beat Dillingham in the Navy meet a year ago, but Pete came back to turn the tables in the intercollegiate. Last Saturday, if memory serves, the former Winchester boy had a fairly comfortable margin.

Pete, very smooth and does all the tough dives with an ease that masks their real difficulty. He has been bothered somewhat with a back injury this year, and after watching him perform last Saturday we can only hope he will continue to hold together at all through some of those diving intricacies.

Pete is one of the best in the intercollegiate ranks and has been for the past two years. He is a senior and is in his last season of college competition. By all means, see him while you have a chance.

FRESHMEN OUTCLASSED READING

The Winchester Freshmen won their tenth straight game of the season by defeating the Reading Freshmen 56-26 at the high school gym on Friday afternoon.

The papooses did not run up as high a score as in their past games but were never in trouble as they had a comfortable margin all the way. The rear court pair of Joe Belmont and Bert Kneeland were again the high scorers for the Red and Black with 27 and 16 points respectively.

The Winchester Junior High team also made it ten straight victories for the season by defeating the Reading Junior High 60-35. John Chapin with 14 points and Mike Callahan with 13 points were the high scorers for Winchester.

The Winchester High School girls' basketball team defeated Belmont, 41-28, on Friday, February 6, at Belmont.

At the half, the Sachemettes were leading 21-15 and increased the lead to 32-25 by the end of the third period. Belmont, always proving tough competition, kept the local girls on their toes throughout the game.

The Sachemettes' tight defense on the part of the guards was outstanding in the final period.

The Winchester J. V. Team also had a successful day winning, 22-14, over their rivals. Left forward Sheila Gallivan was high scorer of this game.

THOSE EXTRA POUNDS above normal weight place an extra load on the heart and blood vessels. As the heart works harder to carry this additional load, the danger of developing heart disease increases.

In about 95 per cent of the people, obesity is caused primarily by eating more food than the body needs. It is seldom associated with any glandular disturbance. Recent studies show that over-eating may be related to family eating habits or such psychological factors as anxiety, domestic and marital difficulties, insecurity and boredom.

The most effective way to lose weight is to eat only the kind and amount of food your body needs for good health. Your doctor will help you plan a diet that is right for you and which will help you STAY LEAN and LIVE LONGER.

HOLD-UP MAN SENTENCED

Conrad P. Dion of Providence,
R. I., was sentenced to an indeterminate period in the Concord Reformatory when he appeared in the Middlesex County Superior Court last Friday.

Dion was convicted of holding up a taxi man on Main street near the Johnson Plot on November 14 and with stealing $14 from the cab driver, who had brought him out from Boston.

Two Marines who were driving past at the time of the holdup nabbed Dion and held him until he was taken into custody by Patrolman Archie T. O'Connell.

FOR SELECTMAN

KENNETH S. HALL

Voters of Winchester:
Kenneth S. Hall of 12 Winslow road is a candidate for Selectman at the election on March 2.

First of all, Mr. Hall has had business experience that should prove valuable to a Selectman.

Previous to his retirement last year he was for nearly twenty years with Esso Standard Oil Company in the accounting department in a supervisory and executive position.

His last five years he was a "marketing cost analyst," doing statistical work and acting as contact man with the operation department, thereby gaining a good knowledge of the operations of a multi-million dollar business.

Next, and this is important, he has the time to devote to the ever increasing duties of Selectman. No man, however able, can make much of a contribution to the town as Selectman if he does not have the time necessary to give to the office.

Mr. Hall was born in Newtonville in 1891, educated at Worcester
Classical High School and Brown University, and has lived in Winchester for more than 30 years. He and Mrs. Hall have been active civically and have brought up four daughters, who have graduated from our schools.

Mr. Hall served on the town committee for the survey of public school accommodations in 1941 and was a town meeting member from 1942 to 1948. His interest in youth is evidenced by the fact that for 20 years he has served as secretary of the Boy Scout Board of Review.
He is the present "players agent" of the Winchester Little League.

He has been active in furthering Junior Legion baseball in Winchester, and as founder and chairman of the high school football transportation committee, he has been for 11 years responsible for providing transportation for our high school football players at all out-of-town games.

During World War I Mr. Hall won a commission as 2nd lieutenant at Plattsburg and served 18 months overseas with the 188th Aero Squadron. He has served as commander of, and has been always very active in the affairs of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion. He is treasurer of the Unitarian Church and a member of the Winchester Boat Club.

Mr. Hall would like to serve the town as Selectman. Those close to him know that if elected, he will give faithful, impartial competent service in the office. They are urging their careful consideration of his candidacy on this basis.

FOR SELECTMAN

THOMAS F. FALLON

Voters of Winchester:
In submitting for your consideration the candidacy of Thomas F.
Fallon for the office of Selectman at the March election we wish to remind you that he is well acquainted with the town and the various departments of its town government, he having served two terms as Selectman and 18 years as Town Meeting Member. If elected, he will give the problems that arise in connection with the transaction of town business his whole-hearted consideration, keeping always in mind the solution of these problems the best interests of the entire town.

Mr. Fallon has lived most of his life in Winchester, and, for 28 years until his retirement six years ago, he was a member of the large local milk concern which still bears his name and is now successfully conducted by his two brothers. He has worked for the civic and social improvement of the community as a member of many fraternal and charitable organizations.

As a home-owner and tax-payer
Mr. Fallon will do all in his power to hold down the tax rate and current town expenses. If elected, he will ask for cooperation and economy from all town departments with the view to keeping within the debt limit in the future.

Because of his training and experience the undersigned heartily endorse Thomas F. Fallon for Selectman and urge your support of his candidacy at the election March 2.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSESSOR

WILLIAM S. WOLSEY

Voters of Winchester:
In announcing my candidacy for the office of Assessor I would like to acquaint you with a few facts about myself, and my qualifications.

I have been a resident of Winchester for the past eight years.
I am a married man with three children, a taxpayer, and have had my own business in town for these past eight years.

I feel qualified for the office of Assessor for the following reasons.

1. I have been in banking and the mortgage business for the past twelve years.

2. I have been in the building business, for myself, for the past eight years.

3. I have been in the building business altogether for fifteen years.

If elected I would go into office with plenty of experience behind me, and also an open mind.

RUDOLPH ELIE TO SPEAK HERE

Rudolph Elie, music critic and columnist of the Boston Herald, will speak in Winchester on Wednesday afternoon, February 25th. He will come here through the sponsorship of the Winchester Women's Republican Club. Mrs. James M. Beale and Mrs. Charles A. Weimer, co-chairmen of the ways and means committee, have planned a delicious afternoon to be held in Chidley
Hall, the First Congregational Church, with dessert at 1:30 to precede the talk.

Rudolph Elie, a native of Arlington, Mass., began his career as the editor of a weekly newspaper in Randolph in 1932, after majoring in music and journalism while at school. He later worked on newspapers in Brockton and in Newton, and in 1935 became editor and publisher of a weekly newspaper in Exeter, New Hampshire, meanwhile contributing articles and short stories to various national magazines.

In 1938 he went to Hollywood to write the movie script of a play he had written and remained there until 1939, when he returned to

The transfer of Rev. James A. Garrity from St. Charles Parish in Woburn to St. Thomas Aquinas Jamaica Plain, will be generally regretted, not only by his Woburn parishioners but by all who have known his vital personality. The Star recalls the first time we saw Father Garrity at a Woburn-Winchester football game played at Woburn with snow under the gridiron. Winchester's eleven was backed up near its own goal line trying to prevent a Woburn score when a good-sized group of Woburn youths in the end zone commenced to snowball the Winchester players. It wasn't too much fun to be bent over in the direct line of fire and the action of the Woburn youths evidently did not coincide with Father Garrity's idea of sportsmanship. Before the police had a chance to act he had dashed into the snowballers, all of adult size if not mentality, and took vigorous physical action that scattered the gang like leaves before a gust of wind. Thereupon the good father took up a position not too deep in the end zone, directly between the Winchester team and the sharpshooters. Turning his back upon the crowd, he folded his arms and waited. There was no further interference with the Winchester team. The Star will never forget Father Garrity's dramatic appearance on the field of play nor his genuine sportsmanship. Men of the cloth do much to promote real tolerance and good will among all sorts of people.

THE SELECTMEN REPORT

ELEVATED RAILWAY PLANS PROGRESS

February 16, 1953

The Board of Selectmen would appreciate the opportunity to report through your columns to the citizens of Winchester concerning the current status of the grade crossing project.

It has been some time since there have been any definite developments to report, but our Board and members of the Planning Board have recently met with representatives of the Department of Public Works, of the Boston & Maine Railroad and of Thos. Worcester, Inc., the engineers on the project, and we wish to bring the Town up to date on the status of the project in view of these recent conferences. Of course, at the time the project was discussed and voted upon at last year's annual town meeting and then discussed and voted upon at the referendum which followed, a number of open questions remained concerning the details of construction and the planning of the work.

Although the engineering is still not complete and (because of continuing soils studies and construction detail) may not be completed until perhaps the middle of April, some further information is now available.

In the first place, as the Selectmen reported last summer, the Department of Public Works, after conferring with the engineering consultants, made the decision to locate the temporary tracks, which will be used during the actual course of construction, to the west of the present right of way so that they will proceed down what is now the paved surface of Common street with Winchester station being temporarily moved somewhat to the rear of its present location.

Much has been of the threat that all or many of the trees on Winchester Common would have to be removed. We have questioned the engineers carefully in this regard and have been reassured that they do not foresee the necessity of removing any trees in the Common itself. In the construction of the temporary tracks on Common street it will, of course, be necessary to remove those trees now standing between the railroad right of way and the paved surface of Common street but the tracks are planned to remain inside of what is now the street surface at that point. Replacing of trees, although naturally of smaller dimensions than present trees, and further beautification by way of landscaping are to be included as part of the project.

The further decision to keep the temporary tracks to the west of the present right of way north of the Center was reached earlier this fall and that decision by was communicated to our citizens through the Star as soon as our Board had been advised of it.

With regard to the engineering plans for the elevation of the tracks themselves the plan remains in all its essentials the same as was described at the Town meeting and in the special report issued by the Selectmen prior to the referendum in April.

The engineering now calls for the embankment to reach a point of perhaps 9 feet at the street which amounts to about 4 feet more than at first planned, although coming from Medford the start of the incline will still be only about 2,000 feet south of the station. That is to say the incline will begin at a point approximately to the rear of the intersection of Canterbury road with Grove street nearest to Symmes Corner and there will be absolutely no change along the tracks to the rear of the houses along Canterbury road.

Bacon street will pass under the tracks by a depressed roadway at that point as has previously been described. The D. P. W. feels that this roadway, following the natural topography of the land, will greatly improve traffic safety.

Like Winchester Station Wedgemere Station will have to be moved to the rear of its present location during construction. Re-grading around the station will improve conditions and appearances due to the elimination of the present grade up to the overpass.

The engineers have been asked to make some provision, if possible, for a pedestrian crossover, perhaps in connection with the new overpass for the Aberjona River at that point, to provide for access for commuters from the area lying south and east of Wedgemere Station to the station. The new overpass will be the most suitable for its purposes. Each source gave him some information about its particular branch. When he returned to Winchester, he was advised to see Mrs. Toye, who is the skeptic often shown by a young man for a woman's knowledge of men's affairs, he did so. To his infinite advantage, he was given a complete picture, was able to make a definite choice and for eighteen months has been serving in that branch for which he was best fitted. His first objective, when returning home on leaves, has been to talk things over with Mrs. Toye because "she knows what the score is" and can give him most helpful advice and criticism.

Following his example, the younger son, with more limited education, went first to her. He discovered what his parents, as ordinary citizens, did not know. Many schools are offered to an enlistee through examinations taken before enlistment. Arrangements were made for him to take these examinations and he was accepted by the school of his choice. He is thus assured of being able to attend this school following basic training. Now he finds that other enlistees and draftees who were inducted with him are vainly trying to enroll in these schools and are frankly envious of his forehand knowledge of how to do it. Furthermore, through his consultations with Mrs. Toye, her time is most painstakingly and generously given — he is determined to be a good soldier and a credit to her and to the community.

We understand that she has helped hundreds of other boys make a choice, but this is our personal experience. We write this letter so that other ordinary citizens in our community may appreciate the service given by Mrs. Toye, and may avail themselves of her sound advice and assistance.

"POLITICS ANONYMOUS"—No. 2

Editor of the Star:

Following the Star's recent account of the hearing at the State House in Boston on February 4th, on House Bill 2149 relating to the railroad crossing in Winchester Square, I was called to the telephone and some one, apparently a woman, asked me if I was an engineer. Upon my replying in the negative, she then asked why I was against elevating the railroad in order to overcome the crossing at grade.

I frankly told this person that everyone I knew favored the elimination of the grade crossing in the Center, but solving that problem by raising the tracks has been outmoded for many years. Moreover, with only 87 trains and over 25,000 autos passing through the Center daily—about half of the number that go through Sullivan Square—the diversion of all needless traffic from congested centers, now standard practice, is even more important.

Both of these desirable ends can be obtained, with a minimum of disruption to business, under modern engineering methods, by putting the tracks over the existing "rubber over rails," as it is known, at less than one-third of the cost of the plan now being promoted. Certainly the residents of Winchester are entitled to full information regarding both plans before making a choice.

After again asking this person to identify herself, without result, she asked me how long I had resided in Winchester, and I said "22 years," but I had known the town quite well for 40 years. In response she said that she had lived here for 45 years, but she made no comment when I told her that I was a great-grandfather's built the first house here over 300 years ago. She then asked me if I did not think a certain selectman (whom she named) is doing a good job for the town in this matter, but I disagreed. Once more I told her I thought that I was entitled, as a matter of courtesy, to know with whom I was talking, but for the third time she refused to identify herself.

Under these circumstances I felt I should thus relate my own experience, of the same nature as that of Mr. Currier, so that your readers might know of the desperate lengths to which some people will go to achieve their ends.

DON'T MAKE SENSE!

Editor of the Star:

It just doesn't make sense! The people of Winchester have agreed to the expenditure of four million dollars, perhaps more, to raise the railroad tracks. After two years or more of tremendous upheaval, what will we have? Trains roaring by bedroom windows, a great wall through the center of the town, a daily climb for commuters, decreased property valuation with the prospect of a slum area along the tracks, AND the traffic problem as big as, or bigger than ever!

For a fraction of that cost, we could have two raised highways carrying through traffic safely over the tracks, a campus for our junior and senior high schools, convenience for the commuters, and land-taking reduced to a minimum. I repeat, it just doesn't make sense!

However, perhaps the answers to the following questions might make sense:

Have the voters been unduly influenced by the alleged statement that the overhead railroad is the only project the state will help to finance? Has that statement ever been corroborated? Have all the townspeople ever had the opportunity to vote on any other plan than the overhead one? Is it possible that financial gain in the land-taking has something to do with the agitation in favor of the overhead tracks?

Yours truly,
Mildred E. Allison

CAN'T PLOW THE STREETS

Editor of the Star:

Will you be kind enough to give me space to explain that I am neither town engineer nor superintendent of streets. I can not get streets plowed or sanded, sidewalks or curbs installed, correct flooded streets or give orders for any of the work that is under the supervision of the gentleman who fills these important positions.

James A. Wakefield, Jr., of 18 Fells road is town engineer and superintendent of streets. Our surnames are the same and we both live in the Highlands, but his given name is "Jim" and mine is "Jack". Perhaps "Jim" Wakefield is getting calls about my campaign for Selectman. I know I am getting calls at the arrival of every snowfall about plowing streets. I can't do anything about streets and would be happy to be relieved of calls that belong to "Jim", not "Jack", Wakefield. I imagine "Jim" feels the same about my calls for me not being getting. He probably has plenty of his own, at least during the winter!

SARACO FOR ASSESSOR

Voters of Winchester:

I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of Assessor at the coming March election.

I believe, as many people do, that any government body, board or committee should be made up of people from all walks in life, regardless of race, creed or religion. Only through a board made up of various elements can all problems be met and dealt with fairly and honestly.

On the Board of Assessors there should be at least one who can voice his opinion, not as a builder or real estate man, but as an impartial individual, not as a business or professional connections that might possibly hamper him in rendering honest decisions.

There are two excellent men on the present Board of Assessors. Let us be fair to them by adding to their Board one who is neither a business nor a professional man. I am a lathe operator with the Massachusetts Gear and Tool Company in Woburn, have four children and own my own home. I am a veteran of World War II with over five years active duty, seeing action with the Burma Raiders (Commandos) as a staff sergeant in China, Burma and India. I was recalled to the service in 1951 as a second lieutenant.

I can truthfully say, if I am elected to the Board of Assessors in March, I will give the people of Winchester my best!

I know Winchester and the people in our town. I would like to serve them as Assessor, promising to give careful consideration to all available facts in an effort to arrive at fair and honest decisions. Soliciting your vote on these grounds, and thanking you for any consideration you may give my candidacy.

SHOWERED

Miss Cynthia Morse of Lloyd street was pleasantly surprised last week by twenty relatives, neighbors and friends who gathered at the home of her aunt, Mrs. William D. Barone, to give her a bridal shower.

Miss Morse is to be married in March to Ensign Charles Gilman Phippin, United States Naval Reserve, of Hanover and formerly of this town.

EUGENE B. ROTONDI

CANDIDATE FOR WATER AND SEWER BOARD

Mr. and Mrs. Citizen:

Do you conscientiously believe that any one person should continually serve the town in the various departments year after year, without consideration of another citizen who is anxious to assume office? I have believed for years that no citizen should be allowed in office for more than two terms. This method would provide an opportunity for public service by many other competent citizens of our town. My opponent has served consecutively for 18 years and he is close to eighty years of age.

I sincerely hope that our citizens will consider the above facts, and vote for a change. My qualifications and background have been covered in the candidates' questionnaire of the League of Women Voters.

Sincerely,
Eugene B. Rotondi

MANY STUDENTS AID PRODUCTION OF "STARDUST"

The production of the junior-senior class play "Stardust," which will be presented at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening, has enlisted the efforts of nearly 100 students in addition to the big cast, over 80 pupils have been working hard as members of various committees.

Assisting Director Thomas Morse are Catherine Goss, student co-director, Sheila Gaxavan, assistant co-director, and Joyce Thomas, prompter.

The very efficient stage manager, John Everett, is aided by crew members Jackson Wilcox, Nicholas Fitzgerald, Ted Mansfield, Gardner Smith, and Dann Lewis. The properties committee, with Constance Cortell and Marcia Cunningham as co-chairmen, includes Tina Tonn, Myrna Mosen, Alan Burt, Marie Delvovo, Joan Moore, Suzanne Wadsworth, and Marie Ferri.

The job of make-up for the large cast is in the capable hands of Eleanor Caterino and Joan McNeill, chairmen, and Sally Cunningham, Madeline Derro, Nancy Ayer, and Carol Brown.

The ticket committee, which is led by Gloria Mueca and Carol Brown, includes among its members Catherine Goss, Barbara Joyce, Tina Tonn, Suzanne Wadsworth, Mary Jay, Heard, Dorothy King, Johnette Johnson, Martin Branneman, Fred Wheaton, David Pratt, Frances Kennedy, Sheila Gaxavan, Mary Rehm, Grace McPeake, Claire Hildebrand, Marcia Kirtz, and Chris Adams. Robert Kleber is head usher, and he will be assisted by David McKell, James Myers, Curtis Ryan, Peter Fisher, David MacKenzie, Robert Derro, Donald Murphy, John Curry, Don Lewis, Nelson Newhouse, Clark Hottel, Kendall Cleaves, Lawrence Worthen, Thomas Cahill, Frank Scaturro, Paul O'Brien, and Robert Wiklund.

Between the acts Diane Coll will be a candy sale. Betsey Freeman and Lee Griffin are chairmen of this committee, and other members include Kaye McGoff, Suzanne Wadsworth, Mary Jane Heard, Patricia Laetsch, Marcia Cunningham, and Ann Hennessey.

The art committee has been busy for several weeks preparing attractive designs for the stage, as well as the many excellent posters advertising the show which have been placed in local store windows. In the poster contest, Jenny Meigs was awarded first prize, with Deborah Fish, second, and Diane Cooper, third. Other members of the committee are Chris Adams, Gloria Mueca, Andrea Erskine, Sheila Scanlon, Betty Lou Martenson, John McNeill, Rita Deulin, Shirley Chapman, Christine Fentress, Janice Hubbs, and Sandra Wittet.

Publicity for the show has been in the efficient hands of Tina Tonn and Sylvia Barnaby, co-chairmen, assisted by Nancy Ayer, Frances Guarino, and Barbara Harrigan.

MUST ADOPT CHILD AGAIN

ACT OF CONGRESS ADMITTED GERMAN TOT FOR WINCHESTER COUPLE

Captain and Mrs. Lavern C. Hutchins of 306 Cross street filed papers in Middlesex Probate Court last week Thursday, February 12, seeking government permission to adopt Carol Ann Hutchins who has been their daughter since 1951 when they adopted her under German law in Munich.

Captain Hutchins was on Army Air duty in Germany when he and his wife, Priscilla, adopted little blonde, blue-eyed Carol Ann, now 2½ years old. When Captain Hutchins received his orders to return to the United States immigration officials could not enter the United States with him and Mrs. Hutchins because there was no room for her under the quota system.

Securing a three-months delay in his sailing orders, Captain Hutchins telegraphed his Senator, Carl Hayden of Arizona, who immediately introduced legislation in Congress seeking "the speedy relief" of Carol Ann Hutchins, alien, adopted by United States citizens in Germany.

Congress passed the legislation at once, but actually its vote wasn't necessary because even before Captain Hutchins learned of the Congressional action, the immigration officials had informed him that an enlarged quota would enable him and his wife to bring their daughter into the country.

The happy family arrived in the United States and settled in Winchester, but the long arm of the law was still casting a shadow in their path. This time it was the State Welfare Department informing the Hutchins that they would have to adopt their little daughter all over again because this government does not recognize German adoption laws.

Captain and Mrs. Hutchins immediately put in motion the machinery to adopt Carol Ann so that the adoption would not stick this time. Meanwhile not every little girl has the distinction of having Congress pass a special law just for her, even though the law did turn out to be unnecessary.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester met on Wednesday afternoon, February 11 at Masonic Hall. Mrs. Robert Wood Reynolds, President of the Club, presided.

For this occasion marking Lincoln's birthday, Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, Vice Chairman of the Republican State Committee, spoke briefly on Lincoln, recognized as the founder of the present day Republican party. She followed her remarks with observations on the recent Washington Inaugural stating that it may be said of President Eisenhower as was said of Lincoln, "He stands never above you, never below you, but always with you."

Ralph Bonnell, Winchester's distinguished Republican recently named Republican National Committeeman, spoke of his experiences in the year of the campaign. He emphasized the vast details of organization and the tremendous problems of money raising, but the resulting victory was well worth the labor and the money required. We Republicans are entitled to thirty days of exultation in victory, continued Mr. Bonnell, but he pointed out that after that, our responsibility begins, to retain our party in power. Acknowledging the tremendous vote cast for President Eisenhower, Mr. Bonnell reminded the club that women will have a great responsibility much to do in this future goal. "You must be impressed with your own importance, for you are a very strong and effective group," he added.

Speaking of his experiences on the Eisenhower train last fall, Mr. Bonnell paid great tribute to President Eisenhower, commenting on his unusual powers of concentration, his wonderful spirit of cooperation with others, his even disposition, his never-failing patience, his magnificent ability in organization.

During his attendance at the Inaugural, Mr. Bonnell was impressed not only by the vast numbers of happy people there from all parts of the country but by the fact that to everyone it was a serious occasion. At the impressive ceremonial the eyes of the world were truly on Eisenhower. His opening prayer was unforgettable and could not fail to impress all with the great task to which he was dedicating himself. The blessings of good government will go to everyone, concluded Mr. Bonnell; the campaign speeches are the promises of the work that is going to be done. To do it, President Eisenhower has assembled the most capable talent in our history.

At the conclusion of the meeting tea was served by Mrs. J. Harvey Macaulay and her committee. Mrs. Charles Dunn, President of the Malden Women's Republican Club, and Mrs. J. Harper Blaisdell poured.

Most victims of "heart attack" (coronary thrombosis) not only survive, but recover to live happy, productive lives. The Heart Fund enables your Heart Association to wage the battle against heart disease.

SPECIAL GIFT SOLICITORS FOR RED CROSS

CIVIL DEFENSE

The Department of Civil Defense wants to remind you that the air-raid alarm system will be sounded on Sunday, March 1, at 2:00 p.m., to indicate the beginning of a test alert.

The signal used, however, will be the all-clear, rather than the red alert warning, in order to avoid unnecessary concern on the part of those not involved in civil defense operations.

It does mean the mobilization of civil defense personnel immediately, by the division directors and section leaders, according to the standard operating procedure.

This promises to be a most profitable test from the standpoint of gaining experience in solving after-terms "problems."

It will help a great deal in setting the date on your calendar and contacting the local Red Cross office for an appointment on the next Blood Donor Day, March 13. The need is great.

BLOOD DONOR DAY

The story of a pint of blood is being told very effectively on radio and television every day by people who know and have seen what blood means to our men on the battlefields. Surely, we need no other stimulus to urge us all to cooperate when the Bloodmobile moves into Winchester on March 13 at the First Congregational Church. Mark the date on your calendar and contact the local Red Cross office for an appointment on the next Blood Donor Day, March 13. The need is great.

KERRIGAN APPOINTED

The Fowler Agency of the Union Central Life Insurance Company has appointed Charles H. Kerrigan of Lorena road as Assistant Manager of the Boston Office.

Mr. Kerrigan is a member of the Union Central's $500,000 Club for 1952 and 1953, was awarded the National Association of Life Underwriters Quality Award for the past two years, and is member of the Boston Life Underwriters Association and the Boston Supervisors Club. He has been an outstanding producer for the Union Central since his graduation from Tufts College in 1948.

GIRL PEDESTRIAN ASSAULTED

Dorothea Kelley, 21, of 6 Upland road was struck and cut about the head by an unknown assailant while on her way home from the street station Wednesday evening.

Miss Kelley told Officer Alfred Poole of the police department she got off an outbound train at Cross street at 6:10 and walking south on Main street, entered Hemingway street.

As she proceeded along the north side of the street approaching the home of Mr. Oweney Grant, she heard footsteps behind her and felt an arm being placed about her shoulders.

At the same time she was struck a blow on the head. Thinking it was her brother fooling with her, Miss Kelley exclaimed, "That hurt", whereupon she was struck twice more.

Miss Kelley then whirled around and screamed, seeing her assailant was a man. Her screams for help frightened her assailant, who ran along Hemingway street toward Main street. Miss Kelley was able to give the police a description of the man.

Meanwhile she was taken by her mother, Mrs. John J. Kelley and her brother to the office of Dr. Charles J. Rooney who treated her for a cut on the head, apparently made with a medium sized stone. Miss Kelley was not believed to be badly hurt.

PARKHURST RED CROSS

The monthly meeting of the Junior Red Cross of the Parkhurst School was held on February 17 with president Joseph Albani presiding. After the opening exercises, the reports of Jean Withers, secretary, and Sandy Mueller, treasurer, were read and accepted.

The receipt of a Certificate of Award, sent in appreciation of bundles of clothing given to the Save the Children Foundation by the pupils of the school, was announced by the secretary.

As the main part of the meeting, sixth grade pupils presented a skit illustrating the history of the Red Cross. Members of the cast included Billy Burrows, Charlotte Siders, Carl Massi, Carol McLean, John Miller, Russell Cross, Bill Wilson, and Peggy Archibald.

The president reminded teachers and pupils of the Valentine favors which they were preparing for the hospitals. On the motion of Walter Steech the meeting was adjourned.

TO STOP SPEEDING

GOOD CITIZENSHIP THEME OF PARKHURST ASSEMBLY

The pupils of Mrs. Donovan's fourth grade shared with other classes and friends a presentation called "I Pledge Allegiance" at a recent assembly. The program was designed to interpret meaningfully the historical significance of the flag to young Americans.

The assembly opened with a drum solo by David Burke, and there followed a history of the flag, presented by Susan Gray, Barbara Sides, Billy Morton, Robert Leander, and Robin Reynolds.

A flag poem recitation was given by Lynn Silverlieb, David Doane, John Tufty, James Sarno, and Caroline Switzer. Another poem, "Betsey Ross and the Flag," was recited by Mercey Wilson, Betsey Hulse, and Nancy Watkins.

The major episode in the assembly was the play "I Pledge Allegiance." In the cast were Jane O'Malley, Martha Wood, Steve Wilson, Jean Ramsdell, Geoffrey Speers, Mercey Wilson, and Bert Comins. Speakers for the entire play were Arthur Schmidt and David Burke.

Following the play, "Your Flag and My Flag" was recited by Tommy Paine, Richard Siders, and Caroline Davis; and a reading of "The American Creed" was offered by Wayne Bartlett and Joseph Dunn. For their last number a group of the children sang "The Flag Song."

Then, they and their audience, better informed and more fully aware of what it means to be an American, joined in singing together "God Bless America." Announcements were shared by Floyd Horn and Ty Peabody.

NOONAN SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

For their assembly on February 13 honoring two of America's greatest leaders born during this month, the pupils of the third grade offered a program filled with interesting episodes from the history of our country.

As the first number on the program a flag drill was presented, with every member of the class participating. Then followed a group of interesting stories about Lincoln and Washington.

On February 23, Catherine Goss and Christine Fentress will visit the Faulkner Hospital School of Nursing. Conducted tours of the school and hospital will start at 10 o'clock on the morning and again at 2 p.m. An impressive film, "Keepers of the Lamp," will be shown. Student nurses and members of the Nursing Advisory Committee will be available for informal talks with visiting students.

Career Meetings
The regular monthly Career Meetings, sponsored by the guidance department, were presented yesterday morning to the subjects of the three meetings were:

Jobs for the summer.
Careers in music and allied fields.
Training to become a dental hygienist.

MALCOLM H. COOK

Malcolm H. Cook of 32 Kenwin road died suddenly early Wednesday morning, February 18.

Mr. Cook was the son of Malcolm Henry, and Clara (Shaw) Cook. He was born in Cherryfield, Maine, Dec. 8, 1885, and for many years was associated as special agent with the Boston Insurance Co. of Gilmour Rothery & Co., with headquarters at 40 Broad street. He had made his home in Winchester for more than 20 years.

Mr. Cook leaves his wife, the former Esther Patterson; and a daughter, Eleanor Cook Haskell of Birmingham, Alabama.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be private and will be in the Cambridge Cemetery.

TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

The Winchester Toastmistress Club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening, February 24th, at the home of Mrs. Lillian Last, 120 Brookings street, Medford Hills, Mass.

The speakers for the evening will be Miss Edna Brownell of Belmont, Mrs. Virginia Miller of Medford and Mrs. Florence Thurston of Medford. Mrs. Frances Murphy of Medford and Miss Mac McDonough of Dorchester will act as evaluators.

The Toastmistress for the evening will be Mrs. Rana Bagley of Medford.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini will be the chairman of the afternoon on February 24th at 2 p.m. in Masonic Hall. Her guest speaker will be Mr. Kennedy of the Paint Pot in Concord.

Mr. Kennedy is a well-known artist, his clients coming from suburban areas, Boston and far into New Hampshire.

A combination of paints and fabrics will be offered for interior and exterior decorating. The paintings will be adaptable for traditional, modern or colonial homes.

FRESHMEN BEAT STONEHAM PAPOOSES HAVE UNBEATEN SEASON

The Winchester Freshmen completed an undefeated season by swamping the Stoneham Freshmen 85-13 at the high school gym on Tuesday afternoon. This was the twelfth straight victory for the papooses who were extended in only one game this year as they chalked up the highest scoring record of any Freshmen quintet in Winchester High history. Appropriately enough, the Freshmen turned in their best performance of the season in this final game as every player scored at least two baskets with Bert Kneeland and Renny Johnston leading the way with 10 and 15 points respectively.

The Winchester Junior High team also completed an undefeated season of twelve straight victories by defeating the Stoneham Junior High 59-23 in the preliminary game.

HIGH SCHOOL GUIDANCE

Open House Visits
In addition to arranging interviews for students with representatives of advanced schools and colleges, the guidance department at the high school has planned occasional visits to the schools themselves. On February 17, Janice Allen, Roberta Venardi, and Madeline Derro attended an open house at the Katherine Gibbs School in Boston.

On February 23, Catherine Goss and Christine Fentress will visit the Faulkner Hospital School of Nursing. Conducted tours of the school and hospital will start at 10 o'clock on the morning and again at 2 p.m. An impressive film, "Keepers of the Lamp," will be shown. Student nurses and members of the Nursing Advisory Committee will be available for informal talks with visiting students.

Career Meetings
The regular monthly Career Meetings, sponsored by the guidance department, were presented yesterday morning to the subjects of the three meetings were:

Jobs for the summer.
Careers in music and allied fields.
Training to become a dental hygienist.

MALCOLM H. COOK

Malcolm H. Cook of 32 Kenwin road died suddenly early Wednesday morning, February 18.

Mr. Cook was the son of Malcolm Henry, and Clara (Shaw) Cook. He was born in Cherryfield, Maine, Dec. 8, 1885, and for many years was associated as special agent with the Boston Insurance Co. of Gilmour Rothery & Co., with headquarters at 40 Broad street. He had made his home in Winchester for more than 20 years.

Mr. Cook leaves his wife, the former Esther Patterson; and a daughter, Eleanor Cook Haskell of Birmingham, Alabama.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be private and will be in the Cambridge Cemetery.

TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

The Winchester Toastmistress Club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening, February 24th, at the home of Mrs. Lillian Last, 120 Brookings street, Medford Hills, Mass.

The speakers for the evening will be Miss Edna Brownell of Belmont, Mrs. Virginia Miller of Medford and Mrs. Florence Thurston of Medford. Mrs. Frances Murphy of Medford and Miss Mac McDonough of Dorchester will act as evaluators.

The Toastmistress for the evening will be Mrs. Rana Bagley of Medford.

UNION LENTEN SERVICES

March 4—At Winchester Unitarian Church, Sermon by Rev. John D. Bailey.

March 11—At First Congregational Church, Sermon by Rev. Walter L. Bailey.

March 18—At First Baptist Church, Sermon by Rev. Dwight L. Caputo.

March 25—At Second Congregational Church, Sermon by an Episcopal Minister.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini will be the chairman of the afternoon on February 24th at 2 p.m. in Masonic Hall. Her guest speaker will be Mr. Kennedy of the Paint Pot in Concord.

Mr. Kennedy is a well-known artist, his clients coming from suburban areas, Boston and far into New Hampshire.

A combination of paints and fabrics will be offered for interior and exterior decorating. The paintings will be adaptable for traditional, modern or colonial homes.

HARRY S. SEAGRAVE

Harry S. Seagrave, 86, of West Newbury, resident manager of Long Hill Orchard, and a former resident of Winchester, died Tuesday morning, February 17, in Gonzales, Texas, following an automobile accident there. He and his partner, Albert Gilbert of Jamaica, Long Island, N.Y., were on a vacation automobile trip to the West Coast when their car apparently crashed into the upright of a bridge in Gonzales, Texas, on February 12.

Mr. Gilbert died in the Gonzales Hospital the next day, but Mr. Seagrave, who sustained a broken collar bone, was believed to be recovering nicely until pneumonia set in.

Mr. Seagrave was the son of Charles Burnside, and Watie (Scott) Seagrave. He was born in Uxbridge October 3, 1866, and came to Winchester in 1896, living in town on Albany street until he took up residence in West Newbury in 1930.

While in Winchester Mr. Seagrave had his own men's furnishings business in Boston. His hobby, however, was trees, and he was doing more and more with their growth and care even prior to his entering the orchard business in 1922.

At the time Mr. Seagrave settled in West Newbury he became associated with Albert Gilbert, owner of Long Hill Orchard, the largest orchard in Essex County. Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Seagrave and Edward H. Kennedy were close friends and business partners in the orchard, with Mr. Seagrave taking over the resident manager's duties.

A very active man, Mr. Seagrave was a member of the Apple Growers Association and had lectured at Essex Agricultural Institute. He was also a member of the draft board in West Newbury during World War II. While in Winchester he was a member of the old Second Congregational Church on Cross street and taught in the church Sunday school.

Mr. Seagrave was twice married. In 1892 he married Emma Parsons of North Cambridge, who died in 1919. In 1920 he married Annie F. Nutter, known to many in town as proprietor of the old Winchester Exchange. She died in 1938.

Mr. Seagrave leaves a daughter, Miss Theresa Baker of Somerville, and a grandson, Norman Harvey Baker of Newbury.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Congregational Church in West Newbury. Burial will be in Cambridge Cemetery.

Visiting hours this Friday at the Pillsbury & Gale Funeral Home at 2 Hillside avenue, Amesbury, are from 2 to 10 p.m.

JOHN MCGOLDRICK

The funeral of John McGoldrick of Medford, a former resident of Winchester and for several years caretaker of St. Mary's Church, was held last Saturday from the Gaffey Funeral Home in Medford, following a solemn requiem high mass at St. Joseph's Church in that city.

Mr. McGoldrick died suddenly Thursday, February 12. A native of County Sligo, Ireland, he came to this country as a young man and for some years made his home in Winchester, having many friends, especially among St. Mary's parishioners.

Mr. McGoldrick leaves his wife, the former Theresa McGoldrick, and four sons, John, Jr., and James P. McGoldrick; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Callahan of Melrose, formerly of Winchester, and Mrs. Catherine Reardon of this town; a brother, James McGoldrick of Somerville, and another brother and sister, living in Ireland.

ANTONIO CAPUTO

Antonio Caputo of 15 Willard avenue, Medford, a former resident of Winchester, died Monday night, February 16, at the New England Deaconess Hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Caputo was born February 9, 1883, in the Province of Benevento, Italy. He came to this country prior to 1910, and for 25 years was a resident of Winchester, being employed at the J. O. Whitten gelatine plant and being well known. He left town four years ago to take up residence in Medford.

Mr. Caputo leaves two sons, Angelo B., of Winchester, and John A. Caputo of Medford; also four grandchildren.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the DelRusso Funeral Home in Medford with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Clement's Church in that city. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

KNOW YOUR CANDIDATE

So that the Winchester Voters may know more about the candidates for town offices in the March 2nd election, the Voters' Service Committee of the Winchester League of Women Voters has sent questionnaires to all candidates for offices in which a contest occurs. With the kind cooperation of "The Winchester Star," the Voters' Service publishes the candidates' replies to the following question: "What, in your opinion, has qualified you for the town office you seek, by way of business or professional experience, education, or previous civic service? (Please limit your reply to 50 words.)"

K. of C. TO SPONSOR LENTEN PLAY

Winchester Council, 210, K of C, will sponsor "As a Roaring Lion", the Lenten play to be produced by the Catholic Theatre Group at the Town Hall Saturday evening, March 28.

Written by Dr. J. Gerald Mullin, the play deals with the influence of Lucifer upon Christ's persecutors at the time of the crucifixion, Annas, Caiaphas, Pilate, the Roman soldiers and the multitude. The title is taken from the scriptural passage describing the devil as going about like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour.

Richard Villard, veteran of many Catholic Theatre productions will direct the new play that is replacing "The Man of Sorrows" in which the Catholic thespians met with such great success in past seasons. The public is cordially invited to attend "As a Roaring Lion" and is urged to save the date, March 28.

Grand Knight Everett Kimball is honorary production chairman with Sam Vangel and John Dolan, chairmen. John Nowell is ticket chairman. Chester Thibault, of program; and Vincent Erhard, of publicity.

HOPE FOR BETTER STATE TAXES

Laughter and taxes are words not usually used together, but both are needed to report a talk by Joseph P. Healey, Executive Director of the Commonwealth's Special Commission on Taxation. He spoke to a sizeable audience of representative residents at the Wyman School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, February 10, under the auspices of the League of Women Voters of Winchester.

Many town officials were present, as well as an imposing array of candidates for local offices. The candidates were greeted with warm applause when presented, one by one, at the opening of the meeting.

The bi-partisan Commission has been working closely with legislators since 1949, studying the whole problem of state taxes. By March 15 they hope to complete the drafting of legislation to carry out their recommendations in the three areas felt to be most pressing: Revision of the Structure of State Income and Corporation Taxes; Establishment of a Stable System of Distribution of these revenues to Cities and Towns.

The main purposes of the Commission are to make these taxes fairer, easier to handle and more certain for both taxpayer and community; to establish specific regulations for administering the Massachusetts tax system.

Mr. Healey's frequently hilarious descriptions and comparisons serve not only for easy understanding of a subject usually considered dry and difficult, but also point up his thorough knowledge of the problems and their gravity.

Hearings on Tax Bills are held before the Committee on Taxation, Room 407, State House, at 10:30 a. m. on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Details of the schedule through April 8 are available now.

For information, call the Legislative Chairman, Mrs. Oscar W. Sartees, Winchester 6-2956-M, or the president of the League of Women Voters of Winchester, Mrs. W. W. Davies III, Winchester 6-2578.

The current production of the Parish Players differs from most in that it has a solid basis of fact, for since the day in England in 1908 when young Archer-Shee was unjustly dismissed from Osborne, and his parents with the able assistance of Sir Edward Carson, fought the case to a victorious conclusion through two long and costly years, the Archer-Shee case has become something of a cause celebre. As it progressed, it soon became evident that infinitely more was at stake than a youngster's reputation, a father's pride and stubborn faith, or a forged and stolen five-shilling postal order. As Alexander Woolcott summed it up in his volume of essays, "Long, Long Ago" - "Here, in the compass of one boy's fate, was the entire issue of the inviolable sovereignty of the individual." It is an episode could never conceivably have occurred in any totalitarian state.

All of which served to give the Parish Players the advantage of a deeply moving and dramatic story. But there their benefits ceased. The play is comparatively ineffective, difficult to do. The timing is tricky; and some of the English terms fall a bit strangely on American ears. Moreover, while the first two scenes are particularly effective, the last two suffer somewhat because the author was unwilling to follow the story into the courtroom, where it belongs, thus making it necessary for several characters to leave the scene of Greek messengers and tell us what is happening at the trial (which, naturally, we want to see for ourselves). Frances Chadley, guardian angel of the Players from their inception, news absent from their midst; moreover, a change of directors was necessary in mid-production, followed by substantial alterations in the script, so the play in its final stages represented a real triumph over what Hamlet would have termed "a sea of troubles."

As Ronnie - the boy whose troubles motivate the play - Robert Becker was to a degree precisely what was demanded, a nice, decent, average sort of lad who had inadvertently come up to trouble. His work was dignified and sincere throughout. (We hope he won't mind if we say he was good-looking, too!) In the difficult cross-examination scene, in particular, he gave an excellent account of himself. We understand he was most co-operative at rehearsals, with all the punctuality, responsibility, and pride in his work of a veteran trouper. Orchids to you, Robert!

As Arthur Winslow, the harassed father, George Connor contributed another of the outstanding portraits we have come to expect from the Parish Players, with his aristocracy of the man, his pride and stubborn faith in his son, and his gradual physical decline under the strain and stress of events. The part was a long one, but not once did he falter. His make-up was excellent, and his facial expressions something to watch, especially the way in which he used his eyes to express emotion.

The part of Catherine Winslow, the daughter, is also a lengthy one as she is involved in practically all the action. To it, Connie Hessler brought a pleasing personality and a charm and ease of manner that added much to the evening's enjoyment. Her relations with her father were sympathetically and touchingly portrayed, as was the womanly tact and intuition with which she handled her suitors. It is she who sounds the depths of the situation when she says to John: "All I care about is that people should know that a government department has ignored a fundamental human right, and that it should be forced to acknowledge it."

It was a lucky day for the Players when Bill Barnard walked in on them, for offhand it is difficult to think of anyone who could have carried his role as well. So skillfully did he manage the superciliousness, the poise, and the non-committal condescension of Sir Robert that he evoked laughs that were not in the text. His examination of the boy, with its rapid-fire, machine-gun timing (the slightest faltering would have ruined it) was splendidly sustained, and led to a climax of unusual dramatic intensity. (We seem to detect here an effective combination of Mr. Barnard's intrinsic talents and the director's subtle conception of the part). Surely a fortunate coincidence of part and player, and a welcome and disconcerting talent for the Parish Players.

George Hebb played the irrepressible Dickie Winslow to the life, carefree, irresponsible, having his fun as he goes along, hampered by the reputation of "bad little boy" of the family, but with frequent suggestion of something better underneath. A good impersonation.

Lenore Gamage lent the mother, Grace Winslow, an air of quiet efficiency, presenting a well-rounded portrait of a sensitive but courageous woman torn between conflicting loyalties. Lenore always endows her parts with poise and womanliness, besides being easy to look at.

In the character of John Watherstone, John Ricker presented a typical middle-class Britisher, dignified, dependable to a degree, true to type in his inherited opinions and prejudices. His scenes with his fiancée, and her father were played with dignity and sincerity.

We thought Bob Blake did one of his best jobs as the hopeless but devoted Desmond Curry, especially in the proposal scene at the end of the play. He gave the character a definite personality of his own, but a sympathetic one, at that. It is no small achievement to be comically ludicrous and humanely touching at one and the same time.

As Violet, the maid, Alma Diveney was loyal, devoted, and understanding. It was not hard to see why no one could bring themselves to the point of her dismissal. Her gushing enthusiasm on her return to us, this seems almost as from court was extremely contagious, and provoked waves of merriment. While previously helpful back stage, this, we understand, marks her first appearance as a player. We wish her many happy returns in that capacity.

Bettina Harrison made a picturesque newspaper reporter, sufficiently "nosey" and incurably feminine, pleased and proud to pioneer for her sex a hitherto masculine occupation. As for the part of Fred, the photographer, we can only say that never was so small a part shared by two such competent actors as Ashley Lewis and Gene Pollard!

In the absence of their regular director, Harlan Grant, through illness, the Players were fortunate to secure the services of a fellow townsman, Mr. John R. Woodruff, Associate Professor of Rhetoric and Debate at Tufts, and co-director of Tufts Theatre. Taking over in the emergency with but ten days to go, he brought to the task tremendous energy and enthusiasm, and by dint of some individual coaching and all around meticulous attention to detail, helped the Players weather triumphantly one of the few real setbacks they have encountered as a group. His is the gratitude of all concerned.

We were sorry to note the absence of a bit of significant dialogue in the final scene, when Catherine says to Sir Robert: "Will you betray a technical secret, Sir Robert? What happened in that first examination to make you so sure of his innocence?"

Sir Robert: "Three things. First of all, he made far too many damaging admissions. A guilty person would have been much more careful - much more on his guard. Secondly, I laid him a trap; and thirdly left him a loophole. Any one who was guilty would have fallen into the one and darted through the other. He did neither."

To us, this seems almost as obligatory as a scene a faire, in that it answers questions that have arisen in the minds of the audience.

One should say a special word for the ladies' costumes, so attractive throughout, and in keeping with the era. They were also varied, in accordance with the play's unusual time lapses between scenes. How busy they must have been, back stage!

The production as a whole numbers among The Players best efforts.

One question is still unanswered in the mind of this reviewer: where did they get that "gramophone?"

DR. CLARK SPEAKS FOR HEART ASSOCIATION

Dr. Richard J. Clark of this town was the speaker this past week before the Chamber of Commerce and the local medical society in Fall River, and also at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club and medical men in Worcester, on the subject of Rehabilitation of Cardiac Patients for Employment. He was also featured last Monday morning at 9 a. m. over WBZ-TV, when he described the activities of the Cardiac Work Classification Unit in Boston, of which he is the Director.

The Cardiac Work Classification Unit, with its quarters at the Bay State Rehabilitation Clinic at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, is a project supported by the Massachusetts Heart Association as part of its aim toward rehabilitation of patients with heart disease for work. The education of physicians, industrialists, patients and their families as to the potentialities of these patients is another important goal as well as further research into the entire field.

The Unit utilizes the services of three cardiologists, an X-ray man, a social worker, a vocational counselor, and a laboratory technician to make a complete survey of all patients, to evaluate each case as fully as possible to make optimum recommendations for their future activity and work. It is found that many patients who have been dependent can be restored through proper encouragement and guidance, to a status of independent self support. Many of these people are found to be out of employment because of necessary fears or lack of proper understanding regarding themselves and their conditions.

The Unit is open to any patient considered in need of its services by his family or industrial physician. When able, patients pay the basic cost of evaluation. Your contribution to the present Heart Fund Drive helps to aid those in need of these services as well as to support many other research and educational projects to further the conquest of our country's chief cause of death and disability.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL PUPILS ON TELEVISION SHOW

Winchester school children will make their first appearance on television next Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. when they participate in the How Program, sponsored by the state department of education on WBZ-TV. The pupils of Mrs. Ruth Graham's fourth grade are already hard at work rehearsing their short play "Sap's Running," and the beginning of the vacation today will only give them more time to learn their parts. Although they do not go on the air until 9:30, the youngsters will be rising early next Wednesday, since they must be at the television studio for a final rehearsal by 6:45 a. m.

Following the presentation of the short play, Miss Mary O'Rourke, state supervisor of elementary education, and Miss Leonor Rich, principal of the Washington School, will discuss the value of dramatic experience for children—in speech, social relationships, the building of love for literature, and the development of a sense of conduct.

Though the time for the preparation of the play is very short, Miss Rich stated that she believes the children will gain much from this new experience. Remember the time and station: February 25, 9:30 a. m. Station WBZ-TV.

FRIENDS OF WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

The Friends of the Winchester Hospital had a most informative and entertaining meeting on Wednesday evening, February 11th, at the Epiphany Parish House.

Dr. Gustav G. Kaufmann introduced the speaker of the evening, who was Dr. J. Roswell Gallagher, head of the Adolescent Unit at the Children's Medical Hospital.

Dr. Gallagher is a graduate of the Yale University School of Medicine and was for many years a school physician at various boys' schools, including Andover, where he spent seventeen years in that capacity.

Dr. Gallagher spoke on "Understanding Adolescents" and stressed the subject of rebellion caused by the desire and readiness for more independence and responsibility than parents are willing to give.

Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig was the program chairman for this highly successful evening.

HONORED ON 75th BIRTHDAY

Town Clerk Mabel W. Stinson was pleasantly surprised yesterday when her associates at the town hall gave her orchids, and a luncheon in the General Committee room on her 75th birthday.

At the dinner Miss Stinson received greetings and congratulations from all the town departments. She also received a congratulatory letter from State Secretary, Edward J. Cronin, praising her efficient conduct of her office.

Flowers and cards filled Miss Stinson's office and she was kept busy acknowledging congratulations from all who learned of her anniversary.

Centering the luncheon table was a huge heart, bearing the numerals, "75th".

Miss Stinson has been town clerk since 1920 and is the first woman to fill this office. A special act of Legislature having been necessary to permit her appointment.

DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The first meeting in 1953 of the board of Winchester District Nursing Association was held in the town hall Friday, February 13, with nineteen members present. The chairman of three of the committees found that due to personal circumstances they would be unable to serve. Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth was elected to replace Mrs. Carrick Kennedy as chairman of the finance committee; Mrs. James B. Willing to replace Mrs. Joseph Tansey as chairman of the education committee; and Mrs. Stuart Martin to replace Mrs. Milne Blanchard as chairman of the public relations committee.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read. Mrs. Wiklund, the executive director, gave a most interesting account of her month's activities, which included a lecture on "Health" to Girl Scout Troop No. 41 and attendance with Miss Peterson at a seminar on multiple sclerosis at the Massachusetts General Hospital. She expressed her appreciation of the new Autoclave, a gift of En-Ka, which is proving to be a great help and timesaver to the nurses.

The resignation of Miss Elizabeth Tolon, who has been with the W.D.N.A. for a year, was accepted with regret.

For the benefit of the new members of the board the March meeting will be held at the District headquarters, 540 Main street. Mrs. Wiklund will explain in detail the mechanics and physical set-up necessary to back up the work of the District Nurses.

BRIEF TRIP!

Jim Halwartz, superintendent of the Water and Sewer Department, had kind of a short vacation in Florida, leaving last Friday for the land of grapefruit and sunshine and being back in Winchester the first of this week.

This wasn't according to premeditation, not at all. Jim and his wife left town with the idea of spending several weeks at Hollywood Beach with their daughter, who makes her home there.

However, things didn't work out like the script called for. Mrs. Halwartz having the misfortune to break her ankle when she and her husband had reached Elton, Md. There didn't seem to be anything to do other than backtrack to Winchester, which they did Sunday.

Mrs. Halwartz is now in the Winchester Hospital and could do with a spot of sympathy, things being what they are, — and have been!

ENGAGEMENT

CHARLES E. HOWE
for Assessor

Dear Voter:

In presenting my name for your consideration as an Assessor, I am motivated by a sincere desire to serve the town in which I have lived for more than twenty-three years.

I am not in the real estate business in Winchester, although my past experience in this field has been comprehensive as indicated in my qualifications. At present I am the owner and operator of the Winslow Press at 11 Common Street, Winchester.

If elected, I can give all the time required to serve as an Assessor in appraising the real estate values of the town without prejudice or favor and establish impartial values for all our people on a basis which would be fair and equitable.

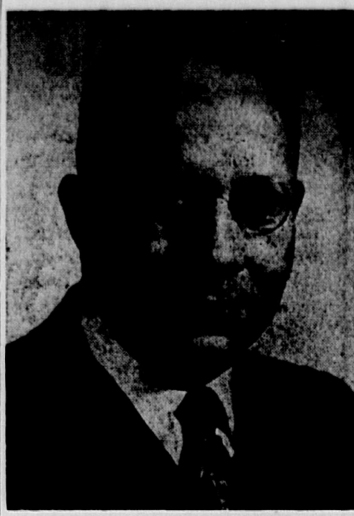

I am pleased to present the following business experience which I believe qualifies my candidacy, and I respectfully ask for your support at the polls.

1. Built nearly 200 single and 2-family houses in Arlington
2. Operated eight Real Estate and Insurance Offices in Arlington, Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, Lexington, Newton, Somerville and Winthrop.
3. Lectured at Boston University for several years on Real Estate.
4. Past Chairman of Brokers' Board of Boston Real Estate Exchange.
5. Appraisal work for Town of Arlington, banks and individuals. Court work as a Real Estate Expert.
6. Managed five large apartment buildings in Boston and Suburbs for Straus Investment Co. of New York.
7. Developed Allen Homestead in Arlington (300 lots).
8. Developed Allen Farm in Arlington (250 lots).
9. Insurance Broker since 1917.
10. Operates Winslow Press, Printers and Stationers, at 11 Common Street, Winchester.
11. Winchester resident for 23 years.
12. Had charge of the Air Raid Observation Tower personnel during World War II. Also had charge of Men Volunteers of Mass. Memorial Hospital, Boston.
13. Election warden for Precinct 5 in Winchester.
14. Member of the Winchester Rotary Club.

FOR SELECTMAN

LEWIS L. WADSWORTH, JR.

To the Voters of Winchester:

The undersigned group of interested citizens (none of whom is a lawyer) urge the election of Lewis L. Wadsworth, Jr., to the Board of Selectmen.

We feel that the presence of a lawyer on the Board supplements the varied backgrounds of the other members. He brings to the Board professional training in careful analysis and accuracy of expression. A lawyer on the Board also recognizes those problems having potential legal significance so that an opinion of the Town Counsel may be sought where advisable. Unless Mr. Wadsworth is elected there will be no lawyer among the five members of the Board.

Needless to say Lew Wadsworth merits your support for a number of other reasons. He is a veteran of four years' service in World War II, rising from private to major. A life-long resident of Winchester, he has served our Town as a Town Meeting Member and is now a member of the Town By-Law Committee. We believe him well qualified from the standpoint of age (he is 44) and experience (twenty years a practicing lawyer).

There are two vacancies to be filled. We recommend the election of Lewis L. Wadsworth, Jr., to one of the two vacancies on the Board.

FOR SELECTMAN

KENNETH S. HALL

Voters of Winchester:

Kenneth S. Hall of 12 Winslow road is a candidate for Selectman at the election on March 2.

First of all, Mr. Hall has had business experience that should prove valuable to a Selectman. Previous to his retirement last year he was for nearly twenty years with Esso Standard Oil Company in the accounting department in a supervisory and executive position. His last five years he was a "marketing cost analyst," doing statistical work and acting as contact man with the operation department, thereby gaining a good knowledge of the operations of a multi-million dollar business.

Next, and this is important, he has the time to devote to the ever increasing duties of Selectman. No man, however able, can make much of a contribution to the town as Selectman if he does not have the time necessary to give to the office.

Mr. Hall was born in Newtonville in 1891, educated at Worcester Classical High School and Brown University, and has lived in Winchester for more than 30 years. He and Mrs. Hall have been active civically and have brought up four daughters who have graduated from our schools.

Mr. Hall served on the town committee for the survey of public school accommodations in 1941 and was a town meeting member from 1942 to 1948. His interest in youth is evidenced by the fact that for 20 years he has served as secretary of the Boy Scout Board of Review, he is the present "players agent" of the Winchester Little League, he has been active in furthering Junior Legion baseball in Winchester, and as founder and chairman of the high school football transportation committee, he has been for 11 years responsible for providing transportation for our high school football players at all out-of-town games.

During World War I Mr. Hall won a commission as 2nd lieutenant at Plattsburg and served 14 months overseas with the 158th Aero Squadron. He has served as commander of, and has been always very active in the affairs of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion. He is treasurer of the Unitarian Church and a member of the Winchester Boat Club.

Mr. Hall would like to serve the town as Selectman. Those close to him know that if elected, he will give faithful, impartial competent service in the office. They are urging your careful consideration of his candidacy on this basis.

JOHN C. WAKEFIELD

Fellow citizens:

Yielding to the wishes of many friends and without political background or ambition I offer myself as candidate for your selectman. My 30 years of responsible business experience will help me do a good job. Also I have a very healthy respect for the taxpayers pocket-book and plenty of "DRIVE".

While my activities have been concentrated in the Highlands district I have always been for what I thought was best for Winchester as a whole. As a proud dad of five children I am vitally interested in schools, recreation and safety.

Elsewhere in this paper you will find a long listing of what I believe is good for Winchester and which I shall work for whether in the Selectman's office or not.

I am grateful indeed to the many people in all parts of Winchester who endorse and work for my election.

To all candidates for all offices, win or lose, I offer my congratulations. First for their willingness to serve and for their gentlemanly conduct of the contest.

SARACO FOR ASSESSOR

Voters of Winchester:

I wish to announce my candidacy for the office of Assessor at the coming March election.

I believe, as many people do, that any governing body, board or committee should be made up of people from all walks in life, regardless of race, creed or religion. Only through a board made up of various types of people can all problems be met and dealt with fairly and honestly.

On the Board of Assessors there should be at least one who can voice his opinion, not as a builder or real estate man, but as an impartial individual, a man with no business or professional connections that might possibly hamper him in rendering honest decisions. There are two excellent men on the present Board of Assessors. Let us be fair to them by adding to their Board one who is neither a business nor a professional man.

I am a lathe operator with the Massachusetts Gear and Tool Company in Woburn, am married, have four children and own my own home. I am a veteran of World War II with over five years active duty, seeing action with the Burma Raiders (Commandos) as a staff sergeant in China, Burma and India. I was recalled to the service in 1951 as a second lieutenant.

I can truthfully say, if I am elected to the Board of Assessors in March, I will give the people of Winchester my best!

I know Winchester and the people in our town. I would like to serve them as Assessor, promising to give careful consideration to all available facts in an effort to arrive at fair and honest decisions. Soliciting your vote on these grounds, and thanking you for any consideration you may give my candidacy.

WINCHESTER SCHOOL COMMITTEE

SARA C. WOODWARD

I am a candidate for re-election to the Winchester School Committee.

I attended public schools, Harcourt School in Gampier, Ohio, and Mt. Holyoke College. I was for seven years in charge of public relations for the National Economy League.

I have lived in Winchester fifteen years, and have been a Town Meeting member for ten years, serving on special committees of the Town during that time. I have been a member of the School Committee for three years.

Two of my children attend the Winchester Schools, one will enter in 1955. I have consistently worked for increased understanding between parents and teachers.

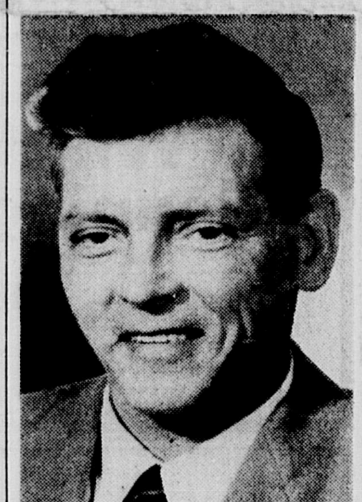

On the School Committee I have served on the Industrial Arts subcommittee and for the past year on the Washington Building Committee. I have attended dozens of meetings on school affairs, visited schools in our neighboring systems, and have studied ways and means of improving the educational opportunities we offer our children. I am always available to any one who wishes to reach me on school problems.

The schools belong to the community and must reflect the needs of all the community. Better schools make better communities. We must all work together to meet our needs.

May I continue to serve you?

CANDIDATE FOR ASSESSOR

WILLIAM S. WOLSEY

Voters of Winchester:

In announcing my candidacy for the office of Assessor I would like to acquaint you with a few facts about myself, and my qualifications. I have been a resident of Winchester for the past eight years. I am a married man with three children, a taxpayer, and have had my own business in town for these past eight years.

I feel qualified for the office of Assessor for the following reasons. 1. I have been in banking and the mortgage business for the past twelve years.

2. I have been in the building business, for myself, for the past eight years.

3. I have been in the building business altogether for fifteen years. If elected I would go into office with plenty of experience behind me, and also an open mind.

FOR ASSESSOR

CAPTAIN RICHARD M. RUSH

To Winchester Voters:

As a candidate for Assessor I submit the following to show that I am

Qualified by Civic Record:
Resident and taxpayer since 1929.
Four children raised and educated in Winchester.

Twelve years service to Winchester boys — from Scoutmaster to Chairman of Winchester District, B. S. A.

While still active in Navy service, a public spokesman for good civic projects and for fair practices toward all employees of the Town. Town Meeting Member since 1947. Former Member of the School Committee.

Member of J. H. S. Addition Building Committee.

Qualified by National Service:
Veteran of World War I and World War II. Thirty-two years service in U. S. Navy. Special Commendation Award from Sec. of Navy.

Qualified by Education:
Honor graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy. M. S. degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Special student at Harvard. Former instructor at U.S.N.A. and Tufts. Former special lecturer in naval architecture at M. I. T.

Qualified in Administration:
Over twenty years experience as design and construction executive in industrial Navy Yards.

Service as Inspector of Naval Material, Boston, responsible for inspection on New England contracts totalling over 100 million dollars for materials ranging from shoelaces to main propulsion gears.

Service as Production Officer of the Boston Naval Shipyard in charge of all engineering and manufacturing shops and of all ship repairs and new construction with a working force of 42,000. Qualified by Business Experience:
Over five years experience in real estate sales and appraisals in Winchester and nearby towns and cities.

If elected to the office of Assessor I pledge honest industry in the task, jealous regard for the good of Winchester and fairness to every taxpayer.

Respectfully,

FOR SELECTMAN

THOMAS F. FALLON

Voters of Winchester:

In submitting for your consideration the candidacy of Thomas F. Fallon for the office of Selectman at the March election we wish to remind you that he is well acquainted with the town and the various departments of its town government, he having served two terms as Selectman and 18 years as Town Meeting Member. If elected, he will give the problems that arise in connection with the transaction of town business his whole-hearted consideration, keeping always in mind the solution of these problems the best interests of the entire town.

Mr. Fallon has lived most of his life in Winchester, and, for 28 years until his retirement six years ago, he was a member of the large local milk concern which still bears his name and is now successfully conducted by his two brothers. He has worked for the civic and social improvement of the community as a member of many fraternal and charitable organizations.

As a home-owner and tax-payer Mr. Fallon will do all in his power to hold down the tax rate and current town expenses. If elected, he will ask for cooperation and economy from all town departments with the view to keeping within the debt limit in the future.

Because of his training and experience the undersigned heartily endorse Thomas F. Fallon for Selectman and urge your support of his candidacy at the election March 2.

Films and Music at the Library
You are cordially invited to hear the recorded music programs at the library every week on Wednesday at 3:00 p. m., and again at 7:30 p. m. An hour of relaxation may be especially welcome at this busy time of year.

The music program for next week, Wednesday, March 4, will be: The Skaters Waltz—Waldteufel; Symphony No. 1 in C "Jupiter"—Mozart; Concerto in A minor (First Movement)—Schumann; Leonore Overture No. 3—Beethoven; Serenade in C (Third and Fourth Movements)—Tchaikovsky.

The imaginary trip around the world by means of films will continue this week, Friday evening and Saturday morning, with the showing of the film "Magicians of India." Additional films to be shown this week will be: "Winter Sports," "Airlift to Berlin," and "The Movie Zoo." Your attention is called to the film "Airlift to Berlin." We have waited some time to get this film which will show how food and other supplies were flown into Berlin when the Russians stopped all other means of transportation. Time of film programs: Family Night—Friday, 7:30 p. m. Saturday morning program for elementary school age children, 10:15.

COLLEGE CLUB

The third meeting of the College Club morning study group on Thrifty Time-Saving Tactics will be held on Wednesday, March 4, at 9:45 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Donald Birchall, 5 Birch Lane. Morning coffee will be served by Mrs. Robert Swanson. Mrs. John Harrison will be the discussion leader for the day and will introduce Mr. Charles Arthur of the Boston Paint & Varnish Company to speak about the use of color and about various types of paints and their application.

On Wednesday, February 18, the morning study group learned about using the more inexpensive cuts of meat and fish. Presented by Mr. Sherman of the meat department of the Winchester First National Store and by Gretchen McMullen, economist of the First National Store, the talk featured hints for cooking these economical cuts, illustrated by meats furnished by the Winchester First National Store.

Charles H. McLaughlin, 1 Robinson park, has been reappointed as a Notary Public, it was announced today by Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

REV. EWALD MAND TO SPEAK

The Women's Association of the First Congregational Church will have a special evening meeting on Tuesday, March 3rd, at 7:30, in Chidley Hall to which the members and guests are cordially invited. The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. Ewald Mand, clergyman, lecturer and novelist, whose subject will be "Life Behind the Iron Curtain," the story of how an average family lived in and escaped from a Russian-occupied country.

Ewald Mand, a well-known Estonian clergyman and novelist, studied in America and returned to his native country. He was professor of the Old Testament in the Estonian Baptist Theological Seminary when the school was closed by the Russians. During the German and Russian occupations of his country, he was avoiding arrests, living underground and imprisoned. He escaped finally to Sweden in a small sailing yacht. For a time he served on the faculty of the Andover Newton Theological School and is now minister of the First Baptist Church of Rockport. He is in great demand as a lecturer. His novels have been translated into several European languages. The worship service will be conducted by Mrs. Ruth E. Hilt. The Business and Professional Women's Guild and the Junior Mrs. Guild will act as hostesses at the coffee hour preceding the meeting.

The members of the Women's Association are looking forward to an interesting evening and it is hoped that a large group will be present to hear this entertaining and inspiring speaker on such a timely subject.

MET IN HEIDELBERG

In a recent letter to the Star Pvt. Joseph B. Santo, a Winchester boy with the United States forces in Germany, writes of his pleasure at meeting recently another Winchester boy, Bill Knight, who had been in Germany only a few weeks when the meeting took place.

Santo was eating in the army messhall in Heidelberg when he noticed Knight eating at another table. He knew he had seen Knight somewhere but wasn't sure where, so he went over to his table and found the newcomer was from the "old home town."

The two chatted for quite a while. Knight was the first person from Winchester he had seen since he went overseas and he tells the Star the experience was a great one!

A good attendance showed much interest in the work. The speaker, Mrs. Norske, told of her work for the American Humane Education Society, going about to public schools and giving talks about animals and teaching kindness. The eager response of the children well repays the effort expended.

There are a series of period lessons adapted for fifth grades, which is the age group most interested. In teaching kindness to animals, care and respect for all life is emphasized. It is to be hoped that this work can be expanded. Mrs. Norske told us many interesting stories of her experiences in various towns.

After the meeting a very delicious tea was served by our hostess, Mrs. Reed.

HOLLAND, THEME OF MYSTIC SCHOOL PAGEANT

"A Dolly's Dream of Holland" was the title of a colorful pageant presented by the pupils of Miss Jurgenson's Grade IV to an appreciative audience of schoolmates and parents on January 30. The assembly program was an outgrowth of a study unit on Holland, during which the youngsters wrote stories, and painted pictures and murals to describe the how people live, work, and play in Holland.

When the work of the unit was completed, the children and their teacher utilized the materials as part of the pageant. The entire class, dressed in striking Dutch costumes, took part in the program.

ENTERTAINED IN SOUTH

Mrs. Arthur Belleville, who is staying at The White Caps, North Redington Beach, Fla., entertained at luncheon Thursday, February 19, her guests including her brother, Frank McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Holbrook, Dr. and Mrs. Lester Pratt, Mrs. Harry T. Winn, all of Winchester; also Mr. and Mrs. Wallace George of Peterborough, N. H.; and Mr. and Mrs. Almon Richardson of Antrim, N. H., and Lakeland, Fla., formerly of this town. It was 77 degrees at Redington Beach the day of the luncheon.

WOBURN HERE TONIGHT

Winchester High plays Woburn High at the high school gym tonight in the first game of their annual two-game series. This promises to be the best series of recent years as Woburn has compiled a good record while improving steadily over the season. In addition to finishing second in the Northeastern Conference, the Tanners have won eight of their last nine games.

As a result, interest is high in Woburn and the Orange and Black is definitely upset-minded. Winchester will be favored on their home court but will have to put out one of their better efforts to overcome the Woburn threat. A capacity crowd is anticipated for the series which will be concluded next Friday night at the Woburn High gym.

CROWN KING AND QUEEN

Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Fisher of 6 Bacon street crowned the students selected to be king and queen at the traditional Sweetheart Ball of Fisher Junior College in Boston.

Mr. Fisher is a dean at Fisher and also has charge of the guidance and placement service at the popular secretarial training school which is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year.

Two Brookline young people, Hubert Meehan and Margaret MacPherson, were the king and queen.

INDIANS IN N. H. WIN

Winchester High traveled to Conway, N. H., last Saturday to defeat Kennett High 57-43 in the feature attraction of their Annual Winter Carnival. This is the fifth year that the Indians have appeared at Conway to highlight their carnival program and, once again, it was a wonderful experience for the basketball and cheerleading squads that made the trip.

The game was fast and well played with the result in doubt until the final quarter even though Winchester held the lead all the way. The game opened on a fast tempo as the locals pushed ahead 18-13 at the end of the first quarter and increased their lead to 31-19 at the half. Kennett outscored the Indians by a basket in the third quarter but the Indians carried a 42-32 lead in the final period. Winchester finished strongly in the final period to outscore Kennett by four points to squelch any Conway ideas of a last period rally.

Co-captain Stu Thomson was the outstanding performer on the floor as he played his best game of the season. He scored 20 points to carry the brunt of the Winchester offense while holding Kennett's high scorer for the season, to a solitary basket. His scoring was well divided throughout the game as he scored two of his eight baskets in each of the four periods while in addition, leading the team in assists with five. The Indians rebounded well again, especially defensively, with Norman Howard leading in defensive rebounds and Joe Dilorio in offensive rebounds with five.

INDIANS TOPPED LEXINGTON

Winchester High completed its Middlesex League schedule with a very satisfying 54-49 victory over Lexington High at Lexington last Friday night. Over the first three quarters of the game the Indians played excellent basketball in rolling up a 15-point lead over a well-balanced Lexington quintet. In the final quarter, however, the Indians offense bogged down as the Minutemen staged a terrific rally to cut the Winchester margin to three points in the last minute of play.

The entire first half was close as both teams played excellent ball. Winchester held a 14-12 lead at the end of the first quarter which was increased to 29-24 at the half. The Indians had a good third quarter as they outscored Lexington by 10 points to take a 46-31 lead at the three-quarter mark. The Minutemen kept battling, however, and suddenly began to hit from all over the court as they dropped in nine baskets in fifteen attempts to quickly cut the Winchester lead. Key baskets by Neil Muncaster and John Atkinson pulled the Indians through, however, as they had a 3-point lead at the final gun which Pratt chipped in with two important baskets in the second quarter when the going was tough. The Indians turned in one of their most effective rebounding performances of the season with 17 offensive and 40 defensive rebounds. Norman Howard collected 5 offensive and 14 defensive rebounds and Neil Muncaster had 7 offensive and 10 defensive rebounds to lead the way in this vital department. Co-captain Stu Thomson turned in an excellent floor performance with 13 points, a total of 9 rebounds, and five assists for baskets to pace the team in that important function.

The Indians won the game from the free throw line as they made good on 16 of 28 free throws while Lexington could collect on only 5 out of 18 charity tosses.

The Winchester Seconds won their seventh straight victory of the season in defeating the Lexington Seconds 45-37. The locals trailed by three points at the end of the first quarter but had a good second quarter to lead by a close margin the rest of the game. The scoring was well distributed with only Peter Gove getting double figures with 10 points while Charlie Stevens tossed in 9 important tallies.

WINCHESTER OVER BRAINTREE

Winchester High won its seventeenth game of the season by defeating Braintree High 56-48 at Braintree on Tuesday night. The locals were not at their sharpest in this contest that was marred by excessive fouling, with the Indians doing most of their fouling in the final period when they should have been just protecting a comfortable lead. The two middle periods provided the Red and Black with their winning margin as they outscored Braintree 28-15 over these two quarters.

The first quarter was close and well played as the teams battled to a 13-13 tie. The Indians gained five points on good foul shooting in the second quarter to lead 26-21 at the half. The Red and Black put together a good third quarter as Stu Thomson and John Atkinson paced them to a comfortable 41-28 lead at the three-quarter mark. For some strange reason the Indians started racing around and making numerous careless fouls in the final period to enable Braintree to gain five points in this final session. Braintree had collected only eight points on free throws over the first three quarters but scored 14 points from the foul line in the last period as the Indians failed to settle down and concentrate on controlling the ball.

For the second successive game co-captain Stu Thomson spearheaded the Winchester attack, scoring 17 points before fouling out early in the final period. He also played good defensive ball in limiting Braintree's high scorer, McInnis, to just eight points. Neil Muncaster was the leading rebounder for the Indians but was having hard luck with his shooting. John Atkinson turned in a good floor performance, leading in assists with five, while Norman Howard came through with nine points in the hectic final period to keep the Indians from falling apart. The Winchester Seconds remained undefeated as they trimmed the Braintree Seconds 57-32. The Seconds ran their offense very well to get a nice distribution of the scoring with Bucky Morgan and Jim Wright topping the scorers with 12 points apiece.

COUPLES' CLUB

TO HAVE SPEAKER

Professor Charles McConnell will speak to the members of the Crawford Memorial Couples' Club at their next meeting on Tuesday evening, March 3rd, at 8:00 p. m. The usual preliminary get-together will be at 6:30 p. m. with a planned supper at 7 o'clock. Mr. McConnell has been called "A typical Will Rogers" in style. His talk is in a humorous vein with a good bit of common horse-sense intermingled with it. All members and friends are welcome to come and enjoy the meeting.

Plans are going rapidly forward for the Spring Formal at the Bear Hill Country Club on Friday, April 10th. Dancing will be from 8 to 10 p. m. with music by Frank Phoenix and his orchestra. Reservations are now being taken.

LINCOLN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

While enjoying coffee and delicious sugar rolls on Thursday, February 19, at the home of President Mrs. John J. Flaherty, Miss Cunningham and members of the executive board talked over coming activities at the Lincoln School.

The next association meeting will be held Wednesday, March 11th, at three o'clock.

Plans for a party in May for the children were discussed. Mrs. Flaherty reported on a number of meetings she has attended with Dr. Norris. She described a talk given the preceding day about the advantages of a parent-teacher association.

The Junior High group is carrying on a "know your town" program. Chief Callahan will tell about his department, how it operates at fires and discuss ways to prevent fires. He will also tell about the civil defense drill to be carried out Sunday afternoon.

A refreshment and recreation period will follow the discussion.

IN RIFLE MATCH

Scott Cunningham, a freshman at Ohio Wesleyan University and pledge of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, has been selected as one of ten students to represent the school in an AROTC rifle match with the University of Miami in Miami, Florida.

Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross M. Cunningham of 22 Jefferson road. Not only an outstanding rifleman, he has also been active in several music organizations.

Space last week forbade enlarging upon the statement that the Board of Selectmen has ordered a real crackdown by the police on speeders and reckless drivers of motor cars around town. The Selectmen did just decide to issue this order all at once. The Board received many complaints from all over town about the careless, often reckless, and increasingly speedy operation of motor vehicles on our streets. The Board is hoping that action will be sufficiently preventive to obviate a fatal accident, and is also hoping that the residents of the town will cooperate in the operation of their automobiles so that punitive action on the part of the Police Department will not be necessary. The Board's orders to the Police, however, admit of no ambiguities. They are to enforce the letter of the motor vehicle laws in uniform or out of uniform, and they are to show no mercy to reckless or speeding drivers. The Selectmen aim to have Winchester a town in which motor vehicles are driven sanely. None can quarrel with this idea.

Brief mention only was made last week of the 75th birthday anniversary celebration of Mabel W. Stinson, Winchester's efficient and popular town clerk for well over 30 years. It was not that we wanted to scamp Miss Stinson's birthday, it was just that the whole business was kept so quiet we didn't know anything about it until just before our deadline Thursday afternoon. As it was we had to leave matter out to get what we did get, and we had to delete the Star's own personal congratulations and best wishes to a public official, on whom we have often had to depend, and who never, through the years, have we found wanting, either in exact information on town affairs or willingness to make her wealth of knowledge available cheerfully. Miss Stinson, a lifelong resident, with a business knowledge of the town before entering the town's service in 1907, knows Winchester and its people as do very few, if any, now living in the community. Town Clerk by special act of Legislature since 1920, she has served with distinction in this important office and is known far and wide in official circles as one of the best town clerks in Massachusetts. This high appraisal is one in which the citizens of Winchester emphatically concur. Year in and year out during the 33 years she has served as town clerk they have returned Miss Stinson to office without opposition. (George Brynner, Center of the Selectmen did well by the town when they made Mabel Stinson Town Clerk. The Star is among the many friends who hope her years in office may stretch ahead indefinitely.)

DANGEROUS RADIO DOCTORING

Editor of the Star:
"One may have acid indigestion anytime, anywhere. Take our mint tablets for it," said the radio broadcaster.

"Acid indigestion" is not a disease; it is a symptom of some underlying disease, often a very serious one. The alkaline treatment is a placebo and may hide some condition needing immediate treatment. Wise and efficient treatment of any malady depends upon an accurate diagnosis. No treatment should be instituted until one is made by a reputable physician or a diagnostic clinic.

Our people are exploited by commercial medical radio broadcasters of a type of medicine-men who sell their wares to the gullible visitors at a country fair.

A woman suffered with "acid indigestion" for years. She never traveled without a bottle of soda mint tablets. She kept a cup of bicarbonate of soda on her bedside table. At last she consulted a physician who referred her to the Lachy Clinic for diagnosis, where it was found she had a chronic abdominal disease and an ulcer of the esophagus near the stomach. While on a summer vacation, she died of a hemorrhage from the ulcer. She was a victim of neglected early diagnosis and treatment.

Aspirin is a trade name for acetylsalicylic acid. "If you have a cold, take two aspirin tablets and repeat the dose," says the radio broadcaster. "Our aspirin tablets are the best of any for children; they taste so good."

On January 8 the Boston Herald published an A. P. dispatch under the heading, "Pills Kill Girl in Peterboro." The dispatch stated: "Two-year old Linda E. Stacy died at Peterboro Hospital today, evidently of an overdose of aspirin, because of pills missing from a bottle in the girl's home."

The January 10 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine reports two deaths from acetylsalicylic acid (aspirin) and one from Anacin. A children's hospital reported three deaths from aspirin one year ago. A broadcaster was heard to say, "Aspirin is harmless."

A man was told he had a cigarette cough. He said his father had the same kind of cough. He took various placebos, cough medicine that "tasted like candy in a spoon." Finally he consulted a physician who found his cough was due to tuberculosis of the right lung. He was sent to a sanitarium in New York.

Medicine in tablet or pill form, kept in closets accessible to little children, should not be sugar coated, made pleasant to taste like "candy in a spoon." A father was attracted by the screaming of his little child. He found the child had opened a bottle of uncoated strychnine tablets. The bitter taste of one made him cry and prevented him from taking more; that saved his life, with the help of physicians who were hastily summoned. The same week, a child in an adjoining town was killed by eating sugared strychnine tablets that "tasted like candy."

The writer has found that the advertising claims of some of the common remedies are exaggerated, misleading, and distorted. Overdoses of some of these "harmless remedies" have proved fatal. One should not be satisfied with the mere relief of symptoms until all means of diagnosis have been used to determine the cause of them.

One seeking to become a regular physician and engage in the practice of medicine must first qualify before a State Examining Board and be licensed. His prescriptions must be countersigned by a registered pharmacist and are open to inspection. This is the patient safeguarded by law. Should not these same medicine men, who prescribe promiscuously for the unseen and unknown, be acted upon by elusory symptoms, be likewise examined and compelled to qualify by registration?

DON'T DEFER ARTICLE 49!

Editor of the Star:
It is hoped by this time that every citizen has digested both the Warrant for Town Meeting and the Town Report and realize what the different departments are recommending for action by the Town Meeting, all of which, for the most part will take money.

The Finance Committee, however, seems to have recommended deferring action to compete in investigation, on thirty-seven articles. This action, no doubt, may be wise since many articles call for appropriations. One of the articles (recommended deferred, pending completion of investigation) is Article 49. It is hoped that the Town Meeting will not vote to defer action on this article, but approve, since both departments included in the article are important and require immediate action. I understand there is an unexpended balance of a previous appropriation that could be used for the study.

Such a study could well prove that the proposed traffic by-pass over the Skillings lot will show why the absurd proposal to elevate the railroad tracks is unnecessary, and if the by-pass plan is carried out, will cost less than one third to the State and the Town. Even though the Town Meeting has approved the plan to raise the railroad, it is no reason why it should not change its mind, like a great many citizens have who voted "Yes!" on the Referendum, and if a vote were held as of today would vote "No!" for they realize that they were ill-informed by the proponents.

It will be seen by referring to the report of the Planning Board (Page 276 Paragraph 16) that traffic reports by the State Public Works Department seem to justify the building of the road through the Skillings lot; however, the Planning Board thinks it may not be justified because of a proposed diversion of traffic over some expressway, (not yet built by the State) and certain proposed roads leading from Johnson road to Cross street which the Board recommends building at a future date.

It would seem that the Planning Board now realizes that there is a traffic problem at the Center of Town which the lifting of the railroad does not cure, but they do not seem to care that the cost of this elevated railway project alone will cost the taxpayers of the State of Massachusetts well over the estimate of $4,000,000.00; let alone having the center ripped apart for at least two years.

Article 49 of the Warrant might well solve the question.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO CHECK

Editor of the Star:
The following notice has been sent to all candidates for Town office, where there is a contest:

"In the interest of getting out the vote at Town elections, the League of Women Voters will check at the polls Monday, March 2, from the opening of the polls at 7:00 a. m. until 3:00 p. m. These check lists will be available to ALL CANDIDATES.

The check sheets will be removed 8:00 and 11:45 a. m., 1:30 and 3:00 p. m. They will be taken to the Red Cross First Aid Room, where they will be available to ALL CANDIDATES until 5:00 p. m. The First Aid Room is located in the basement of the Town Hall opposite the Civil Defense Office, with an outside entrance from the driveway on the west, by the pond.

The League itself is doing no telephoning and offering no transportation.

We hope the check lists will prove to be a service to ALL CANDIDATES, and that this arrangement will meet with their approval. If there are any questions, please call Mrs. William E. Spaulding, Winchester 6-0025.

Sincerely yours,
Katherine S. Rotondi

GRATEFUL!

S. Nikolaus Kinderheim
Landstuhl, Heidelberg Germany

February 17, 1953

Editor of the Star:
I wish to acknowledge the receipt of many letters from the citizens of Winchester in response to my appeal on behalf of the orphanage at St. Nikolaus Kinderheim (orphanage). Among the many letters were six from the young cub scouts Larry and John Harrington, George Keane, Donald Nadeau, Pete Walsh and Tom Dasebach all of Den 4, Pack 12 of Winchester. Of all the letters received I was most moved by these little notes telling me of their support and what they are going to do for the children. This is certainly a manifestation of their mission as a cub scout.

Also, just yesterday, February 16, I received a letter from Fr. Manion of St. Mary's Church, and to my very great astonishment, a check for $300.00 contributed by the members of that church for the orphanage.

My sincere gratitude and thanks on behalf of the orphanage to these young American scouts, the people of St. Mary's Parish and to all others who have responded to this plea. Surely such a magnificent response reflects the benevolence which is inherent in the citizens of Winchester and the American people as a whole.

May God bless and keep each and every one of you for your kindness and thoughtfulness.

Sincerely,

MRS KENNETH B. TOYE

COMMENDED

The Army and Air Force Recruiting Station at 49 High Street, Medford Square, received a commendation from the Recruiting Officer, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting and Induction Main Station, 175 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., to be forwarded to Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, 91 Mystic Lake Parkway, Winchester, which reads as follows:

Dear Mrs. Toye:
I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation for the years of faithful and loyal service you have devoted to the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service, as chairman of the Winchester Military Manpower Commission.

Your assistance has been far beyond the call of duty, and your willingness to cooperate at all times has been indicative of a person endowed with a high sense of patriotism.

If we were to try to enumerate the countless times you have placed the benefit of the Armed Services ahead of your personal welfare, I am afraid we would get lost in a maze of incidents too numerous to mention.

Let it suffice to say that we are all deeply grateful for your extremely capable assistance in the past, and we hope for a continued pleasant relationship in the future.

Sincerely yours,
Kenneth B. Benoit

Asst. Rtg. Officer

BAPTIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The First Baptist Senior Youth Fellowship will meet Sunday evening, March 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Allen, 11 Swanton street. As a part of the evening's program the young people will discuss the organizing of their work on the commission plan. According to this plan, the young people are divided into commissions, each emphasizing some phase of the work carried on by their organization. Worship, programming and fellowship will be among the major objectives.

This is the generally accepted plan of the Baptist Denomination for their youth programs and it is expected that the local Youth Fellowship will adopt this plan in part or as a whole.

FAMILY LUNCHEON

Prof. and Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard of Calumet road had a family luncheon party at their home last Saturday with two of their married daughters and their husbands. Ensign and Mrs. Jack Houghton (Sally Ray) motored up from Washington, D. C. for the holiday week-end and were in Winchester for the luncheon Saturday.

Joining them and the Blanchards were Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Inches (Joan Ray) of Wellesley Hills.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION BOARD MEETING

The Central Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association sponsored a meeting for board members and room mothers of all the school chapters of the Mothers' Association on Tuesday, February 17, at 8:00 p. m. in the Wynman School Auditorium. Mrs. Richard Bolster, president of the Central Board, in opening the meeting, explained that following suggestions and questions submitted by parents and teachers as to why Winchester does not belong to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and a suggestion from Dr. Norris at the annual meeting last June that perhaps some time it would be wise to consider joining this state and national group, the Central Board had discussed the matter and recommended that the speaker from the Massachusetts P. T. A. come and present an overall general picture. She stated clearly that there was no pressure group trying to sell the P. T. A. Our mothers' associations are doing a fine job but sometimes it is wise to learn what other groups are doing to better evaluate our own strength and opportunities.

Mrs. Bolster then introduced Mrs. Humphrey Sullivan of Arlington, the secretary of the Massachusetts Parent-Teacher Association.

The P. T. A. was formed by a group of mothers fifty years ago. They soon learned that fathers and teachers were necessary for a strong group. There are now 7,219, 165 national members. 2,300,000 are men—550,000 are teachers and administrators. In Massachusetts there are 715 organized parent-teacher units in the schools, of which 339 have a man as president. Fifteen have a Mr. and Mrs. team as president.

The objects are broad in scope: promoting the welfare of the child in the home and school, and improving the cooperation and understanding between home and school. The policy is non-partisan, non-sectarian and non-political. The P. T. A. does not interfere with the administration of any school, but does work toward the betterment of all schools. The program of the state organization is carried out by a board elected at the annual convention. All serve without pay, save for traveling expenses.

In joining the state and national associations the obligations are:

1. Include in the by-laws the proper name of the association.
2. Each member pays annual dues. The total amount of dues must be determined by the group but of this amount 15 cents goes to the state and 10 cents to the national.
3. Program should be built around the broad objects of the national congress.

The benefits to be received by joining are:

1. Literature published by state and national.
2. Annual state convention.
3. District conferences.
4. Workshops.
5. Constant training and leadership.
6. Guidance, instruction, and inspiration.

There are no requirements as to the number of meetings to be held during the year. Teachers are encouraged to take an active part in the meetings and be on the board.

It is not necessary that all schools in a community join. Private and parochial schools are members in many cities and towns. Winchester would be a member of District 4, which includes Waltham, Arlington, Bedford, Malden, Belmont, Newton, Reading, Somerville, Wellesley, W. Concord, and Woburn.

Mrs. Sullivan was most generous in answering questions from the floor following her talk. She was able to give us all a clearer picture of the part a parent-teacher group can play in a community. The meeting adjourned at 11:15 a. m.

8 O'CLOCK CLUB

ENJOYING ACTIVE SEASON

The Eight O'Clock Club, First Baptist's social organization for young married couples, is currently enjoying the most successful season in its history, under the leadership of Mrs. Mildred Allison as Chairman. Last month, for instance, the Club participated enthusiastically in a bowling match, following which those who were able limped over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith for some welcome refreshments.

Last week, 42 club members and their friends enjoyed an appetizing pot luck supper at the Baptist Church. After Joe Chase and Lewis Foster and their KP squads had cleared away the dishes, the group listened to an extremely interesting and informative talk by Mrs. James Seaver, Public Relations Director of the Children's Medical Center.

Next month, on March 13th, the Eight O'Clock Club will get together again for another evening of fun and fellowship. The program is to be a "surprise" — which is another way of saying "anything can happen". In spite of that, or the fact that the meeting falls on Friday the 13th, it is hoped that any Winchester young married couples who would like to share in the fellowship of this group will plan to participate in the Club's next get-together.

RELEASED FROM ARMY DUTY

Pfc. Frank B. Livingstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy P. Livingstone of 12 Chestnut street, has been released from active duty in the Army of the United States. Mr. Livingstone is a graduate of Harvard University and holds the degree of A. B. in Mathematics. His last duty station was at the Army Chemical Center, Maryland, where he was assigned as Statistician in the Medical Laboratories.

Mr. Livingstone was assigned under the Army's Scientific and Professional Program which classifies and utilizes personnel according to their educational and practical working experience.

EUGENE BERNARD ROTONDI

CANDIDATE FOR WATER AND SEWER BOARD

Voters of Winchester:
Last Wednesday I was called to solve a serious sewerage problem at the Morton problem on Arlington street. The elder Mortons were vacationing in Florida. A health menace was apparent.

This emergency should have been taken care of by the Water and Sewer Board. I contacted the proper persons and stated the case. I was told men were not available.

I then suggested that a "snake" be loaned to me so that I could remedy the situation. I was told I could call several parties connected with the Water and Sewer Department, but to no avail.

The Morton problem was solved, and a serious situation remedied. I called the Water and Sewer Board of the Town of Stoneham. They, without hesitation, loaned me the necessary wire "snake".

I promise you, citizens of Winchester, that there will be no repetition of such an incident if I am elected to the Water and Sewer Board, for the rights, health, safety and welfare of all our Town families is to me of primary importance.

I ask your consideration of my candidacy, and will appreciate your vote at the polls on Monday, March 2.

BART HAYES TO SPEAK HERE

Bart Hayes, Director of the Addison Gallery in Andover will give the gallery talk and analysis of the Paintings in the Modern Art Show which opens on Tuesday, March 3, at the Winchester Public Library Gallery. The evening gathering which will be at eight o'clock is the regular monthly meeting of the Winchester Art Association, and Mr. Hayes talk will once more resume the practice of commenting on the canvases on the opening night.

A popular speaker in Winchester where he has been presented before by both the College Club and the Art Association, Mr. Hayes personally selected certain of the works to be shown in Winchester during the month of March from the foremost painters whose works appeared in the open air show in the Public Gardens in Boston last Spring.

Overview in the glass cabinets will be examples of modern silver by Macefield.

Among the paintings which were loaned through the courtesy of the Margaret Brown Gallery and the Boris Mirsky Gallery with two works of Gouzales the well-known Spanish painter loaned by the Shore Studio, are works of Karl Zerbe, Trefonides, Carl Nelson and Esther Geller as well as many others.

Hostesses for the evening are under the direction of Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood. Mr. Herbert D. Lamson, President of the Association will preside at the meeting, and Mrs. Alexander Samoloff, who is Exhibition Chairman, will introduce the speaker.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kneeland of 99 Willowd street were hosts of a large birthday party in honor of Mrs. Thomas E. Kneeland on Saturday, February 21. Many out-of-town friends along with all their neighbors helped to make the occasion a memorable one. The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and the guests enjoyed an evening of games, music and dancing.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William V. Wallburg of Melrose, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Olsen of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Mettetal of Wellesley, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thayer of Duxbury.

The climax of the evening was a lobster supper topped with a beautifully decorated birthday cake made by Mrs. Louis Stowe, one of Mrs. Kneeland's neighbors.

The party broke up late in the evening with the singing of "Many Happy Returns of the Day" and will be remembered by all who were present as a most enjoyable affair.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Roach of 155 Bartlett road, Winthrop, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Janet C. Roach, to Francis E. Power of Winchester, son of Mr. John G. Power of 11 Fairmount street.

Miss Roach, a graduate of Leslie College, is a teacher at the High-Land School in Winthrop.

Mr. Power is attending Tufts College.

A summer wedding is planned.

CARS COLLIDED ON

HIGHLAND AVENUE

Automobiles driven by Margery R. Sanger of 33 Allen road, and Charles W. Eckhardt of 12 Dalton road, Belmont, were in collision Tuesday afternoon shortly after 4:30 at the junction of Highland avenue and Winthrop street.

According to the police the Sanger car, a Chevrolet sedan, was headed north on Highland avenue, and the Eckhardt car, an Olds sedan, was headed east on Winthrop street.

After the collision the Olds continued along Winthrop street extension until it struck a cement wall, damaging that and the drive-way at the residence of Mr. Frederick Locke, 284 Highland avenue.

No injuries were reported but both the cars were damaged, the Chevrolet being disabled and towed away. The Olds was able to leave the scene under its own power.

"FRENCH" QUARTER OF NEW ORLEANS IS HALF SPANISH

New Orleans' French Quarter is as much Spanish as French; its flamboyant Mardi Gras hides an exceptional devoutness, and its famed Dixieland jazz was born at funerals.

A distinguished Southern author, Harriet T. Kane, reveals these and many other little known facts about her native city in "New Orleans: Jambalaya on the Levee," leading article in the National Geographic Magazine for February.

Treaties of 1762 and 1763, says Mr. Kane, saw Louisiana temporarily "tossed from France to his Hispanic Majesty. The Spaniards then 'clanked in' to impress their architecture and customs, if not their rule, upon the city, including the Vieux Carre itself.

Mardi Gras Pure French
But the Mardi Gras — "Fat Tuesday" — is pure French, the author concedes. Origin of this colorful carnival was probably in pagan rites of spring. The early French settlers brought them from France in a simple form to which have been added the bizarre embellishments that now make the Mardi Gras one of the best known municipal entertainments in the land.

Promptly at midnight as Lent begins, the merry-making ceases. Deeply religious New Orleans then flocks to churches of all faiths. One of them is the triple-spired St. Louis Cathedral, devotional center for Louisiana's Catholic Creoles or descendants of the original French and Spanish inhabitants. It stands on ground occupied by three successive churches since 1718.

Mr. Kane says that the New Orleans jazz which was to spread over the entire country from Basin street was first played by Negro bands marching back from funerals. The result, "swail and pound" comes not alone from African voodoo, he says, but from French and Italian opera, work tunes of the sugar fields, and chant of rice handlers. "Tiger Rag," he notes, probably grew out of a French quadrille.

Duels Were Frequent
Old New Orleans was a hotbed of dueling. A man might die, according to Mr. Kane, merely because he happened to order the same courses commanded by a proud and sensitive diner at a neighboring restaurant table. Fifty academics at a time gave instructions in using sword and pistol.

The city is built on low, flat, Mississippi River delta land. Dikes hold back the mighty stream, while an elaborate pumping system keeps the city from drowning at each rain.

Although the water is a dangerous neighbor, it is also a blessing to the metropolis. New Orleans is a great port, transshipping huge quantities of goods between the heart of America and the world beyond the seas, particularly nearby Latin America. Blocked during the Civil War, the city was struck a blow from which it has recovered in modern times.

Wealth Augmented by Oil
Nowadays its wealth is being increased by oil wells on the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico, and by expansion of such local industries as muskrat trapping, the catching of seafood and the growing of rice and sugar cane.

Despite "glossy statistics," however, New Orleans retains its "identity and its coloration," the author reports. It remains, he says, "a gumbo — a composition of many peoples, many viewpoints, many riches . . . and also, a sum of assorted contradictions."

Mr. Kane's article is illustrated with 38 photographs, 28 in full color. The photographer was Justin Locke of the National Geographic staff.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lemmens of Fletcher street, proprietors of "the lemmons," gift shop on Church street, have been attending the Gift Show in New York this week.

Wednesday testimonial meeting 8 p. m. Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The way of health and holiness, of dominion over fear and sin which Christ Jesus has to teach, will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural texts and correlative passages from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by "Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson-Sermon, entitled "Christ Jesus: The Golden Text tells in the Master's own words of his mission of healing and salvation: "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:17).

Among the selections from Science and Health by Mrs. Eddy the following will be read: "Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing. Christians are under as direct orders now as they were then, to be Christ-like, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick as well as the sinning" (138:17-22).

LOUIS A. MARCHANT

Louis A. Marchant, retail advertising manager of the Boston Record-American-Sunday Advertiser, and a former resident of Winchester, died suddenly Saturday afternoon, February 21, at his home, 95 Clifford street, Melrose.

His death is attributed to a heart attack while he was stricken while watching television at his home after spending the morning at his office. There had been no indication of any illness previous to the attack.

Mr. Marchant was the son of Mrs. Augusta J. (Stinzel) Marchant of Rangely, and the late Alfred H. Marchant, formerly business manager of the Boston Post. He was born May 2, 1894, in Somerville, attending the Somerville schools until he came with his family to Winchester in 1910. At that time he entered Winchester High School as a sophomore in the class of 1913, playing on the baseball team in the spring of 1911.

At the end of his sophomore year, at the age of 16, he left school to go to work for the Boston Post, remaining with this paper until 1942 and working up to the position of retail advertising manager. He had been with the Record-American-Advertiser as retail sales manager since leaving the Post.

During World War I Mr. Marchant served two years in the Army overseas. Upon his return he married Vanessa Blaisdell of Somerville who died in 1937. In 1943 he married Valma Carey, who survives, with a daughter, Mrs. Paul Taylor of New York City. Mr. Marchant's mother, and his three sisters, Mrs. Walter G. O'Neill of Cambridge, and Mrs. Morris B. Kerr and Mrs. Gladys Haven, both of Winchester.

Mr. Marchant was a 32nd Degree Mason, a member of William Park Lodge of Winchester and of Aleppo Temple of the Shrine in Boston. He was also a member of the Boston Advertising Club.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany, where Mr. Marchant had formerly been a member of the choir. Dr. Clement Welsh of Auburndale officiated.

Excuses of the Hearst Boston newspapers served as pallbearers, including Harold G. Kern, publisher; James F. McGaffigan, business manager; E. Earl Hawkes, chief accountant; Ernest Hoftzyer, advertising director; Ralph J. Manthorne and Ralph J. Myers of the advertising department; Henry Young, supervisor of the mechanical division and Frank Dunn, New England representative of the Hearst advertising service.

Also the funeral were Winfield Brooks, editor of the American; Sam Bornstein, editor of the Sunday Advertiser; and James P. Murphy, editor of the Record.

Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery in the Marchant family lot.

EDWARD N. WILLS

Edward N. Wills of Spring Lane, East Pembroke, a native of Winchester, died Thursday, February 19, at his home following an illness of two years.

Mr. Wills was the son of Edward and Margaret (Nicol) Wills. He was born April 26, 1883, in Winchester and grew up in this town, attending the Winchester schools and being graduated from Winchester High School. The family home at that time was on Eaton street.

Mr. Wills spent virtually all of his business life in the wholesale meat business in Boston, being for many years associated with Bachelor & Snyder.

On June 16, 1914, Mr. Wills married Florence Perry of Winchester, who survives him, with a son, James N. Wills of East Pembroke, and two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Clark and Miss Grace T. Wills, both of Winchester.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. MARTHA ERENA SMITH

Mrs. Martha Erena Smith, widow of Charles W. Smith and mother of Mrs. William F. Hickey of 12 Edgemoor hill road, died Monday night, February 23, at the Arnold House in Stoneham, after a long illness.

Mr. Smith was the daughter of John Henry and Martha Mary (Kinsella) Burke. She was born in Portland, Me., but spent most of her married life in Cambridge, coming to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. William F. Hickey, at the death of her husband 30 years ago.

Besides Mrs. Hickey, she leaves five grandchildren, Mrs. John J. Maloney, Miss Martha Hickey, both of Winchester, and Mrs. Dale A. Mettler of Springfield. Mr. Dr. William F. Hickey of Winchester and Thomas Richard Hickey of Concord, also 12 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home, with Requiem high mass celebrated at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Charles A. Andore. Burial was in the Cambridge Cemetery.

MRS. KATE F. LONG

Mrs. Kate F. Long, widow of Perry Phineas Long and mother of Mrs. Rex T. Crandall, who had been making her home with her daughter at 25 Wildwood street, died Monday night, February 23, after a long illness.

Born October 1, 1871, in Batavia, N. Y., Mrs. Long lived for many years in Buffalo, N. Y., where she was for more than 40 years active in the work of the Delaware Avenue Baptist Church.

Besides Mrs. Crandall there are surviving four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

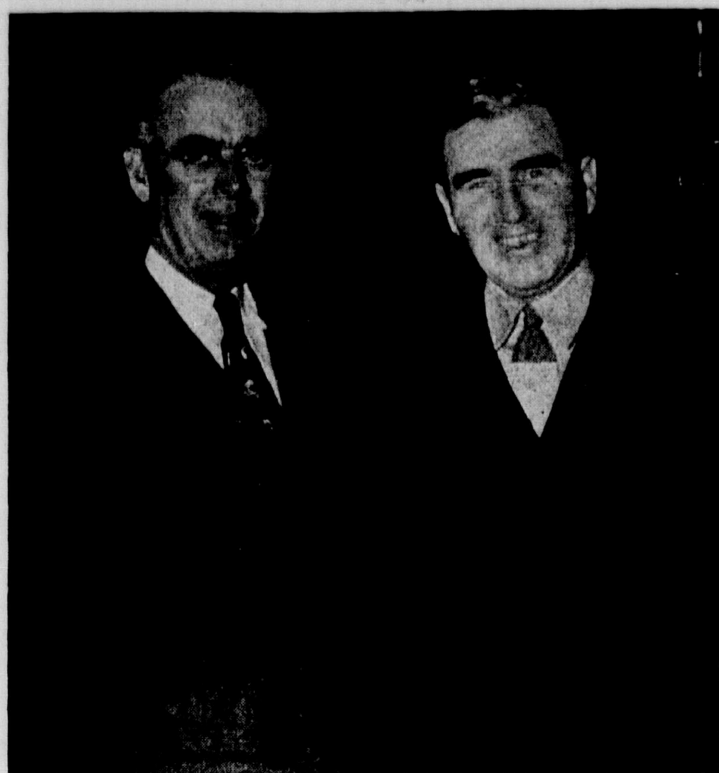

Services were held Thursday in Corfu, N. Y., where the interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

PACK 12 NEWS

Minor injuries are no longer a major calamity to the Cub Scouts of St. Mary's Pack No. 12 after their latest monthly get-together which was held on February 20 at the Lincoln School. A movie entitled "First Aid" followed by Dr. William F. Hickey of Winchester thoroughly acquainted the Cubs with the ABC's of splints, bandages, and tourniquets. No need to worry with a Cub of Pack No. 12 handy.

To those Cubs who have fulfilled the requirements for advancement, Wolf Badger, Thomas Dasbach, John DeCourcy, Daniel Graham, Arthur Hall, Christian Iannaci, Jay Marchant, Alan McDougall, John O'Callaghan, Michael Grimes, William Young.

THE SENIOR FORUM

On Sunday, March 1, the members of the Senior Forum will meet in Ripley Chapel at 9:30 for the first of the series of Lenten services on the over-all theme, "Our Eternal Contemporary", at which Mr. Theodore M. Atkinson, Jr., will be the speaker. The Chaplain will be Robert Johnson, and assisting him will be his brother, Richard Johnson. Acting as deacons will be Richard Schaefer and Erskine Kelley.

Mr. Atkinson, well known among the young people of Winchester as "Ted", was a former Forum President in the year 1943-44. After serving two years in the armed forces, Ted entered Amherst College from which he received his B. A. degree in 1950, and he is now in his third year of preparation for the ministry at Yale Divinity School. As field work to supplement the required class work, Mr. Atkinson had a summer pastorate in Peru, Mass., was youth director at Edgewood Congregational Church in New Haven, served as counselor for a group of Yale freshmen, and directed Vacation Church Schools for the New Haven Council of Churches. He also obtained valuable and interesting experience by working during two summers for the American Friends Service Committee in work camps in North Carolina and Norway, and one summer of internship in industry work in Oregon. Mr. Atkinson has chosen as his topic "Christ as Revelation."

LOCAL SOCIETY TO PRESENT "MADONNA MARY" LECTURE

In keeping with the religious spirit of the Lenten Season, Court Santa Maria No. 150 of the Catholic Daughters of America will present the illustrated lecture "Madonna Mary" by Fr. Joseph P. McCall at Waterfield Hall, Tuesday, March 3rd at 8:15 p. m.

The slide lecture will present Madonna masterpieces from his extensive collections of kodachrome slides, with interesting and amusing comments in prose and poetry in regard to the pictures themselves and their artists.

The lecture is not an art lecture but a showing of unknown and familiar and loved masterpieces from the early Byzantine, through the glorious period of Correggio, Botticelli, Memling, David, Van Eyck, El Greco to the great Raphael, and in contrast, some of the latest of the skilled convert artist, Luke Chen.

Father McCall's personal collection is one of the largest and most varied slide collections, individually owned. He was aided in his collecting and research by the late Fr. Carol Bernhardt, S. J., who at the time of his death was recognized as one of the greatest authorities on the Madonna in Art.

As an added feature for the Lenten presentation, Father McCall will add the slides which show the part Mary shared with her Son in His passion and death.

The Committee is as follows: Margaret Grace, Chairman, Margaret Weffer, Co-Chairman, Mrs. Bess Wilson, Mrs. Catherine O'Brien, Mrs. Anna Notemys, Mrs. Sara Mullen, Mrs. Helen Nowell.

AUXILIARY POLICE NOTES

At their meeting last week, about twenty Auxiliary policemen heard Sgt. Bowler give a most absorbing lecture on "Juvenile Delinquency." This was followed by a spontaneous discussion of this situation, which has become appalling in some areas.

Because the men so enjoyed the coffee which Bob Johnston had served at the previous meeting, it was decided to have it regularly in the future.

The next meeting will be on Thursday, March 5, at 7:30 p. m., and coffee will be served.

REV. RALPH L. GEORGE

ADOPTED BY BAPTISTS

Adopted by the First Baptist Church to serve as its special representative at Iloilo, Philippines, Rev. Ralph L. George comes well qualified to report on conditions in the Far East. On Sunday March 8, he will deliver the morning sermon and address an assembly of the Church School in the First Baptist Church.

Rev. George's responsibilities at Iloilo include Christian education, young people's work, stewardship, and literature. In addition, he serves as Secretary of the Philippine Mission of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society.

Rev. George was born in Pullman, Washington in 1916. Following his graduation from the University of Redlands, he became a social worker in Phoenix, Arizona, and there met Mrs. George, a native of Oklahoma, who had graduated from the Baptist Missionary Training School. After their marriage, they attended the Berkeley Divinity School, and upon graduation worked for three years under the American Baptist Home Mission Society in Oakland and Vallejo, California. Their appointment under the Foreign Mission Society was made in November, 1945.

This is the Georges' first furlough from the Philippines. They arrived in the United States, with their two sons in time to attend the Northern Baptist Convention in Chicago last May.

FUN'S A POPPIN

If you have been hearing a buzzing about the town it probably is the whirl of excitement created by the Winchester Mothers' Association and the Winchester Teachers' Club as they plan an evening of fun and outstanding entertainment on Friday, March 20, 8:30 o'clock, at the High School Auditorium.

Fun's a Poppin, the presentation that evening, will reveal unexpected talents of our teachers and parents.

The show is being promoted by the Ways and Means Committee of the Central Mothers' Association, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph Webster, Jr., for the benefit of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

The committee has been extremely fortunate in getting the assistance and guidance of Mr. Ray V. Hayward, member of the High School faculty, in the direction of the program.

Working with Mrs. Webster on the plans for what should be one of the most enjoyable evenings of the winter season are Mrs. Ronald Wyman, co-chairman, Mrs. Carl Morton, Mrs. Francis Manzie, program chairman; Mrs. William J. O'Malley and Mrs. John E. Hart, ticket chairman; and Mrs. Paul E. Nason, publicity chairman.

WINCHESTER HOMEFRONTERS

A large committee, headed by Mrs. Frank Marshall, Mrs. Alexander DiPietro, and Mrs. Carl Morton, with the precinct chairmen, have put a great deal of time and effort into preparing for our "Food Sale" at Ruthford's next Saturday. (See ad on page 3).

The following are some of the articles to be on sale: rolls, pies, cakes, cookies, beans, potato salad. Any donation of food or money will be greatly appreciated. You may contact any of the above-mentioned names. This is being run to offset mailing charges on the 318 Christmas packages that were sent out.

Our executive chairman, Mrs. William Cusack, and our new and old chairman, Mrs. John Willis, were at the impressive ceremonies held last Friday morning at 6:00 a. m. in Woburn for the inductees, which included the following eight Winchester boys: Walter E. Maroney, Alvan G. Smith, Robert Taylor, Alfred L. Landry, Paul J. Carroll, Edward Callahan, Lawrence M. Callahan and Frank S. Michienzi.

ELECTION MONDAY

Winchester will elect its town officers Monday, March 2, and although there are only a few places on the entire ballot where the electorate can show a preference, in two of the four brackets where contests occur the fields are so large that even the most erudite politically are a bit leary about making outright election predictions.

Always a top interest spot is the contest for Selectman, and this year there are six candidates for the two vacancies on the Board. Not for some time have there been so many in the Selectman's field.

Of the six running only one has held office in Winchester. Thomas F. Fallon served as Selectman for two terms back in the days when Selectmen were elected yearly, but the other candidates, though well known about town, have held no office previously.

William C. Cusack is perhaps as well known politically as any of the other candidates, having been vice chairman of the Finance Committee and chairman of the Town Manager Committee as well as a candidate for Moderator several years ago.

Kenneth S. Hall, prominent in the Legion and youth work in Winchester, has served on a school survey committee, the Finance Committee, and the Junior High Fellowship. Mr. Hall is a member of the Town By-Laws Committee and has been a town meeting member, while Charles W. Blanchard, also a Legionnaire, has been very active with the Young Republican group in Winchester. John C. Wakefield, is widely known in town as chairman of the recent George Washington School Building Committee.

Running in the Selectman's contest is a close second in general interest and having an even larger field is the fight for Assessor, with eight candidates for the single vacancy on the three-man Board.

In this field only Captain Richard M. Rush, former School Committee member, has held political office in town, and the over seven candidates, with the exception of Michael D. Saraco, have not been especially active politically. Mr. Saraco, for some time a town meeting member, has taken active participation in many sessions of the limited town meeting and is well known.

Of the other candidates, Paul B. Briggs, Charles E. Howe and Walter Y. Josephson are either now, or formerly, actively engaged in the real estate business in Winchester or hereabouts.

Vincent C. Carroll is in the automobile business in Winchester, William S. Wolsey is a builder and Harry J. Stable, Jr., a contractor. Picking a winner from this field is an admittedly difficult job, since the vote is bound to be so badly split that what would ordinarily be a vote small as 100 would be considered may be a winner this year.

In the other two contests on the ballot the candidates drop off sharply. In the contest for School Committee, Marion H. Mowatt, a political newcomer, seeks one of the two vacancies, opposing Sara C. Woodward, a candidate for re-election, and Orlott L. Hooper, an unsuccessful candidate a year ago, who nevertheless made a good showing. Mrs. Mowatt has had considerable educational experience at both the school and college level.

Opposing Elwell R. Butterworth, seeking re-election to the Water and Sewer Board, is Eugene B. Rondini, a contractor and town meeting member, who has often been heard on the floor of the town hall, and who has sought election to the Water and Sewer Board before. He is past venerable of Winchester Lodge, Sons of Italy.

CHARLES E. HOWE FOR ASSESSOR

Dear Voter:

Mr. Howe's qualifications in the field of business and real estate appraisal merit your careful consideration before casting your vote for Assessor on Monday, March 2nd.

Winchester has always been fortunate in obtaining men to run for public office of high character and with a sincere desire to serve the town in which we live. Mr. Howe is no exception to this rule.

The work done by Charles E. Howe in real estate appraisal for cities, towns, banks and courts (outlined in his own statement) makes him the candidate with the most outstanding qualifications for the Office of Assessor.

FOR More parking space at Center.

FOR Test trial of 50-100 parking meters at Center.

FOR Strict enforcement of town zoning laws.

FOR Enforcement of loam and gravel removal ordinances.

FOR Town ownership of heavy versatile equipment especially for snow removal.

FOR Committee to study possibility of building a municipal ice-roller skating rink. Artificial ice (manufactured). This should be centrally located and reasonably self-supporting.

FOR An efficient arrangement whereby we can be assured of constant and proper maintenance of town buildings.

FOR Providing well for what we have before building any more roads at town expense to open up private lands.

FOR Keeping tax rate at lowest possible level consistent with good town management.

FOR Subordinating personal wishes to will of the people.

FOR Continuation of Winchester's reputation for "GOOD GOVERNMENT."

HOW TO LIVE WITH YOUR HEART

DON'T WORRY. HEALTH IS MORE THAN THE ABSENCE OF DISEASE. IF YOU HAVE CAUSE TO WORRY, DO ALL YOU CAN TO REMEDY THE CAUSE, AND STOP WORRYING.

Comments by
DR. G. COLKET CANER
Neurologist, Massachusetts General Hospital, and Psychiatrist to the Harvard Department of Harvard University

IT IS WELL KNOWN that psychic stress causes disturbances of body function. It causes muscular tension and fatigue, it affects the functioning of the stomach, the bowel and other organs, it affects the circulation and may result in higher blood pressure which increases the work of the heart. You can only avoid worry and psychic stress by learning to react positively and purposefully to difficulties, frustrations and misfortunes... by schooling yourself to think of what to do about the situation rather than dwelling on how unfortunate or unfair it is. To have the best physical health of which you are capable you must have the positive mental health that is rooted in attitudes which make for good human relations, effectiveness in work, happiness, and for reacting well to failures, difficulties and all manner of misfortunes. The spirit of readiness to meet whatever life brings gives the greatest insurance of peace of mind, and peace of mind is more important for a person with heart trouble than is the avoidance of physical exertion.

NOT OUR FAULT!

The Star reaches a lot of people in a lot of places! This week in our mail we received a letter from H. Ridgely Bullock, Jr., publicity director of the Powder and Wig Dramatic Society of Colby College up in Waterville, Maine, taking exception to a statement in last week's Star to the effect that the Tufts Community Players are the first amateur group in New England to produce Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke".

Off hand, at least, it looks like Mr. Bullock has a point! The Tufts production was to open February 13, while Mr. Bullock states the Colby Powder and Wig group did the show at Waterville, January 15 and 16 of this year. Moreover, he sent along two tickets for the January 15 performance to prove his statement.

We of course wouldn't know! The information that Tufts produced the Williams show first in New England came to the Star from the Tufts Community Players, but we actually can't prove it because we rewrote their release to fit the Winchester angle and did not save their copy. However, until we got last week's release, we, in our abysmal ignorance, did not even know there was a play called "Summer and Smoke", or, if you can stand it, a playwright called Tennessee Williams. We didn't just make the whole thing up! We mean, some one must have told us!

We are sending on the Colby letter to the Tufts brethren, and the two theatrical groups can battle it out with their masks and wigs and socks and buskins. We are sure the Tufts statement, if incorrect, was inadvertent, and that the Colby boys and girls are interested only in keeping the dramatic record straight. Our benison on both houses!

APPEALS FOR SICK ANIMALS

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston, yesterday appealed to all animal lovers for discarded blankets and cotton cloth, to be used in the cages of its Angell Memorial Animal Hospital.

Society officials made the following statement: "It has been called to our attention that the present supply of blankets and cloth is nearly exhausted, and we find it necessary to replenish our needs if we are to provide maximum care and comfort for the many animals that are brought to us daily for hospitalization. This is particularly true in the Macomber Ward, where distemper cases are treated and where bedding must be constantly refreshed."

"We feel confident, therefore, that all pet-owners, as well as lovers of animals generally, will be happy to respond to this urgent appeal, by sending their gifts of blankets or cloth to the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston, where they will be most gratefully received and promptly acknowledged."

LENTEN DRAMA TICKET COMMITTEE

A very large ticket committee has been announced by Co-Chairmen Sam Vangel and John Dolan for the forthcoming Lenten Drama, "As a Roaring Lion" to be staged by the Boston Catholic Theatre Group under the sponsorship of the Winchester Council Knights of Columbus which affair is scheduled for the night of March 28th Saturday, at Winchester Town Hall.

The reason for such a large committee is so that not only will every member of the K of C be contacted on attending but also so that all others will have an equal opportunity to procure tickets.

The Committee follows:

WINCHESTER BOY SCOUT RALLY

Last Thursday evening, February 19, Troop 3, was host to all the local Boy Scout Troops at a big rally held in Chidley Hall of the First Congregational Church, and over 150 boys took part in the various competitive events.

The Robinson Whitten Trophy was won by Troop 3 for the highest total score covering the combined Tug of War, Morse Code Flag Signalling, Fire by Flint and Steel, Knot Tying and Fire by Friction events. Troops 9, 4, 7, and 6 followed in that order of total scores obtained.

The Kenneth Hall Trophy was also awarded to Troop 3 for getting the highest score for Troop Advancement. The "runners-up" were Troops 4, 7, 6, and 9, in that order.

Both the above are "rotating" awards which demand annual competition, thus serving to maintain interest.

Much credit is due Dr. Robert Millican for a well-planned, smooth-running and highly enthusiastic rally in which the only regret was the unavoidable absence of Troop 12.

It is earnestly hoped that next year's rally may be held in one of the larger public halls where there will be ample space to accommodate the parents and friends who are always an inspiration to youthful contestants.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department had a comparatively quiet week-end, having one run Saturday forenoon and three on Sunday.

Saturday's run was to the home of Mr. Dominico Michienzi at 106 Swanton street, where an oil leak developed in the kitchen oil burner. Sunday's fires were all of the brush or grass variety, one taking place in the morning on Laurel Hill lane and the other two in the afternoon, the first at Salisbury street and the second at the Well Field.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR YOU CAN'T BEAT A

'53 Pontiac

A GENERAL MOTORS MASTERPIECE

Solid Choice of Solid Citizens!

In its distinctive beauty, its size and comfort, its interior luxury and its all-around performance, Pontiac ranks high among America's quality cars—yet this Dual-Streak beauty is priced just above the lowest!

Thus Pontiac has an almost irresistible appeal to people who find it necessary—or wise—to keep their investments in automobiles as low as possible. It is this unique combination of goodness and price which makes Pontiac the solid choice of those solid citizens who are money wise and quality conscious.

The reasons for this preference were never more obvious than in the 1953 Pontiac. Longer, wider, more beautiful than ever, it is also easier to handle, more relaxing to drive. But most important, it carries on Pontiac's tradition of long life and carefree, economical dependability.

Come in and see wonderful new proof that "Dollar for Dollar You Can't Beat a Pontiac."

HIGH SCHOOL ADOPTS PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

"A man's reach should exceed his grasp" was the theme of Mr. Henry Fitts' remarks last week, as he presented the report of the committee on a philosophy of education for the Winchester High School. He readily admitted that the school's aim of producing a "complete person" was a lofty one, not likely to be achieved in too many cases. However, he said that it is a man individual who never plans more than he is sure to accomplish.

Other members of the committee which prepared this report are Joseph S. Avers, Barbara Demsey, Pauline Goodrich, Martha Genicot, Thomas A. Morse, Helen Skornik, and Lenna M. Travis.

In accepting the report, Principal Wade L. Grindle warmly praised the committee for its work in preparing such an inspiring statement of aims and objectives for the guidance of the school faculty. The Star believes that many parents and other interested townspeople will find the "Philosophy" worthy of careful study, and it is pleased to print the following:

Winchester High School Our Philosophy of Education

We believe that our most serious and sincere efforts are needed to rescue, preserve, and strengthen the social and political system we call the American Way of Life; and such a way of life is worthy of our untiring efforts. A society such as ours is responsible for — and certainly dependent upon — the education of its sons and daughters to the level appropriate to individual, community, and national needs. Thus, for the perpetuation of a system in which we believe so strongly, education is an increasingly important influence. Therefore, our job and all that it includes is one of the most useful and important in the world today.

We aim to see the pupils as individuals, not as a group, to provide opportunity and inspiration for each pupil to develop and learn to the greatest extent of his ability; to make him well-informed, capable, alert to his world and its conditions as they affect him and others; to make him appreciative of the values to be found in sound learning and eager to continue his education; to make him a fair-minded, healthy, unselfish, independent, tolerant, trustworthy, eager to tackle the hard jobs that lie ahead. We aim to present a curriculum suited to the needs of the community and flexible to changing conditions; to build a strong and free society through a spirit of education for all, unity with all classes and races, and the application of active democracy.

In general, the aim is to produce the "complete person" — an individual who is equipped with the knowledge, skills, and attitudes which will serve him best in the years which follow high school, whether those years be spent in further education or in work. Such a person is trained in the attitudes and responsibilities of good citizenship; he has developed worthwhile attitudes regarding his place in society; he has acquired some knowledge, skills, and principles which will guide him in the selection and pursuit of a worthwhile career; he has gained some knowledge and appreciation of the arts; he is able to plan his leisure time to good advantage; he is aware of the value of good health and trained in habits of good health, both physical and mental; he is versed in the knowledge and skills which enable him to hold his own in the world of the consumer; and he has developed the innumerable mental skills which are vital to the overall performance of the well-trained and well-rounded individual.

Citizenship
To insure a free, abundant, and happy life for our citizens under a democratic system of government, every citizen must think critically and reach and act on intelligent, unselfish decisions in all phases of his life. If our citizen is to act thus, he must have an understanding and an appreciation of the complexity of modern citizenship; of the duties as well as the rights and privileges such citizenship imposes at all levels, from local to international. Merely understanding that citizenship now is complicated and exacting is not enough. The citizen must act on the principle that shortsighted, selfish, indifferent attitudes and actions will lead ultimately to the destruction of those institutions and ideals for which we want our democratic civilization to stand.

Our citizen must have love for all mankind, and an intelligent love and respect for our country based on a critical appreciation of its institutions, their purpose, the history of their development, the need and methods for their improvement. Our citizen must, through study and critical thinking, understand and appreciate the aims, ideals, and shortcomings not only of our own country, but of other countries as well, if he is to judge wisely and intelligently on domestic and international issues.

Above all, in his dealings with all men and in his approach to decisions of all kinds, our citizen must be activated by the highest moral character. He should be impartial and fair-minded in judgment, thorough and dependable in all responsibilities, honest with himself and other in all matters, loyal, self-reliant, and courageous. The importance of social development cannot be overestimated and must be carefully considered in any philosophy of education because the factors involved are vital in creating the total citizen so necessary to our society.

The training of our "complete person" includes curricular and extra-curricular activities designed to develop opportunities for actual practice in social relationships. In every class he has developed attitudes, ideals, and worthy habits of social conduct which have encouraged him to refine his social tastes, to develop and broaden his interests, to work for greater cooperation as well as personal initiative. Each subject field has furnished training pointed toward the development of desirable social traits. Our ideal citizen has four: every subject a social tool, teaching communication, understanding, appreciation, and enjoyment of shared experiences. Moreover, every subject has aided him in the cultivation of such social traits as independence, responsibility, respect, tact, courtesy, and honesty. Last, each class has helped to encourage in him the democratic way of life, showing the importance of educational heritages, sound leadership, free democratic discussion, rights of individuals, and equal opportunity for all.

Vocational Training
Our well-rounded individual at the close of high school years must have acquired a broad base of knowledge, principles, and skills which will guide him in the pursuit of a worthwhile career. Through all his educational experiences he has received some vocational training — in other words he has had opportunities through which to learn to know himself. Courses have helped to show him areas in which he is best suited or has greatest interest, and experiences have helped to show him whether he finds greatest satisfaction in working alone, in working with a group, in being a leader, or in doing routine work.

Through personal contact with teachers our ideal person has reached an objective viewpoint regarding his ability in special subjects. Through extra-curricular activities he has discovered special interests and abilities. And through contact with the guidance office and other counselors he has made some short and long range plans for his future, whether it leads to further study or to a paying job.

He has developed a respect for work and a desire to do honestly a fair share of the world's work. He knows the feeling of satisfaction that comes when a difficult job is well done. He is well prepared in the skills of reading, writing, and figuring normally expected of a person entering the world of work or of advanced learning.

Cultural Appreciations
The "complete person" has gained some knowledge and appreciation of cultural attainments of the people of the world. He has an appreciation of the varied origins through the centuries. He has developed an aesthetic appreciation of beauty in nature, in art, in literature, in folklore, and in music. He is able to recognize differences in design, color, and texture, leading to discrimination in choice of clothing or decoration. He appreciates the value of historical legacies, of rhetoric and fine art in conversation, of social behavior in a world environment. He is discriminating in his choice of good entertainment and appreciates the need and value of civic improvement.

Use of Leisure Time
It has been said that the most important resources of our nation are the abilities and talents of our people. It is of tremendous importance, therefore, that a democracy provide an education which will develop its greatest resources in a manner befitting the maximum possibilities of each. Through a rounded program of participation in classes and activities our ideal student has gained an education for a better mode of living. A well-chosen and well-organized program appealing to varied interests has guided him from the spontaneous and purposeless activities of youth to the more deliberate reactions needed in older individuals. Such activities have developed interests based on the needs and experiences of high school age and may become hobbies which aid greatly in the enhancement of human living.

Training in this purposeful use of leisure time based on sound emotional, psychological, and physiological understanding thus has given our complete person employment or activity which in itself is nature's best physician.

Health
The "complete person" who leaves high school for higher learning or for lucrative employment should have received some training in the habits and attitudes that go with good health and have gained some knowledge that will keep him always appreciative of the values of good health. His skills and habits include the ability to take part in games for relaxation and for exercise, the habits that are necessary for daily cleanliness of both body and mind, habits of safety first for himself and for others, habits preventing the spread of disease, and some skill and knowledge in the administration of first aid.

He appreciates the importance and value of good health, seeking the satisfaction that goes with being "in shape." He understands the importance of good diet, plentiful rest, and an untroubled mind. He knows the dangers lurking in the use of drugs of all kinds. And he is keen to gain more information that will help him and others in the prevention and cure of accident and disease.

Consumer Training
In preparation for assuming his place in the complex world of today, our "complete person" has gained some insight into the world of the consumer. In an age when the matter of consuming goods intelligently looms in importance as large as that of producing goods efficiently, he has acquired some understanding of the numerous economic problems which he will have to face. His knowledge of goods and services has been broadened and deepened. He is aware of the pressure and pitfalls behind high-powered advertising. And he is able to use judgment in regard to prices and qualities, luxuries and necessities, thus enjoying some confidence in his ability to handle his future financial affairs.

Mental Training
Finally, our "complete person" has developed to the best of his ability the innumerable mental skills which are vital to the overall performance of the well-trained and well-rounded individual. Assuming that he is able to write, to speak, and to figure at a level of performance consistent with his age, he should also have developed the ability to reason, to think independently, and to make decisions that are the result of logical thinking and clear judgment. He should be able to select and assemble significant facts, to observe phenomena accurately, to weigh evidence, and to draw logical conclusions. He should be able to read accurately, to outline, and to make a clear statement. He should have developed powers of concentration, memory, and imagination.

Such abilities and of vital importance to the success of students of all subjects and to the present and future value of such students as intelligent, thoughtful, and independent citizens of a free democracy.

Conclusion
Thus we aspire, through a well-rounded program, to produce the complete individual, one who is ready — and eager — for the step into college or into the responsibilities of finding and holding a job. It is our prayer that each of our graduates may be a person who is scholastically, physically, mentally, and morally ready to go ahead in the complex world of today. Our product is not a robot from an endless machine but an individual who has learned about himself, developed his talents, and made some plans for his future. His voice will be as strong as our own in the voting booths of our democratic society, and the future of our nation and our world will depend upon him and thousands of others like him.

RELEASED FROM ARMY DUTY

Army Cpl. Theodore Von Rosenberg, III, whose wife, Hazel, and mother, live at 71 Yale street, Winchester, was recently released from active duty with the U. S. Army at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Von Rosenberg was a supply sergeant in Company B, 106th Engineer Combat Battalion.

Before entering the Army he was employed as a sales engineer for the New England Carbide Tool Company Incorporated.

Winchester sports followers will learn with interest of the signing of Reading's Noel Reebnacker by the New York Giants professional football team. "Reeb" played several seasons against Winchester before matriculating at the University of Massachusetts where he developed into one of the best small college passers in football.

FOR SELECTMAN, CHARLES W. BLANCHARD has many qualifications. He is a young family man and taxpayer, Winchester born and schooled, a town meeting member for two years, a civil engineering graduate of Northeastern University with 3½ years of Army service. A young business man, he is Vice-President of Securities Associates as well as Plant Manager and Engineer of Stahlkeker Steel Corp., a member of American Legion Post No. 97, and active in many town organizations. A life-long resident, he is best known as a "doer" rather than an "undoer".

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON PROPOSED CHANGES IN THE ZONING BY-LAWS

Notice is hereby given that the Planning Board will hold a public hearing on March 10, 1953, at 8 o'clock P. M., in the General Committee Room, Town Hall, Winchester, Massachusetts, on proposed changes in the Zoning By-Law under Articles 50-51-52-53-56-57 of the Warrant for the Annual Town Meeting, reading as follows:

ARTICLE 50. To hear and act on the report of the Planning Board and then to see if the Town will amend the zoning by-laws by making all or any portion of the following proposed changes and additions, or take any action in relation thereto.

I. Insert a new Section 4, as follows:

Section 4. LIMITED BUSINESS DISTRICTS.

In Limited Business Districts, no new building shall be constructed or used, in whole or in part, and no building or structure, or part thereof, shall be altered, enlarged, reconstructed or used, and no land shall be used for any purpose except:

A. Any of the purposes authorized without permission of the Board of Appeals in Single Residence Districts (as enumerated, with any restrictions thereon, in paragraph B of Section 2, hereof).

B. One or more of the following purposes:

1. Restaurant or other eating place.
2. Any of the following retail stores: books, stationery or news store, cigar store, drug store, dry goods or variety store, florist or gift shop, food store or meat market, hardware or electric appliance store, wearing apparel store.
3. Business or professional office or agency, bank or other financial institution.
4. Personal service shop of a barber, hairdresser, manicurist, or shoe shiner.
5. Any of the following service establishments, dealing directly with the customer: collection station for laundry and dry cleaning, frozen food locker, hand or self-service laundry, photographic studio, radio and household appliance repair shop, shoe and hat repair shop, watch and clock repair shop.
6. Automobile service station for the dispensing and sale to the public of gasoline and oil for motor vehicles, and the incidental washing, greasing and minor repairing thereof (such as replacing headlight bulbs and spark plugs, and tire changing).
7. Customary accessory uses clearly incidental to and located on the same premises with any of the foregoing uses.
8. Signs, except sky signs as defined in the Building Laws, pertaining to goods sold, services furnished or trade conducted on the premises; provided that no exterior sign or aggregate of signs (whether or not attached to a building) shall exceed one square foot in area for each 50 square feet occupied by the ground floor of the building or buildings to which they are accessory, and provided further that such signs shall not exceed three in number for each separate and distinct business enterprise on the premises.

C. Any purpose intended to serve the normal shopping needs of adjacent residential areas which the Board of Appeals shall specifically find to be of the same general character as any of the foregoing uses (as enumerated in paragraph B of this Section) if permission of said Board be obtained in accordance with the procedure and conditions set forth in Section 8 hereof.

In Limited Business Districts, the following special regulations shall also apply:

1. No building or structure shall be constructed, altered, enlarged or reconstructed so that any part thereof, except eaves and uncovered steps, shall be within 25 feet of any street line.
2. Each dwelling house hereafter constructed shall be provided with a lot conforming to the area, width and frontage requirements applicable to such lot if located in the Single Residence District nearest thereto.
3. No building shall be constructed, altered, enlarged, reconstructed or used for purposes authorized by paragraphs B and C of this Section unless there is provided on the lot or land associated therewith, and within 300 feet thereof, automobile parking space having a total standing and maneuvering area of not less than two times the ground floor area of said building and located, graded, drained and otherwise constructed in accordance with the site plan required by paragraph 5 of this Section. Such space shall be permanently maintained, and available for the use of customers and employees of the building. No automobile parking space required by this Section for a particular building shall, during the existence of such building, be counted as required space for another building.
4. All vehicular access to and from any lot used for purposes authorized by paragraphs B and C of this Section shall be through designated driveway openings at the street line, and not more than two such openings (one of which shall be for entrance and the other for exit) shall be permitted at any street line for each 300 feet of lot frontage along said line. A lot having less than 300 feet of frontage on a street line shall not be used for purposes authorized by paragraphs B and C of this Section unless said lot is provided with vehicular access through driveway openings used in common by two or more lots having a total continuous frontage along a street line of at least 300 feet for each two openings at said line. Designated driveway openings shall not be more than 20 feet in width at the street line and shall be located not less than 20 feet apart.

5. No lot shall be used for purposes authorized by paragraphs B and C of this Section except in conformity with a site plan approved by the Planning Board. Said plan shall be submitted to the Board for approval through the Building Commissioner, and shall show among other things all existing and proposed buildings, structures, parking spaces, driveway openings, driveways, service areas, and landscape features (such as fences, walls, planting areas, and walks) on the lot. In addition to the construction and maintenance of parking spaces required by this Section, the provision and maintenance of specified other facilities shown on the site plan may be required by the Board as a condition of its approval. No building permit shall be issued until the Board has approved the site plan or has allowed forty-five days to elapse after submission without acting thereon. In considering a site plan under this Section, the Board shall assure such a degree of convenience and safety of vehicular and pedestrian movement, both within the site and in relation to adjacent streets and land, as is consistent with a reasonable use of the premises for purposes permitted by this Section.

II. At the end of Section 2B 9f, add the following:

Provided, however, that unless permission of the Board of Appeals be obtained in accordance with the procedure and conditions set forth in Section 8 hereof, the amount of sod, loam, sand, gravel or other earth product removed from the premises shall not exceed the amount of such material contained before construction in the particular space to be occupied by the foundation of the building or structure.

III. At the end of Section 5A and at the end of Section 6A1, change the period to a comma and add the following:

except that removal of sod, loam, sand, gravel or other earth product from the premises shall be authorized only if permission of the Board of Appeals be obtained in accordance with the procedure and conditions set forth in Section 8 hereof.

ARTICLE 51. To see if the Town will amend the Zoning By-Law by changing or altering the map incorporated therein and made a part thereof so as to include in the "Limited Business District" all or any part or parts of the present "Single Residence District A" on the easterly and southeasterly sides of Lockeland Road near its intersection with Ridge Street within the area bounded as follows:

Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Lockeland Road near its intersection with Ridge Street and at land of George E. Locke, et als; thence running northerly and northeasterly by Lockeland Road in a curved line, two hundred forty-seven (247) feet, more or less; thence continuing by Lockeland Road in a general northeasterly direction, five hundred fifty-three (553) feet, more or less, to a point at other land of George E. Locke, et als; thence turning at a right angle and running in a southeasterly direction four hundred (400) feet, more or less, by land of said George E. Locke, et als; thence turning at a right angle and running in a westerly direction by other land of said George E. Locke, et als, six hundred forty (640) feet, more or less, to the point of beginning, and containing 7.1 acres, more or less.

(Planning Board)

ARTICLE 52. To see if the Town will amend the Zoning By-Laws by striking out in Section 7A the words "or unless such non-conforming use is discontinued" so that Section 7A as amended will read

"Section 7. NON-CONFORMING USES.

A. Any lawful building or structure, or use of a building, structure or land existing at the time this by-law is adopted which does not conform to the regulations of the district in which located may be continued, unless and until abandoned for a period of one year."

(Planning Board)

ARTICLE 53. To see if the Town will amend the Zoning By-Laws by changing or altering the map incorporated therein and made a part thereof, and a portion of that certain district indicated and identified therein as an Industrial District, so that the following described area will be changed from an Industrial District to a General Residence District. The area to be changed is bounded and described approximately as follows:

Westerly	by land of the Boston and Maine Railroad, five hundred forty-two and 7/100 (542.07) feet;
Southerly	by land now or formerly of Ermilinda Bucci, Philip and Brigida Cottone, Emilio and Nicolina Capone, Paolo Armato, Giloramo Ferro and the Town of Winchester, seven hundred (700) feet, more or less;
Easterly	by land now or formerly of Giloramo Ferro, the Town of Winchester and others, (the existing Division line) five hundred eighty-five (585) feet, more or less;
Northerly	by other land of the Town of Winchester (Park) three hundred and eighty-two (382) feet, more or less;
Northwesterly	by and now or formerly of J. O. Whitten Co., Inc., three hundred twenty (320) feet, more or less.

(John J. Nuttle and others)

ARTICLE 56. To see if the Town will discontinue a small portion of the building line on the southerly side of Dartmouth Street for a distance of approximately eight feet near the end of the garage of Irene Kolligian at 71 Wedgemere Avenue. The building line had been established by vote of the Town, October 23, 1930.

(Irene Kolligian and others)

ARTICLE 57. To see if the Town will accept the layout of a building line on the southerly side of Dartmouth Street beginning near the end of the garage of Irene Kolligian at 71 Wedgemere Avenue and extending easterly approximately eight feet, approximately twenty-three feet distant from the southerly exterior line.

WASHINGTON YOUNGSTERS IN TV DEBUT

The first appearance of a group of Winchester school children on television Wednesday morning over Station WBZ-TV was a tremendous success, well worth all the hard work that pupils and teachers put in during the past week. The show was part of the How Program, sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Education.

Opening the program was an introductory discussion of the values of dramatic experiences in the education of children, with Miss Mary O'Rourke, state supervisor of elementary education, Miss Leonor Rich, principal of the Washington School, and Mrs. Ruth Graham, Washington School teacher, participating.

For their part in the program, the children in Mrs. Graham's third and fourth grade presented an original play adapted for television, "Milk Makes the Difference." First, the youngsters explained what they had done in the rat feeding experiment, then they acted out the play. One of the most entertaining parts was the scene in which children, dressed as white or gray rats, played and danced together.

LEAGUE LEGISLATIVE LUNCHEON

One of the highlights of the year's work of the League of Women Voters of Winchester is the Annual Legislative Luncheon. This year the League has been fortunate in securing Senator Robert P. Campbell of the Second Middlesex Senatorial District as one of the speakers. This will be the League's first opportunity to present Senator Campbell and his talk on "Current Legislation" should be most informative.

The second speaker is one well known to all League members, Representative Frederick Wier of Cambridge. She has long been active in local and state affairs and the League is justly proud of her as a new member of the General Assembly.

She is an entertaining speaker and will tell about her campaign experiences and her "First Impressions in the General Court."

In order to have Senator Campbell the luncheon date has been changed to Friday, March 6th at 12:45 p.m. at the Country Club. The ladies of the Methodist Church Guild have promised an excellent luncheon. For tickets please call Mrs. Robert Baylies, Winchester 6-1767.

Any League member interested in the activities of the League of Women Voters of Winchester is cordially invited.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WELLESLEY CLUB

On Tuesday, February 17, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Albert Swazey opened her home at 336 Main street for the Annual Meeting of the Wellesley Club. After reports on Club business, new officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Wayne Davis; Vice-President, Mrs. Ralph Jope; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Lindsay Caldwell; Corresponding-Secretary, Mrs. Richard Swanson; Ways and Means, Mrs. Peter Laban; Social Chairman, Mrs. Ross Cunningham; Publicity, Mrs. Thomas Halloran; Acquaintance, Mrs. Parker Heath; Nominating Committee Chairman, Mrs. Edward Grosvenor; Development Fund, Mrs. Roger Burton; Member at Large, Mrs. Paul Leverette.

Mrs. Wayne Davis reported on Alumnae Council, which she had just attended. Two distinguished guests were present, Mrs. Paul L. Mansfield, Alumnae Secretary, and Mrs. F. H. Evans of Atlanta, Georgia, the President of the Wellesley Alumnae Association. Miss Katy Dragati, 54, of Istanbul spoke on her impressions of America — on the whole very favorable, though our cuisine leaves something to be desired. The Club voted to send $100.00 to the Wellesley Student Aid Fund and $100.00 to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

A delightful tea was served by Mrs. Richard Wyman and her committee.

MISSA BREVIS HUNGARIAN PATRIOT'S WORK TO BE DONE HERE

One of the few performances in this country of an unusual piece of contemporary liturgical music will be heard in Winchester on Sunday afternoon, March 15, when the augmented Unitarian Choir will present Missa Brevis by Zoltan Kodaly.

Regarded as highly as the Brahms "Requiem" and other church favorites by some professional musicians and choral directors, the "Missa Brevis" combines the deep religious feeling of the Germanic tradition with an inspiring and original modern flavor.

Composer Kodaly, whose work is just beginning to achieve broader recognition in America, has made a life work of studying Hungarian folk music at its sources, and has collected more than 400 original folk tunes, many of them unrecorded up till now. Born in 1882, Kodaly has deep roots in his native country, and would not be disgraced when Hungary went under Russian domination.

The Lenten Vesper Service, in which the Unitarian Choir will be augmented by the Mary Witham Singers and others, will be under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham, with Weston Brannen at the console.

The service will begin at 4:00 at the Unitarian Church, Sunday, March 15. The community is invited to attend.

D.A.R. DINNER PARTIES

On the evening of March 7th, the Spring Formal Dance sponsored by the Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R. will be held at the Town Hall with music by Ruby Newman's Orchestra.

Among the many dinner parties planned to precede this popular dance will be that of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ross who are entertaining at their home for Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Toner, Mr. and Mrs. George Redding, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Sawyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Freeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. White will have as their guests at the Country Club, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Howes, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Agnew, and Dr. and Mrs. R. Ronald Wyman.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd S. Godwin are having as guests for cocktails Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gustin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Barry, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bayley of Boston before going to the Country Club for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram F. Moody are entertaining at the Country Club with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Moore and Mr. and Mrs. George Jasper of Andover, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howard of Newtonville, and Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Wier will have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Low, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Slader of Lexington, Miss Anne DeCamp, and Mr. Lester Burke.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde are entertaining at their home Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Connor, Mr. and Mrs. George Gowdy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Johns and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Lippman are dining at the Country Club.

Also going to the Country Club are Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Boutwell, III, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Downes, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Comins, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. David Walton, and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wild.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ober Pride are entertaining at their home Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Biddle of Cambridge, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bixby of Haverhill, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bretherton of Melrose, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cushman of Everett, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hicks of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Budgell, Mr. and Mrs. Kingman P. Cass, Mr. and Mrs. S. Bruce Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Royer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lovejoy, Mr. and Mrs. Harris S. Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wilde.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Swazey and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl will entertain at the Swazey's home Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wright, Mr. and Mrs. James McGovern, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marcionette, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bradford of Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Downes are entertaining at their home the following ushers and flower girls: Anthony Fletcher, Diane McNeill, Gregory MacArthur, Joan McNeill, Theodore Elliott, Jane Fisher, Jack Heggs, Charles Nichols, Marcia Symmes, Charles Nichols, Adele Mitchell, Peter Birnie, Nancy Rose, Thomas O'Connell, Ruth Freeman, William Rose, Ruth Freeman, James Cusack, Bonnie Downes, Wally Hart.

DR NORRIS TO SPEAK

Dr. Forbes Norris, superintendent of schools, will speak on "The Elementary Principal and the Beginning Teacher," at Boston University's School of Education on Monday, March 9, at 7:00 p.m. The lecture, part of the course "Problems of the Elementary School Principal," is open without charge to all principals, supervisors, and superintendents on the elementary school level.

STARDUST ZANY COMEDY SUCCESS

For nearly two hours last Saturday night the stage of the high school auditorium became the scene of frenzied but always amusing events in a so-called Academy of Dramatic and Allied Arts. The Yale School of Drama was never like this, but Walter Kerr, the author of "Stardust," was apparently satirizing the activities of one of those over-artsy schools that thrived during the "roaring twenties."

The efforts of actress Prudence Mason, well-played by Rebecca Smith, to escape from the artificialities of Broadway and rediscover her perspective, amid what she found to be the wholehearted simplicity of a small drama school, motivate the action of the play. Instead of unaffected youngsters, she finds a group of pseudo-sophisticates under the tutelage of a "fanatical Russian," exuberantly acted by John Swazey. The complications prove to be as confusing to Prudence, as they were entertaining to her audience, but the happy ending solves everything, including the romantic difficulties of Janet Ross (Beverly Browne) and Phil Ford (Steve Yale). Steve was at the top of his role as the frustrated lover, and Beverly had several good scenes as the stage-struck ingenue.

Helpful in resolving the impasse caused when famous actress meets uncooperative supporting cast were Claire Carter (Janet Archibald) as the quick-witted trouper, and Jerry Flanagan (Sam Rocray) as the Hollywood talent scout. Jan and Sam played their juicy roles to the hilt and with obvious relish.

Shirley Chapman, in the role of the terrifying dean of women, added excellent diction to a difficult characterization. Stage stockbrokers are always handsome and stuffy, and Arthur Scott, Jr., well-played by James Robertson, was no exception.

The problem of managing the actions of a big cast of 18 on a small stage was well handled throughout. The young drama students were generally convincing as the adoring and gullible followers of the actor Bach and his Stanislavsky theory of acting. Briefly, and without special comment, they were: Helen Hertz, as part-time secretary Marion Phipps; John Becker, as intense young fanatic John Redman; Marilyn Dyer, as the uninhibited Mavis Moriarty; Damon Mezzacappa, as an ingenious disciple of Freud; Carter Tallman, as the would-be playwright and director; Sandra Wittet as the decorative, moonstruck, insomniac; Deborah Fish as the flower-loving Cynthia Keene; Gail Stratton, Margery Sanger, and Patricia Page, as the irrepressible newcomers.

Once again Director Thomas Morse deserves great credit for the excellent production which his young people offered. "Stardust," though well-suited to a high school cast, offered more difficulties than did last year's "Sight Unseen."

Other members of the faculty who were helpful in securing the smooth production include: Eleanor Anfantis, music; Pauline Goodrich, art work; Lenna Travis, tickets; Joseph Aversa, programs; Frank Weafer, ushers; and Meredith Cooper, publicity. Flowers were provided through the courtesy of the Winchester Conservatory.

A pleasant musical interlude for the between-the-acts period was offered by the girls of the Octette who sang the familiar "Lazy Bones," "Dearie," "Some of These Mornings," and the ever-popular "Surrey With the Fringe on Top."

During the Lenten season at the Unitarian Church the Rev. Robert A. Storer is giving a series of sermons based on a study of the Old and New Testaments. Last week the subject was "Legends and History." This coming Sunday the Law books will be discussed.

At 33 Glen Green on Thursday evening, March 5, the first in a series of open houses will be held for members, their neighbors and friends. A brief talk on Unitarian history and beliefs will be followed by an open question period and discussion on basic beliefs. The first meeting will be devoted to the subject of "God."

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly was held Monday afternoon in the First Baptist Church with the President, Mrs. Sidney Burr presiding.

Mr. Harvey Davies brought us a delightful, clever program entitled "Don't Let Music Fool You". Mr. Davies rendered popular songs in the style of Bach, Beethoven, Chopin and Greig and produced operas from familiar melodies. On the serious side, he played some well known favorites including "Minuet In G" and "Tales From the Vienna Woods".

Literature Committee The Literature Committee will meet in the Library March 2nd at 2:00 p.m. when Miss Gertrude M. Hall will present "The Seine" along whose shores lived Victor Hugo and H. James.

Entertained Tenor Mr. Richard Nyquist of 29 Grayson road entertained at his home last Thursday evening Carl Nelson, well-known concert and radio soloist. Mr. Nelson appeared as guest soloist for the Amphion Club of Melrose, of which Mr. Nyquist is a member.

Mr. Nelson will soon appear for the fourth time as leading soloist with the Chicago Theater of the Air on a nation-wide hook-up. In April he will tour France as tenor soloist with the Cecilia Choral Society of Boston. His present plans include a trip to Sweden, where he will give several concerts.

Following Thursday night's concert, a smorgasbord supper was served. The guests included Mrs. Carl Nelson of St. Pembroke; Mrs. Grace Davis of Boston, who is Mr. Nelson's accompanist; Miss Frances Story of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Nickerson of Melrose; Miss Florence Glynn of West Medford; Mr. Carl Alizio of Medford; Miss Margaret Long of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Nancy Olson of Belmont; Mrs. Peter Nyquist and Miss Elyc Nyquist of Winchester; and Mr. Richard Rowe of Boston.

At 33 Glen Green on Thursday evening, March 5, the first in a series of open houses will be held for members, their neighbors and friends. A brief talk on Unitarian history and beliefs will be followed by an open question period and discussion on basic beliefs. The first meeting will be devoted to the subject of "God."

During the Lenten season at the Unitarian Church the Rev. Robert A. Storer is giving a series of sermons based on a study of the Old and New Testaments. Last week the subject was "Legends and History." This coming Sunday the Law books will be discussed.

CIVIL DEFENSE

The Civil Defense Department will conduct a local test air-raid alert on Sunday, March 1. The air-raid alarm system will be sounded at 2:00 p.m. but the signal will be that of the all-clear; and all the surrounding towns have been so notified. The signal should not be of any concern to the general public, as it is intended to have meaning for C. D. personnel only.

We are enjoying the cooperation of the Sector 3 Headquarters radio personnel in Cambridge, who are going to "feed" all the messages and incident details in to our Control Center. This will give the problem a definite sense of realism, because nobody will know until the time comes, just what action will be required.

There will be no manifest incidents for the public to watch, as has been the case in some previous alerts. This test will, however, provide a full scale practice for Civil Defense in Winchester, and will exercise all elements of the organization.

It is expected that the C. D. personnel who are to be involved in this test will come through with their usual enthusiasm, and once again prove that the Town of Winchester is tops in public spirited cooperation.

HEART FUND IN FINAL WEEK

As the Winchester 1953 Heart Fund Campaign entered its final week, Chairman James Ward urged all to send in their contributions promptly. "I hope every person in Winchester will make it a point to contribute this week, if he has not already done so," he said. "It is important to the work of the Heart Association, nationally and locally, that the goal of the campaign be realized, and I know that Winchester will respond generously."

Letters have gone out to each family in the town explaining the program of research, education and community service which the American Heart Association sponsors. The fact that 75% of the funds collected are expended at the local and state levels in furtherance of this program points up the personal implication of the campaign slogan: "Help Your Heart Fund — Help Your Heart."

Mr. Ward's Committee has devoted much time and effort to the drive. The names of some of the volunteer workers were received too late to be included in an earlier announcement. They are: Mrs. Ronald F. Davis, Mrs. Edgar D. Hinton, Mrs. Arthur W. Pratt, Mrs. Robert C. Scott, Mrs. Charles F. Siders, Jr., Mrs. Everett P. Stone, Mrs. Joseph J. Vaccaro, Mrs. William O. Wallburg, Mrs. George D. Whitten.

Friday morning shortly after 5 o'clock Patrolman Joseph L. Quigley of the Police Department noticed water in the basement of the Telephone Company on Main street at Converse place. Sgt. Edward F. Bowler secured a key from the Exchange and found that a leaky radiator was responsible for the damage. The janitor of the building made what adjustments he could but a plumber was necessary to take care of the job.

Last Friday forenoon a resident of Grove street called headquarters reporting some sort of animal in her cellar. A patrol car was sent to investigate, the officer approaching the cellar warily lest the occupant be one of those nervous, highly strung black and white critters that are so hard on clothes! In this case the inmate proved to be a bird, which was glad to leave the premises as soon as the officer opened the cellar window.

HEADS WOMEN MARINES

LT. COL. HAMBLET
WINCHESTER NATIVE

Lt. Col. Julia Estelle Hamblet, new Director of Women Marines, succeeding Col. Katherine A. Towle, was born in Winchester, May 12, 1916, the daughter of Abel Martin and Marcia (Coburn) Hamblet. The family home during a brief residence in Winchester from 1916 to 1918, was at 4 Maple road.

Lt. Col. Hamblet, who with her new title will probably be advanced to the rank of colonel, is the youngest Director of Women in the Armed Services and only the second to hold the title of Director of Women Marines.

She graduated from Vassar and studied at Ohio State, serving in the United States Information Service from 1937 to 1943.

In 1943 Miss Hamblet was commissioned a 1st Lieutenant in the Women Marines at Mt. Holyoke College, and served in various stations in the United States from 1944 to 1946. In '46 she was promoted and made senior women's Marine officer at Quantico, Va.

During the demobilization activity after the war she served as Director of Marine Women's Re-education at the 50th anniversary meeting of the organization Monday evening in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Kenmore in Boston.

In 1951 she was promoted to lieutenant colonel and made Director of Women Officers Training School at Quantico, Va., where she is now stationed. At that time she was made Deputy Director of Women Marines, being the only woman officer than on duty in the Marine Corps with that rank.

WINCHESTER BOY WINNER

Billy MacDonald, 10-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William McL. MacDonald of 42 Canterbury road, won the children's obstacle race at the annual Winter Carnival and Sno-Ball held in Bristol, N. H., in the White Mountains over the holidays.

Billy and his parents were guests during the carnival of old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bennett. Carnival events were varied and exciting and included the children's obstacle race, which consisted of a short dash, climbing through an automobile tire, donning snowshoes and rolling the tire back to the starting line.

Billy was loudly acclaimed as the winner and very proudly meted the carnival stage to receive his prize, two fine jack-knives, now among his most treasured possessions.

The Snow-Ball was held in the new Bristol High School. Mr. MacDonald feels would make local residents a bit ashamed of their own high school facilities, especially as the inhabitants of Bristol number only 1,500.

The MacDonalds found plenty of winter north of Concord, N. H., and enjoyed both skating and sledding during their White Mountain stay.

LENTEN FILMS BEING SHOWN

The first in a series of film strips to be presented on 5 successive Thursday evenings during Lent was shown at the Second Congregational Church last night. The film, "The Last Supper," was taken from the new Cathedral Film, "I Beheld His Glory." It was presented at a devotional setting as will be the ones to follow.

Next week the second film strip titled "Gethsemane" will be shown Thursday evening at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served by the Merry Marthas. All are invited.

25th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Open house was the gala occasion Sunday afternoon and evening, February 22, of the observance of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Ripley of 14 Wedge Pond road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripley, the former Jessie Naufrts, were married February 18, 1928, by Rev. Benjamin Browne, former minister of the First Baptist Church of this town. They were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

They have two sons, David Naufrts and Robert Alan, both high school students.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Women's League of the First Baptist Church will meet at the church on March 5. There will be White Cross sewing at 10 a. m. followed by a luncheon at noon, served by Mrs. Gunnar Abrahamson and her committee.

The meeting begins at 1 p. m. at which time we will present our Love Gift Offering for Missions. Devotions will be given by Mrs. John Dawson. Our speaker for the afternoon will be Dr. Naomi Ek-dahl whose topic will be "The Task and the Vision." You are invited to attend.

ROTARY NOTES

Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, veteran Winchester physician and chief of Medical staff at the Winchester Hospital, was the speaker at yesterday's regular luncheon meeting of the Winchester Rotary Club.

Local rotarians always look forward to any talk they may be fortunately favored with by their own "Dick" Sheehy, charter member of the club and a "rotarian in spirit" long before he became a member of any Rotary club.

Dr. Sheehy's topic was "Rotary Information." President W. Allan Wilde presided.

WINCHESTER, BELMONT END

REGULAR SEASON TIED FOR 1st

Winchester High moved into a tie for the Middlesex League championship as Belmont High was upset 56-53 at Wakefield on Tuesday. Winchester and Belmont thus ended their league schedule with 12-2 records with Winchester's two losses coming at the hands of Belmont while the latter dropped games to Reading and Wakefield.

Whether or not a playoff between the stalemated leaders will be held is still uncertain as the Star went to press. Winchester officials are attempting to arrange a playoff at the Tufts College gym for next Tuesday night but a definite answer has not been received from Belmont. Local fans will have to keep in touch with the high school or check the Boston daily papers for any playoff plans to be announced.

Meanwhile, both Winchester and Belmont are expected to receive an invitation to compete in Class B of the Eastern Massachusetts Tournament at the Garden with the first game to be played on March 9 or 10.

MORANDI — ZAFFINA

In a setting of white gladiolas at the Immaculate Conception Church on Sunday afternoon, February 8, Miss Genevieve Ann Zaffina, daughter of Mrs. Frank P. Zaffina of 14 Hill street, and the late Mr. Zaffina, became the bride of Angelo M. Morandi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morandi of 15 Kilby street, Woburn. The Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the Church, performed the ceremony at 3:30 o'clock, and a reception followed in Circle Hall, Somerville.

Miss Zaffina was given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Zaffina. She wore a white gown fashioned with a satin bodice, having a mandarin neckline trimmed with seed pearls, and a satin skirt extending into a train and decorated both front and back with V-shaped insertions of lace. Her hair was styled in a long, finger-length veil of nylon tulle was caught to a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Miss Elizabeth Zaffina of Winchester was her sister's honor maid, and another sister, Miss Louise Zaffina of Winchester, was one of the four bridesmaids, the others being Miss Mary Welch of Winchester and Miss Marianne and Miss Katherine Morandi of Woburn, sisters of the bridegroom.

All the bridal attendants wore dresses having bodices of deep purple velvet with matching jackets and skirts of nylon tulle over nylon tulle. Their headpieces were bandeaus of purple velvet with lilies and plumes, and they carried old fashioned bouquets of white carnations tied with purple streamers, that of the honor maid being centered with an orchid and those of the bridesmaids having centers of orchid sweet peas.

Mrs. Zaffina, mother of the bride, was gowned in blue and grey lace and wore an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Morandi, also wore an orchid with her gown of blue and shell pink tulle.

Guy DeFillipo of Winchester was Mr. Morandi's best man, and ushers were John Zaffina of Winchester, brother of the bride, George Karellas of Woburn, Joseph Lauria of Boston and Angelo Vasapolli of Woburn and Ford Dix, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Morandi spent their honeymoon in Washington, D. C. The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Morandi, who is associated with Broadway Chevrolet in Somerville, graduated from Woburn High School.

THIS I DO BELIEVE

Rev. Bailey will deliver the fifth of his series of sermons on "This I Do Believe," Sunday morning, March 1, at ten forty-five o'clock, in First Baptist Church. His subject will be "For Our World, it is either Christianity at Best, or Catastrophe at its Worst." The message will be a plea for the recovery of vital Christianity. He will point out that the Christian Church needs nothing so much in this day as to make Christ more real and His Society more humane and effectual.

H. R. L. Sheppard, a brilliant British preacher, said some years ago: "The world's distractions are frankly attributable to one fact only—there are not enough Christians to go round, and the measure of the church's failure is its inability to turn out a sufficient number of Christ-like men and women." Also, "As I see things, it is a close race now between Christianity and Catastrophe and the issue will be decided within the lifetime of my readers."

The public is cordially invited to share these services.

SCHOOL ACCIDENT INSURANCE PROGRAM

In response to numerous requests from the parents and the fact that the public schools in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts are not liable for accidental injury, a new insurance program has been made available to cover student injuries which occur during school hours and while participating in school sponsored and supervised activities, either away from school premises or after school hours and while traveling directly to or from school. This includes all physical education, playground, shop and other school activities except interscholastic athletics, which are now insured separately by the school department. This insurance program is available to all teachers and administrative personnel in the school system. This insurance program is heartily endorsed by the Central Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association and has agreed to head up this program as a public service. This meets with the approval of Dr. Forbes Norris, Superintendent of Schools. The company and agency providing and servicing this program are the same which for so many years have insured the Winchester High School athletic teams.

The policy will pay all expenses up to $1,500 for medical, surgical, nurses fees and hospital charges limited to $50 maximum for dental injuries to sound natural teeth. It also contains $1,000 accidental Death Benefits and up to $7,500 for dismemberment.

This All-Risk student accident medical expense plan is offered at the nominal rate of only $1.25 per student. Coverage will take effect as of Wednesday, March 18th, for all those returning signed application with premium payment prior to this date. Coverage will remain in continuous force until the closing day of school in June 1954, excluding of course, summer vacations. In other words, insurance protection for your child will be effective for the current school year and will continue for the full school year commencing September 1953. In view of this broad coverage offered at this exceptionally low rate, we are sure you will want to provide this important protection for your child.

A letter with full information and application attached will be sent home by each pupil on Tuesday, March 10th, to be returned not later than Thursday, March 12th. Payment in cash or by check made payable to H. N. W. & R., Inc.

TRAY-PAINTING SHOW

On Tuesday, March 10, at the Junior League, Zero Marlborough street, Roberta Roy Blanchard's class in Creative Tray Painting will hold a private show of the work completed in the class. Preceding the exhibition there will be a Sherry party followed by a luncheon to which members of the class and their guests are invited. Among the exhibitors will be work by Mrs. Oliver H. P. Rodman, Mrs. Edward L. Bond, Mrs. George M. Carter, Mrs. Charles Borden and Mrs. O. H. P. Devereaux.

Also included will be several examples of Mrs. Blanchard's own work covering early and late examples of Bronze Stenciling. Mrs. Blanchard will also autograph copies of her two books "How to Paint Trays" and "How to Restore and Decorate Chairs."

RUDOLPH ELIE SPEAKER

A large enthusiastic audience was present in Chidley Hall, of the First Congregational Church, to hear Rudolph Elie, Boston Herald columnist and music critic, when he spoke here on Wednesday afternoon, February 25th. His lecture was held to benefit the Winchester Women's Republican Club. Dessert was served before the meeting with Mrs. George D. Hall, Mrs. J. Howard Macaulay, and Mrs. Henry C. Marcionette, pouring.

Mrs. Robert Wood Reynolds, President, brought the greetings of the club to the audience, and Mrs. Charles A. Weimer, co-chairman of the afternoon with Mrs. James M. Beale, introduced the speaker.

Self-styled the "Koving Reporter" of the Herald, Mr. Elie recounted his experiences when he accompanied the Boston Symphony Orchestra on its tremendous, successful European tour last spring.

On April 28, 1952, with Conductor Charles Munch following by plane, Pierre Monteux, Assistant Conductor and 70 members of the orchestra sailed from New York on the Ile de France. Accompanying them were 4 librarians and other administrative personnel to make a grand total of 125 persons with 20 tons of luggage. Concerts were given in Paris, The Hague, Amsterdam, Brussels, Berlin, Bordeaux, and finally London. In all places the orchestra was received with tremendous ovations unparalleled in the symphony's experience. On one occasion in Paris after a 10 minute ovation, the orchestra responded to the demands of the audience by giving the second encore in the symphony's history. In Berlin the applause was so tremendous that finally the orchestra was dismissed and Monteux appeared in his overcoat to leave before the audience subsided.

Mr. Elie's greatest thrill came when he heard Monteux conduct Stravinsky's "Rite of Spring" in the same hall where 39 years ago Monteux had conducted the premier performance of the same piece. At that time the audience broke into disorder and eventual riot after two minutes of playing, in revolt against the contemporary nature of the piece. Now, again conducted by Monteux with Stravinsky present, the repeated symphony brought a magnificent ovation and fantastically superlative reviews.

Mr. Elie was particularly illuminating in his comments on the Berlin visit. He described it as the chilling and serious part of the trip, contrasting the prosperous, cheerful population of West Berlin with the shabby depressing condition of East Berlin. Two concerts were given in Berlin, one for East Berlin with 2,000 people coming over. The Occupation is going along well, he said; the West Germans are through with war, but the gloom and devastation of the Eastern sector, still remaining as it was at the end of the war, is a dark and ominous shadow.

Mr. Elie paid great tribute to the Symphony as a group of men. Not only did they play superlatively but they got along well together with no disputes and no apparent display of temperament, showing great patience even in difficult situations beyond their control.

What was accomplished by the tour, Mr. Elie has been asked. He felt that the Boston Symphony Orchestra brought our culture to Europe. The Europeans, he said, are not impressed by our money, are bored with us as tourists, are disinterested in our gadgets, but we can impress them with our cultural attainments. Let us therefore continue to export our culture through such agents as the Boston Symphony, urged Mr. Elie. In that way alone will the Europeans see their culture and ours in common.

TO ADDRESS GOP WOMEN

Keen interest is being shown by Bay State Republican women in next Wednesday's program of the State Federation of Women's Republican Organizations of Massachusetts at the Hotel Touraine, Boston. The morning workshop meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Muriel S. Barnes of Winchester, will feature Hon. Reuben L. Lurie of Brookline, Commissioner of Correction and Lawrence R. Grove, who is in his 14th year as Clerk of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, as speakers.

The noon luncheon meeting will hear Mr. Henry M. Carey, Executive Director of the United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston. Mr. Carey has just returned from a four month mission to West Germany under U. S. State Department orders. He has al-

ESSAY CONTEST FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The Middlesex East District Medical Society is at present sponsoring an essay contest for all high school students of the district, in conjunction with a contest being conducted nationally by the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons. The purpose of the contest is an endeavor to acquaint boys and girls of high school age with the aims and accomplishments of American medicine as developed under a system of free enterprise. Essays must be written on the subject: "Why The Private Practice Of Medicine Furnishes This Country With The Finest Medical Care." Information regarding the contest and reference material has been distributed to all private and public high schools of the district. These are available from the respective representatives in each district. The towns comprising the Middlesex East District and the respective representatives of the Essay Committee are:

Melrose, Mrs. Robert Hornell.
Reading, Mrs. Charles Bailey.
Stoneham, Mrs. Thomas Devlin.
Wakefield, Mrs. Robert Dutton.
Wilmington, Mrs. Ernest MacDougall.
Winchester, Mrs. Gustav Kaufmann.
Woburn, Mrs. Daniel Joyce.
All essays must be submitted by March 15. The three winning essays will be awarded prizes of $50.00, $25.00 and $15.00 respectively and their essays will in turn be entered in the national contest in competition for prizes of $1,000 and several smaller prizes.

WINCHESTER AT WOBURN

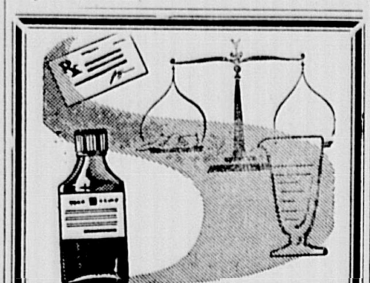

Winchester High closes its regular schedule tonight at Woburn when they meet the Tanners in the second of their annual two-game series. As a result of their co-championship of the Middlesex League and their great 18-2 record, however, the Indians anticipate an invitation to the Eastern Massachusetts Tournament at the Garden, where they are the defending Class B champions.

Right now, however, the Indians are concentrating on a victory over Woburn in tonight's contest. Last Friday's game was bitterly contested, as are all Winchester-Woburn contests, and the locals can expect Woburn to be much tougher on their home court. Realizing this, the Indians will go all out to win and to maintain their six-year supremacy over their Orange and Black rivals. Local fans are advised to get to Woburn early, for the game promises to be a sellout.

CURLING NEWS

This week two Winchester rinks are competing in the District Medal Bouspiel at Brookline. Dick Neiley will skip for Al Litchfield, Howard Eason and Geoff Neiley, while Fritz Craven will skip for Dan Morse, Howard Morrison and Carol Knowlton. The first match is Wednesday evening and the semi-finals are on Sunday. Results will be announced next week.

Last weekend our Stockton rink started off well by defeating Sherbrooke, one of the best Canadian rinks and who eventually won the Clyde Park Cup in the consolation. At the second match, we succumbed to one of the St. Andrews rinks.

Next weekend we expect to have a rink at the Elgin, Montreal, Bouspiel. Also next week we have four Nashua rinks at Brookline. Our four skips are Shorty Carr, Dick Neiley, Bill Davis and Al Litchfield.

Tuesday night the two District Medal rinks had a practice match resulting in a 9-6 win for Dick Neiley over Fritz Craven. Other matches were Waghorne's 12 vs Carr, 10, Davis 18 vs Joy 5, Neill 11 vs Hills 8.

PLAYOFF TICKETS

In the event there is a playoff between Winchester and Belmont High Schools to determine the current championship of the Middlesex Basketball League, tickets for the game will be on sale at both McCarthy's Apothecary and Hevey's Pharmacy.

Although the Headmasters' rules specifically provide for a playoff in the event the regular season's schedule ends in a tie, Winchester has thus far been unable to get together with Belmont on a time and place for such an event.

There is little doubt that a playoff between the two schools would draw a big crowd and be financially profitable, and Coach Ted Bartlett and Athletic Director Henry Knowlton are eager to play the game and decide the championship.

Monday morning at 9:55 John Sherwood of 13 Chandler street, Arlington, called in from a Highland avenue home reporting his car afire on Agawan road. The firefighters found the blaze confined to the front seat cushion, which was pretty well burned. The entire interior of the machine was also smoked up.

SACHEMETTES WIN
INTERSTATE GAME

The Winchester High School Girls' Basketball Team were victors over Kennett High of Conway, N. H. 52-40, Friday evening, February 27, on Winchester's home court. Last year Kennett had defeated the Sachemettes when they journeyed to New Hampshire, so Winchester took pleasure in evening up the series.

The game was one of the fastest of the season for the locals. The Kennett girls showed good ball handling ability. Their Captain, Ellen Davis, scored 27 points with as neat a set-shot as has been seen on the local court for a long time.

The Sachemettes outplayed Kennett from the beginning. The guards did an exceptional job in getting rebounds and delivering the ball to the forwards who in turn made a good percentage of their shots.

INDIANS BROKE
TANNERS' STREAK

Winchester High broke Woburn High's 10-game win streak as they defeated the Tanners 68-57 at the high school gym last Friday night. Woburn was well primed to upset the Indians and was "hot" in the first quarter but could not match the Red and Black over the last three periods as the locals gradually increased their winning margin. The game was marred by excessive fouling as feelings ran high and the officials called numerous fouls to keep the game under control.

Co-captain Stu Thomson was brilliant in the first period as he sank four out of six shots from the floor and four free throws to collect 12 points in that quarter. The rivals ended in a 15-15 deadlock as Woburn scored four points in the last 20 seconds to catch the Indians at the bell. Winchester outscored the Tanners 15-11 in the second period to take a 30-26 lead at the half, Woburn getting only two baskets in that period.

Coach Bartlett was forced to rest Thomson at the beginning of the third quarter as the Winchester leader had picked up his fourth personal foul just before the first half whistle. Norman Howard took up the slack in the third quarter, however, as he scored nine points to pace the Indians to a 14-9 margin for that period which gave the Indians a 44-35 lead. The final quarter was a high scoring session as both teams scrambled all over the court and discarded defense in their desire to score. As a result the final period was an amazingly high scoring affair with Winchester outscoring Woburn 24-22 as Neil Muncaster led the way for the locals with nine points.

Stu Thomson, Norman Howard, and Neil Muncaster carried the brunt of the Winchester scoring in this bitterly contested game. Woburn placed three players in double figures but they could not match the output of the Red and Black trio. The Indians had a nice 42 per cent shooting average as they made good on 22 out of 53 shots at the hoop. Norman Howard was the leading rebounder for the locals with 13 while John Atkinson did a sive rebounding in the final quarter as he gathered in four off the Woburn backboard.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

On Tuesday, March 10th, Miss Nancy Daley, our new Community Advisor, from Girl Scout Headquarters at 87 Beacon street, will be here at the office, to meet with different committees, and to give us news and items of interest from the viewpoint of the National Staff of the Girl Scouts, and to help us with questions and answers from our own regional organization.

There will be a Board of Directors Meeting at the Library on Wednesday, March 11th, at 10:00 a. m.

It's a big Happy Birthday for the Girl Scouts on March 12th, our 41st birthday, to be exact, as the organization was founded in this country just that many years ago. And it's a much bigger Happy Birthday to little Jean O'Neil, who will be one year old on that day. She was our Girl Scout Baby of 1952. Remember when we were watching Filene's window to see who she would be? Pretty soon she'll be wearing that uniform we have promised her. All Girl Scouts in Winchester wish her a very extra special birthday on this coming Thursday.

Brownie Cookie Drive
Today's the Big Day! Promptly at 3:30, Winchester's 350 Brownies, armed with bright yellow order blanks and the familiar window stickers, and wearing great big Brownie smiles, will launch their first all-Brownie Cookie Drive by ringing their neighborhood doorbells and taking orders for those famous cookies. It's the only money raising project the Brownies will participate in this year, and they are determined to show their older sisters what they can do with their own Cookie Drive.

There'll be a Filene Gift Bond worth $2.50 for the top selling Brownie in each school, and these winners, representing the seven Winchester elementary schools, will have a group picture published in the Star for all to see. And because this year is the 35th Birthday of Girl Scouting in Winchester, there'll be a Certificate of Merit, inscribed with the Brownie's name, for each girl who sells at least 35 boxes.

There'll be a prize, too, for the Troop selling the most cookies, a handsome plaque with the Troop No. inscribed on it, to be hung in the Scout Cabin or in the Girl Scout office. In addition, the winning Troop will be awarded a big basket of assorted cookies for a troop party.

The following corps of Cookie Pushers will assist the School Chairmen:

Lincoln School: (Chairman, Miss Barbara Harding), Mrs. Lawrence Palmer, Troop 25; Mrs. R. N. Carr, Troop 33; and Mrs. Ranty Kazarian, Troop 35.

Mystic School: (Chairman, Mrs. J. J. Loustanaun), Mrs. J. J. Maloney, Jr., and Mrs. Sheldon Root, Troop 22; Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Troop 23; Mrs. Philip Hauck, Troop 61; Mrs. Charles H. Ungermann, Troop 62; and Mrs. Lawrence Beckley, Troop 63.

Noonan School: (Chairman, Mr. J. J. Frotten), Mrs. Andrew Crawford, Troop 24; and Mrs. A. H. Donovan, Troop 37.

St. Mary's School: (Chairman, Mrs. C. E. McGreggs), Mrs. J. P. Collins, and Mrs. Henry McCormack, Troop 25; Mrs. Walter Prue, Mrs. John Kellier and Mrs. K. Fortiere, Troop 38.

Parkhurst School: (Mrs. Malcolm Dodge, Chairman), Mrs. Richard Fisher and Mrs. David Burnham, Troop 26; Mrs. R. W. Gray, Troop 27; and Mrs. Robert DeLong, Troop 31.

Washington School: (Chairman, Mrs. Herbert Thompson), Mrs. F. Parsons, Troop 28; Mrs. Richard Caldwell, Troop 30; Mrs. J. Coakley, Troop 36; Mrs. R. Carter, Troop 40.

Wyman School: (Chairman, Mrs. Richard Smith), Mrs. Nedham R. Brown, Troop 21; Mrs. Charles T. Main, Troop 29; Mrs. Frank Iandoli, Troop 34; Mrs. Herbert Ross, Troop 39; Mrs. Daniel Gaynor, Troop 60; Miss Judy Dignam and Miss Cynthia Ahlors for Mrs. Norman Padelford's Troop 64.

CRASHED INTO PARKED CAR

Two automobiles were disabled after 11 o'clock last Friday night when a Chevrolet sedan, owned and being driven south on Washington street by Frederick R. White of 36 Hopkins street, Wilmington, crashed into a Chevrolet sedan, owned by Mrs. Alice Smith of 10 Jefferson road and parked on the other side of the street.

Both cars were so badly damaged they had to be towed to Hager's Garage. No one was injured. White told the police his car was forced over onto the left side of the road when another machine passed him on the right.

ART SHOW COMMENTS

Mr. Bart Hayes of the Addison Gallery in Andover began his talk at the library art gallery on March 3 with this reference to time: "If time could be condensed as an accordion from the beginning of the world as we know it to 12 hours, the first protozoa appeared at 8:30 a. m., the vertebrates at 9:30 and prehistoric man at two seconds before noon. We today, in those terms are contemporary with the Greek civilization."

Why was writing great in the Elizabethan age? Why painting in the Renaissance. Why music in the 18th Century? The creative artist functions best through communication with others and other creative artists. Rarely is a heroic significant in creative endeavor and achievement.

"The 19th Century art flourished in realistic studies and observance of nature. Perhaps the great scientific approach, research and Darwin's theory of nature. The Victorian era—with its sheltered homes, draped windows and emphasis on detail—welcomed the outdoor visitors in pictures."

"As we in the 20th Century have conquered nature and developed heating, etc., we build our houses to welcome nature and the sun and the outdoors. Landscapes become part of our life through the great glass walls of the houses. We are not afraid of using nature so that the need of pictures of landscapes has ceased. The 20th Century emphasis is on 'Where We Live.' The emotional impact of man becomes more essential in our era."

"A sense of reality begins in the mind. Sculpture or painting is the construction of order; order is the confession of faith and faith is what man lives by."

"The painter believes in the existence of all perceptions, not only visual but spiritual, lyrical, dramatic. He can also reduce things to a decorative simplicity as a mathematician reduces a problem to simplest terms."

Speaking of the Zerbe and Nelson pictures of angels, Mr. Hayes said, "An angel today is not as mystical as it was in the time before aeroplanes existed. The aeroplane has robbed the angel of some of its mystic value as we, too, fly today."

In speaking of Carl Nelson's picture of a lily, "The lily is not so important against the area surrounding it, its relation to it becomes important and vibrant." In Nelson's "Annunciation" in terms of antiquity in the biblical idea using those angelic symbols—he makes this restatement of old traditions in a new medium—in new terms.

Shakespeare said through Petrarchio in the play of "Taming of the Shrew," "the mind that does enrich the body." Of the Kahlil Gibran, nephew of the Arab poet who wrote the "Prophet" picture "Down to the Sea," he spoke of Gibran's use of vague unreality with fascinating detail of things normally unnoticed, jellyfish under water, sea life under a microscope; the dull little snails have their richness. Of Esther Geller's "Three Ladies," "The figures are not important, but the rhythm motion is. Geller was and is a dancer. She is married to a musician. Pattern of motion is clearly aligned here." In Patrick Morgan's "The Freshet," he has tried to show the hope, the radiance of light, the fresh growth of spring, of new things of development. Mr. Hayes said in conclusion, "Can it be that everyone's point of view is consistent with everyone else's? No! In this exhibition the various points of view are obvious, but there is a common basis of conviction—of being one's self that is important of interesting to mediums, new techniques. Artists today are our own magicians of today. When looking at modern painting, one may ask is communication lacking? Is it not that (the observer) do not read Sanskrit or Greek and that I must learn to read it?"

TROOP 12 NEWS

Twelve members and two leaders of Troop 12 enjoyed a wonderful week-end at the winterized cabin at Camp Feltland. The weather was ideal for the trip and the boys took advantage of it by getting in lots of outdoor scouting work.

The camp life began on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock and was ended Sunday noon. Sports, scout games, and hikes were part of the week-end activity. The following boys went on the trip:

George Kean
Edward Bowler
Robert Dauphinais
Daniel Doherty
Edward Joyce
Edward McPartlin
Edward Callahan
Kenneth Keyes
James Walsh
John Looney, Jr. and the "Gingerbread King"—Peter Cullen.

The leaders were Assistant Leader Tom Morrissey, and Leaders Tony Doyle and Mr. James Donahue.

Troop 12 meets Monday nights 7:30-9:00 at the Lincoln School Hall.

ASSAULT CLAIM DENIED

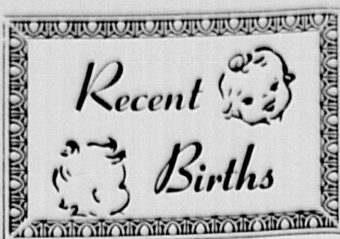

At a hearing in the District Court in Woburn last Saturday no probable cause was found in connection with the claim of assault that grew out of an automobile accident that took place below the Symmes Corner traffic circle Saturday evening, February 14.

David Ripley of 14 Wedge Pond road and Stephen Brown of 12 Washington avenue, Woburn, were the operators of the cars, both of which were disabled. Ripley claimed that Bruno assaulted him after the accident.

TELEPHONE CO. TAXES TWICE OWNERS' RETURNS

In the five states it serves, the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company in 1952 added 71,000 telephones and at the end of the year had 2,400,000 in service. President J. E. Harrell reports in the Company's annual report. Of these 62 per cent were dial operated.

The Company's rate of earnings on invested capital in 1952 was 5.41 per cent, a drop from 5.56 in 1951. Net income per share was $7.25 compared with $8.38 for the year 1951.

Harrell said that the Company considers the 1952 level of earnings to be inadequate to maintain financial stability and declared the inadequacy "the inevitable result of expenses increasing more rapidly than revenues." The year's revenues rose by 8 per cent and expenses and taxes by 10 per cent, he pointed out.

With reference to the Company's increasing expenses, Harrell said wages were the principal contributing factor to higher costs. "Out of every dollar the Company received in revenues in 1952," he stated, "about 54 cents went for expense wages and related benefits. Throughout the war and postwar periods, telephone wages have been adjusted periodically to be comparable with wages paid in other industries to employees of similar skill and training. Rate increases, however, have not kept pace. Revenues during the same period amount to only a little less than two-thirds of this increased wage expense alone."

He reported that for the year 1952 almost twice as much money went to federal, state and local governments in the form of taxes as went to the owners of the business in the form of dividends. Operating taxes amounted to $32,084,000 and excise taxes collected by the Company from its customers for remittance to the federal government totaled about $36,000,000. Operating and excise taxes together accounted for an average of $3.17 in every customer's monthly bill, Harrell said.

Declaring adequate telephone facilities for all phases of national defense vitally important, Harrell reported all such requirements were met during 1952.

LEGIONNAIRES MAKE PLANS

Commander Charles Meek, Jr., of Post No. 97 American Legion announces special plans for the March meeting. Because of the town meeting to be held on Thursday the 19th, the regular Legion meeting will be held on Friday, the 20th. This will be the annual visitation meeting which will be attended by many Legion notables, including Henry McClaren, Norfolk County Commander, and Joseph Walsh and Leo Anderson, department Vice Commanders. At the formal request by floor motion of the Post, there will be a discussion of the National American Legion's stand on University Military Training. Believing that there is widespread interest in this particular legislation now pending in Washington, Post No. 97 is breaking a long-held precedent and is inviting all interested people, veterans and non-veterans alike, to attend this meeting and hear the Legion's views on this most important piece of legislation.

Sandy MacKenzie's card tournament has created great interest among Legion members and the kibitzers are becoming more numerous each Thursday night. A group went to Post No. 45 in Medford this month and came back with not a bit but at least the best part of the honors. A return engagement here in Winchester is planned for later this month.

Winchester friends of Sam Murphy who wish to attend the testimonial dinner being tendered to him on April 11th, had better make haste to procure their tickets. The town hall can seat only 380 people, and the demand for tickets throughout the county is so great that sales must be stopped in the very near future. Several posts have already sent in checks for blocks of twenty-five and fifty tickets—at that rate the supply will soon be depleted. Winchester people should get their tickets at once at the Legion Home—that's just a word to the wise.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Monday, March 2, at the last monthly meeting Mrs. Mary Dean, District Director, installed Lola Petersen as our Unit President in a very impressive ceremony. Dorothy McCormack was presented with her Post President's pin. We are all happy to know Dorothy is well again, and will soon become active with us once more.

Chairlady Fran Burr needs all members and their husbands to help make the Birthday Party at the Bedford Hospital a big success. Be at the Legion Home, Vine street at 6:45 p. m. Thursday, March 12, if you need transportation. Please make a special effort to entertain our disabled veterans in one of their biggest parties.

There will be a St. Patrick's Day dance at the Legion Home, Vine street, Saturday, March 14. Dancing will begin at 8:30.

WINCHESTER O. E. S.

The Annual Meeting of Winchester Chapter No. 175 Order of the Eastern Star was held Monday evening, March 2nd at Masonic Hall, 1 Mt. Vernon street, with the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Reina L. Stewart and the Worthy Patron, Mr. Robert R. Phillips, presiding.

The annual reports of the various officers and committees were read and approved, followed by the appointment and election of officers for the ensuing year.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Troop and her committee, which concluded the evening's activity.

NOONAN-WASHINGTON PUPILS STUDY NUTRITION

For six weeks this winter, pupils at the Noonan and Washington schools have been learning the facts of good nutrition by observing the example of eight white rats. These gentle animals have been part of classroom studies to show the effects of good and poor nutrition. During this time, they have succeeded in demonstrating to pupils the fact that growing children need proper diet.

Four pairs of 28-day-old rats were used for the experiment. One from each pair was fed a diet that included milk, while the other received no milk at all. In the course of the experiment, those receiving milk gained weight and took on a healthy appearance. The others gained weight less rapidly and lost energy.

At the Noonan School, the fourth grade conducted its experiment under the direction of its teacher, Miss Mary Sullivan. Two fifth-grade classes at the Washington School carried out their demonstrations under the supervision of their teachers, Miss Lois Peebles and Mr. Roland Nault. Mrs. Ruth Graham was in charge of the third and fourth grade experiment at the Washington School. In each case, the pupils took complete care of the rats, feeding and weighing them every day.

The rats and cages were presented to the school by the New England Dairy and Food Council, and preliminary instruction was given by Mrs. Virginia Bardwell, a nutritionist on the staff of the Council.

At the Washington School the demonstration was climaxed by the presentation of a fifty-five minute play. Each of the classrooms wrote original sketches to illustrate the entire feeding experiment. The third and fourth grade room dealt with the feeding theme, and the fifth grades dealt with the preparations and conclusions of the demonstration.

Act I depicted the white rats dreaming back to the laboratory; Act II had grey rats visiting the white rats in their cages; Act III had some neighborhood cats coming into the classroom and finding the white rats. The lines spoken by the pupils brought out the details of the way each class carried out its portion of the nutrition experiment. Adding much to the realistic effect of the play was the clever costuming of the youngsters as white and grey rats or as the sleek fat cats. The program ended with the singing and dancing of original songs suited to the main theme.

Learning much from the experiment, the children thoroughly enjoyed performing in the play. The audience, too, was greatly amused as well as instructed. The entire play was presented at two assemblies; the first for the kindergarten, and grades one and two; and the second for the remainder of the six grades and for some 50 parents and guests.

On February 25, the pupils of Mrs. Graham's class presented portions of their play, entitled "Milk Makes the Difference," on television over Station WBZ-TV.

LIBRARY NEWS

The Winchester Hospital Library, under the direction of the Public Library, is going to have a new home. The third-floor East Solarium will be its headquarters as soon as work can be completed. In order to meet the requirements of an enlarged hospital, the Hospital Book Collection is also being enlarged. New book-cases are being installed by En Ka Society to house the increasing number of books.

The Hospital Library is indeed indebted to En Ka Society which is responsible for its continued growth; to Mrs. Frederick Ives, and other members of En Ka who have given a great deal of their time and energies to make this project possible.

Films At The Library

The Film program for this week, Friday night and Saturday morning will be: "Tippy the Town Dog," "Life Line of the British Empire," (Through the Suez Canal in the "Round the World Series), and "The Library Story" (color).

Next week's Film Program will be: "The Light House" (color), "Animal Oddities," "Italian Peninsula" ("Round the World Series), and "The Village Blacksmith."

ART ASSOCIATION MEETING

"Art is the comment of a human being on things," said Mr. Bartlett Hayes, director of the Addison Gallery in Andover, speaking at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Winchester Art Association, which was held in the public library on Tuesday evening, March 3.

The occasion of Mr. Hayes' visit was the opening of the Modern Painters' Show, which is the current offering of the Art Association and will be on view and open to the public in the library gallery during the month of March. The paintings loaned by the three Boston galleries, the Boris Minsky, the Margaret Brown and the Shore Studio are gay and colorful and to a person who loves only traditional painting, most provocative.

Mr. Hayes' engaging talk did much to sell the idea of a non-traditional approach to the enthusiastic audience. Most persons who heard him were intrigued by his point of view and ideas on art in relation to "Time," by which he ingeniously explained that in art we are all contemporaries of the Greeks. His sympathetic discussion of what the painter is attempting to convey enabled the group to understand the motivation of the brilliant modernists Karl Zerbe, Carl Nelson, Trefonides, Esther Geller, Kahil, Gibrain, Charles Wadsworth, Patrick Morgan, Conger Metcalf, Stephen Etner, Janet Polson, Channing Hare, Thom Fransholt, Barbara Swan, Hubert Lieberman, Arthur Polonsky.

A lively question period followed and Mr. Hayes was surrounded with people during the pleasant refreshment hour which followed the meeting. Hostesses for the evening were headed by Mrs. James B. Willing and Mrs. Richard Wyman. They were assisted by Mrs. Adin Bailey and Mrs. Wilfred MacKenzie.

The modern table decoration, as new as tomorrow and very much in the spirit of the contemporary show, was the work of Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood.

Sharing honors with the paintings was the exhibit in the cases of modern hand-wrought silver and jewelry by "Macefield." Winchester's own metal craftsmen William Mason and Mr. Field. Mr. Mason and Mr. Field were also answering many questions about their craft and the silver exhibit.

In the absence of Mr. Lamson, president of the art association, the speaker was introduced by the chairman of the program, Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff.

METCALF UNION MEETING SUNDAY

An important business meeting of Metcalf Union, the high school fellowship at the Unitarian Church, will be held Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Marcia Symmes, president, announces that among matters for discussion will be a project to furnish toys to underprivileged children and to Navajo Indian children through the Unitarian Service Commission.

The group will also plan a movie and record hop to be held in Metcalf Hall on Friday, the 13th. It will be a good luck party for members and guests.

Completion of a new constitution for the group, planning for participation in an Easter sunrise service and a recreation period will be included in the meeting's agenda.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Howell of 28 Central street are registered at The Riviera on the Halifax near Daytona Beach, Fla.

DOING RADCLIFFE FIELD WORK

Two students from Winchester are working for a six-week period as part of the field-work training offered by the Radcliffe College Management Training Program, a one-year graduate course in personnel and business administration.

The students are Miss Cynthia A. Brooks, daughter of Mrs. Sydney Paul Brooks, 284 Cross street, and Miss Janet A. Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Philip H. Johnson, 12 Dix street. Miss Brooks is working as a trainee in the salary administration division of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company in Boston, and Miss Johnson is with the Abraham and Straus store in New York City.

A month of field-working in the fall took Miss Brooks to the James O. Welch Company in Cambridge and Miss Johnson to the Hood Rubber Company in Watertown.

The Management Training Program, now in its sixteenth year, trains young women for junior administrative positions in business, industry, government departments, social service, and educational institutions.

The two full-time job assignments are integrated into six months of classroom work at Radcliffe. Academic instruction is based on cases which have been compiled by the Harvard Business School. These cases are descriptions of actual operating situations drawn from business organizations.

Among the courses offered are human relations, management methods and practices, marketing, accounting, and the functions of a personnel department. The instructors are for the most part members of the faculty of the Harvard Business School.

Mr. T. North Whitehead, director of the program, recently announced that fifteen $650 full tuition fellowships will be offered for the first time for the academic year 1953-1954 by the Radcliffe College Management Training Program.

Last Sunday night shortly after 11 o'clock Police Headquarters was notified that a car had knocked down a fence at a house on Webster street. The police found that a Ford convertible coupe, owned by Paul Strauch, had rolled from its parking place in the yard at 5 Webster street, damaging the back steps of the house and knocking down the fence.

"IMMACS" TO GREET EASTER BUNNY

The Immaculate Conception Drum & Bugle Corps and Drill Team under the supervision of Rev. Fr. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the church, will be featured in a huge Original Easter Bunny Parade in Waltham on Sunday, March 8th. Members of this group, outfitted in colorful blue and white uniforms will combine with other marching units to greet the Bunny when it makes a dramatic arrival via helicopter at 2:30 p. m. in the Reese Manufacturing Company Parking Lot on Prospect street.

Thousands of children and parents eagerly await this annual event and line the streets many hours before parade time to get a glimpse of the Easter Bunny riding atop a specially prepared float. The Bunny will be escorted up Prospect across Main and down Moody street along the well-known route to the Grover Cronin Store where formal ceremonies will be conducted by city, state, and store officials. Then the Bunny will sit on a beautifully decorated throne in the fantasy of Bunnieland forest and greet all the children prior to Easter.

A cavalcade of mounted cowboys and cowgirls from Whitman, known as the "Rough Riders" will lead this season's spectacle dressed in Western regalia.

Other attractions include bands, marching units, color guards, precision trained drill teams and life, bugle and drum corps units. Among these are:

The Lexington Fire and Drum Corps.

The Old Dorchester Post Drum and Bugle Corps.

The Akroyd Hood Drum and Bugle Corps of Marlboro.

The Esso Drum and Bugle Corps of Everett.

The Scottish Highlanders Bagpipe Band of Brookline.

St. Thomas More Drum and Bugle Corps of Braintree.

JAMES C. GAHAN

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

James C. Gahan, Jr., Assistant Attorney-General of Massachusetts, and John H. Flower, a newspaperman from Australia, will be the speakers at the next meeting of the Winchester Women's Republican Club. This will be an evening meeting at the Church of the Epiphany on Tuesday night, March 10th. Coffee will be served from 7:30 to 8:30.

Mr. Gahan, a resident of Belmont, is a graduate of Harvard (1936) and Harvard Law School (1940). He has been prominent in Belmont politics, serving as Town Meeting member since 1942, and a member of the Belmont School Committee since 1948, at that time the youngest person ever to be elected to that committee in his town. He is now engaged in the practice of law in Boston and is a member of the faculty of Northeastern Law School and a lecturer on Massachusetts legal procedure.

He has lectured widely throughout Massachusetts on State legislation and governmental organization, being rated as a compelling and forceful speaker.

The second speaker, John H. Flower is assistant city editor of the Sydney Herald, Morning Herald. He is in this country as an associate Nieman Fellow at Harvard.

The Nieman Foundation, established in 1938 by Agnes W. Neiman in memory of her husband, founder of the Milwaukee Journal, is awarded annually to 12 United States newspapermen for a year of study at Harvard. Three associate fellowships for a Canadian, an Australian, and a New Zealand newspaperman were announced a year ago, selections being made by newspaper committees in the three commonwealths.

Mr. Flower is 31 and has been on the Sydney Herald since 1939. He has served as sub-editor and foreign correspondent to Palestine and the Middle East and as assistant chief of staff and assistant news editor.

Mrs. Robert W. Reynolds, president of the club, extends a very cordial invitation to all who are interested to attend this open meeting. The transportation committee stands ready to provide transportation for anyone requesting it. Please call Winchester 6-2323-M.

Another attraction will be a group of trained dogs parading in their Easter Bonnets. These dogs, trained by Lee Schulmann at the Weston Dog Ranch, are proud winners of the Obedient Scholarship Degrees awarded by the American Kelp Club.

Herb Taylor, internationally famous clown, will also be on hand adding his brand of merriment as he cavorts with antics at the welcoming stand.

Mardi Gras heads will be another attraction of the parade in which famous characters will be displayed and acted out along the parade route.

Special floats by the Grover Cronin Display Department will add finishing touches as will the Red Cross float carrying this year's fund campaign theme, which is under the direction of Harold Pride.

Communications will be handled along the parade route by jeep-riding members of the Headquarters Company, Second Battalion, 182nd Infantry, Massachusetts National Guard under the direction of Lt. Laurence Smith of Waltham.

The Easter Bunny Coloring Contest will again take place this year for children up to 10 years of age. The Bunny to be colored will appear in this paper.

At the capping exercises of the New England Baptist Hospital School of Nursing Monday evening, March 2, Miss Shirley Roberts of Clematis street was one of the students to receive her cap.

Miss Roberts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts, and a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1951.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

As the first of a series in which they plan to feature the work of local artists, Macfield Jewellers of 10 Winchester place are exhibiting the work of one of Winchester's many talented craftsmen.

For the month of March they are showing examples of pottery made by Charles E. Abbott of 16 Everett road, a fairly new resident here, who teaches ceramics at Massachusetts School of Art. Mr. Abbott studied ceramics at the University of Michigan, Cranbrook Academy of Art and at Alfred University, New York, and has had considerable experience both as a teacher and as a studio potter.

His work is mostly in stoneware, a type of pottery more durable than the usual earthenware craft pottery and less brittle than porcelain. It shows unusual versatility both as to shape and to glazing, the latter having been his field of special interest for some years.

Some previous exhibitions in which Mr. Abbott has entered his pottery are: Massachusetts Craft Show, Worcester; Maine Craft Show, Portland, Me.; New England Craft Show, Worcester; New Hampshire Craft Show and travelling exhibition; New York Ceramic Society exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum, Art Alliance, Philadelphia; 50th Anniversary Exhibition of the Boston Society of Arts and Crafts; the Cranbrook Alumnae Invitation Exhibition.

Winchester Junior High is one of five junior high schools in Massachusetts which have been asked to contribute to a nation-wide survey of teaching methods and ideas now being conducted by the School of Education at the University of Southern California.

The survey is the work of Mr. Arnold P. Ayllon, and it is under the direction of Professor Myron S. Olson. Its purpose is to create a clearing house where teaching ideas of an interesting or unusual nature at the junior high level which have successfully been tried might be shared with other schools who need suggestions along these lines.

The ideas and information so gathered will be made available to interested schools throughout the country.

In his letter to Principal Raymond J. Dickman, Mr. Ayllon stated that Winchester Junior High was selected because it had been judged superior in many respects. He asked for the cooperation of the school faculty in sending to the university information regarding successful methods in such areas as:

Curricula
Extra - or Co-curricular Activities Articulation
Community Cooperation
In-service Training
Retarded Pupils
Accelerated Pupils

Despite the work entailed in the preparation of this information, Mr. Dickman believes that the project deserves any assistance that his school may be able to offer.

LATHROP SPEAKER

WINCHESTER MAN TO ADDRESS RESEARCH PARLEY

John B. Lathrop of 28 Grove street is to be the main speaker at the meeting on "Operations Research" to be held March 10 at the National Cash Register Auditorium in New York City. The meeting, sponsored by the Metropolitan Section of the American Society of Quality Control, will be attended by scientists and research executives of the New York area interested in the consideration of the latest organizational and management techniques for investigational problems in design, production, control, and distribution.

Mr. Lathrop was a member of the Operations Research Group which formed part of the staff of the Commander-in-Chief, U. S. Fleet. This group of civilian scientists organized to analyze combat data obtained during military operations, to determine the effectiveness of these operations, and to derive methods for improving the use of weapons and weapons systems in combat. Mr. Lathrop was assigned to the staff of various naval commands to assist in improving anti-submarine warfare, amphibious warfare and other naval operations.

For several years Mr. Lathrop lectured at the Naval War College in Newport, R.I., on military operations research topics. During a tour of duty in England, he was U.S. liaison with British operations research

DON S. GREER

GREER HEADS SELECTMEN

At an organization meeting of the Board of Selectmen last week Don S. Greer was elected chairman for the ensuing year.

Mr. Greer is serving the last of a three-year term, having been elected to the Board in 1951 after serving on the Finance Committee.

Winchester's new "Mayor" is associated with the J. W. Greer Company, designers and manufacturers of large industrial machinery, a firm founded by his father 36 years ago. Now located in Cambridge the company is now operating to a limited extent at its newly erected plant in Wilmington and expects to be completely installed in its new home by May 1.

Mr. Greer has lived in Winchester nearly twenty years, making his home at 372 Highland avenue at the corner of Lawson road. A graduate of Harvard Engineering and Business Schools, he is married and has two daughters, Diane, a freshman at Smith College and Charlotte Junior, a student at Dana Hall.

SCHOOL HEARING FRIENDLY

More than 75 persons attended the hearing at the high school auditorium held Monday evening by the Committee on Additional Facilities for the High and Junior High Schools.

Committee Chairman William J. Speers, Jr., presided at the meeting which was informal and consisted of a presentation and discussion of the Committee's plans for enlarging the present junior high school building to house a four-year senior high school and modernizing the older high school building for use as a good two-year junior high school.

Mr. Speers presented the plans and also answered many questions during a half-hour question period at the end of the meeting. Many questions were asked and a number of good points were raised.

Mr. Louis W. Ross of Louis W. Ross Associates, architects for the Junior High addition, was present but was called upon to answer only one minor question. The architect for the modernizing of the high school building, Mr. Jerome Bailey Foster of Winchester, was prevented by illness from attending the meeting.

At the suggestion of Mr. William L. Parsons, formerly for many years chairman of the Planning Board, Mr. Speers asked those present if they felt the newly presented plans are more pleasing than those for the same sort of project offered by a committee two years ago. There was an almost unanimous response in the affirmative and generally speaking the tone of the entire meeting seemed friendly.

HEADS SARGENT STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Miss Marjorie Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Carroll of Prince avenue, has been elected president of the Student Government at Boston University Sargent College of Physical Education, an outstanding honor.

Miss Carroll is completing her junior year at Sargent and has been vice-president of Student Government this year. She has been prominent on campus since entering Sargent, having been an assistant director of her class as a freshman and class president as a sophomore. She has been coaching Winchester fifth and sixth grade girls in basketball this season and is doing practice teaching at a Settlement House in East Boston, refusing an assignment to Regis College for the latter post.

Miss Carroll, or "Marge" as she is known to her many friends in Winchester, graduated from Winchester High School in 1950 as one of the outstanding members of her class, captaining the basketball team, playing field hockey and being school representative to the American Junior Red Cross convention at Wellesley College.

MRS. EVANGELINE BRIAND

Mrs. Evangeline Briand, widow of Charles C. Briand and mother of Mrs. Earle F. Spencer of Yale street, died Friday, March 6, after a long illness.

Mrs. Briand, who was in her 83rd year, was born in Junghy, Sweden. For many years she had been a resident of Cambridge.

Besides Mrs. Spencer, there are surviving, a son, Louis Briand of Braintree, seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the Berglund Funeral Home in Arlington and the interment was made in Greenwood Cemetery, Malden.

GERMAN VISITOR TO WINCHESTER SCORED BILL

Erika Quante, 21-year-old German exchange student who is studying in this country under an arrangement by the United States State Department, appeared last week at the legislative hearing in the state house on the bill which would deprive colleges of their charters for failing to rid their faculties of communists and communist sympathizers.

Several students and professors were heard in opposition to the bill, but there is Winchester interest in Miss Quante's opposition because of the fact that when she first arrived in this country last August she was for a short while the guest of Miss Linda Fielding, 12 Lawrence street, who previously had been an exchange student to Austria under the experiment in International Living.

Miss Quante, whose home is in Herford, Westphalia, Germany, was very outspoken in her opposition to the proposed bill, sponsored jointly by Rev. Paul A. McCarthy, Democrat of Somerville, and Thomas A. Dorgan, clerk of Suffolk Superior Court.

She said young students like herself are "shocked to find you have so little faith in your democracy," in addressing members of the committee.

"The people of the world look upon America as free," she added. "We have had bills like this in Germany under Hitler." Professors were removed for failing to teach what the government wanted, but that didn't stop them, she pointed out.

Europeans, she said, want to believe in democracy. "You've got to live up to the example you want to set. You have the opportunities. Don't misuse them," she added.

VINCENT P. CLARK

Vincent P. Clark, Winchester Town Counsel, was re-elected President of the Mayoral Committee at its annual meeting Friday, March 6, at its headquarters on Shawmut avenue, Boston.

DIVEN — REYNOLDS

Wearing a green wool dress with matching accessories Miss Jean Reynolds, daughter of Mrs. Erma Reynolds of 57 MacArthur Drive, Scotia, N. Y., was married on Sunday afternoon, March 1, at the First Baptist Church, to Allen Jerome Diven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Dillingham of Hawk street, Scotia, N. Y. The Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony which took place at 2:30.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Alice C. Hulise of Winchester, who wore a dress of black. Mr. T. R. Hulise of this town was best man for Mr. Diven.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Scotia High School, Scotia, N. Y. The bride has been a member of the Gamma Sigma Chi sorority. Mr. Diven is associated with Hathaway's Garage in Scotia.

APPOINTMENT OF INTEREST

The recently announced appointment of John M. Allison, present Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs, to the post of Ambassador to Japan is of interest because of the fact that Ambassador Allison is the father-in-law of a former Winchester boy and high school athlete, Kenneth W. Hulse, son of Mrs. H. T. West of 24 Mason street and presently a commander in the United States Navy. Mr. Allison assisted Secretary of State Dulles in drafting the Japanese treaty.

Commander West has recently been given a new assignment with the rather rare Naval rank of Commodore, being put in charge of a group of naval vessels. He expects to be sent to the Mediterranean in a few months and arrived in Winchester Tuesday with his wife, his daughter, Gretchen, and son, Dan, to visit his mother, Mrs. H. T. West of Mason street.

HEADS PLANNING BOARD

Ralph H. Bonnell of 10 Fells road was elected chairman of the Planning Board at an organizational meeting of the group held Monday evening. He succeeds Frederick S. Hatch, whose term on the Board has expired.

Mr. Bonnell, head of Bonnell Motors, local Ford dealers, is widely known both in and out of Winchester. He has served as Selectman and on the Finance Committee and as chairman of the Secondary School Building Committee to assume his new Planning Board duties. He headed the Republican State Finance Committee during the past Presidential campaign and is now a member of the National Committee of the GOP.

BARBARA H. McDONALD

GIRL SCOUT EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR RESIGNS

The Winchester Board of Directors of the Girl Scouts received the following letter at its meeting on Wednesday, March 11th: Winchester Council of Girl Scouts 573 Main street Winchester, Massachusetts Dear Friends:

It is with heartfelt regret that I send you my resignation as Executive Director to become effective June 1, 1953.

I would like to express my extreme gratitude to everyone who has made my stay in Winchester not only very enjoyable, but also productive of such steadily increasing growth in the interests and activities of our Winchester Girl Scouts.

Most sincerely, Barbara H. McDonald (Mrs. Frank J. McDonald) It is with very sincere regret that we accept this resignation. Barbara, as we all know her, has been here since December 1945, and in that time the great increase in numbers of Girl Scouts, as well as adult workers, speak its own story of her effective leadership and infectious enthusiasm. In 1945 we had 165 adults working with 365 Scouts; now we have 308 adult Scouts and 790 girls. Back in 1946 Barbara was one of the prime movers in establishing the Social Agency Group, along with Miss Corinne Wade and Mrs. Kay Roberts, wherein all social agency heads meet once a month to co-ordinate their work. She instituted hostel bike trips, and many were taken, including a very memorable one to Canada. She has planned and carried out spring trips to Washington, and a year ago conducted the outstanding trip to England, when 13 girls and 4 adults spent seven weeks in Britain, covering 400 miles on bikes, and 600 miles by train. Barbara also started the Girl Scout Hospital Aides group, and was definitely, but very definitely, connected with the efforts of all Winchester in erecting our superb Girl Scout Cabin.

She thanks us for working with her; she is also on the other foot, and we all say an equally hearty "thank you" to her for working with us. We may have wished her pleasure, but you may also be very sure that we have also given her many problems and just plain headaches, but she has come through them all with a smile and the courage to keep trying. We wish her all the luck in the world in any new ventures she may attempt, and she will always have a host of friends very glad to greet her whenever she appears in Winchester.

SAILING FOR BEIRUT

Mr. Koko Boodakian, widely known oriental rug dealer of Lochwood street, with Mrs. Boodakian, sails from New York today on the SS Exambion of the American Export Line to spend six months abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Boodakian were driven to New York yesterday by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Boodakian. Their ultimate destination is Beirut in Lebanon, but en route to the Middle East they will stop at Barcelona, Spain; Marseilles, France; Genoa, Italy; Patmos, Greece; and Alexandria, Egypt.

For three months the Boodakians will make their headquarters in Beirut, during which time they will travel extensively throughout that district, including a visit to their old home town of Kilis, Turkey.

Mrs. Boodakian has two brothers in Damascus and she and her husband will spend some time with them. Another brother is located in Marseilles and the Boodakians will also visit him during their return trip, when they are planning to spend three months in France.

ST. MARY'S SODALITY

On Tuesday evening, March 17th, St. Mary's Sodality will hold an Irish night at Waterfield Hall for members and friends immediately after a brief meeting in the Church. The program for the evening will consist of an entertainment movie on Ireland and refreshments.

The feature of the evening will be the "Debut of Smiling Little Sammie Orby" of Winchester.

The committee consists of Miss Mary Callahan, Organist in charge of Entertainment; Mrs. Mary Gorman, refreshments, and the present and past officers, Sadie Foley, Gertrude Barry, Margaret Murray, Marian Manoli, Bessie Connor, Stephanie Laird, and Margaret O'Leary.

Reminder — Sodality will receive in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass next Sunday, March 15th.

WINCHESTER WINS OPENER IN CLASS B TITLE TILT

Winchester High successfully opened defense of its Class B title by edging St. Mary's High of Brookfield 51-47 last Monday night at the Boston Garden in the first round of the Eastern Massachusetts Interscholastic Basketball Tournament. Accuracy at the foul line provided the Indians with their winning margin as they made good on 21 of 30 charity tosses, an excellent 70 percent shooting average. On the other hand, St. Mary's connected on only 13 of 33 foul shots while outscoring the Red and Black 34-30 from the line.

In the first period Winchester jumped away to an 8-4 lead on a pair of baskets by Stu Thomson and single hoops by Neil Muncaster and Norman Howard. Four successful free throws, three by John Atkinson and one by Howard, followed the four baskets to give the Schems a nice 12-4 lead. St. Mary's surged to close the gap to 12-11 before Atkinson chipped in with a basket and foul shot and Muncaster two free throws to make it 17-13 for the Schems at the end of the first period.

The Indians let down badly in the second quarter and were outscored 11-5 in that period to put St. Mary's on in front 24-22 at the half. A foul shot by Muncaster and a pair of baskets by Thomson were Winchester's only output in this period. This was the only quarter in which the Indians scored, however, which served to make the game closer than it should have been.

In the third period St. Mary's came up with three quick points to move out in front 27-22 but the locals fought back to take the lead from the stubborn St. Mary's quintet. Reliable Stu Thomson got the Indians rolling as he passed off to Howard who swished the net for two. Joe Dilorio drove in and under a foul to tie it, and Dave Pratt put the locals ahead with a driving lay-up. Baskets by Howard and Thomson and a foul shot by Pratt enabled the Indians to complete their third period comeback and take a 35-33 lead as the period ended.

The first few minutes of the final quarter were nip and tuck as the lead changed hands three times. After St. Mary's went ahead 38-37, Howard came through with a four-point cushion, 49-45, and followed it up with a three-point lead again 39-38 and they maintained a lead until the final whistle. Foul shots by Pratt, Dilorio, and Howard combined to keep the Indians just out of reach of the desperate attempts of St. Mary's to catch the locals. With 55 seconds to play the Indians held a slim 47-45 lead when Atkinson sneaked in for a layup to give Winchester a four-point cushion, 49-45, and followed it up with a three-point lead again 51-45. St. Mary's swished a set shot at the gun but the Indians walked off the Garden Court again as a Tech Tourney winner.

Although the Indians were not at their best, they deserve credit for their remarkable foul shooting average, 10 out of 11 in the vital last period, and for refusing to crack under pressure. John Atkinson played one of his best games of the season in a tireless performance that saw him come through with four foul shots in the vital minute of play. Pratt, Dilorio, and Howard came through in the clutch in the final quarter to sink 8 out of 9 free throws to keep the Indians ahead. Stu Thomson and Norm Howard were the top offensive players with four. Tonight the Schems meet Belmont High in the semi-finals and the largest Winchester crowd ever to appear at the Garden is expected to see the Schems battle their Belmont rivals.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Worthen of 19 Canterbury road announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Winsome, to Robert M. Matyas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Matyas of Hazleton, Pennsylvania.

Miss Worthen is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1949, and the Katharine Gibbs School of Boston. She is Secretary to the Dean of Architecture at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York. Mr. Matyas is a graduate of the College of Architecture, Cornell University, class of 1952, and is now employed by the Laboratory for Nuclear Studies at Cornell.

A June wedding is planned.

"THIS I DO BELIEVE"

The sixth in the series of Sermons entitled "This I Do Believe" will be delivered by Rev. Walter L. Bailey at the First Baptist Church, next Sunday morning, March 15. The sermon subject will be: "The Bible Speaks to our Deepest Needs".

This is a continuation of the series of sermons which Rev. Bailey is giving after having completed forty years in the Christian Ministry.

The public is cordially invited to share these sermons.

OVERFLOW HEARING

There wasn't room for all those who wished to attend the Planning Board hearing Tuesday evening in the General Committee room at the town hall, a number of those attending being obliged to overflow into the corridor despite extra chairs and settees.

Chairman Ralph Bonnell, who presided, considered adjourning the meeting to the Small Town Hall, but effective scouting on the part of Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., divulged the fact that the small hall was without heat, so it was decided to stay with the crowded conditions of the committee room.

The hearing was actually called upon proposed Zoning by-law changes inserted in the Warrant by the Planning Board, some of which would tighten the laws on stripping loam from land.

Though they voiced no strenuous opposition, Messrs. James A. Cullen, Nicholas H. Fitzgerald and A. Horace Weene did feel that the proposed changes would give to the power in the matter of loam removal Mr. Weene, incidentally, is the developer of much property in the vicinity of York, Chardon, Wellington and Sussex roads off Grove street.

More decided was the desire of residents of the Nathaniel road district to have a small piece of land at the rear of that road, now zoned for industry, placed in the residential zone. Several speakers were heard to this end, the final speaker, Mr. William J. Croughwell, making a strong plea for the change and receiving an ovation when he concluded his remarks. The Board made no announcement of its views in connection with this proposed change and as late as Wednesday had not decided its further action in the matter.

Though no hearing had been called upon the proposed parking lot in the neighborhood of the proposed change, some twenty Rangely residents appeared in strong opposition to the lot.

Among those voicing opposition were Messrs. Price Wilson, editor of The Star, William J. Croughwell, Allen O. Eaton, Henry E. Mofette and William L. Parsons, the latter formerly for many years chairman of the Planning Board.

Mr. Wilson mentioned a number of places available for additional parking in the business district and voiced his opinion that the taking of land in the residential district of Rangely for a parking lot would be but the first step toward the encroachment in the restricted neighborhood by business and the eventual erection of stores in Rangely. He told the Board he had been assured when dental buildings were constructed in Rangely that this violation of the Zoning map would be the last.

Mr. Lyman of the Planning Board explained that the town under an enabling statute can override the Board's Zoning Map to secure land necessary for the use of the community.

Mr. Parsons, in voicing his opposition, stated that it is not customary for the town to break its own laws and that the town should not do so. He does not permit individuals to do so.

Mr. Bonnell stated emphatically that the Planning Board is a good board, as vitally interested in the welfare of the town as any individual. He assured that the Board would not allow the taking of land for the parking lot to be postponed until after a public hearing can be held on the matter.

The Board will put the matter through the Planning Board has called a public hearing for the Town Hall Wednesday evening in the auditorium.

JAMES F. DOWD

James F. (Cap) Dowd of 24 Port street, Woburn, a native of Winchester and until his retirement proprietor of a tavern in the south end of Woburn at Main street and Lake avenue, died March 11, at his home after a long illness.

Mr. Dowd was born April 4, 1880, the son of Patrick and Mary (Flood) Dowd. He was widely known in both Winchester and Woburn and was a member of Winchester Council, 210, K. of C.

He leaves his wife, the former Eva Martin, three daughters, Miss Gertrude and Miss Isabella Dowd, and Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin, all of Woburn; three sons, Robert W., a member of the Woburn Police Department, Fred W., of the Woburn Fire Department, and James J. Dowd, of Woburn; two sisters, Mrs. Joseph O'Neill of Dorchester and Miss Anna Dowd of Winchester; also three grandchildren.

The funeral will be held from the Lane Funeral Home at 8:00 a. m. with requiem high mass at St. Charles Church, Woburn, at 9. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

FABIAN J. MORAN

Fabian J. Moran, a former resident of Winchester, died Monday, March 9, in South Chelmsford. Quarters funeral services were held at the Blake Memorial funeral home in Lowell.

Mr. Moran came to Winchester in 1929 from West Medford, living then on Wyman court. He lived for some years at 117 Forest street and later, from 1940 to 1947, at Lewis road, moving from that address to South Chelmsford. A native of Fairfield, Vt., he was listed while in Winchester as an importer.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

TO SING AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Wednesday evening, March 18, at seven forty-five o'clock, the Mystic Glee Club will be special guests and will furnish the music at the Union Lenten Service at the First Baptist Church. The Club's fame is well known throughout Winchester and surrounding towns. They have chosen the following selections:

"The Day of Judgment" — Arkhangelsky - Goines
"Thou Wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace" — C. Lee Williams
"Were You There?" — H. T. Burleigh
"Salvation Belongeth to our God" — Paul Telesnikov

The Rev. Dwight L. Cart, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, will deliver the Sermon.

The public is cordially welcome.

MISS EDITH F. CLAFLIN

Miss Edith Frances Claflin, lecturer at Columbia University and retired member of the Barnard College faculty who died March 5 in New York City, was the sister of Alan A. Claflin of Grove street.

Miss Claflin was in her 78th year. She was born in Quincy and after graduation from Thayer Academy and Radcliffe received her Ph. D. from Bryn Mawr, later studying at the American Classical School in Athens, Greece.

Specializing in the classical languages, she first taught at Monticello Seminary, now Monticello Junior College, and at Rosemary Hall in Greenwich, Conn. She was for 25 years until her retirement a member of the Barnard College faculty and until she became ill she lectured on Medieval Latin at Columbia University, her lectures being popular with South American students especially interested in literature of the middle ages, nearly all of which is written in Latin.

Miss Claflin was an authority in that field, being well known in educational circles for her translations from the Latin, both of religious and legal works. She was a member of the Governing Committee of the American Philological Society and of the Linguistic Society of America, as well as being a member of the honorary scholastic fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa.

Besides her brother in Winchester, Miss Claflin leaves a sister, Miss Adelaide A. Claflin of Quincy. Funeral services were held Tuesday, March 10, in St. Paul's Chapel at Columbia University. A committal service was held yesterday forenoon at 11 o'clock at Mt. Wollaston Cemetery, Quincy.

MISS HELEN L. FARRELL

Miss Helen L. Farrell, a native of Winchester and resident of Boston for the past 20 years, died suddenly March 10 at her home, 1607 Commonwealth avenue. She was 57 years old.

Miss Farrell was the daughter of Thomas and Hannah (O'Connell) Farrell. During World War I she served in the Navy as a yeoman and in recent years she had been an attendant at the Hahnemann Hospital in Brighton.

She leaves a brother, Robert E. Farrell of Tuckahoe, N. Y., and a sister, Mrs. George Taylor of the Bronx, N. Y.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

NAVY DISCHARGE

Quartermaster Edward Richard Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Ball of 7 Marshall road, has been given his honorable discharge from the United States Navy after two years of sea duty. He had his boot training at Newport, R. I., and is now planning to return to Boston University to complete his senior year.

MISS HOGAN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hogan of Salem street announce the engagement of their daughter, Peggy, to Richard D. Sheridan, son of Mrs. William E. Sheridan of Reading.

PHIPPEN — MORSE

A springlike setting prevailed in the Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Saturday, March 7, when Miss Cynthia May Morse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Morse of Winchester became the bride of Ensign Charles Gilman Phippen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Phippen of Hanover, Mass., formerly of this town.

Dr. Howard J. Chidley, Pastor Emeritus of the First Congregational Church, performed the four o'clock ceremony. Dr. Chidley returned from the south for the service as he also officiated at the wedding of the mother and father of the bride in September, 1931.

Two college friends of the bride presented the musical interlude preceding the ceremony. Miss Phyllis Salvini of Chester, Mass., played the organ while Miss Elizabeth Woodman of Oxford, Mass., sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me". At the close of the service while the bride and groom still knelt before the altar, Miss Woodman sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor length tulle gown with an exquisite seeded pearl illusion neckline and a fingertip nylon veil falling from a tiara of matching seed pearls. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white carnations, roses and sweet peas with streamers of white rose buds.

The honor attendant, Miss Marjorie Morse, sister of the bride, wore a long pale yellow tulle gown with tulle of Spring flowers, and carried a spring cascade bouquet while the bridesmaid, Miss Nancy R. Morse, sister of the bride, wore a long pale yellow tulle gown with tulle of Spring flowers, and carried a spring cascade bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy R. Morse, sister of the bride, and Miss Shirley Barry of Wakefield, college friend of the bride. They wore gowns in pale green tulle with tulle of spring flowers and spring cascade bouquets.

Richard S. Phippen of Hanover was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Ensign Burdett H. O'Connor, Jr., of Montclair, New Jersey, academy friend of the groom, and Donald W. Cameron, cousin of the bride, of Anglica, New York, and formerly of Winchester.

A reception in the Ladies Parlor followed the ceremony. The spring like theme was repeated in the yellow and greens of jonquils and in large decorative sprays of forsythia.

Both mothers were in the receiving line. The bride and bridesmaid and their attendants, Mrs. Morse, mother of the bride, wore aqua lace with pink accessories and corsage of camellias, while Mrs. Phippen was crowned in dusty rose with matching camellia corsage.

The bride graduated from Winchester High School in 1950 and is now a Junior at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst. The bridegroom graduated from Winchester High School in 1948 and recently from the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

The couple will reside briefly at 237 Main street, Amherst until Ensign Phippen reports for active duty in the Navy in April.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Augustus Hall of Upper Darby, Pa. announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Katherine Hall, to Thomas Aiken Kirwan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Kirwan of Glen road.

Miss Hall is a senior at the University of Pennsylvania, where she is president of Delta Delta Delta. Mr. Kirwan was graduated in 1951 from the University of Pennsylvania, where he was a member of Sigma Nu. He is now stationed at Hanna City, Illinois, where he is serving as a corporal in the Air Force.

DERRO PROMOTED

Joseph J. Derro, Jr., son of Police Lt. and Mrs. Joseph J. Derro of Washington street, has been appointed first lieutenant in the Army ROTC Regiment at North Carolina State College. Lt. Derro is a junior, majoring in Forestry and is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, Blue Key and Cadet Officers Association.

WINCHESTER HOOPSTERS GET ANOTHER SHOT AT BELMONT

Winchester High gets the shot they have wanted at Belmont High when the two meet tonight at the Boston Garden in the semi-final round of the Eastern Massachusetts Interscholastic Basketball Tournament. Shouting from two defeats, 43-40 and 50-43, at the hands of Belmont, the Indians welcome this opportunity to settle the score with their Belmont rivals where it will hurt the most—in the Tech Tourney.

The largest crowd in the history of Winchester trips to the Garden is expected to witness this climactic contest. Winchester and Belmont will take the Garden floor at 6:15, following the first half of the Weymouth-Needham clash. The winners of these semifinal rounds will meet in the finals tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock for the Class B championship.

Student and reserved seat tickets may be obtained until three o'clock today at the high school or at Hevey's Pharmacy and McCormack's Apothecary.

RED CROSS SUNDAY

During the first week of March, 590 Solicitors set out hopefully to ask their neighbors to answer the compelling call of humanity through Red Cross with the most generous donation they could afford. On Sunday, March 8, when the Winchester Trust Company was taken over by the Winchester Red Cross, these Campaign Solicitors came with the money their neighbors had given and $17,043 was the answer to the call.

The Winchester quota is $22,500 and as the campaign continues through March, the $5,000 needed to complete the goal should be contributed. It is especially important this year because of the Red Cross responsibility in providing Gamma Globulin for children — the new weapon against paralysis from polio.

Mr. Henry A. Dellicker, Chapter Chairman, said that congratulations go to Mr. Oleott L. Hooper, Fund Chairman, Mr. Daniel F. Barnard the Special Gift Chairman, to Mrs. Maybelle Long and Mr. William W. Davies Residential co-chairmen who did such a superb job of organization and to Miss Helen M. Monroe the Fund Treasurer.

Under the capable direction of Miss Monroe and her assistants the $17,043 was processed. The following volunteers helping Miss Monroe at the Bank were:

Mrs. Bradford M. Bentley, Publicity Chairman said that bringing the Red Cross story to the people and the success of the Campaign itself was due in no small part to the wonderful cooperation of the Winchester Star, the merchants all over town who gave generously of their space for window displays and to the Winchester Trust Company for the use of the Bank.

That this Red Cross Campaign is a community project of people helping people is shown by the 688 men and women who took part and did the actual work. To them all the Board of Directors of the Winchester Chapter extend sincere thanks.

WYMAN BOARD MEETING

Thirteen members attended the ninth meeting of the executive board of the Wyman Mothers' Association for 1952-53, which was held March 5th at the home of the recording secretary, Mrs. Eber T. Legates. Coffee and doughnuts were served.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, Mrs. Ingraham announced that Miss Lowry has selected two film strips, which will be a gift from the Mothers' Association to the school.

It was voted to engage Dr. Volta Hall of Massachusetts General and Boston Psychiatric, specialist in child psychology, to address the annual meeting on May 20th.

Mrs. Ingraham reported that Mrs. Callahan and Mrs. Chase are doing an excellent job of soliciting ads of the "Fun's a Poppin'" program, the parent-teacher show to be presented Friday, March 20th, in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Wyman is in charge of distributing tickets to Wyman parents.

Applications for the casualty insurance program to cover accidents to children at school, going to and from school and at school-sponsored projects, will be sent home with the children this week, the policy to go into effect March 15th.

The dance, Saturday, March 14th, promises to be a gala affair. It is the one fund-raising project of the year just for Wyman. Many members of the Association are planning pre-dance parties and Mrs. Ulfelder and her committee promise good music, delicious refreshments and the opportunity to take home such desirable items as a turkey, a spring plant, etc.

LECTURED BEFORE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

A recent lecturer at the final winter meeting of the Worcester County Horticultural Society was Miss Sybil L. Daniels, science teacher at Winchester High School. Showing color slides of "Garden and Wild Flowers," Miss Daniels took her audience on a "tour of gardens and a detour of woods where wild flowers grow."

Included in her lecture were many close-up pictures of flowers photographed in widely separated places throughout the United States. Among these were a cactus bloom in the Grand Canyon, cherry blossoms in Washington, azaleas from the Cypress Gardens near Charleston, S. C., and tulips from the Boston Public Garden. Many Winchester people will remember Miss Daniels' fine illustrated lecture of several years ago.

CURLERS WIN
DISTRICT MEDAL

The Winchester Curlers came through with a win of regional competition called the District Medal. This consists of the Country Club, Winchester, Nashua, the Boston Curling Club and Highland Curling Club of Rhode Island.

Dick Neiley's rink of Al Litchfield, Howard Eteson and Geoff Neiley first won from Dick Halliwell's Country Club rink last Wednesday night, then beat Nashua and Pope's Country Club rinks on Sunday. They are now the Regional champions and go to Montreal on March 28th for the Gordon International Bonspiel.

Winchester came within a hair of having two rinks battling it out for the District Medal. Fritz Craven's rink, in the preliminaries, made a wonderful comeback after a disastrous 6-end against them to tie Pope's Country Club rink in the final end. There was no justice in the final end for Fritz.

We were hosts Tuesday night to four Nashua rinks, as previously reported. The evening was most successful and results were:

Nashua No. 1, Jason, skip, James, Jason F. and Howard Bickford, 11 vs Winchester No. 1, Litchfield, skip, Morse, MacMinn, Symmes 13.

Nashua No. 2, Harding, skip, Dr. Deering Smith, Barker and Bearse, 11 vs Winchester No. 2, R. Neiley, skip, Eteson, K. Fulton, Hills, 7.

Nashua No. 3, Evans, skip, Tacy, R. G. Smith, Sweeney, 9 vs Winchester No. 3, Carr, skip, King, Neill, Righter, 13.

Nashua No. 4, Ramsay, skip, Gagnon, Hood and Field, 7 vs Winchester No. 4, Butters, skip, G. Neiley, Dolben, Knowlton, 10.

So Winchester won three out of four matches. Al Litchfield was chairman of this party.

This weekend Winchester has a rink at the Montreal Elgin Bonspiel, consisting of Charley Waggoner, skip, Dan Morse, Rex MacMinn and Ed Garrity. A report on this will be given next week.

March 17th, next Tuesday, will be next to last week on this year's schedule and we will probably hold the last of the round-robin championship matches. The attendance this year has been so good that, in spite of our desires, only a couple of guests (prospective curlers for next season) have had the opportunity of being invited for a try-out. With only thirty-two being the limit on the ice one night a week and with good attendance, the opportunity for expanding interest in curling is very limited. This year, more than ever before, has shown the possibilities for improving the winter operations of the Winchester Country Club if only we had our own rink and artificial ice. More than fifteen members of the club have had their names listed all year, waiting for an opportunity to try out the game. With our own rink the curlers would undoubtedly number over one hundred, with the addition of many women curlers, as has been found at the Country Club and Nashua. Who wants to build a rink and give all these people a lot of pleasure?

The Country Club is going to give their final curling party on Wednesday, March 18th. It is thought that the Brae Burn Country Club Curlers, new this year, will be included to make a gala Bonspiel. Six Winchester rinks have been invited.

The season's end curling dinner will be held at the club Tuesday, April 7th. Prizes won during the season will be awarded and plans for next winter discussed.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

While the Winchester Brownies are enthusiastically ringing doorbells, we would like all who are buying cookies so generously to know that the money earned through this drive all stays here in town to help with the expenses of our day camp, Camp Joy, and of our well-known Cabin, and for whatever else is needed within our local Winchester Council.

Thanks to the kindness of the Hillside Paint and Wallpaper Company, who donated the paint, and to Mr. Jeff McDonald, who gave of his time and effort, the shelves of the Girl Scout office are all brandy-spandy clean and newly painted.

The following letter speaks for itself. Needless to say, we are very delighted to have you read it:

Dear President:
The American Heritage Foundation has just notified us that you have been awarded a citation for your council's participation in the national "Get Out The Vote" campaign on November 4, 1952.

On behalf of the National Board, may I take this opportunity to congratulate all those who participated. Your wholehearted cooperation and that of so many other councils in helping to point up this vital duty of citizenship is one of which we can all be proud.

Sincerely yours,
Olivia Layton

PARKHURST ASSEMBLY

February, the birth month of many famous people, was the inspiration for the play "Miss February's Birthday Party," which was presented by fifth graders at the Parkhurst school on February 17. As part of the play the children impersonated many famous men and women. Also appearing were characters from famous novels and children from colonial and pioneer days. Later in the week the youngsters from Parkhurst shared their program with their friends at the Lincoln School in an assembly at the Lincoln School auditorium.

Among the pupils participating in the play were the following: Diana Kirkwood, Jean Withers, Linda Maroney, Gale Porter, Evan French, Douglas Scott, Deborah Whitaker, Eugene Woods, Lawrence Capodilupo, Judith Davis, Sandra Bruno, Robert Eaton, Robert Hodges, Donald Butters, Walter Hall, John Harrison, Michael Brink, Joy Ann Mitchell, Alice Dunn, David Bates, Thomas Black, Russell Anderson, Nancy Anderson, Cynthia Stewart, Linda Watkins, Sharon Nyere, and Anthony Albani.

CAMP NOKOMIS CHATTER

Camp Nokomis is getting all set for the 1953 season! Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McDonald, known to the campers as Pop and Jinx, will be the directors this year. Mrs. McDonald is the executive director of the Winchester Girl Scouts.

Camp Nokomis reunion, for former campers and prospective campers with their parents, will be held at the Hotel Bellevue, 1 Beacon street, Boston, on Saturday, March 28, from 12 to 4 p.m. Luncheon will be served at 1 p.m.

Winch Campers will be in the mail soon. Watch the Star for more news and call MELORE 4-4475 for further information.

ELKS TO STAGE IRISH DANCE

Winchester Lodge of Elks is holding an Irish Night Saturday evening, March 14, at their home on Elmwood avenue, the occasion being the first on which the Elks new quarters have been opened to the public.

A large attendance is expected and a program of square and round dancing, jigs, reels and hornpipes is being arranged, with other entertainment by talented performers to round out the evening. Edward McKenzie, Jr., is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

John Muyskens, Jr., director of admissions at St. Lawrence University, Canton, will visit Winchester High School Tuesday, March 10, at 10:45 a.m. Mr. Muyskens will interview students interested in attending college.

INDIANS OUTCLASSED TANNERS

SCORE 84-59 VICTORY TO SWEEP SERIES

Inspired by the brilliant play of co-captain Stu Thomson, Winchester High swamped Woburn High 84-59 at Woburn last Friday night. It was a humiliating defeat for the Tanners coming at it did before their largest crowd of the season, attracted by the prospects of a Woburn victory. The Winchester sweep of their two-game rivalry with Woburn marks the thirteenth straight victory for the locals over the Tanners who have not defeated the Indians since the first game of the 1947 series.

The Indians left no doubt as to the outcome of the game and effectively silenced the partisan crowd for the rest of the contest as they raced away to a 24-12 first period lead. Neil Muncester tallied 11 points and Stu Thomson 10 in this first period surge by the Indians that effectively crushed any Woburn thoughts of an upset. Thomson continued his inspiring performance through the second period to wind up with 16 points in the first half, making good on eight baskets in 12 shots at the hoop while setting up four more baskets for his teammates on direct passes for goals.

Only the sensational set shooting of captain McLaughlin of Woburn kept the game from turning into a rout as he hit for 12 points in the second quarter. The Indians walked off the floor at the intermission with a commanding 45-30 lead but permitted no letdown in the third quarter as they outscored the Tanners by seven points to post a 65-43 lead at the three-quarter mark. Again McLaughlin came to Woburn's rescue as he scored the only four baskets made by the Orange and Black in the final period as the locals continued their romp over their arch rival.

Stu Thomson has turned in many excellent performances for the Indians this season but it is doubtful that he has ever been more brilliant than he was last Friday night. His 10 baskets on 17 shots, his nine defensive rebounds, and his six assists made him the outstanding player on the floor despite McLaughlin's 25 points for Woburn. Inspired by such leadership, the entire Indian quintet played its best game of the season. Norman Howard and Neil Muncester were strong off the boards while scoring 18 and 16 points respectively. John Atkinson was back in mid-season form as he tallied 13 points while setting a new Winchester total for the season in assists in one game with 10.

Coach Ted Bartlett rates well-deserved praise for the careful preparation of his charges for this game, especially in view of the psychological problems involved. Except for the spectacular set shooting of McLaughlin, the special Winchester zone defense completely baffled the Tanners and caught them entirely by surprise as the Indians had not used a zone defense for years. In addition, he had anticipated and thoroughly drilled his team for the three defenses used by Woburn in their desperate efforts to stop the Winchester juggernaut. It was a superb job of coaching and the Bartlettmen added to its effectiveness by carrying out their instructions well and by putting the ball through the hoop as their 45 percent shooting percentage attests.

The Winchester Second team completed an undefeated season of 19 straight games by defeating the Woburn Seconds 56-35. Like their varsity mates, they defeated their Woburn rivals by a larger score than they did a week ago. This one was close for a half as the locals led only 18-17 at the half but pulled away in the third quarter

SCHOOLS CLOSE EARLY FOR SCIENCE MEETING

Elementary school pupils will be dismissed for the day at noon on March 18, in order that teachers and principals may attend a special meeting on the teaching of science in the Washington School. The formal portion of the meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Mr. Norman D. Harris, director of education at the Museum of Science in Boston, will deliver a lecture describing techniques and devices for making the presentation of science to elementary school children more dramatic and interesting.

Preceding Mr. Harris' lecture, there will be an exhibit of pupil and class science projects collected from all of the schools in Winchester.

Miss Sybil Daniels, science teacher at the high school and chairman of the science committee, will be in charge of the meeting. Other members of the committee are: Betty Batchelder, Myrtle Dodge, Margaret Donovan, Frances Dougherty, Ruth Graham, Margaret Harkins, Esther Laughner, Sarah McGowan, and Roland Nault.

THIRD DIRECTORATE FOR LEWIS

The appointment of Wilbur F. Lewis, Jr., of 6 York road as a member of the board of the Winter Hill Federal Savings and Loan Association makes the third directorate he has received this year.

Mr. Lewis, who won the Silver Star, Bronze Star and Purple Heart in the last war, is executive officer of Headquarters Company of the 94th Infantry Division. The other two directorates were in the Mid-dexes Apartment Owners' Association and the Somerville Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Lewis was also just named a trustee of the Somerville Hospital. He is in the real estate and insurance business in Somerville.

GOOD LUCK PARTY

A Friday the 13th Good Luck party will be held this evening by Metcalf Union, the high school fellowship at the Winchester Unitarian Church, in Metcalf Hall, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Feature of the evening will be the showing of the moving picture, "It Happened One Night." The picture will be presented at 9 o'clock to give those attending the Belmont-Winchester game a chance to see the picture also.

Dancing and refreshments will complete the evening's program for Metcalf Union members and their guests.

Junior High Fellowship will meet Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock for a special program in Metcalf Hall.

Chatting with a town official this week, the Star was again reminded of the great amount of time given to the preparation of the Warrant for Town Meeting and the Finance Committee's Report. Many hours each year are given to this work before the copy is ready for the printer, and after the manuscript is in type there is still much to be done, both proof-reading and correcting, before the printed pamphlet is ready for distribution by the police. How many citizens, and especially town meeting members, read their warrants and Finance Committee reports carefully, at least carefully enough so that they have a fair understanding of what is to be decided at town meeting. A glance at the precinct members from time to time through the meetings would lead one to suppose that in many instances Warrants are being read for the first time in the town hall. Certainly there is often a most apparent lack of understanding of articles to be decided, even beyond the confusion sometimes caused by the legal phraseology. It would be an excellent idea for every citizen to read his warrant carefully, and it is a civic duty of those elected to represent their voteless brethren in the six precincts of the town. Careful reading, plus a bit of questioning about points that may seem vague may make you decide that an article that seems innocuous enough as you casually skim over it is actually pretty vital, both to the town and to you as a taxpayer. Forewarned is forearmed!

ATTENTION COLLEGE STUDENTS

Editor of the Star:

There have been some changes in the military situation since you saw me last regarding Army Schools. Will you, therefore, get in touch with me during your spring vacation so that we may review your situation. Inasmuch as I do not have the time to get in touch with you individually I must rely on the indispensable Winchester Star to get "the word" to you either directly or indirectly. As the manpower situation tightens up I most devoutly wish everyone in town would take the Star and then there would be no excuse for saying "I did not know about it".

Again let me advise you to keep in touch with the very cooperative clerks at your Selective Service Board in Woburn. Today, at 18 years of age, there are no boys because in military eyes you are men. Please act like men and keep on the ball. I will do everything I can to be of service to you but it is not fair to yourselves — or to anyone else — to wait until the last minute and then expect us to move heaven and earth for any one individual.

A word to the teen-agers. Take off those garrison belts. You will have plenty of time to wear them when you enter the services and plenty of time then to handle guns. Now is not the time and you are asking for trouble. I have had far too many 17-18 year olders on probation coming to me not, of course all from this town, wanting to enlist. They cannot. I compare them, sadly, with the fine, clean young men in our High School and sincerely hope no small minority will ever bring disgrace upon Winchester High.

Cordially yours,
C. T. Coy, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

OVERHEAD NOT UNSIGHTLY

Editor of the Star:

I have observed some criticism of the method of abolishing the grade crossing at Winchester Square by elevating the railroad tracks. It has been said that elevating the tracks would be unsightly and expensive.

If the walls of the structure are properly faced with stone it will go a long way toward making it attractive. Also, a very small part of the structure will be seen at one time. As you enter the Square from the West Side it will not be noticed until you get to Common street, and a very small part from the other two approaches, Main and Mt. Vernon streets. In my opinion, if an attempt is made to raise the streets over the railroad track at its present grade, it would be very much more unsightly.

If, as proposed by some, Main street, at the Center, is cut off and traffic diverted to Washington street and across to Main street further on, it would be a great mistake. The appearance of the Skillings Estate would be ruined and, since it is known that the mud is 80 feet deep where our Park Department wasted its money, the cost of the foundation of the bridge here would be prohibitive.

Even if the tracks could be lowered I had understood that the Boston & Maine Railroad could not maintain their traffic at such grades.

Yours very truly,
George M. Byrne
4 Copley street

WINCHESTER HOMEFRONTERS

We are happy to have received three letters during the past week. The many Winchester friends of the former Virginia Warren and Col. Nicholas R. Voorhis will be interested in the following letter from Mrs. Voorhis:

Trieste, F. T. T.
February 11th

Dear Friends,

May I tell you how pleased we were as a family to receive the Christmas food parcel. I know it is intended for the men but there was something enclosed for every taste. The lobster paste was particularly appealing to me — not having seen any in over four years. I think it is a most thoughtful thing you are doing and deserves many more words of praise.

Your newsy letters we also have received with pleasure.

Thank you very much!
Sincerely,
Virginia W. Voorhis
(Mrs. Nicholas R.)

Also, Frank Corby, who is also overseas:

February 27, 1953

Dear Homefronters,

I received your most welcome Christmas package quite some time ago, and wish to thank you very much. So do my five tent-mates, who shared it with me.

It's a great feeling inside to receive a package, or the slightest bit of news from the friends that you fear may have forgotten you. I never realized how wonderful the folks from our little town really are.

I wish to congratulate you on the fine work you are doing; it is surely a morale booster to all of us so far away.

Thanks again.
Sincerely yours,
Frank Corby

A letter was also received from Richard P. Callahan, who is now in Illinois. Best of luck and a speedy return to Winchester!

AUXILIARY POLICE NOTES

Those members of the Auxiliary Police who did not attend the last meeting missed a really good time. A moving picture was shown of some basic first aid procedures, including the newest method of artificial respiration. This method lasted over half an hour and contained many good tips on what to do until the doctor comes.

After that, Bob Johnston served coffee and doughnuts, to everyone's pleasure. Next was a shooting match was arranged. The rivalry between the two teams was intense, and there was a great deal of cheering for favorites from the gallery. The scores were very close, with the result that the general discussion over who won proved to be almost as entertaining as the match itself.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, March 19, and once again, coffee will be served.

HONORED

Mr. Earle C. Jordan, Most Excellent High Priest of the Winchester Royal Arch Chapter A. F. and A. M. wishes to thank the companions of the Winchester Chapter for sponsoring him to the Convention of the "Order of High Priesthood." The Convention was held in Masonic Temple at Boston, Tuesday, March 10.

After receiving the degree, Mr. Jordan was presented a beautiful Bible with an appropriate Royal Arch design on its cover, and an embellished title-page bearing the name of the recipient.

MR. WOLSEY'S THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to the Winchester Star and also to those who supported me in the recent election.

I also wish to extend my sincere congratulations to Mr. Howe, the successful candidate for Assessor.

CIVIL DEFENSE FIRST AID

If a bad accident happened in front of your house and there were people hurt, what would you do, before the doctor arrived? Do you know how to stop excessive bleeding? Determine fractures? Would you be useful — perhaps save a life? Or just be in the way?

If someone in your house fell down the cellar stairs, what would you do? If the patient were unconscious, would you move him or not? How do you tell if he is in a state of shock? If so, do you raise the feet? Or lower them? Or what?

If your next door neighbor suddenly were badly burned, what would you do, right away? Cut away clothing from the burn? Or leave it alone? Apply a liquid? Or a paste? Or a grease? What would you give to relieve the awful pain?

If someone was pulled out of the pond in the back of your house this summer, apparently drowned, what would you do? When? Immediately? Or wait for someone else? What is the difference between the old and the newest method of artificial respiration? Is there any advantage? Do you know?

You can learn the answers to all these questions and all the others you can think of by joining the First Aid Class to be started the middle of March. It has been said that one person in every home should have knowledge of First Aid — remember, emergencies aren't always something you just read about. You might have a chance to save a life in the next ten minutes. If you know how. Do you?

There are only a few vacancies left in the coming First Aid Class — if you want to sign up, call the Civil Defense Office, Winchester 6-3257 as soon as possible.

LEGISLATIVE LUNCHEON

Senator Robert P. Campbell of the 6th Middlesex Senatorial district and Representative Mary B. Newman of Cambridge were the guest speakers at the annual Legislative Luncheon of the League of Women Voters held on March 6 at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. The meal was in charge of the ladies of the Methodist Guild.

Following an invocation by the Reverend John Snook, Jr., Mrs. W. Davies, president of the League, presented Senator Campbell, who is assistant majority floor leader. After speaking of his trip to Washington for the inauguration, he discussed the length of current legislative sessions, the bill for electric roll call, and in particular the legislators' travel and expense bill. He urged tolerance in the attitude of citizens toward their representatives and urged more contact between the two.

Mrs. Newman, a former member of the State Board of the League, gave her impressions of the General Court, the friendly relationship between both houses, the extreme pressure of legislative business, and as an example of the task, the fact that one bill is 253 pages long. She also spoke of her own campaign last Fall.

LIBRARY ACTIVITIES

The films to be shown at the library this week, Friday night at 7:30 p. m. and Saturday morning at 10:15 are: The Light House, The Village Blacksmith, Animal Odors, and The Italian Peninsula (one of the "Round the World Series").

Next week's film program will be: Wings to England, A Stroll Through Holland, The Insect Zoo, and a cartoon.

Music

The music program for Wednesday, March 18, in the Jere A. Downs Memorial Room at 3:00 p. m. and again at 7:30 p. m., will be: Slavonic Dances — Dvorak; Children's Corner Suite — Debussy; Siegfried Idyll — Wagner; Concerto No. 2 in C minor (First and Second Movements) — Rachmaninoff; Symphony No. 2 in D (First and Fourth Movements) — Sibelius.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Winchester Women's Republican Club met on Tuesday evening, March 10, at the Church of the Epiphany, with the president, Mrs. Robert Wood Reynolds, presiding. A coffee hour preceded the meeting. The purveyors were Mrs. George Findlay, wife of the attorney general, and Mrs. Charles Dynes, president of the Melrose Women's Republican Club.

Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, club chairman of education, introduced John Flower of Sydney, Australia, a Nieman Fellow at Harvard, currently on leave from his post as assistant city editor of the Sydney Morning Herald. Mr. Flower discussed world affairs as Australia sees them. He described Australia as a land the size of the United States but two-thirds generally unusable and with a population of nine million. At present the flow of migration there is greater than anywhere in the world, he said. One out of every seven is a new citizen, with vast numbers of stateless people as well as many Germans and Italians emigrating.

Australia is out on a limb, he said, sensitive to foreign affairs and surrounded by danger spots: Indonesia, Malaya, Communist China, the Middle East, all potentially boiling cauldrons. As a people the Australians have a sentimental regard for Britain but they also have a realistic point of view toward their present dangers, realizing that Britain cannot defend the country. This prompted the Pacific mutual security pact negotiated by John Foster Dulles.

"Let's get it over and done with," the Australians have thrown strong support into Korea and have forces in Malaya and at Cyprus.

The miracle of today, concluded Mr. Flower, is that America has accepted readily the role of world leadership which has come its way.

"In the role we find ourselves, we Australians, too, must remain very patient and very strong."

The other speaker of the evening was Assistant Attorney General James C. Gahan, who discussed the problems of the office of attorney general. It is not realized, he said, that this office spends seventy-five per cent of its time on state civil business, giving legal advice to the many departments of state government and dealing with such things as insurance claims, charitable trusts, state contracts, and currently interpreting the new McCarran act.

The present attorney general's office, Mr. Gahan went on, represents a wonderfully efficient team of new men who have at once sought to act quickly and economically in this department. Especially is this evident in the new approach to land damage suits, in which they have introduced new procedures cutting down large interest costs and effecting speedy settlements outside of court.

"The Republican Party is on probation in this state and how we determine how long we stay in. Two years cannot clean up the conditions that we found here," commented Mr. Gahan. Of his own office he said that the day of the political lawyer who doesn't know much law but knows people has gone by the board. Of the attorney general's office he can now be said, "This can never be a work room for intrigue."

GARDEN CLUB PRESENTS DR. HSIEH

When Dr. Tehyi Hsieh (pronounced tee-ye shee) comes to Winchester next Wednesday, another noteworthy program will be added to the list. The Winchester Home and Garden Club is the sponsor and members are especially urged to invite a guest and share the afternoon in a "Chinese Rock Garden."

Dr. Hsieh's life statistics and present interests read like something out of a fascinating story book. To begin with he is a Mandarin, Fourth Rank and rates the Blue Button, Old Regime. He is a graduate of Cambridge University and is the only Chinese member of the American branch of the International Law Association. Another high point in his long career was when he attended the Washington Disarmament Conference and also when he acted as China's first delegate to the Williamstown Institute of Politics. His diplomatic work has carried him to every one of our own state capitals and service in Europe, Asia, and Australia. So engrossed is the distinguished Dr. Hsieh in international affairs that his lecture fee from the club is slated to go for Chinese Philanthropic Service.

Because our visitor may be modest and stick to his subject of rock gardens a few more facts are pertinent. He now is Director of the Chinese Service Bureau with headquarters in Boston, is a Methodist, and a prominent Mason. No doubt you have read some of his books: "Our Little Manchurian Cousin," "Selected Poems of Wisdom," "Confucius Said it First." He is now completing "Chinese Commonsense Cookbook" and "Chinese Picked Tales for Children."

Dr. Hsieh's program is one not to be missed on March 18 at two o'clock, in the Winchester Library art room.

MR. BATEMAN HONORED

Mr. Thomas R. Bateman of Bacon street was honored last week when the State Senate passed resolutions upon the 50th anniversary of his admission to the bar.

Mr. Bateman has been for many years Counsel to the Senate, previously he served for 10 years in the State House of Representatives, during which time he was chairman of the Committee on Judiciary and Republican Floor Leader. Before his election to the House he served as a member and chairman of both the Finance Committee and Board of Selectmen.

The resolution, offered by Messrs. Bonte and Campbell follows:

Whereas, This date marks the fiftieth anniversary of the admission of Thomas R. Bateman, Counsel to the Senate, to the Massachusetts Bar; and

Whereas, During his career as a member of the Bar he has achieved outstanding success not only as a practicing attorney, but also as a public servant, having served ten years in the House of Representatives during which time he was chairman of the committee on Judiciary and Republican floor leader. Well trained in legislative procedure and with a vast knowledge of constitutional law and legislation, he has served with outstanding success and ability as counsel to this body, therefore be it Resolved, That the Senate extend its best wishes to Thomas R. Bateman for his splendid service as its counsel and its sincere congratulations upon the fiftieth anniversary of his admission to the Bar of the Commonwealth.

D.A.R. FORMAL DANCE

Winchester Town Hall offered a preview of Spring on Saturday evening, March 7, as the Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R. held its third Annual Formal Dance.

Ruby Newman's orchestra provided the music for this event, which, with its pre-dance dinner parties in private homes and at the Winchester Country Club, has become one of the town's most gala social events.

Mrs. William W. Goodhue, Chapter Regent, supervised the decorations which transformed the stage into a bower of beauty with spring-flowering bulbs and giant pussy-willows against a background of white gladioli and evergreens.

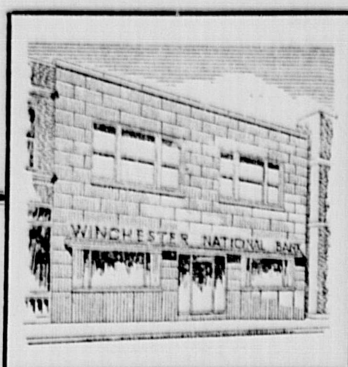

Mrs. William C. Cusack, general chairman, was ably assisted by Mrs. Hiram Moody in charge of tickets and Mrs. Robert W. MacArthur and Mrs. Kingman Cass in charge of tables. Presiding over the refreshment stand was Mrs. William P. Coady, while Mrs. Clifford McNeill provided check-room facilities.

Mrs. Roswell M. Boutwell, third, was in charge of ushers and flower girls; and other members of the Dance Committee included Mesdames Charles M. Vanner, Paul F. Stoneman, John B. Wills, Marshall R. Pihl, Frederic Wier, Malcolm Bennett, Arthur T. Rydge, Charles O. Nichols, Harris S. Richardson, and Harold M. Twombly.

LEAGUE HONORS TEN-YEAR MEMBERS

The League of Women Voters will honor its members of long standing at a tea on Tuesday, March 17, at the home of Mrs. Henry Dellicour, 15 Grove street. Some sixty members who have belonged for ten years or longer have been invited by Mrs. William W. Davies, president of the League.

In recognition of her outstanding record as head of the History department at Winchester High School, Mrs. Edward G. Stacy has been invited to talk informally about her recent three day visit to the United Nations. The League cites the impressive showing of Mrs. Stacy's students in the national competitive examinations sponsored by the American Association for the United Nations. Winchester has had a winner in all but one year since 1937, has won two national second prizes and one national first prize. This has been achieved by no other school in the country.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The annual "Open Meeting" of the Fortnightly was held Monday afternoon, March 9th, in the First Baptist Church with the president, Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, in the chair.

After a short business meeting, the large number of members and guests enjoyed the program given by Dr. Carl L. Swan, who, with informal commentary and vivid colored pictures, took us on a delightful tour through Europe, paying particular attention to the Scandinavian countries. We traveled by boat, train, bus, cable-car, and donkey and glimpsed some of the old cathedrals, some dating back to the 13th and 14th centuries, as well as many historical spots, buildings and beautiful scenes of the countryside.

That the people are flower lovers there is no doubt, and the many gorgeous formal and informal gardens were a joy to behold.

Mr. Swan proved to be a humorous and gifted speaker, and it was indeed a privilege to have shared his trip with him.

Preceding the meeting, at a table decorated in green and white in keeping with St. Patrick's Day with an ivy centerpiece, two miniature harps and candles, a delicious dessert and coffee were served. Mrs. Forbes H. Norris and Mrs. Walter L. Bailey poured, assisted by the following hostesses: Mrs. Edward Bartlett, Mrs. David E. Eden, Mrs. Leonard Griffith, Mrs. Edward Newhall and Mrs. Gerald Smithson.

In conjunction with a food sale during the afternoon, sponsored by the Fortnightly Philanthropies Committee, names were drawn for a large, beautifully decorated angel cake and also a large basket of fruit. Laura Bond Rhodes, winner of the cake, presented it to the Winchester Home For The Aged, and Mrs. Morse, a guest, won the basket of fruit.

PACK SEVEN NEWS

Pack Seven celebrated the 43rd Anniversary of Scouting with a Blue and Gold Banquet at the First Baptist Church on March 5, 1953.

The Banquet, served by Mrs. G. Hartley Curtis, Mrs. Bruce Pendergast, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. J. P. Edwards, Mrs. Arthur Hewis, and Mrs. D. Runci, was enjoyed by the Cubs and their families. Committee Chairman G. H. Curtis and Culmaster Bruce Pendergast welcomed Cubs and parents and introduced Rev. Walter Bailey, who told the Cubs of his experiences as a boy in Oregon. Mr. Arthur Hewis, in charge of advancement, made the following awards:

Den 2
Billy Jones, Bear Badge
Lawrence Judge, Wolf Badge

Den 3
Thomas Baird, Wolf Badge
Richard Runci, Wolf Badge
Bobby Joyce, Wolf Badge
Charles Kardaski, Wolf Badge

Den 5
Rodney Edwards, Bear Badge
Roger Erickson, Webelos Badge
Anthony Shields, Bobcat Pin

Mr. Lewis Foster, Chairman of the Troop Seven Committee, accepted Cub Roger Erickson into Scouting and told of the fun and adventure awaiting him there. The Pack was fortunate to have Field Executive of Scouting, Mr. Francis MacFeeley, present to accept new Cub Anthony Shields into the Pack.

The meeting was concluded with a puppet circus complete with animals, acrobats, tight wire performers and floats. The circus was built and operated by Herbert Clement, a graduate of Winchester High School.

Thompson, asked for reports from Philip Woodward as Secretary, Clinton Bennett as Chairman of the Budget Committee, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery representing the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts, Mrs. Theodore Browne for the Winchester District Nursing Association, and Gilbert Hood for the Winchester Hospital. Also present were Rowland Patrick, Ralph Jope and Richard Frazier.

The Campaign Chairman for the 1954 Red Feather Drive was unanimously elected; his name will be announced later.

The Annual Meeting of the Chest will be on Thursday, April 23 in the General Committee Room of the Town Hall.

TO ATTEND COUNCIL AT WELLESLEY COLLEGE

Invitations have gone out from the office of Margaret Clapp, President of Wellesley College, to all local alumnae, urging them to attend the Greater Boston Alumnae Council to be held at the college on March 17, from 10:30 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. Alumnae may return for the whole or part of the day, to renew their memories of college days and to acquire fresh knowledge of Wellesley, as she functions today. The Council which has been planned will be patterned after the recent three-day Alumnae Council, held annually for representative alumnae from all parts of the country. The March 17 "miniature" council has been designed for local alumnae.

Members of the faculty, including Ella Keats Whiting, Dean of Instruction; Dorothy W. Dennis, Professor of French, and Dieter Thimme, will speak at the morning session. After luncheon, Mrs. Charles D. Post, of Wellesley Hills, Alumnae Trustee, will introduce a group of Senior campus leaders who will give a student's eye view of the college today.

Margaret Clapp will conclude the formal session, speaking as an alumna and as President of Wellesley College. All will then adjourn to Bates and Freeman Halls, new dormitories, where tea will be served.

Mrs. Roger Burton of Oxford street is chairman for Winchester. She is being assisted by: Mrs. Frank T. Barnes, Jr., Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, Mrs. Thomas F. Haloran, Mrs. Parker Heath, Mrs. Paul B. Levelette, Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde and Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

On March 18th the Dartmouth Women's Club of Greater Boston will meet at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. The coffee hour at 1:15 p. m. will have as pourers Mrs. Richard Muzzy of Wellesley Hills and Mrs. Donald B. Badger of Winchester. The business meeting will be conducted by the President, Mrs. Wesley A. McSorley.

The program for the day will consist of a "Silent Auction" in which all club members participate, followed by a lecture "Setting Your Table" by Margaret B. Southworth.

D. A. R.

The March meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., will be held on the 16th at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Robert W. MacArthur, 42 Cabot street.

Guests will include Mrs. Alfred Williams, the State Regent; Mrs. James Hepburn, State Vice Regent, and Mrs. Edward Sawyer, State Registrar.

There will be a reception for new members who have joined the chapter during 1950-1953, and the Good Citizenship Girl, Elizabeth Freeman, will be introduced. Norma Woodward Sharkey will entertain as a reader.

Delegates to the State Conference at the Sheraton-Plaza, Boston, on March 19 and 20 are Mrs. William W. Goodhue, Mrs. Charles M. Vanner, Mrs. Charles O. Nichols, and Miss Clara Russell. Alternates are Mrs. Raymond C. Strawbridge, Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes, Mrs. Paul F. Stoneman, Mrs. John B. Willis, Mrs. Harold M. Twombly, and Mrs. George H. Peckham. Any member will be welcome by paying the registration fee.

JR. MRS. GUILD

The Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church will have a unique presentation at the next meeting on Tuesday, March 17th, at 7:45 p. m. Mrs. Allan L. Dow of Needham, Mass., will give an interesting description of the history, lives, customs and traditions of the quaint "Plain People of Pennsylvania."

The Dows lived for many years in Pennsylvania, and while there learned the art of making Pennsylvania Dutch pottery, and a display of their handwork will be exhibited as part of the program. Pennsylvania Dutch designs are symbolic and the meanings will be explained.

"A Pennsylvania Dutch Treat" promises to be an evening of fascinating entertainment for all! We will welcome as our guests the Business and Professional Women's Guild.

ST. MARY'S LENTEN SERVICE

Rev. Charles A. Dewey, director of the Salem Catholic Charities was the speaker at Lenten devotion last night at St. Mary's. The speaker next Wednesday will be Rev. James A. Garry of St. Thomas' Church, Jamaica Plain, formerly of St. Charles, Woburn. Each week a different speaker comes to Winchester for the Wednesday night service.

Friday afternoon the Stations of the Cross will be at 3:15 instead of 2:30. This is due to the change in school schedule, the return to the two sessions in elementary grades.

Sunday, members of the St. Mary's Sodality will receive Holy Communion at the 8 o'clock Mass. Fr. Anadore, the director, will say the Mass.

Mr. Robert Angus Johnston, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Johnston of Washington street, returned recently from a business trip to the West Coast. His three weeks trip took him to Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and California.

ICE PATROL BEGINS

WINCHESTER OFFICER HEADS COAST GUARD OPERATION

Early this month the Annual International Ice Patrol of the North Atlantic will be resumed by units of the United States Coast Guard under the command of Captain Garret Van A. Graves of 49 Oxford street. Preliminary airborne reconnaissance of the ice regions by Coast Guard Flying Fortresses has begun and will continue until the danger from floating ice is over for the season.

Captain Graves and his staff of ice specialists embark from Boston to conduct Ice Patrol with Coast Guard planes based at Argentia, Newfoundland and the Coast Guard Cutters Evergreen, Acushnet and Tampa.

International Ice Patrol was instituted as a result of the 1913 Conference on Safety of Life at Sea. Concurring nations outlined the jobs of the Ice Patrol as those of seeking out icebergs, watching them carefully, plotting their course, and warning all ships of their presence and movements.

This Conference provides that the United States operate the patrol and the Coast Guard is the designated agency for this duty. The Conference also reaffirms the North Atlantic Track Agreement, controlled by the shipping companies themselves, which provides for seasonal routes which are shifted on predetermined dates to avoid the southward moving ice. The Commander International Ice Patrol advises the Track Agreement Authorities when tracks should be shifted southward on earlier dates than those scheduled. This scheme adds greatly to the safety of North Atlantic shipping, affording protection against collision between ships as well as against ice bergs.

When ice begins to threaten the sea lanes (usually early in March) a vigil of the region east and south of Newfoundland (covering an area of about the size of the State of Pennsylvania) is enacted. This vigil is maintained for approximately 4 months on a 24 hour-a-day basis.

Coast Guard planes from the Air Detachment in Argentia, Newfoundland play a major role in the spotting and charting of ice floes that invade the sea lanes. However, when fog intervenes to make aerial reconnaissance ineffective, Coast Guard Cutters are dispatched to the ice areas and act as sentries against the potential hazards.

Throughout the ice season the oceanographic vessel, Evergreen, is engaged in collecting important data on currents, weather conditions, size and expected life of the iceberg and influences of the Gulf Stream.

All ice information is radioed to and collected at the Office, International Ice Patrol in Argentia where it is evaluated, analyzed, and then broadcast to merchant ships and all other vessels steaming the North Atlantic.

Once the iceberg leaves the Labrador Current and is picked up by the Gulf Stream, its life is cut short by the warming action. However, some icebergs are known to have floated as far south as Bermuda.

The United States has been the sole operator of the North Atlantic Ice Patrol since 1913. Under international agreement, operating expenses for the project are borne by fourteen participating nations. The amount of support of each is determined by each nation's tonnage of merchant ships traversing the ice area.

Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank attended the regional conference of the Savings and Mortgage Division of the American Bankers Association at the Statler Hotel, New York on March 2, 3 and 4.

YOUR ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER LETS YOU BRING THE SUN INDOORS! IN ANY WEATHER!

An electric clothes dryer brings the sun indoors any day — every day! Clothes come out just as you want them . . . fluffy-fresh and sweet-smelling — damp-dry for ironing or ready to put away.

You save the back-breaking work of lugging heavy baskets of clothes . . . avoid the menace of chapped hands and sniffles. Toss clothes from the washer right into the dryer and electricity does the work — in jig time! You save time — work — money.

See the new 1953 Westinghouse AUTOMATIC CLOTHES DRYER

- ✓ EXCLUSIVE SINGING SIGNAL — plays "How Dry I Am" when clothes are dried.
- ✓ 3-WAY DRY DIAL — provides proper drying temperature for all fabrics — damp-dry for ironing — bone-dry for storage.
- ✓ TUMBLING ACTION — clothes are gently tumbled in sunshine-pure air to fluffy-soft dryness.
- ✓ JUMBO-SIZE DOOR — doubles as handy loading shelf — eliminates stooping and bending.
- ✓ AUTOMATIC SHUT-OFF — stops dryer automatically when clothes are dried to degree selected.

HOME FROM KOREA

First Lieutenant Henry F. Barry, Jr., United States Marine Corps Reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Barry, 304 Main street, has returned to inactive duty after nine months in Korea.

Graduating from Holy Cross in 1951, Lt. Barry was stationed at several Marine Corps posts before going overseas. He attended Officers' Basic School in Quantico, Virginia and The Armored School, Ft. Knox, Kentucky, before joining the First Marine Division in Korea. During his nine months in Korea, he was platoon commander of the Marine flame-throwing tanks and was twice awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

Recent guests at Woodbound Inn, Jaffrey, New Hampshire, included Miss Agnes Nielsen of Winchester.

WINCHESTER COMMUNITY CONCERTS

At an all-day meeting on Tuesday, March 10, at the home of Mrs. Neil Borden, chairman of the Community Concerts in Winchester, work was begun on the enormous detail preparatory to the membership drive which will be held during the week of March 23rd. Kits were prepared for the hundred workers who, under the direction of ten captains representing all precincts of the town, will sign renewals and new memberships for next year's series. The drive will begin on the day of the last concert of the current series, that of the Longines Symphonette on Monday, March 23rd; and on Tuesday, March 24th, all workers, captains and directors will be guests of the Community Concert organization at a catered dinner at the Church of the Epiphany, Mrs. D. Reid Weedon, Jr., will be chairman of the dinner arrangements. Wednesday, March 25th, will be the final day for renewing present memberships, and from Thursday through Saturday, March 28th, new subscriptions will be accepted to the capacity of the high school auditorium, first opportunity being given those who, unable to obtain subscriptions last year, placed their names on a waiting list.

A spring salad buffet luncheon with homemade hot rolls served by Mrs. Borden provided a welcome break in the busy day to the following members of her committee: Mrs. J. Waldo Borden, Mrs. Charles DuFort, Mrs. Melville Hughes, Mrs. Stanley Neill, Mrs. Warren Price, Mrs. Frederick Walsh, Mrs. Frederick Schiffmacher, Mrs. Morris Whorf, and Mrs. Clarence Whorf.

THE SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will meet on Sunday morning at 9:30 in Ripley Chapel, at which time they will have as their speaker Mrs. James K. Romeyn. The chaplain will be Allan Cairncross, and assisting him will be Renny Johnston. The ushers will be Dana Sawyer and Gardner Smith, and acting as deacons will be Larry Stone and Richard Emerson.

Mrs. Romeyn, although new to Forum, is well known in other circles in Winchester, where she has been in popular demand. In her early years Mrs. Romeyn studied in New York City for a career in the music world, but waived her ambitions in that field to become the wife of a minister in a small country town. Upon the death of her husband she developed a hidden talent for the dramatic presentation of a subject and has subsequently been much sought after as a speaker. Forum will find of unusual interest Mrs. Romeyn's presentation on Sunday morning, of the topic "Distinction."

MARYCLIFF ACADEMY TO HOLD SCIENCE FAIR

On Saturday, March 14, and Sunday, March 15, Marycliff Academy, will hold its Sixth Annual Science Fair in the Academy auditorium from 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. Seventeen students from the junior class will display the scientific projects which they have prepared during the past three months. The exhibits are varied in nature; some deal with the field of Biology while others are research problems in the field of Bio-chemistry.

At 1:00 p. m. on Saturday competent judges will select the three projects which will enter the Archdiocesan Science Fair, and the Massachusetts State Fair. The judges are Reverend James T. Cotter, Vice-Chancellor; Brother Marianne, C. F. X., Principal of Mission Church High School; and Mr. Joseph Regan, professor of Biology at Concord High School.

On Sunday afternoon, Reverend Mother Cloonan of Marycliff Academy will award the prizes to the winners.

Parents and friends are cordially invited to visit the exhibits on Saturday between 1:00 p. m. and 5:00 p. m. or on Sunday between 1:30 and 4:00 p. m.

SILVER AND JEWELRY EXHIBIT

A collection of hand-wrought sterling silver jewelry and hollowware by Tamie will be shown at Handcraft House, 8 Thompson street, Winchester, on Friday, March 13th, for two weeks. This exhibit is part of the store's policy of encouraging young craftsmen by extending its facilities for their opening shows. Tamie is a senior at the Museum of Fine Arts School where she is majoring in jewelry and silversmithing. She has been represented in group exhibits at the Worcester Art Museum, the Museum School Exhibition, and the Independent Artists' Exhibit in Boston.

JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON SPRING MEETING

The home of Mrs. Joseph Dolben was the scene of the Spring Meeting of the Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton on Tuesday evening, March 10th.

The first act of the drama consisted of a business meeting starting Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, Jr., President, and supported by officers and committee chairmen.

The second act, a play within a play, was presented by workers from the Boston Psychopathic Hospital. The cast consisted of Miss Ogilvie, social worker, the doctor, nurse, therapist and volunteer worker. Their presentation of the life of one patient in the hospital, her background, disease, treatment and release, was beautifully done and most enlightening.

At intermission time delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. George A. Blair and her committee, after which the third act of the drama, the business meeting, was resumed. Everyone enjoyed the evening and all critics were enthusiastic about the play and the players.

REAR-END COLLISION

Paul A. McCarthy of 34 Sycamore street, Somerville, told the police his attention was diverted just before his Ford station-wagon was in collision with the rear of an Autovick truck, owned by the Wakefield Concrete Company and driven by John J. Curley of Ledgewood road, Wakefield. Both machines were going north on Washington street in front of the home of Dr. Charles Rooney.

McCarthy claimed injuries to his nose, head and left leg. He said he would go to his own physician in Somerville.

The station-wagon had to be towed to Hazzerty's Garage. The truck was not damaged and the driver was not injured.

BOYS BROKE LANTERNS

Last Thursday a resident of Jefferson road notified the police that some one had broken an ornamental electric lantern at the entrance to his driveway. Officer Thomas C. Parsons went to investigate and found that similar lanterns had been broken at two more houses on Jefferson road, while last Friday another resident of the street phoned reporting similar damage at his home.

Officer Parsons located two boys, one 12 and one 11 years of age, whom the authorities say are responsible. Their parents were notified.

MARYCLIFF GIRLS PARTICIPATED IN STUDENT EXCHANGE

Marycliff celebrated Student Exchange Day Thursday, March 12, by welcoming five students from Matignon High School in Cambridge with whom five Marycliff exchange representatives visited points of interest in Winchester and attended the Town Meeting that evening.

When the Matignon girls arrived at noon they were welcomed by Reverend Mother Cloonan and Frances Kellaher, president of the senior class. The visitors assisted at a sociology class where the Marycliff students conducted a panel discussion on current affairs.

Exchange kits were presented to them. These kits, prepared in advance by the Marycliff girls, contained copies of the Winchester town report and town warrant, copies of the Clarion, the Marycliff school paper, and scrap books with the history of Winchester, scenes of the town industries, pictures of homes, and clippings on exchange.

Early in the afternoon the group started on a tour of the town. They first visited the Library, then the Town Hall where they made a tour of the building, dividing into pairs to visit in detail certain departments. These visits were followed by a drive through the town, with the return to Marycliff in the mid-afternoon. There the girls pooled the information gleaned from the visits to the various departments of the Town Hall and were briefed for the Town Meeting.

The entire group of ten had dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Volpe before attending the Town Meeting.

The program was arranged in conjunction with a statewide program by which a city high school and a town high school were paired in an exchange group for the purpose of studying city and town government.

At a later date the Marycliff exchange representatives will visit Matignon and will go with the Matignon girls to a meeting of the City Council.

The Marycliff students participating in the program were Shirley Borella of Lexington, Margaret Doherty of Winchester, Frances Kellaher of Belmont, Patricia Tosi of Belmont, and Jeanne Volpe of Winchester. Miss Theresa Byrne, teacher of Social Science at Marycliff accompanied the group.

RULES and REGULATIONS

of the

BOARD of HEALTH

Winchester, Massachusetts
Relative to:

DISEASES DANGEROUS TO THE PUBLIC HEALTH

The following rules and regulations, made under the provisions of Section 31, Chapter 111, of the General Laws, shall supersede all rules and regulations heretofore adopted by the Board of Health of Winchester, Massachusetts, relative to diseases dangerous to the public health and the control thereof.

Regulation 1. Definitions. The following words and terms as used in these regulations, unless a different meaning is required by the context or is specifically prescribed, shall have the following meanings:

A. Householder. The head of a family or person in charge of a house as hereinafter defined.

B. House. Any dwelling or place of human habitation including school dormitories, hospitals, asylums and institutions, whether public or private, lock-up and jail.

C. Carrier. A person who, without symptoms of a disease dangerous to the public health, harbors and may disseminate the specific microorganism of that disease.

D. Contact. Any person known to have been sufficiently near an infected person or animal to have been presumably exposed to transfer of infectious material directly, or by articles freshly soiled with such material.

E. Placard. An official notice, written or printed, posted as a warning of the presence of a disease dangerous to the public health on the premises or in the apartment or room so placarded.

F. Quarantine. The restrictions to the premises, house or apartment of materials and persons that presumably have been exposed to a disease dangerous to the public health.

G. Isolation. The restriction that no person in any house as defined herein or any certain portion thereof subjected to order by the Board of Health, shall leave such house and that no person except physicians, nurses, and clergymen in attendance upon such person therein and authorized health officers shall enter such house, and that no person shall remove or aid in removing any persons or any articles therefrom, unless and until permitted by the Board of Health.

Regulation 2.—Reporting Contagious Disease. A householder who knows that a person in his family or house is sick of smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever or any other infectious or contagious disease declared by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, dangerous to the public health, shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Board of Health, and without delay report in writing to the Board of Health, stating the name, age and sex of the person so afflicted, the name and nature of the disease, the time when the person was taken sick, the exact location of the house and room occupied by the sick person and from whom milk and cream consumed by the sick person were obtained. Any physician who knows that any person whom he attends is sick as aforesaid shall also give such notice and make such report. If the attending physician shall promptly give the notice in writing hereby required, the householder may be excused therefrom. Blank forms for this purpose will be furnished by the Board of Health and their use is desired but the failure to obtain them shall not excuse householder or physician from complying with this regulation.

Regulation 3. Reporting of illness suspected of being due to consumption of food. Every physician and every superintendent or other person in charge of any school, hospital, institution, dispensary, laboratory, labor camp or other camp, who shall have knowledge of the occurrence of a number or group of cases of illness believed to have been due to the consumption of food, shall report the same immediately, by telephone or telegram, to the Board of Health.

Regulation 4. Control of Carriers. No person found to be harboring typhoid, paratyphoid, dysentery or other pathogenic intestinal organisms may engage in a food-handling capacity until it is demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Board of Health that the said person no longer harbors the organism.

Regulation 5. Removal of Quarantine Notice. No person shall without the permission of the Board of Health remove, obliterate or deface a placard which has been placed on premises in which there is a disease dangerous to the public health. In the event of the removal, obliteration or defacement of such placard, the householder shall immediately notify the Board of Health.

Regulation 6. Isolation and quarantine requirements. The following shall be the minimum requirements for isolation and quarantine of diseases dangerous to the public health:

Notes

1. Placards: The only diseases for which placards are required are: Asiatic cholera, plague and smallpox.

2. Definition of Adult: Any person who has reached his eighteenth birthday is considered to be an adult, for purposes of these regulations.

3. All of the above diseases except five should be reported to the local board of health. The five exceptions (chancroid, gonorrhea, granuloma inguinale, lymphogranuloma venereum and syphilis) should be reported directly to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health on special forms, provided upon request.

4. Food and milk handlers living in a household where a case of typhoid, cholera, bacillary dysentery or paratyphoid fever exists shall be excluded from their occupations as long as they continue to live in the same house in which the case exists, and thereafter until freedom from infection, as judged by clinical and laboratory evidence, has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Food and milk handlers living in a household with a recovered case which continues to excrete typhoid bacilli after convalescence shall be excluded from their occupations unless they have been inoculated with typhoid vaccine within two years.

5. The term ophthalmia neonatorum includes any acute conjunctivitis characterized by inflammation, swelling, redness or unnatural discharge from the eye (s) within two weeks after birth.

6. Patients who have lesions of primary or secondary syphilis on exposed parts of the body or in the mouth and are employed in any occupation requiring regular direct contact with other persons, such as barber, hairdresser, manicurist, waiter, waitress, nursemaid, domestic, etc., shall be reported by name, address and occupation, to the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, unless the physician will assume responsibility for seeing that the patient discontinues such occupation until the lesions are healed.

7. Patients with open tuberculosis should in most cases receive sanatorium treatment both for the benefit of the individual and the protection of his family. Those who remain in their homes shall observe all precautions necessary to prevent infection of the members of their families and of others with whom they may come in contact. This shall include approved methods of collection and disposal of the sputum, the sterilization of any article of clothing and of toilet articles which may become contaminated by the sputum, the use of separate dishes and eating utensils and proper sterilization of the same. The patient should sleep in a separate room. For details concerning precautions in home care a pamphlet of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health entitled "Home Care of Tuberculosis Patients" is available.

8. As soon as a diagnosis of tuberculosis has been established, arrangements should be made for the examination, including an X-ray of the chest, of all members of the immediate family, and of other persons with whom the person has been in close contact. If the family cannot afford X-ray examination by a private physician, facilities are available through the various state, county and municipal sanatoria. Persons with suspicious findings and those who have had contact with a tuberculosis patient should be kept under medical observation as long as advised by the physician. It is the responsibility of the local board of health to provide hospital care for cases of tuberculosis, when needed, and to see that contacts are examined where such examinations have not been made through a private physician.

When a case is reported, the public health nurse representing the board of health should visit the patient's home. She should instruct the family in the sanitary precautions described above, see that arrangements are made for the examination of contacts and if necessary provide transportation to the place where they are to be X-rayed, and should aid the patient in obtaining admission to a sanatorium if this has been recommended by his physician.

Thereafter, the nurse should make visits to the home at least once in six months to determine whether the patient has moved, whether the above-mentioned precautions are still being observed, and whether any new measures are needed to control the spread of the disease. If the patient has moved to another town or state, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health should be notified. In cases where the physician wishes to exercise complete supervision, the nurse should obtain such information from him.

The only acceptable reasons for the board of health failing to exercise the supervision outlined above are: refusal of the family physician to permit periodic visits by the nurse; or placing of the patient's name on an "inactive list" as a result of examination including X-ray.

No person who has or has had tubercle bacilli in the sputum or other bodily discharges shall be allowed to engage in teaching, nursing, dairying, or occupations involving food handling or the care of children until he has received a certificate from the board of health stating that his employment would not be dangerous to the public health.

8. Persons living in a family in which a case of tuberculosis exists or has existed within two years, and whose occupations involve food handling or contact with children, shall be required to have an X-ray of the chest to determine whether they shall be allowed to continue in such occupations.

9. Public schools are no longer required to exclude from school children exposed to the diseases listed in this table unless the regulations of the local board of health require such exclusion. (Chapter 71, Section 55, as amended by Chapter 89 of the Acts of 1952.)

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Health of Winchester, Massachusetts, relative to Diseases Dangerous to the Public Health, adopted by the Board of Health at a meeting held on March 9, 1953.

UNITED NATIONS STUDY GROUP

"The Charter of the United Nations: Should it be Revised?" This is the subject of one of this season's evening study groups under the auspices of the Winchester College Club. The thirty-six people enrolled are divided into groups to take charge of the various meetings.

They have been studying the questions involved, reporting to the entire group, and participating in the lively discussions.

The six sessions are being devoted to a consideration of the background of the United Nations, a careful study of the Charter, a discussion of proposed and possible revisions, and an attempt to arrive at some possible common mind on the problems involved.

The Charter itself provides that in 1955 the proposal to call a conference to consider charter revision shall be placed on the agenda of the General Assembly and such a conference shall be held if so voted by a majority of the General Assembly and by a vote of any seven members of the Security Council. This is, therefore, a live issue for the next two years.

At the fourth session of the study group, held last Monday evening at the home of Miss Alice Main on Herrick street, the discussion ended with a secret ballot on two important questions, a few of which may be mentioned.

1. On only one point was the group unanimous: "that the technical and service organizations of United Nations have done well and should be continued and increased in scope."

2. On another point the group was almost unanimous (Yes, 22; No, 0; Uncertain, 1): "that the United Nations Charter should be revised when the question comes up in 1955."

3. By the same vote (Yes, 22; No, 0; Uncertain, 1) the group felt that "provision should be made for disarmament, with argument control and inspection, along with the development of an effective police force."

4. "Is the voting method of the Security Council satisfactory in its present form?" This question, on which opinion was divided, only 6 saying "yes" to 16 voting "no," with "uncertain."

5. "The power of the Security Council, in relation to the General Assembly, should be reduced." The group thought, by a vote of 11 to 7, with 5 uncertain.

6. And on this there was also division, that in order to establish world peace the U. N. should be strengthened so that it becomes a minimal world government, these minimum powers being only such as are necessary to maintain peace." (Yes, 13; No, 8; Not voting, 2)

7. The Charter is in need of revision and one may secure a copy for a dime. The United Nations, with its sixty member nations, has tremendous possibilities. The group is finding its meetings a stimulating study. It appreciates the cooperation it is receiving from the Winchester Public Library. Many of the members have been thrilled by visits to the U. PARKHURST SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Parkhurst School Mothers' Association held a regular meeting Tuesday evening, March 10, in the Auditorium of the school. Preceding the meeting, coffee was served by Mrs. Paul Comins and her committee consisting of Mrs. Charles Siders, Mrs. Richard Fisher and Mrs. Benjamin Wild. Mrs. Stanley Neil and Mrs. Arthur Schmidt poured.

Mrs. Edward Peabody, president, opened the meeting with a warm greeting to the many parents in attendance.

Reports were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Schmidt and the Treasurer, Mrs. John Harrison.

Mrs. Peabody then introduced Dr. Forbes Norris and turned over the conducting of the meeting to Dr. Norris first called upon Miss Martha Cunningham who was well qualified to speak on the subject, "Interpreting Your Child's Report Card."

Miss Cunningham discussed many of the considerations pertaining to the grading of a child's work at school. She brought out that the marking — being done by humans — is subject to some error of judgment, and that a child's development, emotionally and physically, as well as mentally, is not the most stable article to measure accurately at any given moment.

Miss Cunningham explained some of the many tests given by the teachers to assist proper grading. One of these was the "Reading Readiness Test." Miss Cunningham stated that the goals of education are to prepare the child to think, to act, and to evaluate.

She reminded the audience that Report Card Marks are not a measurement of the complete child but are an evaluation of the child's work at that time. Miss Cunningham stated that a folder is maintained for each pupil. This folder contains the child's achievements, problems and grades. It accompanies the child to Junior High.

Dr. Norris next introduced Mr. Norton Demsey, Director of Guidance at the High School. Mr. Demsey traced the grading procedures through Junior and High School. He explained a number of specialized tests. He brought out that the purpose of intelligence tests is often misunderstood. Intelligence tests are of greater value in establishing the students' capacity than in determining the degree of retention of particular subject matter. He stated that vocational guidance activity is started in the second year in High School.

Dr. Norris summarized the comments of the preceding speakers. He reminded the audience of any marking system. He stated that the whole subject of marking is constantly being studied. Changes and improvements may be introduced from time to time.

Following these instructive talks, a question and answer period was held.

PRACTICE TEACHERS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Winchester High School is co-operating with nearby colleges and universities in providing opportunities for practice teaching to 12 students in such varied fields as French, physical education, music, commercial subjects, English, and science. The students are dividing their time into periods for observation, consultation, and actual practice teaching.

Included in the group are the following students: Barbara Miller, Richard Ham, and Thomas McGrath, from Harvard; Sally Lavenue, Anne Preston, George Gracie, Audrey Hurd, and John Bell, all from Boston University; Janet Sykes and Norma Nelson from Lowell State College; Jeanne Daley, from Salem Teachers College; and Lois Engle, from Bouve.

WINCHESTER MAN GETS PATENTS

James G. Baker of 7 Grove street was the recent recipient of two United States patents.

The first of these patents was issued on February 17, 1953, entitled "Five Component Object Lens For Aerial Photography." It pertains to a novel lens structure that is adapted especially for night aerial photography and which provides correction for various image aberrations or defects that have occurred heretofore when standard lenses were employed. In other words, lenses that are used for night aerial photography over wide fields must meet the most stringent requirements; and thus, the improved lens of this invention affords such advantageous properties as sharp images over a broad range of operating conditions and a reduction of the tendency of parts of the image to fade.

Mr. Baker's second patent, which was granted on February 24, 1953, and is entitled "Highly Corrected Telephoto Objective Lens," deals with improvements in lenses that are used for obtaining images or pictures of very distant objects. Lenses of this type are employed in aerial photography; and, in this connection, it should be noted that, of they are characterized by distortion, they are unacceptable for mapping purposes because, in the piecing together of aerial photographs taken by them during reconnaissance, there occurs a failure of the individual distorted pictures to fit one another properly and a consequent reduction in the value of the assembled mosaic or pattern.

Therefore, in this case also, a revision is made for a lens structure which corrects various defects that have heretofore been prevalent.

Mr. Baker has assigned both of these patents to The Perkin-Elmer Corporation, Norwalk, Conn.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly on Monday, March 23rd, at the First Baptist Church, will be opened by the president, Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, promptly at 2:00 p.m.

Do not miss this afternoon of wonderful entertainment! Mrs. John H. Wills, dramatics chairman, will present a play with members of the Fortnightly as the cast. Also, the club's choral group, under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth B. Hise, will give a spring concert which promises to be excellent.

The Community Concerts group in Winchester is enrolling members for its seventh season which opens in the fall, and it seems timely to offer a word of praise for the efforts of these community-minded ladies who are adding so much to the cultural opportunities of the town. During the past six seasons Community Concerts have brought to Winchester 18 artists who have presented worth-while music, both vocal and instrumental, of a wide variety. In past years Winchester has had little opportunity to hear good music within its borders and Community Concerts are doing much to improve this cultural need. Those responsible for this venture deserve the hearty support of all concerned with the best interests of the town.

It is heartening to see the new State Commissioner of Public Works, Winchester's own John Volpe, quoted in the Boston press as planning no "rubber stamp" on the plan to eliminate Winchester's grade crossing by raising the railroad tracks through town until he has had time for further study. Mr. Volpe is a man with a reputation for fairness and getting all the facts before making decisions. He is quoted as saying that one of the jobs he has to do in his new position is to resolve differences of opinion within towns. It will please many in Winchester to learn that our new Commissioner of Public Works now believes there are two sides to Winchester's grade crossing elimination and to take time to determine which of the two is best for the town.

At Wednesday evening's hearing on the proposal to take land in the residential area of Rangely for parking the suggestion was made by Mr. Ford that some steps be taken to prevent the use of town controlled parking lots by persons who drive to Winchester from surrounding towns and leave their cars all day while they go to Boston or elsewhere by train or bus. This suggestion has been made before and has always been answered by the Selectmen with figures to show that a great majority of the cars in all our lots belong to residents of Winchester. Mr. Ford stated that when he parked his car one morning recently in the new lot east of the railroad tracks near the station there were 39 cars already parked there. We doubt if any of those cars was Winchester owned, and when you start a day with 39 cars in a parking lot at twenty minutes past seven it is easy to see why there are few if any spaces available when the shoppers' cars get down town during the forenoon. We think Mr. Ford had a point. We have long thought so, and somehow we do not believe it absolutely necessary to cater to motorists' preference for parking space within 300 feet of where they want to go.

It was good to hear Mr. Greer pay tribute to Lester Gustin for the excellent job he is doing as the head of the Civilian Defense effort in Winchester. Mr. Gustin has devoted hours of his time and energy to setting up a workable defense plan for the town and his conception of what will be needed in the event of a war raid or major disaster of any kind is characterized by those who should know as sound and comprehensive. From the first Mr. Gustin has been tremendously interested in Civilian Defense, both with regard to its need, and its functioning in the event of need. We doubt if any aside from his family and intimate associates have any appreciation at all of the work he has done for the community in the field of Civilian Defense. Too many people scoff at the Civilian Defense effort as totality and unnecessary, yet probably none would look more eagerly to Civilian Defense for aid in time of disaster than those who now decry the efforts of the public spirited men and women who are doing their bit in this field. The Selectmen evidently think Mr. Gustin is doing a fine piece of work. The Star agrees, and it should not be forgotten in connection with his contribution to the town in this respect that it is being made without compensation. A job well done is all Mr. Gustin is getting out of a lot of labor and headaches.

ABOLISH PICKETING

Editor of the Star:
The assembly that drafted the Constitution of the United States, which became the law of the land after it was ratified by the states, was presided over by George Washington. The greatest Americans of the day, outstanding patriots, worked in the Convention "to form a more perfect union," as the preamble states, "to establish justice, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity." Article IV states: "This Constitution shall be the supreme law of the land and judges in every State shall be bound thereby." In Amendment XIV it is recorded: "No State shall deprive any person of life or liberty without due process of law, nor deny any person equal protection of the law."

The worker's labor is all he has to sell to support himself and family. It is his property just as much as the merchant's goods are his. Freedom, guaranteed by the Constitution, makes it lawful for him to work for anyone who has work to offer if he wants the job. A labor leader or anyone else who orders picketing of a plant to intimidate or prevent him from working is in a class with the highwayman and burglar who deprive their victims of rights guaranteed by the Constitution. Not only is the worker robbed but his wife and children are also victimized. The writer received a letter from the head of a CIO union who wrote that he was opposed to picketing and, because he refused to join the picket line, he was deprived of all the union benefits.

The Declaration of Independence was drafted against a tyrant king by a group of outstanding patriots on July 4, 1776, representing the Thirteen United States of America. The Declaration, signed by John Hancock and representatives of each of the thirteen colonies, concludes: "For support of this declaration with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

Isn't it time for the patriots of our country to do as much for the protection of the Constitution, and to pledge themselves that "Government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth" and that picketing ordered by president of labor unions or anyone else in defiance of the law shall be abolished forever.

"Those who deny freedom to others deserve it not for themselves, and under a just God, cannot long retain it," wrote Abraham Lincoln.

SERVED WINCHESTER WELL

Editor of the Star:
I ask use of your columns to pay tribute to a retiring town officer who has served Winchester well for over thirty years—Mr. Francis E. Smith.

Mr. Smith was appointed to the Board of Library Trustees to fill a vacancy in February, 1923. On joining the Board he was made secretary. For ten elective terms he has continued on the board as secretary. During his period in office he has helped to make the Winchester Library a cultural center in this town. When he joined the board, the library loaned books from a small collection in rooms of the town hall. With others he encouraged the erection of the present fine library. He played a part in bringing a professional library staff. He has supported the growth of our book collection, the development of a library reference service, the activities of our art association and the enlargement of our children's activities. He cast his vote for the building of a phonograph record collection and the establishment of the Jere Downs Room. After serving for many years with Mr. Edgar J. Rich, he had the satisfaction of helping to house Edgar Rich's Lincoln and Lee collection in its handsome room. As a Trustee of Town Funds he has encouraged gifts to the library.

Francis E. Smith is a worthy example of many good Winchester citizens whose devotion to the town makes this a good community in which to live. In paying tribute to him I know that I speak the thoughts of all citizens when I express my thanks for his notable service to the town.

Sincerely,
Neil H. Borden

BAPTIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The combined Youth Fellowships of First Baptist Church will make a fine Easter contribution to the church and to the community when they present the beautiful film, "I Beheld His Glory." Palm Sunday evening at seven-fifteen o'clock. This fifty-five minute sound film tells the story of the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus. It is said to be the best thing of its kind yet produced, and we are very fortunate in being able to obtain it.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to make this a part of their Holy Week observances.

DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

Twenty members of the board of the Winchester District Nursing Association were present at the regular monthly meeting on Friday, March 13th, at nursing headquarters, 540 Main street. Mrs. Wiklund gave a most interesting account of a seminar on multiple sclerosis. The seminar, attended by Mrs. Wiklund and Mrs. Peterson, was given at Massachusetts General Hospital, for public health nurses from all over the state.

Multiple sclerosis is a disease which presents formidable nursing problems. Doctor Adams, chief of the Neurological Service of the Mass. General Hospital, discussed the incidence and progress of the disease, and emphasized the importance of keeping the muscles in use. Doctor Watkins, head of the Department of Physical Medicine, showed what aids had been developed to help the patients help themselves. Mrs. Wiklund also presented her regular monthly report of nursing activities. There were 389 visits made by the nurses in the month of February.

Mrs. Wiklund then showed the members the system and equipment used by the nurses, including the library, the hot pack carrier and the new Autoclave, the last two being appreciated gifts of En Ka. Two new members were welcomed to the board, Mrs. Walter P. Keyes as a member of the education committee and Mrs. Allen T. Buros as a member of the public relations committee.

The nursing staff are to be hostesses to the Winchester Social Agencies Group at the regular monthly meeting on March 18. Miss Sophie Kasperovich, newly appointed Mass. State Supervisor of Public Health Nursing, will speak on "State Services."

HONORED BY LEAGUE

Thirty-four longtime members of the Winchester League of Women Voters, including quite a few of the 1920 founding members, were honored at a tea held Tuesday, March 17, at the home of Mrs. Henry Dellicker, 15 Grove street. Five former members of the State board of the League and six former presidents of the Winchester League were among those present.

Greeted as sustaining members by Mrs. William W. Davies, president, the group heard Mrs. Malcolm S. Nichols, president of the League, and Mrs. Edward G. Stacy, head of the history department at Winchester High School. Mrs. Stacy gave a delightful informal account of her recent three day visit to the United Nations.

Members attending the tea were: Mrs. Gordon Fisher, Mrs. Gerald R. Barrett, Mrs. William E. Spaulding, Mrs. Walter H. Wilcox, Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, Mrs. Philip Woodward, Mrs. Mariel Barnes, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, Mrs. Rodney W. Long, Mrs. Lawrence W. Hawkins, Mrs. Robert S. Baylies, Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols, Mrs. Malcolm S. Nichols, Mrs. Daniel C. Dennett, Mrs. Don S. Greer, Mrs. Robert M. Kenney, Mrs. Theodore C. Browne, Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Muegah, Mrs. Richard W. Wyman, Mrs. Waldo W. Lyons, Mrs. Philip H. Johnson, Mrs. W. G. Le. Loop, Mrs. Walter W. Winslip, Mrs. Fred M. Samson, Mrs. William C. Cusack, Mrs. Leon F. Sargent, Mrs. George G. Brayley, Mrs. Howard J. Childley, Mrs. Reginald Bradley, Mrs. Daniel Kelley, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, Mrs. Maxwell McCreevy.

Mr. and Mrs. James Doty of Ipswich, formerly of Winchester, are reported as headed for Florida to visit Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Collins at their winter home in St. Armond.

LENTEN VESPERS

(Contributed)

A rare musical treat was given to Winchester people who attended the Lenten Vespers at the Unitarian Church last Sunday.

The music rendered by the augmented choir, soloists and organist will live in our memories for time to come.

The prelude, "Adagio for Strings" by Barber, played by a true master of the organ, Mr. Weston L. Brannen, put listeners in a mood of real expectancy for what was to follow.

The "Recordare" from "Requiem" by Mozart was sung by the Unitarian Quartette, four true artists, who gave to it the real interpretation of the composer.

For the outstanding rendition of the "Missa Brevis," a Catholic mass by Kodaly, not enough can be said. The highest praise goes to the director, Mrs. Mary Witham, who showed her true artistic ability in choosing to perform this magnificent mass which has been performed only once before in this area to our knowledge. It was written by a contemporary Hungarian composer who lives behind the Iron Curtain at the present time.

Much praise also goes to the two groups of singers who made up the choir for this occasion and to the four soloists of the quartette, whose solo voices were so beautifully interwoven with the choir.

The masterful playing of the organist in this tremendous musical work made this rendition an achievement almost unbelievable and provided the satisfaction of a performance well done.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DADS' CLUB

On last Friday evening about 100 dads enjoyed, in the new school hall, the annual Chowder Party, and a most interesting talk by F. B. I. Agent John T. Delaney.

Mr. Joseph Cussen, after the report, held a brief business meeting. Reports were made by Ben Marshall, pertaining to the Scouts, and by Jack Wakefield, concerning the Cubs. Close to 90 boys participated in these organizations, sponsored by the Dads' Club. Reports of social activities were made by Gerry Fallows, and gifts to the school by Herb Thompson.

A delegation from the Lincoln School were in attendance to get ideas for their proposed club.

F.B.I. Agent John T. Delaney then gave an excellent talk on the history of the F.B.I., its training program, and some of the "Closed Cases." An animated question period followed, during which the local director, William F. Cronin, participated.

Great credit for a grand evening goes to George Rowe and his committee, who prepared the program, and served as waiters for the catered program.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL COUPLES CLUB

The regular meeting of the Couples Club of the Second Congregational Church will be held Thursday, March 26, at 8:00 p. m.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Captain Oliver A. Peterson of the U. S. Coast Guard. Captain Peterson was commanding officer of the Coast Guard Cutter "Eastwind" from May 1950 to November 1952. During that time he took his vessel to a point 422 miles from the North Pole which is the most northerly point reached by any vessel under its own power. Captain Peterson will show colored slides of glacial and iceburg formations.

Refreshments will be served following the address.

CURLERS END SEASON

Tuesday and Wednesday nights were the gala endings of the season's curling.

The last of the regular seasons was on Tuesday evening and the matches resulted as follows: Wagborne 16 vs Morse 7, D. Neiley 11 vs G. Neiley 6, Hunt 11 vs Fessen-

Wednesday afternoon and evening the Country Club curlers gave the Winchester curlers a very fine party. Six Winchester rinks attended and included everyone who could accept their invitation. Two sessions on the ice, at 2 and 4:30 p. m., were needed to take care of all the Country Club, Winchester and Brae Burn curlers, then we had cocktails and a very fine dinner. This might be called the Little Boston Borspiel.

Additional events include the spring curlers dinner on April 7th (Tuesday) and the annual golf party in May for the Country Club curlers. The last bonspiel of the season will be at Montreal on March 26 and 27, at which our District Medal winning rink will attend. This rink R. Neiley, skip, Litchfield, Ekson and G. Neiley. They will also curl in the Gordon International there on the 28th and it is expected that a second Winchester rink consisting of Joy, skip, Carr, Bonnell and Butters will also attend the Gordon International.

A Winchester rink consisting of Carr, Ekson, K. Fulton and King, with Murphy as a substitute, are now at the Hamilton, Ontario, bonspiel.

The Montreal Elgin rink last week-end did not have any wins, but enjoyed the bonspiel immensely. The Canadian curlers are the finest of hosts. One rink we curled averaged 73 years old, so there is still a lot of fun left for many Winchester curlers. Another rink was LaColle, a small township of 1500 near Montreal. Most of the residents are customs inspectors. Forty years ago they decided they needed a curling rink, so they raised a few hundred dollars, bought a couple of war surplus buildings (only for contributing as much as $25.00) and this year went on the cuff for artificial ice. These buildings are now the social center of the town.

STAFF AND KEY

On Tuesday, March seventeenth, the Executive Committee of the Winchester Staff and Key Society held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Mardulier. During the business meeting it was decided that a general meeting of present members and potential members would be held on March 24th, at the home of Miss Virginia McPartland, 86 Church street. All those who are interested in participating in the Staff and Key parties are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

After the business meeting refreshments were served and news of past and present members exchanged. Of greatest interest to all the members is the fact that Susan Hight, who sang one of the principal roles in "The Gondoliers," has now assumed the role previously held by Isabel Bigley in "Guys and Dolls," now playing in New York. David Black, who was Niki in "A Waltz Dream," is studying in Rome this year.

The members of the committee present were Marjorie McGaw, president, James Livingstone, vice-president, Lou Zimmerman, secretary, George S. Hebb, Jr., production manager, Mrs. Stewart Cushman, publicity chairman, Doris Zimmerman, subscription membership chairman, and Mrs. Henry Fernald, member-at-large.

LENTEN TEA

Next Friday, March 27th, from 3 to 5 in the afternoon, the Annual Lenten Tea and Sale will take place at the Church of the Epiphany. This event is looked forward to by many people in Winchester, as it is their chance to help contribute to the Church School children's Mite Box Offering, through the sale of food, candy, and plants and the pleasure of having tea with friends. Each year children of many churches sacrifice and earn money to help others. This year the proceeds of the Lenten Tea and Sale will go to further the work of the church in West Africa. This country has been much in the news recently, with its new Government's forward looking program. The need for hospitals, schools and the relieving of general suffering is very great, and children everywhere are trying to send a real contribution this year.

When you come into the main hall of the parish house, you will walk into an African jungle, with animals and exotic plants on every side. Here you will find, not African elephant meat for sale, but American homemade bread, pecan pies, hot rolls, cakes, candles of every kind, plus, not jungle plants (there will be African Violets!), but Easter flowers and plants, including very new ones for children to buy and have blossoms for Easter. Small tables will line the hall, each with a gay flower on it, and here tea will be served. Downstairs the small children will either be enthralled by an expert storyteller or glued to their chairs watching a movie. Everyone will find a special thing to do or buy.

Mrs. Theodore Hultgren and Mrs. William Bayley are Co-Chairmen, with Mrs. Richard Carr providing decorations of jungle atmosphere. Mrs. Robert Nyere in charge of plants, Mrs. Charles Blanchard serving tea, Mrs. Paul Lamarche providing the wide variety of foods for sale, Mrs. Robert Joyce seeing that everyone, including the children, has enough candy, Mrs. Edwin Hall keeping the young children happy with stories, Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth showing extra special movies, and Mrs. Charles Sweetser taking in the proceeds of this special event to benefit the underprivileged areas of the church.

Stephen Flanders, son of Mrs. F. A. Flanders, 10 Bacon street, is home for the spring vacation from the Emerson School for Boys, Exeter, N. H. During the winter term, Steve received the school letter in skiing.

WYMAN DANCE

The large number of Wyman parents and guests attending the dance sponsored by the Wyman Association Saturday, March 14th, at Wyman School, report a perfectly delightful evening.

Credit for the success of the party goes to Mrs. Howard Ulfelder, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and her able assistants, Mrs. Frederick W. Wier, Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper, Mrs. James F. Denton, Mrs. Gustav G. Kaufmann, Mrs. James M. Gustin, Mrs. John R. Woodruff, Mrs. Robert B. Stewart, and Mrs. Robert W. Carlson.

The auditorium was transformed with soft lighting and huge bowls of forsythia. Ned Marshall's Orchestra provided exceptionally good music, and the refreshments, donated by members of the Association and served in the kindergarten room, were consumed with relish.

Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper was the happy recipient of the decorated cake donated by Christie McDonald's Food Shop. The turkey provided by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. McLaughlin was taken home by Mr. Jacob Babakian. The carton of Kleenex given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Reeves went to Mr. Theodore Hultgren, and the gallon of Brigham's ice cream from a Wyman mother to Mr. David P. Cameron.

Foley Florist Inc. offered a beautiful pot of red tulips as a prize for the elimination dance, which was won by Mr. James M. Joslin and his niece, Mrs. George Brown, who has recently returned to this country from a long sojourn in Ankara, Turkey.

The affair proved so successful that Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, President of the Association, and Mrs. Howard Ulfelder, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, have had a number of members express to them the hope that more such dances will be planned for the future.

The March meeting of the Mothers' Association was held on Wednesday, the 11th, in the Lincoln School Auditorium. Present, Mrs. John J. Flaherty, opened the meeting with a warm welcome to the mothers and teachers. Reports were read and accepted. Money made by the mothers on the preschool children was presented and was turned in to the Association Treasurer. Mrs. Flaherty said Dr. Norris would like parents to comment on the report cards and to have conferences with the teachers.

A vote of approval was given for the purchase of a tape recorder which is to be presented to the Lincoln School by the Mothers' Association.

On display were snack trays which the Association has given to the teachers. Also on display for the teachers room was a whistling tea kettle donated by Mrs. Arcangelo Amico and a package of individual trays given by Mr. Kenneth F. Cullen. The program of the Parent-Teacher Association was discussed, and the general thought was that the P. T. A. is a more highly organized and formal group than we are accustomed to. Plans to form a Day Club are under way, and Mrs. Flaherty hoped all fathers would attend a meeting on March 30. The program for the May Party was talked over.

The meeting adjourned to a delightful coffee hour. Miss Cunningham and Mrs. Bruce D. Pennington poured at a table attractively decorated with a St. Patrick's Day theme. The very delicious sandwiches and cakes were made by Mrs. Arcangelo Amico.

TOWN MEETING

Mr. Greer explained that salary raises in this group would not necessarily be $2 weekly, but might be many times this sum. He and Mr. Crockett of the Personnel Committee explained that this sum was the best guess the authorities could make as the amount that might be necessary to cover the not-yet-made raises.

Mr. Hewis wanted to know if this amount of money could not be dispensed with until the Personnel Board actually does decide how much it needs for the raises and the meeting actually votes them. He asked that the money then be taken from Excess and Deficiency so as not to be reflected in the tax rate.

Mr. Dwinell explained that you can not pay wages out of Excess and Deficiency and asked that the sum be appropriated. Mr. Farnsworth, after a conference with the Town Counsel, offered the opinion that the money could be taken from the Excess and Deficiency account by guess-work. He felt he would not be doing his job as a town meeting representative to let his constituents' money be voted without knowing for what it is to be spent.

The meeting supported the Selectmen, Finance Committee and Personnel Board in the matter of the $8,000, voting the money, and also raises of $150 each to the Town Clerk, Town Treasurer and Collector of Taxes, each also to get $18 cost of living increase.

With the final disposition of Article 5 the meeting moved to the consideration of Article 9, the long article dealing with departmental budgets.

As usual the articles were passed in routine fashion, with the exception of any asked to be deferred by any town meeting member.

Several budgets were deferred by department heads who wished to make explanations of certain items. Many more were deferred by Messrs. Saraco and Hewis. Mr. Saraco was nonplussed by the fact that in many departmental budgets there were large expenditures for wages, in some instances more than what was expended by the department during the year.

Both Mr. Greer and Mr. Bonnell explained these unexpended balances and felt that indicated the various department heads are doing a fine job, by spending only such money as they actually need and returning the balance to the town instead of spending it just to get rid of it.

Mr. Saraco felt that the budgets should be figured more closely since this money affects the tax rate and does not help next year's rate when it is returned to Excess and Deficiency.

Mr. Greer explained again, this time with some heat, that department heads can not pull a figure out of a hat that will be just right, and can only ask for sums which in their considered judgment are necessary for the proper transaction of town business. He concluded by asking the meeting to have confidence in the elected officers of the town, who he said are just as interested in the economical government as any one.

It was necessary to raise the Fire Department budget to provide extra men to make possible the three weeks vacation voted town personnel at the opening meeting. Raises of $2 per week were voted for Police men and Firefighters with raises or $300 per year granted the respective chiefs of the departments.

Mr. Hewis objected to an amount in the Building Department budget calling for an appropriation of $3,050 for an inspector of plumbing and assistant to the building commissioner. He felt this figure is high, and also questioned saddling the town with a job which because of civil service will be very hard to discontinue.

Mr. Greer explained that the greatly increased building in town makes an assistant to the building commissioner and a plumbing inspector necessary. He said that the town is still looking for the right man for this job, having regretfully declined to appoint the high man in the civil service examination held last fall, Harry Chelaf, because he was a member of the Board of Selectmen. Mr. Greer felt Mr. Chelaf would be an admirable incumbent.

The meeting refused to support an amendment offered by Mr. Hewis, seeking a smaller amount for the assistant to the Building Commissioner and Plumbing Inspector and accepted the budget as it was submitted by the Selectmen.

Mr. Rotund questioned the purchase of two small trucks and a bulldozer by the town under the Highways appropriation, but the meeting again supported the Selectmen and Finance Committee.

Mr. Supple was called upon to explain a new division of the budget entitled Disability Assistance, stating that it became necessary in 1951 when the State accepted a Federal law setting up such assistance. The town actually has little to say about expenditures under this heading, but is reimbursed to the extent of 75 percent of its payments by the state.

Perhaps the most spectacular proposal of the meeting was Mr. Wakefield's amendment to the School Department budget, seeking to raise the item for building maintenance from $16,500 to $30,000. He championed his proposal as good business, on the grounds that at least $30,000 should be spent to maintain property worth some $50,000,000.

Mrs. Woodward stated the School Committee would be delighted to have the extra $13,500, but felt the Committee is making adequate provision for building upkeep and the meeting supported her.

The final remarks arousing interest in certain sections of the hall were made by Mr. Ives of the Park Department, who spoke particularly of the growth of Little League and Pony League baseball and the growing demand for places to play such ball. Restless members moving about prevented our exactly catching his words, but it sounded to us as if he felt a higher power than the Park Board would have to provide the fields. An attempt was made to adjourn at 11:15. The "solid south" would have none of it and the meeting finally closed at 11:30, with many of the divided north long since gone home.

ASK WEED CONTROL FOR MYSTIC

A public hearing was held before the Committee of Metropolitan Affairs on March 9 at the State House, Boston, on the following petition Mrs. Woodward of Winthrop: "An Act providing for the cleaning, removing weeds and mud from the bed and shores of the upper Mystic Lake, belonging to the Metropolitan District Commission in Winchester."

Selectman William C. Cusack, who is also a director of the Winchester Boat Club, outlined before the committee the requests of the residents of Winchester for a program for controlling the weed growth in the Upper Mystic Lake. He stated that this body of water is now extensively used for sailing, boating and swimming by the Winchester Boat Club, Medford Boat Club and by members of the Tufts College Boat Club, in addition to public swimming at Sandy Beach. The excessive growth of weeds in the lake interferes with these recreational activities. A representative group from Winchester also expressed the same concern over the condition of the lake. They included the following: Boat Club members, Commodore Ned Morse, Director Walter Redding, George Jones, Norman Duerhing and Mrs. William C. Cusack.

Representative Henry E. Keenan of Arlington, a member of the Committee of Metropolitan Affairs and former member of the Winchester Boat Club, outlined to the delegation present from Winchester the reasons for the petition. He stated that he had petitioned the General Court on the same conditions prevailing in Spy Pond, Arlington, and in Little Spy Pond, Belmont, and that the Metropolitan District Commission, Department of Public Health and Department of Public Works had rendered a special report of their findings of the weed condition in Spy Pond, Arlington. It was noted that the same condition exists in several ponds and lakes throughout the state and that the Metropolitan District Commission in conjunction with the other departments are conducting further studies and investigations on this public nuisance. It is expected that some solution to the problem will result from these studies to alleviate these conditions which are spoiling our recreational facilities in our lakes and ponds throughout the state.

I have been noted this past week that construction work has been started on the lower Mystic Lake in Arlington and that the supervision of the Metropolitan District Commission to clean up the lower shores of the lake and riprap the same for the protection of the Mystic Valley Parkway roadway. Also work will be started on the building of a new highway on the Medford side of the Mystic River to improve traffic at the Medford street bridge. This work is being carried out under Legislative Act filed by Representative Henry E. Keenan of Arlington to improve conditions in this area.

The next brush took place under Article 12, where $32,000 was asked for the further construction of Johnson road. Of this sum $18,000 was appropriated this year, $13,500 being by transfer from the Excess and Deficiency Account and $4,500 being raised by revenue. Mr. Greer explained that a balance remaining in the Chapter 90 account, under which the construction of Johnson road is being carried out, would provide the balance necessary for this year's construction, the state and county joining the town in the expense.

Mr. Greer explained that the town is obligated legally to build Johnson road, having been given land by property owners in return for the town's promise to construct the road, which eventually will provide a direct route from Winchester to Maple street in Lexington.

Mr. Wakefield felt the town should postpone action on the road at least until the school question is settled and other roads around town are in better shape. He questioned the advisability of opening up what he termed a wilderness,

TOWN MEETING OPENED

CONFUSED SESSION IN GENEROUS MOOD

If someone had suggested erecting a statue of "Babe" Ruth on the common, and the Finance Committee had opposed it, Monday evening's opening session of the current town meeting would very likely have voted the necessary funds. The delegates were in a most generous mood, and the occasional brief warnings of the Finance Committee went unheeded as the meeting voted to boost wages, increase vacations for town employees with 15 years service and accept a salary beyond the limit considered prudent by the Selectmen.

There was some excuse for extra street acceptance, for even Chairman Greer of the Selectmen, while voicing the Board's official opposition, admitted that as individual "human beings" the Selectmen hoped the meeting would override their recommendation for unfavorable action.

That is a sample of the meeting from its consideration of the recommendations of the committee provided for at the last March meeting to consider the wages and classification of town employees. Mr. Crockett, representing the so-called Personnel Committee, opened his discussion effectively, explaining the scope of the problem of arriving at equitable wage and classification limits and admitting that his committee had not as yet been able to completely cover the matter.

Mr. Crockett introduced a rather ingeniously contrived scale map of wages of local employees as compared with those in other communities studied by the committee and seemed to feel that generally Winchester employees lag somewhat behind the general average.

He then started to recommend wage increases for laborers and clerical workers and increased maxima for superintendents of the Park and Cemetery Department, Water and Sewer Board and School Department Buildings and Grounds. The Finance Committee opposed the maxima for the superintendent of the Water and Sewer Board and that for the School Department Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

This brought protests from Mr. Dwinell of the Water and Sewer Board and from Mr. Woodward of the School Committee, each championing its departmental superintendent and asking that they be accorded the same treatment the other superintendents were getting.

The meeting supported their contention, which in turn brought protest from Mr. Greer of the Selectmen and Mr. Elliott of the Assessors, who felt that if the meeting was going to pass out raises, they should do so, respectively for the executive clerk of Selectmen and the Deputy in the Assessors' office.

Mrs. Woodward again spoke for the School Committee, asking that one of the acting principals be made Superintendent of Schools' office be raised to a senior clerk to obviate the difficulty the committee encounters in losing promising clerks through their lower rating and salary.

Mr. Crockett offered mild objection to such change, stating that the School Committee should not go ahead and change the setup of its office without notifying the Personnel Board. Mrs. Woodward replied that the Personnel Board had been notified of the proposed change last fall, whereupon Mr. Crockett made an obvious motion of resignation and said something which did not carry to the press table across the hall.

With the meeting rapidly getting more and more involved, Mr. Hewis moved that consideration of the article under discussion be postponed until the next meeting Monday evening, and that in the meantime the Personnel Board, Finance Committee and various department heads get together and arrive at some sort of definite recommendations to propose to the delegates for consideration. This was passed.

Over the opposition of the Finance Committee and the Personnel Board, the meeting voted to grant two, the meeting voted favorably on the motion of Mr. Horn to grant three weeks vacations to town employees with 15 or more years service.

The meeting also voted to increase the amounts of pensions, retirement allowances and annuities of certain former town employees. Mr. Clark explained that the new rate would increase the expense to the town by $1800 by providing $100 increases to several former employees, raise the yearly pension of a few others to $1200 and the pension of one person to $1500. The increases were voted without debate.

Because of the mixup over proposed salary schedules it was necessary to postpone consideration of Article 9, the long departmental appropriations article, and the meeting proceeded with Article 10, voting $2500 for fighting the Dutch elm disease; and to permit the cemetery trustees to expend $6,010.96 from the Cemetery Fund for the embellishment of the cemetery.

The next brush took place under Article 12, where $32,000 was asked for the further construction of Johnson road. Of this sum $18,000 was appropriated this year, $13,500 being by transfer from the Excess and Deficiency Account and $4,500 being raised by revenue. Mr. Greer explained that a balance remaining in the Chapter 90 account, under which the construction of Johnson road is being carried out, would provide the balance necessary for this year's construction, the state and county joining the town in the expense.

Mr. Greer explained that the town is obligated legally to build Johnson road, having been given land by property owners in return for the town's promise to construct the road, which eventually will provide a direct route from Winchester to Maple street in Lexington.

Mr. Wakefield felt the town should postpone action on the road at least until the school question is settled and other roads around town are in better shape. He questioned the advisability of opening up what he termed a wilderness, stating that with new houses in the location would come the need for more schools and a fire station to serve the new development.

Mr. Hewis, too, questioned the advisability of proceeding with the construction of a road over peat bogs and ledge, to say nothing of woods and hills. Mr. Cullen supported the construction, stating that while a member of the County Commissioners he had fought hard to secure the county funds for the project, over the opposition of his colleagues. He warned that if the money isn't accepted by the town it will probably be lost forever.

The meeting went along with the Selectmen and Finance Committee on the road, providing the funds for another session.

Coleman G. Foley was elected town director to work with the Middlesex County Trustees for County Aid to Agriculture and provided $50 for his use.

The meeting accepted as town ways James street, Squanto road, Bellevue avenue, Sunset road, Riskey road, Winford Way and Ware road, as recommended by the Selectmen, the total appropriation for the seven streets being $84,100, the $24,484 to be raised by taxation.

Mr. Rotondi told the meeting that there should be some way to guard against the town's being obligated to build roads in locations like Bellevue road. Mr. Greer thanked him for introducing a subject upon which he meant to speak, that of the town's refusal last year to grant to the Board of Survey the necessary money to ever state a vote to prevent the promiscuous building of houses and layouts not to the advantage of either the town or the purchasers of property.

The need for sharper control of developments was pointed out by the consideration of the next two articles, the proposed acceptance of Wendell street and Laurel Hill Lane as public ways.

In both instances Mr. Greer was pointed out by residents that in inclement weather they could neither drive their cars to their homes, get their children through the street unless they carried them, nor could ambulances or fire trucks get to their doors in case of need.

The Finance Committee opposed the acceptance of the streets, stating that to do so would be to go beyond the bounds of what is financially advisable as highway appropriation.

It was at this point that Mr. Greer stated the Selectmen's opposition as a town board and their hope that the meeting would go over their heads and give the residents of the road the relief they so sorely need.

The meeting did just that, appropriating $14,500 for Wendell street, $14,500 for Laurel Hill Lane, and $23,200 for Laurel Hill Lane, $14,279.55 coming in this instance from E. & D.

Action was indefinitely postponed on the proposal to extend a road from Ponon street to Sylvester avenue, and also on the proposal to erect flashing warning signals at the intersection of Cambridge and Wildwood streets. Mr. Crockett pointed out in the latter connection the state has studied the matter and will install the lights, since Cambridge street is a county way.

The town voted to install traffic lights at the intersection of Main street, Swanton street and Water street at a cost of $2500 and appropriated $17,000 for the payment of the town debt.

One hundred and eighty-seven of 227 town meeting members were present.

We are pleased to announce the Annual Father and Daughter Banquet for all Scouts in the 6th, 6th, 7th and 8th Grades, and for all Senior Girl Scouts will be held in the Town Hall, at 6:30 p. m. on Tuesday, April 14th. Hicks will be the caterer and will enjoy a hot steak pie, with fixings. Although the cost is up over last year, it is the very best we can do, due to the usual reason, viz: the gradual increase in prices, so many things that we used to get for 10¢, 15¢, 20¢, are now 25¢, 30¢, 40¢, 50¢, 60¢, 70¢, 80¢, 90¢, 1.00, 1.25, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3.00, 3.50, 4.00, 4.50, 5.00, 5.50, 6.00, 6.50, 7.00, 7.50, 8.00, 8.50, 9.00, 9.50, 10.00, 10.50, 11.00, 11.50, 12.00, 12.50, 13.00, 13.50, 14.00, 14.50, 15.00, 15.50, 16.00, 16.50, 17.00, 17.50, 18.00, 18.50, 19.00, 19.50, 20.00, 20.50, 21.00, 21.50, 22.00, 22.50, 23.00, 23.50, 24.00, 24.50, 25.00, 25.50, 26.00, 26.50, 27.00, 27.50, 28.00, 28.50, 29.00, 29.50, 30.00, 30.50, 31.00, 31.50, 32.00, 32.50, 33.00, 33.50, 34.00, 34.50, 35.00, 35.50, 36.00, 36.50, 37.00, 37.50, 38.00, 38.50, 39.00, 39.50, 40.00, 40.50, 41.00, 41.50, 42.00, 42.50, 43.00, 43.50, 44.00, 44.50, 45.00, 45.50, 46.00, 46.50, 47.00, 47.50, 48.00, 48.50, 49.00, 49.50, 50.00, 50.50, 51.00, 51.50, 52.00, 52.50, 53.00, 53.50, 54.00, 54.50, 55.00, 55.50, 56.00, 56.50, 57.00, 57.50, 58.00, 58.50, 59.00, 59.50, 60.00, 60.50, 61.00, 61.50, 62.00, 62.50, 63.00, 63.50, 64.00, 64.50, 65.00, 65.50, 66.00, 66.50, 67.00, 67.50, 68.00, 68.50, 69.00, 69.50, 70.00, 70.50, 71.00, 71.50, 72.00, 72.50, 73.00, 73.50, 74.00, 74.50, 75.00, 75.50, 76.00, 76.50, 77.00, 77.50, 78.00, 78.50, 79.00, 79.50, 80.00, 80.50, 81.00, 81.50, 82.00, 82.50, 83.00, 83.50, 84.00, 84.50, 85.00, 85.50, 86.00, 86.50, 87.00, 87.50, 88.00, 88.50, 89.00, 89.50, 90.00, 90.50, 91.00, 91.50, 92.00, 92.50, 93.00, 93.50, 94.00, 94.50, 95.00, 95.50, 96.00, 96.50, 97.00, 97.50, 98.00, 98.50, 99.00, 99.50, 100.00, 100.50, 101.00, 101.50, 102.00, 102.50, 103.00, 103.50, 104.00, 104.50, 105.00, 105.50, 106.00, 106.50, 107.00, 107.50, 108.00, 108.50, 109.00, 109.50, 110.00, 110.50, 111.00, 111.50, 112.00, 112.50, 113.00, 113.50, 114.00, 114.50, 115.00, 115.50, 116.00, 116.50, 117.00, 117.50, 118.00, 118.50, 119.00, 119.50, 120.00, 120.50, 121.00, 121.50, 122.00, 122.50, 123.00, 123.50, 124.00, 124.50, 125.00, 125.50, 126.00, 126.50, 127.00, 127.50, 128.00, 128.50, 129.00, 129.50, 130.00, 130.50, 131.00, 131.50, 132.00, 132.50, 133.00, 133.50, 134.00, 134.50, 135.00, 135.50, 136.00, 136.50, 137.00, 137.50, 138.00, 138.50, 139.00, 139.50, 140.00, 140.50, 141.00, 141.50, 142.00, 142.50, 143.00, 143.50, 144.00, 144.50, 145.00, 145.50, 146.00, 146.50, 147.00, 147.50, 148.00, 148.50, 149.00, 149.50, 150.00, 150.50, 151.00, 151.50, 152.00, 152.50, 153.00, 153.50, 154.00, 154.50, 155.00, 155.50, 156.00, 156.50, 157.00, 157.50, 158.00, 158.50, 159.00, 159.50, 160.00, 160.50, 161.00, 161.50, 162.00, 162.50, 163.00, 163.50, 164.00, 164.50, 165.00, 165.50, 166.00, 166.50, 167.00, 167.50, 168.00, 168.50, 169.00, 169.50, 170.00, 170.50, 171.00, 171.50, 172.00, 172.50, 173.00, 173.50, 174.00, 174.50, 175.00, 175.50, 176.00, 176.50, 177.00, 177.50, 178.00, 178.50, 179.00, 179.50, 180.00, 180.50, 181.00, 181.50, 182.00, 182.50, 183.00, 183.50, 184.00, 184.50, 185.00, 185.50, 186.00, 186.50, 187.00, 187.50, 188.00, 188.50, 189.00, 189.50, 190.00, 190.50, 191.00, 191.50, 192.00, 192.50, 193.00, 193.50, 194.00, 194.50, 195.00, 195.50, 196.00, 196.50, 197.00, 197.50, 198.00, 198.50, 199.00, 199.50, 200.00, 200.50, 201.00, 201.50, 202.00, 202.50, 203.00, 203.50, 204.00, 204.50, 205.00, 205.50, 206.00, 206.50, 207.00, 207.50, 208.00, 208.50, 209.00, 209.50, 210.00, 210.50, 211.00, 211.50, 212.00, 212.50, 213.00, 213.50, 214.00, 214.50, 215.00, 215.50, 216.00, 216.50, 217.00, 217.50, 218.00, 218.50, 219.00, 219.50, 220.00, 220.50, 221.00, 221.50, 222.00, 222.50, 223.00, 223.50, 224.00, 224.50, 225.00, 225.50, 226.00, 226.50, 227.00, 227.50, 228.00, 228.50, 229.00, 229.50, 230.00, 230.50, 231.00, 231.50, 232.00, 232.50, 233.00, 233.50, 234.00, 234.50, 235.00, 235.50, 236.00, 236.50, 237.00, 237.50, 238.00, 238.50, 239.00, 239.50, 240.00, 240.50, 241.00, 241.50, 242.00, 242.50, 243.00, 243.50, 244.00, 244.50, 245.00, 245.50, 246.00, 246.50, 247.00, 247.50, 248.00, 248.50, 249.00, 249.50, 250.00, 250.50, 251.00, 251.50, 252.00, 252.50, 253.00, 253.50, 254.00, 254.50, 255.00, 255.50, 256.00, 256.50, 257.00, 257.50, 258.00, 258.50, 259.00, 259.50, 260.00, 260.50, 261.00, 261.50, 262.00, 262.50, 263.00, 263.50, 264.00, 264.50, 265.00, 265.50, 266.00, 266.50, 267.00, 267.50, 268.00, 268.50, 269.00, 269.50, 270.00, 270.50, 271.00, 271.50, 272.00, 272.50, 273.00, 273.50, 274.00, 274.50, 275.00, 275.50, 276.00, 276.50, 277.00, 277.50, 278.00, 278.50, 279.00, 279.50, 280.00, 280.50, 281.00, 281.50, 282.00, 282.50, 283.00, 283.50, 284.00, 284.50, 285.00, 285.50, 286.00, 286.50, 287.00, 287.50, 288.00, 288.50, 289.00, 289.50, 290.00, 290.50, 291.00, 291.50, 292.00, 292.50, 293.00, 293.50, 294.00, 294.50, 295.00, 295.50, 296.00, 296.50, 297.00

WINCHESTER FOOTBALL STAR PREPARES FOR MUSIC

Combat Cargo, Korea — Captain Guy Colby (left) of 715 La Paloma avenue, Ontario, Calif., grins his appreciation at a joke cracked by Pfc. Mario Mascioli of 69 Oak street, a 40th Division jeep driver. Mascioli had just returned from a 5-day R & R leave in Japan in Colby's big C-124 Globemaster. He is holding an accordion which he purchased in Japan, with which he will entertain his buddies in the 40th Division. The three-story C-124's are now carrying up to 300 passengers, 25 tons of cargo, or 156 litter cases on the Korean Airlift.

HOST TO JUSTICE DOUGLAS

Robert B. Stewart of Oxford street, Dean of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts College, was host to Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court of the United States during the latter's visit to Tufts and Harvard this week.

Justice Douglas arrived at the airport in Boston Wednesday afternoon, being met there by Dean Stewart and Assistant Dean of the Fletcher School, Haydn Williams, as well as by Ram Rahul of India, a student at Fletcher School who has been with Justice Douglas on some of his world travels and acted as interpreter for him.

Wednesday evening the High Court Justice gave an illustrated lecture at Harvard on "Travel Beyond the High Himalayas". Preceding the lecture Justice Douglas was the guest of Dean Stewart and Prof. Reischauer of Harvard at dinner at the Harvard Faculty Club.

Thursday morning Justice Douglas spoke at the Fletcher School, his subject being "Land and Peoples of Asia and American Relations with these Countries." His visits to Tufts and Harvard were jointly sponsored by the Fletcher School of Tufts, the Appalachian Mountain Club and the Committee on International and Regional Studies of Harvard University.

WINCHESTER TOWN HALL

TO ELIMINATE GRADE CROSSING

The grade crossing into Winchester Square will be eliminated by the elevation of the Boston & Maine tracks, it was announced today by State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe. Cost of the project, including a by-pass through Skillings Pond and Aberjona River, will approximate $6,000,000.

Commissioner Volpe has devoted many hours to a review and study of the grade crossing problem in Winchester Square. He has examined all proposals that have been made for its elimination and has studied plans effecting it that go back 50 years.

In view of the approval by the people of Winchester of a referendum by a two-to-one vote and the further approval of a Town Meeting by a vote of 151 to 7, we have decided to go forward with the elimination of the Winchester Square grade crossing by the elevation of the Boston & Maine railroad tracks on the basis of plans which will be completed very shortly," Commissioner Volpe said.

As a resident of Winchester and very much interested in its beautification and the future progress of our town, this problem has caused me no end of concern. After considerable study, I have come to the conclusion that the most practical and the plan that will provide the maximum advantages, is the plan on which drawings are almost completed, namely, the elevation of the Boston & Maine tracks.

"It is my sincere hope in conjunction with this project, if funds are available, and it appears that they probably will be, to include a by-pass through Skillings Pond and across the Aberjona River, under the new overpass and out onto Main street, north of the Square. This, I believe, is most essential to divert much of the through traffic which would still use Winchester Square. If the grade crossing were eliminated, and I believe with the combination of these two proposals that a solution will be forthcoming that should solve our problem, both as regards grade crossing and eliminating through traffic from congested Winchester Square."

RAYMOND IRVING REYNOLDS

Raymond Irving Reynolds of 185 Highland avenue, importer and New England representative for Airguide Corporation of Chicago, died Friday morning, March 20, at his home after several months illness, at the age of 68.

A native of Stoneham, Mr. Reynolds lived for 60 years in Somerville where he was active in civic and military affairs. He was for six years a member of the Somerville Board of Aldermen serving as president of the Board in 1947. He had lived in Winchester for the past three years, making his home with his niece, Miss Claire Gorman, who is his only survivor. His brother, the late Prof. James Reynolds of the Department of Electrical Engineering in the Tufts College of the Somerville Board of Health and a member of Somerville Board of Public Welfare, the traffic circle at Powderhouse Square in Somerville being named in his honor.

Mr. Reynolds was educated in the Somerville schools and had been associated with the Airguide Corporation for 25 years. The funeral was held Monday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church, Rev. Fr. John J. Grant was celebrant, Rev. Fr. John M. Manion, pastor, deacon; and Rev. Fr. Charles A. Anadore, subdeacon. Seated in the sanctuary were: Msgr. Robert Barry, pastor, and Rev. Fr. Jerome Gil of St. Clement's Church, Somerville.

Fred Eckert, vice president of the Airguide Corp., flew east from Chicago to attend the mass and Mayor John Lynch of Somerville was also present with members of the Board of Aldermen and ex-Mayor Edward Bradley. Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Stoneham.

HEADS BOSTON CAMPAIGN

Mr. Robert F. Lybeck of Everett road is general campaign chairman of the 25th annual appeal of the Boston Evening Clinic of 452 Beacon street, a non-profit medical rehabilitation center which is opening on April 15 with its goal a total of $50,000. The clinic, from 3500 patients in 1927 has grown until last year its individual treatments numbered 25,000.

The concept of the clinic has been that it is "not a charity, but a helping hand" to working people, enabling many hard-working and self-respecting people to obtain treatment for a modest fee without losing time from their jobs.

RED CROSS DRIVE

The 1953 Red Cross Fund is still approximately $2,000 below its goal of $22,500. There is still time for the residents of Winchester to meet this shortage and put the local chapter over the top.

The many services of the Red Cross are well known to everyone. In order for the Red Cross to continue answering the call of the needy and troubled all over the world, all of us must answer the call of the Red Cross for funds.

Have you given? Can you increase your gift? The Red Cross depends on all of us. Let's not let the campaign fail.

DOG OWNERS — ATTENTION!

Now is the time to license your dog. If you own a dog, April 1st is the time when all dogs must have a license. It should be easily seen attached to their collar.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB
IN PALM SUNDAY CONCERT

The Mystic Glee Club, Winchester's popular male singing group, is to appear in Palm Sunday evening, March 29, at the Unitarian Church in Woburn where they will present a specially arranged program of sacred numbers.

The club's appearance in Woburn is being sponsored by the Woburn Ministerial Association and Associated Churches. Dr. Allen Lannan, dean of the Boston University School of Music, will direct the club, and the public is cordially invited to attend the service. There will be no admission charge but an offering will be received to cover costs of the concert.

CHILDREN KILLED IN CRASH

TRAGEDY HITS FAMILY LEAVING WINCHESTER

Winchester residents in the vicinity of Cutting street were shocked to learn of the fatal accident near Belchertown Tuesday, involving their former neighbor, Mrs. Charles E. Foley, and her three children, Kevin and Kenneth, twin boys, aged 5, and their four-year-old sister, Kathleen.

Mr. and Mrs. Foley and their family had lived in Winchester for a number of years. They took the 4 Cutting street until the day of the accident when they left town to take up residence in Northampton where Mr. Foley had acquired a plumbing business.

Mr. Foley left town early with the moving van that took the family household furnishings to Northampton, intending to get the house somewhat in order before the arrival of his wife and children. Mrs. Foley was to drive the children in the family car to their new home. On her way, while on Route 9 near Belchertown, her car collided, apparently head on, with a milk truck. After the collision, the Foley car left the road and went down a ravine, crashing into a heap of twisted wreckage against a clump of trees.

Kevin, Kenneth and Kathleen were killed in the accident and their mother, who was expecting her fourth child was critically injured. She was removed to the Cooley Dickinson Hospital in Northampton where a Caesarian operation failed to save the unborn child.

Mrs. Foley is 34 years old and his wife, the former Mary K. Crosby, is 35. They are former Woburn young people and were married at St. Charles Church in Woburn, August 31, 1946, coming to live in Winchester after their marriage. Mr. Foley had a plumbing business here before acquiring his new business in Northampton, and also was well known as an amateur photographer.

Kevin and Kenneth attended kindergarten at the Unitarian Church and Kathleen were friendly youngsters, known alike to children and adults near their former home. Their deaths and the tragic accident to Mrs. Foley cast a pall over the entire neighborhood in which the Foley's lived, with the sympathy of everyone going out to the husband and father.

HENRY G. RAY

Mr. Henry G. Ray, who died last Friday, March 20, was born in Boston in 1888, son of Annie Kemp and George Ray. When he was a young boy of about twelve he was stricken with polio which caused complete paralysis of his lower limbs. In time he learned to use a wheel-chair, and in it he spent months of his life.

He came to Winchester in the eighth grade and attended the regular schooling, he became an expert mechanic and a student of history and science. He fitted up a well-equipped shop in the barn which was a center for all boys of the neighborhood who needed help with their bicycles, cameras, toys and later for automobile repairs. He also did regular shop work for some years for an industrial concern.

He was greatly interested in automobiles and was on the Orient Board, one of the first cars in town, which he was able to drive himself. He afterwards had other cars and enjoyed trips all over New England.

He was naturally of a sunny disposition and he bore his handicap with great courage. One secret of his good cheer was his industry. He was always busy with something from early morning 'til late at night. In fact, he was active and energetic up to the last six months of his life.

He lived in Winchester in the old Carleton house, 30 Mt. Pleasant street, first with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Kemp; his mother, two brothers, and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond. Later, his aunt, Mrs. Stillings and her daughter, Marie, came to live with him.

He is survived by his cousin, Miss Stillings, of Quincy, Deleware King, of Quincy. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Moffett Funeral Home with Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. PEARL W. CLARK

Mrs. Pearl Whitmarsh Clark of 10 Chesterford road, widow of Willis W. Clark, died Wednesday, March 25, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Clark was the daughter of Clarence F. and Harriet L. (Putnam) Clark. She was born in Boston, October 17, and had lived in Winchester for 25 years, having been a long-time member of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. Her husband died in 1929 and she leaves no immediate family.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. John Snook, Jr., officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Pine Grove Cemetery, Westboro.

NEW STOP STREET

The Metropolitan District Commission has made both sides of the Parkway at the intersection of Main street in Winchester stop streets.

Signs have been erected and the overhead flasher beacon at the intersection has been changed from yellow to red. Police will enforce the new regulation.

TOWN MEETING

SECOND ADJOURNED SESSION APPROVED SCHOOL PLAN

With only 155 of the 228 precinct members present, Monday evening's second adjourned session of the Limited Town Meeting approved the plan proposed by the Committee on Additional School Facilities for the High and Junior High Schools; briefly, to enlarge and remodel the present Junior high school building to house the four-year senior high school and to renovate and remodel the present senior high building for use of the Junior high school. The sum of $69,000 was appropriated out of revenue for the use of the committee to prepare finished plans so that the real cost of the plan can be determined and submitted to the town at a special town meeting to be held early in September.

Mr. Speers, chairman of the special committee that proposed the plan explained it in detail, prefacing his remarks with the hope that if the plan, which he said differed somewhat from a similar plan submitted two years ago, did not appeal to the meeting, the members present would voice their objections at once and not wait until after the $69,000 appropriated had been expended to prepare plans for a true bid. He felt that enough money had already been spent in plans and estimates and that if the plan his committee had decided upon is not the one the town wants, the time to say so is before further advances are made upon it.

Mr. Speers explained that the committee in its study felt that by the enabling vote they were restricted to use of existing buildings and not concerned with building a new school or schools. They had been guided in their studies by William K. Wilson of Albany, N. Y., chairman of a committee, the members of which pass on all schools built in New York State in places of 70,000 population or less.

Mr. Wilson's basic recommendation for the solution of Winchester's secondary school problem turned out to be the same as the one proposed two years previous by a town committee and rejected by the town; to have all school construction west of Main street and exchange the roles of the senior and junior high schools, making the necessary additions to the Junior high building to house a four-year senior high school.

UNIQUE GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE

As part of the Holy Week services beginning this Sunday, Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, announces a special Good Friday service at 7:45 p. m. April 3rd.

Instead of the usual custom of serving Holy Communion at the altar, an Upper Room table, seating twelve people, will be set up in the Winnifred L. Crawford Room, somewhat similar to the meeting place of Christ and his apostles. This will come as a climax to the evening service and twelve people will come at a time from the sanctuary and sit at the Lord's table and partake of the elements.

The benediction will be pronounced after the passing of the bread and wine, closing the service, after which each twelve may proceed to their homes using the back exit.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

CHAPTER TO BE HOST

Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, under the direction of Right Excellent Harry N. Squires, Jr., District Deputy Grand High Priest of the Eighth Capitular District, is to be host to the Royal Arch Chapters of the Eighth District at a District Grand Chapter of Instruction to be held at the Masonic Apartments on Tuesday, March 31, at 7:00 p. m.

The work will be under the direction of Ex. Thomas E. Lanigan, Grand Lecturer, and it is expected that Most Excellent Alexander Campbell, Grand High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Massachusetts, will be in attendance.

Chapters from Arlington, Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Reading, Winchester and Woburn will participate and all Royal Arch Masons are invited to attend.

MISS WOODWARD ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Woodward of 47 Oxford street announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Mr. Hubert Lee Ferrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo E. Ferrier of Tacoma, Washington.

Miss Woodward is a graduate of the Principia College and is now an apprentice teacher at Belmont Day School. Mr. Ferrier is a graduate of the Principia College, served two years in the U. S. Army, and is currently with the Advertising Department of the Christian Science Monitor.

A May wedding is being planned.

MISS GILLILAND ENGAGED TO MR. MACNEILL

Mr. and Mrs. Ruel C. Gilliland of Newtonville announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jo-Anne Murray Gilliland, to Richard L. MacNeill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard MacNeill of 51 Mystic Valley Parkway.

Miss Gilliland attended Lasell Junior College. Mr. MacNeill prepared for college at the Huntington School and is now completing his studies at the University of Massachusetts after service in the Marine Corps with the rank of sergeant.

MAX MAYER

Max Mayer of 529 Washington street, former proprietor of the Winchester Drug Company and widely known in and around Winchester, died Tuesday, March 24, at the Winchester Hospital. He had been in the hospital for about two weeks, but had previously been at the Beth Israel Hospital and had not been in good health for some time.

Mr. Mayer was 57 years old and a native of Russia. He came to this country as a youth and worked for his late brother in the latter's drugstore in Dorchester. Meanwhile he studied and tutored until he passed the State Board of Registration in Pharmacy and became a registered pharmacist.

For a time Mr. Mayer was a partner in first one, and then two pharmacies in Winthrop. He then assumed sole ownership of one of the pharmacies previous to coming to Winchester to take over the Winchester Drug Company about 1927. Later he remodelled the local pharmacy extensively and operated it and his pharmacy in Winthrop until ill health forced him to relinquish them. Recently he had been proprietor of a pharmacy in the Silver Lake section of Wilmington.

Mr. Mayer had made his home in Winchester since 1944. He was a member of Winchester Lodge of Elks, Boston Association of Retailers and Massachusetts Pharmaceutical Association. He leaves his wife, the former Ellen Louise Duggan.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

The Elks funeral ritual was exemplified Wednesday evening by the Officers of Winchester Lodge with Martin Hanley as Exalted Ruler.

WINCHESTER GIRL
RECEIVES HABIT

Saint Joseph's Novitiate in Framingham was the scene of an impressive religious ceremony Thursday afternoon, March 19, during which thirty three young women received the religious habit of the Sisters of Saint Joseph. Among this group was Miss Geraldine DeFilippo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso DeFilippo of 10 Water street, who entered the Community on September 8th, 1952.

The ceremony was presided over by the Most Rev. Eric McKenzie, D. D., Auxiliary Bishop of Boston, who questioned the Postulants who desired to enter the religious life, and then blessed the newly received habits. He urged the novices to imitate in their lives the virtues of Saint Joseph, especially his humility, obedience to the Will of God, and his union with Jesus Christ.

Before the services closed with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, the Novices received their religious names. Miss DeFilippo will be known in religion as Sister Alphonsus Mary. Following the ceremony was an informal reception of the new Sisters and their parents and friends was held in the auditorium.

DISCONTINUANCE OF
U.S.A. GIFT PARCELS

Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun announces that on and after April 1, 1953, all "U.S.A. Gift Parcels" as such, will no longer be accepted for mailing at reduced rates, except to the Ryukyu Islands. This means that the reduced rates will no longer apply to the following countries: Austria, China, Italy, Free Territory of Trieste and the Vatican City State. These countries will be subject to the regular international rates on and after this date.

FOLEY FUNERALS THIS MORNING

Kevin and Kenneth Foley, 5-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Foley, formerly of Cutting street, and their 4-year-old sister, Kathleen, were buried in Calvary Cemetery this morning after a Mass of the Angels at St. Mary's Church at 9:30. The funeral was from the P. J. Cox Funeral Home in Woburn.

Mrs. Foley was still in critical condition as the Star went to press.

RALPH H. BONNELL

RALPH BONNELL
TESTIMONIAL DINNER

The Winchester Friends of Ralph H. Bonnell are planning a testimonial dinner to be held in his honor on Saturday evening, May 2nd, at the Winchester Town Hall. For Bonnell has formerly been chairman of Winchester's Board of Selectmen, president of the Winchester Country Club, chairman of the Winchester Republican Town Committee and chairman of the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Republican State Committee. He is currently chairman of the Winchester Planning Board.

Mr. Bonnell was recently elected to take the place of the Hon. Sinclair Weeks as National Committeeman from Massachusetts.

Ralph Bonnell's host of Winchester friends of both political parties are looking forward to this opportunity to pay tribute to his distinguished career of public service.

The committee organizing the dinner is chairmanned by Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes. Ticket Chairman is Mrs. Richard D. Kirkpatrick of 85 Bacon street.

Mrs. Barnes points out that the town hall will only accommodate 300 people for dinner and suggests that all interested people make their reservations at the earliest opportunity.

BORN — CHAPPELL

There is Winchester interest in the marriage of Miss Margot Chappell, Radcliffe student, to Donald Born, U.S.A. of Cambridge, which took place last Saturday at the French Huguenot Church in New York.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret (McCall) Chappell, who is making her home in Williamsville, Vt., with her brother, Sumner McCall, former resident of Winchester. Their father, Hon. Samuel W. McCall, for many years a resident of this town, was a long time member of the Congress in Washington and World War I, Governor of Massachusetts.

The bridegroom, Harvard '51, is the son of Donald Walker Born, professor of Humanities at Boston University. He has been ordered to duty in Europe as an interpreter. Meanwhile he and his bride are on a week's trip to Bermuda.

UNION SERVICES
WELL ATTENDED

This year marked one of the finest responses in attendance in many years at the Union Lenten Services of the Protestant Churches. These included the Church of the Epiphany, the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, the Unitarian Church, the First Congregational Church, the First Baptist Church and the Second Congregational Church.

The pastors and people must have certainly been inspired and challenged. Winchester is to be commended as a growing church minded community.

AND FUN DID POP

Expected to be a gay interval of the winter entertainment season on the "home front", the parent-teacher presentation, "Fun's A Poppin'", proved to be a memorable moment at the High School auditorium on the evening of March 20.

A capacity audience left laughing. All the talent was contributed by Winchester parents, teachers and friends, who rewarded more than seven hundred fun seekers with a wide variety of entertainment.

No financial report is prepared at the moment, but Fun's A Poppin' probably will prove to be one of the most successful promotions for the

Winchester Scholarship Foundation

It was presented by the Central Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph Webster, Jr.

Not the least contributing factor to a wonderful evening of fun and surprises was the emceeing of Thomas A. Morse, teacher at the high school, who also "brought down the house" with an art interpretation.

Friends, neighbors and fellow townsmen were amazed at the "hidden" talents of the cast. The program ranged from a hula dance (G. Hartley Curtis, Frank Finnigan, Bruce Pendergast, Frank Provizano) to a dramatic "Dark Victory" (Harlan Smith, Marian T. Blake, Bettina Harrison).

Many thanks to the excellent make up committee: Mrs. William Davies, Mrs. Ganson Taggart, Mrs. John Harrison, Joan McNeill, Judy Pearl, and Barbara Hammett, to the "muscle men" who helped move the piano, and to the many committees and friends who helped to make the show a success. As a final note it is hoped that Mr. John McClellan succeeded in paying "Mrs. Lewellen."

O'CONNOR ACQUIRES STAGECRAFT

There's still no business like the show business for Boardman O'Connor, erstwhile actor and stage technician for the Parish Players, Tufts College, Cleveland Playhouse, Brattle Theater and WBZ-TV. By that token Boardman resigned from the production staff of WBZ last week to buy control of Stagecraft Studios, Inc., of Cambridge, with an office at 671 Massachusetts avenue, and a big workshop at Cherry street nearby.

Stagecraft has been furnishing limited stage production service. Boardman expanded the operation to give complete design and fabrication service to television and moving picture studios, amateur theaters and night clubs, providing scenery, props and costumes, advising and designing on lighting.

WBZ-TV's five-day eight-hour, week and overtime plus the security of company insurance, pension and other benefits is gone with the wind for the Winchester High graduate as he battles to meet deadlines on WBZ scenery and props, the scenery for St. Kevin's Passion Play, costumes for Harvard's Othello and other accounts. He doesn't mind, however, as long as the work holds out.

Stagecraft treasurer, Mary Huntington, doubles nicely with a paint brush and specializes in convention and window dressing. Boardman's bride, Betty, Brattle Theater trained, presides over the costumes.

HOLY WEEK AT SECOND CHURCH

Holy Week services at the Second Congregational Church, Washington street at Kenwin road, will include Maundy Thursday and Good Friday services according to an announcement received from the Rev. John W. Cook. The Maundy Thursday service will include Holy Communion in candlelight and the observance of Tenebrae, an ancient service of extinguishing of lights. The Membership Training Class and other new members will be received at this service. Mr. Austin Nanny will be the soloist.

The Good Friday service will be based on the Seven Last Words of Christ. The Chancel Choir, soloists, duets, and quartets will have a large part of this meditative service. Both of these Holy Week services will be held at eight o'clock. The church will be open daily and evenings for prayer throughout the week.

STRING ENSEMBLE AT HOME FOR AGED

On Sunday afternoon a group of High School students gave a program at the Home for the Aged on Mt. Vernon street.

These young people have been playing with Mrs. Carl Thomas all winter and presented a variety of delightful music. The violinists are Mary Burton of Winchester, Joan and Barbara Blank and Maria Zerbe of Belmont; the cellist is Harlow Russell, III, and the pianist is John Willis, both of Winchester.

The group played a Corelli Sonata for strings and piano in four movements, three dances by Mozart, and Mary Burton, Harlow Russell and John Willis played a trio, "Miniatures" by Frank Bridge. They have made a fine start in ensemble work and it is good to have some strings developing in Winchester, after a dearth for several years.

The people at the Home were a very cordial audience and the young people enjoyed sharing their pleasure in the music.

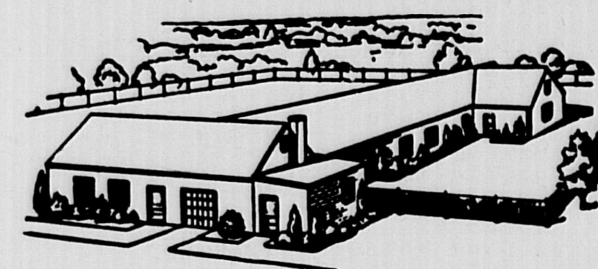

HOME CHURCH GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Home Church Guild will be held on Tuesday, March 31st, at 2:00 o'clock, in the Ladies' Parlor. Please note change in date.

A short business meeting with election of officers for the coming year will be followed by a devotional period led by the Rev. Almeda C. Vickery, Minister of Education. Mrs. Dwight L. Cart will be the speaker of the afternoon, taking as her topic "The Meaning and the Purpose."

Tea served by Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald and her committee will follow, with Mrs. Ross M. Cunningham and Mrs. Raymond C. Strawbridge pouring.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all women in the church and friends to attend this meeting.

Winchester's "Wimpie" Burnett, former high school three-sport star and captain of this year's varsity hockey team at Boston College, was selected by officials and coaches as one of the six forwards on the All-American Hockey Team of 1952-53. The selection was made during the recent National Collegiate Hockey Tourney in Colorado. "Wimpie" was called a great competitor by Northeastern Coach Herb Gallagher, and rated one of the best players he ever coached by his own B. C. coach, "Snooks" Kelley. The rugged Winchester boy, who played both right forward and defense while at B. C., was also chosen for a place on the All-New England College Hockey Team by the New England college coaches; and last week Thursday at the dinner to the All-New England squad at the Cafe Amalfi in Boston, another big honor came his way. At that time he was presented by Harry Clark, hockey announcer of Station WYOM, with the Boston Radio Men's College Hockey Award going to the player who has shown outstanding sportsmanship over the season. "Wimpie" seemed proudest of all of this honor. He will graduate from Boston College in June and thereafter enter the service, having had several deferments to enable him to complete his college course.

BADMINTON NEWS

With only a few more weeks of play before the badminton season comes to an end, we are planning to hold the Annual Meeting at the High School gymnasium on Tuesday, April 7th at 8 p. m. The main object of this meeting is to elect a new president and Governing Committee for the coming season. At this point we are in the midst of playing League matches. Results have been satisfactory — in our first match with Charlestown we came home with a 9-1 victory and the following scores:

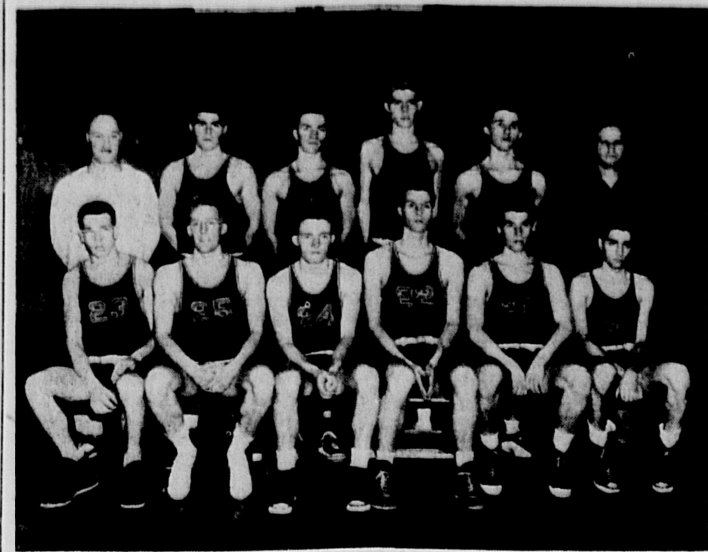

Men's Doubles
W. Gray and B. Hersey defeated A. Long and E. Dalton, 5-15, 15-12, 15-9.
A. Burros and H. Bean defeated E. Dalton and W. Houde, 15-9, 5-15, 15-11.
N. Morse and M. Parsons defeated Hurley and Houde 15-9, 15-13.
A. Long and H. Bean vs. Dalton and Houde, default.

Mixed Doubles
W. Gray and J. Rowell defeated A. Long and R. McKay, 15-8, 10-15, 15-6.
H. Bean and M. Moore defeated E. Dalton and P. Ahearn, 15-12, 15-12.
B. Hersey and L. Hersey defeated J. Hurley and E. O'Connell, 15-3, 15-3.
A. Burros and P. Burros defeated R. O'Donnell and C. Enos, 15-7, 15-12.

Women's Doubles
J. Rowell and M. Moore defeated A. Merino and R. McKay, 12-15, 15-10, 15-9.
L. Hersey and P. Burros lost to A. Lenzi and A. Roache, 9-15, 8-15.

We won 7 matches out of ten from Waterbury and edged out Cohasset 6 to 4. Individual scores of these two contests are still in the hands of the captain. Soon after Christmas it was evident that in order for the Club to survive we would have to find more players, and Winchester residents seemed to lack interest in the game, a Special Meeting was called the last week in January, when it was voted to admit a limited number of out-of-town residents to membership. It is hoped that the results of this meeting will be twofold — one, that these new members will help raise the standard of play in Winchester, and two, that the added membership subscriptions will enable the Club to keep its head above water — a problem which most other clubs do not have, as they have the use of their gyms rent free.

The big event of the year in the badminton world is the Nationals to be held in Boston next week at the University Club. No doubt many of our players will be there to see the top players of the country compete for No. 1 place on the ladder most of us are just beginning to climb.

1953 MIDDLESEX LEAGUE CHAMPS

WINCHESTER HOOP SEASON EXCELLENT

INDIANS WON MIDDLESEX LEAGUE CROWN. TECH TOURNEY FINALISTS

Though Winchester High failed to equal the superlative unbeaten record of the Whiz Kids of 1952, the Indians basketball team of the past season had themselves a great year, winning 21 of 24 games, including the Middlesex League championship and finishing in the runner-up position in the Class B competition of the Tech Basketball Tournament in the Boston Garden. Last year's team, the team of a lifetime, won 25 straight games including both the Eastern Massachusetts and New England Class B championships.

There is nothing dusty about a winning record of 21 and 3 at any time, and because few figured at the start of the past season that the Indians would have any such success, their outstanding record is the more pleasing. Coach Ted Bartlett, while figuring his boys would do all right, definitely did not figure a tourney berth at the beginning of the season last fall, and wasn't too sanguine about coping the Middlesex League crown, in view of the veteran material available at both Belmont and Reading and the general balance of the league.

Every really experienced member of the Whiz Kids of 1952 was missing when the '52-'53 season got underway. Co-captains "Stu" Thomson and "Kit" Carleton, Neil Muncester, Bobby Flaherty and Norman Howard got into a few varsity games in the '52 season but, except at Portsmouth, had not been in action under much of any pressure. There really was no one of proven varsity stature around which to build a club.

Add to this handicap a definite lack of speed in the varsity squad this year and you get some idea of the job facing Coach Bartlett as he attempted to line up a club to carry the banner raised so high by the peerless club of the previous season.

That this year's team went as far as it did is largely due to exceptional coaching and handling of very limited resources, though it must be admitted that on the whole the opposition wasn't too potent. Had the Indians faced clubs on the average as good as Belmont, their won and lost record would have been something else again.

Winchester and Belmont finished the season tied for the Middlesex League crown, the Indians' only two losses in league competition being to Belmont while the Wenners' record against the other teams of the loop was not as good as Winchester's.

Under a new Middlesex League Headmaster's ruling, basketball ties must be played off now, and it was decided by the masters to have the Class B semi-final at the Garden to settle the league title.

Winchester won that one, by the skin of its teeth, 50-48, after twice blowing eight-point leads. There really was little to choose between the two clubs, as the score would indicate, though Winchester's season long propensity for bad third periods was the only factor that kept Belmont in the game. The Indians dominated play during the first half and up to intermission looked definitely the better club.

Against St. Mary's of Brookline in the opening round of the Tech Tourney Winchester staggered to a four-point win, with even some of the local rooters figuring the locals were lucky to catch the Brookline club dog tired after participating in a previous tourney over the week-end before the Garden date.

Be all that as it may, admitting that this year's club was not the equal of the 1951-'52 team, the current Indians nevertheless rolled up a record that was a real credit to the school and town. Twenty-one victories out of twenty-four games is excellent going for any team and would so be considered except for this admittedly fine record being made after last year's super showing.

This year's team regularly lined up with Johnny Atkinson and Joe DiIorio, forwards; Norman Howard, center; and Neil Muncester and Capt. "Stu" Thomson, guards. Dave Pratt, Capt. "Kit" Carleton, Max McCreery, Nick Fitzgerald and Bobby Flaherty were replacements who did their bit toward the Indians' success. Bobby Willing was manager.

Joe DiIorio, who came very fast through the year, and Dave Pratt, potentially a good player, are holdovers from this year's club, with unbeaten second and freshman teams available for next season.

What another season will bring remains to be seen, but with any sort of material Coach Bartlett, the master builder, can be depended upon to put a representative team on the floor. His record since taking over the Indians' hoop destinies has been little short of fantastic.

Following is the season's record: Winchester, 79; Danvers, 46*; Winchester, 56; Dedham, 39*; Winchester, 71; Wellesley, 62*; Winchester, 76; Wakefield, 51; Winchester, 72; Stoneham, 39; Winchester, 46; Reading, 42; Winchester, 55; Concord, 53; Winchester, 40; Belmont, 43; Winchester, 61; Lexington, 52; Winchester, 63; Stoneham, 44; Winchester, 57; Wakefield, 47; Winchester, 85; Melrose, 36; Winchester, 48; Reading, 46; Winchester, 61; Concord, 40; Winchester, 43; Belmont, 50; Winchester, 79; Melrose, 33; Winchester, 54; Lexington, 49; Winchester, 56; Braintree, 48*; Winchester, 57; Kennett, N.H., 43*.

Winchester, 68; Woburn, 57*; Winchester, 84; Woburn, 59*; Winchester, 51; St. Mary's, Brookline, 47*; Winchester, 50; Belmont, 48.

BASKETBALL TEAM DINED

This year's Winchester High School basketball team celebrated a fine season and the winning of the Middlesex League Championship by dining at Durgin and Park's restaurant in the Boston Market District last Saturday evening. The varsity squad with Coaches Ted Bartlett and Hennie Knowlton and Manager Bobby Willing were in the party.

Before dinner the boys attended the Celtics basketball game at the Garden thrilling to the Boston team's win in the fourth overtime session.

At Durgin and Park's the team sat down to one of the roast beef dinners for which the Boston restaurant is famous. Coach Knowlton, a veteran at such affairs, feels that few teams of the past could eclipse the gastronomic propensities of this present club, albeit there have been many stout trenchermen at high school through the years.

HIGH SCORE BY FARRELL

Johnny Farrell, one of the stars of last year's State and New England championship basketball team at Winchester High School, has been having a great post-graduate season this year with the Vagabonds of Woburn, sparking the tanners to a fine season and last week Wednesday personally conducting his team to a thrilling victory in the CYO tournament over Charlestown.

Johnny gave a brilliant exhibition of all around basketball in leading his team to victory, throwing 10 goals from the floor and nine from the foul line to tally 29 points, a total crusing the previous high tourney tally of 24 scored by Belfatto of the Tecca Club.

WINTER SPORTS AWARDS

The annual winter sports assembly, to honor basketball and hockey players and cheerleaders, was presented at the high school last Friday morning, with Athletic Association president James Carroll presiding. Eighty-five players, managers, and cheerleaders received their awards.

Other highlights of the assembly were the announcement of special awards and the naming of team captains for next year. In presenting the D. A. R. Good Citizenship Award to Betty Freeman, Principal Wade L. Grindle noted that the victories won by scholarship and good citizenship are just as important as any won in an athletic contest. The Chitel trophy for the most valuable member of the basketball team was presented to Stuart Thomson by Coach Bartlett. Next year's captains were announced as follows:

Boys' Basketball
Robert McLaughlin
Joseph DiIorio
David Pratt
Sally Cunningham
Girls' Basketball
Craig Muncester
Assistant managers:
Seth Weston
Roger Heard
William Hosmer
William Coleman
Warren Goodnow

As one of the first speakers, hockey coach Frank Finnigan congratulated the players on their excellent season. Then he called upon the boys who have been Winchester's earliest risers during the winter months. They included:

Curtis Ryan, captain
Ted Harrison
Roy Lawson
Dave MacKenzie
Robert Agnos
Wayne Cowles
Dick Giacalone
Dick Ivers
Paul Mahoney
Robert McLaughlin
Jim Myers
Robert Paine
William Johnston, Manager

Comparing the standards for the girls basketball team to those of the national honor society, Coach Helen Carroll praised the girls for their spirit and diligence throughout the season. To the cheerleaders she expressed the gratitude of the entire school for the wonderful way in which they have supported our teams during the past season. Girls' second team winners were:

Nancy Ayer
Nancy Morse
Sheila Gullivan
Martha Halloran
Prudence Morton

Suzanne Donnell
Florence Newton
Mary Lou Armstrong
Marcia Lapan
Diane McNeill
Grace Von Huleston
Sally Cunningham
Peggy McNally
(Bonnie Bein and Carol Damon, asst. mgrs.)

Girls' Varsity winners were:
Sonia Smith, captain
Helen Freeman
Barbara Clark
Carolyn Stone
Ann Hooper
Barbara Hammett
Catherine Callahan
Cynthia Moss
Joan McNeill
Althea Hersey, manager

Cheerleaders who received awards included:
Roberta Coen, captain
Louise Gray
Judy Nanny
Rosanne Jope
Mary Rehm
Ann Marks
Connie Snelling
Joan Sweetser
Stephanie Yale

Junior varsity hoopers who received their awards from Coach Henry Knowlton were:

Harold McKinley
James Wright
Peter Gow
William Rose
John Morgan
Waldo Hart
Charles Stevens
Craig Muncester
Assistant managers:
Seth Weston
Roger Heard
William Hosmer
William Coleman
Warren Goodnow

In introducing the members of the Middlesex League champions Coach Edward Bartlett reminded his audience that this year's team came up from scratch, without a single varsity player from last year. Their triumphs, he said, were won the hard way. Varsity letters were awarded to the following:

Stuart Thomson, Co-captain
Frank Carleton, Co-captain
Joseph DiIorio
David Pratt
Neil Muncester Norman Howard
Johnny Atkinson
Maxwell McCreery
Nicholas Fitzgerald
Robert Flaherty
James Willing, manager

A fitting conclusion to this long assembly program came when Coach Bartlett proudly presented the trophy emblematic of the Middlesex League basketball championship to Mr. Grindle.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Dutch of Herrick street will return this week from Aiken, S. C., where they have been spending the winter.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES NEEDED

United States Information Service
Davao, Philippines
March 17, 1953.

Editor of the Star:
I am writing this letter as an appeal to the American people and especially to the people of Massachusetts, my home-state, to help in the ideological fight against communism. I am a Public Affairs Officer of the United States Information Service stationed in Davao City in the Republic of the Philippines. For those readers who are not familiar with the work of the USIS I would like to tell you how we operate.

In Mindanao, the particular area with which I am concerned, we have a main office in Davao and three branch offices. These offices are staffed with one American officer, myself, and 27 Philippine employees. We conduct an extensive informational program throughout the area showing movies to thousands of people by the use of mobile units. These mobile units visit every city and town in the area. The movies that are shown are particularly designed to point out the evils of communism as opposed to the strength and freedom of a working democracy.

Specially designed reading materials which encourage democracy-building and expose international communism as subversive force are widely distributed. Another method of spreading information is our library program. We have one main library in Davao City, but through the use of book boxes which are deposited and rotated throughout the area, we have developed a relatively large extension service. The Philippines has very few public libraries and by the use of this extension service we have been able to some extent to fill a few of the thousands of requests for a library loan service in remote areas.

Another method of getting reading material to the people effectively has been the development of reading centers. This reading center idea has spread so extensively that we find ourselves unable to supply them with reading materials on a continuing basis. While in the United States most people can afford to subscribe to one or two magazines, in the Philippines magazine subscriptions are a real luxury. Our limited supply of magazines and USIS reading material is devoured by the people, but as I said above, it is inadequate. Therefore we would welcome any reading material which could be sent to us for distribution to these reading centers. The best material would be your old copies of newspapers, magazines such as Life, Time, Newsweek, etc., but all magazines are of use as well as state-side newspapers and books.

I realize that I have given a very inadequate picture of our work and the problems involved, but if anyone wants a complete picture I will be glad to write personally and explain our operations in full. I make this appeal because I realize that the American people are interested above all in strengthening democracy and insuring peace and security for all peoples. I know you feel that when people are given an opportunity to read correct information about the USA and the rest of the world, the force of communist propaganda is greatly diminished.

I write this letter because I know that most Americans want to know what their government is doing to fight the communists by its information activities. I also know that the American people will want to help in this important battle. All those who are able to contribute reading material for our area please mail your package to Mr. Robert L. Nichols, Public Affairs Officer, United States Information Service, Davao City, Republic of the Philippines, or Mr.

Robert L. Nichols, PAO, American Embassy, APO 928, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, California.
Sincerely yours,
Robert L. Nichols
Public Affairs Officer
Mindanao-Sulu
P. S. Winchester, as my hometown, of which I am very proud, will, I know, lead the rest of Massachusetts in helping this cause.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The Lincoln School Junior Red Cross held its regular meeting on March 9 with grades one through six attending. President Carlene Johnson presided. The secretary's report was read by George Yore, as were two letters thanking the group for previous contributions. In addition, a certificate from the "Save the Children Federation" was presented.

Reports from each room representative were made. At the conclusion of the business meeting a safety film was shown.

Among the pupils who participated were:

Carlene Johnson
Nancy Stone
George Yore
Billy Jones
John Carter
Billy Leighton
Donald McCully
William Swett
Joyce Horvath
Nancy Carter
Carol Gaudioso
Michael Colough
Mary Deslongchamps
Mystic School

An assembly describing the work of the Mystic School chapter of the Junior Red Cross was presented to the school on March 19. Officers presiding or presenting their reports were:

Marcia Smith—president
Stephen Rochow—vice-president
Gardner Gray—secretary
Billy Doten—treasurer

The main portion of the meeting was concerned with descriptions by representatives of the projects which each room has prepared. Representatives speaking included:

Barbara Corey
Linda Chase
Edward Goodwin
Norman Stafford
George Snelling
Donald Colough
Susan Jolley
Polly Farnham
Janet Hogan
Gail Snelling

NATIONAL THESPIANS INDUCT NEW MEMBERS

The fifth anniversary of the chartering of Winchester High School's Troupe No. 729 of the National Thespian Society will be observed tonight at the high school auditorium with the induction of 17 new members. The society is the national honor organization for outstanding achievement in dramatic arts in the secondary schools. Induction ceremonies will be conducted by Steve Yale, president; Janet Archibald, vice-president; Sam Roracy; and Mr. Thomas A. Morse, faculty sponsor. New members to be initiated are as follows: Seniors: Deborah Fish, Jackson Wilcox, John Everett, Helen Herzig, Joan McNeill, Florence Caterino, Catherine Goss, Rebecca Smith, Nicholas Fitzgerald, Carter Tallman, and Tina Tonon.

Juniors: John Swazey, Gail Stratton, Carol Brown, Edward Mansfield, James Andrew Robertson, and Sandra Wittet. Following the initiation, members of the troupe will present a dress rehearsal of this year's drama festival play, "The Roman Kid." A short circuit session will be held at the conclusion of the play. Refreshments will be served under the direction of the committee composed of Marilyn Dyer, Nancy Ayer, and Patty Page. Mrs. Winn, high school cafeteria supervisor, has kindly assisted in general arrangements. All Curtains and Cue members, their parents, and friends are cordially invited. Admission is by membership card only.

WINCHESTER LECTURER

Dr. Thomas R. F. Gibb, Jr., of 27 Sargent road, director of sponsored research for Tufts College and associate professor in chemistry, will be presented as the final lecturer in the Tufts College university lecture series Tuesday evening, March 31, at 8 o'clock in Goddard Chapel on the Tufts campus. His subject will deal with what he describes as the curious relation between modern scientific research and science fiction.

Dr. Gibb, who is chairman of the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society, was appointed to his present post at Tufts in 1951. A graduate of Bowdoin College in 1936, he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1940. Between 1936 and 1946 he taught at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, after which he spent five years in industry as a research director. He returned to college teaching from industry because of his concern at the dwindling supply of young chemists needed as a "bulwark against war, disease and depression."

Open to the public without charge, Dr. Gibb's lecture is arranged under the direction of Dr. Eugene S. Ashton, Tufts university lecture chairman. Prof. Crosby F. Baker, chairman of the chemistry department, will introduce the speaker.

HOSPITAL VISITATION APRIL 12

Larger, with its new 35-bed wing, and modernized throughout, the Winchester Hospital will swing open its doors for a public visitation on Sunday, April 12, from 1 to 6 p. m. It will be an open house to which all the people of Winchester and neighboring communities are invited.

Completion of the building program increased the hospital's facilities by 50 per cent, allowing for the care of about 1800 more persons annually. Patients' beds now total 107 and the space and equipment and facilities in the nursery will accommodate 36 babies at one time, or 16 more than formerly.

The building program, as hospital president Edward H. Kenerson points out, included not only the addition of the new wing, but extensive changes in the old building and the installation of the most modern kinds of equipment for X-ray and operating rooms. All the work done has integrated the old and new into a single unit and has increased efficiency as well as capacity.

"For more than 40 years now," said Mr. Kenerson, "the Winchester Hospital has been an asset to the community. Today, it is a bigger and better asset with far greater potentialities for service."

"There is much to be seen at the hospital that will show our many friends how the money they have contributed to the building fund was spent. Words and pictures are not enough to give a full appreciation of the improvements that have been made."

"We believe that a real appreciation can best be gained by personal visits. So that is why we are holding open house on April 12 and inviting all to come and see the modern hospital facilities which are at their disposal."

KIWANIS CLUB

The regular Wednesday meeting of Kiwanis was saddened by the tragedy that has struck Charlie Foley, one of our members. We know that the thoughts of the whole community are with Charlie at this time.

Delegates to the National Kiwanis Convention in New York were announced as President Bill Vantwell and Vice-President John Mercurio with Clay Spector and Jim Haley as Alternates. A large delegation from this area is planning to attend.

The Scholarship Committee is still hard at work and it is the hope of this club that one of our own High School students will be one of the winners from this district. This is a four year Scholarship for the winner; so it is certainly well worth the efforts of the committee.

All those interested in the Community Activities of Kiwanis are reminded that all proceeds of the April Auto Sticker Campaign received by Master Motors will be donated to Kiwanis. The amount to a tidy sum and goes far in helping the children of Winchester.

Plans for the Fishing Derby for Kids to be held on May 23rd are coming along. There will be prizes for many and fun for all; so remember and save the date. It will be an outstanding time for every Kid in town.

AUXILIARY POLICE NOTES

Drama stole the show last week at the Auxiliary Police meeting, when Sergeant Bowler and two of the men put on a one-act play, by way of illustrating his lecture notes.

Before the play, the Sergeant spoke briefly on the general procedure which should be followed by a police officer when interviewing anyone with the intent of soliciting facts or clues pertinent to a case. He mentioned several precise points which always need to be observed, regardless of just what approach the officer has found effective in getting needed information. Then the skit was enacted to emphasize these points, giving the audience an excellent idea of just what results could be expected, and the audience was very appreciative, to say the least.

Following the lecture and play, the members enjoyed the coffee and doughnuts which have become so popular now at these meetings. Then there was a two-team shooting match, with the usual "discussion" over the final scores.

The next meeting will be Thursday, April 2, at 7:30 p. m. All members please try to attend.

WINCHESTER LEGION AUXILIARY

Middlesex County Council will meet Saturday, March 28, at Stoneham Town Hall at 2:00 p. m. as guests of Stoneham Unit 115. Tea will be served from 12:30 to 1:30 in the lower hall.

Our Unit has donated 19 sweaters for the Korean orphans as part of the Child Welfare project this year. District 5 is leading all the districts in Massachusetts in this worthy cause. We are having an interesting meeting in regard to our Child Welfare project Monday, April 6. More details about this next week.

Members please send your coupons to Eleanor Donaghue so she can win a citation for our Unit. Don't forget they must be in by April 1. Mail them to Eleanor Donaghue, 1 New Meadows road, Winchester.

Please mail your questionnaires back to Jan Johnson as she would like to complete her file.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY A.S.M.E.

The Women's Auxiliary to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Boston Section, will meet on Thursday, April 2nd, at 2:00 p. m. at the M. I. T. Faculty Club, 50 Memorial drive, Cambridge. The program features a Harp Musical by Miss Jean Bedford. Tea will be served.

COMMUNITY CONCERTS

On Monday evening, March 23, at the Winchester High School Auditorium, the Community Concert Association closed its season with a fitting climax in the performance of the Longines Symphonette featuring Miss Frances Yeend as soloist.

The program was divided into six parts, the first consisting of two selections by the Symphonette. Toccata Prescobaldi-Brunelli Symphony in D, No. 53, "Imperial" Joseph Haydn
Largo — Allegro vivace
Andante
Minuetto — Allegro
Presto

The Prescobaldi Toccata was an appropriate opening number because it reflected the versatility of this concert group in performing a seventeenth century work in a manner which made the contrast between it and the closing selection seem striking and yet harmonious. Brunelli's adaptation of this organ work was freely transcribed for the group, but preserved all of the richness and dignity of the original composition.

The second selection, the Haydn Symphony was particularly adapted to the talents and size of the orchestra because it was able to evoke the grace and charm of the eighteenth century. The work was delightfully refreshing, and was rendered with great precision and attention to detail.

The second part of the program consisted of three songs by Miss Frances Yeend, a dynamic lyric soprano. Miss Yeend made an impressive entrance in a vivid velvet gown, which contrasted strikingly with her blond hair. Her joyous personality was immediately evident in her gracious stage presence. The happy mood which she projected into her first selection was infectious.

Her acute sense of mood and feeling were likewise evident in her second selection, which was beautifully done. This was definitely one of the highlights in the concert.

The third in this series of vocal selections was well chosen to contrast with the gaiety of the first and the romantic beauty of the second. Her interpretation of the "Jewel Song" had drama and color; although the ending was rather Wagnerian in character, the song on the whole was well-done.

The next portion of the program was devoted to two orchestral selections featuring the strings. Adagio for Strings.

Samuel Barber
E Minor, Op. 64
Felix Mendelssohn
(Mishel Piastro, in unison with four violinists.)

Barber's Adagio for Strings is assuredly a masterpiece of modern composition. Its sostenuto quality was fully brought out with feeling and mastery; the cello passages were especially moving.

Pure virtuosity was evident in the finale of the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto. The five violins played together as one; their unison was excellent technically. The perfection of teamwork caused the piece to rise above the status of mere novelty.

After intermission came the first performance of a composition inspired by a man's love for a dog. Suite for Amber, Nicholas Flagello Portrait of Amber
Amber Strolls about the Town
Slumber Time
Amber Goes to the Concert
Nicholas Flagello, young American composer was pianist with the Longines Symphonette on its first national tour. Recently he lost his own beloved cocker spaniel. He had an inspiration that through Amber, the cocker spaniel of the Piastros he would compose a living memorial.

Mrs. Piastro and the dog were present in the audience, thus making the composition all the more fitting.

"Suite for Amber" is not overly sentimental as one might think; it is typically American in idiom. This is an interesting effort musically, full of color and striking versatility.

Miss Yeend made another appearance to begin the fifth part of the program. Her songs consisted of the following:
O Thou Billowy Harvest-field
Rachmaninoff
In the Silent Night
Rachmaninoff
Aria: Ah, fors'è lui, from
"La Traviata" (Act I) Verdi

The two Rachmaninoff selections were sung in English, and the enunciation was very clear. In both numbers Miss Yeend showed perfect control and a rare combination of feeling and intensity.

The concluding aria displayed her technical ability. Even though Miss Yeend is best known as a lyric soprano, this rendition showed the dramatic quality and fullness of her voice and her ability for perfect control.

The audience demanded an encore, and Carnavale's "Come Love with Me" was Miss Yeend's offering. The audience then demanded another, and it was requested that "Dixie Caravale Populaire" be repeated. Miss Yeend left with the audience a lasting impression of a vivacious personality, lovely voice and musical skill.

The program ended with the Longines Symphonette "Porgy and Bess" Suite.

This was another highlight in a most enjoyable concert. The solo passage for violin was outstandingly performed, and the orchestra as a whole evidenced here their deepest feeling in the presentation of this work. Although rather hampered acoustically by the physical qualities of the stage, the orchestra was more than adequate technically and in total quality.

Again, enthusiastic applause brought forth two encores from the Symphonette. John Farnum's "Jumping Beans" was an amusing diversion, and the second encore, "Jambalaya," by Arthur Benjamin, showed an ability of the orchestra to perform in a different and popular vein.

All in all, the program had variety and audience appeal. Even though the orchestra had had only one rehearsal with Miss Yeend, the accompaniment given by Mischel Piastro's group was remarkable. It may be interesting to note that Miss Yeend and Mr. Piastro met for the first time at the rehearsal on the afternoon preceding the concert.

In summation it may be safely said that this program was a most successful culmination to this year's Community Concert Series.

K of C HELD BREAKFAST

Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, held their annual Communion Breakfast Sunday morning in the Town Hall, following the 8 o'clock mass celebrated by Rev. John J. Grant. Headed by Grand Knight Everett Kimball the Knights marched to the church from the center and from the center to the town hall. Police and Fire Department escorts were headed by Chief Charles J. Harold and Chief James E. Callahan.

Three members of the Board of Selectmen, Chairman Don Greer, J. Joseph Tansey and William Cusack, were at the head table with Grand Knight Kimball and Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of St. Mary's Church. Others were Police Chief Harold, Fire Chief Callahan, Chancellor John Erhard, Deputy Grand Knight Jeremiah McCarron, Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun, Past Grand Knight Francis Rogers and Charter Member Thomas K. Lynch, oldest Council member. A feature was the voting of Thomas Higgins an honorary member of the Council.

An entertainment program was presented by Herb Cleary, pianist, Phil and Ted O'Rourke, songs and chatter; and Joe MacDonald of Wakefield, vocalist.

Guest speaker was Rev. William J. Kenneally, S. J., Dean of Boston College Law School, who spoke on tolerance.

MIDDLESEX ALL STARS

The official all-star team of the Middlesex League was chosen by the basketball coaches at their annual meeting on Monday night. Winchester players selected were Stu Thomson at a guard position on the first team and Norman Howard as the center of the second team. Jack Hardy of Reading and Dick Hurley of Belmont were the only unanimous choices.

Following are the teams selected by the coaches who certainly should be capable of selecting a representative team:

First Team
Hardy, Reading
Hurley, Belmont
Cranston, Wakefield
Campbell, Belmont
Thomson, Winchester
Second Team
Kineen, Lexington
Sweeney, Concord
Howard, Winchester
Runge, Reading
Notelbart, Lexington

THE SENIOR FORUM

On this Palm Sunday the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will attend church. Since it is the custom for Forum to share in the church service on the last Sunday of every month, the first service at 9:15 a. m. has been arranged for Forum participation. The Forum chaplain will be Robert Wiklund, and acting as deacons will be Harold McKinley, William Jesdale, Andrew Robertson, John Becker, Malcolm Johnson and Dave Pratt. The ushers will be Curtis Ryan,

Terry Tallman, Ted Elliott, John Merritt, Allan Cairncross, Kendall Cleaves and Lester Godwin. Dr. Cart will deliver the same sermon at both services, on the subject "The Conquering Christ."

On Sunday night Forum will meet again at six o'clock in Chidley Hall for their monthly supper meeting. After the supper the Dramatic Club will present a Lenten play, "Barabbas, Son of the Master." Taking part in this play will be Catharine Ayer, Ann Peter, Cynthia Peter, son, Ronny Swonger and Bob Beck.

"Science and Health": "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else.
Hence all is Spirit and spiritual" (page 331).

The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard nor perceived by the eye, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him" (44:4).

TRAVELOGUE I
Nice, France
March 1, 1953

Dear Everybody:
Well, we left our ship reluctantly at Genoa, but I will try to bring you up to date on our trip after we left Gibraltar. I strongly suspect that the Captain slowed down so that we might see Gibraltar in daylight and that we should not reach Oran before sunrise the next morning.

We had several hours ashore here and we managed to get an excellent taxi man from Poitiers.
France who had lived in Oran many years. The city is of fairly recent development. The enclosed harbor which is large enough to hold many ships of all sizes is surrounded by very high land almost to the water's edge. To the west the land was very steep, very steep, up to the mountain (1500 feet high) was a large and interesting looking old fortress going back to Moorish times.

Fine new roads from the dockside have been built zig-zagging up the steep hillside to the town proper. All the roads were paved in the city and we have nothing better in the way of smooth surface. They are all built of concrete.

The population numbers something over 200,000. There is a large Arab population. (They prefer to be called Musselmans) living in their own section known as the Kasbah. We went there and got out of the car to look into the shops and loiter along by the sidewalk cafes. The din here was tremendous. Radios blaring in Arabic, hucksters crying their wares and the total volume of noise from the thousands on the walks and streets was bewildering.

The natives did not seem to mind us very much. They didn't stare at us nearly as much as we would stare at one of them dressed in their native garb in one of our cities. We could take photos of street scenes without trouble as long as no women were near. They all are veiled. But I noticed some men laugh when I waited for a woman to get out of the view and then they invited me to snap them at work. On the edge of the city but still in Arab section, the houses are built on steep hillsides which are terraced. Oranges were in the trees and figs and peach trees were in bloom.

But the country is arid. There's a fair amount of native pine and lots of cacti, but they scarcely ever have rain and a month ago they had enough snow to make the hills all white for the first time in 30 years! It was, however, fairly cool even in the sun.

Algeria is a French Department which is similar to one of our states. It is not a colony but politically a part of France itself. For how much longer? A Frenchman living there who had breakfast with us aboard ship guessed it might be for as long as ten years.

Frankly, he said, the reason is this.
There are 10 million Arabs in the country and they have one political party. There are about a million Frenchmen here and they have at least 10 parties. There is no open defiance of France but there is an undercurrent which is growing all the time. And even in places like Oran which has so many French there are many very wealthy Arabs. How many no one knows but they are not few.

The European part of the city is clean with good streets, good shops and doesn't look much different than other European cities. We were struck with the lack of a Moorish look but of course it was largely built by the French. Algeria has its own currency, the same value as France but not interchangeable. At the postoffice they would take only Algerian money.

TUBERCULOSIS COMMITTEE

The annual meeting of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee with officials of the Middlesex Health Association was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Moffette, chairman, on Wednesday, March 18.

Representing the Middlesex Health Association were Miss Catherine Rogers, director of Seal Sales; Miss Betty Myers, rehabilitation counselor, and Mr. Joseph Fitt, health educator. Of the Winchester committee, besides Mrs. Moffette those present were: Mrs. Harlow Russell, chairman elect; Mrs. Franklin Lane, treasurer; Mrs. Sanford Moses, Mrs. Richard Clark, Mrs. William Spaulding, and Mrs. James Coon.

The total Seal sales in the town of Winchester were reported at $3734.50.

The budget for the year of 1953 was set up and approved, with allocations made for several projects. A sum was voted to the Middlesex Health Association which included contributions to the state and national programs.

Provision was made for health education including literature for the public library; literature, posters, and moving pictures for schools and industries.

Money was appropriated for the case-finding program, including X-rays in industries, the junior high school, in hospitals, where such a program is in operation for citizens of Winchester.

A donation was made for the rehabilitation program. This provides instruction and material for use in building and encouraging skills for the tuberculosis convalescent.

A health education scholarship was provided for further study by a qualified public health nurse.

A further contribution was made to the Margaret Roberts Memorial Fund. This fund was formerly called the Special Fund and was administered by Miss Roberts to give help where needed in any part of the program for which no other funds were available. This proved of greatest value, particularly in rehabilitation work, and after her death, its name was changed to the Margaret Roberts Memorial Fund. All chapters contribute what they can to this; it is available for any demonstrated need, and Winchester citizens have benefited often from it. We are proud to make a generous contribution each year.

ON WASHINGTON TRIP

Roger D. Creelman, '53, was one of twenty-eight Amherst College students who spent three days of his spring vacation in Washington, D. C., studying problems of policy, organization, and personnel of the new Republican administration. All who made the trip Monday, March 23, through Wednesday, March 25, are majoring in political science at Amherst.

Amherst alumni in the Washington area are accommodating the undergraduates in their homes for the three-day visit through arrangements made by C. Douglas Sager, Jr., '38, president of the Washington alumni association. Noted newsman Martin Agronski will speak at a banquet in the National Press Club on Monday evening, with Washington alumni as hosts to the visiting students.

ON YALE DEAN'S LIST

"Garry" Gillespie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Gillespie of 89 Main street, is on the Dean's List for the first semester for scholastic excellence as a sophomore at Yale University, where he is taking the Directed Studies course.

He is flying to Palm Beach next Sunday for Spring practice with the Yale Golf team, and has been pledged to Chi Psi fraternity.

LIBRARY ACTIVITIES

Music
The music program for Wednesday, April 1, in the Jere A. Downs Memorial Room at 3:00 p. m. and again at 7:30 p. m. will be:

The Oratorio Seasons (Spring and Summer) — Haydn.

Films

The library film programs for the season will be concluded this week, Friday night, March 27, at 7:30 p. m. and Saturday morning, March 28, at 10:15. The imaginary "Round the World Trip" via films will be continued this week by the showing of the March of Time film, "Ireland." "Our arrival" back in New York will be observed by the showing of the film, "International House." This movie will show International House activities in which peoples from many lands took part. This film will be shown Friday night, but not Saturday morning.

Other films to be shown will be: "Circus Day in Our Town," "Sound of Music," and a cartoon.

Story Hour

Next week, Saturday morning, April 4, Miss Elizabeth Russell, Children's Librarian, will hold the first of the Spring Series of Story Hours. These story hours will appeal especially to third, fourth, and fifth grade youngsters.

Miss Russell will once again start each Story Hour Program with the candle lighting ceremony. This ceremony will take place promptly at 10:15 every Saturday morning this Spring, and will be followed by story-telling.

ROTARY AUCTION!

Overhaul the attic, gals, and have your hobbles look over the cellar. The Rotary is planning its big annual Auction Sale and it needs lots and lots of things of all kinds to sell.

Don't make much odds what you want to get rid of. The Rotarians will take it and very probably sell it. Pull out the stuff you don't want (they'll take anything you do want if you want to contribute it) and put in a phone call to any of the Rotarians listed below. They'll see that your elephants, white or otherwise, are promptly called for.

Alfred Elliott, WI 6-2171; Sid Elliott, 6-2965-J; Richard Hakanson, 6-3120; Charles Koch, 6-1931; Joe Moffett, 6-1730; Charles Murphy, 6-1725; Aram Mouradian, 6-3668; Tom Quigley, 6-0081; Hugh Erskine, 6-0568.

TEACHERS STUDY SCIENCE TEACHING METHODS

The improvement of science teaching was the subject of the conference held at the Washington School last Wednesday and attended by all elementary school teachers and principals, as well as representatives from the junior and senior high school science departments. The conference, arranged by the elementary science committee, was designed to acquaint teachers with improved methods, materials, and techniques for making science instruction interesting and meaningful to school children.

Preceding the regular session, there was an exhibit of science projects prepared by pupils in the elementary schools. In several cases, the students were present to demonstrate their electrical "inventions" or explain their experiments. Another interesting feature was the showing of modern, colorful texts for the teachings of science, offered by several leading publishers.

At the conclusion of the exhibit period, the conference was convened by Superintendent Forbes H. Norris, who then turned the program over to Miss Sybil Daniels, chairman of the committee. In her brief statement Miss Daniels sought to emphasize the close relationship of science to all areas of school instruction. Quoting from a statement by Dr. Herbert Zinn, she said, "The science teacher, the classroom teacher, and all other teachers in the school system are important in the science program. The music teacher will use some science if she does her work to the fullest. So will the art teacher, the social studies teacher, and the physical education teacher."

The principal speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Norman D. Harris, director of education at the Museum of Science, Boston, was next introduced. As the producer of the television show, "Living Wonders," which was the winner of a Peabody Award, Mr. Harris has been making science interesting to a large and enthusiastic audience throughout New England for the past four years.

Mr. Harris expressed the belief that a lively, dramatic presentation of science is most important at the elementary level, if the interest of boys and girls is to be captured for all time. Vivid experiences are necessary for all students. At the same time, a teacher may encourage individuals with special aptitudes for experimentation along the lines of their particular interest.

Illustrating his talk, Mr. Harris showed several experiments that may be done with simple materials, and he made suggestions for many more demonstrations. When speaking of the study of living things, he urged the teachers to help overcome the common aversion to snakes by teaching interesting facts about them. In time with the season were his suggestions for the springtime study of birds, reptiles, and amphibians. Mr. Harris also spoke about the many services to teachers and schools rendered by the Museum of Science, and he noted that several classes from Winchester have already visited the museum. The close attention with which his talk and demonstrations were received and the lively question period which followed seemed to indicate that the purpose of the meeting had been fully achieved.

LINCOLN SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Sixth graders at the Lincoln School entertained their parents and classmates recently at an assembly when they presented a three act play, "The Clever Nanka," based on the story by the same name by Parker Fillmore. A few days later, the youngsters went up to the Parkhurst School where they performed it again. Several times in the past few months the pupils of these two schools have shared programs with each other, and it is felt that the exchange is well worth the effort.

"The Clever Nanka" is a delightful story of the contest, romantic as well as intellectual, between a wise and dignified mayor and a clever young shepherd girl. Despite various complications, all's well in the end. The youngsters taking part in the play included: Marjorie Griffin, David Dauphinais, Roger Eriksen, Phyllis Ward, John Curtis, Harriet Colucci, John Yore, and Donald Harrold.

Miss Susan Ordway, '55, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Ordway, 95 High street, has been appointed a proctor and president of Millikin House at Bates College for the coming school year. On the Student Government board as sophomore representative this year, Miss Ordway will represent her Millikin House dormitory on the Student Government board next year.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Wonderful! Wonderful! Wonderful! Have a Girl Scout Cookie? We've never had a more successful drive, and all done by our smallest and youngest members, our Brownies! We heartily thank all of you who purchased the cookies, and all of you who have in any way worked on the drive! Cookie pushers, leaders, Brownies, and all buyers, you have made possible the sale of the amazing total of 10,244 boxes of Girl Scout cookies in just one week! Now, aren't you proud of yourselves!

There are more than 100 Brownies who will be given certificates of Merit, awarded to those who sold over 35 boxes each, and gift bonds will be awarded to girls who actually sold the greatest number. These prizes will be announced later, on Friday, April 10th, when all the money is in and accounted for, at which time there will be a ceremony in each school to acknowledge and reward the girls' efforts.

Troop No. 1 Chatter

Troop No. 1 has had a busy time this year, what with skiing trips, planned camping trips, and the excitement of establishing contact with an international Girl Scout troop.

The two skiing trips of the season were held at the Hersey's farm in New Boston, N.H. In both cases the girls left for the farm on Friday afternoon after school, and spent the week-end there.

The skiing was excellent on the first trip, but the coming of spring interfered on the second, there being no snow. This did not hamper the girls from having a good time and horse-back riding, skating and hiking were enjoyed by all.

Contact has finally been made with an international troop in Medellin, Antioquia, Colombia, South America. The South American girls are approximately 14-16 years old, and in our grades at school. Troop No. 1 is busy compiling a scrapbook showing the activities of the year and the activities American teen-agers enjoy in each. Personal photos of each girl will be included with the group pictures. Plans are being made for our annual spring bicycle trip to New Boston, which will probably take place during spring vacation.

Troop leaders are asked to come to the office on April 6th and 7th between the hours of 10-11 a. m. and 1-2 p. m. to pick up their tickets for all reservations for the Father-Daughter banquet April 14th.

Two first aid courses are now in session, the class including all Freshman Girl Scouts being conducted by Mrs. E. Prescott Randall. Mr. Frank Weaver is conducting the class for sophomore Scouts of Troop No. 4, who plan to go to England. The names of all girls completing the courses will be published later.

Attention, please. The proposed Girl Scout auction, for the benefit of the planned trip to England, will be held on April 11, at the home of Mrs. Charles Whitten, 70 Westland avenue. Mrs. John Harrison is in charge of the coffee arrangements. The study group has been unusually fortunate in its speakers this year and this meeting should prove no exception; the Irving & Casson Company is sending Mr. Charles Metcalfe, an artist, who will illustrate his talk on silpovers and wind treatment.

On March 18 the morning study group met at the home of Mrs. Isaiah Bullard when Mrs. Ray Brown spoke on buffets. Mrs. Brown demonstrated the preparation of three basic buffet recipes: cream sauce, stir and roll biscuits, and chicken cooked in aluminum foil. While the baking was in process, Mrs. Brown gave recipes and talked about the changes in food products in the last few years and its effect upon our cookery. The meeting ended with the sampling of Mrs. Brown's delicious concoctions.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The Thrifty Time-Saving Tactics morning study group of the Winchester College Club will conclude this year's series of lectures at its next meeting scheduled at 9:45 a. m. on Wednesday, April 1, at the home of Mrs. Charles Whitten, 70 Westland avenue. Mrs. John Harrison is in charge of the coffee arrangements. The study group has been unusually fortunate in its speakers this year and this meeting should prove no exception; the Irving & Casson Company is sending Mr. Charles Metcalfe, an artist, who will illustrate his talk on silpovers and wind treatment.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Annual Roll Call Supper of the Second Congregational Church was a huge success. Many have said it was the best yet. The tables were beautifully decorated with candles and spring flowers, and the dinner of fried chicken and all the "trimmings" was enthusiastically accepted.

After the supper new members received into the church were introduced. Among those were Mr. and Mrs. William Cruwys, Roy Carlson, Robert Farnham, Janet Keene, Lois Erb, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vogt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kent, and Mrs. Richard Brownell, Mr. and Mrs. Lennart Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Bjorn Gunnlaugsson, who are joining the church with the Easter group, were also presented.

At the annual meeting in January, Talent Dollars were distributed to those who wanted them. They were to be increased in any legitimate way and returned at the Roll Call Supper. The projects undertaken to increase the dollars were many and varied. More than two hundred dollars were turned in. The money was to be used to pay for new supper tables purchased by the church, but since eight of the tables were given outright, only $120 was needed to complete the project. The money left over was put into a fund which will be used to remodel the kitchen of the church.

The climax of the evening was a play presented by six ladies of the church. The play was, appropriately, "After the Church Supper" received many curtain calls and each was presented with a lovely bouquet.

DISTINGUISHED MILITARY STUDENT

Robert N. Oxford, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Oxford of Chesterford road, has been designated a Distinguished Military Student at Dartmouth College with the concurrence of the college president.

A Distinguished Military Student is designated as such by the professor of military science and tactics of the college or university he attends on the basis of outstanding qualities of leadership, high moral character and definite aptitude for military service. He shall have accomplished creditably his academic requirements and participated in recognized campus activities.

He shall have sufficient standing in military subjects in addition to his other qualifications to warrant his designation as a Distinguished Military Student.

In the present Oxford maintains his highest level of academic work in military science and the other Dartmouth departments and continues his leadership in campus activities, at his graduation he will have the privilege of applying for a commission in the Marines or any branch of the Army, other than the Medical services and Judge Advocate's Corps.

Monday evening, March 23rd, Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Eaton of Grove street and Mr. and Mrs. James Doty of Ipswich, formerly of Winchester, dined with Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Collins at their home in Sarasota, Florida.

HOME FROM ALASKA

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Cross of Spenard, Alaska, with their son, Richard, and daughter, Susan, are in Winchester visiting Mr. Cross' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah W. Cross of 9 Winthrop street.

Mr. Cross has been in government service in Alaska for the past six years, as chief draftsman on construction work that has been going on for some time at the big air force base at Anchorage.

He graduated from Winchester High School in 1941, and was studying at Northeastern when the war interrupted his college course. He entered the navy in 1942 and later served in the army.

Following his discharge from the service Mr. Cross was a draftsman for a textile machinery corporation in Philadelphia before going to Alaska and entering the government service. Though his postoffice address is Spenard, which is four miles from Anchorage, he actually lives on a homestead, seven to eight miles from Spenard. His homestead of 160 acres includes a lot of timberland, covered mostly with spruce and birch.

In 1947 Mr. Cross married Arlene Erb of Littleton, Pa. He and his family expect to return to Alaska later in the spring. The winter weather there isn't as unpleasant as we have it here, though the temperature goes much lower.

Mr. Cross says he has seen the glass at 40 below zero, but that generally it does not go much lower than 30 degrees below. He told the Star that he had noticed the cold since coming much to Winchester, where he had in Alaska, where a flannel shirt and sweater are standard cold-weather equipment, with mackinaws and jackets for the extreme temperatures. As a matter of fact, Mr. Cross said he did not own an overcoat until he returned to Winchester, when he bought one in a hurry!

WINCHESTER SOLDIER SAVES GAS

Pfc. Peter Ferro, whose wife and son reside at 58 Water street, has been doing his bit toward saving gas for the war effort even though he is in Korea and has been for eight months.

Back after a rest in Japan, the Winchester boy is serving as mail clerk for his company, known by its members as "Chop-on-up-Charlie" Company. Working on the premise that every little bit helps, Pfc. Ferro is saving gas by walking down to battalion headquarters instead of driving, and carrying the mail back to his company on a frame strapped to his back. "Just a field expedient," said the imaginative mailman.

AIDS TOY LIBRARIES

Metcalfe Union, the high school fellowship at the Unitarian Church, is putting on a drive to provide toys for the three toy libraries conducted by the Unitarian Service Committee.

These toy libraries are located in Boston, Portland, Me., and on the Navaho Indian reservation in the west. The toys are loaned, like library books, to poor children who have no toys of their own.

All members of the upper school Sunday School, Junior High Fellowship and Metcalfe Union are being asked to bring toys next Sunday and Easter Sunday to the church. Tyler Black is chairman of a committee which will gather the toys and take them to Service Committee offices.

All kinds of usable toys can be loaned by the libraries — dolls, wagons, tricycles, bikes, books, games, trucks, doll's clothes, etc.

VISITED SCIENCE PARK

Fifth grade students from the George Washington School journeyed to the Museum of Science on March 10 to find out for themselves that "Science is Fun." They were accompanied by Roland A. Nault and Miss Lois Peobles.

Leaving textbooks behind, the group toured the ultra-modern exhibit halls pressing buttons and turning wheels to see how science actually works.

Telephones that talk back, electrically-operated airplane engines, man-made lightning and many other scientific surprises translated the textbook study of the class into dramatic three-dimensional terms.

Visiting the museum were:

IN HARVARD-RADCLIFFE SHOW

Marshall R. Pihl, Jr., a sophomore at Harvard College, appeared recently in the annual Radcliffe College production, "Drumbeats and Song," a combined musical, featuring the Harvard Band and "Annex-dotes" 1953 Destination Quartet, whereby the Harvard men and Radcliffe girls entertain in order to raise money for the Radcliffe College Student Government Grant-in-Aid Fund.

The popularity of this annual event was proven by the fact that every seat in Sanders Theatre was filled. The Harvard Band put on a thrilling performance, followed by the arrival of the "Space Men" from Harvard in a light musical comedy. Marshall played the second lead and received great applause when he did a tap dance and song rendition of "I'd Rather Have You."

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell D. Mansfield of Pomfret, Conn., were in town over the week-end, visiting friends. Mr. Mansfield, former director of athletics at Winchester High now fills a similar billet at Pomfret School and reports a successful basketball season this year.

NEW ASSIGNMENT FOR EASTON

Second Lieutenant Harry M. Easton, young paratrooper son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Easton of 9 Seneca road, has received a new assignment in the army, it was announced today.

Lt. Easton is now on duty as an instructor on the Tactics Committee of the 11th Airborne Division Replacement Training Faculty at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. He is teaching basic trainees the fundamentals of tactics our army used in combat.

Lt. Easton entered the army in June 1952 upon completion of studies at the University of Maine. He received his parachutist badge in November 1952 upon completing a course of training at the Airborne School at Fort Benning, Georgia. He is married to the former Jane E. Beggs of Winchester.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Parent-Faculty Association will be held on Monday evening, April 6th, at eight p. m., in the Winchester High School Auditorium.

The speaker, Mrs. Clare Walsh, is one who will be familiar to WBZ audiences especially, since the group from the George Washington School were guests on her program. Due to the widespread interest in her subject, "Adult Homemaking Education," this meeting will be open to the public.

We salute the members of Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Archibald's committee and the Home Room Mothers for a most successful Parent-Faculty bridge party (in February), which netted a sizeable profit to be announced at the annual meeting.

Late last Saturday afternoon police headquarters was notified that 24 panes of glass had been found broken at the home of Miss Dorothy Nash on Everett road.

WINCHESTER SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

Spring is here and High School seniors preparing for college have taken their College Board examinations. Soon the incoming mail will be eagerly watched for answers to the entrance applications which have been hopefully made to many different colleges. For twenty years, qualified students have been encouraged to plan for higher education by the knowledge that their Town stood ready to back them with financial help.

The first community-wide effort in this direction was made by the Mothers' Association in 1932. $100.00 was a lot of money to raise for a new cause in the depths of the depression, but that was the sum to which the chapters pledged themselves and the goal was reached.

Money was raised in increasing amounts and awards were made each year, until by 1944 it was felt that the project deserved and would receive support on a much broader scale throughout the Town. Through the Mothers' Association a representative committee was appointed and in December, 1945, the Winchester Scholarship Foundation was formally established.

The purposes of the organization were stated as follows: "to award or aid in the award of scholarships to seniors or graduates of the Winchester High School, to gather and provide data for others proposing to award such scholarships, to receive, invest and distribute funds for these purposes or for purposes incidental to them, and otherwise to stimulate, recognize, and reward scholastic excellence or other outstanding merit in the Winchester High School."

Funds are raised by a Gift Committee of four members, one elected each year to serve for four years, with the senior member acting as chairman. This year they are: Mr. Harry Cheffalo, Mr. John McIntyre, Mrs. Robert Tonon and Mrs. George Marks, Chairman.

Recipients of the scholarship awards are chosen after the most careful consideration by the Scholarship Committee. Its members are also elected for four year terms, so that the senior member has had three years of service before assuming the chairmanship. This year the Committee consists of: Mrs. Neil Borden, Mrs. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Thomas Morison and Mr. Charles Gallagher, Chairman.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW

Winchester flower lovers are cordially invited to attend the Flower Show, being held this week-end, March 28-29, by Cummings the Florist, in connection with the re-opening of his new modern flower shop and greenhouse at 42 Cambridge road on Route 3 in Woburn. Cummings the Florist, known formerly as "Johnny Gets 'em," is a name that has been associated with the best in flowers for many years. Several years ago a bad fire destroyed a large part of the working area at their greenhouses, and since that time there has been a reorganization of the business, which is now operated by John Cummings, a member of the original firm.

The flower shop and greenhouses now have an entirely new layout, including a fish pool and waterfall. Much more room is available than formerly, making for better service of patrons.

This week-end's flower show will serve admirably as a preview of plants and flowers for Easter, and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing the display. There will be a gift from Cummings the Florist for each lady who attends.

MARY FOLEY

Mary Foley of Woburn, one of the original members of the Boston Catholic Theater, will appear in the leading role of Lillith in the production of the new Lenten drama, "As A Roaring Lion," at the town hall Saturday evening at 8:15 under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus.

BAPTIST COUPLES ENJOY GAME NIGHT

First Baptist's Eight O'Clock Club met recently at the home of Rush and Anna Harwood for an evening of games, fun and fellowship. Another in the series of regular monthly meetings of this lively group of young married couples, the get-together was a huge success — even if Walter Josephson did miss watching the TV fights and Bill Wickwire wasn't quite up to his usual life-of-the-party form due to a slight touch of the virus bug. Special mention must also be made of the tempting variety of delicious refreshments served by the Harwoods assisted by Genevieve and Elmer Grinnell and Adelaide and Joseph Dunn.

A square dance will be the featured attraction of the next meeting of the Eight O'Clock Club on April 11th. Needless to say, anything can happen . . . and probably will!

Some of the present committee were not inclined to go along with the Wilson ideas, but further study and discussion finally brought all to the point where they were ready to accept his recommendations and propose them to the town, feeling that the variation from the plan rejected two years ago would make the new proposal acceptable to the voters this year.

One of the items of the unacceptable plan, the space devoted to industrial arts, is materially changed in the new plan. Mr. Speers explained, so that now the entire building committee feels that the town under the new layout will provide all that is necessary in this field, always bearing in mind that an industrial arts program is not vocational education, something for which there is little call in Winchester.

Mr. Speers said the enlarged junior high school will take care of 925 pupils and the remodelled senior high of 500 junior high pupils. The committee feels that the buildings will be adequate for from 10 to 12 years, with the high school having an outside capacity of 1200 pupils.

It is the committee's judgment that both buildings may be full in six years, but at or about that time a leveling off of school population is looked for and that by careful planning and perhaps going above optimum figures emergencies can be cared for up to 1200 in the high school.

When an increase above that figure is encountered in school population the committee feels that the solution is to build a new junior high building and go to the 6-3-3 plan which the School Committee and Superintendent of Schools actually prefer to the 6-2-4 plan the alteration of the present buildings ensures.

Mr. Speers took up the matter of closing Main street at Washington street as provided by the so-called Foster Plan, which called for joining the present high and junior high buildings across Main street and providing a school campus. The schools campus idea appealed to some of the committee members strongly and they went so far as to confer with state officials to see if Main street can be blocked off and if state and county aid might be secured in the event the town wanted to close it.

The committee found, he said, that the street can be blocked off if an alternate route is provided through the Skillings estate and the town would receive state and county aid on such a project.

The committee, however, also found that any state or county aid forthcoming would not come soon enough to count in the present emergency, and the members also felt that perhaps it was not the committee's place to take the initial steps toward the acceptance of what seemed to them primarily a traffic diversion plan rather than a school plan, though Mr. Speers admitted the committee would have been glad to have any one else propose it. The lowest cost the committee could get on the street closing was $550,000 and most estimates were substantially above this figure.

The committee has retained Lewis W. Ross Associates for the work on the junior high school building, which will be enlarged by the addition of wings on both sides of the original block and extensive remodeling of the original building. The plan makes necessary the taking of three homes on the southerly side of Warwick terrace to make possible the development in that direction.

Jerome Bailey Foster, Winchester architect, has been retained to do the high school renovations, most of which consist of modernizing and decorating. The committee estimates that the entire job for both schools will total about $1,800,000, with $300,000 for modernizing the high school, and $1,500,000 for construction and remodeling at the junior high building and the remainder for furnishing and fees.

The committee's best judgment is that in the event a low bidder for the work at the junior high building is a firm that pushes a job rapidly, it may be possible to transform the junior high school into a senior high school by September, 1954. It is now believed that instead of a summer job, five months at least will be necessary to modernize the high school for use as a junior high.

Mr. Speers showed slides of both jobs and answered a very few questions about both buildings. There was no opposition voiced to either plan and Mr. Speers was warmly applauded when he concluded his presentation.

Mr. Hewis tried to have the meeting split the $69,000 appropriation voted the school building committee for plans so as to take $40,000 from revenue and $29,000 from Excess and Deficiency. The meeting rejected his amendment to this end and voted the original motion without debate.

The meeting opened by voting $1800 to be expended by the Selectmen to build a gravel sidewalk along Main street from Chardon road to Symmes corner as a safety measure for children in the Chardon road area going to the Mystic School on foot.

Consideration of Article 22 was deferred until the next adjourned session of the meeting. Mr. Bonnell explaining that this article, seeking to take land in Rangle for a parking lot, had been the subject of two hearings by the Planning Board, the second coming only the night before Thursday's session. The Board, with one member ill, had been unable to consider the article sufficiently in view of the opposition to the project at the hearings to arrive at a recommendation.

The sum of $800 was voted to increase and improve the parking place behind the Fire Station to accommodate 12 more cars, enlarging the capacity to 57. As an aid to parking it was also voted to transfer from the Park Department to the Selectmen a strip of land along the railroad tracks on Shore road to be used as a parking place for 45 to 50 cars. The Finance Committee opposed this Selectman-approved measure presented by Mr. Hewis, but the meeting voted the transfer. Mr. Greer explaining that the Highway Department would do the work necessary to put the strip in condition to use. Mr. Hewis asked $4,000 to construct the area, but readily changed this sum to $2,600 which Mr. Greer believed would be enough to do the sort of job as contemplated by the Selectmen.

Action was indefinitely postponed on the article proposing to erect a bridge across the Mill Pond to provide easy access from the town hall parking lot to the shopping center.

Some little debate occurred under the article seeking to install parking meters in the center.

Mr. Greer, in stating the Selectmen's approval, explained that there is no cost to install the meters, the installing company taking 50 percent of the proceeds for 18 months. After payment, meters would be expected to bring the town about $12,000 a year, which by law can only be expended for upkeep of the meters, parking or traffic cost items. Mr. Greer explained that the Selectmen feel that with the parking problem becoming daily more acute, it would be a good plan to try out meters with the understanding that they can be removed if the town decides it does not like them after a trial.

The Finance Committee opposed the meters, Mr. Swift stating that in their opinion they add another tax for the motorist and will not provide additional parking spaces. Mr. Hewis opposed. Mr. Wilde opposed at some length, stating that the parking meter companies get the money from them and that meters do not provide any extra parking space. He felt local merchants, paying preferred rent for first floor offices and stores, are handicapped by meters and that the present parking as regulated by the police will not be improved by the installation of meters.

Mrs. Woodside favored the meters, stating that for once she was in agreement with the Selectmen and particularly the chairman of the Selectmen. Mr. Rotondi, Mr. Horn and Mr. Cullen opposed the meters and the meters were again rejected, but by a relatively close vote, 66 being in favor and 90 opposed.

The meeting's final action was to appropriate $17,225 and $12,471.20 for the School Committee's use, respectively to improve the lighting in the elementary schools and to paint, equip and repair the old section of the George Washington School. Mr. Hewis and Mr. Saraco, battling down to the wire, tried unsuccessfully to have both amounts taken from Excess and Deficiency instead of revenue.

Action on Article 32, authorizing improvement to the lighting system at the Waldiegh School, was indefinitely postponed and the meeting adjourned at 11:07 p.m. until Thursday, March 26.

At the opening of the meeting it was voted to adjourn to this date upon the motion of Prof. Borden who explained that a Monday session would conflict with the Community Concerts program at the High School, for which many of the town meeting members had held tickets since early fall.

WORLD FEDERALIST DINNER

The members of the Winchester United World Federalists will hold a joint dinner for members and guests, with the Lexington and Concord-Lincoln Chapters of UWF on Monday evening, April 13 at 6:45 p.m. The dinner will take place at Cary Memorial Hall on Massachusetts avenue in Lexington.

Prominent speakers will bring out timely developments of the Federalist movement to develop the United Nations into an organization with sufficient but limited powers, to prevent war. Many other groups throughout the country are giving careful thought to this need and to the question of revision of the United Nations Charter.

The sponsors of the dinner include the following from Winchester:

Mrs. Cutler B. Downer
Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Lowry
Miss Alice A. Main
Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Worcester
Other sponsors are:
Reverend Father George W. Casey

ON TV PROGRAM

Mr. and Mrs. William McLeod Macdonald of 42 Canterbury road were in New York City last week while Mr. Macdonald attended the National Toy Fair held in several of the larger hotels.

While in New York the Macdonalds were guests on the TV program, "The Big Payoff", sponsored by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet and coming over Channel 4 from Radio City Studios in the RCA Building. Mrs. Macdonald sat in the beautiful plush-lined chair while her husband, Bill, attempted to answer the "Mink Coat Quiz".

The most attractive prizes included two air tickets to Paris, France, and Mr. Macdonald did his best. He hit the first question about a song made popular by Mary Ford squarely on the button, but forgot to keep his left quite high enough on the second query about the show "Monkey Business" starring Cary Grant, and was counted out. His performance wasn't a total loss, and his wife, Myrtle, has some nice wearing apparel coming along in recognition of hubby's correct answer to his first question. What with TV Bill admits he hasn't been going to the movies as much as he should of late, for "quiz" purposes at least.

Last week marked the third appearance for the Macdonalds on TV. Mrs. Macdonald and ten-year-old Billy, a pupil at the Mystic School, being guests and winners on the Johnny Olson "Homemakers Jamboree" in January, while Mr. Macdonald was attending the semi-annual New York Furniture Market.

In December Mr. Macdonald was a guest on the Philip Morris program, "What's My Line" stumping the experts for four minutes before succumbing to the barrage of questions.

Pvt. James J. Loftus, Jr., of 64 Woodside road is at Fort Dix, New Jersey for eight weeks of basic training as a member of B Battery of the 84th Field Artillery Battalion of the Ninth Infantry Division. A graduate of Winchester High School, he was employed by the J. J. Loftus Company in Winchester before his enlistment.

Poor Little Hill!

You're looking at a very discouraged hill!

Ever since that ribbon of paving outlined it, it has been a challenge to motor cars.

For miles and miles it winds up the side of a mountain; and it has sharp curves, and steep grades that spring out of the curves so a driver can't get a start.

Half-way up, there's a watering place—put there so drivers can stop and refill their radiators.

Yes—it has been quite a hill. But not any more!

The driver of the car in the picture above took off at the base and sailed right up to the top—and never gave it a thought.

You see, he's driving a 1953 Cadillac—with its great 210-horsepower engine—and its vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive.

We heard recently of two men who drove from Florida to Detroit—in a 1953 Cadillac.

The driver of the car had made this trip before—and as they left Knoxville he said to his passenger: "Man, are we going to find a hill between here and Lexington!"

After an hour or so, the passenger said: "Where is the hill?"

And the driver said: "Just wait!" So they waited—and presently they saw a sign which read: "Lexington."

The driver was simply dumbfounded.

"I just can't understand it!" he said. "There used to be a hill there—a big one!"

Naturally, this great car gives you more than the ability to master hills.

When you float along with a tremendous reserve like this, you have the smoothest, quietest, easiest ride it's possible to imagine.

It makes the whole car a symphony in motion. In fact, the ride is so soothing and relaxing that, not infrequently, passengers sleep as they ride.

Come in and try it for yourself. The car is waiting—and it's an experience you ought not to forego.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Outside Work by Police and Firefighters
Following a prolonged study, the Selectmen have issued regulations to the police and fire departments concerning the conditions under which men in those departments may engage in work while off duty. The Star reported February 13th in some detail the proceedings of a hearing held by the Board on the matter. The Selectmen had taken the attitude that the regulations should either be enforced or altered to suit present day conditions.

Under the new rules, the men may work a maximum of two days per week, provided such work leaves them available if needed in emergencies and that such work in no way interferes with the full performance of their regular duties. Further, they should not bid on work which would compete with local contractors. The men are to keep their chiefs informed of their activities and the chiefs have orders from the Board of Selectmen to see that the new rules are strictly enforced.

It is the intention of the Selectmen to observe carefully the success of these new regulations with a view toward possible revision at a later date if necessary.

Parking
The Selectmen are continuing to study the problem of control and regulation of parking in the Center. Many helpful suggestions were received by them during the consideration of the various articles in the Warrant on parking. In the meantime, parking regulations are to be rigidly enforced by the police department under instructions given to Police Chief Harold by the Board this week.

THE FORTNIGHTLY NEWS

Only one more meeting for this club year and that is the annual meeting to be held at the Bear Hill Country Club, April 13, at 12:30. The last Baptist Church was a real thrill with the Fortnightly Club members as entertainers.

The meeting was called to order at 2:00 p. m. March 23, by the President, Mrs. Sidney Burr. The usual order of business followed including reports of various chairmen. Mrs. William Priest reminded everyone of the bridge party to be held at the Winchester Boat Club April 24 at 1:00 p. m. Members and guests are invited. The business meeting adjourned at 2:30.

The stage was set for the newly formed Fortnightly Choral Group to entertain with a group of songs under the capable leadership of Mrs. Kenneth Hiseo with Mrs. Frank McCullough as accompanist. The beautiful opening number was the "Dedication" by Robert Franz and arranged by Geraldine Daggett. The second was an entirely different mood and very gay. The "Czech-Slovakian Dance Song" by Charles F. Manney was warmly received by a tremendous applause.

METHODIST HOLY WEEK SERVICES

This coming Sunday will begin the special services for Holy Week, culminating with the Easter commemoration a week from this Sabbath.
At the service this coming Palm Sunday, there will be a reception of new members and a baptismal service. The pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will give an appropriate message dealing with a contrast in symbols as represented in the Palms and the Cross. A special program in music will be presented by the choir.

The Junior Fellowship at 4 p. m. and Senior Fellowship at 7 p. m. will center in a study of Easter time and its significance. The Youth Minister, Rev. Don McManis, will have charge.
A service will be held at 7:45 p. m. on Good Friday, Rev. C. Malcolm Keir, former Sunday School and college classmate of the pastor, will share in the service. Holy Communion will be served.

Easter Sunday will climax the commemoration service. At 6:00 a. m. all Protestant churches will conduct a service at the Winchester Country Club near the practice tee. If it rains, services will be held in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church. This service will be in charge of the young peoples groups of all the churches.

The Easter service at 10:45 a. m. will climax the weeks program. Again special messages in word and song will mark the glorious day. A cordial invitation is extended to members, friends and those who have no church ties.

WINCHESTER HOCKEY CLUB VICTOR OVER WINTHROP

Winchester Hockey Club journeyed down to Lynn last Friday night and rolled over the Wintthrop Indians to the tune of 9 to 5 at the North Shore Sports Center.

The game turned out to be a "welcome home" party for Don Armstrong who returned from the Far East war zone just in time to join his team mates when they took the ice for the face-off. The local puckchasers really turned on the power in helping win this one for Don.

Winchester tried a few innovations. Wimpy Burnett teamed with Don Ellis on defense. When this pair were on the ice they were impenetrable. While Scott Connor abandoned the net and took his turn in the forward line Dale Sherburne played the goal. In spite of being unused to net-minding Dale came up with the line saves at the end of the game.

Winchester scored: Vatalaro, Cassidy, Miani, Riley, Smith, Jones. Winchester scoring: Burnett, Power, Salmurath, Connor, Armstrong, Byrne, Mills, Monson, Collins. Wintthrop scoring: Farley (2), DeGregorio, Miani, Riley. Penalties: none. Referee: Salmurath.
